though it was the typhoon season, and on July 31, the freighter docked at Manilla, chief port of the Phillipines. It was the rainy season. "We hired an automobile," said Miss Morris, "and the water came up above the hubs. The children were swimming in the streets, and their parents sat in the doorways of their houses and dangled their legs in the water." The Empress of Japan docked at Manilla while the Greystoke Castle was there.

From Manilla directly to Moji, Japan, where it took five days to unload the scrap iron. That was the last shipment of scrap iron allowed from the United States. The travellers were now in a fortified zone with battleships passing at intervals leaving for the war. Some Americans used their cameras with the result they spent a day in jail finally released through the captain's influence. Miss Morris and her friends left the ship at Moji, and for five days explored Japan. They went to Kobe, where the streets were full of soldiers; they had a lovely glimpse of Tokyo; and a Kyoto were shown over the Anglican Mission School by a Japanese padre.

They rejoined the freighter which sailed for Manilla again to await orders. Their first destination turned out to be an out of the way settlement in the Phillipines that the Captain had never heard of, and had no chart for. They arrived, however, and 232,000 square feet of mahogany was taken on board. The natives had never seen white women before and crowded around to stare. "And they were the laziest people," said Miss Morris, "every few minutes seemed to be chow hour, and they would stop work, and squat on the deck eating their fish and rice." At San Carlos 1,000 tons of raw sugar was taken on. Under American supervision the work was most efficiently done in just four hours. "One of the passengers sprained her ankle," said our traveller, "so I went to the native hospital with her, and watched lizards running over the walls of the operating room."

Crossing The Equator

From San Carlos they sailed southward and two days later crossed the equator, when Father Neptune and his bride appeared and all passengers, who had not crossed the line before, were well initiated. Macassar, in Celebes, Dutch East Indies, was reached on their gala boat race day. From Macassar, across the Java sea, the Greystoke Castle headed for the island of Java—with Bali seen in the distance—and arrived at Surabaya on the Queen of Holland's birthday, with the city gaily decorated and much celebrating in process. A three-day motor trip through the heart of Java followed. Stopping at a little place called Jockjaw, where a good deal of excitement was evident, they found that a native potentate, the Sultan of Solo, was due to pass by. "We stood waiting by the Pathe News people, and watched an hour's procession, including his fourteen wives, and finally the sultan passed in his royal coach—his wives waved — accompanied by all kinds of music, with everyone playing a different tune."

Lovely Climate

At Batavia they rejoined the ship, which had in the meantime picked up cargo at a number of small ports, and sailed for Singapore. Here mace, rubber and palm oil was taken on board during a week's stay in port. Miss Morris saw "The Good Earth" in a theatre there, where the audience were all Chinese, who "loved the picture." At Port Sweetman in Samatra more cargo was picked up, and then to Georgetown. "The nicest place in the far east," says this traveller, "a lovely climate, and lovely houses." $1,000,000 worth of tin was loaded on the freighter at this port.

Through the Malacca Strait and across the Indian ocean, the Greystoke Castle headed for Capetown, where they did not call, but could see Table Mountain in the distance, and then up the coast of Africa to Dekar in Senegal, French West Africa, where the ship was refuelled. Miss Morris was impressed with the amount of disease there seemed to be among the black population at this port, and how happy they seemed. Then, with $4,000,000 worth of cargo on board, came an unbroken forty-day trip across the Atlantic with wonderfully warm weather, and a remarkably calm sea all the way. "And we kept right up with the news, you know," the reporter was informed, "we had a daily newspaper every morning, and in fact, with a Marconi short wave transmitting set on board, other ships sent messages to our captain for transmission to England."

Vancouver Blue i ds Stop Orillia Terriers' March To Junior Lacrosse Title

Westerners Remain In Hunt For Minto Cup With 11-6 Victory

ORILLIA, Ont., Oct. 30 (C.P.). — Champions of Western Canada, Vancouver Bluebirds stopped Orillia Baby Terriers' sweep to the Canadian junior lacrosse championship with a decisive 11-6 victory. Bluebirds staged a strong comeback here last night after losing two straight games to the Eastern Canada finalists.

Fourth game in the best-of-five series for the Minto Cup will be played here on Monday, and if the coast team again beats the Terriers the fifth contest will be played at Toronto on November 3. This is the first year the Minto Cup has been in competition for junior teams. It was formerly played for by professional lacrosse players.

Ted Bradbury, Bluebird defenceman, led the Vancouver forces to victory with four goals, one in each period. Bob Lee sent his goal total for the series soaring to eight when he scored a pair of goals last night, while Jimmy Douglas, Bluebird wing, also was good for two points. Morris Cassidy, rover, topped Orillia's scoring list with three goals.

Lead All the Way.

Bluebirds led 3-0 at the end of the first period, 6-0 at half-time and 8-5 at the three-quarter mark. They led the Terriers 7-0 in the third period before Cassidy whizzed the ball past Herbie Delmonico to open Orillia's scoring.

Referees Jimmy Gunn of Vancouver and Hal Wallace, Kitchener, were kept busy doling out 13 penalties as the play was rough and the checking hard. Alex. Milne received the brunt of the offence, and after being knocked down three times started swinging at Joe Jenkinson in the fourth period, and was sent away for the rest of the game.

Jimmy Douglas, Vancouver, and Tony Worsencroft, teammate of Milne, also received major penalties. Referee Wallace was given a police escort from the field at the end of the game when the Orillia fans noisily disagreed with his ruling that sent Bob McWhinnie, Terrier forward, into the penalty box for shoving Ted Bradbury into the end boards in the last period.

Play was strenuous from the opening whistle and Lewis Caperchio, Orillia, was penalized for slashing and Milne for the same offence before a score was recorded. Jimmy Douglas finally grabbed a loose ball in front of Goalie Ray Mortimer and closed in to score Vancouver's first goal.

Bluebirds outscored Orillia 3-0 in the second stanza and the third period opened with Douglas still serving his major penalty for drawing blood while slashing. Ted Bradbury rushed from centre field to score for Vancouver, then Cassidy scored Orillia's initial counter which seemed to hearten the locals.

For five minutes Orillia kept the ball at the Vancouver end, raining shots at Delmonico, but they failed to score. George Gray finally grabbed the ball and raced the length of the field to score on the unprotected Mortimer.

Stars for Orillia.

Shorty Reid, best man on the floor for Orillia, squeezed past two Bluebird defencemen and slammed the ball past Delmonico for Orillia's second counter. Cassidy scored again followed by Hewitt and Parry as the Terriers held Vancouver scoreless for the rest of the period.

The coast players took command again in the last period and notched three goals to one reply. Bradford, Bradbury, and Lee scored for Bluebirds, while Cassidy assisted by Fred Smith sank the only Orillia goal.

Holland has spent nearly $6,000,000 in the last year on the tunnel under the new Maas River near Rotterdam.

He's Ready For 'Em

The hockey season is almost upon us, and the boys who chase a little black disc up and down the ice during the winter are just about ready for the strenuous season which is ahead of them. Jimmy Fowler, teammate of Reg. "Red" Horner on the Toronto Maple Leaf defence, is pictured here as he gets into shape for the winter pastime. Evidently Jimmy can go into reverse pretty quickly by the look of the spray of ice thrown up by his "blades of steel" which he uses in stopping up suddenly.

DROP KICK DIES IN AUTUMN GAME

TORONTO, OCT 30 — (CP) — There's no doubt about it now. The drop kick in Canadian football is about extinct as the red flannel underwear grand-pop used to wear.

About the only present day drop-kicker who can compare to the master of them all—Pep Leadley, the former Queen's University and Hamilton Tiger star—is the veteran Alex Hayes of Sarnia Imperials, Eastern Canada's 1936 football champions.

A few years ago the then Montreal Winged Wheelers of the Big Four league had Kenny Copeland, close to tops among drop-kickers in Eastern Canada. But even then Wheelers didn't use this weapon much for they had two good place-kickers in Tommy Burns and Huck Welch, now playing with Hamilton Tigers.

Now, when a team is after three points it resorts to the placement attempt. Of course, there's a reason for the decline in the use of the drop kick. Coaches look upon the placement as surer, with less chance of error on the play. The way it's done by top-notch placement-kickers makes it almost mechanical.

Perhaps the greatest exponent of the placement in Eastern Canada is Cam Gray, the big University of Toronto backfielder. He used this threat chiefly in building up the points last year that made him individual top-scorer in the Intercollegiate Union. This year he's at it again, deadlier than ever and seemingly unable to miss anywhere from the 25-yard line in.

ROG. JENKINS NOT DEFINITELY PLACED MAROONS' GUARD

TORONTO, Oct. 30 (CP).—Father Time and Aurel Joliat are pals, it would appear. The mite wingman for Montreal Canadiens started off his 16th season in big time hockey with a goal last night in an exhibition game at Sudbury. If that isn't pulling the old man's whiskers, and getting away with it, then what is?

Bet that box-office music sounds good to Manager Connie Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs. The Smythian troops which includes members of their Syracuse farm team, drew 7,700 customers in their first two games of a current five-game exhibition tour. Stop off place tonight, after stands at Galt and London, is Niagara Falls, Ont.

The King, nee Frank Clancy, gets his first real taste of big league masterminding tonight when the Clancy-coached Montreal Maroons play New Haven Eagles in an exhibition game. Maroons still are without Centreman Bob Gracie, as stern a holdout as ever was found in any man's league.

He may not lead the league in scoring, but you fans can watch for Joffre (Dizzy) Desilets to have a good year with Canadiens. The rangy winger with the burning shot showed last night he was right in form by getting two goals in that Sudbury game.

Leafs will have to get along tonight in their Falls game without the services of Harvey (Busher) Jackson. The Busher was unable to play last night, too, because of a bad knee. He's at his Toronto home now recuperating.

Happy Jack Adams must have his little joke. Adams "demoted" his ace line of Marty Barry-Larry Aurie-Herb Lewis for a game. The threesome will play for Pittsburg Hornets, a Detroit farm club, in the deciding game Sunday of a three-game series. Each team has won a game in the set-to.

King Clancy just can't seem to make up his mind about who is going to fill that vacant spot on the Maroon defence. He has Roger Jenkins, a veteran, and Maurice Croghan and Des Smith, two amateurs, to pick from. Although there's been no definite indication yet, Jenkins, who played with the Montrealers last season, apparently has the edge.

BOTH WENT DOWN

BRITON FERRY, Wales—(CP).—Billy Jones, Pontypridd and Digger Shaw, Pontypool, knocked each other out in the last round of a 10-round bout. Shaw was disqualified because his knockout blow was low.

PLAY ON OLD COURSE

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland—(CP).—Next year's Walker Cup match and the British open golf championship may be played over the old course here, it was reported at a recent town council meeting.

SPORTS CAR RECORD

LONDON—(CP).—With a mark of 104.44 miles, Hlan Hess has broken the one-hour record for sports car previously held by a German driver who made 102 miles in that time. The Englishman carried a passenger.

Indians' Manager Celebrates

The Oscar Vitt household had a double reason for whooping it up—the first was their 22nd wedding anniversary and the second, Oscar was named to pilot the Cleveland Indians, his first managerial opportunity in major league baseball. Bob Vitt, 17-year-old son, is aiding his parents in the celebration at their home in Oakland, Calif. Vitt piloted the Newark Bears to the pennant in the International League and then defeated the Columbus team in the Little World Series. Previously he had managed Salt Lake City, Hollywood and Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. He broke in with the Detroit team in 1912 and wound up his big-time third base chores with the Red Sox in 1921.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

ALL OTTAWA is agrog today—we mean agog—over the big grid tilt between Argos and Rough Riders. A real grudge battle, since the bitter word battles following the Wadsworth-Sonshine clash in Toronto a week ago, but somehow these grudge fights generally peter out without much fireworks. It may be that Bunny Wadsworth did give Sonshine the works, breaking his jaw deliberately, but few folks outside of several Toronto scribes really think so. Those things don't happen often in sport. Rugby is a rough game and the players expect the odd bang, some of it deliberately, but they don't try to disable opponents. Ted Reeve of the Tely is our favorite Toronto columnist not only because he is the wittiest but because he does not get hysterical about the home town. He has a broader outlook and knows whereof he speaks—being a grand footballer himself once and now a noted coach.

* * * * * *

PODDEN US if we quote him on this affair, as follows: "We hated to think of old Sonsh, a good game lad, getting the business in such a rough manner, but we know that most of such injuries are exaggerated in the prints when they first take place. The one picture we saw of headlong Harry showed him sitting up taking nourishment and laughing it off like a major. By now, he probably has all the nurses in the hospital in an uproar and, while he is having his jaw wired for sound, he is no doubt getting more than one phone number. When you are young and husky, even broken jaws can turn out to be an interesting experience. We know we were young and almost husky once, and we got knocked out in a football match once, also.

* * * * * *

"SECONDLY, WE can still recall how many of us got worked up about the Hempey-Box affair. Recall when Box played for Argos—who do too much weeping, anyway, whether it's about Wadsworth, Hempey or Bohan Hilliard—and Hempey hit him with a tackle or something and broke his cheek bone. Everybody waxed very wroth, some of us who knew about and liked him so much as a grand fellow and a great player, waxing wrothier than others. But the day came when Hempey arrived in Toronto and took a position. And who did he work for? Genial old Muirhead, slongside of Albie Box. And did Ernest live in Toronto? At Albie Box's home where they really know how to make chocolate cake. And who did he come to ball games and parties with? The same Albert Box whose jaw he had busted—and us waxing wroth."

* * * * * *

AS WE said, podden pliss for us wandering so far from our territory, but you can't improve on Ted Reeve's stuff—or come close to it—and, anyway, there is plenty of interest locally in the Interprovincial Rugby Union. Let us mention another matter, showing that athletes are very human and are not always thinking of maiming the other guy, or sticking the mitt out for a rakeoff. Eddie Schrieder, star Belleville backfielder, was injured recently. He is a married man with a family and stood to lose his employment, but two men who work with Eddie on a three shift trick in a plant agreed to work 12 hours a day—instead of the ordinary eight—till he returns to his job. This is a swelegant gesture—and really means extra labor—and we would like to meet these chaps and have the honor of shaking hands with 'em. Right guys, we call 'em.

* * * * * *

OUGHT TO be a nice little football feud raging any time now in the respective columns of the Oshawa and Bowmanville writers. On account of the Rubbertown key-rattler has come out with the crack that the reason there is no O.R.F.U. team in the Motor City this year is because Scribe Campbell doesn't care for rugby and is more inclinded to knock it than slip it a boost. Without any attempt to get in the middle of it, we might point out that the Blue Devils were very blue indeed last semester, and failed to finish out their schedule—though Orfuns had a chance of overtaking Lindsay if Oshawa had played and beaten the Scugog squad—and ended broke, in the red, and with their star backfielder having his leg broken. Besides, we doubt if any scribe would slough off on any sport, regardless of his likes or dislikes—and, furthermore, we doubt if he'd have enough say to swing things his way.

* * * * * *

LOTS OF hockey rumours floating around these days, but not a great deal to go on till after the middle of next week. Annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club will be held next Wednesday eve at eight in the Chamber of Commerce when officers will be elected and plans for the coming season made. Looks to us like most of the 1936-37 officers will go back and that Frank Buckland and Shorty Burgess will coach the intermediate and junior teams. Efforts are being made to line up decent groupings for the Petes and Colts—who have a few newcomers ready to try out with 'em when ice forms—but not much will be known along this line for awhile yet.

* * * * * *

THE INVENTIVE mind of man has rassled often with the problem of starting those harness horse races. Folks here who go to the Exhibition each year know what a pain in the neck it is to watch the trotters make half a dozen false starts before the starter finally lets 'em get away for the race, trying to give 'em all an even break. Now, a Stephen Phillips suggests an unique plan. He says have an automobile with a platform on it go to the head of the stretch. The field of horses would be placed behind the car and aluminum wings, stretching across the track, would be opened. The horses would be placed in position and, as they started to trot, the car would keep in front, moving faster and faster. Nearing the line, the starter—on the platform—would release the wings and give the word to go. The speed of the car would be increased, pulling it to the outside rail—thereby letting the galloping glue pots tear by on an even start. Well, they laughed at Edison, too.

* * * * * *

RASSLIN' RETURNS here next Friday p.m. at the Brock St. rink, a bunch of pros coming to town under the guidance of Promoter Bob Morley of Windsor. Haven't heard the program yet, but expect a two or three-hour show with all the grunts, groans and guffaws that make this a colorful event in rings all around the world. Quite a few ladies and gents in this section of the timber would sooner miss a meal than pass up a grappling card. We like the mat antics of the mastodons, but we wouldn't go so far as to miss a meal. Not only have we not missed a meal since we cut the first teeth, but just in case hard times should ever hit us and cut down on our victuals, we have been munching four and five repasts a day for quite some time now! Some of the rasslers look as if they had been, too. Complete card will be known in a day or two. Just keep Friday and a few shillings open.

AMATEUR MOGULS DELAY ELECTION UNTIL NOVEMBER

TORONTO, Oct. 30 (CP).—Executive for the Central Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada is still to be elected. On October 15 the meeting was adjourned for two weeks in hope that the situation surrounding amateur sport in Canada would be on a more stable base. But since that time little has developed to help the situation. Last night's meeting did nothing to further the case. As a consequence the new executive will not be elected until after the annual meeting of the A.A.U. of C. to take place in Montreal next month.

The main discussion centred around the newly-formed Ontario Athletic Federation. W. J. (Bill) Smith, executive of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, and chairman pro tem of the Federation, submitted a report to the Central Ontario Branch of the A.A.U. of C., stating the present attitude which read in part, "the Federation is not interested in alliances, international or otherwise."

Suggests 'Peace' Clause.

Charles Higginbotham, of the executive of the Toronto Amateur Hockey League, spoke in favor of the A.A.U. of C., but suggested a special clause be inserted in the constitution to cover difficulties peculiar to particular branches of sport. In some cases this would enable professionals and amateurs to play together.

Towards the close of the meeting Mr. Higginbotham again made a suggestion to the meeting. He moved that "the president of the A.A.U. of C. be requested to arrange a conference with the governing bodies of sport in Canada in order to arrive at some solution of the difficulties which prevail at present." This proposed conference would be held at Montreal at the same time as the annual meeting of the A.A.U. of C.

The motion was passed after some difficulty by a vote of 9-3. It seemed that none was willing to second it and Mr. Smith suggested that it was a move to "drive a wedge into the Federation."

Inside Sportin' Dope

BY A. WISE CRACKER

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, the National hockey league season is almost upon us as you might have guessed from reading the Toronto papers what has been letting a few things drop about the Maple Leaves and their training stunts. It's about time for the Wise Cracker's annual guess at the title and right here and now I'm going to call them Detroit Red Wings to come through and win the N.H.L. championship at least, and possibly the Stanley mug as well. I gotta idea that the Wings will be about at the peak of their form this coming campaign and if they is they aint nothing that's going to head them.

Rangers Looks Good

The next best team in either loop looks like them New York Rangers. The Colvilles-Shibicky line ought to be going great guns this winter and up from Philadelphia comes another young line that promises to have all the fans in the circuit talking before long. The Rangers has got youth and power and a great leader. The Maple Leaves is a guess right now. They don't look too streng defensively and their attacking division has a good many if's to it right now.

Big Rugby Doings

Well, Mac, they has been a lot of excitement in the rugby wars especially in the Big 4 where the Argos is leading the parade. The argument that has went on all week over the fact that Mister Sonshine got his jaw busted when he come into contact with Mister Wadsworth of the Ottawas has been plenty of copy for the sport pages but it has got exactly nowhere. Mister Wadsworth says it was just Mister Sonshine's hard luck that his jaw got bunged up. All that the big-hearted Ottawa cop wanted to do was push the Argo man into the third row of the grandstand and it was just too bad he was brittle enough to break in the process. Argos tried to have the offender banished for life but the powers-that-be refused to do anything. Anyway they aint going to punish Mister Sonshine for getting his face in the way, so that's something.

A Water Polo Game

Locally it has been quiet since my last. The week end rugby took quite a jolt from the weatherman and the result was the Orfuns called their game with Toronto Eastsides off while the Collegiates played a water polo game with the Malverns, the Toronto kids winning 2 to 0, largely because they had the first kickoff and was able to put P.C.I. on the defensive right off the reel. They was puddles of water deep enough to have sailed boats in on the field and the teams made a mistake not equipping their halves with outboard motors. It was a weird battle and everybody was glad when it was over, seeing that it was nigh to impossible to play anything that looked like rugby out there under them conditions.

Well old timer that is about the lot up to the present so I'm going to take off now.

Sportfully Yours.

Henry Armstrong Secures Win To Gain Featherweight Title

Los Angeles Negro Easily Vanquishes Sarron In New York Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP). — Over-the-weight or under-the-weight, it's all the same to little Henry Armstrong, the Brown Streak from the Pacific Coast.

They said the Los Angeles negro couldn't make the featherweight limit of 126 pounds and still be strong, but last night he came in at 124 pounds, almost knocked Pete Sarron's block off, and won himself undisputed possession of the world 126-pound title.

Thanks to Armstrong's flying fists, the feathers now have a ruler at whom no stones can be cast. He's the king pin in States controlled by the National Boxing Commission, where Sarron formerly held forth, as well as in New York, California and other so-called "rebel" territory.

12,000 See Fight

A crowd of 11,847 parted with $34,700.28 to welcome Mike Jacobs into the Garden and see Armstrong, in many respects a miniature edition of Joe Louis, hang up his 22nd knockout in his last 23 fights.

The knockout climaxed five of the fastest, most furiously-fought rounds Garden fans have seen in years. Sarron, off to a dazzling lead, blew it in the fifth and sixth when Armstrong finally got organized and began to go to town.

In the sixth, his back to the ropes and his head protected by his arms, Sarron stood flat-footed while a relentless Armstrong, his throttle now wide open, pummelled short but deadly punches into the Birmingham lad's face and midriff.

Sarron rallied momentarily to punch his way into the clear, but his attack bogged down when Armstrong belted a terrific left to the stomach and a second later when an equally pile-driving right crashed against the chin, the Syrian's knees sagged and he hit the canvas.

"Those two blows hurt me," said Sarron after the fight, "but not so badly that I couldn't have got up. I missed one of the referee's counts. I was looking for nine when he said ten."

The little Syrian attributed his lack of fire and pep to the ordeal of weight making. Hes at his best around 130 pounds. He's 30 years old and twice within six months he's been called on to come down to 126.

Try Lightweight Class

"I think I will make a lightweight out of Petey," said Manager Jim Edwin. "I doubt if he'll every try to make 126 pounds again. It takes too much out of him.

Oddly enough, Armstrong, who was expected to be the real sufferer from the reducing process, showed no adverse effects. He was as strong at the finish as at the start, notwithstanding that he was performing a six pounds under his normal fighting weight.

Armstrong said his unimpressive showing at the start was because of overanxiousness to make a one-punch fight of it.

"I fought a sucker fight to start," he said. "My instructions were to punch with Sarron for four or five rounds. But he hit me oftener and harder than I figured and I disregarded orders and tried to nail him. When my seconds brought me into line about the fourth round, I began to connect squarely. Sarron's tough and hard to fight."

Good Golfer, Too

Donald Budge has gained some fame as a tennis player. He is, to be exact, the best in the world, having won the Davis cup, the Wimbledon and American championships. But the young man's hobby is golf. Here he is demonstrating his ability in a sand trap of one of the links in Oakland, Calif.

CHUCK CAMPBELL GETS B.E.G. POST

PORT DALHOUSIE, Oct. 30 — (CP).—Chuck Campbell of the Dons Rowing Club, Toronto, won the right yesterday on wind-swept old Welland Canal to represent Canada in the singles sculling event at the 1937 British Empire games in Sydney, Australia.

Former Canadian and United States champion, Campbell defeated one other aspirant for the Empire team, Gordon Bradshaw of Toronto Argonauts, in an official trial at a mile and a quarter. His time was 7 minutes, 46 seconds.

Withdrawal of Campbell's chief Canadian challengers, Johnny Coulson, Herb Miller and Jimmy Russell, took much from the trial race. The three Argo stalwarts were entered but none showed up for the race.

Campbell led Bradshaw from gun to gun, but he was unable to pull far away from the game Argo, whose boat was only one open length back at the finish. Both steered erratic courses in heavy water.

When Campbell leaves for Sydney in late December, he will be on his third trip abroad within two years. He represented Canada at the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, placing fourth in the final. Last June he made an unsuccessful try for the Diamond Sculls at the Henley.

Leafs' Goodwill Ambassador Guest At Havelock Supper

Harold Cotton Addresses Members Of Albion Club At Annual Banquet

HAVELOCK, Oct. 30.—With the attendance surpassing the hundred mark, the third annual banquet of the Havelock Albion Club was held on Thursday evening in the Havelock Town Hall. Harold "Baldy" Cotton, popular ex-Leaf hockey star and good will ambassador of the Toronto Maple Leafs, was guest speaker for the occasion.

Following the dinner, catered by the Women's Institute, the customary toasts and responses were made. Community singing was led by Everard Chiles and accompanied by Doug. Hutchinson's orchestra.

Alex. Elliott, M.L.A., of Peterborough, making his first visit to the Albion Club, complimented the members on their splendid organization. Mr. Elliott also proposed the toast to "Canada" in the absence of Rork Ferguson, M.P., of Norwood, who was unable to be present.

Francis Voyer, president, and chairman for the evening, gave a short outline of the club's activities and policies.

Toast to the Albion Club on behalf of the guests was proposed by T. P. Lancaster, ex-M.L.A. of Havelock, with response from Clarence Spencer, past president of the organization.

Toast to the Albion softball team was porposed by H. B. Puffer, with manager and coach H. T. Matchison making the reply.

Bees' New Boss

Charles D. "Casey" Stengel, pictured above, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball combine, will be the next manager of the Boston Bees National league baseball club. President Bob Quinn of the Bees got in touch with Stengel by telephone, and asked him if he would take over the managership. The answer was in the affirmative and the terms of Stengel's contract will be arranged when he arrives in Boston.

FOREMOST RACERS IN $15,000 EVENT

LAUREL, Me., Oct. 30.—(AP). — The mythical crown of "champion of champions" dangles at the finish line of the $15,000 added Washington Handicap to-day before War Admiral, ruler of United States 3-year-olds, and Seabiscuit, handicap king.

Eight other thoroughbreds, each capable of upsetting the favorites, also are entered in the 1¼ mile feature, hailed by fans as the year's best horse race.

Seabiscuit, 4-year-old boy son of Hardtack, is the year's leading money winner with $169,622.50. The colt, owned by C. S. Howard, ran second by a nose in the Santa Anita Handicap last February and then raced to seven straight stake victories.

RUGGER STAR QUITS

WELLINGTON, N.Z.—(CP).—P. J. Nel, captain of the South African rugby team that won two of three test matches on its tour of New Zealand, has decided to retire from the game.

FLIERS ELIMINATE BELLEVILLE CLUB

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 30.—Belleville Panthers were eliminated from O.R.F.U. Intermediate competition for the season Friday afternoon at the R.C.A.F. field, when the Airport team handed them a 3-to-1 defeat. The Belleville team had to win from the Airport to score at least two points to tie Garrison for second place, while three would give them second place and the right to continue in the "B" playdowns. Airport did not taste defeat in the schedule and will continue in the "A" playdowns, meeting Peterborough in the next round.

The Belleville team did everything but score the needed points yesterday, twice being within the 25-yard line of the Airport and once within 10 yards, but each time they lacked the offensive strength to shove over the winning points. Tarzan Rigby, working on the back line for the Panthers, was a standout, and running him a close second was Johnson at flying wing, who was in the clear once, but was tackled from behind; while another step would have given the Panthers a touchdown and the game.

The airport scored two single points in the first quarter when Higgerty kicked to the deadline, while in the third quarter Johnson was rouged on a mighty hoist by Gibson. Belleville scored their lone point in the third, when Gibson was forced to rouge on a kick by Johnson. Lecompte, Higgerty, Gibson on the backfield and Davis on the front line were the best, with Spencer directing a swell game from his quarter-back post.

ST. LUKE'S BRANCH

On Thursday evening St. Luke's A.Y.P.A. held their Hallowe'en masquerade in the gayly-decorated Parish Hall, with an attendance of about twenty-five members. A varied program of games was much enjoyed, under the leadership of B. H. Pammett. The many original costumes were judged and the prizes presented by Rev. T. J. Housefield.

Prize winners: Ladies — 1, Miss Q. Hope (African native); 2, Miss J. Bell (old-fashioned lady). Men— 1, Ernie Bell (pirate); 2, Art Northcott (swell).

Music for dancing was ably supplied by Ted Naish. The service of delicious refreshments brought the evening to a successful close. The evening was in charge of B. H. Pammett's group.

ST. GEORGE'S BRANCH

A masquerade was held on Thursday evening by St. George's A.Y.P.A., and enjoyed by all those present. The evening was spent in marches and playing games.

All but a few were in costume, some comical and others fancy. Mrs. G. Ray won the first prize for the ladies costume and Jack Adamson for the best gentlemen's.

Miss Frances Legon was the life of the party. Dressed as a very small child, she acted the part very well.

Refreshments were served by the social convenor, A. Bushey, and his committee. Dancing was enjoyed to music played by Mrs. R. King.

ST. JOHN'S BRANCH

St. John's Parish Hall was the scene of a colorful Hallowe'en party on Wednesday evening. Sixty young people were present in costume, with Havelock A.Y.P.A. as visitors for the occasion. OFFICERS ELECTED BY HASTINGS CLUB

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Oct. 30. — Earl Hahn was elected president of the Hastings Badminton Club at a meeting held in the Council Chambers on Friday night for the purpose of reorganizing and to discuss plans for the coming badminton season. Dorothy Kerr was elected vice-president and Paul Bailey, secretary-treasurer. Mary Fowlds, Mary Collins, Harry Fowlds, and Vernon Fuller are on the entertainment committee.

Plans were discussed for the annual badminton ball to be held in Lynch's Hall, but no definite date was set. Joseph Mulholland, their past secretary-treasurer, turned over the books to the new appointee, P. Bailey, with a balance in the bank showing $8.40.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

By Bradley
FREDDIE MILLER

Many and varied have been the campaigns put on by athletes from this side of the water, in the old country, but one of the most, if not the most successful, was that engaged in by Freddie Miller, erstwhile featherweight champion.

It was while Miller was the titleholder that he embarked on this spectacular invasion of the foreign fields.

During the course of his spectacular campaign he amassed more than $30,000 in gate receipts, travelled some 36,000 miles in going from engagement to engagement, fought in seven European countries, before a total crowd of approximately 300,000.

But what is more impressive than these figures, is Freddie's win and loss record, for he was continually being confronted by new styles and efficient foes. In more than forty bouts, he dropped only one decision, and that a highly doubtful one.

MARMORA LEGION PLANS POPPY SALE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Oct. 30. — Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion held an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting in the Legion Room on Friday evening with the president, Comrade T. Cousins, in the chair.

It was decided to commence the sale of poppies on November 6 and extend it to Remembrance Day. Sellers were appointed for the village, Deloro and Cordova.

The branch also decided to attend divine service at St. Andrew's United Church on the evening of Sunday, November 7, and also invite the Ladies' Auxiliary to also participate. It was announced that the Ontario Government weer sendin ga wreath to be placed on the memorial tablets at the prospective service at the Memorial Hall on November 11.

Plans were furthered for the holding of the annual Armistice banquet in the Town Hall on the evening of November 11. The secretary, Comrade P. Gray, announced to the pleasure of the membership that he had been fortunate to secure Major Rev. W. E. Kidd and Lt.-Col. H. E. Pense as guest speakers for the occasion.

The final moments of an interesting session were spent in further discussing the minstrel show which the branch proposes to sponsor at the end of next month.

ONE LITTLE CRASH

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 30—(CP)—Dinners stopped cooking on electric stoves, lights faded, and all other electric equipment in an entire village, and hundreds of other homes south of London failed, because Martin Brocker, 33, of Hamilton, ran his car off No. 2 highway at Glendale curve.

For disrupting the Hydro service over a wide rural area, Bocker lost right to drive again for 10 days, when he appeared before County Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw today. He also was fined $10 and costs.

DEAD RECKONING

BY

READ THIS FIRST:

Tim Kennedy graduated into homicide from the school of armchair murderers. With a lucrative dental practice and an enviable social position in a small town near London, Tim, at middle age, feels happy and secure. Then Esther is run down by a truck, returning home a week later a physical wreck, with all her former beauty shattered. Tim loses all interest in his wife and falls madly in love with Alma Shepherd, a widow. Finally he decides that Esther must die. The next scene is the coroner's inquest. Kennedy and his all-around man Adams have testified how Esther met her death by a "fall" from her bedroom window in the middle of the night.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 24

THE CORONER arranged his papers following Adams' testimony, hesitated a moment, and then recalled Dr. Harold Arkwright.

"I understand you were a relative of the deceased?".

"She was my niece."

"You were always her medical adviser?"

"Yes, since she was a child."

"Will you tell me what you know about this propensity to nightmares?"

"She used to suffer very badly from them as a child." Arkwright gave an account of Esther's early weakness, mentioning the shock which had caused it. "As she grew older the trouble seemed to leave her, as it does with most nervous children. After the accident it began to recur, and as she got stronger the nightmares seemed to get more violent."

"Were these bad dreams directly related to the accident?"

"In the sense that their return was caused by the accident, undoubtedly. But the dreams did not invariably consist of a direct recollection or recurrence of the accident. I tried to extract as many details as possible from my niece. Her remembrance was often vague and shadowy, but I came to the conclusion that the common characteristics of all of the dreams was a fear of a heavy object falling or coming upon her. The object varied; sometimes it was a tree or a telegraph pole, sometimes a motor or a lift or a railway train. Sometimes she was unaware of the nature of the object. And in every case she did not know from what direction the danger threatened— she knew she had to run to avoid it, but had no idea where she should run. That would account for the frenzied panic and blind purposelessness of her movements when under the influence of these dreams."

"What treatment did you adopt?"

"I prescribed sedatives. But they seemed to lose their effect on her with abnormal rapidity. I also tried a little simple hypnotic treatment and tried to make her practice self-hypnosis, particularly before going to bed."

"Do you mean what is commonly called 'auto-suggestion'?"

"Yes. What I did on that line was not exactly in a professional capacity. It was more as a relation and friend. I am not an authority on nervous diseases, and as it appeared that Mrs. Kennedy was not improving in this respect, I suggested a consultation with a specialist. As Mr. Kennedy told you, we had actually arranged an appointment."

"Would you agree with Mr. Kennedy's suggestion that these nightmares were caused by taking heavy meals shortly before retiring?"

"I should say that was the occasion rather than the cause. Or, to put it in another way, the imperfect assimilation of food was the nearer, but not the fundamental cause. The fundamental cause was lasting mental shock caused by the accident, which revived a tendency that had been latent since childhood."

"But if the deceased had eaten lightly in the evening, would the nightmares have occurred?"

"That is impossible to say definitely. Probably they would have been less frequent and less severe if there had been no digestive disturbance. The whole digestive apparatus is linked up very closely with the nervous system. I advised my niece to avoid rich food in the evening as far as possible."

"I see . . . Tell me, Dr. Arkwright, have you any opinion, either from professional or personal observation, as to whether or not the deceased had any suicidal tendencies?"

"I am convinced she had not. Her attitude toward suicide was always one of incomprehension. She loved life; there was not a streak of defeatism in her temperament."

"You are satisfied that she did not throw herself from this window in a moment of aberration?"

"Absolutely. The supposition is quite incredible to me."

"Have you had any other experiences of cases of nightmare in which the patient was liable to do himself or herself damage?"

"Not a wide experience. I have known cases with children. They have often been due to quite simple causes, and have been completely cured once the cause was removed."

"But with adults?"

"I have had personal experience of only one case, and that by no means a serious one. But I have heard of cases, apparently well authenticated. There was an American actress who fell from the window of a hotel bedroom, sustaining fatal injuries. There was no suggestion of suicide, or any ordinary accident, and the lady was known to be subject to nightmares. I believe, however, she was addicted to drugs.

"I have also heard of a man in London who crashed through a closed window in his sleep, and woke up clinging to a narrow ledge outside. He called for help and was rescued, and escaped serious hurt. Apparently he had been passing through a period of severe mental strain, owing to the dangerous and painful illness of a near relative."

"Is it your considered opinion that this case was similar—that the deceased, running away from a peril imagined in her sleep, fell through the open window and so sustained the injuries you described?"

"It is the only possibility I can conceive."

"Thank you, Dr. Arkwright."

The coroner allowed himself a few minutes silence, turning over his papers in a concentrated way. There was a little stir of relaxation when he looked up suddenly, like a schoolmaster expecting to catch the class misbehaving, and began to speak.

"This is a very painful and a very unusual case. . . . About the immediate cause of death there is no

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PAPER BAG.

"Have you an empty paper bag you could let me take, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily in the hollow stump bungalow one day.

"Why, certainly, Mr. Longears," squeaked the muskrat lady housekeeper, that being her way of talking and not because she was like a rusty door hinge. "A large one or a small one?"

"A large one, please," answered Mr. Longears. "I am going to take some cabbages over to Mrs. Guinea Pig, the mother of Buddy Pigg, and I'll need a large bag."

"What is Mrs. Pigg going to do with the cabbage?"

"She is going to make a lollipop pudding," said the bunny uncle.

"Lollypop pudding is lovely," said Nurse Jane. "And here is your bag," she said giving Mr. Longears a large one out of which she had taken some groceries that came the day before.

Carrying the cabbages for Mrs. Pigg in the paper bag, Uncle Wiggily met his little rabbit boy Buster in the woods.

"Oh, Daddy," said Buster. "May I have that paper bag?"

"What for?" asked Mr. Longears.

Wants to Pop.

"I want to blow it up full of air," said Buster, "and then I'll plop it between my paws and make a big bang noise like a gun."

"You may have the bag," kindly said Uncle Wiggily. He knew it would be a trouble to carry the cabbages without the bag but he didn't mind if it made Buster happy.

A little later when Uncle Wiggily was nearly at the pig lady's pen he heard a loud noise in the woods.

"That's Buster plopping the paper bag," chuckled Mr. Longears. "It surely sounded like a gun."

Uncle Wiggily gave the cabbages to Mrs. Pigg.

"Now you can make your lollypop pudding," he said.

"Oh, thank you kindly for the cabbages," said Buddy's mother, "but, alas, I cannot make the lollypop pudding."

"Why not?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Because I have no lollypops."

"I will hop to the store and get the lollypops," offered the rabbit gentleman kindly. So away he hopped.

At the lollypop store the monkey doodle gentleman who kept it said:

"I must put them in a large bag for you, Mr. Longears. I am all out of small bags."

Fooled.

"That will be all right," said Uncle Wiggily. Soon he was hopping through the woods with the lollypops in a big bag.

All of a sudden, out from behind the bushes popped the Wolf.

"Gurr! Gurr!" growned the Wolf. "Now I have you. And you aren't going to fool me as you did the Fox and Bob Cat. What have you in that bag?"

"Lollypops," said the rabbit.

"Ho, hum!" snickered the Wolf. "I dearly love lollypops. Give them to me. First I'll eat them and then I'll nibble you."

Uncle Wiggily took the lollypops from the bag and gave them to the Bad Chap. While the Wolf was chewing the candy, Uncle Wiggily quickly blew the big bag full of air. Then he plopped it.

"Bang!" exploded the paper bag like a gun.

"Oh, I'm shot! I'm shot! Uncle Wiggily has shot me!" howled the Wolf. Dropping the lollypops he had not yet eaten away he ran.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears. He picked up the lollypops, wrapped them in the torn, burst paper bag and took them to Mrs. Pigg, who made a lovely pudding, giving the rabbit some.

And if the strawberry longcake will come to the party the door knob is giving the key hole, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Hallowe'en.

CHARGE BRITAIN PLACING "CLASS" BEFORE SECURITY

LONDON, Oct. 30—(CP Cable).—Herbert Morrison, Labor leader in the London county council, arraigned the government in the House of Commons today as putting its class consciousness not only before the peace of the world but before the security of the British Commonwealth.

The only explanation of the government's attitude toward Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler was that it feared that if the dictators went they would be succeeded by left governments. That would not suit the Chamberlain government's class outlook.

"If," said Mr. Morrison, "there was ever a man with a cruce mercantile class conscious outlook it is the Prime Minister. The government could not impose economic and financial sanctions against Japan and China. It could not save Ethiopia. But when a couple of British engineers were arrested in Moscow the government could impose an economic blockade against Russia forthwith.

Labor did not think armaments alone could secure peace. That was where it differed from the government. Peace would not come by phrases or by the expression of hopes or desires. Peace required that things be done. Like war, it required a general staff to organize.

Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, strongly repudiated the suggestion that the government was not as anxious for peace as Labor. So far as the government being dominated by class consciousness, its policy was to reconcile the divergent elements and prevent the division of the world into hostile camps.

SHOTS THROUGH HIS CAR

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 30—(CP).—W. S. Heffernan of Kitchener, general sales agent for Norman C. Hayner Company, Toronto, reported to police today two bullets crashed his windshield on the outskirts of the town as he was driving past Riverside Cemetery.

manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at King, Ont., which was held up and robbed of $700 by two armed bandits. Mrs. Phillipson, wife of the manager, telephoned police from an upstairs room in the bank and also took the license number of the bandit's automobile. It was the third time in nine years that the bank had been robbed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP).—More than 20,000,000 needy persons—too old, blind or too young to care for themselves—have shared $230,245,436 in Federal grants to States, the United States' Social Security Board said to-day. The totals covered the Board's work since February, 1936.

Public assistance grants for the aged, the blind, and dependent children accounted for $214,464,571 of the outlay. The balance of $15,980,865 paid the cost of administering State unemployment compensating laws for 21,000,000 insured workers.

The needy and dependent supported by the grants now total 1,906,200, including 1,469,700 aged; 39,000 blind, and 487,500 children.

The Board estimated that combined Federal, State and local contributions paid this group in October would aggregate $34,156,000, the bulk of it going to old people.

NEW MAURETANIA SHAPING UP FAST

BIRKENHEAD, Cheshire, Oct. 30 (CP).—The biggest ship ever constructed in England is taking shape in the Merseyside yards here of Cammell, Laird and Company. She is the new 30,000-ton Cunarder which will go into trans-Atlantic service on completion and will carry the name of Mauretania.

The Merseyside contract is an important one for workers in this district. Between 1,000 and 5,000 men have been employed.

The new ship will have an overall length of approximately 750 feet and will have 10 decks. The hull design reveals four interesting points—the terraced bridge super-structure, the cruiser type stern, two masts and two funnels. The use of only two funnels has made it possible to provide greater facilities for deck games and more interior passenger accommodation.

The keel was laid down May 24. The ship will be launched next summer and be in commission in 1939.

SOLLOWAY, MILLS APPEAL IS LOST

LONDON, Oct. 30—(CP Cable).—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day dismissed the appeal of I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills of Toronto against J. P. McLaughlin in an action against the brokers in respect of the purchase of mining stock.

Mr. McLaughlin's cross-appeal was allowed and the judgment in the Ontario courts of Mr. Justice Kerwin dated June 13, 1933, restored.

Their Lordships ruled the respondents should have the costs of the appeal to the Ontario Court of Appeals and to the Supreme Court of Canada. The appellants also must pay the costs of the appeal and cross-appeal to the Privy Council.

The appeal was heard in July by Lords Atkin, Macmillan, Wright and Maugham.

SHIPPING RECORD

GLASGOW—(CP).—The port of Glasgow handled more than 15,000,000 tons of shipping in the year ended June, 1937, a record in the history of the Clyde Navigation Trust.

Crow Is Barred From Further Attendance

The sad tale of Mary and her little lamb was repeated in slightly different version at an Omaha school, recently. Frank Fromanek's (RIGHT) pet crow, "Dickie", discussed styles in cawing with Josephine Sferrazzo, and was barred from further attendance.

ASK LESS VIOLENCE BY MILL STRIKERS

UTICA, N.Y., Oct. 30 — (AP), — Reports of minor violence in scattered upstate New York counties yesterday brought from Archie Wright, organizer of the Dairy Farmers Union, an admonition to all milk farmers on strike to "stop unnecessary violence."

"This strike movement is spreading like wildfire," Wright commented after scanning first day reports of the strike called against all dealers supplying fluid milk to the metropolitan market.

"The shutoff of milk flow has been much greater than we expected at the start," he said. "However, I urge all union members and pickets to stop unnecessary violence and adhere to peaceful picketing and road patrolling."

In New York City, both Health Commissioner John L. Rice and the New York Metropolitan Milk Distributors' bargaining agency predicted the city will feel no great stoppage of milk while the strike is at its present strength.

Minor violence was reported in four of the 18 counties affected by the strike.

DOURO

Richard Sheehan and Miss Mary Maloney are attending Normal School in Peterborough.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Connor will be interested in knowing that they have moved from Copper Cliff and are residing on Reid street, Peterborough, where they had a new residence erected. They were the recipients of several presentations before leaving the northern town. Mr. O'Connor was an employee of the International Nickel Company for many years.

Mr. William O'Leary returned last week from Saskatoon, Sask., where he visited his brother, Rev. J. O'Leary. He brought two car-loads of sheep from the drought section and reports very serious conditions in those regions.

Mr. Charles Towns who is now working near Barrie was home for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Allen and daughter Geraldine and Mrs. D. F. Garvey attended Dr. Slocum's lecture on health in Peterborough on Thursday evening.

The social evening on Monday drew a fair crowd. Prizes at euchre were won as follows: Men's first, Francis Condon; men's second, John Collins; women's first, Margaret Casey; women's second, Mary Walsh.

SUICIDE SQUADS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—The United States Navy is preparing to follow the lead of other countries in developing small, lightning-fast "suicide" raiders and scouting craft.

Details remain to be worked out, officials said today. They declined to amplify a disclosure by Charles Edison assistant secretary of the United States Navy, that two experimental boats, designed to attain speeds up to 50 miles an hour, are planned.

CARRY YOUR ALKALIZER WITH YOU

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalizer with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready.

Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonfuls of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," over-acid stomach are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

THEFT IN PICTON COSTS FIVE YEARS

PICTON, Ont., Oct. 30—(CP).—Fred Taylor of Toronto was sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary to-day after pleading guilty to breaking and entering a brewers' warehouse here on September 17. Taylor formerly lived in Buffalo, N. Y.

He was sentenced to serve six months for theft of gasoline at Bloomfield, five years for theft of an automobile in Toronto, and four years for carrying concealed weapons. The terms are to be served concurrently from the time of his arrest on September 19.

"You are a menace to society and not fit to be at large," said Magistrate L. F. Lieff of Ottawa in passing sentence. "By your record you have been practically in jail for 14 out of your 31 years, and there does not appear any hope for you."

His brother, Edward Taylor, scheduled to appear in the same court, was remanded for a week when his counsel from Toronto did not arrive. Edward Taylor was shot by police when he resisted arrest.

LAKEHURST

The congregation of Lakehurst United church have organized to collect fruit and vegetables for Western relief. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs. T. C. Flynn, W. J. Stockdale and Percy Hunt.

Mrs. J. Alsop has gone to Haliburton where she will spend the winter with her daughter.

The regular Sunday service of Lakehurst United church was withdrawn on Sunday in favour of the anniversary services being held in the Presbyterian church. Next Sunday service in the United church will be held at 3 p.m. when the Rev. C. C. Miller of Bridgenorth will administer the sacraments of Holy Communion and infant Baptism.

The Lakehurst schools were closed last Thursday and Friday to allow the teachers, Messrs. E. Chase A. Stenon and G. Hunt to attend the annual convention being held in the Peterborough Normal School.

The members of the Y.P.U. of the United church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Coones on Saturday evening and felicitated Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hemphill (nee Margaret Coones) on the event of their recent marriage. Mr. Earl Chase, president, presided over a short interesting program and Mr. Ken Stewart read an appropriate address to the young couple, while Mr. Chase presented them with a gift on behalf of the young people. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill replied.

Mrs. John Allan spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nesbitt, at Ingolsby.

Mrs. H. Smith is a patient in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough.

The regular meeting of the Y.P.U. was held in the church on Monday evening. The devotional and business periods were presided over by the president, Mr. Earl Chase. Mr. Gordon Hunt was program convener and was assisted by Miss Grace Mills, Miss Dora Weiss, Mr. Art. Stinson and E. Chase. The next meeting will take the form of a Hallowe'en party and will be held in the hall on Monday evening, November 1st.

doubt. This unfortunate lady fell from a third floor window onto a courtyard of concrete paving, sustaining multiple injuries, including a fractured skull, which seems to have produced unconsciousness and death within a few minutes.

"The question I have to consider is how the deceased came to fall from this window. There are only three possibilities—accident, deliberate action on the part of the deceased, or the agency of another party. I will take these possibilities in the reverse order to that in which I have named them.

"The latter implies either manslaughter or willful murder. There is not the slightest evidence to suggest either. It is with the greatest reluctance that I have mentioned such a possibility. I only do so because, knowing something of the nature of gossip in a country district like this, I feel it my duty to scotch any such rumors from the beginning. . . .

"The second possibility, that of suicide, is superficially more probable. Painful and uncertain as it is likely to be, such a method of self-destruction is by no means uncommon. But Dr. Arkwright has told us very positively that Mrs. Kennedy was not of a suicidal temperament. Mr. Kennedy confirmed this with no less emphasis, and I am inclined to accept their view. The deceased does not appear to have been a woman given to sudden mental aberrations, and the facts of the case are strongly against a hypothesis of suicide. We have heard that Mrs. Kennedy was in good spirits on the day before the tragedy, and I cannot conceive this poor lady, with her husband sleeping peacefully in the same room, rising in the middle of the night with the purpose of seeking a violent death.

"There remains only the third possibility, that of accident. The circumstances hardly admit an accident of normal pattern. I find it difficult to imagine the deceased slipping or falling through the window, which was well away from the floor, while getting up to close it, or to draw a curtain. If, however, we knew no more we would probably have to fall back on this as the lease unlikely solution.

"But it happens we have heard a great deal about these nightmares, to which the deceased was subject. Concrete instances have been given, and there appears to be no doubt that she had a tendency to endanger herself when in this condition.

"I am, therefore, satisfied that the deceased met her death in this way, from injuries resulting from a fall through a window, caused by a bad dream or nightmare; that is, death from misadventure. . . . I should like also to offer my sincere condolences to Mr. Kennedy. Everything we have heard goes to show him as a devoted husband, full of the most tender concern for his wife's health and welfare, and he is deserving of the utmost sympathy in his sad bereavement."

BRITISHERS ORDERED TO HOLD SETTLEMENT LINES

CHILD BRIDE IS GIVEN MONTH FOR VAGRANCY

Young Husband Asks Court To Be Lenient

The Campbellford child bride, aged fourteen years, appeared in juvenile court here today, and along with her seventeen-year-old companion, who was dealt with separately, pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge. Both girls were sentenced to one month in the county gaol by Magistrate O. A. Langley.

A further charge of stealing a motor car against the younger girl was withdrawn by the Crown.

Remanded from last Monday, when the pair made their original appearance before the bench, the hearing was in camera, the public being excluded from the court-room.

Superintendent John Edgar of the Children's Aid Society in a statement to the court, declared the younger girl, who will be fifteen years of age next February, was married at Campbellford on July 5 last.

Prior to her marriage, he said, she and her husband lived together as man and wife on a farm near Trenton. The girl left her husband in September, Mr. Edgar said, and went wandering around the country in a stolen car.

"This girl comes under the Juvenile Offenders' Act, and I think she should be sent to some place where she will get a proper training," declared Mr. Edgar, recommending she be committed to an industrial school instead of to the county gaol.

"It is a peculiar situation," said Magistrate Langley. "The girl's husband is here and he has certain marital rights." He added that in all his experience on the Bench he had never committed a married woman to an industrial school.

Suspended Sentence.

When the young husband was asked by the Bench what he though about the matter of sentence, he replied, "I think you might let her go on suspended sentence."

"And what do you think," the Magistrate asked, addressing the girl's father.

"I 'aint the law and I don't know," was the reply.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., believed a term in the county gaol would have the effect of straightening up the girl and permit her time to think things over, but Mr. Edgar objected: "If she goes to the county gaol she will practically be in solitary confinement. There will be no one there she can consult or get advice from, but at an industrial school she would receive a proper training."

"I cannot take that course in view of the unusual circumstances. She is a married woman and has a husband, who may demand his marital rights," the Magistrate decided, sentencing the girl to one month in the county gaol.

"Do you intend to take your wife back and make a home for her?" the Bench asked the husband.

"Yes, sir," he declared.

As the girl was being led from the court-room, His Worship remarked, "A very unusual and peculiar case."

EDEN 'SLAPS' DUCE ON COLONY ISSUE

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP-Havas)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today Great Britain does not recognize the right of any country to demand that other countries turn colonies over until that country is willing to do its part.

The foreign secretary did not mention Italy by name in declaring: "I must declare plainly that we do not admit the right of any government to call upon us for contributions when there is no evidence to show that that government are prepared to make any contribution on their part."

Italy gained the German-speaking southern Tyrol as a consequence of the Great War.

Britain Will Follow U.S. In Any Plan To End War In East

Eden Emphasizes Lead Must Come From America As She Took Initiative in Calling 9-Power Meet

LONDON, Nov. 1—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today Great Britain will go exactly as far as the United States in seeking an end to the Chinese-Japanese conflict at the Brussels nine-power conference which opens Wednesday.

Making clear the United States is expected to take the lead in any definite action to control the far eastern threat to world peace, Mr. Eden said that Britain is prepared "to go as far as the United States, in full agreement with them—not rushing in front, but not being left behind."

The foreign secretary, who will head the British delegation to Brussels, said the United States took the initiative in convoking the nine-power conference and any action on the far east "essentially depended on cooperation of the United States."

"We realize, that with condition as they are in the world today that we must realize the difficulties of the far eastern situation," Mr. Eden said. "I assure the House that it is in this spirit that I go to Brussels, anxious to contribute what little lies in my power in a situation in which no one can envy a foreign secretary today."

Take No Dictation.

With cooperation for peace as his keynote, Mr. Eden stated that "we accept cooperation from all, but dictation from none."

As for the nine-power conference, he asserted:

"I feel I ought to make it quite plain that the initiative for holding the conference in Brussels never came from us, at all, but from the United States' government itself.

Mr. Eden stressed that there was a "vital" difference in the United States' position as an observer, when the League considered the Sino-Japanese conflict, and their coming role at Brussels where they would be co-operating "on an equal basis" with other powers.

"Any act, whatever the character of the act, that can be taken in the Far Eastern dispute does essentially depend on co-operation of the United States of America," he said.

WEEKEND MISHAPS COST EIGHT LIVES ACROSS ONTARIO

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP)—A death toll of eight was counted in Ontario today, aftermath of week-end mishaps. Four persons were killed in traffic accidents, one by a train, one was shot to death and a baby died of injuries suffered in a fall down a well. One man was burned to death.

The baby was 18-months-old Gordon Rompf, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rompf, who died in a Sarnia hospital Saturday. Two weeks ago he fell down an 18-foot well while playing in the yard of his parents' home. Mrs. Rompf rescued the tot and he was believed recovering when meningitis developed.

Twelve-year-old Milton (Mickey) Corner died in an automobile collision near Dresden Saturday night.

Heroic 'Lost Battalion' O.C Is Created General

Grieves Only That Flames Blocked Fight "To The Death" With Japanese

SHANGHAI, Nov. 1 (A.P.).—General Hsieh Chin-Yuan, commander of the Chinese "Lost Battalion" that defied the Japanese for four days in a Chapei warehouse-citadel, declared to-day his men withdrew sorrowfully.

Their two greatest griefs, he told the Associated Press in his first interview since the battalion evacuated, were that they were forced to withdrew before sealing the struggle with their lives and that they could not return to the conflict.

Hsieh—promoted from Colonel to General in recognition of the feat that raised all his men one rank—sat in a tiny canvas hut, no larger than a dogtent.

He said his force of farmer-boy soldiers, lost only 10 dead, not 100 as the Japanese have asserted.

Hsieh, who was the last to leave the burning warehouse on Saturday to run the gauntlet of Japanese machine-gun fire, blushed like a child when the Associated Press told him for the first time that Premier Chiang Kai-Shek had promoted him to General.

"Not Deserved."

"But I don't deserve such an honor," he said.

All 370 survivors of the battalian of Chiang's Own 88th Division went safely through the Japanese fire, Hsieh declared. He said 410 men originally entered the building and that there were only 40 casualties, including 10 dead, during the four days they occupied it.

"The Japanese are bad marksmen," he explained. "They fire wildly when they are excited."

Girl Finds Husband Is Lost Brother

Warrensburg, Mo., Nov. 1.

MARY Lee Williams, 21, resumed the routine of farm life today, her month-old secret marriage shattered by the discovery that the young farm worker she married was her brother, from whom she was separated in babyhood. The marriage was disclosed when Mrs. Ben Williams, the girl's foster mother, told the young couple she had investigated and found they were Ben and Mary Lee Ipock, orphaned when they were 4 and 2 years, respectively. Their marriage was immediately annulled.

MUSSOLINI GIVING HAVEN IN LIBYA TO GRAND MUFTI

DAMASCUS, Nov. 1 (CP-Havas).—Haj Amin el Husseini, exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, tonight was reported preparing to leave for a new haven in Italian Libya.

The Grand Mufti some time ago took refuge in the Mosque of Omar at Jerusalem to avoid arrest and deportation by British authorities. Later he escaped and crossed the Palestine frontier into Syria. He has since moved to Lebanon.

Official quarters here formally denied the Grand Mufti was leaving Lebanon at the request of French authorities. They said he was negotiating with officials of Libya to go there and probably would leave in the near future for a temporary refuge in the Libyan coastal region.

COMFORT FOR TROOPS

DEVONPORT, Devonshire, Nov. 1. (CP Cable)—The government proposed to spend £7,500,000 ($37,200,000) on modernizing barracks for the comfort and convenience of the soldier, Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary for war, said today.

The outlay, he said, would represent an effort to keep the British army one of the most respected, interesting and healthy callings in the state, providing not only sound physical training but mechanical and scientific instruction.

FATHER IN CELLS MOTHER SHOOTS SELF, 5 CHILDREN

NORWALK, Ia., Nov. 1 (AP).—Neighbors aided a grief-stricken father today in making funeral arrangements for a 35-year-old mother who shot and killed five of her seven children and herself.

The mother, Mrs. G. R. McAninch, who fired a charge from a small-bore shotgun into the forehead of each child, said in a note found beside an open Bible she apparently had been reading, that she did not have enough shells to take all their lives.

The two surviving children, Ray, 15, and Gail, 11, came upon the bodies Saturday night when they returned home from a Hallowe'en celebration.

In a note addressed to them, the mother said: "You will find us dead this morning. Don't get excited.

The children slain were: Cora Belle, 13; Geraldine, 10; Morris, six; Max, four, and Dickie, two.

The 42-year-old father was in the Polk County jail when the tragedy occurred. He had been seized earlier in the day for investigation in a case of breaking and entering. Yesterday he was released, however, to join his surviving sons.

Decline to Withdraw As Japs War Attack Is Coming

Commander Hoists Union Jack Over Barricades And Will Stick Regardless of Eventualities

SHANGHAI, Nov. 1. —(AP)— Major General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, commander of British troops at Shanghai, today refused to withdraw British troops from defence posts near Chinese machinegun nests which Japanese disclosed would be subjected to intensive air and artillery attack.

He ordered the British flag hoisted above dugouts and sandbag barriers and served notice the British would hold their lines in Shanghai's western outskirts regardless of eventualities.

The commander's orders were issued as feeling between Japanese and British forces became more acute. British blamed Japanese for 10 casualties, including five deaths, suffered by the British forces in Shanghai thus far.

After a day and night of sustained barrage, Japanese forces attempting to encircle Shanghai crossed Soochow Creek west of the city. Chinese announced later a sharp Chinese counter-attack drove Japanese northward to the other side of the stream.

The prolonged artillery bombardment covered an area extending four miles west from near the International Settlement border. Japanese planes yesterday strafed Chinese troops throughout the day and several times peppered British outposts with machinegun bullets.

British Answer Fire.

It was disclosed British returned the fire three or four times.

The Japanese had succeeded in crossing Soochow Creek at two points—near Rubicon village and near Ghuchiakao. Just before noon a Japanese spearhead at Rubicon had established a front 800 yards along both sides of the village.

Apparently Japanese had intended to cut a wedge in Chinese lines which ran roughly parallel to the Lincoln Road and Hu Chao Road, extending west from the international settlement.

Japanese shells fell close to British defence lines yesterday. After three British soldiers were wounded when two projectiles struck a hut near Jessfield Park, the British commander made representations to Japanese army and navy authorities, urging the direction of fire be altered.

A Japanese threat to bomb Nantao, the old Chinese city south of the French concession, terrorized hundreds of thousands of Chinese. French authorities strengthened barricades to prevent a possible stampede into the concession.

Foreign observers behind Chinese front lines reported Chinese troops broke into a number of houses evacuated by foreigners in the Hungjao area, including the Shanghai Municipal Sanitarium.

SHEPHERD KILLS MURDERER OF TEN WITH JACK KNIFE

ROME, Nov. 1 (CP-Havas).—Italy's public enemy No. 1, Domenico Diana, accused of 10 murders during the past five months, was killed today by a shepherd armed only with a small pocket knife.

The bandit, who had eluded a nation-wide search during the past few months, met two shepherds last night in the Roman countryside. He forced them to provide food and shelter and threatened to add them to his list of victims.

Today one of the shepherds became enraged and attacked the bandit. After a hand-to-hand tussle the shepherd delivered a mortal blow with a pocket knife.

Some time ago the bandit was convicted of participation in a hold-up. He swore to murder every witness at the trial, and when released from prison five months ago proceeded to carry out the threat.

BUSY WEEKEND FOR THE FIREMEN

Firemen had their busiest week-end in many months when they responded to ten alarms during Saturday, Sunday and this morning. The loss total was small.

A chimney fire at the home of R. Davies, 279 Armour road, led off the alarm procession Saturday afternoon, to be followed by a suburban area call to the home of C. A. Lister, 171 Gordon avenue, where a defective chimney set afire a partition in the early hours of Sunday morning. Damage was small.

Shortly before 10 o'clock Sunday morning, a chimney fire at the home of N. Dafoe was given attention. An hour later a sawing machine took fire at Baker's woodyard on Dublin street. Spontaneous combustion was believed to be the cause. No damage resulted.

A small crowd gathered when a full turnout of the Department responded to threat of fire at the Laura Secord shop on George street. A wiring short circuit had set the floor at the front of the shop ablaze. Damage was mainly from the smoke.

G. S. Matthews, young son, Jack, was accidentally responsible for the next trip of the firemen. Playing with some chemicals at the Matthews' home, 488 Hunter street, he unwittingly produced an explosion by mixing two potent substances together. Curtains were set afire and the boy's hair was singed.

ALBERTA INTEREST SLASH RULED OUT

EDMONTON, Nov. 1 (C.P.). — An Act, reducing by 50 per cent. the interest on provincial guaranteed securities and another requiring consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to bring court action to collect the full amount of interest in so far as it affected the question before the court were declared ultra vires of the Alberta Legislature in a judgment handed down to-day by Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing.

Mr. Justice Ewing awarded the Independent Order of Foresters a writ of execution to collect $5,430 in interest charges from the Lethbridge Norther Irrigation District whose bond interest had been reduced through the Alberta interest reducing legislation.

It was the second action in which the Foresters sued for uncollected interest rates. On the first occasion, in February, 1937, Mr. Justice W. C. Ives ruled the original interest reducing legislation ultra vires and awarded the Foresters $5,400 in interest.

Crew Runs Blockade Get Hero Bonuses

Shanghai, Nov. 1.

SEAMEN of the Isthmian Line freighter Steel Traveler—first American ship to run the gauntlet of shellfire into Shanghai since the President Hoover was bombed—landed here today and discovered they were heroes. The crew immediately demanded a bonus of $50 for each member, and got it.

American business men here, regarding the safe arrival of the Steel Traveler as proof that Shanghai can be reopened to commerce, planned to give a barbecue for the visiting seamen.

Little Damage Is Done With Children Confining Raids To "Shell Out" Tactics

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—(CP).— The ghosts, the spooks, the hobgoblins and other mischiefous imps to-day were back in spookland—or wherever such super-natural demons spend their idle time—after their annual visit to a somewhat cynical world on All Hallows' eve.

Its becoming increasingly evident the nocturnal visitors are going modern. Few reports of vandalism were reported to police Saturday night, the majority of Canadian children contenting themselves with going from door to door in search of Hallowe'en apples, candy and other handouts.

Perhaps the augmented police forces throughout the Dominion had something to do with it, but the 1937 celebrations of Hallowe'en was considered the quietest in years. Property damage was not extensive, police reported, with only a few serious incidents on the record as an unpleasant aftermath.

At Port Hope, Ont., two barns were destroyed by fire started, according to Police Chief Thomas Murphy, "by irresponsible and destructive boys." Frank Mowers, 6, suffered severe brain concussion, a fractured collar bone and four broken ribs in a fall from a Hal-

ENTRY IS MADE INTO SUGAR BOWL

When Dormer's Store (The Sugar Bowl) was broken into over the week-end, the sum of six or seven dollars in small change was stolen, it was reported. The thief made his entry by cutting out a piece of screening over a side window and squeezing through the small aperture. Either by accident or design he closed the door on the heater, and as a result the temperature of the store was raised to such an abnormally high degree that an unstated quantity of chocolate bars was spoiled.

The premises of John W. Steinkrauss, wholesale tobacconist on Hunter street were also entered over the week-end, but following a check-up the manager declared nothing had been stolen. The discovery was made early Sunday morning by Constable Percy Sexsmith.

Hint Duce's Son Flying Plane That Sank British Ship

16 Bombs Send Freighter To Bottom 16 Miles Off Spain—Crew Escapes

LONDON, Nov. 1.— (CP) —The government opposition was given additional fuel for criticizing the government by the sinking Saturday of the British freighter Jean Weems off the Spanish coast, 16 miles at sea, bound from Marseille, France, to Barcelona, Spain, with a cargo of wheat and condensed milk.

The London Daily Herald (Labor) published a dispatch from Barcelona intimating that the Italian-made plane said to have sunk the 2,349-ton freighter might have been piloted by Bruno Mussolini, son of Italy's Premier. It said that Spanish Government Intelligence reported the plane's markings were a skull and crossbones, insignia of a ship Mussolini might have flown.

All 26 of the Jean Weems crew were saved. One of the survivors, William Bamborough, a Scottish sailor, telephoned an account of the sinking to Valencia.

He said a plane appeared from the direction of Mallorca, insurgent held Balearic island, and dropped 15 bombs after warning the crew to take to lifeboats.

An Admiralty spokesman said a British warship probably would be sent to aid in investigating the attack, a recurrence of the "piracy" in the Mediterranean which the Nyon anti-piracy patrol was designed to end.

Zoo Animals Join War Refugees

Shanghai, Nov. 1.

WAR swept to the gates of Shanghai's big Jessfield Zoological Garden just west of the International Settlement today and the municipal Council hastily summoned police to assist keepers in removing scores of wild animals, including lions and tigers.

All the beasts were taken to safety inside the Settlement except three bears, a wild boar and ten foxes for which no haven could be found.

Deer Stick To Runway East Of Marmora Despite Traffic Interruptions

Marmora, Nov. 1.

CROSS the path of some undomesticated animals possessing a degree of timidity and they will change their course of travel, but this does not apply to deer who will stick to their old runways despite intersections made by man.

Between the C.N.R. crossing east of Marmora and the road which branches to Deloro, No. 7 Highway crosses one of such runways which accord'ng to local hunters connects the untillable land east of Deloro with Mud Lake, a little southeast of Marmora village.

Within the past 15 months, sometimes in daylight and sometimes at nightfall deer have been noticed on the north side of No. 7 highway between the fence and road near to the runway. The most recent occasion was Friday evening when Ewart Haacke and four companions returning to Deloro from Marmora saw a fine deer disappear from view as the lights of his car flashed upon it.

Duck Hunter Bags Large Wolf On Bank Of Indian River Near Lang

He chanced across the animal—a stranger to this section of the county—as he was skirting the banks of Indian River with his shot gun at the ready.

Wounding the animal with a shot in one of the hind legs, so that he should not cause unnecessary damage to the pelt, Spiers closed-in on his prey and with a shot in the lower jaw finished the job.

Besides any commercial value it might have, the pelt is good for a government bounty, one of the first paid in Peterborough county for a wolf since February 15 last. The bounty is fifteen dollars.

Wolves are rarely seen or heard of so far south in this district. Farmers believe they are coming from the bush beyond Stoney Lake, and are apprehensive for the safety of their stock.

Hogg, Chief Engineer Succeeds Lyon As Hydro Chairman

Hon. W. L. Houck Will Act Vice in New Set-Up For Multi-Million Dollar Public Power Venture

TORONTO, Nov. 1. —(CP)— Ontario's Hydro-Electric Power Commission—administering body of the province's multi-million-dollar public power enterprise—will be made over completely today when a cabinet meeting ratifies appointment of Dr. Thomas H. Hogg, chief engineer, to succeed T. Stewart Lyon as chairman.

Mr. Lyon, former editor of the Toronto Globe, who came out of retirement to head the commission after Premier Hepburn's Liberal government came to power after the 1934 election, resigned Saturday, the Premier announced last night.

He was the last of the three-man commission to set up after the election. Following the return of his government last October 6, the Premier appointed Hon. W. L. Houck of Niagara Falls and Major J. A. Smith of Kitchener to the commission in place of A. W. Roebuck and Highways Minister McQuesten.

"I wish to take this opportunity of paying a deserved tribute to the work of Mr. Lyon," the Premier said. "He has held the chairmanship of Hydro during a very crucial period in its history and I have nothing but praise for his efforts. He accepted the post at a time when most men would have been content to retire and he devoted the same energy to the new task as he gave in his many years of service as a newspaper editor.

Stays As Chief Engineer.

Dr. Hogg, who will retain his office of chief engineer, has had a long career in Hydro engineering. Joining the Ontario Power Company in 1909, he resigned in 1912 to accept an editorial position with the Canadian Engineer.

The new chairman became associated with the Hydro Commission in 1913 as assistant hydraulic engineer and in 1925 was appointed chief hydraulic engineer.

Mr. Houck, Cabinet Minister without portfolio, will be vice-chairman of the Commission.

Hydro has figured actively in legislative discussions since the Liberals took office in 1934. Legislation cancelling power purchase contracts with privately-owned Quebec power companies provoked a long and sustained debate in the 1935 session of the Legislature.

Mr. Roebuck, who resigned from the Cabinet last spring because of differences with the Premier over Labor policy, was Hydro spokesman in the Legislature. A two-day-long speech he made paved the way for legislation cancelling the contracts.

WHEAT BRIGHTENS AT CLOSE OF SALES

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Indication of a light wheat supply in Argentina and forecasts of low production in Australia gave wheat futures a brighter outlook as they moved into another week today.

After erratic trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange during which prices were sensitive to outside market trends, values ended the week Friday 4 to 2½ cents lower, October at $1.22¼; November $1.20⅝-½; December $1.16¼-⅜ and May $1.14½-⅝.

While export movement of United States surplus wheat has been disappointing, a keen demand is anticipated before the turn of the year when Argentine new-crop competition begins. United States has about 70,000,000 exportable surplus.

United Kingdom importers and other buyers took advantage of irregular Winnipeg futures to take 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the week. Mills also offered support on price recessions.

Deliveries totalled 4,048,000 bushels compared with only 2,915,000 for the same week last year. Statistics show approximately 73,000,000 bushels of western Canada's 164,000,000 bushels had been delivered by Oct. 22.

No Fire In Stove But In Chimney

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 1.— The local fire department responded to a call at noon on Saturday which kept several of the members a few minutes late for dinner. A neighbor noticed flames pouring from the chimney of the James Milne home on Rear street and sent in the alarm. Little time was lost in extinguishing the blaze. The fact that there was no fire in the stove in the Milne home added a touch of the unusual to the incident.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

HANDS-OFF DELAY, PARLEY DISCORDS IRRITATE BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 1. — (A.P.). — Foreign Secretary Eden, just before his departure for Brussels to attend the nine-power conference on the Far Eastern situation, was expected to deal with the foreign situation in the House of Commons to-day.

In view of the tangled situation on withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain and the discord in the non-intervention committee, Mr. Eden was expected to express Great Britain's growing irritation at the lack of concrete progress.

The foreign secretary also was expected to touch on the Far Eastern situation. Some quarters predicted he would attack Japan for repeated incidents involving British troops, but did not expect he would give an indication of British policy at the Brussels parley.

Although Britain was indignant at the killing and injuring of her soldiers in Shanghai, she was not expected to take any steps that might anger Japan and jeopardize the success of the Brussels discussions seeking peace in the Orient.

Informed sources, nevertheless, did not rule out the possibility of a new formal protest to Japan after news that three more British soldiers were injured Sunday by Japanese shells at Shanghai.

The Japanese Embassy issued a statement which asserted investigation at Shanghai disclosed no Japanese batteries were firing at the time three other British soldiers were killed by a projectile Friday.

WINDSOR ICE FIRM FIRE COSTS $50,000

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 1—(CP).—The large two-storey coal compression plant of the Windsor Coal and Ice Company, Limited, was in ruins to-day, second time in two years fire razed the plant. Firemen fought the blaze four hours last night before bringing it under control. Loss was estimated from $50,000 to $60,000.

Owners of the building said a new plant would have to be erected. When the buildings burned July 4, 1935, the walls were left standing, but after the two-alarm fire last night the walls collapsed.

One fireman was injured and two others escaped unhurt when the pumper on which they were speeding to the fire collided with an automobile, snapped off two Hydro poles and a fire alarm box standard and came to a stop in a vacant lot. Driver Rene Robinet had his hands cut as he warded off one of the heavy Hydro poles which swung across the top of the truck. The automobile was wrecked.

Eighteen horses, used with ice delivery wagons, were removed from a stable about 30 feet from the blazing building. Four new motor trucks and machinery installed last week were destroyed in the fire.

Decisions Deferred Campbellford Court

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 1. — Court of Revision which held its sitting on Thursday evening in the Council Chambers of the Public Library were presented with seven requests for revision of assessments by citizens. Meeting at 8 p.m. with Deputy-Reeve C. H. Calver acting chairman, the Court listened to each request and then adjourned until Monday afternoon when they decided to visit each of the properties in question. Only two of the requests received immediate action, that of the Campbellford Cloth Company, whose assessment was set at the same figure as last year, $40,000, and that of C. Davidson, who requested a rebate of a portion of the business assessment of the Arena on Front Street, which it was claimed only operated for ten weeks out of the year. On motion, Mr. Davidson's request was granted with the assessment being based on $225 as was done the previous year. Others who were either present or represented at the Court with requests for a downward revision of assessment were: Ward Archer, re house and lot on Garry Street; Miss J. Wheaton, house and lot on Church Street; H. B. Free, house and lot on Front Street; Mrs. Sarah L. Kerr, house and lot on Rear Street; A. Milne, house and lot on Market Street.

FAMED AUTHOR RALPH CONNOR TAKEN BY DEATH

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1 (C.P.). — Internationally known churchman and author beloved to millions as Ralph Connor, Dr. Charles W. Gordon, 77, died on Sunday in hospital yesterday, 15 hours after the death of his only brother, Dr. H. F. Gordon, M.D.

As Ralph Connor, the famous author gave more than a score of novels to the world, several of them, notably "The Sky Pilot," were best sellers; as Dr. Gordon, he became Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, highest honor of the General Assembly.

Retired since 1924 from the active ministry of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg, where he was pastor 30 years, Dr. Gordon continued writing. His last novel, "The Gay Crusaders," was published in 1936. He completed the manuscript of his reminiscences shortly before he was taken ill.

Stricken at his summer home on Lake of the Woods, Dr. Gordon entered hospital here on October 1 for an operation from which he failed to rally.

Charles and Henry Gordon, the latter 71, were the last surviving members of the family of Rev. Daniel Gordon, missionary sent to Ontario by the Free Church of Scotland. Henry died on Saturday at his Winnipeg home, a retired physician, whose life was marked by distinguished Great War service overseas as medical officer.

PLAN TO REGISTER AND CERTIFICATE ALL SPECIALISTS

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—(CP).—A long-heralded scheme to certificate and register Canadian physicians and surgeons practising as specialists moved a step nearer realization over the week-end as the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons accepted responsibility for carrying on the work and prepared to collaborate with the Canadian Medical Association in establishing standards and examinations.

The Royal College, holding its eighth annual meeting Saturday, accepted the invitation of the Medical Association to take a major role in the plan, under discussion for more than a year among members of both bodies. It agreed also to participate in deliberations of a joint committee which will be established to advise the Royal College Council of standards and examinations for specialists in six branches of medicine and surgery.

Groundwork will be launched soon for certification of those specializing in ophthamology, otelaryngology, dermatology and syphilogy, paediatrics, urology and radiology, all branches demanding a high degree of special knowledge and skill.

The Royal College elected Dr. George S. Young of Toronto, president, succeeding Dr. A. T. Bazin, of Montreal; accepted 11 new Fellows, three in the division of medicine, and eight in that of surgery, and heard three technical papers read at its scientific session.

Other Children to Attend School With Quints

250 Specialists Visit Famous Sisters And Their Personality Is Defined

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 1. — (CP).—Yvonne is the most motherly of the Dionne quintuplets, Marie is the most sympathetic, Emilie the most independent, Cecile the most unpredictable and Annette the most aggressive.

So Dr. William E. Blatz, University of Toronto psychologist, thinks. Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, their physician and no psychologist but a country doctor, thinks they are "just five smart kids."

The descriptions were given at the urging of reporters as 300 child specialists, psychologists and students concluded a two-day meeting in which they studied the Quints on the basis of reports by Dr. Dafoe and his brother, Dr. W. A. Dafoe of Toronto, and a group of eight University of Toronto psychologists under Dr. Blatz.

The Quint physician, who has taken care of them since they were born summed up his attitude to the whole thing when he said much of the scientific discussion was "over his head because, after all, I am only a country doctor."

Scientists See the Sisters

The scientific meeting was divided into two stages, discussion of the reports in Toronto Saturday and a visit to the children here yesterday. Those attending the meeting travelled to Callander by special train and peered through glass and wire mesh at the youngsters singing and playing.

Psychologists who had studied graphs and charts all day Saturday forgot them in admiration of the antics of the youngsters who seemed to be even more entertaining than usual. But they forgot their toys when their father, Oliva Dionne, entered their yard. The five rushed to him to be kissed.

Discussion among the scientists brought out the fact that plans are under consideration for the building of a school near the nursery where the five sisters would be educated with a group of other children. At the conference some speakers suggested contacts with other children were desirable.

Dr. Dafoe told a dinner gathering Saturday night that the Quints' guardians are "looking forward hopefully" to the time when the Dionne family will be under one roof again. He could not say just when that would be but it was the goal toward which the guardians were striving.

Good To Meet Outsiders.

Dr. Frank N. Freeman of the University of Chicago, said after the conference, "My feeling is that if it can be brought about, these children should have more contacts, particularly with other children. They have had unusual physical care but

SHARK CUT LIFE LINE

ST. IVES, Cornwall, Nov. 1.—(CP Cable).—Cecil Chard, mayor of Falmouth and a professional diver, engaged in a life and death drama with a shark on the ocean bed of the harbor here yesterday.

While Chard was engaged in laying a pipe on the floor of the ocean at a depth of 30 feet the shark became entangled in his lifeline. The monsters struggles to extricate itself broke the lifeline, used to pull divers to the surface. Chard said later:

"I was pulled and pulled about. I managed to keep cool and to catch hold of the air pipe, getting to the surface that way. I am so sore I hardly know what to do."

Bottle Of Liquor Stolen From Ledge While Young Man Talked To Employer

HALLOWE'EN was very quiet generally speaking, judging by the fact there were no offenders in magistrate's court today charged with wilful property damage.

Off the records however, it was learned some hooligans, taking advantage of the occasion caused damage to the sun dial on the grounds at the Normal School and not content with that, ripped a railing off the footbridge over the gully near by.

Some board sidewalks on Bethune street were torn up by a couple of destructive-minded individuals, who are reported to have waded into Jackson Park Creek when a couple of police constables gave chase.

A young man who was homeward-bound early Saturday evening with a bottle of liquor he had purchased specially in connection with a little celebration on the occasion of his brother's marriage, stopped off on the way at his employer's house. He had to see the boss in connection with the near approach of the hunting season. He left the bottle of whiskey on the window ledge outside, not caring to take it into the house with him. On coming out he was dismayed to find it had been stolen. What is more he had some difficulty, it was said, convincing his brother it really had been stolen.

At a dance two other young men lost a bottle of liquor. But they at least had the consolation of knowing where it went. They were in the act of taking a drink, it was learned, when an officer of the law swooped down and confiscating the bottle emptied the contents down a nearby sink.

REV. A. J. THOMAS GUEST PREACHER GEORGE STREET

Parents who teach their children the material in place of an appreciation of spiritual values were censured by Rev. A. J. Thomas of Toronto speaker at the 102nd anniversary of George Street United church last night.

The nave of the church was filled almost to capacity for the occasion.

Declaring that great numbers of modern young people lack a proper perspective on life, overestimating the material and underestimating the "heavenly," he said.

"I say it is a serious matter because it will react against their success in life. No matter how wise or how wealthy they get, they will miss the one thing to make them truly wealthy."

The visiting minister, an appropriate speaker on the occasion as a former pastor of George Street church, warned that education without character is not safe.

"One of the most dangerous men in a community is an educated man without character," he declared. "Equally dangerous is a man of money without character."

Rev. Thomas used as his text Jeremiah 9. 23 and 24: "Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches. But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth; for in these things I delight, saith the Lord."

Wisdom is not a great thing, the speaker said. It is a superior attainment, but not the greatest attainment. The modern world should avoid a tendency to put wisdom, knowledge, and education at the top, he said.

"It is a fine thing to stand six feet and over," he said. "A strong, healthy, pulsating body is a fine thing, but not the greatest."

No words of censure are too strong for the drickery, dishonesty and the oppression by which some men make money; yet, if a man does make money honestly, it is to his credit. Rev. Thomas said. Just as wisdom and physical fitness are not the greatest things, neither is money, he asserted. The greatest thing of all is to understand and know God, he declared.

Special music was provided during the anniversary day. Soloists were Mrs. James Goldie and G. D. Carlisle. Composed of Mrs. Goldie, Miss L. McDougall, Henry Batten and Mr. Carlisle, a quartette sang at the evening service.

OVERHEATED PIPES

Overheated pipes took the department to the home of Angus Murray, 463 Donegal street, early Sunday evening and overheated pipes were the cause of a run to K. Purdy's home, 472 Stewart street, this morning. A run to 389 Water street resulted when some pitch being melted by Fred Rowan, roofing contractor, set fire to a lumber pile this morning.

Learn By Numerology What Names Mean

How fascinating to learn what your name means in your life! Find the number hidden in your name from this simple numerological chart.

Each letter, numerology says, vibrates to a certain number. The vibration number for A is 1. Ann Lee's vibration numbers, for instance, are 155355. They add up to 24. Reduce 24 to a single digit by adding 2 and 4. So Ann's a "Six," one of the dependable, domestic type who makes good doctors, nurses and teachers.

Now add your own vibration numbers and reduce them to a single digit this same way.

Our 32-page numerology booklet tells your type, what career you'll follow most successfully. See if your street and telephone number are lucky for you. Find how to get a more successful number by dropping or adding middle name or initial.

Hallowe'en Parties

HALLOWE'EN Parties were numerous among Peterborough young folk during the week-end, and Peterborough homes rang with shouts of merriment.

Saturday night strange, fantastic creatures glided about; an old witch was seen about to take off on her broomstick; cats, bats and skeletons roamed the streets; impish figures rang door bells and demanded that householders "Shell out, shell out!" 'Twas fun to depart for a little while from conventionalities and romp with the little folk who had appeared out of "nowhere" to spend a few hours.

THE STARS SAY

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Tuesday, November 2.

According to the lunar transits for this day, supported by an important mutual aspect, there should be a rather restless and unsettled condition in all business of a speculative nature, particularly that having to do with advertising, publishing or promotional enterprises.

Those whose birthday it is may look fora a year of somewhat unsettled and restless conditions that seem to pervade with emphasis all those affairs connected with writings, documents, publishing, promotion and advertising. An undercurrent of deceit or small trickeries calls for precaution and vigilance.

A child born on this day is likely to be very clever, subtle and versatile, with strong leanings to the scientific, novel and unusual, which may make it restless, ever yearning for fresh fields to enjoy and conquer.

Had Indigestion Gas and Pains In Stomach and Bowels

The process of digestion depends largely on the condition of the stomach, and when it is unable to do its work properly there will be a rising and souring of food, a gnawing and burning sensation in the stomach, belching and pressure of gas, flatulency, etc.

Burdock Blood Bitters starts an increased flow of gastric juice so essential for the proper digestion of food.

Miss M. C. Weiss, Mapova, Alta., writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with indigestion. My stomach would not digest my food, and I would have gas pressure and sour stuff coming up in my mouth.

I used Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking one bottle I felt a change for the better, so I decided to keep on, and after the third bottle I could eat anything and not be bothered with the rising and souring of my food."

It Does Not Make Sense

A good deal of Rockefeller money has gone into the restoration of the beautiful cathedral at Rheims which was largely destroyed during the days of the Great War. A number of pictures have been printed showing the beauty of the cathedral and a good deal has been said regarding the generosity of the people who have made the restoration possible.

And that is well worth thinking about. For months now the civil war in Spain has been bent on destruction of life and of property. Many of the historic buildings in that country have been blown to pieces. And it may be in time to come when the thing gets settled there will be another effort to rebuild some at least of the more notable places which are now ruined in Spain.

And each time there is a war there is destruction. The possibilities of colossal damage are greater today than they have ever been before because the implements of destruction are so much more effective. Thus it is that a world which claims to be civilized and pretends to be Christian goes ahead with the work of destruction and afterward commends the enterprise which brings about reconstruction. All of which may be commendable and fine but does not make sense.

Looks Like A Straw Man

County Judge McFadden of Chatham was speaking to a group of 21 foreigners informing them that their application for citizenship papers would be recommended to Ottawa, and it was then that he said he was losing patience with the cry "Canada for Canadians." Judge McFadden was certain there was room in Canada for 25,000,000 people. In part he said:

"With such vast unoccupied areas, to restrict them to Canadian-born is like placing a man and a boy on a 10,000-acre farm and telling them to work the whole of it."

Judge McFadden may be right on a good many occasions. He probably is, but this time it looks as though he were putting up a straw man for the purpose of knocking the fellow down. We very seldom hear anything about a cry of "Canada for the Canadians." The only time it is apt to come to the surface is on occasions when there is a shortage of employment and the people of this country then feel they should have what employment there is. There is nothing unusual about that as other countries do the same thing.

But in other ways, and in the general settlement of land we have never heard it said that Canada should be settled by native-born Canadians. Had we been inclined to follow such a plan then it would indeed have taken a long time to have our present 11 millions of people. If there are foreign-born people who believe they could make a success of farming in Canada or of anything else we have no desire to keep them out. Truth is they are coming in all the time although in lesser numbers than formerly. But that cry of "Canada for the Canadians"—well we have very seldom heard it.

So They Had A "Party"

In a court case at Sarnia five persons admitted guilt in having participated in a Thanksgiving Day party at the Kettle Point school house. And Kettle Point is on the Indian Reserve. Several others who did not appear in court sent pleas of guilty and it cost each participant $15.

Just how they run things in general on that particular reserve we do not know. Reports stated the school house adjoins a residence, but when white people invade an Indian reserve and take along liquor they are not doing anything for which they can be given much credit.

And it also seems an odd way to be celebrating Thanksgiving Day. That day had its start in the custom of some devout people who first started working the land on this continent, and when the harvest was gathered in the fall of the year they set aside a day on which they would unitedly return thanks to the Creator of all things for the retunrs they had received from the soil.

The picture of people driving a number of miles to an Indian reserve on Thanksgiving Day for the purpose of having a "party" with plenty of liquor is far removed from the beginning and meaning of the day.

A Newspaper Problem

As a rule newspapers do not talk much about themselves or their problems. They are busily engaged in printing all other sorts of news. But the chairman of the Newsprint Committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, has been speaking plainly about the business, and he says newspapers cannot continue to be sold at their present prices.

The one chief item of expense in turning out a newspaper apart from the weekly pay list is its supply of newsprint. The prices have advanced and they will be higher in 1938. The American publishers predict that the increase in that bill alone will be 17 per cent. Metal prices have increased and a daily newspaper uses a great deal of that commodity.

The newspaper reader who receives his paper through the mail for instance might be surprised to know the subscription price is not sufficient to pay for the cost of the white paper used and the charges for delivery. Truth is that few newspapers make any real money out of circulation as such. They count on getting their money back because increased circulation should enable them to secure more advertising at a better rate, but this arrangement can be carried only so far. Publishers cannot afford to absorb too great a loss on circulation in the hope of recovering it through their advertising columns. The problem which is being considered by the national association in United States is the same as that which faces Canadian publishers. Another upswing in the price of white paper will put them in a position where they cannot sell their papers at present prices.

He Lost A Subscriber

The Brighton Ensign admits it has lost a subscriber. And we learn too it was the sort of subscriber the paper might well like to hold, because he was not in arrears. Nor was it claimed the paper had printed anything which had shocked this reader or caused him to become angry. Possibly the editor in Brighton asked some questions and then it was he was told his paper was not newsy enough. Members of the subscriber's family had heard in advance a good deal of the local news in the paper, and they did not want to read it through again.

The editor of the Ensign admits it is true his paper does not carry the scandal one hears in any community, not even when people bring it in and want it put in the paper. He admits too that he seldom prints things which are bound to hurt or injure some person even though they are true. Allowing imagination to run its course the editor says it might be possible that some day he will pack up and leave for some place where no one knows him, but before departing he will print just one paper and tell all he knows. Then those who desire a spicy paper could have it for once.

But he has not left Brighton yet. Meantime he will do what a great many others are trying to do, and that is turn out a decent paper. It is an old saying around a good many offices that the most racy stories are not published and it is probably just as well for the peace of mind of some folk of the community that they are not. A newspaper receives no thanks for trying to keep its columns clean nor does it expect any. We can think at the moment of two rival papers in one city where a particularly disgusting case was on trial. One paper published a summary of the evidence each day and it has by far the greater circulation. The other paper published a verbatim report of all that was said, and during the days when the trial was on that paper's sales ran off into high figures.

The Brighton many may have lost a subscriber, but we do not believe he will change his ways. He will continue to turn out his paper each week and put into it only such items as he considers are fit to print and worthy of being read.

Tackling A Tough Question

Captain W. C. C. Innes, chairman of the Commercial Bureau of Canada, told members of the Kiwanis Club in Brantford that Canada was the most overgoverned country in the world. That claim has been advanced a number of times in a number of places, but Captain Innes was not content with the statement itself, but gave to it some statistical strength.

This way: Our population is less than 11,000,000 and the cost of government in 1935 was slightly more than $1,000,000,000.

During the past ten years our population increased 18 per cent, while our government expenditure increased 45 per cent. Our total public debt now amounts to more than $7,000,000,000.

Captain Innes says he hopes to secure half a million members for the Commercial Bureau in order to obtain a solution. That is, he hopes that if a half million people ask for the same thing at the same time they may possibly get it.

They may and they may not. The people who are in control of government are the ones who could cut down on its size, but within recent times we have had only one practical example of that provided by Geo. S. Henry when he put through legislation to reduce the membership of the Ontario Legislature from 112 to 90. And shortly after doing that good turn he was defeated at the polls.

If one were to analyze the situation we believe it would be found that the average individual going about a day's work does not need a great deal of government. For the most part we have to figure things out for ourselves. If a man is going into business he finds he has to attend to his own financing; he has to accept all the responsibility of success or failure, but the governments in various forms soon call on him to collect their toll, and they will expect him in an indirect way to be the collector of tariffs and such. What he does for the governments is much more than what the governments are doing for him.

If an individual has a problem which bothers him in the serious business of making a living he has to work it out himself. He would hardly go to any of our various governments and ask for the solution. But we are getting a billion dollar's worth of government each year and we do not need it. In a homely way it can be illustrated like this: When it comes on toward winter a man knows he is going to need coal to heat his home, and he has a pretty good idea of how much coal he will have to purchase. So he goes to the coal man and order coal on the basisof what he needs. That is, he gets just enough. He does not go all the coal men in the community and instruct them all to start drawing coal to his premises, but we seem to be doing that when we come to government. We do not apply the same sensible logic that we use when buying our coal. There is a great deal more government ordered and paid for than we need, and so far we seem powerless to cancel the order and then have it stepped down to the quantity we require and for which we can afford to pay. Whether Captain Innes can cure the situation if he secured a half-million members for his organization is another matter. If there is the remedial strength in such a movement then it will be a factor which has hitherto been missing. He has a long and a tough road ahead of him and probably he knows that.

They Want No Change

The general clearance of slums is making progress in England, but there are sections where there are vigorous protests against the movement, and many of the hardest cases to deal with are in rural England. The claim is that removing many of the cottages attached to farms and which have in many cases been in the same family for fifty years, would ruin the picturesque touch.

There is another objection. It is stated that many of the cottages in which land workers dwell have been rented to them for a figure which does not amount to more than 35 cents per month, and that is almost free rent. The new houses which it is proposed to build would cost in rent from five to seven shillings per week, and that is an amount beyond the financial strength of those who will live in them.

As a rule we hear of landlords who get all they can from their holdings, but seldom is there anything said of the houses which have been occupied for a charge of 35 cents per month. It may be the men who live in them should be paid more wages so they could afford a better house.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There were more than 1,000 weddings in Italy to celebrate the anniversary of fascism. Mussolini evidently believes in encouraging fighting on the home front, too.

Leopold Stokowski denies the rumor that he is to wed Greta Garbo. After all as a contemporary asks how could Miss Garbo be alone with a 100-piece orchestra.

Human hair is being used in Germany for the manufacture of rugs and all the ball-headed men are probably being looked at scornfully because they are not doing their bit for their country.

The Canadian Choir of Brantford, under the direction of Frederick Lord, has gone to sing in New York city. And in this artistic way it may be impressed upon New Yorkers that Canadians do other things than shovel snow and trap fur bearing animals.

American College of Surgeons is advised that a new method of providing scalps has been invented. If they could find some way to provide a whole new hide there might be some hope for a number of gentlemen who went through the stockmarket wrangle a week or so ago.

AS IT WAS

(By A. R. K.)

¶ I read a little piece today, to find out what some man might say, and also learn his views; for he had written line on line, about the way that things should shine, when I had blacked my shoes.

¶ And there were pictures in it too, and they showed shine most every hue, told how a good shine feels; and every move was traced just how, and they have little gadgets now, for shining up the heels.

¶ When I lived on Concession Ten, along with other little men, there was a weekly chore; grandfather's boots were put away, when they were greased for Sabbath day, behind the kitchen door.

¶ Grandfather's boots reached to his knees, all week they faced the rain or breeze, or blistered in the sun; he used the bootjack as he drew, and then the folk for certain knew, another day was done.

¶ Grandfather's boots were dirty too, he'd worn them for a week clean through, and there were marks of toil; that was a job for little men, and there was tallow rubbed on them, or sometimes castor oil.

¶ On Sunday they went 'neath his pants, he heard the sermon, joined the chants, filled up with peace and pride; when Monday morning came for him, he'd tuck his working trousers in—the boots would come outside.

FOR WORK with almost every disease the name of some great laboratory standout—the National Institute with Rocky Mountain spotted fever, the University of Toronto with diabetis, and the Rockfeller Institute with yellow fever. Now it seems most likely that Washington University in St. Louis will be associated in medical history with encephalitis lethargica or sleeping sickness.

At that institution a group of researchers have for four years been busy trying to patch together the disease's crazy quilt. The first step was to find an animal that would take the disease—to put sleeping sickness in the laboratory where it could be studied. Medicine's most faithful servant, the guinea pig, was not susceptible, nor were sheep, chickens, ferrets or rats. One horse and two mules contracted the disease but they were considered too expensive and too bulky.

Then the investigators found how to inoculate the brain of a mouse and the mice responded to the test. Five or six days after the innoculation the symptoms appeared and two days later they proved fatal.

As a result of their investigations the workers at St. Louis are now convinced that the disease is caused by a virus—an organism too small to be seen by any microscope and slender enough to slip through the meshes of the finest porcelain filter. The virus apparently passes from individual to individual—possibly there are carriers—and enters the body by the same route the infantile paralysis organism uses. It seems to work into the body through the nose and then pass along the olfactory nerve to the brain.

Hence it seems possible that during epidemic periods the terminal of the olfactory nerve might be sealed with the nasal sprays now used to combat infantile paralysis.

Courtroom Magic.

AT THE CLIMAX of his vaudeville act Harry Blackstone the magician, who has visited the Grand here several times, walks through the audience with an illuminated electric bulb floating before him, apparently without support and his audiences have never been able to figure it out.

Not long ago however Blackstone had to bring his trick into court and explain its workings but not before he had sworn the press to secrecy. In the circuit court at Detroit Jack Spargel an automobile salesman demanded $5,000 damages because the magician allegedly kicked his ankle during a performance in a Detroit theatre. Witness testified that Spargel had followed Blackstone up the aisle, waving his arms over the magician's head in an effort to find hidden wires.

The court dismissed the suit and upheld the right of Blackstone's profession. "By coming down from the stage into the audience "said the judge" the magician is inviting the spectators to examine the trick closely. I don't believe, however, that this invitation goes so far as to warrant a customer leaving his seat to destroy the illusion."

Merchants Should Stand Their Losses

We Can Afford to Boycott Japanese Goods; Question of Danger Not the Chief One Now

(Letter in London Free Press)

EDITOR, FREE PRESS: In Saturday's issue of The Free Press I note the merchants of London claim the Japanese boycott would be unfair. Unfair to whom? I am reminded of John Ruskin's address to the Military Academy in England when he stated the worst culprits were the men who supported the weapons for man to fight with so that they could catch the sixpences that dropped in the struggle. The merchants' chief concern seems to be that they will be stuck with goods they bought in good faith. Well, all business has to take those chances and after all the public did not demand those goods until they were first shown by the merchants, who, no doubt, bought them because they were cheap. When the merchants speak of good faith—what about the good faith to Canadian workers, subjecting them to the competition of the wage scales in Japan. Seventy per cent. control of industry is in the hands of 15 interests who have forced wages to the lowest levels in history. Sixy-five per cent. of Japan's exports are produced by hand workers in small scale industry and the products of their labor is controlled by the large interests—these are the goods we receive in Canada.

We can well afford to boycott these goods because we make them in Canada and will give work to Canadians at better wages. Apart from the present war, we should have created this boycott long ago because of the conditions under which the goods are produced, and no merchant or individual who advocates the sale of sweated goods can talk of good faith.

Now to speak of the reason for the present boycott. The whole world is beginning to stand aghast at the wanton attack of Japan on China, the slaughter of the civilian population, the rivers of blood being shed and the mounds of mangled women and children. The whole thing beggers description. After standing idly by whilst Japan raped Manchuria; Italy Ethiopia, then Spain, I thank God that at last mankind seems to be aroused. In Great Britain the entire working class are aroused. In France 5,000,000 trade unionists are pledged to the boycott. In the U. S. A. mass meetings are being held and I am glad to say that Canada is also in line, with almost the lone exception of the London merchants.

If space would permit I would name the many churches and leaders who have already pronounced in favor of such action. To quote Ralph Conner, Rev. Charles Gordon, "What is to be done - now?", Protests? Resolutions! No! Demands! Demands that the Government we have helped to elect, will have no part in the activities, political, economic, industrial or social, of governments whose policies demand "rivers of blood," "fragments of human bodies," and "heaps of mangled women and children."

"Dangerous," yes, very dangerous, but not so dangerous as becoming partners in these bloody activities and in the results that follow. Let the governments who still wish to rule free peoples, who stand for right and good will between nations, come out clean from fellowship with those governments whose policies inevitably issue in "rivers of blood."

That statement puts it more forcibly than I can, it also is more drastic than the London merchants call drastic. The statement in The Free Press also states, "One important fact is the balance of trade between Canada and Japan." True, this is an important fact, but it also is a factor. One would be very short sighted if he does not realize that Japan's conquest of China would not only wipe out that balance, but wipe out the trade itself and not only with Japan but China. Therefore, if the merchants were farsighted, they would ralize their future business in regard to export trade with either Japan or China, is to cripple Japan now. The most effective way to do that is for Canada to put an embargo on nickel to Japan.

More than half of our exports to Japan are war materials. In the Government statistics issued this week, exports of nickel have trebled. Iron, steel, lead, zinc, copper, aluminum were all vastly increased. Our total exports to Japan are 50 per cent. higher than named in the article, and all of which looks good for business—but in the words of Ruskin, is picking up the sixpences, and to the Chinese, is murder.

Canadians as hardheaded businessmen know it would be a catastrophe to Canada, and the world, for Japan to smash China. Canadians, as human loving people, are appalled at Japan's action in China, and if, by a boycott they can help to stop this slaughter, their hands will not be stayed by the fact of there being a few Japanese toys in the country. Let's pocket our loss and call it insurance against Japanese aggression.

Not Regarded As Sign of Depression

Prices Had Been Going Up Far Too Rapidly; Feeling of Panic Sets in Motion Selling Wave

DESPITE THE crash in stock market prices, there seems to be a confident undertone to the effect that we are not on the threshold of another serious depression. It is admitted that much money has been lost in market securities. It is estimated in connection with the New York stock exchange that the recession in quoted values there was twenty-seven billion dollars. The market, as measured by the leading price averages was off 72 points since the middel of August when the average was 190. This is one of the sharpest declines for so short a period, in the market's history. There can be no doubt that many people are financially embarrassed as a result of their market dealings.

John M. Godfrey, securities commissioner for Ontario, expresses the opinion that there will not be a recurrence of the depression that began in 1929. He says that the causes of the present fall in security prices have not the broad implications of the 1929 disaster. In the latter case, the Great War had laid the foundation for the crash. It was the collapse of the kind of boom that follows all large-scale wars. The current disturbance he ascribes to over-optimism that sent stock prices up too rapidly. He blames mob psychology for the deluge of selling that knocked the bottom out of the market.

Of course there are scores of reasons offered for the ruinous drop in prices and they are given for what they are worth. None of them are convincing and all are decidedly confusing. One thing that stands out in bold relief, as a result of these market crashes, is that buyers of stocks have no standard by which to measure values. There never seems to be any warning signals as to when prices have gone too high. Fear seizes the entire stocktrading clientele at the same moment and the wreck has occurred before any have attained safety.

BRINDLE REPLIES TO A.R.K.

(In reference to "Files." See Peterborough Examiner September 30, 1937.)

It seems to me that A. R. K.
Inspired his brindle cow to say!
(Provided she could speak)
"If I had half the sense he has,
I'd find a way to kill en masse
The flies that leave me weak.

"Since he finds fault and does bewail
The fact that I must switch my tail
And step into the milk,
Its up to him to see that I
Am not disturbed by any fly,
Whatever be its ilk.

"Instead of squirting spray about,
And thinking that will save a clout
From my good, faithful tail,
He needs to keep his stables clean,
His yards, and that old box latrine,
And do it without fail.

"For well he knows that mamma flies
Lay lots of eggs for bugs their sire,
And each egg brings a grub,
Each grub in turn becomes a fly
(In swarms they thrive and multiply)
And now, here comes the rub:

"The time to kill the pesky fly
Is just before it learns to fly,
While just a creeping thing.
To get its wings, it leaves the pile,
Then hides down in the ground awhile,
And comes out on the wing.

"So catch the grubs while coming out
A little meat around about
The stable litter dump;
Some oil upon the water pour
(They're all inside, they can't detour)
They perish in the sump.

"But what's the use! He won't do that.
He'd argue: "Too much work in that."
And keep on as before.
But, should he act, then you can bet,
I'd stand as still I'd soon forget
What my old tails for."

TEN FEET OF PYTHON.

(Calcutta Statesman)

REWARDS ARE often out of keeping with deserts, as a little story from Lahore shows. Six villagers fishing in a canal disturbed a python which chased them until they turned and killed it.

Bearing the monster, 10 ft. in length and weighing a maund (so the report says) the six trudged nine miles to official headquarters and asked for a reward. Diligent searching of files brought to light the information that this would amount to Re. 1. "The villagers," we are told, "were disappointed," and sold "the serpent" to a police official for Rs. 2. A rupee does not seem to be over-payment for killing what was perhaps ranked as Public Enemy No. 1 in their village and carrying 10 ft. of it for nine miles.

Had they known of Falstaff they might have been moved to exclaim: "O monstrous! but one rupee to this intolerable deal of python!"

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

AND IT CAME to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. . . . And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.— Luke xi, 1, 2, 4.

And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, they said unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou? This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not. So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.—John viii, 3-11.

To the Editor

SALE OF WINE

Editor Examiner:

Sir: In your issue of October 22, there was an editorial on the above matter which read "Sales of wines are recorded but the business does not come under the same law of permits as the sale of liquor or beer from a warehouse."

Surely that is wrong. No permit is required for the purchase of beer or wine at government stores. Are not the wine shops subject to the same regulations and restrictions as to the sale of wine, as are government stores under the Liquor Control Act?

There are slight differences in the clerical system but the principle is indentical. In both cases the purchaser signs his name and his address and the nature and amount of the purchase; the latter two items are in the purchaser's writing at the government store. At the wine shop these two items are written out by the clerk and records of sale kept.

Yours truly,
"NOW AND THEN."

Ed. Note—The intent and purpose of the Examiner's comment was that a system is wrong which permits a man to purchase as much as 12 to 15 per cent. wine as he wants, and which also gives him the chance to telephone and have more delivered when he cannot go and carry it away. Editor Examiner.

A Bit of Nonsense

CLOSE RACE

Pat was engaged putting a water main into the workhouse. Saturday came, and the boss saw Pat dolefully examining his pay packet.

"Mistake in your wages?" he asked.

"Oh, no!" replied Pat, "but I was just wondering whether me or the water would be in the workhouse first."

CANNED FRUIT PLAYS BIG ROLE IN WORLD TRADE

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.— The bulk of the Canadian exports of canned fruit are consigned to the United Kingdom, states the Imperial Economic Committee. In recent years the proportion of the total Canadian exports of canned fruit to the United Kingdom has averaged over 95 per cent. and in 1936 it was 96 per cent. At the same time, Canada is normally an importer of canned fruits, mainly owing to the comparatively large quantities of canned pineapple imported. The only year in which Canadian exports of canned fruit exceeded imports was in 1934.

According to the preliminary estimate of the output of canned fruit in Canada in 1936, an increase of 17 per cent. was recorded as compared with 1935. The production of pears which accounted for nearly 635,000 cases, or about one-third of the total, easily reached a new high level, being nearly 40 per cent. larger than the previous year. The output of peaches, at 418,000 cases, declined slightly as compared with the exceptionally high figure of 1935 but it was very much greater than in any other year. The production of canned apples, after declining since 1932, showed a large increase to over 295,000 cases, but, with the exception of apricots and loganberries, the packs of most of the other principal varieties were smaller than in the previous year.

The production of canned vegetables in Canada reached a record level in 1936 and was 31 per cent. larger than in 1935. Tomatoes are the chief variety canned and in 1936 tomatoes and tomato products comprised 46 per cent. of the total output. The quantities of canned vegetables exported from Canada in 1936 reached the high total of 382,000 cwts., and were 7 per cent. larger than in 1935 and 2½ times larger than the average in the years 1930-34.

The United Kingdom is the most important market for the disposal of the supplies of canned fruit and fruit pulp which enter into international trade. The total weight of canned and bottled fruits, preserved with sugar, and of fruit and fruit pulp, preserved without sugar, imported into Great Britain in 1936 amounted to 234,300 tons.

Hallowe'en Party Held At Manvers

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MANVERS STATION, Nov. 1.—On Wednesday evening a jolly Hallowe'en party was held in the basement of the United Church, Manvers, under the auspices of the Women's Association.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing bingo, which everyone enjoyed. A small prize was given for each game and a larger prize given for the last game, which was won by Mrs. James Boggs. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing community games, led by Rev. F. W. Riding.

The ladies had provided lunch, which was then served consisting of sandwich, cake and pumpkin pie with whipped cream. As a result of a small charge the sum of seven dollars was added to the treasury.

STOCK TURNOVER REGISTERS GAINS IN MOST ISSUES

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—(CP)—Stocks were able to register substantial net gains through last week on the support of a succession of favorable developments, chief of which was the readjustment of margin requirements by the New York stock exchange. The Canadian gold list advanced six points in the Toronto index and the industrials and the miscellaneous mines two to three points net.

Easing down of the business tempo in the United States has again aroused speculation regarding the imminence of new stimulus from Washington and the inflation debate is on again, featuring the possibility of a new boost in the dollar price of gold.

New York started buying Canadian golds this week and local traders fell into line. Profit-taking caused some hesitancy in the Thursday and Friday sessions but the net gains are fairly important. Dome has an advance of $4 while Lake Shore is up more than a dollar and the secondary list, including Wright-Hargreaves, Teck Hughes, Bralorne, Little Long Lac and Macassa, shows net gains of 40 to 75 cents.

Base Metals Active

Leading base metals were traded in heavy volume, particularly International Nickel. London buying was reported in Nickel and on more than one day through the week the trade in Nickel alone on the Toronto market exceeded $500,000. The stock advanced $1 to $47.25. Smelters had the same gain while Hudson Bay added $2.25 and Noranda $1.25. Cheaper base metals scored moderate advances.

A two-point advance in the industrial share index represented general strength mainly in the steels, utilities, oils, distilleries and the foods. Walkers Common, Dominion Bridge, Steel of Canada, Canadian Car Common and Dominion Steel B advanced $1.50 to $1.75 each. Great Lakes Paper Common and Canadian Dredge added $2.25 and $2.50 each. National Steel Car moved up $4.50.

Royalite led the western oils with a pick up of $3.50 to $34.50, trading mainly in broken lots. The cheaper issues stepped along. Calgary-Edmonton adding 32 cents and Home, Okalta and Vulcan 10 to 15 cents each.

There's No Use Crying Over Spilt Milk

A true philosopher is this alley cat, who knows how to abide by the spirit of the old maxim. Larceny may have been in the soul of the mouse hound—who are we to point an accusing finger? But one of those fortuitous accidents (call it the hand of destiny) saved her from blotting her escutcheon with the stigma of "Stealer of babies' milk." The photos explain how it all came about. (1) The pussy is behaving in what the gendarmes call a highly suspicious manner here—kind of seeing if the coast is clear. (2) It is, so she decides that there's no harm in taking just one little sniff at the bottle anyway. (3) Oops! My goodness, how could that have happened? (4) It breaks my heart to watch all that nectar go to waste like that. (5) You couldn't call it stealing if I just lapped up a little before it soaks into the ground, could you? (6) Oh well, they'll probably blame me for it anyway, so I might just as well have what's left.

OMEMEE

The weekly meeting of The Y. P. U. of Trinity United Church was held Monday night. William Weir was in charge of the meeting. Mr. Edward Lowes vice-president of the society presided while business was discussed. The meeting was then given over to recreation amusing games and contests were enjoyed by the young people present. The meeting closed with Blest be the tie that bind.

Mr. J. MacTavish was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. H. McPhee recently.

MARMORA FRIENDS HONOR MRS DUNLAY ON 80TH BIRTHDAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 1.—The residence of Mrs. Cecelia Dunlay was the scene of gay festivity on the afternoon of Thursday, October 28, as her many friends came to offer her congratulations and felicitations on her eightieth birthday.

Mrs. Dunlay received her guests in her usual pleasing manner, and at a table decorated with yellow candles in silver candlesticks and centred with autumn flowers, all were served with tea, cakes and other delicacies.

The new acquaintance of Mrs. Dunlay is led to marvel that this delightful personality is now to be numbered with the octogenarians. She has such excellent health, attends to the daily tasks in her home with the interest and care that has marked all her days of housekeeping and her life is truly most active.

In the social life of Marmora, she still delights to take her place at card playing, and will dance with the youngest. Her step-dancing is much enjoyed at many social affairs. She is an excellent conversationalist, and memory stands her in good stead on those matters in which she is well informed. Mrs. Dunlay was born in Marmora Township, daughter of the late William Crawford and Catherine Goodwin, on the farm where Mrs. Dunlay's brother, Bert Crawford, now resides. In 1885 she was married to the late Daniel Dunlay, who passed away in 1902 at the early age of 49. The late Mr. Dunlay was one of the pioneer and prosperous business men of Marmora. The brick block on Forsythe Street, in which his sons carry on a general store business, and the fine brick residence in which the Dunlay family reside, stand as a memorial to his labors. He was also a member of Marmora Village Council for a number of years, and one scarcely hears even a section of the village history being retraced without mention of Dan Dunlay.

Mrs. Dunlay resides with her sons, Ed, and Harry, her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Deacon, and grand-daughter, Miss Rita Deacon. Her eldest son, Bert, lives in Duluth, Minn. That she may enjoy many more years of health and happiness is the united wish of her many friends and residents of all classes.

Death In Jail Puts End To Romance Of Two London Chicken Thieves

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 1.—(CP).—Death has intervened to shatter Eleanor Singleton's hope that jail terms she and Norman Cushman were serving would end at the same time so they could meet one another again as soon as they were at liberty.

Serving two years in Kingston Penitentiary on a chicken-stealing charge, Cushman died in the prison hospital, London police officials have been informed. Miss Singleton and Cushman were members of a trio arrested in London in December, 1936, and sent to jail for theft.

Before she was sentenced, court officials said, Miss Singleton expressed the wish she would receive the same term as Cushman, so they could be freed at the same time.

ONTARIO BACON WINS IN LONDON

Ontario hog-raisers stepped into the limelight at the Empire Dairy Show just held in London, England, when Ontario bacon stole the show with first and second prizes for the best bacon exhibited. This is a real triumph for Canadian bacon for the United Kingdom is the most critical bacon market in the world, as well as the Empire's biggest consumer.

For years the Canadian hog raisers and packers have been knocking on the door but could not oust Danish bacon. And flavor was the stumbling block.

Now in Ontario we are raising Wiltshire hogs, which produce the type of bacon the Englishman insists upon.

The winning bacon exhibits were from barley-fed Wiltshire hogs raised in the famous bacon hog country around Kitchener, and cured by Dumarts, Limited, Kitchener, by their dry box sugar cure.

CHARLES RENAUD TO DIRECT CHOIR

Appointment of Charles Renaud as director of the Peterborough Male Voice Choir is announced by the executive in succession to Victor Boorman who was compelled by the pressure of business to give up the leadership. Mr. Boorman found it impossible to give the choir the necessary time and attention, and his retirement was accepted with regret and a vote of appreciation of his valuable service.

Mr. Renaud has made a name for himself as leader of the choir of Norwood United church, and also in his success with the Lakefield High School Glee Club. He has also made a name for himself in choral work in the rural schools under his supervision, and his local concerts in the Collegiate Institute and at Knox Church have created a very favorable impression.

Mr. Renaud feels confident that there is a definite place for an organization like the Male Voice Choir in Peterborough, and has accepted the position of conductor in the hope of attaining a higher level of proficiency than ever. The choir is planning to make some distinctive contribution to the new musical season in this city.

The members of the choir and prospective new members are invited to attend the opening practice under the new leader Tuesday evening, November 2, at 8 p.m., in the Y.M.C.A.

The organization consists of the following officers: Hon. president, J. J. Turner; hon. vice presidents, W. G. Morrow, R. E. Cutting, H. A. Morrow, Dr. F. C. Neal, Hon. G. Nimmons, 486 Driscoll Terrace, was winner of a suit as first prize in a draw at V. A. Selkirk's Men's Shop. Second prize was a gentleman's wrist watch won by Joseph Corkery, R.R. No. 8, Peterborough.

CROW IS MISSING.

The pet crow which has been seen in numerous parts of the city, failed to come home to-day, and the owners fear some person is holding the bird. They declare that if he is left alone he will return home.

WATER IS HIGH.

Week-end visitors to Stoney Lake report that the water in the lake is unusually high at the present time—so high indeed that one cottager who visited his summer place to close it for the winted found that two canoe wharves had floated away—gone with the wind.

CHIEF ISSUES WARNING.

Following a Fire Department run to 154 Lock Street, where residents had started a bonfire without permission this morning, Fire Chief George Gimblett issued a public warning that no fire may be started within the city limits without his permission or the permission of the officer on duty at the Fire Hall.

FEWER BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

Fewer births, marriages and deaths last month were recorded at the City Hall, as compared with October, 1936. The vital statistics for the month a year ago were: Births 63, marriages 30, and deaths 53; and for the last month: Births 47, marriages 22, deaths 35. The number of deaths showed a decline of 18, and the number of births was down 16.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL.

LITTLE LANDMARK GOES.

The small house which for years has stood beside the Charlotte Street crossing of the C.N.R., and which was used to house the man who operated the crossing gates, is being removed. The little building was up on jacks this morning and a large truck was drawn up nearby. The wig-wag system has caused the change. Similar houses at Sherbrooke, Simcoe, Hunter, and Brock Streets have already disappeared, sold for personal use and removed from the active service at the railway crossings on central main streets. The only one remaining is at King Street, sheltering the relays of operators of the wig-wag signalling system.

MAMMOTH MANN TURNIP

A little orchid for Garbutt Mann's turnip. And why not? This is no ordinary run of mine or garden turnip. It tips the beam at 17 pounds 6½ ounces, as anyone can see up in Bell's garage at Bridgenorth. And it bears Mr. Mann's name, neatly carved into the rind. Some of the Bridgenorth friends of Mr. Mann, whose interest is under slight suspicion, intimate that the mammoth Mann turnip is worth a special trip up to Chemong. Of course Mr. Bell isn't in the turnip or fall fair business, but as a special concession to the township assessor, whose goodwill is not to be flouted, he has allotted a large area of his garage to the phenomenal product of Garbutt Mann's acres. With a few dozen of these gargantuan turnips he wouldn't have to worry much about winter fodder for his cattle. At any rate Mr. Mann is in line with the modern spirit of bigger and better than ever even if he has so far confined his talent to field turnips.

LICENSES SELLING WELL.

Twenty-two head of good-looking Western horses arrived in town this morning from the Saskatchewan drought area and attracted much attention as they were led up Water street to the market square to be weighed. The horses were brought east by M. Deyell, who lives near Fowler's Corners.

WANTON DAMAGE.

Although Halloween pranksters did not set up a new record from the viewpoint of damage done, they did leave some evidences of a spirit of wanton disregard for the property of other people. The iron fences protecting the lawn of Dr. A. W. McPherson and of St. Paul's church on the other side of the street were torn down and damaged on Saturday night.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Returning to the city from Toronto on Saturday night, Aaron Botnick who has given up business here and is opening a store in the Queen City, had a very narrow escape from serious injury when his car got out of control three miles from Peterborough and turned over several times. Mr. Botnick, who was alone was badly shaken up but otherwise escaped uninjured. The top of the car was extensively damaged.

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT"

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject for the Lesson-Sermon for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday. The Golden Text was, "Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of thy law." (Psalms 94:12.) Selections from the Bible included the following from I Thessalonians 5: 5, 8, "Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night nor of darkness...But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love and for an helmet, the hope of salvation." Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook included the following: "Salvation Life, Truth, and Love understood and demonstrated as supreme over all; sin, sickness, and death destroyed."

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church choir provided the special music at the 104th anniversary services of Centreville Presbyterian Church on Sunday. In the morning Miss Orma Lacheur was soloist; in the evening fifteen members of the bass and tenor sections provided the selections. Opening the service with "St. George's, Edinburgh," the choir also rendered "When We Stand Before the King" and "The Comforter," with George Coleman, Jr., soloist; and "The Old Rugged Cross" by Mr. Coleman. Mrs. Adam Sands was accompanist at both services for the special music.

MARMORA QUARRY WORKER INJURED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 1.—George Villneff of Marmora Township met with a serious accident at the rock quarry at Harold on Friday, being struck by a large rock which fell from a height of forty feet. He was rushed to Belleville General Hospital, where it was ascertained that he had sustained fractures to two bones of the spinal column.

He was placed in a plaster cast and later removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Lytle of Springbrook. He will remain in the cast until February. His many friends hope for a good recovery.

The Rambling REPORTERS

WENT OUT AND IN.

A Lakefield miss is going to pay more attention to what doors she walks through after this.

The other day she went into the Metropolitan store and approached the jewellery counter in search of an imitation pearl brooch. The girl showed her one for 30 cents.

"I don't think I'll take that," the young lady told the clerk. "I can get the same thing for 15 cents in Woolworth's next door."

She preceded out the south door of the Metropolitan and, walking a few steps north, entered what she though was oWolworth's. Going to the jewellery counter, she found exactly the same pearl brooches she had been looking at in the Metropolitan. She looked up at the price card on the counter and was surprised to see the price was the same as in the Metropolitan, 30 cents. She raised her eyes higher and her worst suspicions were confirmed—it was the same clerk. She had gone out the south door of the Mtropolitan and in its north door.—C.P.K.

TO DEMONSTRATE ELECTRIC ORGAN

Demonstration of a Northern Hammond electric organ by W. Edwards of the Heintzman Company, Toronto, will be an interesting novelty feature of the concert by the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra under the direction of W. H. Prevey in the Collegiate Institute auditorium next Friday evening.

The program announced by Mr. Prevey is as follows:— The overture to Oberon by Von Weber; the Coriolanus overture by Beethoven; Funeral March of a Mariopette by Gounod; Andante Cantabile for string quintette by Tschaikowsky; selection from "Sweethearts" by Victor Herbert; and "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar.

Miss Marion Best, harpist, has joined the orchestra which is composed of about thirty instruments, and William McMullen of this city will play the new organ with the orchestra adding flute, oboe or other instrument it lacks, in some of the numbers. The orchestra deserves the support of all Peterborough's music lovers, and the present advance sale of tickets promises a large audience for the first concert of the season.

The new electric organ will be fully explained by Mr. Edwards who will demonstrate its scope and also the numerous qualities that are winning for it an expanding place in theatres, churches and homes.

FARMER'S SHEEP KILLED BY DOGS

Edward Dickson of Zion, well-known locally as proprietor of Beaver Meadow golf course has reported to provincial police the killing by dogs of three sheep and a lamb which he had pastured on the golf course property. Last spring, Mr. Dickson suffered a heavier loss when nineteen sheep from his flock were so badly mauled by dogs that they either died or had to be destroyed.

Provincial Constable David Silvester who is investigating declares he has suspicions as to whose dog has been running at large and if he can obtain proof he states the intention of pressing a prosecution. He did not believe a wolf reported caught in the district had anything to do with the sheep worrying, because it was shot and killed prior to Mr. Dickson's latest loss.

PORT HOPE FIRES BLAMED ON BOYS HALLOWE'EN PRANK

PORT HOPE Nov. 1.—Loss from Hallowe'en depredations in Port Hope Saturday night reached a substantial figure as a result of two fires, believed to have been set by pranksters.

Two barns were totally destroyed, while a third blaze burned itself out before causing any damage to property.

"There's no doubt," Chief Thomas Murphy said last night, "that the fires were started by irresponsible and destructive boys."

At 10.30 a.m. Saturday, fire completely razed an unoccupied barn formerly used by the late John Goldstein on the outskirts of the town. It was beyond control when firemen arrived.

Half an hour later, a second alarm was received for a fire which had broken out in a large frame structure 400 yards away, and beyond water supply. It was totally destroyed as well as a crop of hay and straw. The property was owned by John Mulvey.

Three hundred yards to the north, long grass near a barn owned by Captain Charles Bygate was ignited, but burned itself out before property loss was caused.

ANNIVERSARY HELD BY BROTHERHOOD

Bringing messages of deep spiritual significance, Rev. A. E. Moorhouse of Victoria United Church, Godefich, and former pastor of St. James' United Church, here, was guest speaker for the anniversary services of the Brotherhood on Sunday.

This men's class of which Rev. Mr. Moorhouse was the teacher during his six-year pastorate, had charge of the services throughout the day, with a fine men's choir in the evening, directed by the organist C. Lapp.

Addressing the large congregation at both services, and the Brotherhood in the afternoon, Mr. Moorhouse gave pertinent and inspiring challenges to enlist in the Christian life.

In the evening, the text was chosen from John 2.23-25, dealing particularly with the words "He knew what was in man."

"On this first visit to Jerusalem," said the speaker, "Jesus had a considerable effect upon the popular mind. Many believed because they saw His miracles and were willing to follow Him, yet misunderstood His Kingdom and would ultimately have been disappointed."

Continuing in the words of the text, Mr. Moorhouse said "But Jesus did not commit Himself unto them, because He knew all men."

With this background, the minister built up a timely emphasis upon his theme, showing that faith can never be one-sided. "He knew all men"—well does He know human nature—better than we know ourselves.

In this day of great opportunity in the West and in mission fields, can He trust us with the work there is to do? We must consider not only whether we have faith in Christ but whether He has faith in us.

God knows and understands each one of us and is willing to help us at all times. He has a plan for every life and a place in which He can use us. The Christian life offers more joy than any other occupation and in such fellowship we find the best of life.

Closing with an apeal that each life should be put in God's hands, with the result that each would be rich "in true riches," Rev. Mr. Moorhouse concluded another anniversary occasion for St. James' Brotherhood, which was marked by outstanding inspirational messages.

Collegiate Football Teams Break Even In Oshawa Twin, Seniors Win By 7-2 Count

Bamforth Crew Clinch Group Title While P.C.I. Juniors Are Out Of Running

OSHAWA, Nov. 1. — Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational Institute and the Peterborough students broke even in their gridiron double-header here on Saturday, not exactly even, the Seniors losing to the visiting Petes 7 to 2 and the Oshawa Junior squad chalking up a victory by a 7-3 score.

Coach Bamforth's highly-rated P.C.I. team ran into their toughest game of the season to date and for the first time in three schedule games, were unable to score a shut-out over the opposition. As it was, only a combination of tough breaks and errors in judgment prevented Coach Chilcott's Oshawa team from chalking up a victory and creating a tie in the group standing.

A fickle wind that alternated between a steady downfield breeze and gusts of gale made orthodox football paramount for the day. Despite the bad wind, both teams refused to be caught napping and the game was tightly played throughout.

Takes Early Lead.

Peterborough took the lead early in the senior game, in fact scored all their seven points in the first quarter, the only portion of the game in which they actually outplayed the red, green and gold clad crew.

Peterborough elected to play with the wind at their backs in the first quarter and Oshawa kicked off deep into Peterborough territory. The garnet and grey team moved steadily down the field and finally after about eight minutes of play, Curtin booted the ball out of touch, behind the Oshawa line to open the scoring.

Oshawa fought back from their 25-yard line, and for a while held their own by dint of sturdy line work on the parts of Gray and Daniels and Patterson. A fumbled ball in line play gave Peterborough possession, and they kept Oshawa hemmed in their own territory.

Peterborough pushed Oshawa back steadily and finally, when in position in front of the posts, on the 25-yard line, Diplock took the ball on a fake kick, which saw the O.C.V.I. team almost all drawn out of position and Diplock went around his right end for a touchdown, which was converted by Thornton, to make it 7-0.

Oshawa Tries Hard.

In the second quarter Oshawa tried hard to break into the scoring column, but couldn't quite make it. It was in this quarter that Peterborough team showed their real strength, for even without the services of their ace, Kelly, they still held the battling Oshawans at bay.

In the third quarter, Oshawa again had the wind at their backs and they fought back down the field. McDonald broke the goose egg when he lifted a punt down the field and the ball took a long bounce and rolled past the Peterborough safety man, over the line and out of touch for a single point.

Lusty tackling and heavy plunges, with Hall and Curtin featuring for the visitors and Daniels doing well for Oshawa, featured the next few minutes. Oshawa got another single point and then came back down the field again. They were within scoring distance twice in a row. Once a forward pass on the third down proved a failure, and on the other occasion the Peterborough line held and Quarterback McDonald kicked deep for a single point. There was no more scoring.

In the last quarter, the Peterborough team took advantage of the wind and pushed Oshawa back steadily. The final whistle saw the P.C.I. team just preparing to attempt a field goal at the Oshawa 30-yard line.

Diplock, Thornton and Hall were the best for Peterborough. Curtin spoiled his good work by getting into trouble with the official. Al. Clark played only in the first quarter, and Kelly didn't see action.

For Oshawa, Daniels, Gray, Shestowski, and Evans were to the fore, while McDonald's kicking was better than either Curtain or Leether could do for the visitors.

Stage Gallant Finish.

The junior game saw Oshawa students come from behind in the last quarter with a gallant drive that brought them victory.

Oshawa kicked off against the wind and when they gained possession, Moynes ducked twice in succession for about 25 yards, but Scriver returned a great kick to wipe out his advantage.

Oshawa committed a costly fumble but McBrien made a great play when he kicked and recovered the ball himself.

Peterborough scored first when a bad kick forced McBrien to go behind his own line and he was dropped for a safety touch.

Oshawa tried to take advantage of the wind in the second quarter. McBrien featured Oshawa's play with a 30 yard run and attempted placement, which just missed. Oshawa kicked for a single point in this quarter to make the score 2-1 at half time.

With the wind behind them, Peterborough scored only one point in the third quarter, despite some great kicking by their punting ace, Scriver, who got the point when Oshawa fumbled and he kicked to the deadline. Peterborough worked deep into Oshawa territory but the O.C.V.I. boys blocked a dangerous kick to relieve the danger.

In the last quarter, Morris and Elliott advanced the ball on successive bucks to Peterborough's 15 yard line. Senecko then plunged for nine yards and with five yards to go, Morris carried the ball over for an Oshawa touchdown, which was not converted.

McBrien returned a Peterborough kick for a big gain and then Senecko snared a visitors' pass to give Oshawa possession.

McBrien ran a return kick back to Peterborough's 3 yard line. Oshawa fumbled to lose possession but McBrien returned the kick for the last point of the game, making it 7-3.

McBrien, with his great playing, both in kicking and running back Scriver's long hoists starred for the O.C.V.I. juniors, while the work of Elliott, Morris, Holland, Moynes also stood out, along with Senecko's nice handling.

Douglas Scott, Ainslie, the Gillespie brothers and Scriver were the best for the Peterborough team.

The Teams:—

Peterborough Seniors — Snap, Johnston; insides, Turner and Ascott; middles, Curtin and Hall; outsides, Creighton and Duncan; flying wing, Ward; quarterback, Leather; halves, Diplock, Thornton and A. Clark; subs, Parnell, Csumrik, Northcott, Turner.

Mustangs Fail To Get Foot ball Victory At Toronto

Before a capacity crowd of 20,000 enthusiastic football fans, the University of Toronto squad played inspired football to gain 7-3 victory over the hitherto unbeaten Western Mustangs and also go into a tie for the intercollegiate leadership. In the second quarter the boys under Coach Warren Stevens really went to town and two line plunges by Mumford netted them a major score. Western have not won a game in Toronto since 1931 and Saturday's game was no exception. The action photo ABOVE shows the ball in the air with several players from both teams trying vainly to clutch it in their arms.

WAR ADMIRAL WINS HANDICAP HONORS

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 1.—(AP). — War Admiral, Samuel D. Riddle's little brown colt, raced to his seventh straight triumph Saturday to win the 1¼ mile Washington Handicap and become the big money winner of the year.

His victory, by a length and a half over Heelfly in the fast time of 2:04 4-5, was worth $16,250 to the Admiral, bringing his earnings for the year to $160,820, and shoving him ahead of C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit in money-earning ranks.

The prosect of a duel between War Admiral and Seabiscuit, the handicap champion of the season, vanished when Seabiscuit was scratched early Saturday.

Easily the best of the 3-year-olds, War Admiral was asked to battle some of the "grown-up" stars for the first time, but he was out front all the way and ran them all into the Maryland dirt. Only T. P. Morgan's Heelfly was able to make any sort of a challenge down the stretch. None of the older horses among his six rivals threatened.

Burning Star finished 2½ lengths beind Heelfly, with W. M. Jefford's Firethorn another length back. Anercid, Chanceview and Calumet Dick brought up the rear in that order.

The winner paid his backers $3.30, $2.60 and $2.40; Heelfly returned $3.70 to place and $3.10 to show. A show ticket on Burning Star was worth $3.20.

Heelfly won $2,000, with $1,000 going to Burning Star and $750 to Firethorn.

CHATHAM DEVILS TIED

CHATHAM, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Held to a 1-1 tie by St. Thomas Lions here Saturday, Chatham Red Devils, Ontario Rugby Football Union club saw their last mathematical chance to gain a playoff berth vanish.

Clibborn's kick to the deadline midway through the first quarter gave Lions their point. A rouge early in the fourth quarter with Reg Horne and Bert Bassett downing Clibborn accounted for the Chatham point.

The game ended in a storm of protest when Referee Tim Clark of St. Thomas failed to call the last play of the game. Lorne Goddard of Red Devils intimated he would protest.

Maroons' Tryout

BOBBY PORTER

By all reports, Bobby Porter believes in having a pastime for the summer as well as the winter. During the bright days of the year he plays baseball for Toronto Maple Leafs, and now he is going to try out with the Montreal Maroons hockey team. He received an invitation from Manager Tommy Gorman to try out with the Montreal team, and was quick to take advantage of it. His hockey to date has been of the defensive variety.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

AND IT came about that on a cold Saturday afternoon in the park by the side of the river in our fair city, the Bombers of Lindsay were bombed rather severely by the Orfuns of Peter's borough. To the tune of 15-1, if you must have statistics. The win was the fourth in a row for the local footballers and gives 'em undoubted possession of top place in their O.R.F.U. intermediate grouping. They will now prance into the "A" playdowns against Trenton Fliers. First game will be next Saturday, likely at the airport. We dunno how the Orfuns will do from now on, but they deserve a lot of credit for mopping up down this way. Especially against the strong Cobourg threat, ye Galloping Ghosts now entering "B" playdowns against Kingston. Congrats to Coach Bill Turnbull, his players and, of course, the officers.

* * * * * *

IT WAS just a so-so game Saturday, since both sides fumbled a flock of chances and the football was nothing to drop a card home about. Lindsay battled gamely but didn't click up to top form, looking bad when receiving kicks as they dropped 'em too often. And the Orfuns showed the result of their layoff of two weeks by messing up some plays and having more thumbs than fingers when the ball came their way quite a bit. Several times, a double fumble—one for each squad—was seen on one play. The Petes outkicked their rivals and really earned the win by from two to three touchdowns, but they were below form, too. Maybe it was the lousy weather, which held down the fan attendance plenty.

* * * * * *

BUT THERE were some nice spots of rugby interspersed. Some of those gallops by Wakelin and Campbell for Lindsay, and Loucks and Kearns for Orfuns deserved applause. Kearns played a whale of a game for the winners, the redhead having a grand time ripping the rival line to smithereens—though he did fumble a few, also. And Loucks, the feather-footed backfielder who hails originally from up Lindsay way, picked 'em up and set 'em down like a nigger navigating a graveyard at midnight. He really flew over the terrain at times. Crowe's kicking, the heady work of Archibald, and Hendren's snapping and tackling rate a mention, too. Begley went well against his old buddies, and the rest tried hard.

* * * * * *

TOO BAD it had to rain just before game time. The crowd might have been bigger and the treasurer's brow less furrowed. One officer said to us: "This is why we can't run a senior O.R.F.U. team here for a few years yet. We're not getting the crowds we should, and the players—even with some good imports—aren't ready to step up yet." Secretary Bailey of the O.R.F.U. was at the game, no doubt checking up on the possibility of Peterborough as a senior team. He had no comment on the matter. Neither team Saturday looked so hot but the Orfuns easily outshone the Bombed Ones and should have won by a larger tally. Without seeing the Fliers in action, we will bet a piece of eight that the locals will give the Airmen a pretty rough passage—if they don't ground 'em!

* * * * * *

TORONTO EASTSIDES surprised the Ghosts in Cobourg by copping a 12-7 verdict on Saturday to wind up the O.R.F.U. schedule. Meikle got two placements for the losers but it was a blocked kick that gave Toronto the only touchdown of the tussle. The game was in the nature of an exhibition tilt, since it did not affect the standing. Cobourg plays Kingston Garrisons next weekend in "B" playdowns, while the Eastsides draw a bye into playdowns—probably the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" finals—and may yet meet Peterborough, if the locals can knock off Trenton Fliers. It must have been some sort of screwy arrangement that gave Eastsides this bye all year and had 'em filling in on the Lakeshore group schedule. It would have been okay except that squads and fans were not so informed till near the end of the schedule. Seems to have been some low trickery somewhere.

* * * * * *

OUR P.C.I. teams won and lost in Oshawa in C.O.S.S.A. struggles on Saturday. Coach Bamforth's boys took a 7-2 verdict, playing without the services of Kelly, G. Clark and with Al Clark only showing in the first heat. Diplock got a touchdown as P.C.I. cleaned up in the first quarter and then held their scrappy rivals the rest of the way in a tight tilt on a gale-swept gridiron. Hall, Thornton and Diplock were outstanding for the winners, the local kickers not showing a great deal. It was the third straight win for the senior Garnet and Gray gang and gives 'em group honors once more. They end the schedule here next Saturday against the Bowmanville band.

* * * * * *

COACH JACKSON'S Junior P.C.I.-ers absorbed a 7-3 setback in the Motor City and lost all chance of winning their group this season. They did okay for a light, inexperienced crew—especially in knocking off Lindsay a week ago, the Scugog squad being boosted as unbeatable. In Oshawa, the locals faded in the fourth frame and the homesters pushed over a major count to stick it in the gunny sack. Scriver outbooted the Oshawa punter but he couldn't carry the load himself. He, Douglas, Ainslie, Scott and the two Gillespies were the pick of the Peterborough players. This outfit also entertains Bowmanville here next Saturday and then finishes up in Lindsay a week later.

O. H. A. HAD a closed executive committee meeting in Toronto the other day to deal with general business, accept club entries and pass on a bunch of players' applications for transfers. Speedy St. Louis and Cy Barriage of Belleville were permitted to move to Thorold, while Ross Kipfel and Bill Taylor of Toronto are okay to play junior in Oshawa. We don't know of any other affecting Central Ontario, but there'll be plenty within the next few weeks. Joe Catlin of Kingston has gone to Hershey instead of California, while Artie Partis will likely remain in the Limestone City this winter and play junior again. Several local puck transfer applications have been made but not dealt with yet.

DESE, DEM and dose: Local Hockey Club holds its annual meeting this Wednesday e'en at eight in the Chamber of Commerce; everyone welcome . . . . The Argos-Ottawa grid tilt was a flop as a grudge battle no rough stuff being pulled . . . . Pro ramblin' program for here next Friday night will be published tomorrow . . . . Orfuns have won four in four starts, Cobourg three in six, Toronto two in four and Lindsay one in six . . . . Curtin is inclined to rough it too much for P.C.I. seniors and it costs the team yardage . . . . Church Cage Loop schedule may be lined up this week . . . . Gee Clark wasn't used Saturday in Oshawa as his ankle is still a bit weak . . . . And where the muddy Scugog meanders on its way—a husky bunch of gridders haven't much to say.

JOHNSON TO HEAD MORENZ VISITORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (CP)—Tuesday's all-star memorial game for Howie Morenz at Montreal held the interest of New York's hockey fandom today.

For several weeks admirers of the brilliant Canadien centre, who died suddenly last winter, have been purchasing programs here dedicated to Morenz and tonight a representative delegation of sportsmen leaves for the scene of the star's greatest ice exploits. The group will be headed by Ching Johnson, former New York Ranger defenceman, now listed among the unemployed.

Johnson's presence will combine a tribute to 'The hardest forward to stop I ever encountered in the league" and probable farewell to the National Hockey League.

With Eddie Shore, Boston rearguard, Johnson was thrice teamed in The Canadian Press all-star poll, a feat no other pair of blockers have accomplished.

After returning from Montreal the Winnipeg veteran plans going to Stratford, Ont., to condition himself then travel west to Minneapolis where he will likely accept a player-coaching job which has been offered him.

Making Comeback

Probably one of the greatest fighters in his class in Canada several years ago, Billy Townsend, of Vancouver, is now on the come-back trail. He has been signed to meet Sammy Luftspring of Toronto in a 10-round bout in Sammy's home town. Billy was also considered as a possible successor to Jimmy McLarnin at one time.

Badminton

R. O. BENSON

MISS DOROTHY SHERIN, secretary of the local Y.W.C.A., tells us that the girls are really taking badminton to heart this year. Each group has its own nights and there are some who play during the afternoons. They do not engage in scheduled tournaments with other clubs through the year, but play friendly games among themselves, and all groups compete in a big championship playoff at the end of the season. An annual banquet is then held at which the various winners are presented with prizes. Sounds all right too.

UP AT THE MEN'S Y, some of the husky lads are also going in for the sport, although the number of players is not large as yet. So far only Roy Tranter and Nels Stanger are keenly interested, but they have been occasionally joined by Cliff Cadd, Bill Taylor and a few others. It is expected that more will come in as the season rolls on. Playing times are whenever the floor can be reserved.

"WE JUST GO down on Tuesday nights and bang the birds around," is the way A. Shearer modestly described the activities of the Collegiate Teachers' Club. It seems about twenty of these purveyors of learning comprise the group and they play just for the fun of it, which was probably the best attitude to adopt anyway. Mr. Shearer added simply, "Whenever we get really good, we join an honest-to-goodness club"—as witness the cases of Messrs. H. A. Toole and D. Ross.

MISS DOROTHY BRISBIN, who is in charge of girls' athletics in the school, has also taken under her wing a group of young badmintoneers, pupils of the Collegiate, who report for instruction and play on Saturday afternoons. Possibly Coach Bamforth could work up some enthusiasm along this line among his "galloping gossoons of the gridiron." Perchance they could use that speed afoot and those clever, smooth plays to advantage.

THOSE HALLOWE'EN spooks even invaded the Market Hall on Saturday night, obviously with the intention of scaring opponents into defeat. But the other members weren't fooled at all, for when the volunteer fireman's hat and wax teeth were removed, it turned out to be none other than attractive Louise Hall, who had caught the spirit of the occasion. Assuming conventioned badminton costume, she soon took her place on the floor, displaying noteworthy prowess. She teamed up with Jean Howson, another strong player who shows considerable possibility as a singles prospect. But they proved scarcely a match for Johnny Murphy who manned the entire other court. The latter looks very good at times, packing plenty of power in his shots. On the near court, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Halt looked like a clever combination as they plited their efforts against Betsy Scott and L. Dickieson. The work of the more mature players seems almost always to be characterized by a steadiness and easy change of pace which is interesting to watch. But Miss Scott has an effortless style and grace which stamp her as one whose game will bear watching. Alicia Langley is another young lady who belongs in this classification. Farther down the line, Walter Perks and Don Ross were engaging in some good rallies, aided and abetted by Jean Ackerman and Bill Scott, two of the younger members who are bound to show even more improvement rapidly. Miss Lenore Lyle and Mrs. Jopling, two others already seen in action, turn in a mighty pretty performance. Miss Lyle is undoubtedly one of the best women players in the city and she looks as good as ever this term. By the way: A club is being started at St. Andrew's. It appears Herb Hawley is the man at the helm. Adieu, kind friends.

SARNIA WANDERERS WIN

SARNIA, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Unable to keep up with the brisk pace they set in the first half of their Intermediate Ontario Rugby Football Union game here Saturday, Stratford Indians slumped in the second half and lost to Sarnia Wanderers, 17 to 3.

UNBEATEN RANKS SLASHED IN HALF IN U.S. FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Pace-setting survivors of United States college football's dizziest October campaign since the classic boom days, looked forward today to the stretch drive with their fingers crossed.

On the basis of Saturday's series of form reversals it now seems merely a question of where the lightning will strike next.

Vanderbilt and Minnesota were the only beaten members of last week's nationally ranked "first 10" but two others, Dartmouth and Yale, fought to a thrilling 9-9 deadlock before the day's biggest crowd of 72,000 at New Haven and the ranks of the previously unbeaten major teams virtually were cut in half.

The far west emerged with the bulk of remaining membership in the unbeaten class, paced by California's Golden Bears, the nation's No. 1 team. California's seventh straight victory, by 27-14 over University of California at Los Angeles not only left the Bears unchallenged in the Pacific coast conference leadership but moved them another notch toward their Rose Bowl objective. They now have three more conference hurdles to clear, including the annual "big game" with Stanford on Nov. 20.

Upset In The South

Villanova struck a sturdy blow for the east by downing the previously unbeaten-untied Detroit University powerhouse 7-0, but this was not so startling to the experts as Notre Dame's achievement in outpointing mighty Minnesota, 7-6.

Signs With Leafs

Due to his splendid showing with Winnipeg Monarchs when they met Copper Cliff Redmen for the Memorial cup in Toronto last spring, Pete Langelle, of the Manitoba team, has been signed to a Toronto Maple Leaf contract. He is an extremely clever playmaker and his razzle-dazzle shift that had hitherto never been seen or heard of, caught the eye of Conny Smythe and other Maple Leaf hockey club talent peekers. Pete, who is seen here in a Leaf uniform, will probably be sent to Syracuse, Leafs' farm team, this winter for seasoning.

Orfuns Bomb Bombers To Get Playoff Post In Intermediate Race

Local Gridders Take 15-1 Win Over Lindsay Here For Fourth Straight

Orfus clinched O.R.F.U. intermediate group honors here Saturday with their fourth victory in as many starts, knocking off the Blue Bombers of Lindsay by a 15-1 score before 300 shivering fans. Rain just before game time and a cold north wind kept down the attendance. The inclement weather also caused frequent fumbles on both sides in the game.

The locals looked considerably better than their rivals for the most part, but neither team showed its best form. Crowe consistently outkicked Kirley and Wilson, and the local line—though shaky at times—proved stronger on the whole than the Scugog shock troops. The home tackling was also more effective. Orfuns had a 7-0 lead in the first frame and an 8-1 margin at halftime. Neither side scored in the third but Orfuns got another major count in the fourth and two singles.

Lindsay had more fumbles than the winners, and dropped a number of kicks to give the Turnbull team a decided advantage. Several times, the visitors put on a drive that moved the yardsticks a few times before they were stopped. It was only a fair exhibition of rugby but had some highlights sprinkled throughout, especially runs by Wakelin, Loucks and Kearns.

Wakelin Goes Good

Wakelin and Campbell played outstanding games for the losers, with Kirley and Groselle also effective in spots. The whole team tried hard and went down fighting, but they were outclassed. For the victors, Loucks and Kearns turned in four-star performances, with Crowe, Hendren, Archibald and Begley also quite effective over most of the route. The rest showed up well, too, considering the type of game it was and the Orfuns' layoff of two weeks. Straight rugby predominated but frequent attempts were made to open it up—many forward passes being incomplete.

Early in the first heat, Loucks skirted end for 20 yards to midfield. A Kearns-Pulkinghorn extension netted eight but they were later penalized and had to boot. Lindsay fumbled and Grouse fell on the pigskin two yards out. Begley then buckling over for a try, which was then converted on a forward pass from Loucks to Crowe. Play ranged up and down with plenty of miscues and a couple of blocked kicks. Crowe booted to deadline near the finish from the 40-yard chalk.

Loucks Gets 20

On a short Lindsay kick, Loucks ran it back 20 yards to their 26-yard strip from where Crowe kicked to deadline. Campbell got yards on an end run and on their kick later, Orfuns were penalized to let the Bombers hold possession on the home 45-yard mark. The locals blocked a boot and recovered but later had to kick. Campbell ripped off 12 yards on an end run, and then Wakelin and Wilson helped move the sticks on bucks. A forward failed and they lost on downs. Orfuns drove up a piece but had to kick. On Loucks' boot, Lamb drilled the ball after it was partly blocked to the Orfuns' 2-yard mark but the locals got it. The Petes kicked short and on Lindsay's boot, Kirley rouged Loucks. Just before the rest period, Kearns ripped through centre for 20.

Kearns started the third quarter with a 20-yard dash through the line to midfield. On a short kick, Lindsay fumbled and Orfuns got it on the visitors' 45-yard strip. Forward passes failed, and they lost it. Play shifted up and down all the way with neither side scoring. Wakelin got eight around end and later Begley bucked for seven. There were frequent fumbles and both sides looked wobbly in this stanza. Wakelin got around end once for 15 yards but Gerow later pounced on a Lindsay fumble. Crowe couldn't get a forward heave away so he gained 10 around end.

Petes Get Another

The final frame opened with the ball deep in Lindsay territory and Kearns tore around end for a touchdown standing up. An attempted convert by a kick failed. Kearns race back a kick 25 yards to draw applause. Both sides tried forwards but they missed fire. Archibald picked up Campbell's fumble on a kick on Lindsays 36-yard line. Crowe kicked to deadline for a point. The locals drove up the gridiron again aided once by a Crowe-Archibald completed forward heave for 10, the latter running 15 more. Kearns got through for a try but it was called back for an offside and Loucks kicked it over, with E. Spencely rouging Dunk. Campbell skirted end for 15 yards and they moved the sticks again on bucks, but Hendren's fine tackling stopped them. Marsh blocked a boot and recovered it. Lindsay got one forward away and kept fighting up the field, but later on a kick Loucks tore back for 50 yards just before the final whistle.

TAKES SCHOOL HONORS

NORTH BAY, Nov. 1— (CP)—Scollard Hall brought the Poupore Cup, emblematic of the Northern Ontario interscholastic rugby championship, back to North Bay Saturday when the blanked highly touted Timmins High and Vocational School 2-0 in a sudden-death final here.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

Forty-year-old Jack Britton, oldest man to hold a world's boxing championship, lost his welterweight crown to Mickey Walker after 15 rounds at New York 15 years ago tonight. Britton, who started his ring career 20 years previously—when Walker was only a year old—averted a knockout with a masterly defence. He quit the ring in 1929.

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP)—Until playoff time rolls around there doesn't appear to be anybody in sight capable of disputing Toronto Argonauts' right to No. 1 ranking among the east's football teams. That conclusion has been evident from the season's opening but it was fairly definite today.

The section's only undefeated-untied squad, Argos, won a Big Four playoff berth by beating Ottawa 11-7 for their fourth straight win on Saturday. They did this without Harry Sonshine, star secondary defenceman, and Bob Isbister, the club's ace punter.

Only among the collegians was there any pileup atop the standings after Saturday's playing, productive of no upsets. The hitherto undefeated Western Mustangs moved over to share the Intercollegiate Union lead with Toronto after taking a 7-3 pasting from the Blues and Queen's were within a point of the leaders after beating McGill Redmen 7-0 at Kingston.

Imperials Beat Panthers.

Sarnia Imperials beat Hamilton Panthers 24-6 and let; themselves needing but one more triumph over Panthers for their eighth successive Ontario Union championship. In the fifth game, Hamilton's comebacking Tigers stopped Montreal Indians 3-2.

Ottawa, 1936 Big Four titlists, all but lost their last hope of gaining the playoffs by their second straight beating from the steady Argo machine. Some 10,000 Ottawa fans, lured by the promise of a grudge fight after the Sonshine-Wadsworth incident the previous week, saw their favorites outplayed from the start. It was a clean game with no personal penalties.

With Earl Selkirk making a grand job of kicking in place of the injured Isbister, the Scullers started quickly. Rocky Rocano kicked out of touch at his five-yard line in the first quarter and the Argo running halves went into their specialty. In two plays Art West skirted around the end and over. Selkirk converted.

A blocked kick and a long forward left Selkirk in position to boot a placement field goal soon after and before Riders were underway they had a nine-point deficit. It wasn't until Rocano got the wind behind him in the second quarter that Riders began to march but they were held to two field goals by huge Tiny Herman.

Gets Last Rider Point.

A single from Rocano ended the Ottawa scoring in the third quarter though a play on which they scored a touchdown in the final period was called back, Argos gaining possession on the opposition 35 from where Selkirk kicked another point. He got the last one near the end.

The Tiger spirit was high again after their second straight win, leaving them the outstanding challengers to Argos. The victory came on the strength of Hawley (Huck) Welchs kicking. While Montreal had the better ground attack and the better pass attack, Tigers had Welch who kicked all their points.

The veteran Tiger half booted two singles in the first period, a lead Indians couldn't overcome until Abe Elowitz got the wind at his back in the third and kicked two himself. But he couldn't match Welch in the final quarter and Huck soon lashed out with the winning punt.

One in the second quarter Captain Johnny Ferraro, Bill Davies and Elowitz passed Indians to the Tiger 11, but they were stopped one yard out in three plunges. In the third quarter, Indians were only 12 yards out but failed again. Tigers never got that close to a touchdown, but they made no mistakes when Welch was in position to kick.

Superior kicking by Johnny Munro and Bernie Thornton paved the way for Queen's triumph which put them into the thick of the College race. Thornton kicked five of the first halfs six points, succeeding once on three tries for field goals. Munro got the others.

McGill seldom threatened and when they did Munro's long-range punting drove them back. It was this definite superiority through the air which offset any advantage Andy Anton, Ronnie Perowne and Anderson gained on the ground.

Shows Wide Superiority.

Toronto also showed wide superiority in beating Western, who held the Blues to a 4-4 tie at London the previous week. A record crowd of 20,000, jamming Varsity Stadium, saw the Blues build an early lead and hold it.

Jack Kennedy kicked Western into a 1-0 lead in the first quarter, but two short boots by Doug Shales in the second left Toronto in position 15 yard sout. A sleeper pass gained 11 and bashing Don Mumford went the rest of the way in two trys. Cam Gray converted and kicked the other point. A determined Western drive in the third period, when they had the wind in their favor, brought only two points.

Bummer Stirling led Imperials in their work-out against the lowly Panthers. The Bummer kicked two field goals, scored a touchdown and two converts. In all the Imperials rolled up three touchdowns the first by Geary in the opening Sarnia drive. Jack Wright scored all Panthers points with two placements.

Hockey Gossip From Big Time Camps

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP)—Take Lester Patrick's word for it—it pays to run a farm system. The New York Rangers' head man says all except three playing members of his current edition are products of the system. Those not in this category are goalie Dave Kerr, defenceman Art Coulter and Butch Keeling, a forward. Patrick didn't include Frankie Boucher, expected to confine his attention mostly to coaching this year.

Poor Jack Adams! Those Detroit Red Wings are so stocked with classy performers Coach Adams had to send two able players like Wally Kilrea, a centre, and Orville Roulston, a strapping defenceman, to the minors. And when any other N.H.L. manager probably would jump at the chance of picking them up.

On just how much is "not much" rests, evidently, the chance of big Nels Stewart ending his holdout siege with New York Americans. Manager Red Dutton reported the veteran centreman still hasn't come to terms but said he expected Stewart to capitulate shortly "as there is not much difference in his demands and our offer."

Rangers and Amerks will play the final game of their prairie exhibition series tonight in Winnipeg without five players, who left last night for Montreal to play in the Morenz benefit game Saturday. The five are Frank Boucher and Cecil Dillon, Rangers, and Dave Schriner, Art Chapman and Hippy Day, Amerks.

A trip to the dentist is now in order for Murph Chamberlain, the rookie for whom Manager Connie Smythe and Coach Dick Irvin predicted a rosy future with Toronto Maple Leafs. The last year's Sudbury star scored two goals in Leafs' exhibition game last night but had two teeth knocked out in doing it.

King Clancy is going to fill in for Lionel Conacher. This would be news if the substitution was for more than one game, but it isn't. The King, who coaches Montreal Maroons, will take Conacher's place in the benefit game for the family of Howie Morenz. Conacher, who gave up hockey in favor of a political career, was slated to make his last appearance in the game, but has been delayed out west, where he is visiting relatives.

Rangers probably set a league record in having Bill Cook, their great right winger, as captain for 11 straight years. But Bill's manager of Cleveland Barons in the International League this year, so a new captain had to be elected. Art Coulter got the nod yesterday from his team mates.

Farm teams usually take it on the chin in pre-season exhibition games with their "papa" chums, but sometime they rebel—as Montreal Canadians found out. Canadiens, though they went all out in the last period in an efofrt to win, found themselves on the short end of a 2-1 score yesterday against Springfield Indians.

Maybe its a record. Anyhow, you statistical minded fans can figure it out. But when Rangers and Amerks played a double-header the other day in Saskatoon, it was thought to be the first time N.H.L. clubs had done such a thing. Amerks won one 1-0, the other was a 1-1 tie.

But don't those Chicago Black Hawks take things literally. "Get in there and fight" to them means, evidently, the high sign for a little old-fashioned pitching and tossing of punches. Hawks were right "in there" in whipping the amateur Muskegon Reds, 6-1, in more ways than one. Their Tommy Kendall had a scrap in the first period, a general melee broke out in the second, and Doc Romnes was a principal in a brief, but lusty, third period go.

TORONTO GRIDDERS BEAT COBOURG 12-7

COBOURG, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Toronto Eastsides beat Cobourg, 12 to 7, in an O.R.F.U. intermediate rugby game here Saturday. The game did not affect the league standing as both teams are in the playdowns, Cobourg meeting Kingston in the "B" playdowns next Saturday. Meikle, Cobourg kicker, contributed two placements to the local score. Smith of the visiting team made several good runs and proved hard to stop.

Eastsides led 4 to 3 at the end of the first period, 8 to 4 at halftime and 10 to 4 at the three-quarter mark. McNay fell on a blocked kick in the second quarter to score the only touchdown of the game.

Eastsides—Flying wing, Edwards; halves, Smith, McNay, Sweeting; quarter, McKay; snap, Hardy; insides, Maxwell, Yeelis; middles, Peebles, Archibald; outsides, Morris, A. Meikle; subs, Moorehouse, Ellames, Burns, Clarkson, Murrin, Macklin, Hodgson, Pollock and Eccles.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Henry Armstrong may never defend the featherweight title he won from Petey Sarron the other night... Henry has a lot more trouble making the weight than most of you suspect...He'll "trade" on the championship in a few over-the-weight bouts, then abdicate (as Barney Ross did) and go after the lightweights...If big Hank Greenberg knows what he is talking about, Mickey Cochrane will never catch another major league game...

Maxie Rosenbloom is planning a European tour...This department had a tough day picking football winners Saturday...Score was, 10 won 7 lost 3 tied...But we're still taking bows for being one of the two or three guys who picked Georgia Tech to beat Vandy...And if you want another tip, Tennessee may get its ears pinned back by Auburn Saturday...

Ed Barrow, general manager of the Yanks and Damon Runyon, the author are off for a hunting trip to Tom Yawkey's South Carolina ranch...Benny Leonard has a likely looking lightweight in "Irish Eddie" Dunn, of Scranton, Pa....John Montague, the golf mystery man, stole the show at the Cotton Club last night...Along State Street in Chicago they're laying odds Tony Lazzeri will pilot the Cubs in 1939..

Johnny Gilbert, the jockey who bet $1,000 on Pete Sarron felt so low Saturday he didn't show up at Empire City race track and was fined $500 for not keeping his appointments...

No change in Rose Bowl choices over the week-end...They're still Alabama and California.

REGINA 'RIDERS DRUB BOMBERS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1 (CP).—Regina Roughriders whipped Winnipeg 12 to 1 here Saturday to make a spectacular final bow in the current Western Interprovincial Football Union campaign.

Three consecutive victories marked 'Riders' closing rush, but the rally came too late for Winnipeg and Calgary clinched playoff berths weeks ago. They meet here next Saturday in the first game of the championships series, with the deciding game in Calgary November 11, Armistice Day. Bronks topped the league standing with Winnipeg.

Roughriders scored through Bert Nelson's field goal in the first quarter, fired two long passes in the third quarter for a converted touchdown by Ralph Pierce, and concluded with Paul Kirk's field goal shortly before the close. Blue Bombers' lone rouge came in the second quarter.

Fumbles played a major part, as Bombers missed six times, 'Riders recovering all six. Regina did not fumble and gained 208 yards rushing, to Winnipeg's 168, seven first downs to Bombers' ten, and completed two of five pass attempted for a total gain of 86 yards. Pegs completed only one eight-yard pass in twelve tries. Each team intercepted two passes.

ADELAIDE—(CP). — Playing for Kensington, Don Bradman, Australian cricket captain, hit 116 runs in his first match of the season. He reached his century in 93 minutes.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

By Bradley

THE POWER OF THE PUNT

Perhaps the least appreciated phase of football, that is as far as the fans are concerned, is the kicking. The onlooker, who is unacquainted with the intricacies of the game often looks on the punt as a purely offensive weapon, with which to gain ground by forcing the opposing backfielders back into their own territory, and thus gaining precious ground.

However the punt is also invaluable as a defensive weapon, for an inferior team, from a "rushing" standpoint, can often not dof is far superior squad through the ability of their booter.

Not only is distance the sought after attribute in a kicker, but accuracy is also invaluable. The man who can continually, or with fair regularity hoist the leather into "coffin corner," or to the sidelines, where it will roll out of bounds, can gain dozens of yards in the course of a game, and moreover when we realize that practically one play in every three is a punt, we are doubly impressed with the value of the punt in modern football.

THOMSON.—In loving memory of Mrs. Isabel Thomson, wife of W. Thomson, who passed away four years ago to-day.

We are sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts to-day;

We think of her in silence;
No eye may see us weep;
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Another Sande Takes To Riding

It seems to be the destiny of the Sande family to compel fellowmen to raise their voices in vociferous appeal. Once it was the imploring cry of the racing fan—"Come on, Sande!"—as he vocally fought for the two bucks riding on the mount of Earle Sande, one of the greatest all-time jockies. Now it is 'Come on, La Salle!" for Sande's son, Alfred, shown here on the La Salle mule, is th emascot of La Salle Academy's football team of Oakdale, N.Y. He goes wherever the team goes and his appearance on the field is usually the signal for heavy La Salle rooting.

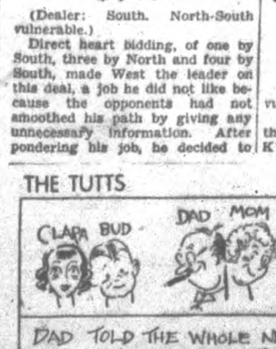
REASONS NOT APPARENT

"COME ON" signals can be given for purposes which are not apparent at the time. A good player who trusts fully in a good partner will heed them whether or not he is in a position to see the reason for them. Perhaps a trick or two later, or maybe not until near the end of the hand, the big idea will become apparent.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

Direct heart bidding, of one by South, three by North and four by South, made West the leader on this deal, a job he did not like because the opponents had not smoothed his path by giving any unnecessary information. After pondering his job, he decided to essay a ruffing defense, so laid down the spade ace. When his partner put on the 9 he could not tell the reason for it, but obeyed the apparent request by leading his spade 3.

The declarer, of course, won this and then led a trump. When East was able to capture this with the A and then switch to a third round of spades, the purpose was clear. West's ruff of this trick beat the game, since East's clut K was positive to win a trick later,

CHAPTER 26

For Three weeks after Esther's inquest Tim made no attempt to see Alma Shepherd.

All the same, they were very happy weeks. An enormous sense of release combined with pride of achievement to produce a state of mind in which solitude became a positive blessing. To savor his freedom, to go over again and again the steps in his plan, relishing the perfect harmony between design and execution; such were his chief pleasures these days, and they became a positive obsession.

He loved retiring to his room with the secretiveness of an addict of hidden vice, and he would sit for hours alone, thinking, thinking till his sense of power grew beyond all bounds. He knew himself to be irresistible. He had dared successfully the hardest and most hazardous of human enterprises! henceforth any undertaking on which he set his heart would be ludicrously easy.

He had only to speak a word and Alma would be his. If he did not speak that word at once, if he set in his mind a definite period during which he would refrain from speaking it, that was because of his perfect balance, his cool objective understanding of how best to exploit a situation. Genius, he knew, was akin to madness, but not so with his genius. He knew better than to overreach himself.

He had laid down a definite plan with regard to Alma, and to this he would adhere to the letter, even if it now seemed to him overmeticulous and a refinement of caution. That was where his genius showed itself in its finest flower; triumphant success had not caused him to lose his head. He had done murder because it was the only logical issue from a hopeless impasse, not from blind passion or congenital depravity.

He would never kill again. The act of killing had given no pleasure, it had indeed been positively distressing, and it was beyond belief that chance would ever again confront him with the same objective necessity. Murder had made him twice the man he was, but it had served its turn and he was done with it forever.

To the outer world news filtered through of how Tim Kennedy shut himself up for hours in his living room, presumably to brood on the tragedy that had overtaken him; and the picture presented so fitted in with that created by his public behavior that he gained deep and wide sympathy for his heroic fortitude in the face of well-nigh unbearable sorrow. For within three days of the inquest Tim was back at work, as efficient and considerate as ever, only a little more silent. He visited no one, but a few of his older friends felt there was no impropriety in visiting him, and they found that his wall of stoicism broke down before their gestures of sympathy.

"I killed her," he said to Dr. Grantley, with tears pouring down his face. "The coroner should have given a verdict of willful murder against me. . . . I had every warning, and I was criminally dilatory in having the thing taken in hand. . . ." To Dr. Harold Arkwright, who was broken and bitterly self-reproachful, he offered consolation. "It's no use, Harold. God knows I'd be glad to shift the burden, even on to you. . . . But it's I who am to blame. Only I knew what it was really like. I was blind and complacent."

When he said things like this Tim really felt the emotion he displayed. He was indeed living a double life; one of a miser recluse hoarding a secret joy, another of a bereaved husband who could never forgive himself for the negligence contributing to the tragedy which had broken his life.

When at last he went to call on Alma, prefacing his visit by an abrupt telephone call from his surgery, the latter character of course prevailed. It was with no sense of hypocrisy that after five minutes of stumbling commonplaces and a wretched self-conscious avoidance of the subject of Esther's death, he suddenly abandoned the pretense and fell at her feet, to cry in heart-rending tones, "Oh, Alma, I'm so miserable. Be kind to me, my dear. I think I'm going out of my mind."

She was inevitably much moved; she took him in her arms, stroked his hair, soothed him with little whispers and gestures. "There, Tim, dear, be brave. Don't cry, dear, it'll be better one day. I'll do all I can for you."

He looked at her at last, with a ghost of a smile on his tear-stained face. "You're wonderful, Alma. I think you really understand. . . . I don't know what made me behave so stupidly; you're the only one I could do it with. . . . You know, it may sound funny, but I'm not trying to make love to you. . . . I remember, when I was very small, there was a puppy I had, and it was run over by a carriage. I was heartbroken, until I went to my mother, and then she held me and consoled me, and seemed to reconcile everything, even a world in which puppies were run over by carriages. . . . I should have come to you sooner. I know now it's mothering I want . . . to heal me."

He sat up, and presently began to talk with more control. "I've been trying to keep away from you, of course. It seemed indecent, things being as they are, to seek you out. You know, I've almost been wishing you were old and plain, then it would have seemed possible, coming to you for help. It's not been a question of what people would think or say, it's a matter of personal loyalty. Not to do anything which would make Esther unhappy, if by any chance she is somewhere where she can know and feel . . . the same as on earth.

"Now I see I've been letting loyalty blind me, I've been doing Esther an injustice. She would understand, too, she wasn't stupid and jealous. . . . I've got to see you, Alma, often. If you bear with me, I think I can start life again. Otherwise, I shall just go downhill; rot slowly. . . . You will see me often, won't you, Alma?"

"Of course." She looked thoughtful. "But you know, my dear, it's not so easy. If we were to go about together a lot here, people would talk. And it's all very well saying that doesn't matter, you and I know in the long run talking people can make a place unbearable. There's your profession, too."

Tim made a gesture of impatience. "But we used to meet, decently and openly and innocently. No one thought anything of it."

"But it's no use pretending things are the same. If we were to pick things up where we left off, people would interpret it in a different way and our old meetings, too. . . ."

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S HALLOWE'EN.

"Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily as he hopped into his hollow stump bungalow one night. "Oh, help, my dear!" he called to his rabbit lady wife. "Help, Nurse Jane!" he shouted to his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Whatever is the matter?" asked Mrs. Longears, opening the door from the living room into the hall where Uncle Wiggily was standing.

"Have the Bad Chaps caught him?" asked Nurse Jane, who had just finished putting to bed all the little bunny rabbits.

"He doesn't seem to be caught," said Mrs. Longears, looking at her husband. He was pointing to a chair in the hall. In the gleam of the light could be seen the Bob Cat, the Fox and the Wolf.

"No, the Bad Chaps haven't caught me yet!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "But here they are! They'll catch me in a second. Call the Police Dog!"

A Joke.

"Don't be silly!" laughed his wife. "There are no Bad Chaps."

"What am I looking at, then?" asked Uncle Wiggily, and he continued to point at the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat on the chair.

"What am I looking at?"

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Nurse Jane.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Mrs. Longears.

"If I knew the joke maybe I could laugh also," said Uncle Wiggily sort of sarcastic like and cross-word puzzled.

"It is a joke," said his wife. "Those are only the false faces of the Bad Chaps the children rabbits have been playing with."

"Playing with?" said Uncle Wiggily, sort of questioning like.

"Yes," said Nurse Jane. "Your little rabbits were playing at Hallowe'en with the false faces of the Bad Chaps."

"Oh—Hallowe'en," murmured Mr. Longears. "What's tonight?" he asked.

"Tonight is Monday night," his wife said. "You see this year Hallowe'en came on Sunday, which was yesterday. So while you were away I let the bunnies celebrate Hallowe'en Saturday night. It is all over and this is Monday night and they haven't yet put away the false faces."

"Oh, ho! It's a good thing they didn't laughed Mr. Lonears. "Now I can have some fun. I had quite forgotten Hallowe'en was on Saturday night," he said. "I thought it was tonight."

Too Fast.

"That's because you were traveling in your airplane," said Mrs. Longears. "You go so fast you forget what time it is."

"Indeed, you do," agreed the rabbit gentleman.

Truly, he had been on an airplane trip and had been traveling most of the time. He had reached home after dark on the night following Hallowe'en and, being in the air, he had seen and heard none of the pretend ghosts, witches and goblins and elves playing their pranks and cutting their capers.

"The children had lots of Hallowe'en fun, while you were away in your airship," said Nurse Jane.

"Now it's my turn to have fun," said Mr. Longears, as he picked up the falsefaces of the Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat.

"What do you mean?" asked his wife.

"I am going to have my Hallowe'en now," chuckled the rabbit. "Oh, how I will surprise them!"

"Wiggy! What are you going to do?" cried his wife.

"You'll see," said Mr. Longears.

And if the dishwashing machine doesn't try to give the wallpaper a bath, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Bob Cat face.

REDS BEST MAYOR BY HOLDING RALLY IN SPITE OF BAN

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Anti-Communistic Mayor J. Adhemar Raynault counted a court victory today over the Friends of Soviet Union, but it was more of a moral victory.

For in less than three hours after the energetic mayor had won himself the right to bar an F.S.U. meeting, a group of Communist sympathizers went ahead last night with another meeting, complete with speakers who aired their views on the chief executive himself.

Everything was quiet, though. The threats of rioting that had led Raynault to go to court to defend his assembly-suppressing powers failed to crystallise. The police did not interfere.

Possibly there would be "trouble" at the F.S.U. meeting prompted the stocky mayor two days ago to order the gathering called off. The F.S.U. immediately went to court and got a temporary injunction to block the mayor's order.

Raynault came into court yesterday and said 200 University of Montreal students who visited his office had convinced him there would be disturbances if the meeting went on. Other sources had protested, too, he testified.

Nothing On Communism

Louis Kon, promoting the meeting, denied before Mr. Justice Charles Curran that Communism was to be discussed at the meeting. General Victor Yakhontoff, a general in the Czarist army and later minister of war under Kerensky, was to speak on events leading up to the Russian revolution. That was all.

Mr. Justice Curran conceded the "good faith" of the meeting's sponsors, but he decided he should not interfere with civic authority. So Raynault clamped down the ban again.

After emergency police reserves had been dispersed with the meeting off, Communists turned up at the Mount Royal Arena, where the F.S.U. was to have met. The auditorium was locked up, so the crowd moved along to another hall on St. Lawrence Boulevard.

There, without incident, a few speakers told the audience what they thought of "suppression of free speech."

SIX SUSPECTS HELD

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 1.—(CP).—Six men were held for investigation by police today in connection, it was believed, with the shooting of Albert Beckett, a Maidstone Township farmer, Oct. 11. Five were booked as material witnesses and the sixth on a charge of carrying offensive weapons.

Beckett, who lives with his sister on a farm, was shot through the neck by three men who entered his home and robbed it of $16.

NEW YORK LAUDS BRANTFORD CHOIR

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(CP).—Fifty singers, members of the choir from Southwestern Ontario that came here for a recital in town hall, basked to-day in the praise of music lovers who listened to them last night.

A feature of the recital, Canada's part in one of the most interesting and varied musical seasons New York has enjoyed in several years, was the offerings of Ethel White, 29 year old Brantford pianist.

In her New York debut, Miss White played Scarlatti's "Sonata in A" and two compositions by Mr. Lord, who founded the choir in 1929.

The choir attracted acclaim on a tour of England and Scotland several years ago, in the course of which they took part in the Blackpool musical festival. Mr. Lord is a Yorkshireman who has lived in Canada for the past 14 years.

Among the highlights of the recital by the choir were Peter Warlock's "The Full Heart," a part song and Coleridge Taylor's "Sea Drift," a choral rhapsody. The program covered the historical range of choral music, beginning with songs of the 15th and 16th centuries and continuing with late Victorian works and ending with the moderns.

The Canadians devoted to-day to sight-seeing around New York and will return home to-morrow night after being the guests of the Canadian Club of New York at a reception to-morrow afternoon.

CAMPBELLFORD

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE DISMISSED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 1. — The charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public, against Cecil Scriver, Hastings, was dismissed without costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley, who presided during the case which occupied nearly the whole afternoon. In summing up the case for which seven witnesses were called, the Magistrate pointed out that the occupants of the two cars had given evidence which was "diametrically opposed," and in dismissing the case it was pointed out that Claude Fowler of Colborne, who had laid the charge arising out of a collision on Highway No. 30 one mile south of the town, had not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's or chauffeur's license, Sanford Clark, 38, of Campbellford, was assessed

Shanghai In Ruins As Japs Drive Defenders Out

"Once happy Chinese homes—now cover for Japanese invaders", might well be the title for the above photographs. One Chinese family, driven farther inland or some, perhaps, fighting with the Chinese forces, had its home used as cover by Japanese attacking troops as shown in the above photograph. Artillery fire had damaged the home and the remnants of the building were being used to hide the advancing army. Inset is another variation of the same scene, both of which were taken in Shanghai, showing Japanese troops filing through the pitiful ruins of a Shanghai building. Air bombs and explosive shells wrought this indescribable scene.

ONE VITAL WORD 'DISCRIMINATION' KEEPS STRIKE ON

KITCHENER, Ont., Oct. 30 (CP) —Settlement of the five-week strike of 600 Kaufman Rubber Company employees appeared as far off as ever today, negotiations snagged upon the word "discrimination" in a company statement that halted a scheduled back-to-work movement.

The strikers at a mass meeting here last night voted unanimously to continue the strike, thought settled Thursday night when the men accepted terms of the company offered through Hon. M. M. MacBride, Ontario Minister of Labor. Mr. MacBride will consider the new development at his home in Brantford during the week-end.

A. R. Kaufman, president of the company, said in a statement yesterday the men had voted to return to work "on the basis of a misunderstanding," which, he said, concerned "my statement about discrimination against strikers." He said that in conferences with Mr. MacBride, "I stated there would be discrimination but agreed to refrain from exercising it until after Dec. 1."

Better Conditions Granted

Under the terms accepted by the strikers Thursday night, the men were to return to work pending an investigation by the Industry and Labor Board into the plant's wage structure and that of other factories in the provincial rubber industry. Improved working conditions previously had been granted.

In a letter to the men, Mr. MacBride said he had been assured by Mr. Kaufman there would be no discrimination against any of the strikers, members of the United Rubber Workers of America, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization. Mr. Kaufman yesterday denied he had promised there would be no discrimination.

He said he had agreed "I would not exercise any discrimination before Dec. 1, by which time it would be necessary to discharge some surplus help." Mr. Kaufman's statement added: "In justice to employees who wish to work in peace, I cannot tolerate the interference of agitators during working hours. I apparently must adopt my own method of controlling my employees and since I pay the wages, I reserve that privilege."

MYSTERIOUS RAIDS

LONDON, Nov. 1.— (AP).— Lord Louis Mountbatten, a cousin of the King, today disclosed two mysterious night-time raids within a week on his apartment here.

On the second intrusion, Thursday night, the marauder escaped over rooftops after waking Lord Louis' 13-year-old daughter, Patricia, by turning his flashlight into her room from a porch.

Nothing was stolen then nor on Sunday when the intruder entered the nursery and ransacked several rooms.

DEAD RECKONING

They wouldn't understand how far removed our friendship is—from that sort of thing. They might make the most horrible suggestions, Tim."

He looked at her with candid, serious eyes.

"You mean they'd say I deliberately killed Esther because she was a cripple and I was tired of her, and because I wanted you?"

"They might even say that, Tim."

"You know that doesn't shock me, Alma. . . . I've thought of it already. I'm no fool, and it was easy enough to read between the lines of one or two things the coroner said. I dare say half the people in town are saying just that already. The first part, I mean, not about you. Thank God, they've no excuse for that. . . . But you must be protected, Alma. Queerly enough I never saw it in that light."

From that point it was easy enough to accomplish his design. The concrete suggestion came from her: they should meet occasionally in London, on Saturday afternoons or Sundays, if Saturday was inconvenient, eat together, go to the theater or cinema together, go for long walks or, while the warm weather lasted, on the river. They would go to town and return in their separate cars; once lost in the metropolis they would have nothing to fear from gossip.

And thus was inaugurated what was for Tim a very happy period. Like a schoolboy near the end of the summer term, or a prisoner with the day of release approaching, he discovered a kind of relish in the restraint temporarily imposed on him. He had determined to wait a full three months before taking any step to put the relationship on a new footing.

In the meantime, he looked forward with passionate eagerness to each week-end, and when it came, savored it to the full. His desire to have Alma for his own grew apace, but he took a perverse pleasure in denying it, his mind leaping forward in delicious anticipation to the time, not far distant, when it would receive utter fulfillment.

MILK IN TORONTO WILL COST MORE

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—(CP).—J. L. Houck, chairman of the Ontario Milk Board, in conference with the Toronto Board of Control yesterday, said definitely his board has prepared a schedule providing for an increase of one cent a quart in the price of milk to Toronto consumers. Price of milk is now 12 cents a quart and seven cents a pint.

He said there was no intention of advancing the price on pints and half pints. The proposed increase, worked out in a number of conferences with producers and distributors, and bearing their approval, was calculated on a basis sufficient to provide an increase in the amount paid to farmers and wage increase to milk drivers, he said.

FEAR FOR ELEVEN, CHINESE MISSION

NANKING, Nov. 1.—(CP-Havas)—Japanese planes today flew over Taiyuan, dropped 40 bombs and killed nearly 100 persons.

Heavy damage was done in the city by the raid, according to Central (Chinese) News Agency.

British authorities here were anxious about the safety of the Baptist Mission still at the Shansi capital. Consular records listed as living there: Dr. and Mrs. Dellie Clow, Miss B. Glasby, Dr. and Mrs. W. Wyatt and two children, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Ward, R. Dawson and F. W. Price. All had refused earlier injunctions to evacuate and so far as authorities know were still at their posts.

Britain's network of police radio stations throughout the country will be completed within a year.

LAZIEST CLERK IN PETERBOROUGH GETS PROMOTED

You'd hardly believe it, that lazy, dawdling clerk who was asleep on his feet is the smartest, liveliest clerk in town right now. He's alert, alive—headed for success.

Sure—he's been promoted. The town's laziest clerk wasn't really lazy at all but his system was. It was clogged, irregular, poisoned with wastes with uric and bilic acids that should have been eliminated. He couldn't help feeling slow, sleepy-eyed—robbed of all his "go".

But Fynnon Salt put matters right—Fynnon Salt, so rich in the remedial elements needed to clear the system of impurities, helps rinse away the acids that rob the joints of youthful suppleness. A ½ teaspoonful, in a glass of water, taken every morning regulates this man's system, gives him the beneficial effects of 3 glasses of water from world famous British spas. Laden with Sodium, Potassium, Lithium and other corrective elements from these mineral springs, Fynnon Salt gives him "spa" treatment at home, keeps him right and regular. He's keen, energetic—and right now, by keeping his system free from poisonous wastes, he's warding off trouble in later years. If you feel tired, slowed down, sleepy, try taking Fynnon Salt regularly and see how different life will look. Your druggist sells this healthful British saline. 75c a large package. 300 LEFT HOMELESS

RELIGIOUS SECT WINS OLD SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's 'plain people," who haven't changed a religious custom since they settled here in 1712, yesterday won a year-long fight to keep their children 'away from the worldly temptations" of a modern $112,000 public works administration school building.

A half dozen Amish and Mennonite tobacco growers called on Governor George Earle in an appeal to return their children to the 10 little red schoolhouses that were replaced this fall. He complied.

"This is a matter of religion," said Earle as he ordered the schools reopened at the state's expense.

"These people," said John Landberg, attorney for the farmers, "believe there are too many worldly temptations in this new school. They were satisfied with the old ones. They don't want their children to grow away from the farm and the religion."

The new building at Smoketown in Lancaster County, has been boycotted by 30 Amish and Mennonite children since it was opened early this month. It has electricity and radio. The Amish religion forbids such innovations in their homes. Half the cost was borne by federal relief funds. The Amish and Mennonites are prohibited from accepting any charity, public or private.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO CLOSE CITY WINE SHOP

Drastic Restrictions In Province Are Sought

Cancellation of the license of the Hillrust wine shop on Charlotte Street was advocated by Alderman G. N. Gordon in a resolution passed by the council Monday night, a copy of which will be forwarded to the provincial authorities.

Drastic restrictions on wine shops in Ontario was also proposed in the resolution which Alderman McIntyre seconded.

A recent suicide in the city had focussed attention on the operations of the wine shop, Alderman Gordon said, and it was learned that wine could be ordered by telephone, and in this unfortunate case it was received by a man who was under the influence of its alcohol. Young people drive up to the shop to buy wine, and boys whose age was questionable also obtained supplies.

"This shop came here unwanted," Alderman Gordon said, "and it has been no improvement to Peterborough. If you see the class of people around there you would know that it would be better if we didn't have this place."

Mayor Macdonald remarked it would be far better if the city hadn't anything of that kind.

"Well, we have to take one thing at a time," Ald. Gordon said, and the council unanimously supported his resolution.

Accept Lowest Tender

In letting the contracts for snow plowing the Council amended the report of the Board of Works, on Alderman Gordon's motion, seconded by Alderman McIntyre, and accepted the lowest tender of $190 by Gordon Frise for district No. 3 instead of W. J. Stinson's bid of $205 which the Board had recommended.

LABOR CANDIDATES GAINING IN LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(C.P.)—Labor candidates today registered further gains over Municipal Reformers (Conservatives) in London boroughs in the municipal elections held in England and Wales yesterday.

Polling was taking place in Scotland today. In the metropolitan area Labor gained 41 seats and lost three and the Municipal Reforms gained two and lost 40. Labor captured control of the borough councils of Hammersmith and Lambeth, giving them a majority in 17 of the 28 London boroughs.

The borough councils are distinct from the London county council, the governing body of Greater London, which holds its elections separately every three years.

In the provinces municipal reform candidates made slight gains, although Labor captured control of three councils, Coventry, Layton and Bristol. Conservatives regained control in Birkenhead, the maritime centre across the Mersey from Liverpool, and increased their majority in Liverpool itself.

Fascist candidates were beaten soundly wherever they ran.

Arsenal At Lindsay To Be Opened In Spring of 1938

Produce Shells After Foundry, Mill Renovated; Once Employed 2,000 Hands—Town Is Jubilant

LINDSAY, Nov. 2.—(CP)—Lindsay arsenal, million-dollar munitions plant that turned out hundreds of thousands of shells during the war, will resume operations in the spring of 1938, according to Bruce McNevin, M.P., for Victoria. After renovation of the foundry and rolling mill, production of shells and shell materials will begin.

The announcement followed the visit here Wednesday of two officials of the Department of National Defence. Mechanical engineers will arrive today to check the gas plant and general equipment. It is anticipated preparatory work and installation of new machinery will be necessary before the plant can be put in operation.

Lindsay citizens, recalling the boom days when the arsenal employed some 2,000 hands, were jubilant over the announcement.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP) — The Dominion Arsenal at Lindsay, Ont., is to be fitted up for production of shell parts, Col. L. R. Lafleche, Deputy Minister of National Defence, said today.

Departmental engineers have been examining the wartime shell plant over a period of months. On the basis of their reports the department has decided to "proceed actively at once" with refitting part of the plant for the "production of certain metals required for shells," Col. Lafleche said. The balance of the plant is already being used for other purposes.

Extent of the work to be done in refitting the arsenal would depend on some detail reports to be made, he said. It was likely production would be under way in the spring of 1938.

Col. Lafleche explained that the number of artillery units had been increased in reorganization of the Canadian militia.

"In conjunction with the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec, activities at the Lindsay Arsenal will permit replacement of stocks fired at practice," he said, "and will make it possible to find modest reserve stocks."

Floods Add Grief To Palestine

JERUSALEM, Nov. 2 (C.P.-Havas)—Scattered acts of violence and flood ravages confronted British authorities in Palestine with new difficulties to-day.

Inundations following heavy rains took a toll of nine dead in the village of Wadi Hafir. Two hundred persons were left homeless when the waters wrecked dwellings and caused other damage.

Terrorists were active during the night, forcing police and troops into action. Police guarding the dwelling of the Mufti of Hebron opened fire when a fusillade was directed against the building. There were no casualties.

Several shots were fired against the International Potash Concession buildings in this region.

London is seeking methods of cooling its subways in summer.

Details of the shooting were not available immediately. At hospital, physicians reported Pigeon's condition was "serious."

The town of Mount Royal, known also as Model City, lies on the northern limits of Montreal.

Pigeon, a 23-year-old rookie, was shot in the abdomen when the man with whom he was grappling pulled a gun, fired, and fled.

COW "STOPS" AUTO COSTS TOWN $213

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—(CP)—Mr. Justice Alfred Forest's judgment ordering the corporation of St. Iboire parish to pay $213 damages plus interest and costs was a bovine ballad to everyone but the corporation and the cow.

The corporation doesn't even own the animal, but it was unable to prove "Bossie" jumped a fence one night two years ago or that its presence on the highway was an act of God.

So the corporation has to pay. J. Wilfred Marcotte of Shipton gets the money; Edouard Desourdy, "Bossie's" owner, probably will get a new fence. The cow lost a horn in a tussle with Marcotte's automobile, but was left out in the cold in the court ruling yesterday.

Driving from St. Iboire to Upton, Que., Marcotte ran into the cow, which appeared on the highway from the ditch. Marcotte sued Desourdy, found responsible because the civil code says "the owner of an animal is responsible for the damage the animal has caused, whether it was under his care or under that of one of his servants or whether it had wandered or escaped."

But Desourdy was relieved of responsibility when he proved the corporation had failed to keep the fence of his enclosure alongside the road under proper repair. So Mr. Justice Forest concluded the accident was due to the fault of the corporation solely and condemned it to pay the damages.

DUKE WILL VISIT WITH ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP).—Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, conferred with Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of States, today on arrangements for the forthcoming visit to the United States of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Although the envoy said afterward that plans still are subject to change, it was learned the Duke plans a 36-hour stay in Washington.

During this time they will be received by President Roosevelt. The British Ambassador and Lady Lindsay will entertain them at dinner.

Ambassador Lindsay said it still was too early to discuss a definite itinerary for the Duke and Duchess. He indicated only general matters in connection with their trip were taken up with the acting Secretary of State.

It was learned authoritatively, however, that President Roosevelt had instructed that the protocol section of the State Department assist in making any arrangements the Duke desires for inspection of government housing projects.

In fulfilling these orders, George T. Summerling, chief of the protocol division, will go to New York to meet the visitors and accompany them to Washington November 11.

Married Brother

The marriage of Mary Lee Williams (ABOVE), and Ben Yocum was annulled when it was discovered that they actually were brother and sister. Twenty years ago, Grant Ipock, a Wright county, Mo., farmer and his wife died, leaving two little children who were placed in a Jefferson city orphanage. The girl was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, of Cilhowee and the boy was eventually adopted by Sid Yocum, of Wright county. Ben obtained a job on the Williams farm and fell in love with Mary Lee. They were married, secretly. Mrs. Williams remembered that Ben told her he was an adopted child and his name was Ben Ipock. Closer investigation on her part showed that he and Mary Lee were brother and sister. She told them the "good news," knowing that they were very fond of each other. They were horrified and revealed their marriage which was immediately annulled.

'HIGH HAT' CLERKS COME UNDER FIRE OF LORNA THOMAS

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Shoe retailers took it on the chin and even applauded the address of Dr. Lorna Cotton Thomas, who told them at their Royal York Hotel convention yesterday that she had entered shoe stores throughout Ontario as an "unknown customer" and had clerks in a high-class esablishment "high hat" her because her tweeds weren't pressed or because she purchased only a tin of shoe polish.

Mrs. Thomas had made her survey for the National Shoe Retailers. Some of the stores she visited and reported on were not owned by members of the association.

She was pleased to find, she said, that in every store except one visited, she had been fitted with the same size shoe. She had not told her size, and had them measured.

The exception was in a Toronto store. There she was shown a pair of shoes which were longer than her usual size. To her surprise they fitted comfortably, though they gaped at the sides. The salesman assured her that was all right. She got home and found that cork insoles had been placed in the shoes to make them fit.

"You may think that's funny. I don't," she told the retailers, who were laughing incredulously.

On the whole, she thought Ontario salesmanship needed jogging up.

GALLOWS LOSE, CROSLEY FOUND DEAD IN CELL

Cause Is Unstated; Due to Hang on Dec. 6

KINGSTON, Nov. 2. — (CP) — Chester Crosley, Negro convict found guilty of murdering a Kingston penitentiary guard a month ago, was found dead today in his cell at the Frontenac county jail.

An attendant found the notorious "habitual criminal" dead when he carried a tray of food to Crosley's cell at 11:30 a.m. The convicted killer, under sentence to be hanged December 6, usually slept until an hour before noon, it was said.

A post-mortem was ordered and until it was performed prison authorities refused to discuss the possible cause of death.

At the finish of his dramatic trial on September 23 for the murder of Guard John McCormick, Crosley made a one-hour speech before Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey passed the death sentence.

Only Misery To Lose.

"I have nothing to lose but a lot of misery," the Negro said then. He asserted he did not intend to kill McCormack but "I am one man who can take his medicine. When death comes I will be there with bells on."

Crosley was serving life sentence in Kingston, having been transferred here from St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near Montreal, when he attack McCormack in an anteroom of the prison hospital July 11, 1936. The jury disagreed on a verdict at his first trial.

In The Death Cell.

Since his conviction he was confined in the death cell at the County Jail under constant guard that was changed three times each 24 hours.

When the guard changed at 6 a.m. to-day, the guard coming on the shift spoke to Crosley who lay on his cot in the attitude he usually assumed when asleep. Crosley did not reply to the greeting, but that did not cause the guard to examine the convict as Crosley did not customarily reply to greetings.

Jail Governor J. T. Hawkey went to the cell at 11.30 with Crosley's dinner, and, when he could not arouse the prisoner, called the acting jail physician, Dr. P. H. Huyck, who said Crosley had been dead several hours.

Sheriff Fred Davies ordered an immediate investigation. He took statements from the guards. Coroner Dr. P. J. McLeod said an inquest would be held after the post-mortem report was available.

Started Career at Eight.

Crosley, 35 years old and first convicted of a minor offence when he was eight, was ringleader in a spectacular riot at St. Vincent de Paul in November, 1932, when rioting prisoners set fire to the shops. No one escaped during the brief disturbance.

Crosley was given a life sentence for his part in the riot and in 1934 was transferred to Kingston.

At his second trial for murder here the negro twice interrupted court proceedings by shouting. But when the jury returned with a verdict of guilty he asked Mr. Justice Jeffrey for permission to speak.

He charged he had been mistreated at St. Vincent de Paul. "I was lashed until the blood ran from my body," he said.

He concluded: "I am going to hang but thank God I am not going to be hanged by a Frenchman."

Found Unconscious Lying In Street, Dies on Way Home

Face Marked, Bruised, Police Investigating

PORT HOPE, Nov. 2.—(CP) —Walter French, Port Hope garbage collector, was found in an unconscious condition on a street here early today and died in a taxicab while being taken to his home. Police, investigating the case, said the man's face was marked and bruised. Cause of the death was not immediately determined.

Coroner Dr. F. W. Diamond announced that a post-mortem examination would be made. It has not been decided whether an inquest would be held.

French is survived by a widow and three children.

INQUEST IS HELD INTO THE DEATH OF MRS. SCOBELL

(By A Staff Reporter)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 2.—A medical certificate stating that Colonel S. B. Scobell, 65-year-old manufacturing chemist and Mrs. S. H. Cutts, both of Toronto, were not yet in a fit condition to offer testimony caused further adjournment last night of the inquest into the death of Mrs. Judith Scobell.

Coroner Dr. J. C. Smith adjourned the proceedings after hearing evidence of twelve witnesses, bearing on the tragedy that occurred here on the afternoon of October 17 last. Medical evidence indicated that Mrs. Scobell died from asphyxiation caused by drowning when the car in which she was a passenger backed off the government wharf and was submerged in the waters of Lake Katchewanooka.

Two Theories

Douglas Davis, truck driver on Lakefield Volunteer Fire Brigade, in evidence offered two theories which might account for the fatality. They were supported by his statement that when the car was taken from the water the gears were in reverse.

Asked by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., if he could assist the court with any theories, witness believed the probability was the driver had either stepped on the starter with the gears in reverse; or had placed the gears in reverse and had backed up without realizing how close he was to the edge of the wharf.

Davis declare, a car such as the one that figured in the tragedy, with an 8-cylinder engine and automatic choke could readily run backwards if

SEE NAZIS SHAPING COLONY DEMAND

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(CP-Havas), —The Daily Herald, Labor organ, predicted to-day Chancellor Hitler will convoke the Reichstag in the near future to hear a formal demand for return of Germanys pre-war colonial empire.

(In Paris, the well-known political commentator, Pertinax, in the Conservative Echo de Paris, made the same forecast).

The German leader will base his demands on the terms of the Versailles Treaty under which the Reich renounced its colonies in favor of the "principal allied and associated powers," the Daily Herald said.

The German demands will be supported by two of the "principal allied and associated powers," probably Japan and Italy, the Labor organ said, while the United States, having failed to ratify the treaty, can raise no objection to the German stand.

This the paper added, would leave the leading allied powers divided on the colonial question, with France and Great Britai hopposing and Japan and Italy supporting the German stand.

The Daily Herald predicted that as soon as the German demands are lodged, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German Ambassador at London, will be replaced by a new Ambassador. Upon his return to Berlin the envoy will become Minister of Colonies, charged with negotiating the return of the pre-war colonial empire to the Reich.

Commenting editorially on Foreign Secretary Eden's speech in the House of Commons yesterday, the Daily Herald said that Mr. Eden had served warning that "he would not permit the dictators to dictate his policy."

Afraid Of Humans Brothers Jailed

BRANTFORD, Ont., Nov. 2 (CP) —From nearby Burford township where they lived alone, shunning neighbors and strangers, two ragged brothers have been brought to Brantford to stand trial for theft of a bicycle. Police said they would move to have the two, Ted and Henry Hall, examined mentally.

Provincial Constable Carl W. Farrow, who handcuffed the brothers together and brought them here, said the Halls were so afraid of human beings that they hid in hedges when people approached. Mostly they roamed the township at night.

Farrow said the brothers could not say how old they were or speak more than a few words.

KEY TO OLD AGE?

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP).— Heavy water—it's the same as ordinary water but weighs 10 per cent. more—may furnish a clue to old age deterioration in humans, a University of California zoology professor said. Heavy water kills simple forms of plant life and makes mice drunk. Dr. S. C. Brooks told the Society of Experimental Biology and Medicine it contains a substance that causes blood cells of animals to shrink and that this may be the same substance as that in human body tissues that brings about old age.

Postoffice Shot Full Of Holes As Sheriffs Kill Burglars

Trap Two Robbing Safe In Michigan Town And Gun Battle Ensues

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 2 (AP)—A squad of sheriff's deputies and postal inspectors shot it out with two men they trapped in the Smith's Creek postoffice today, killed both of them and filled the one-storey frame building full of holes.

Sheriff William Va, Antwerp, who led the raiding party, said the dead men were Detroit hoodlums, under surveillance since Saturday.

He identified one as John Novak, alias Shorty Jack, 36, and described him as a police character. The other man was identified from papers in his pockets as Edward Scherer, Detroit.

The sheriff with three deputies and two postal inspectors gathered at Smith's Creek, a village near Port Huron, Sunday after Special Deputy Harry Neal, general store proprietor and only law enforcement officer in the village, reported the presence of two suspicious characters loitering at the postoffice.

They kept watch of the postoffice from the nearby village hotel and jumped into action today when two men with flashlights appeared at the rear of the postoffice, broke a window and entered.

The sheriff and postal inspectors Roy La Forge and Earl A. Barnhart, who came from Detroit, said the men were safe crackers, armed with pistols and carrying burglars' tools.

Car Missing With 4 Of Quebec Family Spotted In Depths Of River

Ile Maligne, Que., Nov. 2, (CP)

DIVERS probed the bottom of the Grande Discharge river today for the bodies of four members of a district family. By closing the sluice gates of a nearby dam the river level was lowered and an automobile visible in the murky water was identified as that in which the family set out for church yesterday.

The car was believed to have dropped into 30 feet of water, carrying Alexandre Gagnon and his wife, both 30, and their sons, Bernard, eight, and Robert, six. It plunged through a bridge railing in this town, 125 miles north of Quebec City.

Mystery surrounded the tragedy, which occurred as the Gagnons were on their way to attend All Saints' Day services. Neighbors identified a hat found floating nearby as belonging to the husband and father.

Sheriff's 'Human Fox Hunt' Gets Convict Feast, Liberty

Woman Lassoes Quarry, Gets $20—All Have Fun, But Labor League Frowns

MARTINEZ, Calif., Nov. 2 (A.P.) —Sheriff John Miller's "human fox hunt" may have been fun for him and Mrs. Juanita Shaw, who won the $20 prize, but the people's legislative conference thinks it was "shameless"—"silly," too.

At down on October 24 Sheriff Miller released his volunteer "fox," a county jail prisoner, and sent him scampering through the wooded hills of Contra Costa County. In due time a pack of citizens hallood away on horseback in a cloud of dust and movie cameramen.

Five minutes before the deadline Mrs. Shaw cantered into a thicket and settled her lariat about the fox's shoulders. The fox won his freedom and $10, plus all the roast ox he could eat at a big barbecue party.

Sheriff Miller defended the hunt on the grounds escaped convicts from nearby San Quentin Prison might hide there.

The conference, a branch of Labor's Non-Partisan League, asserted, Miller had "seen fit to use his position to bring calumny and ridicule" upon the citizenry and said his explanation was as "silly and meaningless" as the hunt itself.

It further charged the whole thing was a publicity stunt.

Pianist Offered $35,000 For Kissing Role Accepts After 4 Years Coaxing

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 2 (AP)

FOUR years of offers from movieland have broken down the resistance of Jose Iturbi, well-known orchestra conductor and pianist, who said here today he had agreed to do a movie short when an acceptable script was found.

"I've just agreed to do a movie," he said. 'My agents are handling the contract negotiations."

He said four scripts already had been offered to him but all had been rejected. More are being prepared, he asserted.

"Four years ago I had a chance for $25,000 right in my hand," he said. "But they wanted me to kiss young girls and all that foolishness. So, I tore up the cheque."

Eden's Blow at Mussolini Sets Britain Buzzing

Startles House With Most Frank Exposition Of Foreign Policy Since Great War

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(CP)— Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden left to-day for Brussels to attend the conference on Far Eastern affairs while behind him political circles buzzed with comment at his long and in his own words "appallingly frank" speech last night in the House of Commons.

Government supporters welcomed the speech which one member described as the most complete exposition of British foreign policy given in the House since the end of the Great War.

The firmness the Foreign Secretary showed toward Italy concerning the colonial problem pleased many government members, while Labor and Liberal Opposition members, although critical of many of the Foreign Secretary's remarks, referred to it favorably.

Mr. Eden rebuffed Premier Mussolini, but not by name, for his public endorsement of Chancellor Hitler's demands for return of Germanys pre-war colonies, and in a reference to diplomacy as it was, he said, often practised now, declared that Great Britain would never submit to orders from abroad.

The Colony Call.

He reminded the House that last week "a country which was the outcome of the Great War gained considerable territory in Europe and also received certain territorial concessions in Africa from countries that were its allies in the Great War, has now championed the claim of Germany to African possessions."

"I do not desire to say anything at this moment about his claim so far as it concerns Germany and ourselves," he continued, "but I must declare plainly that we do not admit the right of any government to call upon us for a contribution when there is no evidence to show that government is prepared to make any contribution on its own account."

At the close of the session a Labor amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, was defeated 368 to 142. The motion called the government's foreign policy "weak and vacillating" and accused the government of failing to pursue a course that would lead to prosperity at home.

"I have noticed a tendency to use as part of the diplomatic machinery, methods which are highly dangerous," Eden said. "There is an inclination to threaten, to issue orders from house tops, to proclaim what is virtually an ultimatum, and to call it peace.

Not Taking Foreign Orders.

"Such methods will never have any

LINDSAY

FALSE PRETENCES COST THREE YEARS

LINDSAY, Nov. 2.—On a charge of false pretences, John Stavely, alias Johns, who operated in Lindsay, has been sentenced to three years and six months in Kingston Penitentiary. Stavely pleaded guilty to the charges at Niagara Falls. The accused, who operated extensively in the province, has included in the charges to which he pleaded guilty, one of obtaining $40 from L. A. Waddell, of Lindsay. He claimed that he was a contractor building cottages at Long Point.

Lindsay fire brigade, with pumper, had a run on Saturday evening to Hill Head, South Ops, and saved the fine home of Albert Fleming from destruction. A chimney fire had broken out on Friday, and the fire had penetrated into the walls, where it had smouldered. The firemen were on the job for two hours before the fire was finally subdued. The wind was blowing in a direct line with the big barns, and for a time a serious conflagration was feared.

Provincial Constable Adair has had numerous complaints from motorists in the district who have had their cars robbed at dances, etc. On Friday night while a party was in progress near Omemee, thieves cleaned out a number of cars and carried away the loot. J. Lowes, of Omemee, lost goods valued at over $40.

CROP SUGAR BEETS

CANTLEY, England. — (CP). — Seventeen factories in East Anglia are running night and day on a 2,000,000-ton crop of sugar beets, good for 400,000 tons of raw sugar, a quarter of Britain's domestic requirement.

Night Coughs Hard On The System

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night, is very wearing on the system, and the constant coughing not only disturbs the rest, but it keeps the bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

Sometimes it is the constant cough that won't be quieted, sometimes a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult.

Obstinate coughs and colds generally yield to the grateful, soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is indicated for this kind of a cough, as it is composed of the most soothing and healing expectorant barks, herbs, roots and balsams obtainable.

Mrs. Hazat Lamb, Lakeville, N.B., writes:—"I had such a terrible cough I could not sleep at night. I tried different medicines, but they never helped me; my cough still hung on. I then got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and I was surprised to see how quickly my cough disappeared."

AUTOPSY REVEALS WOMAN HUNTER'S SKULL FRACTURED

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Nov. 2 (CP).—Coroner J. P. Keith last night postponed an inquest into the mysterious death of Helen Grier, 28-year-old Pontiac, Mich., stenographer, whose body was found last Thursday in a lonely hunting cabin thirty-eight miles north of here.

Dr. J. R. McCrae, who performed an autopsy on the pretty girl's body, reported meanwhile that his examination showed a skull fracture as well as a bullet wound in the head.

The inquest, tentatively scheduled for last night, will be held today on the arrival of Dr. E. R. Frankish, of Toronto, medical and legal adviser to the Provincial Police.

Authorities held Vernon Spencer, 40, Miss Grier's companion since October 17, who reported finding her body in their cabin when he returned from a moose hunting trip by canoe on Long Lake. He was the only witness and was held in jail without bail.

Spencer's wife, who rushed here from their dairy farm near Wixom, Mich., was granted an interview with her husband, but other visitors were barred. The Spencers have two children.

Crown Attorney J. L. O'Flynn said no charges would be filed until after today's inquest. O'Flynn arrived here from Oba, Ont., Sunday night to take charge of the investigation.

J. A. McInnes, Spencer's solicitor, said he would offer evidence at the inquest which would "clear my client of any suspicion." He said he had proof that Miss Grier had attempted twice to take her own life.

Spencer, a former outfielder for the New York Giants and Toronto Maple Leafs, revealed that he and Miss Grier had accompanied each other on hunting trips in the Canadian woods every fall for the last seven years.

PENSION PARLEY GETS UNDER WAY

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—Government delegations from the nine provinces sit down today with Finance Minister Dunning and officers of the department to discuss ways and means of improving administration of old age pensions, the allowances are estimated to cost the Dominion government about $27,500,000 during the current fiscal year.

Ministers responsible for administration of old age pensions in each of the provinces attended with executive officers of their respective old age pension boards. It as expected deliberations would take several days. The meetings are private.

Quebec was the last province to fall in line for payment of old age pensions, entering an agreement with the Dominion Aug. 1, 1936, with an estimate of 30,000 pensionable men and women. It was believed a total of 160,000 persons would share in these disbursements during the current year, slightly less than 50 per cent of those who have passed the age of 70.

Under legislation adopted in 1927 provinces come under the old age pension scheme by passing enabling legislation. There have been various amendments to the act and at present the Dominion government is paying 75 per cent of the total disbursed, the provinces paying 25 per cent and providing administration costs.

In the first ten months of the year contracts totalled $196,576,000, compared with $142,638,800 in the corresponding period of 1936, a gain of 39.3 per cent., according to a compilation of Maclean Building Reports, Ltd.

Contracts awarded in October for Ontario totalled $7,859,300.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO CLOSE CITY WINE SHOP

Ald. Gordon's motion simply required acceptance of the lowest tender. At the meeting of the Board last week three bids were received for the work in No. 3 district, and Mr. Stinson's experience, efficiency and equipment were factors which prompted the Board to pass over the low tender by Mr. Frise.

Purchase of a 500 gallon gasoline tank and pump by the Board of Works was authorized.

Questioned $100 Grant

Alderman Gordon enquired why a grant of $100 was made to the Central Ontario Highways Association, and remarked that the Association should raise its own money.

"They are travelling around and giving a lot of interviews," he added.

Alderman Dutton quickly sprang to his feet in protest, saying he took objection to Alderman Gordon's statement.

"I have worked tremendously hard, and I wasn't travelling around giving out interviews," he said. "We have been trying to get another main highway leading into Peterborough. All the municipalities from Orangeville to Peterborough are behind this ,and no one got a cent. The money contributed by the municipalities was for the ordinary expense the Association incurred."

Mayor Macdonald said that the members of the council who had gone to meetings of the Association had paid any costs of their trips out of their own pockets.

EXPERTS FORGET SELVES AND LAUGH WITH THE QUINTS

By Mary Elizabeth Plummer
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 2 (AP).—The Dionne quintuplets reduced science yesterday to a state of doting affection by their antics at play.

Three hundred psychologists, biologists and educators who talked in serious, technical vein about the quints at a conference in Toronto, beamed and chuckled behind a wire and glass screen around their playground and said, like the average citizen, "Aren't they cute?"

The Dionnes in the flash triumphed over cold theory from the moment they ambled through the wicket gate to their playground, after the scientists arrived from Toronto aboard the "Dionne Quintuplet Special."

For a half-hour—unconscious of the eyes behind the screen — the quints rode their velocipedes furiously, sang off-key, swept the walk with small brooms and otherwise disported themselves so that one educator said:

"They're better than a five-ring circus."

Emilie made a sand pile, one quint pursued the nurse around the playground with a large spoon, and a moment later they all set up a box so it looked like a store counter—or a bar—although they've certainly never seen either—and went into a huddle over it—while the scientists laughed.

One quint walked up a slide, recled a moment, and a scientist said, "Whoops"; she jumped successfully, and the scientists said, looking like a proud father, "Bravo."

Another quint seized two big boxes, lugged them across the playground and dumped them down with a thump—and a woman psychologist, obviously captivated, said, "Bless her heart."

Oliva Dionne, father of the quints, appeared for a visit with his daughters.

"Da," shouted the quintuplets. Soon each rosy cheek had been kissed, a quint was seated on each of his shoulders with another pulling at his coat to be held, and the two on top proceeded busily to pull his hat brim over his eyes.

German Baron Restocks Farm With Canadian Holsteins

T. B. Tested, Healthier, Give More Milk Than English Breed, For His English Dairy

By Frank Flaherty
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(CP)—Baron von Trutzschler of Cheshire county, England, has just bought 197 young Canadian cows and is taking them back to England to stock his dairy farm.

An admirer of Canada and Canadian cattle the Baron said today he is highly pleased with his purchases. He made them during a two-months tour of principal dairying centres of Canada. One carload was bought in Manitoba but most of the cows were obtained in Ontario, chiefly in Peel county. All are Holsteins and all but three or four are registered.

Before loading his black and white charges on shipboard at Montreal, Baron von Trutzschler came to Ottawa to talk about farming and dairying with officials of the Department of Agriculture. He lunched with Hon. J. G. Gardiner, the minister, whom he had entertained at his farm during Mr. Gardiner's last visit to England.

Although of German birth the Baron has been farming and dealing in livestock in the British Isles since 1886, except for the war years when he was back in his native country.

He favors Canadian cows, he says, because they are healthier

CANON SHEPPARD PASSES SUDDENLY

LONDON, Nov. 2—(CP).—Outstanding preacher, pacifist and social worker, Very Rev. Hugh Richard Laurie Sheppard, 54, canon and precentor of St. Paul's Cathedral, died unexpectedly Sunday.

Unconventional and sincere in all he did, "Dick" Sheppard was one of the best known and most popular preachers in England. From 1914 to 1927, while he was vicar of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, he filled his church every Sunday and reached thousands of others through his broadcasts.

Canon Sheppard died at his home here just a week after his election as Lord Rector of Glasgow University. After a brisk campaign the clergyman defeated Winston Churchill and two other candidates. Canon Sheppard was candidate of the Peace Pledge Union.

"It is overwhelming and puts pacifism on the map," Canon Sheppard said after his election. "I am almost weeping for happiness." A branch of his Peace Pledge Union was formed at the University only two weeks before the election.

Canon Sheppard was Deputy-Priest-in-Ordinary to both King Edward VII and King George V. He served as Honorary Chaplain to King George V, Private Chaplain to the Archbishop of York and Dean of Canterbury, as well as president of the Sherlock Holmes Society of Detective enthusiasts. He retired from the Canterbury post in 1931, due to asthma, after two years service.

During the Great War he served in France as a chaplain.

Canon sheppard was better known as a preacher than a writer, but his "The Impatience of a Parson" stirred controversy in 1927, with its attacks on complacency and rigidity he found in the church.

Hunt Monster Ape In Belgian Congo

CHICAGO, Nov. 2—(AP).—Commander Attilio Gatti, the African explorer, expressed belief yesterday a fifth anthropoid exists in the Belgian Congo—a grotesque ape unknown to science, but leering darkly through the legends of the pigmies.

He said the goal of his 1938 expedition into the steaming Kibali-Ituri forest would be to obtain a specimen of the beast dead or alive.

The natives call the animal the "Malahu," Gatti said in an interview, and describe it as a beast much larger than the four known anthropoids—the gorillas, the chimpanzees, orang-outans and gibbons —walking erect, covered with long, dark hair except for the face, which is shielded by a white mane.

LOSS OF KISSES, $10,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (AP). — Mrs. Margaret Roesner, 25, values her future kisses at $10,000.

She filed suit for that amount against a cosmetic company and one of its retail distributors because a lipstick she purchased caused her to "suffer the future loss and enjoyment of osculation."

After using the lipstick, Mrs. Roesner charged, her lips became swollen, cracked and discolored, her tongue swollen and dry and nerve centre of the face paralyzed.

20 PER CENT. MORE CHEESE PRODUCED SO FAR THIS YEAR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Uovember 2—Stating that the Campbellford Cheese Board was already 20 per cent. ahead of last year in the quantity of cheese produced, District Dairy Inspector John A. Murray addressed a banquet held by the Campbellford Cheese Board in the St. Lawrence Hotel on Saturday evening, which was attended by nearly seventy members of the Board, as well as buyers and other guests.

"There have been too many undergrades this year, which seems to have been a tricky year to make cheese," said the speaker. "The cause or causes for this are uncertain. It may have been partly due to leaky cans or it may have been something in the milk condition."

Mr. Murray pointed out that the first board for this district had met in 1885, with nine factories as members. Two thousand cheese were boarded in October of that year and brought only 8 cents per pound.

Alfred Merrill, who for many years has figured prominently in the dairy industry of this district, commended the work of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association of which he is a past president. A matter of extreme regret to him was the fact that the Government had cut its grants to this particular branch of the industry.

Should Be Independent.

Replying to Mr. Merrill's suggestion regarding the restoration of grants, W. A. Fraser, M.P., told the gathering that 'every industry should recognize the fact that the Government is a legislative and administrative body, and whether you be fruit growers or poultry raisers, the less interest the Government has in the industry the better you are off. Although it is the duty of the Government to assist the various groups to function, it is essential that each should be able to function independently."

H. N. Carr, M.L.A., who indirectly represents the dairy industry at Queen's Park, having been in the creamery business for a number of years, assured his listeners that he would be at their service at any time. Referring to the Marketing Act, Mr. Carr referred to it as an experiment of which he was "dubious," but hoped it would work out to advantage.

Other speakers and guests at the banquet, which was presided over by Vice-president Harold B. Wood, in the absence of the president, T. Braden of Lakefield, were Messrs. A. J. Meyers, Frank Little, Jack Cook, James Bell, W. H. Bailey, R. W. Hart, J. D. Mills, P. J. Murphy, and S. A. Maguire.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Liberal selling prompted by weakness at Liverpool and Chicago sent wheat futures more than three cents lower on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, with final quotations 2¾ to 2¼ cents lower, November, $1.18¼; December, $1.15⅛, and May, $1.13¼ to ⅝.

General lack of support contributed largely to the decline with stop-loss liquidation sending prices to their lowest levels in the final hour.

Mill buying in early dealings steadied prices and cash wheat demand resulted in higher prices for No. 1 and 2 Northern grades. However, cash wheat trading turned quiet before the final slump in futures.

Export trade in Canadian wheat was estimated around 200,000 bushels worked out of Vancouver.

Northern Hastings Bare Of Game

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 2. —(CP)— Local naturalists are puzzled by scarcity of wild life in Northern Hastings county. A local man who spent the weekend at Salmon Lake walked through the woods for an hour and saw scarcely a living thing. The heavy crop of fallen nuts was undisturbed.

Squirrels, chipmunks, partridge and even rabbits have vanished from sections where they were formerly numerous and no one knows the reason.

Handicraft Night
Queen Alexandra H. and S.

Monday evening was "Handicraft Night" at the regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association of Queen Alexandra School. Many lovely things, examples of work done by members were on display in the kindergarten room. Of especial interest was a hand-weaving loom, with a piece of cloth being woven in it—the property of Mrs. C. H. Saunders.

The large attendance of members was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. M. Richardson. Main speaker of the evening was Mrs. C. S. Thompson, who gave an interesting and instructive discourse on various handicrafts that might be enjoyed in the home. Illustrating her talk with samples of batik work, darning on net, tooled leather, and other forms, the speaker said that the crafts were a form of self expression, to be brought into our daily life, providing entertainment without undue effort with increased enjoyment, and training for the imagination. In addition they provided useful, beautiful and original articles.

Under the heading, "Fostering the Imagination", Mrs. Collis spoke of the importance of training the imagination of children in the home and every day surroundings. "Life is monotonous without imagination", said the speaker, "and children should be encouraged to think creatively".

Mrs. G. A. Spicer, president of the Home and School Council spoke to the meeting concerning the series of Leadership Training meetings to be held by the Council.

An enjoyable program consisted of two readings by little Evelyn Rendall; a vocal solo by Billy Unitt, accompanied at the piano by Mary Lillow; piano duet by Jean and Mary Lillow; a piano solo by Burton McBride.

What Is Next In Way Of Shoes?

Heaven help us strap-hangers if the girls go for this new shoe fashion introduced by the Countess Castelbarco who arrived at New York on the Conte di Savoia. Known as Venetian clogs, they are made of cork, and have five-inch heels and three-inch soles.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
Like one that wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."
—William C. Bryant.

Dear Friends:

Sometimes life seems to get too much for us. We do our best as far as we see it, yet there is a lingering doubt in our minds as to whether we did right or not, and one thing piling up on another we get weary, weary.

The thought of giving the whole thing up appeals to us. The idea of being done with all these perplexities looks enticing, but the mere fact of our tiredness does not end life by any means. Finishing it off ourselves is the cowards' way out, and with all this weariness, the will to live is much stronger in us than we think.

We make decisions as best we may, and in the doing we may also make mistakes, for none are right all the time. But—if we consider well, if we use our experience or that of others for our guidance what more can we do.

There are ill winds which harm many people, but the same winds are of benefit to many others. Same with your decisions, they can not please everyone, and all you can do is the thing that will benefit the most people.

Not long ago a woman came to me for a reading who was in very great trouble. She had had to do something which caused a drastic change in her life, she had a vast sympathy with the wrong-doer who had brought this situation about, yes it was obvious that she could not have done anything else than she did, but her mind was troubled about the one who caused all this.

She had been to her minister, who, after hearing her story, agreed heartily she had done right. Then she came to me for help. Now, it is hard for anyone to advise in a case like this, but I could show her that had she not made this change, worse would have followed.

Every day we read of some woman who waited too long before making a decision, and generally murder followed. When all the signs point in one direction, it is folly to wait until terrible things happen before making a change.

When a man has had all the not made this change, worse would chances in the world, when he has been helped out of one mixup after another, again and again and again, until more than seventy times seven, yet still will not mend his ways, but go back to the husks which are ruining his life and all those about him, when there are threats and violence and ugly quarrellings, then surely it is time to do something about it.

And sometimes God sees how our efforts are going for naught, He hears our prayers, He sees our anguish, and He points the way so that He can handle things where we have failed. Sometimes a person must be brought far down, before they get the vision to climb up again, and we, if we interfere undo all His work.

So, instead of having the taste of death in our mouths, let us do our best, leaving the rest with God, Going onward with faith and trust, and not as if life had whipped us to our grave. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Win Fame as a Writer By Teaching Yourself

Nell is the town's celebrity since she began selling her short stories. Every one's eager to meet her.

She's amused by the remarks of her admirers. "I wish I had talent, too," they say. Or, "I'd like to write but I've never had any exciting experiences."

"But, my dear," she answers, "writing isn't hard. It's knowing what to write about—and how to get your ideas on paper. You've enough material for a dozen books—no matter how quiet your life has been. The secret is to arrange that material in an exciting, gripping way. That's how to get and hold your reader's attention."

Nell took her clever ideas for plot and phrasing from our 32-page booklet on writing for publication. Simple, easy rules for writing short stories, articles, novels.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

HOPE FOR THIS THRILL

ONE EXTREMELY unusual play is the shortening of your own trumps by ruffing so that you can use the dummy's trumps for the discarding of losers in some other suit. The situation for this play is not likely to come to the average fine player oftener than once in several years, but if he is able to recognize it, he is in for a genuine thrill

South's opening bid on this deal was 1-Diamond, West overcalled with 2-Clubs, North called 2-No Trumps, South 3-Hearts, North 5-Hearts and South 6-Hearts.

Lester Crane of Miami, Fla., was the declarer at this contract and, when the opening lead of the club K was made, he realized immediately that as the heart A had to be given up he should find some plan to avoid taking the spade finesse. The deal presented no opportunity for an end play, but there was one method open to him and he went after the contract on that basis.

The first lead was won in the dummy with the club A and a club immediately ruffed. The heart K was led and won by West, who returned another club for a ruff by South. The heart Q was ruffed and a spade led to dummy's A. The two setup hearts in dummy drew the outstanding trumps, on which Mr. Crane discarded his two losing spades. The solid diamond suit was then run, so that the contract was made.

What is the correct bidding on the North-South holdings?

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Wednesday, November 3.

A day of disruption, commotion and rather adverse conditions is forecast from the prevailing planetary influences. Employment seems at stake, with rivalry, enmity and false reports making things disagreeable. This may cause one to make an abrupt and hazardous change. With caution consideration and sagacity, this condition may be transformed into a profitable situation, but be careful with strangers and untried ventures. Private affairs should move pleasantly.

Those whose birthday it is face a change in their affairs abruptly brought about by their own restlessness and peculiar urges. With sagacity and forethought, this adverse situation may be turned to profit, but be cautious with strangers and untried propositions.

A child born on this day may be clever, adventurous and talented in unusual directions, but may be restless and temperamental, inviting some enmities and false reports.

He Feels Confused

In all there were 300 persons visiting the Dionne quints at the week-end, and nearly all came under the general heading of psychologists, specialists and so on.

It was almost too much for Dr. Allan R. Dafoe, and he confessed a good deal of their charting and theories were over his head. Perhaps it made him feel that he did not know very much after all.

All he had to do was respond to a call and find five children being prematurely born; then he had to find some way in which to keep in them what little life they happened to possess. They were blue things and very thin and it would have taken very little to have wiped them out. Then after that all he had to do was improvise and beg for the needed equipment to provide even temperature for them, to learn how best to feed them and look after them generally.

Dr. Dafoe may be confused and momentarily lost in the midst of charts and tables and all such. So it may be well to remind him that no quints previously have lived. That bare fact may help to restore his equilibrium.

He Should Be Told

This we clipped from the St. Catharines Standard:

> A local bank manager who returned Thursday night from rural parts with an empty bag after an all day shoot expressed the intention of inviting the Editor of The Peterborough Examiner here for the next pheasant hunt. That gentleman's opinion that pheasants were almost as tame as barnyard fowl was regarded as not so hot.

And yet we recall reading that as a result of the two days of pheasant shooting something like 15,000 of the birds had been killed. Again it may be the St. Catharines banker is not a good shot or a good shooter, or whatever it is they call them. Neither is he a good diplomat. In these days when wild men go riding about the country raiding banks the bankers are supposed to have some knowledge of shooting. True they are not encouraged to risk their lives to save dollars, but it is well that the bad men of the world should be given the impression that when a banker draws a snub-nosed weapon or a great fowling piece something bad is going to happen. For a banker of St. Catharines to admit he returned after the day had been far spent and had not with him as much as one pheasant is an admission of poor marksmanship, and that is not good for banking. We hope the man at the Standard office explains all that to him.

Two Men On One Horse

Artillery officers are in for a change. New orders in Britain are to the effect that from January 1-1938, there shall be only one charger for every two officers. The order simply means that after the first of the year Col. Brown or Col. Jones can ride horseback—but not both of them at the same time unless they can so fix things that they can sit upon the same horse. In the ordinary course of events if Col. Brown straddles the horse then Col. Jones will have to take a ride in a gas-driven lorry, and no man looks so much like a colonel when riding in a lorry as he does when mounted on a good horse.

It is reported from Britain there has been opposition to the move which leaves but one horse for every two officers, but the protests have been in vain. Artillery is being mechanized and the officers will have to develop a new technique of looking as stately and impressive as possible when riding on a lorry as they would seated upon a nice-stepping horse. It's tough we know, but when Britain makes up her mind on such a point then it will not be changed.

We Call Them Peculiar

A few days ago the Examiner mentioned that children from the homes of Amish and Mennonite people in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, had refused to attend a new school costing $112,000, erected under the Public Works Administration plan, by which the government funds would pay part and the territory served would become responsible for the balance.

The outcome of the trouble has been a victory for the Amish and Mennonite people as intimated in the Examiner previously. The children will return to some ten little red school houses scattered throughout the country and the new and more elaborate school will be used by the other children of the district.

The "plain people" of Lancaster county have not changed one of their religious or other customs since they first settled there in 1712. They did not want the new school because it meant issuing debentures, and that means going into debt, and the Amish and Mennonite people do not like debt. Also they considered there were worldly and unnecessary things in the new school on which they could not ask the blessing of God. Back of it all is the fear of these people that their children will be educated to the point where they will leave the land. Their own phrase for that is "educating them off the land."

The report telling of their victory recalls that Amish and Mennonite folk are forbidden to accept charity, public or private, and they looked upon the government donation to building a school for their children as public charity. We may look upon them as a peculiar people, but at the same time we could do very well with a more general acceptance of the doctrine which looks upon government money as charity which we will not accept. As a rule we hail with delight the expenditure of public money in any of our communities, and that feeling may account in part for our increasing indebtedness.

Get In If You Can

Charles Renaud of Lakefield, also of Norwood is going to conduct the Peterborough Male Voice Choir. It may be Mr. Renaud will bring with him some of the beauty and spirit of the district and inject it into the sweet singers of this city which will carry them great distances. We hope so. Mr. Renaud has produced results in the work he has been doing before. He ought to have more material with which to build and work in Peterborough.

Peterborough can have a reputation as a musical centre, but it cannot have it without earning it, and in the earning of it the men in Peterborough who delight in singing can play their full part and have a good time out of it. Time was when the men of this city were noted for their choir and they were considered good enough to successfully invade some of the larger centres and do so with ease and assurance of a worthy reception.

The Examiner has not been requested to make any appeals, and perhaps none are wanted, but we would advise all men who are fond of singing and who can sing, to get in touch with the Male Voice Choir. The hours so spent will be profitable.

Officials Are Puzzled

It does not seem possible to keep people from writing things about the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to United States. Possibly the visitors themselves would prefer that nothing be said; they might be content with a personal item or something of that sort, but people are not agreeable to let it pass that way.

Reports from Washington say the British Embassy there is a trifle tense at the moment, and the foreign department of the United States government is feeling something the same. They do not know exactly what to do. One writer uses a rather apt phrase and says the atmosphere can best be described by saying "the frost is on the pumpkin."

Truth is the Duke has no official standing when he comes to United States, nor will he be recognized officially by the British Embassy at Washington, nor will he be received officially by the United States government. And yet he is the ex-king of Britain and a brother of the present king and people in general are mightily interested in him. He is discreet enough to know and recognize his place, but there is always the question of what he is going to do next. He cannot indefinitely keep on going from place to place. Sooner or later there will have to be a settling down process and a place called home. His previous experience and training has fitted him to be a salesman on a large scale with a world knowledge back of it, but it is not customary for members of the royal family to engage in such business. He might, it has been suggested, go back to England as a country gentleman, and that might be the best way out. In that role he might find many things to do. At present the Duke and Duchess are cheered and looked at wherever they go, but that must become tiresome.

In Pioneer Days

Writing in the London Free Press W. G. Trestain produces an interesting story of the earlier experiences of Thomas Walters, now 92. Mr. Walters recalls coming to what is now the city of London 70 years ago, and that would be in 1867. He was not much impressed by the size or extent of the London of that day, and shortly after went into London township, some of which had been only partially cleared. Mr. Walters recalls that trees were everywhere at that time and he recalled having seen as many as fifty teams taking wood to London where it was sold to the railway company as fuel for engines. The price was figured on the cost of cutting and hauling, and the value of the wood was never considered. There were sections of Middlesex County, in which London city and township are located, which were settled earlier. In West Williams there was a grist and saw mill at Sylvan which was built in 1852.

But even so the settlement of that part of Ontario was not done at so early a date as in Peterborough and adjacent counties. The year 1818 is given as the time when settlers first made their way into this part of the country, a number of them coming in as a result of the United Empire Loyalists' movement. Most of them landed first at what is now Port Hope and drove to Rice Lake, where they took the boat which they had brought with them and made their way by the Otonabee river as far as the place where Peterborough has since been built. This district seems to have been fortunate in securing what might be termed land-minded or land-loving people, and we doubt if there are many places in the province which can show an equal number of families where five and six generations have lived on the same farms. It is not far removed from 120 years since the first settlement began in this district. So we may be pardoned if we take precedence over some of the Western sections of the province in that particular phase of community interest.

THERE ARE some interesting stories told of early settlers, and it may be we pay far too little attention to them. For instance: The first school house in Otonabee was built on the east half of lot 20 on the third concession. One had been previously erected but was never used as a school. The first teacher was Mr. David Housten, a Scot who came in from Cobourg, and appeared to have the training considered necessary or sufficient at that time. Not long after the teacher was stricken with fever and ague at the home of Mr. John Williams, near Sully, where he was detained for two months. In his extremity Dr. Gilchrist of Keene was sent for and he made several visits. The school teacher recovered and then wrote a letter of appreciation and thanks to Dr. Gilchrist, but was forced to lament the painful fact that he was not possessed of money with which to pay the doctor, but promised that as soon as he was once again in health he would gladly pay the bill as soon as possible.

Fortunately the contents of the letter which Dr. Gilchrist sent in return have been preserved, and it was this:

REPLY TO MONEYLESS PATIENT.

Sir: When you see a fellow creature in distress relieve him as far as your abilities will allow, and in so doing you will discharge the debt you owe to—

JOHN GILCHRIST.

Otonabee—1830.

We do not know whether there has been anything finer said or written in this district since the year 1830. The kindly doctor merely told the cured schoolmaster to pay his bill by doing a good turn for some other person. Whether we have retained that spirit of the early days is a matter of conjecture. Certainly Dr. Gilchrist possessed a philosophy of life and of living which would make any community the richer for its possession and active operation.

LITTLE THINGS

¶ It was only a smile but it helped on the way, and it came at the close of a troubled day, when things were too hard to bear; it was only a smile and the effort was slight, but it came like a kindly ray of light, and it lessened a load of care.

¶ It was only a word and yet it was kind, and it came to a man with a troubled mind, as vexed as a mind could be; yet that simple word that came from the heart, to this troubled man gave a much-needed start, and gave him a chance to see.

¶ It was only a song, a simple thing, that the singer was minded one day to sing, it told of a better land; yet that simple song touched a man who had slipped, and by something outside of himself he was gripped, and power was placed in his hand.

¶ It was only a look that came to a man, who lived in the wreck of his dearest plan, but it came from a kindly eye; the man who'd been beaten and buffeted sore, returned to the struggle yet once more, with a stronger desire to try.

¶ It was only a clasp of the hand that came, when a man was wracked on a bed of pain, but in it was warmth and cheer; and the sickened man felt his courage rise, and clouds were brushed from out his skies, and his way seemed a lot more clear.

¶ Not one of these things was so very great, just simple and homely perhaps we'd rate, just a word, a smile or a song; but they touched upon folk whose life had been marred, and they'd found the travelling rather hard—and helped them to march along.

FOUR YEARS ago William Edmondson was a handyman around Nashville, Tenn. Then the 50-year-old negro "got the call" to become a sculptor and preacher. His own race liked his oratory from the start. His carving landed him among high-ranking artists when the important Museum of Modern Ar at New York accorded him a one-man sculpture show. The directors of the museum hail the limestone figures produced by Edmondson as "modern primitives."

The high honor has made little impression upon Edmondson. He still lives in the negro section of Nashville where the neighborhood resounds with his boisterous laughter. Day after day he works in the large vegetable garden behind his simple frame house, growing potatoes and beans to pay for the second hand building stones from which he hews his statues.

The former handyman has his front yard filled with stone angels, preachers, mourning doves, lambs of God and other subjects of biblical inspiration. He never knows for sure what he is going to carve—"the Lord tells me." Then, if he doesn't get to work his Creator becomes angry and makes the innocent negro exceedingly "tiderty." This at least is Edmondson's explanation of why he kept on sculpturing for four years when practically nobody bought any of his masterpieces.

The United States Internal Revenue Bureau recently charged Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cadwalader Jr. of Philadelphia with "fraud" in the sale of stock in their yacht Sarsouna with intent to evade tax. The $2,000,000 vessel, built in Germany in 1931 is more than 400 feet long and is reputedly the world's largest private yacht. It is never been in American waters and if it were brought to the United States its owners would have to pay 30 per cent duty.

More Women Cyclists.

VERY SOON there will be more women cyclists than men according to the experts who attended the recent international bicycle and motor cycle show in London. It was noticed that for the first time in history more women's bicycles were being ordered than man's. Orders placed by dealers with one of the leading manufacturers represented showed that the proportion was 60 per cent. for women's machines and 40 per cent. for men's bicycles.

The reasons given are that more girls are using bicycles to go to and from work while the new keep-fit movement is inducing many more women to use cycles for exercise and shopping expeditions.

At the extremes of the day the dark part will be turned to catch and absorb the greatest amount of heat, some of which may be stored in the building, lessening materially the wide range of temperatures. Interior lighting and perhaps heating will be by infra-red rays, artifically produced.

Duke Will Have to Make Best of It

Probably Finds It Hard to Do Nothing; Should Go Home and Be Country Gentleman

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

THE DUKE OF WINDSOR, who is evidently getting a bit bored with a life of ease, after the busy life he led for years, is coming on a visit to the United States. This, naturally, has brought forth varying opinions as to what he should do and should not do. Everybody is well aware that his visit will a number of Nazi officials was displeasing to the powers-that-be in Great Britain.

The St. Thomas Times-Journal, referring to the Duke's visit to the United States to study housing conditions, points out that the British are years ahead of the United States or any other country in the matter of housing and that there is nothing he can learn there that would be of the slightest value to the United Kingdom."

The Ottawa Citizen is anxious that the Duke of Windsor should visit Canada. It says: "Some one like Edward of Windsor is needed in Canada . . . to turn the searchlight of publicity on conditions of dire poverty in prairie homes, in the drab unpainted shacks within sight of Parliament Hill in Ottawa, as well as in the unsanitary, crowded dwellings of impoverished workers."

The fact seems to be that Edward, Duke of Windsor, chose to make his own bed, but is not very comfortable in it. He wants to be up and doing. Despite the Ottawa Citizen's anxiety at Canadian hospitality, and the desire of certain people and organizations to bring the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to Canada, we are quite sure most of us heaved a sigh of relief when we read that they were not coming into this country.

Edward, Duke of Windsor, was King of England. He gave up the Crown with its responsibilities in order to marry the woman he loved, who incidentally has two ex-husbands living. The Crown, with all its responsibilities, descended upon the head of his brother, George, who is trying to the best of his ability to live up to the reputation of his father. He should be now the first thought of the British people, and not the Duke of Windsor. The latter, who left the post of duty for love, is now a private citizen. What he does or does not do can have no official significance unless he is sent upon an official mission.

We are inclined to agree with the St. Thomas Times-Journal when it says that perhaps the best thing might be to invite the Duke of Windsor to come "home" and live the life of an English country gentleman. It is true he may not get much to do, but he will be, at least, among familiar surroundings and he may eventually find that life congenial. Certain it is that if he visits foreign countries here and there, go study this and study that, he is bound to embarrass the home government.

Low Wages Are Being Paid in Britain

Average Earnings Much Less Than Our Standard; Printing and Paper Group Stood the Highest

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

IT IS COMMON knowledge here that industrial workers in Great Britain receive much less pay than the corresponding workers in Canada and the United States. It is also true that commodities are cheaper over there, so that the balance is to some extent redressed. Clothes and shoes, also rent are lower, but there is not much difference, if any, in the matter of food, due to the fact that so much has to be imported—wheat, meat and dairy produce.

We referred the other day to a survey about to be undertaken by the Ministry of Labor among 30,000 workingmen's households as to exactly how the family incomes are spent, every penny being accounted for. The survey is limited to workers with incomes of around $1,250 a year, that being regarded as approximately the earnings of the average workingman.

An interesting complement of this inquiry is a report just released by the same ministry showing the average pay in 282 industries. It works out at $12.50 per week, including women, girls and boys. Fully skilled workmen, however, earn about twice that amount, hence the $1,250 standard for ascertaining how a man's income is spent.

The wage survey was made about two years ago but the figures have only been released. The inquiry covered 5,507,729 people, which is about half the total number employed throughout the country. The average earnings, per head, of all these people, exclusive of railway men and miners, came to 48 shillings 11 pence per week, or 12.22. Men over 21 years old averaged $16.12 per week; young men under 21 years of age, $5.75; women more than 18 years old, $7.81, and girls under 18 years, $4.08.

Since that time there have been wage increases which bring these averages to $12.83, but as railway workers averaged $13.39 and coal miners $12.75, it gives an average over all of about $12.50.

Of the fifteen general groups of industries surveyed, the printing and paper group paid the best average wage to adult men—$20.91 a week. Incidentally it may be said that the printing and paper industries also pay the highest scales in Canada. The mining and quarrying industries paid the worst—$13.38.

Boys got their best wages in government industrial establishments—$14.98. In the building and contracting trades their average was only $8.43.

The top average wage for adult women, $8.45, was paid by the woodworking industry; their sisters in the public utility services got an aveage of $7.04.

Young women and girls in the clothing industry averaged $3.75 a week; in the public utility services, $3.85, and those in government industrial establishments, $4.82.

The average working week of those covered by the survey was forty-seven hours.

Few people on this continent could afford to own a car on such wages, whereas few families have not got at least one automobile. It has been truly said that the standard of living in the Americas is an automobile standard and in Europe it is a bicycle standard.

PRIEST WILL NOT TELL.

(Calcutta Statesman)

SHOULD A priest divulge to the police the identity of a confessor?

Does a refusal constitute an offence under the Penal Code?

These are two problems, wires our Trivandrum correspondent, which the local magistrate has been called upon to solve.

The Rev. Father Paul of St. Joseph's Church is reported to have recovered after confession certain stolen articles and to have restored them to their rightful owner. The police had previously written down the crime as undetected, but investigations were revived, and the priest was asked to reveal the suspect's name.

Father Paul said that no priest was allowed to divulge the name of a person who had made a religious confession even in order to avoid capital punishment. He is now charged under the section of the Travancore Penal Code which lays down that whoever refuses to speak the truth to a qualified officer is liable to simple imprisonment for six months, or a fine of Rs. 1,000, or both.

SHOULD BE BONDED.

(Ottawa Journal)

THE LAW Society of Upper Canada is commended by the Peterborough Examiner because the Benchers have removed from the roll of barristers a member who was held "guilty of professional misconduct and conduct unbecoming a barrister and solicitor in connection with an estate in his hands." The Examiner thinks this proves that the legal profession "keeps its own house clean," which is the contention of the Law Society.

Accually the power of the Society to remove a barrister from the practice of his profession is a perfect illustration of that celebrated futility: locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen.

The simple provision that lawyers handling trust funds put up securities or a bond to the full extent of such funds would save the necessity of such punishment as the Law Society occasionally inflicts. Lawyers would be protected against the temptation to "borrow" from other people's money—a temptation that is not, of course, peculiar to their profession. And, even more important, their clients, the owners of the trust funds, would be assured against loss.

The law is a profession with many privileges, and it is right that professional misconduct should be punished severely. But we encourage that misconduct, or at least make it easy, by permitting lawyers to act as private bankers, with no security for clients but their good faith. Banks and trust companies are not given nearly so much latitude.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

AND THEY come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four. And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee. But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sin but God only? And immediately when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up your bed, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house. And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.— Mark ii, 3-12.

To the Editor

IN SPAIN

Editor Examiner:

Sir: May I be allowed to congratulate Mr. Meehan on his view of the Spanish war. In sofar as my judgment goes all British citizens standing for freedom and justice should have the same. Now a Mr. Cichetti has spoken on the contrary. I think anyone approving Mussolini's policies of aggression and agitation would use much better judgment while in this land of liberty to keep mum on the subject. If Russia is aiding the defenders and brings them out victorious it will be a contribution to the peace of the world and a righteous piece of work in aiding the innocent Loyalists against that cruel and ruthless master of slaughtery.

SANTA CLAUS TO ARRIVE IN CITY DEC. 3

Christmas Season Will Be Opened With Grand Parade

Merchants Decide to Remain Closed On Remembrance Day and Boxing Day

Definite word was received on Monday night at a well attended meeting of the Peterborough Business Men's Association that Santa Claus will arrive here on the night of December 3 when the Christmas season will be officially opened in Peterborough.

The gay old gentleman will arrive by the Canadian Pacific on the Toronto evening train and he will be officially welcomed by the largest Christmas parade ever to be held in this city. The parade is scheduled to form up at the Industrial Exhibition Park and parade up George street in time to meet the train which will be gaily decorated. Three beautifully decorated Christmas floats which will be lighted will be entered by the association and the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., fire department, police and service clubs will be asked to co-operate. On top of this there will at least be 50 comic costumes which are being secured in Toronto and merchants will enter decorated cars and trucks and other comic costumes.

With an attendance of over eighty and with president James Geraghty presiding, the meeting was the largest and most representative of the various business organizations to be held here in some years.

Close Remembrance Day

It was definitely decided to close the Peterborough stores on Remembrance Day with the places of business closing at the usual hour the evening preceding. With the idea of treating the help in the various stores in the spirit of the season was the decision to close the stores on Christmas Eve at ten o'clock and to remain closed until Tuesday morning, thus observing Boxing day as a holiday.

President Geraghty outlined the aims and objects of the association which are to promote a better spirit of goodwill between the merchants and the agriculturists of the trading territory; to promote tourist trade in Peterborough; to endeavor to bring new industries to the city; to aid the Winter Carnival committee and also the water sports' committee which will be organized early in the year; to make Peterborough a greater retail centre and to promote a greater degree of co-operation between the industries already in the city and the business men. With a membership already of eighty-five the association whose membership fee is one dollar, has high hopes of having 200 members before the end of the year.

Water Sports Carnival

J. J. Duffus, M.P., was present and congratulated the association on its organization and also outlined what had been done on the Little Lake Crescent. He told of securing the various grants which in all have totalled over $15,000 to complete the work and then in connection with the wharf it was found that all tenders were above the amount of $10,000 placed in the estimates. However the department decided to do the work by day labor and it is hoped that it will be completed by early spring and be ready for the water carnival next summer. He also intimated that two cabinet ministers had promised to come to the city at the time of the official turning over of the Crescent to the city.

Toronto Will Vote On Housing Loan

TORONTO, Nov. 2 (CP)—Toronto City Council, by a majority vote, last night approved a motion by Controller Ralph Day that municipal electors be asked Dec. 6 to say whether or not they favor the issuing of debentures to the extent of $2,000,000 to be used in construction of low-cost housing. Final reading was postponed until today.

Introduced late in the session, the motion created immediate disorder in the chamber. Members stood up in their seats shouting at each other. Some charged they were forced into voting on a vital question without being allowed sufficient time to discuss it in detail.

Attempts to refer the motion back to the Board of Control for further consideration were defeated.

38 CANDIDATES ARE CONFIRMED AT ALL SAINTS'

Commemorating All Saints' Day in a fitting manner, the congregation of All Saints' Anglican Church held their ninth anniversary of the consecration of the church and their confirmation service Monday night when a large number of members and adherents were present to participate in the solemn occasion.

Officiating at these anniversary services was the Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, D.D., Archbishop of Toronto, with the following assisting clergymen, Archbishop's Chaplain, Rev. R. T. F. Brain, Rev. E. C. Moore, R.D., who took the preface. The first scripture lesson was read by Rev. F. A. Smith of Trenton, the second scripture by Rev. T. S. Gault of St. George's Church and the third scripture by the lay reader, T. H. Boddy.

Deanery Met

The clergy of the Rural-deanal chapter, who met in the afternoon remained for the ceremony in the evening, when the archbishop preached the confirmation sermon and presented the charge to the candidates.

In opening his fine message the archbishop spoke of this as an auspicious occasion, happily combining the anniversary and the confirmation which concerns both the past and the future of the church. He also expressed his appreciation of the presence of so many of the clergy of the Deanery, and thanked the people for their generous response to the appeal from the West, which he declared is still a "land of promise."

"Sometimes," said the venerable speaker, "a gift is given to the church on an anniversary occasion, but there is nothing more beautiful to present to a congregation than a confirmation class. It is an assurance that the word of Christ is standing true in spite of the many obstacles of today.

It is Christ's great method of calling out people, one by one, to follow Him, and to seek his grace, that we have in such a class.

"We are all called to be saints—people who believe in Christ, and it should be the ideal of every congregation to produce saints."

Jesus chose ordinary men to be His followers and called them His saints and so, He calls you. "Called to be saints" were the actual words of the Archbishop's text, which he went on to exemplify as Christians transformed in the image of Christ. To become a saint, according to St. Peter or St. Paul, or any who have achieved sainthship, there is only one way, and that is by receiving the grace of Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit, through prayer, Bible study, public worship, the sacrament and in Christian service. A saint, he continued, is a sinner who keeps on believing, praying and using the means of grace.

In closing his address to the thirty-eight candidates the Archbishop said "So you are called to be saints, on All Saints' Day, in All Saints' Church, and in the presence of these witnesses to make the solemn promise of a Christian and to kneel and receive the grace of Christ."

Before putting the three questions to the candidates he assured them that they must come often to the place of renewal and beginning again at the feet of Jesus.

Laying On Of Hands

Following the prayer hymn "Breathe On Me, Breath of God," came the ceremony of the laying on of hands, when the confirmation class was presented by the Rev. Canon J. Douglas Paterson, who later expressed to the Archbishop their very great happiness in the honor of his presence upon this his first visit since his return from England where he was in attendance at the Oxford and Edinburgh Conferences.

Canon Paterson, in announcing the first communion for the candidates, urged that the parents or friends be present with them to encourage and hold them in the way.

This service of deep, sacred significance to both the confirmation class and the congregation closed with the recessional hymn "Crown Him Lord of All."

Laughing Gas Ends Childbirth Pains

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(CP)—An apparatus for reducing the pain of childbirth is a feature of the London medical exhibition.

Approved by the Central Midwives' Board, the apparatus is a means of administering nitrous oxide, commonly called laughing gas, in safe quantities to a patient and creating a condition in which, without any loss of consciousness, the sense of pain is reduced almost to nothing.

Already in use in one London hospital, the apparatus requires no special skill to operate and it may even be left at the patient's bedside to be used as required.

Cosmetic artificial features, for use in cases where surgery is unable to remedy a disfigurment, are also on display. Realistic false noses, ears and eye-sockets, made of soft plastic material, are shown. The initial cost, say for an artificial ear, is listed at £20 ($100) but after the first fitting replacements cost only three shillings each.

Mayor Criticises School Board For Assuming $3000 Obligation

Heated Argument Follows Weston Shoe Application For Tax Rebate

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 2.—Branding the School Board as being like a bunch of cowboys who in days gone by would shoot first and investigate afterwards, Mayor F. F. Long severely criticized the Board for taking on their own shoulders the responsibility of assuming the $3,000 obligation for installing the new equipment in the High school without first consulting the Council.

At the conclusion of a long speech in which he outlined the various reasons why the Board had been obliged to go ahead with the improvements, Dr. H. O. Richardson, who spoke on behalf of a large representation from the School Board, stated the Department would pay $1,500.000 or one half the total amount as soon as the vouchers were submitted. Outlining several ways by which the council could meet the obligation he suggested that the town place at their disposal in the Bank a credit for the full amount of $3,000 of which half would be repaid on receipt of the government grants and the balance would be taken care of by the board from their own yearly grants from the Department over a period of three or four years.

"In considering important matters of expenditure it is usual to consult the Council as to the best ways and means of financing such a project," suggested the Mayor. "There hasn't been enough co-operation between the different Boards of the town. As you know, the Council has very few dollars to spend itself and the School Board has already sent in its requisitions and we have arranged our budget accordingly. "This is a little different—just a matter of financing—it all comes back to us," said Dr. Richardson. "It would have been better to have discussed the financing with the Council,' admonished the Mayor. "I could have called a special meeting in forty-eight hours which would not have delayed the work to any extent."

On motion the matter was left in the hands of the chairman of the finance committee to arrange through the Bank a credit for the Board of $3,000, which amount should be kept in a separate account to be paid off by the Board upon receipt of special grants from the Department.

Hectic Session Follows.

Speaking in his capacity as trustee to the bond holders of the Weston Shoe Company, Councillor N. Alex. McColl in requesting that a rebate of taxes be granted on the building which is slated for sale pending the Mayors signature to the tax warrant, presaged one of the most hectic outbursts in the history of the town council. He suggested that the company, which already had close to $1,200 in tax arrears against it and had ceased to operate several years ago, be granted a rebate of $600 or in other words that the bond holders should be given a clear receipt for taxes up to the end of 1937 on payment of $600 from the company's treasury. This he claimed would enable those holding bonds to get a little more of the $19,500 which they had invested if they were able during the next year with returning prosperity to sell the property.

"The bonds of this company were purchased by the people of this town solely to aid the working people of the town and not with any thought in mind of any dividends," stated Mr. McColl in pressing his claim for a rebate.

At this juncture Councillor MacMillan interrupted. "Do you expect me to sit here and believe that? "I myself had money invested in the company and certainly did not think it in any other way except to help the employees and the town itself," continued Mr. McColl.

"Bunk! You're not going to stand there and get away with that stuff as long as I'm on the Council," fired Councillor MacMillan.

"I didn't come here to be insulted by you" countered the chairman of the Finance committee in reply.

It was then suggested that the council seize the chattels of the company and sell them by auction to which Mr. McColl argued they would receive much less than they were actually worth.

"What the town should have done was take the property over several years ago and run the factory itself," said Reeve E. H. McKeel. "The town owned the building in the first place and it looks as though they're going to take it back now." It was pointed out that the town had acquired the property for $7,000 thirty-five years ago.

Councillor Kelly then made a motion that the council accept the offer of Trustee McColl to pay $600.00 and give the company a clear receipt up to but exclusive of 1937 taxes, but his motion had no seconder.

McKeel advocated taking the building over for the $1200 back taxes, "by Mr. McColl's plan we will give away $600 and have nothing, and if we let it go for tax sale we will be out the $1200, but we will at least have the building."

Being questioned as to what he thought a fair assessment for the building would be Councillor O'Sullivan stated that $1500 would be the maximum. Deputy Reeve C. H. Calver then made a motion that the town accept 60 per cent of the total taxes due on the Weston Shoe Company up to Dec. 15th, 1937 and give the bondholders a clear receipt. Councillor Dorie seconded the motion, which was later withdrawn when Reeve McKeel suggested that the council should get a ruling from the town solicitor before voting on the matter.

"The effect of holding a tax sale would be pretty well nullified if we permitted a rebate of 60 per cent to all those going three or four years behind in their taxes," intimated Mr. McKeel. Harry Townsend, assessor reported to the council that he had collected $407 for dog tax which was $74 more than had been collected last year.

Following a report from Relief Officer J. Lewis Hay that no relief had been given during the past four months the pay sheet was passed and the council adjourned.

CAMPBELLFORD

ROTARY GIVES AID BEYOND INDIVIDUAL

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 2.—Beginning their series of five minute talks dealing with Rotary and its activities A. D. Bennett addressed the club briefly saying that he had found Rotary particularly valuable for its fellowship which brought the members together in closer friendship. He suggested that it would be impossible for the individual member to contribute to charity to the same advantage that it was possible for the club as a whole to do. Sending a child to the hospital where they are given the service of the best surgeons, an accomplishment which would be a severe tax on the finances of the individual.

"Some people have the idea that Rotarians are a collection of millionaires,' said Rotarian Earl Bell, who gave the second of the five minute talks. He suggested a number of ways by which the club could contribute to community service such as donations of special prizes for the construction of model aircraft, prizes to girls for sewing and needle craft or sponsoring a two weeks' vacation for two or three of the underprivileged children of the community. Helping the blind of the community by procuring for them free reading matter was another of Mr. Bells suggestions. In conclusion he expressed the opinion that a small club was a great limitation which could only be offset by calling in assistance from outside.

District Governor T. J. Patton Advises Rotarians So To Live As To Leave More Than Bones

Head Of 169th District Pays Official Visit To Local Club

Rotary batteries were re-charged with a fresh load of Rotary philosophy at the Empress Hotel on Monday evening when District-Governor Thomas J. Patton of North Bay paid an official visit to the Peterborough club and delivered a most inspirational address on the aims and ideals of the service club so successfully founded by Paul Harris of Chicago.

It was a most interesting meeting marked by a big attendance of Rotary members and by the presence of a large number of visitors including Major S. C. Norsworthy of Montreal, assistant general manager of Bank of Montreal; C. S. Cummer, manager of the George street branch of the same bank; "Fitz" Fitzgerald, new manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia; K. S. Wightman, Public School Inspector; J. C. McClenaghan, physical director of the Y.M.C.A. and W. Walker of Toronto.

President Art. Runions was in the chair and introduced the baby member of the club, T. G. M. Jamieson, C.P.R. ticket agent. He also called atention to the Rotary meeting in Toronto on Friday night when Paul Harris, founder of Rotary and three or four past presidents of Rotary International will be present. A delegation of Peterborough Rotarians will attend this very important gathering. It was also announced that Roy Goring had plans well in hand for the inter-city meeting here on the evening of November 22 and later in the evening District-Governor Patton announced that he would accept the local club's invitation and be present upon that occasion.

Enjoyable Program

A very enjoyable musical program preceded the Governor's address. Rotarian John Smith led in community singing and Herbert C. Treneer, playing his own accompaniments, sang the favorite number, "Come to the Fair," in excellent voice, and in reponse to the applause delighted the gathering with the pleasing Irish song, "Dear Little Girl." William Walker of Toronto told a couple of Scotch stories in his own inimitable style and then contributed two comic songs that were thoroughly appreciated. George Nicholls was at the piano.

Rotarian Rev. G. C. Easton who knew Governor Patton in North Bay introduced the speaker of the evening, remarking whimsically that he knew a few things about him that were bad and many things that were good and that the bad things were not very bad and the good things were very good.

The District-Governor said at the beginning of his most encouraging address that he was often asked if he did not find it difficult in his official capacity to meet so many strangers and his answer invariably was that he had not met a single stranger; he had met only friends in his travels around the 169th District of Rotary.

In Four Words

Quoting several definitions of Rotary, the speakers summed up the principles of the movement in four words, Friendship, Honesty, Fellowship and Peace and then proceeded to discuss Rotary ideals under the four heads. He began by dealing with club service and the obligations of members of their own clubs, passed on to discuss community service and the duty of Rotary in that capacity, stressed the importance of vocational service and finally discussed effectively what he termed the most important function of Rotary, that was its opportunity for service in the international field. In the latter connection he emphasized the importance of first knowing themselves and then knowing the people of other countries better.

The keynote of Governor's Pattons address was the desirability of so living that something more than a pile of bones would be left when one passed on from this world. "We cannot all be Carnegies or Adam Becks,' said the speaker. "We cannot all leave big fortunes, but we can all make some contribution that will make the world a better place."

Brimful of helpful philosophy and illumined with amusing stories and flashes of wit Governor Patton's address was one of the most effective presentations the Peterborough club has heard from official circles and the vote of appreciation voiced by Rotarian E. L. Sackville was no perfunctory gesture.

GERMAN BARON RESTOCKS FARM

than British cows, because they are tested for tuberculosis, and because they give more milk when they are turned out on the rich pastures of England.

Herd Wiped Out.

The reason for the Baron's present purchases is the loss of his herd from foot-and-mouth disease. Some of the cows he had before were from Canada but he will now have a complete new herd from this country.

He proposes to mate them with English bulls. Livestock authorities in England will not recognize Canadian registration but if registered Canadian cows are bred to registered British bulls the offspring may be registered as pure-bred stock.

Canada is far ahead of the United Kingdom in fighting tuberculosis in cattle, the Baron says. The British are just starting to test for the disease but so little has been done it is impossible to buy tested cattle. They have been more concerned with fighting foot-and-mouth disease.

The recent outbreak hit a number of farmers in Cheshire, he said he told of the thoroughness with which livestock authorities cleaned up his farm.

All his cattle were slaughtered and burned on the farm and the place was quarantined. He was not allowed to leave for three weeks. Some 90 men were working on his farm for more than a month. Besides destroying the cattle, they killed all the pigs, disinfected the buildings and the ground. They went over the whole farm inch by inch and turned up every stone and stick.

Before the war the Baron engaged in trading in horses and breeding racehorses, chief in Ireland. He came back to Ireland after the war but the horse trade fell off and he bought his farm in Cheshire and turned to dairying.

He has 200 acres of land near Chester, all in grass. He never plows and never needs to reseed his pastures. He uses artificial manure for fertilizer and sells his barnyard manure as he considers it unsanitary to put it on the land where his cows are pasturing. He buys his grain and a little hay.

The milk from his 200 cows he sells in Chester. Some of it is bottled on the farm and delivered to customers and the remainder is sold through a co-operative company.

response here. Such orders never will be obeyed by the British public. We are ready enough to make our contribution to the peace of the world. We are ready enough to discuss any issue with those concerned, but we are not prepared to stand and deliver at any one's command."

While the speech touched points all over the world where Great Britain has interests, Mr. Eden devoted the bulk of his remarks to the Spanish Civil War and incidents arising from it.

He told the House France and Great Britain were considering action under the Nyon anti-piracy agreement in view of the sinking of a British freighter in the western Mediterranean this week.

It was false to say the Spanish Government had only one frontier, that with France. It had another, "of vital importance," the Mediterranean coastline.

Official Soviet figures for the first nine months of 1937 showed Spain was Russia's third best customer. He quoted the "Red Star," the Soviet army publication, as asserting that Russian planes gave the government a crushing superiority over the air force supplied the insurgents by Germany and Italy.

"The point I want to make is that on the government side there are also large arrivals of war materials and that on the government side Russian tanks and Russian airplanes play a most important part.

"Had there not been foreign intervention in the Spanish War, one of two things would have happened. Either the war would have been over long since, or, alternatively, belligerent rights would have been granted. They certainly would have been in the normal course of this conflict."

Under the circumstances the granting of such rights would have immensely favored the faction which was strongest at sea, which he said was the insurgent.

E. J. Gilling, Jr., 20, a student at Canisius College, Buffalo, was electrocuted in the intricate electrical laboratory he had set up in the basement of his home.

Crushed Against Wharf

John Baker, 75, was taken to a Brockville Hospital in serious condition from a fractured pelvis and other injuries sustained when he was crushed against a wharf while disembarking from a ferry steamer.

Magistrate Burbidge of Hamilton has announced that henceforth in his court, Sunday drunks will be punished with double the usual fine.

Angus McCallum, Liberal, was elected to the Federal House as member for Frontenac-Addington by acclamation Monday when no other candidate was nominated to contest the by-election caused by the resignation of Colin Campbell.

INQUEST IS HELD INTO THE DEATH OF MRS. SCOBELL

the starter was operated while the gears were in reverse.

"Very good work, Mr. Graham," was the praise given by Mr. McElderry after hearing the evidence of George Graham, another volunteer member of Lakefield Fire Brigade.

A Modest Hero

The witness Graham testified he was summoned to duty around three o'clock on the Sunday afternoon by the blowing of the siren. Arriving at the wharf he saw Colonel Scobell who was asking for someone to dive and save his wife who was trapped in the submerged car, 'So I did," he added modestly.

Diving at the left side of the car, which had landed in the water right side up, Graham related he went partly into the car through an open door and saw a hand before him.

"I grabbed the hand at the wrist and pulled. She didn't seem to come, I backed out and pulled again at the same time using my foot to release her body, and then got her partly up. After coming to the surface for air I went down again and managed to release her completely," he testified.

He agreed with the Crown that he had to pull the body out over the steering wheel of the car. Presumably Mrs. Scobell had been sitting on the extreme right of the seat, and had not managed to get the door on that side opened.

Was on Dock

William Ahearn of Lakefield said on the afternoon in question he was on the dock behind Lakefield Hotel about 150 feet from the car. The car was standing still when he first observed it and was facing towards the hotel. The back of the car was approximately 25 to 27 feet from the edge of the dock.

All at once witness stated, he saw the car start to move backwards, and when the rear wheels reached the edge of the dock it just went right over into the water and sank almost immediately. At no time did witness see anyone in the car.

Without upsetting, witness proceeded, the car settled down in about ten feet of water. When he saw the car moving he at first believed it was moving backward of its own accord because the brakes were not on. It backed up at a walking pace, he declared.

Mr. Ahearn said he "hollered" for help and Mr. Watson and Mr. Allen responded promptly and offered valuable help in rescuing the two survivors who "popped" to the surface of the water.

"Save My Wife"

Witness declared Colonel Scobell was in the water clinging to a chain suspended from the side of the dock after he came to the surface and "was hollering save my wife, I'm all right.'

He stated it was fifteen or twenty minutes after the car went off the dock before Mrs. Scobell's body was recovered by Mr. Graham.

Edward Watson who rushed to the rescue of the two survivors with a pike pole agreed that Colonel Scobell was shouting, "Save my wife," and he was floundering in the water.

He further agreed with the previous witness that the car backed slowly off the dock and after striking the water sank gradually.

Dr. J. R. Fraser saw a crowd of people on the wharf and on going there saw the body of a middle-aged lady. He felt her pulse and certifying she was dead, told rescue workers, "You cannot bring that lady too, she is dead," he declared in evidence. The doctor said death had been cause by asphyxiation from drowning. There was no evidence of life whatever when he reached the scene.

Dr. E. H. Moore who was called to the scene offered somewhat similar evidence bearing on the cause of death. He examined the woman's body and failed to get any pulse or heart beats.

Car Backed Up Fast

Mrs. David A. Allen was about half-way across the lake, coming from the tourist park in a boat with her husband, when she saw the car back off the wharf at a fast rate of speed. "I never saw a car back up so fast," she declared.

When the car went off the edge of the dock, Mrs. Allen said she was not aware that anyone was in the car. Her husband brought the boat in at Browns warehouse, and witness said she ran to the dock and then called her husband to "come quickly" when she learned people were in the car.

David Allen testified that after hearing his wife's call for help he proceeded to the dock in his boat and helped other rescuers to get the survivors ashore. He agreed with his wife that the car backed off the wharf at a fast rate of speed, but thought it had slowed down a little before going over the edge and into the water.

Another Eye Wihness

Thomas Junkin was at a boathouse about 300 yards away from the dock when he saw the car just as it was half-way over on its plunge into the lake. He described the rescue efforts and the work of resuscitation by members of Lakefield and Peterborough fire brigades.

Arnold Payne heard Colonel Scobell "pleading" with someone to get his wife out of the car, as he reached the scene of the fatality.

Harold Hamilton, volunteer member of Lakefield Fire Brigade rushed to the scene in a taxi on hearing the alarm sounded. He saw Colonel Scobell and Mrs. Cutts as they were rescued and also saw the body of Mrs. Scobell. He said the body of Mrs. Scobell was purple when removed from the water, and he was of the opinion she was dead at that time.

Was Recalled to Box

Douglas Davis, truck driver on the Lakefield Fire Brigade said when he arrived, "I saw a gentleman who was asking someone to dive for his wife who was trapped in the submerged car." Witness said he had left shortly afterwards having hastened away for the purpose of getting a wrecking truck if it should be found necessary to open the doors to release the women.

Recalled to the witness box subsequently he was asked by the Crown if he could offer any theories which might explain the fatality, and he gave the replies previously stated.

Charles Foster gave evidence of having helped to remove the car on the day following. He was not able to offer any theory that might explain the tragedy. He did not examine the car for any possible mechanical defects.

Y.W. Campaign Be Continued Until Saturday In Effort To Raise Objective Of $50,000

Failed To Find Support With The Seemingly Well-To-Do People

Finding themselves $10,000 short of their objective of $50,000, Y. W. C. A. Extension Fund campaign workers announced a continuation of the campaign until Saturday night this week when they gathered in the Y. W.C.A. gymnasium last night for what was to have been their final meeting. The total reported was $40,622.75.

Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner, Y.W.C.A. president, blamed the failure to reach the objective on "the seemingly well-to-do" people of the city. The wealthy contributed generously and the workers contributed as liberally as their means permitted but the middle class failed the campaign, she said.

"Among the seemingly well-to-do people we have found a lack of support," the president stated. "I think we can blame our failure to that lack of support." She explained that the class of people to whom she referred were those for whom estimated contributions were $25 to $100.

Thanks To All

Mrs. Kenner expressed thanks to all workers as she announced the division and team totals as follows: Special names committees headed by Miss E. Morrow and T. A. Mackay, $31,017.75; men's division under Chairman C. S. Cummer, $3,-253.50; south ward team under Mrs. P. Rowell, $1,895.15; center ward team under Mrs. S. J. Graham, $648.-45; west ward team under Mrs. N. Wightman, $1,862.55; north ward team under Mrs. C. J. Ray, $1,202.-75; east ward team under Mrs. R. E. Cutting, $592.60. She cited J. A. McKone's team as the leading men's team with a total in subscriptions of $1,800.

"While we have not reached our objective I may say we feel very definitely it was not due to failure of any one of our workers," Mrs. Kenner said. "We may be disappointed but I am sure we will see wonderful results from this campaign. Whoever has contributed, whether it be 25 cent or thousands of dollars, he or she will have a renewed interest in the Association work. As the days pass, we will feel a deepened interest in the Association, on the part of the whole community."

Hope Yet

Mr. Gillespie said that, while the campaign had not reached its objective last night, the total would be higher by the time of its official close Saturday evening. He reminded that the sum of $40,000, four-fifths of the objective will enable the Association to go ahead with its program of inside work immediately.

Extending his thanks to all workers, Mr. Gillespie declared: "I am sure the campaign has been a great education to you ladies and an education you will not regret. You will know a great deal about human nature you didn't know before."

"To my mind this is a great event for the Y. W. C. A. of Peterborough," he said. "While we have not obtained all the money required to permit of carrying out the entire program of renovation and extension, what has been obtained will, I am sure, help considerably in making the facilities of the building more comfortable and suitable for the enjoyment of our girls, and I am confident that before the two years allowed for the payment of subscriptions in this campaign has elapsed, there will be additional money forthcoming to possibly make all the necessary renovations.

"While primarily this has been the ladies' effort, the men could not help but be interested and willing to help, realizing such a campaign had for its purpose the laudable objective of helping the girls of Peterborough, and incidentally helping ourselves and the city as a whole, because the money collected is to be spent in our city, and will therefore help to boost building conditions.

"It is not my intention to make any speech, but I would like to publicly thank the press for their assistance in the splendid publicity they have given us, as also to express my personal thanks to the other members of the Men's Advisory Board associated in the appeal, and to assure you ladies it has been a pleasure, as well as a real inspiration to see how wholeheartedly you have all gone into the campaign, and your undaunted spirit of rising to the occasion under the many handicaps you have encountered."

Miss Margaret Dickson afforded the gathering two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Gwen Craw. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The Rambling REPORTERS

CAR SMASHED IN BATTLE.

Driving along the Selwyn road during the week-end, George Graham of this city discovered that it is not necessary deliberately to go out after telegraph poles or other vehicles to smash up a car.

He came to a herd of cows on the road and horned his horn in an attempt to scare the animals off the road. The cows paid little attention for they were engaged in watching two of their number in a duel.

That would have been all right with Mr. Graham, for he had a ringside seat, but he became closely concerned when one of the fighting animals crashed into the front of his car and smashed his radiator.—C.P.K.

SUGGESTS HOLDING REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE IN CHURCH

In accepting the Canadian Legion's invitation to attend the Remembrance Day service on Thursday, November 11, the council Monday night supported a resolution by Alderman Dutton, seconded by Alderman McIntyre, recommending that the service in future years be held in some of the city churches. Alderman Dutton said that from observations during the last year or two considerable movement of people, and particularly of children, detracted from the spirit of the occasion. It was most desirable that children should attend the service, and if it was held in a church everyone would be more conscious of the reasons why it was held and the memories it rekindled.

The service will be held in the Capitol Theatre this year.

OBITUARY

MOTHER M. ALDEGONDE.

In St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Sunday, the last day of October, while her community knelt about her bedside and the anointed hands of God's priests were raised in parting blessings, Mother Aldegonde answered the call of Christ, her King, to render an account of her seventy-eight years, fifty of which she had spent labouring in His vineyard as a Sister of St. Joseph. There was no sadness in her passing, for her it meant "going home to God."

This elderly religious whose family name was Lucy McKeown, was born in Chatham in May, 1859. The example of her pious parents and the early training she received in that Christian home installed in her heart the desire to devote her life to God, and His service, and to give all she held most dear to follow in the footsteps of her thorn-crowned King. She entered the Novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph on October the fifteenth, 1887, and spent the early years of her religious life doing missionary work in Fort William, Port Arthur and Parry Sound. In these northern missions among the Indians and the new Canadians she encountered seemingly insuperable obstacles, but there were no wavering steps, no backward looks in Mother Aldegonde's career. If there were moments of doubt and darkness in her life none knew of it except perhaps the Silent Dweller in the Tabernacle. Those who came in contact with her saw only the sweet smile, the cheerful resignation, and heard from her lips, "May God's holy will be done."

Besides her work as a music teacher, she rendered her community valuable service as Superior General from 1917 to 1923. While assuming the duties of this office she was a model of humility, kindness and patience; firm yet gentle. Just, unwearing in devotion to duty she was to her spiritual daughters the living example of her beautiful ideals, and a perfect exposition of her Holy Rule. A Superior of St. Joseph's Hospital, Port Arthur, she was loved and revered for these Christ-like qualities.

Though her last illnes was of short duration, yet when the Bridegroom called she was found ready with the lamp of faith lighted and supplied with the oil of good works which she had provided while there was yet time. Thus prepared, this Wise Virgin went forth to meet her Lord and King and receive the promised reward.

Her name and work will ever remain as a living memorial to deep-seated faith, courage, and loyalty to her community. We who claim religious or family relationship can do no better than learn from her the secret of spreading Christ's kingdom and growing old sweetly and graciously in His service. May her gentle spirit of piety, consideration for others and prayerfulness fall as a benediction on that institute she loved so dearly and served so faithfully. It was these traits of gentle kindliness and vivid faith that drew her whole community round her at the end and that lent even to the obsequies for her departed soul an element of hope and of holy joy. Mourning and sorrow seemed out of place before the holy and calm repose that rested upon her face in death. In the golden jubilee year of Mother Aldegonde's religious life God called His good and faithful servant home.

The High Mass of Requiem was celebrated in the chapel of Mount St. Joseph at 9 a.m. Tuesday, November 2, by Right Reverend Monsignor McKeown, assisted by Reverend Father Phelan of London as deacon, Reverend Father Corkery as sub-deacon and the Reverend Dr. Masterson as master of ceremonies. The Libera was sung by His Excellency, Most Reverend Denis O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough. In the sanctuary were Father Finn and Father McKeown of London, Ont., Rev. J. O'Brien of Sacred Heart Church, Rev. P. J. Kelly, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. C. J. Carrol, Rev. J. C. Maloney and Rev. J. Walsh.

In a few beautifully chosen words His Excellency the Bishop paid high tribute to the life and work of Mother Aldegonde. In St. Peter's cemetery the service was conducted by Right Reverend Monsignor McKeown, assisted by Fathers Finn, Phalen, McKeown and Dr. Masterson.

May she rest in peace.

175 LOANS ISSUED IN PETERBOROUGH TOTAL $51,885.94

Peterborough's Home Improvement Loans up to September 30 totalled $51,885.94 according to an official statement issued by the Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance. There have been 175 loans reported from this city to the Department, probably a great many more than the public generally estimated.

Some Other Cities

Some of the other cities in Ontario were also listed recently as follows: Brantford 105 loans, $32,-571.73; Guelph 105, total $46,208.40; Kingston 90, total $34,238.91; Kitchener 165, total $70,423.68; Oshawa 207, total $71,979.31; St. Catharines 161, total $59,677.46; Sault Ste. Marie 98, total $46,012.89.

Compared with the sentiment of Southern Ontario cities toward the Home Improvement Plan of obtaining the cheapest money on the continent for renovating homes, some of the smaller towns in the north show a vastly greater interest in the federal government's plan. In the category of towns from 10,000 to 20,000 population, for instance, Sudbury has reported 212 loans for a total of $127,006.20; Timmins 279 loans, totalling $205,683.31.

Smaller Centres

Kirkland Lake in the 5,000 to 10,000 population has taken out 256 loans for a total of $192,895.02; Fort Frances 90 loans, total $29,740. Flin Flon, Manitoba mining centre, 183 loans totalling $78,353.36.

The October report from the Department of Finance in regard to Home Improvement Loans proves that the Canadian people have availed themselves of its advantages to a large extent, and Peterborough opinion is confident that a great deal more money would be obtained from the banks if the people fully understood how cheap it is.

AWARDED FIRST SNAPSHOT CONTEST

Wilfred Gynane, an employe of Roy Studios is announced as winner of first prize of one hundred dollars in Canada Packers Limited, Dominion-wide snapshot competition.

The contest ended on October 1 last, but so many thousands of pictures were received that the judging committee has been busy ever since examining them and selecting the winners. Results have just been made known.

First prize winning picture was of a baby—little Eleanor Mae, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Watson, 477 Rogers street,—playing in an orchard.

Pictures sent in from all across the Dominion portrayed a range of subjects, which included country scenes, and city scenes; adults and children; bears and babies; cats and dogs; aeroplanes and wheelbarrows, horses, cows and pigs. Many kinds of action were shown. There were shopping scenes, camping, hunting and farm scenes, and scores of others.

Besides the grand prize of one hundred dollars which went to Mr. Gynane, 118 Aylmer street, a two dollar consolation prize was awarded to G. Downer, 170 Hunter street West, who is well known locally as a miniature camera fan.

It is probably that Mr. Gynane's prize winning picture may eventually find its way on to billboards across the Dominion, in connection with Canada Packers Limited advertising campaign.

BRITAIN PROTESTS

LONDON, Nov. 2—(AP).—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons to-day the Government had lodged a strong protest with the Spanish insurgent authorities over the sinking of the British merchantman Jean Weems.

As the battle cruiser Hood sped to Barcelona to investigate the defiance of the Nyon anti-piracy accord, Mr. Eden indicated Anglo-French Mediterranean reinforcements might be made as a result of the Jean Weems bombing.

Miss Grier's body, according to Spencer, was found by him when he returned to the cabin both were using during a hunting trip. Spencer is being held as a material witness. The couple are said to have used the cabin for hunting trips for more than three years. The body of the young woman is being held in a Sault Ste. Marie undertaking parlor with no intimation of its being released for burial.

COMEDY COON HUNT.

An account of a coon hunt led by "Judge" Baker up the Dummer shore of Clear Lake over the week-end was a highly amusing story that doesn't lend itself to cold type. Other chapters extend the comedy to being bogged in a swamp and never a mention of a "coon." It must have been a wow that expedition into the Dummer country.

TWEED, Ont., November 2 (CP).—Mrs. Michael MacAvoy, 70, of Tweed, injured at Tweed Saturday when struck by a bicycle ridden by Vincent Prout, 17, died in hospital early to-day. An inquest was ordered by Dr. J. J. Robertson, coroner.

Mrs. MacAvoy was walking across the Tweed bridge, while Prout was riding on the pedestrian path. He did not notice the woman and struck her, knocking her to the board walk. No charge has been laid against the youth.

Mrs. MacAvoy was found in an unconscious condition after having been knocked down. She was immediately removed to the Belleville General Hospital, where her condition was reported to be unchanged on Monday.

Young Prout is reported to have informed Chief Hayes he was riding on the pedestrian portion of the bridge for the purpose of gaining time and added he did not see the elderly lady until she was struck by his bicycle.

Alfred Pobear, township of Elzevir farmhand, appeared before Magistrate E. J. Butler, K.C., on Monday in local police court on three charges of breaking, entering, and theft. The accused was arraigned in court by Chief Hayes of Tweed, who arrested Pobear over the weekend. The cases were enlarged until Thursday at which time they will be heard in county police court to be held at Tweed.

The slippery condition of No. 7 Highway was the cause of an accident that occurred on Saturday morning, Mr. Wesley Richardson and Mr. Thomas Foley of Deloro, were travelling along the highway on a motorcycle at a fast rate. When the motorcycle struck a more slippery spot, the motor swerved and slid to the roadside spilling the riders. They were both shaken up and terribly bruised. Mr. Richardson's face was cut and several stitches were placed in his face.

Stanley Woods, Flinton, appeared charged with the theft of a robe from a garage in Tweed on October 23. This case was enlarged to be subsequently heard in Tweed on Thursday. Woods will also face a subsequent charge, Chief Hayes intimated. He is being held in custody.

Following considerable investigation during some weeks past, a nepheline deposit on the farm of Edward Vardy, east of the village of Bancroft, is now being prepared for mining operations by representatives of a United States firm. Mining equipment has already been placed on the property and shipping of ore will commence at once.

Lumbering operations have commenced in the Lake L'Amable district, North Hastings County. At the present time the Campbell Construction Company have a number of men engaged in building camps and are cutting the road from Jan's Corners in order to take the timber out.

MAJ. NORSWORTHY PAYS VISIT TO CITY

Major S. C. Norsworthy, assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal, acknowledged as one of the outstanding bankers in Canada, was an interested visitor to the city. He left here today at noon for Lindsay after a brief overnight stay.

Major Norsworthy met the local managers and senior members of the staff at both branches of the bank and also a number of local business men. In addition he visited some of the manufacturing plants of the city.

He expressed himself as being deeply impressed with the general conditions, and appeared to be agreably surprised at the size of some of the local manufacturing plants and the extent of business they are transacting.

Last evening, Major Norsworthy was the guest at a dinner meeting of Peterborough Rotary Club.

PARISH PRIESTS ARE TRANSFERRED

The announcement of the transfer of Rev. J. J. McCarthy of Norwood to the parish of Douro, involves several other diocesan changes made recently by Bishop O'Connor.

Rev. C. J. Carroll of St. Peter's Cathedral has been appointed parish priest at Norwood, and Rev. Edward Welsh, who has been temporarily in charge at St. Michael's church, Douro, takes his place at the Cathedral.

It was reported that these appointments are immediately effective. At St. Peter's Rev. Father Carroll was especially interested in the Cathedral choir, his knowledge and love of music finding an outlet in assistance to this organization.

Relief Officer Reports 227 Heads Of Families Are Still On City's Relief List

Name Representative Carnival Committee

Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr of St. Paul's Church was again appointed by the Ministerial Association as its representative on the Peterborough Winter Sports Committee at the Association's meeting Monday.

Rev. J. D. Paterson reported to the Association close to $800 in cash besides contributions of produce and canned goods was given by Peterborough citizens toward the five cars despatched from here for Western Relief. All the money was spent locally, converted into goods. The Association voted thanks to Mr. Paterson as secretary of the committee and to Alderman James Dutton as chairman.

The Association agreed to a suggestion of Rev. E. W. Young, of St. Andrew's Church, that ministers would find it worthwhile to gather every two weeks at each others' homes for an hour of spiritual talk and fellowship. The first gathering will be at the home of Mr. Paterson in two weeks.

Unemployed Ask For Increase In Relief Schedule In Peterborough

Peterborough's relief expenditure during October amounted to $5,-336.09, City Clerk Armstrong reported to the council last night. Provisions cost $2,771.35, milk $396.40, fuel $622.45, clothing $357.68, medicine $3.88; rent $648.88, doctors $322.75.

The number of persons on relief during the month was 926, Relief Officer A. G. Metheral informed the council. Heads of families were 227, their dependents 641, single men 21 and single women 36. Orders for provisions 849, fuel orders 199, clothing 184, milk 181, orders for rent 149, orders for medicine 12, dotcors 97, dentists 6, ambulance 4, funerals 1, indigents 14. Number of indigents rejected 9, investigations 190.

As plumbing inspector Mr. Metheral made 56 inspections during October, and issued 20 certificates of work completed.

Petition From Unemployed

On behalf of the Unemployed Workers Society of which he is secretary, H. Martin read a statement to the council asking for an increase in relief schedule in this city. Cost of living had increased 35 to 40 per cent., the petition began, and in some instances relief allowance has been reduced. Sickness in some families on relief, inability of others to rent houses because the scale of aid for rent is too low, scarcity of mattresses bedding, lack of towels, clothing for children under school age, light bulbs, tooth brushes and many other domestic utensils and personal needs was set forth. Men were not sufficiently fed to do hard work, and actual cases were reported during the summer of Peterborough men remaining unemployed while families were "brought in" from other places and hired in factories. It was contended that factories receiving a fixed assessment should give preference in employment to local men or be deprived of the concession. Some families had to live all summer in tents and some others were expecting to be evicted in the near future. Some children were being kept back at school because of lack of sufficient nourishment and clothing, and the general condition, Mr. Martin, read called for generous consideration by the council.

The petition was referred to the Relief Committee of which Alderman Dutton is chairman.

HASTINGS

BOARD IN FAVOR POLE AGREEMENT FOR USE OF LINES

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 2.—The regular monthly meeting of the Hastings Hydro-Electric Commission took place on Monday night, with W. Fowlds in the chair, and Commissioners Reeve Fairman and Dr. W. E. Wilson present.

Owing to the increased work in connection with trucking, the Commission thought it advisable to investigate the possibility of buying a second-hand truck for their linesman, E. M. Hess. This work in the past was done by a hired truck. Mr. Fowlds appointed the two commissioners and the linesman to look after this.

Harry White interviewed the Commission regarding the 10 per cent. rebate due him.

A discussion took place regarding the joint use of poles between the Commission and the Bell Telephone Co. It was moved by Fairman and seconded by Wilson, that the Commission approve of the form of agreement for the joint use of poles as presented to them by the Bell Telephone Co. and that a form of agreement be drafted and forwarded to the H. E. P. C. of Ontario for verification and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. D. Cameron in Peterborough.

Correspondence was read from the files as follows: H.E.P.C. of Ontario, re local user wanting poles moved in order to put up a house; H.E.P.C., re 10 per cent. rebate for 1936, offering assistance to help them in dealing this out.

It was moved by Wilson, and seconded by Fairman, that a copy of the letter, received from the H.E.P.C., re moving poles, be forwarded to Mr. W. J. Walsh for him to comply with their requests to give more information on the matter.

E. M. Hesse reported that he had discussed the low voltage situation on the south side of the river with Mr. Mulholland, and that he had outlined a system to correct this.

The colored lights on the south side of the river had not been disconnected as yet, and Mr. Hess was given orders to have them shut off for the winter.

JUDGING TEAMS ARE ANNOUNCED

The personnel of the livestock and seeding judging teams which will attempt to gain for Peterborough County third successive victories at the Ottawa Winter Fair and the Royal Winter Fair this month, was announced by Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions today.

Those selected to compete in the junior farmers' livestock judging at Ottawa are Gordon Stalker of Smith, Harold Donaldson of Otonabee and Jim Moore of Smith. In grain judging, Jim Hunter of North Monaghan will be substituted for Donaldson and will serve as a spare man for the livestock judging.

With wins during 1935 and 1936, Peterborough has two legs on the Ottawa trophy. A win this year will bring the cup here permanently. Other counties with legs on the trophy are Grenville, Lanark and Prince Edward.

The team to the Royal will be composed of Bruce Graham of Asphodel, Archie Clysdale of Otonabee and Ralph Hanbidge of Smith. Although the Royal cup is for perpetual challenge, the team will endeavour to bring it here for the third successive year.

Mr. Runions plans to take the boys to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph for their final coaching in judging tomorrow.

TOO MANY SKUNKS

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 2 (CP).—Barton Township Council is considering licensing trappers to reduce the skunk population, reported on the increase. One councillor said one of the pretty little animals had "gotten away with 18 pullets."

FIFTH CAR IS SENT WESTERN CANADA

Total contributions to the Western Relief Fund to date amount to $827.48, Alderman James Dutton, chairman and treasurer announced today.

Further contributions to the Fund were acknowledged as follows: Peterborough Canoe Company, $25; W. A. Richardson, $10.

Alderman Dutton voicing the sincere thanks of the committee "to all who helped in any way towards such a splendid result," declared the committee had completed the loading of a fifth freight car of produce. He said the car was now on its way West to the relief of people in drought stricken areas.

Included among the items loaded into the fifth car by the local committee, were: 200 bags of potatoes; several cases of Quaker products, and several cases of corned beef.

A small credit balance that still remains to the credit of the Fund, is to be paid over to the Central Committee at Toronto, it was stated.

While he has mailed out several individual letters of thanks to those who helped, Alderman Dutton stated: "The committee desires to thank everyone, through The Examiner, who helped in any way. We feel it is worthy of the best traditions of the people of Peterborough and can say without hesitation the splendid response will mean a great deal to the people of the drought areas whom we have sought to help."

ONE "CREDIT" SEAT

SYDNEY, Nov. 1.—(CP Cable).—Returns today showed that election polled 70,000 votes of a total of 2,800,000. Only 40,000 more ballots have yet to be counted, and it appeared certain that one Social Credit candidate, G. H. A. Nicholls, had been elected to the House of Representatives from Queensland.

Stirling Of Sarnia Imperials Displaces Varsity's Cam Gray As Leading Football Scorer

Herman's Placement Kicking Puts Him On Top Of Big Four Loop

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Hugh (Bummer) Stirling, one of Canada's all-time great footballers, takes over leadership of the East's scoring race, gaining a one-point edge over Cam Gray on the season's biggest individual outburst.

The Bummer scored a touchdown, two field goals and two converts as Sarnia Imperials romped over Hamilton Panthers Saturday. Though he lost a point in a "recount" of the previous week's figures he had 21 in the third Canadian Press summary. Gray, star University of Toronto half, easily maintained his advantage in the Intercollegiate Union though held to a single and convert against Western.

There was none close to Stirling in his Ontario Union where Herbie Moores of Balmy Beach was in second place with 11 points, and another Beacher, Eddie Thompson, in third with 10.

Herman Big Four Leader.

Though Bernie Thornton of Queen's made a three-point gain with a field goal and two singles against McGill, the Tricolor placement kicker still was nine points behind Gray's 20. Boyce Sherk of Western and Johnny Munro of Queen's shared third place with 8 points each.

Massive Tiny Herman, Ottawa's 260-pound middle who specializes in booting field goals, made two good for 6 points and a total of 16 for the four weeks' play. This was good enough for a 6-point edge over seven players tied in second place. Earl Selkirk of Argos matched Tiny's game total, and moved into one of the second-place spots.

Hockey 'Greats' Set For Morenz Benefit

MONTREAL, Nov. 2 (CP)—From training camps in east and west, the greats of the National Hockey League assembled in Montreal today to pay tribute to peerless Howie Morenz in a great gesture game. After tonight's display the stars will return to their teams for the general shelling that will mark the schedule opening Thursday.

Montreal Canadiens, with whom Morenz spent the greater part of his career, will combine with Montreal Maroons to oppose a team from the rest of the league. Proceeds will go to Howie's widow and three children.

Recent winners of the Hart, Vezina and Lady Byng trophies will be among the players honoring the brilliant Canadien centreman, who died last spring after a 14-year career in the N.H.L. Jack Adams, coach of the world champion Detroit Red Wings, will direct the league all-stars and Cecil Hart, Morenz's coach with Canadiens, will handle the Montreal side.

Campbell To Compete In B.E.G.

Charles "Chuck" Campbell of the Dons Rowing club, of Toronto, won rights to represent Canada in the singles sculling event at the British Empire games to be held at Sydney, Australia. The former Canadian and United States champion, defeated a fellow townsman, Gordon Bradshaw, in an official trial at a mile and a quarter over the wind-swept waters of the old Welland Canal. His time for the race was 7 minutes, 46 seconds. Campbell is pictured here.

BY BRADLEY
BOB PASTOR

For some inexplicable reason, it would seem that a football star cannot turn to the fight game and meet with any degree of success.

Steve Hamas tried it, and although he advanced a fair distance along the fistic trail, he was at best only a second-rater. "Tiny" Roebuck, the famous gridiron star of Haskell U. in the United States, was another who failed in the squared circle, as did Ad Warren, Sully Montgomery and many others too numerous to mention.

The exact reason for this failure of grid stars to reach the top in boxing circles is not plain. One would think that because of their stamina and fortitude they would quickly rise to the top as fighters. But not so.

Bob Pastor may prove the exception that proves the rule. Bob, you will remember, is the boy who put on that famous "catch me, if you can" bout with Joe Louis. However, despite this farce, Pastor is a fair mittman and may go a long way with added experience despite the precedent that would seem to be against him because of his football prowess at New York university.

BOB GRACIE STILL IN HOLDOUT RANKS

TORONTO, Nov. 2 (CP) — This fellow Earl Robertson of New York Americans looks like a "best bet" to walk off with the N.H.L.'s title of best rookie for 1937-38. Manager Red Dutton is banking on the young goalie and Robertson has delivered in exhibition games to date.

Remember how Ottawa used to be such a fertile field for hockey talent? Well, it looks now as if Winnipeg has usurped the fame of the Canadian capital. Lester Patrick has 45 players in his three "R" organization—Rangers, Ramblers, Rovers—and 15 come from the Manitoba city. Fifteen more are from other western points.

Unless Bob Gracie changes his mind pretty fast, Montreal Maroons are going to swing into action next Saturday in their first league game without the classy centreman. Maroons play Boston Bruins at Montreal in their N.H.L. start, and so far Gracie has shown no intention of ending his holdout siege.

Toronto Maple Leafs sure can make the cash register hum. Leafs came to their home town last night for the first time on their exhibition tour and played to more than 12,000 customers. The Harvey Jackson-Syl Apps-Gordon Drillon combination showed it still retained last year's power by clicking for three goals. The Whites defeated the Blues 5-3.

New York Rangers, evidently, are in demand when it comes to opening new rinks. Last year they helped in the christening ceremonies at the Calgary artificial ice rink and on a western tour with Amerks this fall helped launch the Edmonton and Saskatoon artificial rinks.

It's still a mystery. Nobody knows just who that star N.H.L. forward is that Red Dutton said he was dickering for. The Amerk manager made the announcement a few days ago but hasn't elaborated on the statement yet.

Clint Smith scored two for Rangers last night but they still lost 4-3 to Amerks...Charlie Conacher was held scoreless in the Toronto game while his old "Kid Line" mate, Jackson, bagged a couple...Amerks had the edge on Rangers in that western tour, winning three, losing two and tying the other.

NORTHERN ONTARIO MAKES STRONG BID FOR ALLAN HONORS

SUDBURY, Nov. 2.—That Northern Ontario will continue to be a threat for Canadian senior hockey laurels despite the inroads made by professional clubs into the ranks of the Allan Cup winning Sudbury Tigers of last spring, appears all-season practice sessions by the four most a certainty following preclubs which will this season constitute the Nickel Belt Hockey League, one of the most powerful loops in Canadian puckdom.

With only four regulars of last season's Dominion championship squad still on the roster, the Sudbury Frood Tigers do not appear as strong on paper as they did at the commencement of last season but some clever material has flocked into the Tiger camp and "Red" Stuart's club will be hard to oust from the silverware picture.

Some of the hardest competition the champions are expected to meet will come in their own circuit where the Allan Cup finalist club of 1936, Falconbridge Falcons will make a herculean bid for titular honors not only in Northern Ontario but in hopes of annexing the honors they so narrowly missed in the series with Kimberley Dynamiters at Winnipeg in 1936.

Falcons Stronger This Year.

Beaten out of a chance to go after Canadian honors last year by an odd goal in a two-game series by Frood Tigers last year in the Nickel Belt championships, Falcons have strengthened the weak spots in their club with the acquisition of two stellar Tiger performers of last season, Don Grosso and George Hastie, crack scoring forwards. Grosso is returning to the club where he first sprang into prominence two years ago on the Allan Cup trail. Hastie has slowed up some but has lost none of the stick wizardry that marked his play with Hamilton Tigers two years ago. In addition to this pair, Falcons have Don Hodges, a slow starter but he finished the season strong last year and is expected to team with the others to form the crack front line. A second speed line is expected to materialize from Hal Cooper, at centre, flanked by Brady and Loree, the western pair with Toronto Dominions last year in the Tandy league. Stuart, Deacon and "Blink" Bellinger will form a third attacking division. Weak spot of the club last year, the Falcon defence has been bolstered with the acquisition of Dick Dickinson of Wyeburn and Wilf Hoch, formerly of Hamilton and this year out for a trial with Montreal Canadiens. Lex Cook, the elongated blocker, is still around and improving.

Retirements, desertions, death and the raids of pro clubs have left the 1937 Allan Cup champions only a shell of their smart club. Frankie Graham and Bill Regan have hung up their skates; Charlie Teno has gone to England, while Grosso and Hastie have signed with Falconbridge; Steve Conick was killed in a motor accident last spring, and Mel Hill and Murphy Chamberlain have signed pro contracts, Hill with Boston and Chamberlain with Toronto Maple Leafs. All that remains of the high-scoring "power line" of last year is Jim Dewey and he is expected to be flanked by Clarence Shillington and Cam Burke, last year with North Battleford Beavers who were defeated by Tigers in a five-game series for the Dominion honors. Jules Cholette alone remains on the second line and he will be aided by George Allan, Joe Schwab of North Battleford, Vern Johnson of Toronto, and Johnny Thompson, last year in Pittsburg. The colorful "Bingo" Kampman refused a number of pro trials to return to the yellow and black and will be the main bulwark defensively. Frank Lavigne is out for his place on a third Allan Cup winning team but the game little defenceman is slowed to a walk. Lloyd Grant of Pittsburg last season looks like the best rearguard bet, having plenty of size and speed. Ant Healy and Dave Kemp are expected to look after the goal minding duties.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

ANNUAL BANQUET of the Peterborough Girls' Softball League will be held next Monday evening at 6.30 o'clock in the Elite Court, and no doubt a goodly gathering of gals will line up at the festive board. The Bond Trophy, won last year by Keene, will be presented this semester to Ab Delahaye's damsels from the Westclox shop. Representatives of other teams, and all of the winning squad, as well as loop officers and maybe a few others, will attend the banquet.

A FEW words from the Belleville columnist's pillar regarding his feelings on the rugby situation since the Quinte Panthers faded from the picture last week: "The Fliers have a sturdy squad and two good punters in Gibson and Higgerty, something the Panthers lacked badly all season. The Airmen hit 'em hard and often and their series with Peterborough will be keenly watched by local fans. Personally, we feel the management of the Panthers left it too late in inducing a numbr of the veteran gridders back into the fold. Another season the squad should be complete and ready for the fray on the opening day. As a word of warning to the Fliers—don't sell the Peterborough Orfuns short; they've a much better footfall team than they had a hockey team last winter."

PRO RASSLIN' program for the three-bout card at the Brock St. arena here next Friday eve has been sent us by Promoter Bob Morley of Windsor. The prelim, a one fall affair, is between Jim Pappas, a Greek mat warrior, and Bill Thornton of California. The semi-final will be best two out of three falls betwixt Tony Bommarito—ye "Italian mat gangster"—and one Dick Merrill of Washington, D.C.—not the aviator and stunt man. And the main eeeeevent of the eeeeevening will see a two out of three fall struggle between "The Great" Balbo, Italian flying tackle expert, and Tuffy Cleete, the Canadian mauler. It has a time limit of 90 minutes.

AND SO we have a Greek, two Italians, two Americans and a Canuck tossed into the ring—two at a time—before local rasslin' fandom in Peterborough come Friday in the gloaming. In a show that should last probably two and a half hours and supply oodles of action with grunts and groans galore. Dunno much about these bone-benders except what we read in the paper but the promoter promises to put on a bangup program to put pro rasslin' back in the sports limelight here. He hopes to stage shows in this town from time to time. More about these grapplers again. Haven't heard what the tariff at the gate will be yet.

LINDSAY POST scribe says: "Blue Bombers are finished for this season. They dropped the last game of the schedule to the Orfuns by a very decisive margin, it pains us to say, at Riverside Park on Saturday. Lindsay were soundly licked by a better bunch of gridders and they admit it, but the Peterborough team still needs something to make it a championship outfit. We can't put our finger on the trouble with the Petes but they lack something. Maybe it's spirit. Maybe they have some prima donnas in the lineup. We did notice a bit of crabbing in their huddles." He goes on to deal with the game, the stars and the numerous fumbles on both sides, and ends up by offering congrats to the winners and wishing 'em well in their playdown contests. Of course the ex-Lindsay rugbyists, Loucks and Begley, get a real boost.

* * * * * *

THEY ARE feeling kind of blue on the banks of the Scugog, since, not only did the Bombers fail to humble "the haughty Orfuns", but their highly-rated junior L.C.I. squad—which brought 'em visions of an Ontario grid title—took another licking. This time by a decisive score in Bowmanville. After being nosed out by P.C.I. here a week back. Lindsay is now hoping to the high heavens that the Garnet and Gray gang will knock off the Rubbertown rugbyists here next Saturday to give the L.C.I. lads another chance at group honors. We wouldn't be too surprised to see both P.C.I. teams win over Bowmanville here this weekend. 'Tis a strange world indeed—Lindsay licks Bowmanville, we lose to Bowmanville but lick Lindsay and then Bowmanville up and licks Lindsay. And so we go 'round the mulberry bush.

ON THE tilts in Oshawa, ye scrivener states: "The O.C.V.I. team threw away several scoring chances by errors in judgment but on the day's play, the Peterborough crew seemed to always have something saved up and looked the better team. It was a different story in the junior game, however. Scriver, P.C.I. backfield ace, did some great kicking but he was their only real threat. Oshawa had plenty of line strength and plunging ability. At that, the O.C.V.I. boys had to stage a great victory rally in the last quarter to win the decision and so enable their school to break even on the day's honors." Last home games of the schedule for the P.C.I. squads will be this Saturday 'gainst Bowmanville teams.

NINE PRO pucksters have been re-instated as amateurs by the C.A.H.A., but the only one we know of is Roy Hinsperger of Kitchener who used to bother Joe Dwyer with his hot shots on goal in Kitchener-Peter' tilts some 12 years or so ago. A William C. Field of Toronto has been reinstated, too, but this gent must not be confused with the paunchy and bulbous-nosed juggling comedian of the screen! There will be frequent O.H.A. sub-committee meetings from now on to deal with transfer applications and a few names of new Peterborough players will be appearing soon. The locals will have no trouble getting two imports to each team, junior and intermediate, since it is a hard-and-fast O.H.A. ruling. They might even wangle another guy or two by on some other clause. More again and soon.

GEHRINGER PICKED VALUABLE PLAYER AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—(AP). — Charley Gehringer, Detroit Tigers' veteran second baseman, was named by the Baseball Writers' Association to-day as the American League's "most valuable player" for 1937, thereby climaxing the biggest season of his 14-year career with the game's most cherished award.

At an age when many players are on the way down—and out, the Detroit Tigers' "strong silent" second baseman thus found his 34th year already marked by the league batting championship, topped off by two long sought goals.

Tops Joe DiMaggio.

Although his margin of victory in the writers' poll over Joe DiMaggio, dynamiter of the world champion New York Yankees, was slight, Gehringer nevertheless came within two points of a "perfect" score in the balloting.

Third member of the Detroit clan to win the award since the baseball writers first presented it in 1931, Gehringer was selected for the brilliant all-round play that has made him to-day the standout second baseman in the American League, if not in the game. His lifetime batting average is .329 over 14 seasons.

Coming to the Tigers, to stay, in 1925, after brief season with London of the now defunct Michigan-Ontario League and Toronto of the International League, Gehringer has been with the same club ever since.

Southwestern Branch Will Sponsor Move At A.A.U. of C. Meeting

TORONTO, Nov. 2 (C.P.).—Indications to-day were the 40th annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada would be productive of the usual fireworks when it opens in Montreal on November 12. Thirteen constitutional amendments are on the agenda, most of them expected to provoke heated discussions.

The oft-discussed question of the definition of an amateur will again be tossed into the conclave, according to the agenda issued here yesterday. And the proposal of the South-western Ontario Branch that the Canadian Olympic Committee be replaced by the Canadian Olympic Association won't be disposed of without argument.

Follow British Rule.

Under the branch's proposal, the new association would be patterned after the British Olympic Association. It would embody a council composed of the C.O.A.'s president, members of the International Olympic Committee, and representatives of individual athletic associations of each sport on the Olympic program.

From Syd Halter of Winnipeg, second vice-president of the A.A.U., will come an amendment which would have the definition of the word "Amateur" in Canada the definition of the International Federation governing the sport in question. Alternatively, Halter will propose that no one shall lose his amateur status by action infringing on amateur rules in Canada, but permitted by the international governing body of a sport.

Another important matter to come before the meeting will be the annual award of the Norton H. Crowe Memorial Trophy to the outstanding Canadian athlete of the year. One of three men will receive the trophy this year — Walter Young, Verdun, Que., Marathon runner; Robert (Scotty) Rankine, Preston, Ont., track star; and Larry O'Connor, Toronto hurdler. Rankine is a former winner of the trophy.

Former American Grid Stars Top Western All-Star Team

Winnipeg Bombers Place Seven In Press Poll—Three From Bronks

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2.—(CP).—Predominance of top United States talent in the Western Interprovincial Football Union is reflected in the first annual Canadian Press All-Star Union team selected by coaches and sports editors. Ten former American college stars are included.

With Larry Haynes and Bud Marquardt tied for outside berth, Winnipeg Blue Bombers placed seven. Calgary Bronks and Regina Roughriders three each. A great trip, Martin Gainor and Art Stevenson, both Bombers, and Howard Hurd, of Calgary won recognition their first year in the Union.

The team:

Flying Wing—Ed Rorvig, Calgary.
Hal.—Fritz Hanson, Winnipeg.
Half—Ralph Pierce, Regina.
Half—Art Stevenson, Winnipeg.
Quarter—Bob Fritz, Winnipeg.
Snap—Dean Griffing, Regina.
Inside—Lou Mogul, Winnipeg.
Inside—Howard Hurd, Calgary.
Middle—Martin Gainor, Winnipeg.
Middle—Bob Walker, Regina.
Outside—Jeff Micklin, Winnipeg.
Outside—Larry Haynes, Calgary, Bud Marquardt, Winnipeg, (tie).

The blond bombshell who lifted Winnipeg to the national title in 1935, Twinkletoes Hanson, was the only unanimous choice. Fast, shifty, elusive as a wet bar of soap, the former North Dakota State star added another weapon this season as one of the union's most effective passers.

Tricky Regina speed king, Ralph Pierce was one vote short of full recognition as Hanson's running mate and Ed Rorvig, burly Bronk plunger, and place kick expert, polled similarly for flying wing. Both were once with North Dakota University.

Art Stevenson, bomber kicking star from Hastings College, Nebraska, had a three-vote margin as third halfback over Bronks' Ray Olsen, whose leg was broken in late season.

Bob Fritz, bomber chieftain from Concordia College, Minnesota, and another playing coach, Regina's Dean Griffing, once with Kansas State, were chosen quarterback and snap. Both are great field leaders with more than 200 pounds behind their defensive power. Fritz too is one of the union's most effective plungers.

Record Is Up

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL

Sir Malcolm Campbell's new water speed record of 129.50 miles an hour made with his unlimited hydroplane, "Bluebird," on Lake Maggiore in Switzerland last month, has been submitted to the International Motor Yachting Union for official approval.

Bluebirds record runs of 130.43 and 128.57 m.p.h. up and down the course were timed by Swiss watchmakers under the supervision of M.-A. Schmidt, president of the Federation Suisse de la Navigation Automobile, official representatives of the I.M.Y.U. The marks were forwarded to the British Marine Motoring association and in turn submitted to the international organization in Brussels.

VANCOUVER TIES BABY ORILLIANS FOR JUNIOR TITLE

ORILLIA, Ont., Nov. 2 (CP).—Vancouver Bluebirds and Orillia Baby Terriers move to Toronto today for the final match for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship. Bluebirds made the game score of the best-of-five sevries 2-2 here last night as they whipped the Terriers 23-11 to win their second straight game after dropping the first two.

Jimmy Douglas, flashy coast wing, led the Vancouver team to victory as he slapped six goals past Ray Mortimer in the Orillia nets, three of them in the last period when eight of the nine shots the Bluebirds took counted for points. Lewis Caperchio, Orillia's top scorer, was good for four goals, the same number as Ted Bradbury of Vancouver.

A Fast Struggle.

Play was fast with the visiting team leading the action from the opening whistle. Just half a minute after the game started, Blackie Black wriggled through the Orillia defence and shot past Mortimer to open the scoring. At the end of the first quarter Bluebirds led 6-2, were ahead 10-5 at half-time, 15-8 at the three-quarter mark, and outscored Orillia 8-3 in the last period to win easily.

In the four games 96 points have been scored against 53 penalties. Bluebirds lead in total goals with 54, while Terriers received a little more than half the penalties. Winner of the series gets the Minto Cup, formerly played for by professionals, but out of competition since 1934 until it was decided to award it to the best junior team this year.

Fans Protest 'Pink-Tea' Rules Of English Hockey Association

Clint Benedict Returns To Wembley Coaching Job After 15-Day Suspension

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(CP)—Clint Benedict, who made a great mark but not much noise in his National Hockey League days as goalie with Ottawa Senators and Montreal Maroons, to-day returned to his duties of coach of the Wembley Lions after serving a 15-day suspension for arguing with a referee.

The tall mentor, one of hockey's all-time greats, was among the first batch to feel the weight of the campaign being staged by the British Ice Hockey Association to clean-up the game. Cliff Maundrell, who come from Ottawa to be with Earl's Court Rangers and Sonny Rost of Wembley Lions also took enforced rests.

Benedict watched a parade of Monarchs to the penalty box for minor infringements in a London Cup tournament match with Harringay Racers. When his squad was reduced to a goalie and one forward he shouted "Hey, ref, give us a break," and when Referee Wilf Arnott warned him; Clint argued.

So for the next few games Benedict watched his proteges from the sidelines. Rost and Maundrell, who bumped each other about in a 21-penalty game at Earl's Court cooled their heels on the bench for 10 and 12 day streches, after the British hockey sultans dealt with their case. But the fans don't seem to be enjoying the efforts to instill the traditions of "cricket" into hockey. At Brighton in protest to consistent whistle-blowing the fans littered the ice with newspapers and pounded the boards. Coach Alex Smith ordered the Streatham team from the ice until the tumult died.

No. '13' Avoided Hockey Numbers

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—(CP).—National Hockey Leaguers have their superstitions too, and the "13" jinx is one of them. The official list of players' numbers for 1937-38, released to-day by the League shows the fateful figure has been carefully avoided in the handing out of numbers for all of the eight clubs.

Only other missing number is No. 7 of Montreal Canadiens. Howey Morenz wore it when he was blazing along at centre for the Habitants, and when he died last winter, the Club promised it never would be assigned to another man.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

ORMOND BEACH
(By Bradley)

They tell an interesting story about Ormond Beach, Sarnia's gigantic half-back, that is worth passing.

As practically everyone knows, Beach is not only one of the biggest men in Canadian football, but also one of the best. "He weighs over 260 pounds, but despite his elephantine size, is as quick as a cat on his feet.

During one of the regular scheduled games between the Imperials and Balmy Beach soon after Ormond Beach's arrival on this side of the line, the Sarnia giant was ripping holes with clock-like regularity. One of the Balmy Beach linemen, with perhaps more zeal than sportsmanship, decided something must be done, and quickly. So the next time Ormond Beach carried the ball, the Toronto lineman thrust out a leg in the path of the charging runner.

The contact apparently didn't deter the Sarnian for he was back on his feet in an instant, and walking up to the writhing Toronto player, said calmly, while pointing down at his powerful limbs, "I wouldn't do that again, if I were you boy; them legs is mighty hard."

COOPER LEADING MONIED GOLFERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP).—Harry Cooper of Chicago, Canadian open golf champion, but more noted on this side of the border for the number of major tournaments in which he is runner-up, has just about gained a strangle-hold on the year's honors.

In the latest statistics released from the Professional Golfers' Association Tournament Bureau, Cooper is shown as the leading money winner of the year from January 1 to November 1, the leading point scorer toward the P.G.A. trophy and the holder of the lowest scoring average through the tournament seasons.

Cooper, in 26 events, has won $13,916. His nearest rival is Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., with winnings of $9,916. The Chicago veteran has compiled an average score of 71.58 strokes in 78 rounds of golf. He has earned 490 points toward the P.G.A. trophy as compared to 366 for Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the United States open champion.

PAGE TO RETIRE AFTER OLYMPICS TOKYO IN 1940

EDMONTON, Nov. 2—(CP)—J. Percy Page, famous coach of the world champion women's basketball team, Edmonton Grads, has announced he probably will retire after taking his quintet to the 1940 Olympic games in Tokyo.

In the meantime he is confronted with the problem of finding competition in Canada.

When the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association broke away last spring from the Amateur Athletic Union, Grads retained affiliation with the union. The union holds the Canadian franchise from the international governing body for basketball so Grads could not play against United States teams unless linked with the human.

Exhibition games between Grads and other Canadian teams are not planned during the coming winter. Coach Page said the Albertans will not enter any competition until the usual series in defence of the Underwood International Challenge trophy next spring.

With Grads on the sidelines, enthusiastic competition for the Dominion title is expected to reappear during the coming season but Edmonton will not be out of the picture. Mr. Page said Gradettes, one of his farm teams, will be promoted to senior ranking, and enter the Alberta playdowns. The third squad, Gradettes "B," likely will seek the intermediate title.

Grads, who have made exhibition tours in connection with the 1924, 1928, 1932 and 1936 Olympics, already are making preparations for another in conjunction with the games in Japan in 1940. Although without competition, Grads will hold regular practices throughout the coming winter. The Canadians have won easily all Olympic exhibition games and Mr. Page hopes they will retain their unbeaten record in 1940.

The Edmonton high school principal has the youngest team since he picked his first team in 1915. And the players proved their calibre by winning three tough series against crack United States squads last spring.

Meanwhile Coach Arnold Henderson is supervising workouts of 14 Gradettes, all anxious to be chosen to fill three vacancies on the Grad lineup. Maybe with the senior squad out of competition this winter, the vacancies will not be filled until spring.

Third cog in the Grad machine—Gradettes "B" — are getting into shape under supervision of Coach Clare Hollingsworth. Sixty-five players turned out for the first few practices but Coach Hollingsworth has cut the squad down to about 12.

MARMORA SCHOOL WINS CLOSE GAME FROM MADOC HIGH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 2.— Marmora High School rugby team took Madoc High school team into camp at Deloro on Monday afternoon by the narrow margin of 12-11. The game was a replay of the fixture between these teams at Deloro on October 15, when after Marmora had won by 12 points to five, Madoc lodged a protest. For Monday afternoon's game, Don Whytock, Madoc was referee and R. A. Elliott, Deloro acted as umpire.

Marmora Scores First

The game opened with Marmora kicking off and in the early stages securing a point through Hart's kicking. Madoc soon retaliated through Stewart who caught a forward pass and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Madoc who were aggressive in this period failed to add to their lead despite clever bucks by Irvin. In the second quarter, Madoc again drew blood when Stewart duplicated his feat of the first quarter with the touchdown being converted. At half time the score read, Madoc 11, Marmora 1.

In the third quarter, Hart kicked the ball over the Madoc line. Monroe of the visiting team, tried to return the kick but fumbled. Leonard obtained possession and carried the ball over the line. There was no convert. Marmora heartened by this touchdown got into a faster stride and in the final quarter Hollingsworth caught a kick and after running it back for fifty yards, scored a fine touchdown. Hart converted to secure the winning point. Both teams played their hardest to obtain further points but being so evenly matched nothing further materialized. Marmora has now definitely won the C.H.H.S. crests as leaders of their group and will play Albert College, Belleville in home and home games as originally arranged.

Teams:

Madoc — Quarterback, Monroe; half backs, Irvin, Keller and Reeves; outsides, Stewart and Nayler; middles, Bristol and Foster; insides, Hawthorne and Bassett; flying wing, Hayworthe; snap, Moon.

Marmora—Quarterback, Hollingsworth; half backs, Hart, J. Gray and Leonard; outsides, Bertrand and W. Reynolds; middles, Regan and E. Reynolds; insides, C. Reynolds and R. Gray; flying wing, Haacke; snap, Nobes; subs, R. Lumsden, W. Gray and M. McInroy.

Ironman Murdoch Drops To Minors After 600 Games In Big Time Hockey

WINNIPEG, Nov. 2 (CP). — Murray (Ironman) Murdoch, the holder of the world's record for consecutive professional hockey games, parted company last night with New York Rangers of the ... onal League and headed for minor league company, satisfied h's record would live a long time.

Murdoch completed his 600th game with Rangers on Saturday at Saskatoon, where the Gothamites played New York Americans in an exhibition game. At the end of his 11th season last spring Murray's record stood at 594 games, league, playoff, and exhibition.

He went down to Philadelphia Ramblers, Rangers' International-American farm team, when an N. H.L. ruling prohibited his return to the majors after he voluntarily retired during the summer.

"I may go back to the majors next year, if I have a good season," Murdoch said.

"I really don't think players nowadays have much chance to equal my 600 professional-game r...k," the sturdy forward said.

"Things have changed. When I started pro hockey there were only eight of 10 players on a team—sometimes you played while injured. Nothing but a broken limb kept you out. But now when a player has a minor injury or a cold, he's given a few days' rest. The teams have more men, so what chance has a player of making an impressive record?"

IN MEMORIAM

RAPER.—In loving memory of our dear little granddaughter, Beverley Diane, called home to be with Jesus one year ago to-day, November 2, 1936.

"Sweet little darling, light of the home,
Looking for loved ones, beckoning "Come;"
Bright as a sunbeam, pure as the dew,
Anxiously waiting, dear loved ones, for you.

—Much loved and sadly missed by Grandma and Grandpa Curtis.

RAPER.—In loving memory of our dear Baby, Diane, who passed away one year ago to-day, November 2, 1936.

A sweet little flower;
God thought so, too;
For He took her away so soon.
Away to her heavenly paradise
'Mid other sweet flowers to bloom.

—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Mother, Father and Carol.

CULLEN.—In loving memory of a dear Husband and Father, Mr. Blake Cullen, who passed away one year ago to-day.

It is lonesome here without you,
There is such a vacant place;
For we never hear your footsteps
Or see your smiling face.
As we loved you, so we miss you,
In our memory you are dear;
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.

—Ever remembered by Wife, and Sons, Edgar and Bill.

CULLEN.—In loving memory of our dear Dad, Mr. Blake Cullen, who died November 2, 1936.

Gone, dear Dad, gone forever;
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.—
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

—Sadly missed by Daughter and Son, Norma and Frank Scully.

DAVIS.—In loving memory of our dear Father and Husband, Jeffrey Davis, who passed away November 2, 1936.

He suffered hours, yes hours of pain,
To wait a cure; yet all in vain
Till God alone knows what was best,
He called him home and gave him rest.

—Ever remembered by his Wife and Family.

CARD OF THANKS

NEW DRUG REDUCES CHILDBIRTH LABOR

MONTREAL, Nov. 2. — (CP). — Shortening of the period of labor in childbirth through use of a drug, pentothal sodium, is reported by three Montreal doctors in a paper published in the Canadian Medical Association Journal.

The authors of the article, Dr. F. L. MacPhail, Dr. H. R. Dustan Gray and Dr. Wesley Bourne, said pentothal sodium had been used in 238 cases at St. Mary's Hospital here with a "marked" reduction in the time of labor and without noticeable harmful effects on mother or child.

"We do not strive to produce complete amnesia," the doctors wrote, "nor do we believe the mothers desire it. They want to perceive but are willing, laudably, to be freed of apperception. It therefore seems permissible, together with the affectation of some psychological ritual, to administer small quantities of a minimally toxic and dependable drug sufficient to produce, at least, considerable bemusement. We feel we have found such a drug in pentothal.'

"In short,' they added, "when pentothal is used, the throes of labor are abrogated and there is serenity instead.'

CHAPTER 26.

Alma did not prove to be available quite as often as Tim had hoped, but they managed an afternoon and evening in town about once a fortnight. Usually they met in the arcade of Charing Cross underground station, took the District railway to Richmond, and walked up past the bridge and through the Terrace Gardens to ...e park.

There they would walk for hours at a time, sometimes talking volubly, sometimes little or not at all. They would have little competitions over seeking and identifying the different birds, or in naming the trees they encountered. They tried to make friends with the deer (seldom with much success), and one crazy afternoon Tim found an old tennis ball, and they threw it to one another to catch running about playing and laughing with the zest of children.

As the chill autumn evenings set in they walked back in a rich glow of physical well-being, finishing the afternoon with a huge tea at the Lass or the Star and Garter, or the Castle. Thus warm, relaxed, and tingling with health, Tim reached the pinnacle of enjoyment. Sometimes there was music, which under such conditions always made him feel romantic, and at times he would be hard put to it to mask his happiness with a decent sobriety.

He indeed became aware that, in the capacity of a man whose life was shattered, he was putting up an increasingly less impressive performance, and often he would say, "You've done wonders with me, Alma—wonders. A few weeks ago I never thought I could enjoy life again—and here I am, positively happy. . . . It seems almost cruel. . . ." His eyes would fill with genuine tears.

Then to the West End, to a theater or a cinema if it was Sunday. In the darkness he would slip his arm through hers, or take her hand, and sit in contentment for a long time. She made no particular response to his gestures, but she did not discourage them.

Afterwards they would go to a choice supper, generally somewhere in Soho, where they were unlikely to meet anyone from West Shilston. Soon after they parted to go home separately.

One evening, Alma expressing a wish for something more garish and stimulating than their usual Soho resort, they had their meal at the Trocadero. It so happened that as they were settling down at their table a party of half a dozen rose from a neighboring one. A man detached himself from the party and came toward them.

"Why, hello, Alma!" he said. "Fancy seeing you here."

It was Mower. He had not at first recognised Tim, whose back had been to him. There was a rather embarrassing moment, with excuses and explanations hovering in the air, but both Tim and Alma were sensible enough not to attempt any.

"Pleasant surprise, this," said Mower, tactfully enough. "Tell you what, why don't the two of you come along with our crowd? We're going to have a drink or two at the Berkeley."

"Thanks, Mower," said Tim. "I'd like to very much, but we haven't had our meal. We've only just arrived."

"Oh, sorry, so I see. . . . Well, come on afterwards, if you feel like it. Very glad if you do. . . . So long, see you tomorrow in any case, Alma."

The encounter left Tim a trifle disturbed. "He seems very familiar," he said. "Have you been seeing a lot of him, Alma?"

"Only at the tennis club. We were partners in the tournament last month."

"How did you get on?"

"Pretty well. We got to the semi-finals. There were a couple of Wimbledon players who came down, and they made us look rather silly in the end."

"I thought Mower was inclined to poach, that day at The Wilderness."

"Oh, I cured him of that. As far as I'm concerned, anyway. . . . He's not a bad youth, really. It's half nerves, his conceit."

Tim fingered his bread. Mower had been in evening clothes. He had looked very smart, very young, very vital. . . . The people he had been with, men and girls, were young and vital, too. And Alma. . . . Almost a generation separated them; it would not do to wait too long. . .

"Tell me, Alma," he said. "Do you look on me as an old man? I don't feel old, but do I seem so to you?"

She smiled affectionately back at him.

"Of course not, Tim dear," she replied. "Not really old."

A few days later Tim was surprised to receive a late afternoon call from Mower. He received him with his usual courtesy, giving him a drink and making polite small talk as he waited with some interest to hear the reason for this unexpected visitation.

"Idea that occurred to me, Kennedy," Mower came out at last. "Don't know if it would interest you at all. Seems to me, as between us we do most of the better class work in this district, might not be a bad plan to join forces."

Tim raised his eyebrows.

"Well—I should have thought we were doing all that was practicable along those lines already. After all, we do take in each other's washings on holidays."

"I was thinking of something more than that—a partnership."

"Partnership, eh? You mean on a profit-sharing basis?"

"Yes."

Tim shook his head. "I'm afraid I couldn't consider it. . . . I don't want to hurt your feelings, Mower, but you understand, I have been in this town a good many years longer than you, and I've worked up my practice. . . . I can't see that a partnership would be of any advantage to me—rather the reverse, in fact."

"Of course, I know in that way I've got less to offer—except, perhaps, young blood." A sudden cold gleam in Tim's eyes escaped Mower's notice. "I'm ready to admit your special position and buy myself in on reasonable terms."

"And what would you consider reasonable terms?"

"I might go to $500," said Mower, after a pause.

Tim smiled. "That doesn't seem to afford a basis for discussion. . . . No, my dear fellow, I don't think I'm quite decrepit yet. I've quite a few years of good work in front of me before I feel the need of young blood. . . . Come and have a look at my chrysanthemums."

(To Be Continued)

More than $5,000,000 is being spent yearly on the new Zuiderzee Reclamation Works in Holland.

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BOB CAT FACE.

"Wiggy Longears, what are you going to do?" asked the rabbit lady wife of Uncle Wiggily. He had picked up the face of the Bob Cat and was trying it on.

"I'm going to have my Hallowe'en fun," he said. "I couldn't have it Saturday night when the bunny children had theirs as I was off on an airplane trip. I was still on the plane Sunday night, which was really Hallowe'en. But of course I wouldn't play tricks Sunday night."

"I should say not!" agreed his wife.

"So," said Mr. Longears as he picked up the false face of the Fox, "I must have my fun tonight. I don't want to be cheated of it."

"You're going to do something silly, I know you are!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears. "Look at him, Janie!" she called to the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Isn't he silly?"

TWO FACES.

Well might she ask that for Uncle Wiggily now had the false face of the Wolf on in front and the false face of the Fox behind him. He was double-faced.

"Am I silly, Janie?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Yes and no," said Nurse Jane who was always very careful about what she said. "You look silly, playing with the bunny children's Hallowe'en false faces. But if you don't act silly—"

"Oh, he's sure to do that!" exclaimed his wife. "Wiggy, where are you going?" she asked for he had opened the door and was going out into the night taking the false faces with him.

"I'm going to have my Hallowe'en fun," he said. "I'm going to play some tricks on the Bad Craps."

"Oh, my goodness!" cried Nurse Jane.

"Wiggy, my dear, if you do anything silly I'll never speak to you again!" said his wife. "Never!"

"Wait until I come back," said her husband. "Then if you think what I did was silly all right. But I think you will laugh."

"Oh, such a rabbit!" sighed Mrs. Longears as her husband hopped out into the night. "Such a rabbit!"

"Isn't he!" giggled Nurse Jane.

"What are you laughing at?" asked Mrs. Longears sort of sniffling as if she were going to cry.

"Oh, I'm laughing at the funny things Uncle Wiggily will tell us when he comes back," said the muskrat lady tying her long tail in a curled knot to be ready for bed.

Fools Him.

Carrying the three Hallowe'en false faces, Uncle Wiggily, holding up a light made of preserved Lightning Bugs in a bottle, hopped through the dark.

First he went to the den of the Fox. That Bad Chap was inside getting ready to go to sleep.

"I'll fool him!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily.

Putting on the false face of the Bob Cat, Mr. Longears leaned against the window of the den of the Fox, tapped on it and said:

"Come on out, Foxie!"

"Oh, it's you is it, Bobbie!" yawned the Fox. "What do you want at this time of night? Have you caught Uncle Wiggily?"

"Come out here and see!" said Mr. Longears himself, making his voice mewey like the Bob Cat's.

"All right, I'll come," said the Fox. "But you must give me some nibbles. I like Wiggily nibbles."

"I'll give you something!" whispered Mr. Longears, "but don't believe you'll like it."

The rabbit stood near the door of the Fox den but outside. And if the cheese will put some crackers in the pineapple pie, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Fox face.

Predict Cancer, Heart Disorders Will Take Higher Toll

Pair, Outside First 8 Death Causes Led By T.B. 80 Years Ago, Now Top List

BOSTON, Nov. 2 — (AP). — Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, director of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, today said that, despite attempts of science to check the ravages of cancer, "the death rate from it may be expected to go even higher," unless research yielded a cure.

A lengthening of the span of life, he added, also meant deaths from heart disorders must increase.

Dr. Chadwick, discussing the 10 chief causes of death, noted that cancer today ranked second among diseases from which men died, being topped only by heart complications.

Eighty years ago it was not in first 10 and heart disease was ninth in order.

Increased longevity, he observed, meant that more and more people eventually would died from such diseases as cancer and heart trouble.

Dr. Chadwick bases his observations on Massachusetts mortality tables of today and those of 80 years ago.

The tables, he said in an interview, indicated "medical practice is gradually changing from treatment of the young to treatment of the middle-aged and elderly."

The 10 chief causes of death for the five-year period 1856-60 the tables indicated, were:

Tuberculosis, diarrhea and enteritis, infantile deaths, scarlet fever, pneumonia, old age, typhus, accidents, heart disease, diphtheria and croup.

In the five-year period 1931-35, the other had shifted to: Heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemmorrhage, pneumonia, nephritis, accidents, tuberculosis, diseases of early infancy, arteriosclerosis.

Toronto Club Bars Flier From Spain

TORONTO, Nov. 2—(CP).—Toronto Flying Club officials said today Ward Phelan, Toronto pilot who served five months with the Spanish insurgents, had been asked to resign from the club and had been barred from using the club planes pending an official inquiry into alleged stunt flying yesterday.

Complaints were made yesterday that Phelan alarmed people by his low-flying over Rosedale residential area and the Royal York Golf Course. Phelan said he was not stunting and was never far from a safe landing place. His fiancee was reported to have been with the 26-year-old airman.

'Mystery Box' Holds First Graphophone

Sealed and hidden away in the secret archives of the Smithsonian Institute for 56 years, three mysterious boxes placed with the institute in 1881 by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, Canadian inventor of the telephone, were opened at Washington, D.C. They were found to contain the original working model of the first "graphophone"—an early form of the modern machine which magnified the sound. The machine's wax record was found to contain the following message: "There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in our modern philosophy. I am a graphophone. My mother was a phonograph." Among those who heard the aged voice were, LEFT to RIGHT, Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute; Mrs. David Fairchild, daughter of Bell; Alexander Graham Bell Grosvenor, great-grandson of Bell; Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, another daughter of Bell, and T. H. Beard.

DREDGE LOCATED

HALIFAX, Nov. 2.—(CP).—C. H. Hosterman, Halifax agent of the Federal Department of Transport, Marine Branch, announced to-day the Halifax dredge Foundation Scarboro, with four men aboard, had been located by the Lockeport fishing schooner Howard Donald, 60 miles off the Eastern Nova Scotia coast.

The schooner radioed to Halifax she had sighted the dredge in Latitude 44:52, Longitude 59:10, Hosterman said, adding that he believed the Howard Donald had taken two of the crew off the Foundation Scarboro.

RECEPTION FOR CAPTAIN'S BRIDE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 2. — An event of interest on Friday afternoon was the shower and reception held in the Salvation Army Citadel in honor of Mrs. Sharpe, who is the recent bride of the Army Captain. Ladies from the various churches assisted in receiving the guests and in serving, while during the afternoon a brief program was presented. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. F. Adamson, following which Mrs. B. Simpson Black, Mrs. Harold B. Neal and Mrs. T. H. Floyd received the guests, presenting them to Mrs. Sharpe. Others who assisted were Mrs. F. W. Wood, Mrs. A. G. Thompson, Mrs. G. A. Kingston and Mrs. R. Weston. The program included a vocal solo by Wilson Jones who was accompanied by Mr. Charles Allan; piano solo by Miss Patricia Ironside; a reading by Mrs. P. M. Locke; vocal solo, Monica DeCarrol; recitation by Marjorie Mills. Greetings were brought from the various churches, with the representatives being called on by Mrs. A. G. Thompson, who was in charge of the program. In conclusion, both Captain and Mrs. Sharpe thanked the ladies for their kindness and expressed appreciation for the many gifts which they received, and with the singing of the National Anthem the guests departed.

Enjoyable Shower.

Over one hundred and twenty-five guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hedger, Percy Township, on Friday evening to attend a shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hedger. Dancing and cards were the order of the evening, which was one of the jolliest that has been witnessed in this part of the country in some time. Numerous friends from Campbellford, Seymour and Percy Township journeyed to the Hedger home to take part and many of those who were unable to attend sent gifts to the bride and groom. At the conclusion of the evening "Jim" thanked the guests for the many gifts given to both he and his wife, and extended a hearty invitation to all to visit them in their new home.

CAVAN

Congratulations are extended to Miss Nan Fallis, who, on Monday evening won first prize at the Public School speaking contest, at Ida. The prize was a Parker fountain pen.

The relief donations for the West, which were stored in Cavan Community Hall, were taken in two truck loads to Millbrook on Monday afternoon where a second car was being loaded.

SHOT ON HALLOWE'EN

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Nov. 2. (CP)—Neil Bell, 17, of Cedarvale, Grey County village, today was suffering from a bullet-pierced lung, aftermath of a Hallowe'en prank. The bullet lodged in the collarbone. No charge has been laid against the man alleged to have fired the shot.

Jack Bell, brother of Neil, said a score of youths were celebrating Hallowe'en throughout the village. They were chased away from one residence but stole around behind it again. The man of the house appeared with a flashlight and rifle and fired at the group.

GIRLS ORGANIZE PROJECT CLASS

WARSAW, Nov. 2.—Nine girls met at Mrs. George Weller's home on Saturday afternoon for the first lesson in the project work. Mrs. Weller made her introduction to the work very interesting.

The class was organized with Miss Florence Bolton, president; Miss Margaret McDonald, secretary, Miss Lois Clysdale treasurer and Miss Jean Payne, press reporter.

Record books were distributed, each girl receiving one. These books are to be kept clean and otherwise in good order, not to be given away, and if any student cannot finish the term she must return her book. Records of work are to be kept.

When doing any work at home the girls are on their honor. It must be done by themselves according to directions. If anything does not turn out well it must not be discarded and another attempt made. The result of the firts trial after the lesson must be recorded.

The classes are held every two weeks on Saturday afternoon for seven lessons. During Christmas and other holiday times the class will be postponed.

The first project is "The Milky Way,' and another will follow on "A Complete Bedroom" and when this is finished probably well on towards June next, Achievement Day will be held in Peterborough when Warsaw class and the five other classes will meet.

Mrs. Weller outlined the work for the present and gave a demonstration on correct measurements, which are level full of all cases, necessitating measuring cups and spoons. She enjoined care in every detail.

For homework to bring on Nov. 13, the class must take some day, when there has not been more than usual milk in the day's menu, and write from memory all they have eaten on that day estimate the amount of milk used.

It was a real joy to look at the bright-faced eager girls. They asked questions. A laugh was not taboo.

Other girls as visitors are not allowed nor are mothers. The girls' class is to be free from anything which might detract from their attention, or from their freedom. The object of the course is to teach the value, use and modes of using milk as an article of diet.

The school, some of the homes and some of the stores were decorated for Hallowe'en.

On Friday afternoon the school children had an Hallowe'en party. There was a parade of children in all sorts of fantastic costumes, among them a bride and groom. This was followed by several merry games which the youngsters enjoyed thoroughly, as did a few guests.

Miss Armstrong is spending her holidays with her mother at Mr. John A. Crowe's home.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream—three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

BRITISH OFFICIALS HAVE NO POLICY FOR DUKE'S TOUR

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—(CP).—Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, said on his arrival here today that British officialdom had "no policy at all" in connection with the coming visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Asked regarding official participation in receiving the Duke and Duchess when they arrive here November 11, Sir Ronald said:

"I imagine the Duke will want certain facilities and I shall be glad to give him the things he wants. We haven't any policy at all. I have only vague indications as to his plans."

To a reporter's question as to the possibility of a "delicate situation" arising, the Ambassador replied: "There will be no difficulties about a man studying housing and labor and still avoiding politics."

Another question as to the possibility of the Duke being dined at the Washington Embassy brought an ambassadorial chuckle and the reply: "I shall have to ask Lady Lindsay."

Friends Do Arranging.

Sir Gerald Campbell, British Consul-General in New York, who was among those greeting Sir Ronald as he arrived on the Queen Mary, said he or some representative of the Consulate undoubtedly would meet the Duke as a "distinguished visitor."

"He is arranging everything through his friends," Sir Gerald said.

Another arrival was Ernest A. Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor. He travelled incognito and parried all questions as to his divorce and his former wife.

Asked if he planned to marry Mrs. Mary Raffray, London society woman, whose name has been connected with his in rumors, Simpson replied: "Let's go and have a drink."

He said he had come to visit his mother, Mrs. Ernest L. Simpson, of New York, and attend to private business for the London ship brokerage firm of which he is a member. The firm is bidding for the long-unused United States liner Leviathan, to be broken up for scrap.

WARSAW WA HOLDS SUCCESSFUL RALLY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Nov. 2 — Warsaw United Church W.A. was well attended on Thurday. After opening devotions there was a discussion about use of the proceeds of annual supper and also about another entertainment in the near future.

It was decided to join in with the Presbyterial organization of the W.A. which is being formed in the church and pay the fee.

An innovation was all singing a chorus, "Let the Peace of Jesus," from one of the choir books. Mrs. Taylor led with Mrs. Wilkinson at the piano. Mrs. Weller read the Psalm CIII. Mrs. Arthur Payne sang, "Jesus, Jesus, Wonderful Saviour."

Next meeting will be the annual business meeting. A contest, girls' names, was held. Mrs. Wilkinson had eleven out of twelve correct. Shepherd pie, then bread and butter and tea were served by Mrs. O. B. McIlvena, Mrs. Harold Payne and Mrs. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Wilkinson announced for the W.M.S. members an invitation from Cottesloe W.M.S. to the Warsaw W.M.S. to attend the Cottesloe branch W.M.S. at their regular meeting in Mrs. McDonald's home on November 10th, also that on November 4 the Warsaw United W.M.S. will hold its last quarterly tea by "D" group.

The play, "Valley Farm," put on by the Y.P. of St. James, Peterborough, on Friday evening was well patronized and delightful. The play was brought here by the Presbyterian ladies in aid of the W.M.S.

The Presbyterian W.M.S. met at Mrs. W. R. Payne's on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and helpful service.

Personals

Rev. J. W. Wilkinson attended the forty-fifth annual conference of the Theological Alumni Association in Kingston this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Payne, who have been in Kingston since Spring are back in their home for the Winter.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, Lakefield, were in Warsaw on Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Crowe and Miss Eva Clifford called on people in their district as collectors for the Bible Society on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. David Tucker has made some of her calls.

Mrs. Robert Tighe, with her two sons and accompanied by her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Christopher from Florida leave on Saturday by motor for Florida, where they plan an extended visit.

Mrs. A. F. Choate spent two weeks guest of Mrs. Donald Davis after closing her cottage at the lake, and returned the end of this week to Peterborough.

Threshing is well over. Farmers seem pleased with George Moore's new outfit. It does the work more quickly than the older ones and the grain is well cleaned.

The rainy weather is making root harvesting difficult. The crops of both turnips and mangolds are exceptionally good.

DENY RECOGNITION

LONDON, Nov. 2—(CP Cable). — Reliable British sources to-day denied reports Great Britain had granted the Spanish insurgent regime de facto recognition.

The French Embassy also said the report was unlikely. It was said there that Great Britain would not take such a step without first informing France. They added such a development was highly improbable in the present tangled situation.

FARM LANDS POPULAR

CALGARY—(CP).—Demand for farm lands in the Alberta South country, with higher prices and better crops, has increased this year, Calgary realtors report. Some farmers are extending their present holding while buyers from "outside" the province have been seeking Southern acreages.

WOODMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY AS TRIAL OPENS

RURAL PUPILS SMITH SECTION CROWDED OUT

Smith School Section Sends to City 56 Pupils

Trustees of S. S. No. 3, Smith Township, are to be notified by Peterborough Board of Education that after the end of the current school year, their pupils will not be accepted in city schools.

Such action, it was stated by members of the Board would force the trustees of S. S. No. 3, to ask for additional school accommodation for pupils from that section and would help to relieve the growing congestion that is being caused at Queen Alexandra and Central Schools because of the influx of pupils from the rural section adjacent to the northerly limits of the city.

The matter came under discussion following presentation of a report bearing on the matter by Public School Inspector K. S. Wightman. The inspector stated there are at present 52 pupils from S. S. No. 3 at Queen Alexandra School and 4 at Central.

While they are there under an arrangement that was made with the Board, the influx has reached such proportions that it is causing inconvenience to children living in the city. It was stated by Mrs. W. R. Morris that many children in the north-end of the city who should be going to Queen Alexandra School were having to go to Central, because the pupils from S. S. No. 3 at the far end of Barnardo Avenue, were using accommodation at Queen Alexandra School.

Last year it was stated the Board collected about $1,200 from the rural section for the tuition of children from that area attending city schools, but the amount did not cover the entire cost.

Dr. G. R. Scott, chairman of the Board, felt the time had arrived when trustees of the rural section should make arrangements with the Department of Education for a new school. "Naturally he said they are not willing to make a capital expenditure until the issue is forced on them."

CHINESE, SOVIET CHIEFS TO CONFER

PARIS, Nov. 3 (CP-Havas)—The Riga correspondent of the Paris-Midi (Independent Centrist) telegraphed today that, fearing an attack from "anti-forces" in the far east, the highest military authorities of the Soviet Union soon will confer with Chinese army representatives at the headquarters of Marshal Vassily Bluecher, commander of the Soviet forces in Siberia.

Marshal Klementi Voroshiloff, defence commissar, the dispatch said, will go to Vladivostok and inspect all far eastern Soviet garrisons before attending the conference, the dispatch said.

General Peter A. Smirnoff, assistant defence commissar and head of the political department of the Red army, will accompany his chief, according to the dispatch.

BBC Not Handling Duke's Talk

LONDON, Nov. 3 (AP). — The British Broadcasting Corporation announced today it would not rebroadcast the Duke of Windsor's talk from Washington, November 12. Rebroadcasting would have entailed an extension of B.B.C. hours as broadcasts usually end in Britain at midnight.

King Decides Ruling Of Supreme Court Will Not Be Enough

Dominion Takes View Acts Should Be Held Up Until Decision Made—Aberhart Asks Action

OTTAWA, Nov. 3—(CP)—Fate of the Alberta government's legislative efforts to regulate credit institutions, increase the tax on banks and exercise a measure of control over news publication has been placed with the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada.

An order-in-council, passed yesterday and made public by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, refers to the Supreme Court the question of competence of the legislature to enact three bills passed at the last special session of the Alberta legislature. The Prime Minister indicated the decision of the Supreme Court, whatever it may be, will be appealed to the Privy Council for confirmation or otherwise.

The three bills in question are formally titled—"An act respecting the taxation of banks," "An act to amend and consolidate the credit of Alberta Regulation Act," and "An act to ensure the publication of accurate news and information." When they were presented to Lieutenant Governor Bowen for assent he reserved his approval and forwarded them to the governor general "for the signification of his pleasure." That signification will be reserved pending the decision of the court.

The bill respecting credit regulation was similar to one passed in August and disallowed by the federal government. Alberta's Premier Aberhart, claiming the power of disallowance provided in the British North America Act no longer existed, urged a reference to the Supreme Court to settle that point.

Last week Mr. Mackenzie King, while declaring no doubt existed in the government's mind as to the continued force of the disallowance power, made the suggested reference to the Supreme Court.

Wants Them Made Law First

The new reference announced last night was also suggested by Mr. Aberhart but he emphasized the point that the bank and credit bills should first be assented to and become law so that a proper test case could be taken through the courts.

The Dominion Government took the view that the Bills should not become operative pending decision of the courts because while the cases were proceeding "everyone affected by their provisions would either have to comply with same, notwithstanding their possible invalidity, or be put in a position of default and subjected to penalties, which in the opinion of the Government would not be fair to the people of Alberta."

BELIEVE BRITAIN SOON TO RECOGNIZE FRANCO'S REGIME

LONDON, Nov. 3 (CP-Havas)—The Daily Mail (Independent) said today that following the accrediting of commercial representatives to the Spanish Insurgent regime the British government will soon take the first step toward establishing permanent diplomatic relations with the Salamanca regime.

"There is now no doubt in responsible British quarters," Lord Rothermere's principal paper declared, "that General Franco will be in full control of the whole of Spain early in the new year."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) said "It will be made clear in the official announcement that this step does not imply de jure recognition of the Franco government." (De jure recognition would involve an exchange of ambassadors.)

"But now that Nationalist rule has been established throughout three-fifths of Spain, including the whole Atlantic sea-board, practical considerations are held to demand this step as a matter of urgency," The Telegraph added.

The paper indicated the two men about to be named to protect British interests in Insurgent Spain are Sir Robert Hodgson, former minister to Albania, and Geoffrey Thompson, first secretary of the British embassy to Spain, now established on the border at Hendaye, France.

Sir Robert, now in retirement, served for many years in Russia. From 1907 to 1919, he was counsul at Vladivostok, from 1921 to 1924 was a British agent in the Soviet Union, and from 1924 to 1927 was charge d'affaires at Moscow.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—(AP).—Sources close to French diplomats reported to-day there was a growing belief among them Great Britain was seeking to have General Franco break away from Italy and Germany.

Quai D'Orsay sources said diplomats saw such a move in the background of Foreign Secretary Eden's speech in the House of Commons on Monday.

"This speech could be entitled 'An appeal to Franco over the heads of his Italian and German associates,'" these sources said.

Pointing to Eden's intimation that foreign assistance was likely to cost Franco heavily, these quarters declared "without a single doubt these words ring like an exhortation to Franco: 'Get rid of your allies and we will let you established a blockade of Republican Spain.'"

JEW BANKERS ARRESTED

DANZIG, Nov. 3 (CP-Havas). — The Jewish public bank, only Jewish bank hitherto allowed to transact foreign exchange business in the free city of Danzig, was deprived of the right yesterday. Dr. Leo Goldhaber, its director, and two assistant directors were arrested, with a number of other Jewish business men, all but one of whom were Polish. The lone exception was a German Jew. The autiiorities confiscated the money of those they arrested, amounting to about 2,000,000 gulden.

Get Two Boys "A" And "B" Labelled But "C" Calls For Special Pow-Wow

MONTREAL, Nov. 3 (CP) — There'll be a meeting of tremendous import at Mrs. Mary Brotmann's Hospital bedside tonight.

Three weeks ago Mama Brotman gave birth to triplets, three bouncing lads whose predicted arrival created Canadian medical history. For the nonce, they were tagged "A," "B" and "C." Their birth was predicted by Dr. Max Wiseman and confirmed by X-ray.

Then came time for them to receive designations other than alphabetical. "B" was named Aaron after the father of the husband—John Brotman—and "A" was named Nathan after Mrs. Brotman's father.

"And what will you call 'C'?" Mrs. Brotman was asked last night.

Mama admitted she and Papa had been stumped. "C" couldn't go on without a name, although he and brothers "A" and "B" "right now are answering just fine to 'A,' 'B,' and 'C.'"

Mama and Papa almost decided to call the whole thing off, then made up their minds something should be done about it. So they decided to meet tonight and choose a name for "C".

More than 4,000,000 bunches of bananas have been shipped from Costa Rica this year.

Duke Tours Slums While His Duchess Buys Clothes For U.S. Trip

Paris, Nov. 3 (AP)

THE Duke of Windsor toured Paris slums yesterday to inspect a model housing project for French workmen.

In the district known as "the zone," in the northwest part of Paris, the Duke, who shortly will leave for the United States, examined a new apartment block as well as tin and wood shacks around old fortifications.

After inspecting four individual workers' apartments, which he found clean and comfortable, he paid a hasty visit to one of the hovel-like shacks. There was dirt on the floor, boxes were used for chairs and junk piled in the corners.

Paris has financed a program to eradicate the northwest slums. It was one of the buildings erected under this program that the Duke entered. Throughout his visit he stopped frequently to talk to the tenants.

While the Duke was inspecting slums, the Duchess had fittings of clothes for their American tour.

CHINA PREDICTS WORLD STRIFE IF JAPS LET GO

Settle It Themselves, Says Italy at Parley

BRUSSELS, Nov. 3.—(AP).— Dr. Wellington Koo said to-day China would not be contributing to the cause of International law and order if she accepted peace with Japan "at any price."

"If Japanese aggression in the Far East is not checked and faith in the pledged word is not restored, then there is every danger that Japanese forces will over-run the boundaries of China and throw the world into a general war from which no important power will long be able to keep aloof.

Dr. Koo, stating his country's position in the Far Eastern war, read a 14-page prepared speech in which he sought to show the Japanese were conducting the "most utterly ruthless methods of warfare" the civilized world has ever seen.

He maintained that the invading armies, moreover, have sought consistently to undermine the principle of the open door, of equal opportunity, in China for the commerce and industry of all nations.

China, he said, regrets the absence of Japanese participation in the conference here. At the same time, however, members of his delegation told the Associated Press the Chinese objected to extending a new invitation to Japan because it would result in delay.

Quick action, they said, echoing the words of the British Foreign Secretary Eden, and the French Foreign Minister, Hvyon Delbos, was necessary.

Italy Would Do Nothing

In the last few moments before adjournment, Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, Italy's chief delegate, dropped a bomb into the placid waters of peace.

Paul Spaak, Belgian foreign minister who opened the deliberations, and Norman Davis, Anthony Eden, and Yvon Delbos, heads of the United States, British, and French delegations, respectively, all urged the imperative need of a peaceful settlement.

After they had declared there was not the remotest suggestion of possible sanctions against Japan and that conciliation was the first watchword. Aldrovani - Marescotti said for Italy: "Since we are here the only useful thing we can contemplate is to invite the two parties to establish direct contact between themselves. After that we have nothing to do."

Otherwise, the Italian delegate added, the Fascist government must formulate the fullest reservations as to the results of the conference, which could only end in platitudinous resolutions in evidence of the

6 MONTHS, LASHES HANDED BANDIT

CHATHAM, Ont., Nov. 3 (CP)— A reformatory term and lashes were prescribed by Magistrate Arnold today as punishment for Ervin Faubert, 20, Chatham, for participation in the holdup of a couple in a car on the Indian Creek road in Harwich Oct. 17. He will serve six months determinate, and nine months indeterminate and 10 lashes.

"Young fellows who go out and do this sort of thing must receive punishment," said the magistrate. "I hope this will deter others."

Faubert was convicted a week ago on a charge of assault with intent to rob. The authorities seek his brother John, and a "thick set bald headed man" as suspects in the holdup.

Evidence adduced at Faubert's trial was that Gordon Teetzell of Ridgetown and Miss Violet Heather of Chatham, had stopped in a farm driveway prior to turning in a road when three men aproached their car and demanded money. One ordered the girl to "come with me." Teetzell, refusing the demand for money, was attacked by two men one of whom, it was alleged, used a pair of pliers as a club. Miss Heather, at the time, recognized two of the men as "the Faubert boys."

Post mortem examination showed the man had died as a result of cerebral hemorrhage. After the jury viewed the body the hearing was adjourned until next Tuesday.

HEENAN AVOIDING SEAT IN SENATE

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 3—(CP).— Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, said in a speech here last night he believed that within a few years new industries would be established in Thunder Bay district to utilize the "unlimited wealth" of inferior wood unsuited to present pulp manufacturing methods.

In an address at a banquet tendered in his honor by Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce, he denied newspaper reports he would accept a seat in the Senate.

"My politics in the past 20 years have been chiefly the development of Northern Ontario—that's why some newspaper in the East want to send me to the Senate," he said. "I have no more notion of being relegated to the Senate than they have."

He predicted United States owners of pulp mills being established in this district soon will see "the wisdom of fabricating all the pulpwood into the finished product in this country and of gradually transferring their industrial operations from their American plants to the proper location adjacent to their raw material supply."

Annual expenditure of more than $34,000 in Thunder Bay area would be represented by the new mills and the pulpwood cut of 1,150,000 cords a year would be less than the annual average growth of pulpwood, he said.

The minister said arguments of United States publishers that newsprint price increases had forced them to raise wages were answered by his assertion men in Ontario bush and those who produced paper were equally entitled to a fair living wage.

Tourist traffic on the Lake Superior portion of the trans-Canada Highway, now under construction, would make it "One of the greatest revenue producers the province ever had," he declared.

LA GUARDIA IS GIVEN BIG LEAD NEW YORK CITY

Dewey Is Elected As District Attorney

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP).— Mounting returns emphasized to-day the defeats absorbed by Tammany Hall and the Committee for Industrial Organization in two of yesterday's principal elections in the United States.

Old Tammany took its second successive beating when New York voters elected Mayor Fiorello La Guardia by a record-breaking total and selected racket-smashing Thomas E. Dewey for District Attorney of New York county. La Guardia received 1,344,016 votes—a margin of 454,426 over Jeremiah T. Mahoney, Democrat. Both support President Roosevelt policies.

The C.I.O., in its first major bid for direct political power, lost the Detroit Mayoralty to Richard W. Reading, an unaffiliated candidate with American Federation of Labor support.

Because of the dominance of local issues, party leaders found few clues to national political trends in the scattered off-year elections. Late returns showed that:

ATTACK THREATENS BRITISH ARABIA

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 3 (AP).— Troops of Saudi, Arabia, were reported concentrating today on the southern border of Trans-Jordan, where widespread disorders occurred after a pro-British speech by King Abdullah in the Trans-Jordan Parliament.

(Saudi Arabia is an independent kingdom in the Arabian Peninsula southeast of the British mandated territory of Trans-Jordan. Palestine, centre of grave Arab-Jewish troubles recently, adjoins Trans-Jordan on the west.

(Trans-Jordan is governed by a local Arab administration under King Abdullah Ibn Hussein. The country is covered by the Palestine mandate, but the clauses relating to the establishment of a national home for the Jews are expressly excluded from operation therein. The Arabs of Trans-Jordan are seeking greater national independence).

Dispatches reaching Beirut said the King told his parliament that, while he sympathized with the Arab cause, he reaffirmed his country's friendship with Great Britain.

Shortly after his speech, an unexploded bomb was found in the King's office. Similar bombs were said to have been found in several Trans-Jordan towns, and Nationalists circulated pamphlets in Amman urging a revolution.

Crown Challenges 23 And Defence 16 In Choosing Jury

Sister of Aubrey Sedore Claims Murdered Man Always Had Lots of Money—Saw $250 Once

NAPANEE, Ont., Nov. 3.—(CP)—Robert Woodman, 23-year-old Flinton youth, charged with murder, went on trial here today in a crowded courtroom before Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland. Woodman's wife was seated close to the prisoner's box as selection of a jury started.

Formal plea of not guilty was entered by Woodman to the charge he killed Aubrey Sedore, 29, also of Flinton. The Crown alleges Woodman murdered his neighbor between February 8 and May 2 this year and attempted to burn the body after dismembering it.

One prospective juror was absent when the roll was called and Mr. Justice McFarland asked the reason. He was told the man was in jail on a charge.

"A very good reason," commented the judge.

Attired in a blue suit, Woodman took an animated interest in the proceedings.

Entire Panel Used

The entire jury panel was used, the defence challenging 16 and the Crown 23. Before a jury was named, those asked by the Crown to stand aside were recalled and two were selected.

A plan of the area in which the crime allegedly was committed was submitted by M. E. Crouch, Ontario land surveyor. Edward Wright, photographer of the Provincial Police Criminal Investigation Department, identified pictures taken of the district Sept. 29.

John Damore, Flinton storekeeper, fixed the time he last saw Sedore as Feb. 8. On that date, he said, he gave Sedore $25 in a lumber deal and receipted a receipt. Damore said Sedore was a customer of his grocery store.

Previous to Feb. 8 he said he saw Sedore on an average of twice a week, but he admitted under cross-examination that Sedore could be away for some time without the storekeeper noting his absence.

"My brother always had lots of money and one time in the house, a week before I last saw him, he counted out $250 and a lot of change and gave me a dollar," said Blanche Sedore. In January, shortly before he disappeared, her brother was working in the woods, she said.

Gladstone, 60, Prescott, Ont., is in general hospital here in a critical condition from injuries suffered when the oil truck he was driving was demolished by a Canadian National Railways engine at a level crossing near Maitland, five miles east of here, today.

The truck, loaded with gasoline, was completely demolished, part of it being carried half a mile by the engine, which was travelling light.

Cyclist Sustains Injury To Head

Vincent Menogue, 397 Mark Street, sustained a cut on the back of his head, when he was struck from the bicycle he was riding when at the junction of Hunter and Burnham Streets, late on Tuesday night.

Arnold Brady, 175 Douro Street, driver of the car involved, reported that he was proceeding west on Hunter Street, and was about to turn left at Burnham Street when he collided with a bicycle ridden by Menogue. Following the accident the driver of the car took the cyclist to a doctor for medical treatment. He attributed the accident to lack of lights on the bicycle.

Father Blames His Son's Arrest On Failure To Avoid Church

London Magistrate Interrupts Tirade And Registers Conviction

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 3.—(CP).— Brandishing a copy of the Bible as "Exhibit No. 1," H. J. Grover, 506 Adelaide street, in county police court to-day blamed the arrest of his 16-year-old son David, on a breaking and entering charge, to his failure to keep away from churches.

Despite a five minutes plea by the father County Magistrate Hawkshaw registered a conviction against the boy, and remanded him a week for sentence.

Reading from a prepared address, Grover told the court he had warned his son to stay away from churches, and that he hadn't been obeyed. When he was nearly finished his address Magistrate Hawkshaw interrupted, and refused to allow him to continue.

"Satin began his nefarious operations in the Garden of Eden," read the father, "and the trail of the serpent can be seen all the way down the 6,000 years since that time right into this particular case and many others of a like nature.

"This has always been the devil's method, and religions is the greatest curse of the earth at the present time. I have taught my boy the accused to keep away from the churches, otherwise he would be in trouble and he now acknowledges that I was right and his present predicament is the result of his disobedience to my instructions."

Winter Sets Wombat On Digging Spree

Philadelphia, Nov. 3 (AP)

WINTRY weather and "Dizzy," the Australian wombat, gave Zoo officials fits for a while.

The wombat has the legs of a Dachshund, face of a pig and hibernating habits of a bear. The hibernating habits prompted him to start digging last week.

Today his keepers had dug him out of a hole ten feet long. They put him in a cage where he could not dig—and hoped that would hold him for a while.

Mexico faces a wheat shortage and has authorized importation of the grain when necessary.

Norwood Truck Forced Into Ditch

GANANOQUE, Ont., Nov. 3—(CP). —William S. McCauley, Carleton Place, appeared before Justice of the Peace Clifford Sine here to-day and was remanded until November 9 on three charges following a motor accident two miles east of Gananoque on Tuesday.

McCauley was charged with driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving, and having liquor in his possession illegally.

It is alleged McCauley forced a transport owned by Westley Beavis of Norwood off the highway into the ditch. Bail of $500 was furnished.

North Ontario To Get Equal Attention With South Regarding Roads

Ottawa, Nov. 3 (CP)

THE Hepburn government intends to place Northern Ontario on an equal basis with the southern part of the province in respect to highways, Hon. T. B. McQuesten, minister of highways, said here today.

He referred to the "thousands of square miles of magnificent clay land suitable for farming" in the north and said it was the government's intention to make them accessible by highways.

Double highways, with boulevard divisions, seem to be the answer to safety problems, the minister said. A highway of this type was being built on number two highway between Windsor and the Quebec border but only 50 miles of the 500 would be constructed annually.

LIBERALS WILL GIVE EARL ROWE NO OPPOSITION

No Other Candidate Named in Riding So Far

ALLISTON, Ont., Nov. 3 (CP)—Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, today had a comparatively clear path back to the House of Commons seat he resigned to make an unsuccessful bid for support in nearby Simcoe Centre in last month's Ontario election.

Decision of the Dufferin-Simcoe Liberal executive not to oppose him in the Nov. 15 by-election left Mr. Rowe the only candidate so far named. If no other is put forward when nominations close Nov. 8 he will return to the seat he held 12 years.

Announcement of the executive's decision was made here last night by President R. A. Sutherland after a meeting held in camera.

A resolution adopted by the executive said the riding association disapproved of the Conservative platform and principles but "having in view the acclamation tendered the Dominion Liberal candidate in the riding of Frontenac-Addington" urged no candidate be named.

(Angus McCallum of Sunbury received an acclamation Monday in Frontenac-Addington—the seat resigned by Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario Minister of Public Works, who also campaigned unsuccessfully in the provincial election. A seat is being opened for Mr. Campbell at Sault Ste. Marie.)

Mr. Rowe will lead the party from Ottawa, it was decided at a caucus of his party's members-elect in Toronto Oct. 25. Premier Hepburn previously had offered not to oppose him should some Conservative seat be offered.

50 CHILDREN DIE, BURIED IN RUINS BOMBED SCHOOL

MADRID, Nov. 3 (AP) — Rescue squads searched bomb-shattered buildings of the Catalan city Lerida today for additional victims of an Insurgent air raid already reported by the government to have taken 125 lives. Hospitals were filled with injured men, women and children.

More than 50 bodies of children were removed from a primary school, wrecked over their heads near closing time yesterday when nine tri-motored planes roared in from the west and dumped their explosives.

Medical aid was sent to Lerida from Barcelona, the Catalan capital, about 75 miles away.

(The Insurgent press in Burgos, meanwhile, published a declaration by Gen. Franco, the Insurgent leader, that "the war is won."

("It will finish with a general collapse of our opposition which each day becomes more certain," the general asserted. "One day Spain will wake up and have the surprise of learning the war is over.")

FREDDIE IS HAPPY AUNT TO KEEP HIM

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3—(AP)—Young Freddie Bartholomew, "very happy" because a Superior Court Judge refused to return him to his parents, was his aunt "Cissies" boy for keeps to-day.

"I would not care to go to my parents," the 15-yearlold film star testified yesterday. "You see, they are practically perfect strangers to me. I am very happy with my aunt. I love her very much. She is like a mother to me. In fact, she has been my mother since I was three years old."

Freddie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bartholomew, charged in their suit to break Miss Millicent Bartholomew's guardianship she had promised they could cancel the adoption within six months if they desired.

Miss Bartholomew—Freddie calls her "Aunt Cissie"—charged the parents wanted to void the adoption so they could get more of Freddie's earnings.

Suicide Inspirer Turns To Joy

Budapest, Nov. 3 (UP)

LADISLAUS Javor, author of the song "Gloomy Sunday," that has been blamed for more than 200 suicides throughout the world, tonight introduced his "Ten Commandments of a Happy Life" in an effort to atone for his morbid torch song.

"It was not my fault that my simple chanson became a funeral march of dying Europe," Javor said. "All that I am able to do is balance my account of responsibility and spread the propaganda of happiness and joyfulness."

FRENCH PROTEST MAY SHIFT WAR FROM CONCESSION

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—(AP)— Negotiations were under way today to move Shanghai warfare away from fringes of the French concession, where many foreigners make their homes.

A Japanese spokesman told of the conversations to neutralize the Nantao area just south of the concession. He said representatives of a neutral power had approached Japanese with a plan designed to avoid further endangering of foreign and Chinese noncombatants.

Coincidentally, foreign military observers reported Chinese lines extended west from the International Settlement were thinning, and added that they would not be surprised if Chinese withdrew from the area immediately around Shanghai within the next few days.

It was disclosed the plan for neutralization of Nantao, the Chinese quarter which Japanese on several occasions had threatened to bombard, was originated by Father Jacquinot, the Catholic priest who heads the International Refugee committee.

Under the proposed neutralization plan, both Chinese and Japanese would sign separate agreements with Father Jacquinot, providing demilitarization for purely humanitarian reasons to avoid danger to thousands of civilians flocking to the area from outlying districts.

Double Pledge

The agreements would pledge Chinese to withdraw military forces from Nantao, and bind Japanese not to attack the district.

China's sovereignty over the area, however, would not be infringed upon.

The Japanese spokesman explained the general purpose of the proposed agreements was to insure no Chinese troops would enter the northern part of Nantao. Japanese said a final decision rested with Chinese.

It was understood actual signing of the proposals hinged upon resolution of Chinese demands the neutralized zone leave them a corridor providing military access to the Whangpoo River, which borders Nantao on the east.

While conversations were in progress, Japanese resumed their drive southward from Spearhead bases on the south bank of Soochow Creek. Independent observers confirmed Japanese assertions Nippon's warriors had crossed the creek at three points and established an infantry front line a half mile to the south.

TERRITORIAL ARMY GAINS IMPORTANCE

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(CP).— Leslie Hore-Belisha, Secretary for War, has announced steps to bring the British Territorial Army more directly under control of the War Office.

Addressing a dinner of the City Lieutenants' Club he said the Territorial Army henceforth will be represented directly on the Army Council by General Sir Walter Kirke, Director-General.

A new Post-Deputy Director-General has been created, and a "Terriers" officer will be appointed Assistant Adjutant-General in the War Office.

"The Territorial Army must be expected in war to play a full part," said the War Secretary. "Already it is charged with defending Britain coastwards and skywards."

BOY SCOUTS' APPLE DAY

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 3.— On Monday evening the Campbellford Boy Scout Troop met and laid plans for the holding of their annual apple day on Nov. 13. It was reported that since the town council had granted permission for the Apple Day the troup should hasten to make arrangements for its conduction. Thirty-five boys turned out for the meeting and a number of them passed their tenderfoot tests with one Scout completing his second class.

The balance of the evening was spent in playing games and in community singing and the Rev. T. H. Floyd closed the meeting with prayer.

British Battleship Ordered To Mediterranean

A view of Palma, Majorca, in the Balearic Islands, which looms as the new storm centre in the current crisis in the Mediterranean. The British government has ordered H.M.S. New Yorkers Re-Elect La Guardia Mayor

Democrats the Governorship he has held twice, leaving the Republicans with only six Governors out of 48.

Bruce Batron, advertising executive and author, was elected to the House of Representatives from New York's "silk stocking" district, replacing a Democrat and increasing Republican strength in that branch of Congress by one. Three other Congressional elections to fill vacancies developed no party switches.

Holling Carries Buffalo.

He defeated his outstanding rival, Edwin F. Jaeckle, Republican, by 1,427.

Former Governor James M. Curley of Massachusetts lost his political comeback race for Mayor of Boston to Maurice J. Tobin, 36, in a non-partisan five-man contest.

James H. Price, Democrat, was easily elected Governor of Virginia.

Cleveland re-elected Mayor Harold H. Burton.

Balloting in yesterday's off-year election gave Republicans increased power in the 1938 State Assembly, victory in a majority of 50 mayoral contests and apparent control of the 1938 State Constitutional Convention on the basis of incomplete returnes on election of 153 delegates and 15 delegates-at-large.

Republicans won control of the Assembly for a third straight year with 81 seats as against the Democrats' 66 and the American Labor party's three—the latter represented for the first time.

RUBBER WORKERS SETTLE WALKOUT

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 3.—(CP).—The six-week strike of 600 Kaufman Rubber Company workers was recorded as settled to-day with what Union officials termed "a better understanding" existing between employer and employee. The setting of a date for the men to return to work remained to be decided.

The strikers, who sought increased wages and better working conditions, at a meeting here last night voted to accept an agreement providing for re-employment at the wage scale prevailing last Sept. 22. No discrimination will be shown the strikers for union activities, it was agreed.

Settlement of the dispute was effected through the conciliation efforts of the Ontario Department of Labor which brought about a meeting of strikers' representatives and company heads Monday. Out of the meeting came the settlement agreement, accepted by the men last night.

Members of the United Rubber Workers of America, an affiliate of the John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization, the strikers Friday night decided to continue the strike after first accepting settlement terms agreed upon last week. The word "discrimination" in a statement by Company President A. R. Kaufman proved a stumbling block in subsequent negotiations.

CROSLEY'S DEATH PROVES MYSTERY, NO CLUES, AUTOPSY

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 3.—(CP)—Investigation of the death in cell of the county jail here of Convict Chester Crosley centred in Toronto today when following a post mortem examination the vital organs of the 38-year-old Negro were sent there for examination by Prof. Joslyn Rogers, analyst of the Attorney-General's department.

Crosley, under sentence to be hanged next month for the murder July 11, 1936, of Guard John McCormick in Kingston penitentiary, was found dead in his cell yesterday. An autopsy performed by Dr. James Miller, showed no marks on the body or any indication of the cause of death.

J. T. Hawkey, governor of Frontenac county jail, found the convict dead when he carried in a dinner tray. Crosley had been dead, several hours and the guard on duty believed him to be sleeping.

Crosley was known to have suffered some time with an infected ankle and was excused from exercise. He usually slept in the morning and had been given a drug regularly to allow him to sleep.

Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey sentenced Crosley to be hanged at the conclusion of the Negro's second murder trial. The first trial ended with a jury disagreement. When the sentence was passed, Crosley told Mr. Justice Jeffrey: "When death comes I'll be there with bells on."

ATTACH NO BLAME TO CREW OF TRAIN

COBOURG, Nov. 3. —(CP)— A Coroner's jury decided here last night that William Lucas came to his death last October 26 as a result of his automobile being struck by a train at a crossing. The train crew was exonerated of any blame.

James Barlow of Belleville, engineer, and L. L. Wood, fireman, testified the car was stopped on the tracks when it was struck.

"When it got on the tracks the car stopped as if it had struck a stone wall," said Wood. He said he saw the machine approach the crossing at a speed of about 35 miles an hour.

Dr. G. Ferris, railway doctor, testified that Lucas's body was found under one of the coaches, the left arm severed. Death was due to extensive injuries suffered in the accident, Dr. Ferris said.

"In my view," said M. Spaak, "in the view also, I believe, of all present here, the present conference should not consider itself as a sort of international tribunal before which Japan should be summoned to appear and explain itself in conditions incompatible with its dignity and honor.

"What we wish is to accomplish the work of conciliation and peace, without prejudice, without passion, while taking legitimate interests into account."

Messrs. Davis, Eden and Delbos alike recognized that the nine-power treaty imposed on the signatories the duty to consult together on methods to end the hostilities. All regretted the absence of Japan.

What's The Use?

In his speech Signor Aldrovani-Marescotti questioned what would be the use of sending commissions to China to investigate who fired the first shot? The difficulty of this method had been demonstrated in Manchuria and the Chaco.

The absolute truth as to who was responsible for the first attack was almost impossible to establish. Even if the truth of such an incident could be established, it would not form the basis on which equitable judgment could be based. There would be underlying causes which only the parties directly concerned would be in a position to elminate.

With one of the parties to the dispute not represented at the conference, full, frank discussion "has no meaning except between ourselves and for ourselves." It would not end the conflict.

Peace of Vital Interest.

Mr. Davis pressed that the objective of the conference was the restoration of peace and stability.

"We are here in common purpose and common concern," he said. "Our effort must be constructive. It is important that an equitable adjustment be found. We come to this conference with no commitments except those of the treaty. The Government of the United States is prepared to share in a common effort to devise, within the scope of treaty provisions and principles, the means of finding a peaceful solution."

Mr. Eden declared himself in agreement with the head of the United States delegation. The conference had met to discharge an urgent duty. The maintenance of peace was of vital interest to every country.

"War is a contagion that may spread," the British Foreign Secretary added. "But even if its direct efforts are confined to the peoples actually at war, the profound distress and loss of national property which must inevitably ensue adversely affect all countries."

ADDITIONAL FUNDS FOR Y.W. CAMPAIGN

Additional contributions to the Y.W.C.A. campaign fund brought the total up today to $41,102. Contributions are still coming in, it was stated today at campaign headquarters. Many citizens are feeling keenly the fact that the campaign did not go over the top, and several have already telephoned in to double their subscriptions, while others who gave cash are making promises for next year.

G. A. Gillespie, the canipaign chairman, expressed renewed confidence in the success of the campaign when he found out about the additional subscriptions. He thought it had been a rather black eye to Peterborough to have the appeal fall short of its objective. However, he expressed faith in Peterborough's generosity and felt that the objective would be reached.

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. Acid stomach, indigestion, gas or biliousness and "costiveness", cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what W. J. Fisher of 4 Sanford Ave., N., Hamilton, Ont., said: "I suffered with my stomach, could eat but very little and that would cause distress. I grew weaker daily and suffered from headaches. My weight went from 175 to 134 pounds. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was soon able to eat normally, I gained in weight and strength and could resume my work. Lad 4, Guns For Lion That Grabbed Him —Toronto May Honor Rescuer

Toronto, Nov. 3 (CP)

"I'm going to get a gun and shoot that lion," said four-year-old Bobby Gray today while hot discussion was stirred in civic circles following an incident at the zoo in Riverdale Park, when Bobby was seized by a lion reaching through the bars. The youngster was scratched and his clothes torn.

Civic recognition of the act of Earl Boyden, who rescued the boy from further injury, was in prospect, Controller Ralph Day urging the city make some recognition of the intervention of Boyden, who admitted today "I was more scared than the child."

A wire netting will be placed over the bars to prevent a repetition and the question was raised whether children should be allowed in the zoo unattended by adult escorts.

The youngster was least excited of all present at the time. "I'm not afraid of that lion, dad," he said.

HASTINGS CHURCH HAS ANNIVERSARY IS 74 YEARS OLD

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 3.—Another milestone has passed in the history of Trinity United church, when on Sunday morning and evening, the congregation celebrated the 74th anniversary of its founding, with very large congregations attending each service.

The church was prettily decorated with autumn foliage, and a liberal thank offering was received at both services.

In the morning, the church was filled to capacity with adherents from all the Protestant churches of the village, the Westwood congregation and many from Norwood, Warsaw and Dartford. At this service the congregation was privileged to hear the noted talented Virginia Jubilee Singers who had on the previous evening given a varied program in the auditorium of the church. The colored troupe including four males and two females, gave two lovely numbers. The first number "Reign Salvation in my Soul," was very beautiful as Miss Powell in a fine soprano voice displayed wonderful talent. The second selection was "My Lord is calling, come Home, Children, come Home."

The Westwood choir of eighteen members led in the singing of the hymns and rendered two pleasing anthems "Praise, Praise the Lord," and "Be Joyful in the Lord."

The service was opened with the hymn, "Oh Worship the Lord," and Psalm 23 was read responsively, led by the pastor, Rev. F. W. Newell.

Rev. G. C. Easton Preaches

The pastor then extended a warm welcome to the many visiting friends, as well as the large representation of local supporters, the Jubilee Singers, the Westwood choir and to the guest speaker, Rev. Geo. Easton of Trinity United church, Peterborough.

Rev. Mr. Easton who said it was a privilege to speak at the 74th anniversary of the church gave a very thought-provoking and challenging address, basing his discussion on the words taken from Matt. III, verse 2, "Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand", which were very appropriately chosen in this time of crisis, when people should think more of Christ and less of self.

At the evening service the church was again filled, the Trent River choir supplied the special music, rendering three very appealing anthems for the Sunday occasion "We will rejoice in the Lord," "Awake," and "All Hail Emmanuel." A fine male quartette, Messrs. G. Brecks, W. Wildman, E. Childs and W. McBurney, from Trent River and Havelock, gave a very appropriate number, "Just as I Am."

The guest speaker was the Rev. Dr. J. R. Cooper, of the Warkworth United church, whose text for his address was taken from Nehemiah, 4-6, "For the people had a mind to work."

The anniversary services were indeed about the most successful in the history of the church. A hot fowl supper will be held in connection with the anniversary on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Women's Association.

The church has a very efficient number of officers and the following have helped to make 1937 a record year in the history of Trinity church: Treasurer, Carl Oliver; secretary, R. C. Doxsee; board of elders, R. C. Doxsee, R. Collins, I Bond, Sr., W. T. Tate, A. E. Metcalfe; board of stewards, J. M. Baker, A. M. Brooks, G. Fox, G. R. Brown, F. Warner, W. Buck, A. Fleming, N. Rusaw, J. E. Oliver, A. V. German, and Dr. J. H. Hess; trustee board, J. M. Baker, R. Collins, R. Bibby, H. E. Oliver, R. C. Doxsee, W. Preston, J. E. Oliver, A. Fleming, F. Dodd, A. B. Smith and L. E. Kelley.

COSTLY $10 GAMBLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—(AP).—A 39-year-old mail clerk who Federal authorities said admitted escaping prison 17 years ago while serving a term for murder was behind bars again to-day—tripped by an alleged $10 theft.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Valentine Hammeck said John Howe, father of four children, told him he was convicted of second degree murder in New Mexico in 1915. Howe escaped prison in 1920, Hammeck said he related, and later joined the Navy.

Howe was arrested yesterday when Chief Postal Inspector Charles Pfaffenberger accused him of opening a letter and taking $10.

QUAINT COSTUMES FEATURE PARTY

BONARLAW, Nov. 3. — Springbrook Orange Hall presented a gay appearance on Friday night last when Springbrook and Rylstone Branches of the Women's Institute held a Hallowe'en party with over two hundred and fifty members and guests present, many of whom were in costume and all apparently out for a good time. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion with the usual array of jack o' lanterns, black cats, witches, and orange and black trimmings.

So elaborate were the masqueraders' costumes that the judges had a difficult job indeed to make awards. Chief Justice Canon W. G. Swayne requested all to march around the hall several times, and then by a process of elimination he picked the winners. The selections met with the approbation of the side benchers, however.

Prizes went to the following: Mrs. W. J. Barlow, gypsy costume; Fred Rutherford, Irishman; Carl Heath, grandmother; Marjorie Gay, Little Red Riding Hood. The two sons of Wilfred Spencer, Indian chiefs. There was also a group representing the Dionne quintuplets, Dr. Alan Roy Dafoe, and the Nurse, as follows: The doctor, Miss Alma Nickle; the nurse, Miss Grace Fleming; the quints, Misses Thelma Ketchesen Audrey Prince, Ada Bateman, Hazel Lough and Mrs. C. Gay. They were also awarded a prize.

After all had unmasked the following program was given:

Solo, Bruce Barnum. Miss Evelyn Barnum accompanist; Scotch dance, in costume, Miss Dorothy Spencer. Wilfred Spencer violin; solo, J. F. Baker, Mrs. W. G. Swayne accompanist; vocal duet, Misses Helen and Evelyn Barnum, Bruce Barnum accompanist; piano duet, Misses Phyllis and Margaret Barlow; group games in charge of Mrs. George Williams; community singing and word contest, led by J. F. Baker.

Mrs. George A. Bailey, president of the Springbrook Branch, acted as chairman in a capable manner. After the program all betook themselves to the banqueting hall, where they were served a splendid supper.

GIRL REGAINS SIGHT

QUEBEC, Nov. 3.—(CP).— Sight has been resored to Jeannette Pepin, 20-year-old office worker, blinded by a lightning flash during a storm more than three weeks ago, Dr. J. Victor Lavoie said to-day.

The girl, under specialist's care since Oct. 7, lost her sight after seeing lightning strike just a few feet from her home while she closed a window against the rain.

Blindness was due "mostly to surprise and shock,' said Dr. Lavoie who ordered rest in a dark room for the girl.

MINERS ESCAPE FIRE

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Nov. 3. — (CP).—Nine miners walked to safety to-day as fire swept through a stable, 100 feet below the surface at the Hygrade mine, near here.

Trapped in the stable, as dense smoke from burning hay and timbers filled the below-surface structure, 35 mine ponies were believed asphyxiated.

More Religion In Daily Life In Appeal Of Rev. A. J. Thomas

Ten-Day Mission Is Being Conducted In George Street By Former Minister

"Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it....." His strong vibrant voice and personality holding the fixed attention of his large congregation in George Street United Church, the Rev. A. J. Thomas a former pastor, delivered an earnest appeal for more religion in every day life,—at the first weekday service of the 10-day mission he is conducting.

"People of Peterborough can say, 'I am a citizen of no mean city'," said the Rev. Mr. Thomas, "But as we look to the future of Peterborough, many things will enter into its making — industry, business methods, home life, government— but nothing is more essential now and in future than its religion. Without it there will be no real progress. To build on an unreligious basis is but to court disaster." Religion is essential to the welfare of the home, and no city is higher than its homes. It will make happy and fruitful all achievement. Much in the industrial and economic life of today is undesirable, and only religion with attendant righteousness, goodwill and love, can bring about the solution of the problems.

Suffering and Distress

There are always conditions of suffering and distress. Religion is necessary to give the impulse for the fulfillment of our obligations — to make a man realize that he is his brother's keeper. It is essential to bring out happy and helpful community relationships. "What is the church doing?" asked the minister. "It is spreading the teachings of Jesus, it is offering people the opportunity for fellowship.....it is saving persons from despair, defeat and death." It is contributing to the city's welfare. "The stream that is flowing from the altar of God out through the community, is carrying healing and life." There are those who are critical of and hostile to the church, but there is no community that is not enriched with its ministry. People may never go, never pay to support the church, but are nevertheless reaping great benefits from it.

"There is a tremendous challenge to the young people of today," said Mr. Thomas. "A challenge to strengthen their religion for their country's good." The young Athenian's vow 'I will never bring dishonor or disgrace upon my city.....' might well be taken by young people of any community. Putting mind and soul and strength into the life of the church will bring great dividends.

"There is something more important than merely standing by our church, and that is our religious experience?"

What is individual religious experience? It is a personal relationship to the Divine—a personal experience of God through Christ. If a man's religion is real, he will have power, strengthened with life in the inner man. He will master his life and circumstances, help his fellow man, be filled with life and joy.

Not a Dull Thing

Religion is not a dull thing. It is a most thrilling experience. If any people profess to be followers of Christ, and are not joyous, then there is a lack of religion, there is not enough of it." It sets the songbirds singing in the soul." If a man's religion is real, he will have hope, will know God is on his side, and will make all things work together for good. He will see in everyone an opportunity to serve his fellow-man and God. "Religion and life are one," quoted the minister, "or else neither is anything." . . . "Seek ye the Lord, while He may found; . . . If we seek in the right way, we will get that experience—vital, personal, religious experience."

A Gospel song service with special music preceded the Rev. Mr. Thomas' message. A number of hymns were sung by the congregation and members of the choir. Miss Loretta McDougall's lovely deep contralto voice was heard in two solos, "Gently, Lord, O Gently Lead Us," and "The Peace That My Saviour Will Bring." The Rev. W. McArthur pastor of Bethany Tabernacle, led in prayer, and the portion of scripture was read by the Rev. M. C. Parr, who later pronounced the Benediction.

The annual chicken dinner was served by the Women's Association to over five hundred in the Sunday School Auditorium.

OXFORD HOLSTEIN GIVES 31,048 LBS.

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 3.—(CP). — Oxford County's first 30,000-pound cow has just been reported by the Record of Production Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. While several cows bred in Oxford have entered the charmed circle, Hetty Korndyke Konigen, owned by Fred Stock of Tavistock, is the first to complete such a record within the county.

At 10 years of age she gave 31,-048 pounds of milk and 1,107 pounds of butter fat on three times a day milking. The test was 3.56.

Her milk record has only once been exceeded in Canada under similar conditions, and that was by another Holstein cow, Bessie Korndyke Gerben, owned by the Ontario Reformatory, Guelph, and bred in Oxford County by Arthur E. McKay, Embro.

In butter fat, Hetty Korndyke Konigen replaces the former Canadian champion, Countess Abbekerk Hiemke, which was owned by J. Walter Jones, Charlottetown, P.E.I., but bred by Samuel Remond of Burgessville.

Makes Little Difference

Nine hundred residents of Oshawa have signed a petition asking the City Council to revert to the ward system of electing aldermen, that system having been abandoned in 1932 in favor of election by a citywide vote. There may be some cities in the province which have not tried out both plans, but if so their number is few. We have seen it operated both ways in the same municipality and our belief is that the system of election does not make a very great deal of difference.

It's a great thing about which to argue. Those in favor of the ward system can build up quite a case by saying that if there were no members from their section of the community elected to council then they would get no attention at all. Their strongest argument is that by the ward system there is equality of representation as far as geography is concerned. And again it will be claimed that a man not well known outside of his own district could not be elected if it were not for the ward system.

Against that, and in favor of electing aldermen by general city-wide vote is the claim that aldermen so elected have it impressed upon them that they have been chosen to represent the entire city, and they will be just as much interested in one section as in another. Claim is too that their outlook will be broader and they will likely be thinking in terms of the entire city rather than of some particular section of it.

We believe it is quite correct to say that the system by which members of council are elected is not so important as the quality and calibre of the men themselves. As long as a community can succeed in bringing out men with common sense and integrity and having them made members of the council then the system by which they get there is of secondary importance.

There Is Just One Law

Rev. Normal Coll, a minister in Ottawa, had something rather plain to say in his pulpit on Sunday about the people who carried liquor to the rugby games and drank it more or less openly. He said liquor was consumed in the grandstand and also under the grandstand between periods and nothing was done about it. Then came this charge:

"It was apparent that when influential people want to drink in public the law discreetly turned a blind eye, but let some poor wage-earner expose a bottle in his car and he is quickly in the hand of an officer of the law."

A plain statement of that sort is one which should not be allowed to pass. It is often enough stated there is one law for the poor and another for the privileged, and we cannot afford to allow such a belief to grow or keep on growing. There is only one way to enforce any law and that is to make certain there are no exceptions to its clauses and chapters and penalties. Nor is there much to be said for the individual who assumes his position to be such that he can with safety flout the law and go unharmed. It should be demonstrated plainly that he cannot do it.

How Many Hens?

The fowl supper has not weakened. It is going on today just as it did at the church at the corner of the Tenth Concession and the Broken Front Road a good many years ago. The season for such affairs has not yet been concluded but in an effort to inject some sort of a statistical survey into the situation we have found in recent weeks that the Examiner has reported 37 fowl suppers as having taken place. There may have been some which were not recorded and there are others yet to come, so a total of 50 in this district is possibly not too large a figure.

We have been making some inquiries regarding the number of chickens or hens—probably the latter—which are intimately interested in these affairs. We should have said vitally interested, for it is a matter of life and death with them. The results are not conclusive and are therefore subject to correction by those qualified to furnish exact information. People do not seem to agree exactly on how many people can be fed off one hen. We have heard it stated that four folk can eat such a bird but that would not include picking the neck bones clean, while others say that six can be given a fair helping off one good-sized hen. So it's like trying to work out one of those problems in Algebra where X equals unknown quantity. Having taken rather insufficient and defective particulars we have come to the conclusion that it takes on an average of 60 hens to make a fowl supper. So if we have 50 of these affairs in our district that would mean 3,000 hens participated. So if that figure is any way near correct it is probably just as well that the incubator (or iron hen) was invented as it would call for a great deal of clucking and setting for hens in the old-fashioned way to produce the 3,000 chicks necessary to keep the hen population on an even keel.

And if 3,000 hens are going to the fowl supper in our district in one season the same thing is going on all over the province, for the fowl supper is an old institution on which no section has a monopoly. And after all it is not a bad way for a hen to come to the end of her road. Much better than being on the highway and struck by some silly person driving a car too fast, and much better than being killed and stripped of plumage and then exposed for sale on an open market or in a store window. Great is the fowl supper!

When Men Want To Speak

Montreal seems to have established the fact that the city has the right to say that public meetings shall be suppressed or allowed to proceed. In a city the size of Montreal there are always a number of folk who want to hold a meeting; they want to give addresses and they desire to air their grievances. Within recent times the communists were told they could not gather together, and then friends of the Soviet Republic came under the same sort of ban. More recently the unemployed planned a gathering for a Sunday, which is not unusual in Montreal, and a C.C.F. speaker was joined with the movement. That too was banned. The mayor clamps down on these meetings because he says each in turn would bring opposition and trouble from groups opposed to what was being said or advocated.

If Montreal can get along that way perhaps it will be well, but it is a restricted and strange method. When thinking of such matters we always turn to Great Britain because the people in that land have had so much experience in dealing with affairs of this sort. They have had every known sect in existence clamoring there for a hearing and few of them have been denied. When a man has mounted a soap box and made a speech about something or other he may not have impressed any person but he seems to feel satisfied that he has had his say and no person has stopped him. And that in itself causes him to know that he lives in a land of free speech; he hasn't had to gather a few folk together in a cellar or behind a locked door to say what was in him to say; he has been able to do it out in the open. John Bull has come to the conclusion that is the best way to deal with such matters and he has seen much of life. We believe the people of our country are good citizens and they are not going to be easily turned aside by what some person with a new and a strange and a not-wanted theory has to say. Refusing a man the right to get something off his chest is apt to cause that person to believe he is really dangerous or that he has within him the power to tear down governments. When he has had his say and has found no results and has seen no great stream of converts coming in his direction then he is apt to settle down.

It Was "Scott's Plains"

A student who is apparently interested in the early history of this city writes the Examiner to inquire if the place has always been known as Peterborough.

This community was known first as "Scott's Plains," probably because the mill erected by Adam Scott was somewhat of a landmark to the immigrant and the visitor to the new settlement. Adam Scott was a mill wright by trade and built his little mill at what is now the corner of King and Water streets, and it is recorded that Mr. Scott came here in the year 1818. The name Peterborough was a compliment paid to Hon. Peter Robinson who had much to do with bringing out the settlers to this district. What is now Peterborough remained known as nothing but "Scott's Plains" until the year 1827.

Historians record that the down-town section of Peterborough was not at that time similar to what it is today. Dr. Poole in his interesting sketch of Peterborough, written in 1867, says that what we now call Jacksons Park creek was at that time given to running in a wide course. He writes: "The corner of George and Hunter streets was low and wet, and here at certain seasons water collected, forming a stagnant pool. Over most of the ground east of the creek huckleberries flourished and grew with special luxuriance amid the stunted trees and shrubbery which covered the beautiful hill now adorned by the county buildings."

Some idea of the value of down-town property in those early years can be gathered from the record that the corner lot of George and Simcoe streets was purchased from Richard Birdsall by John Graves, an American, and a wheel-wright, for $30, the amount to be paid in wagon and cart wheels. It is recorded that Graves failed to carry out his share of the contract and out of that grew the first law suit in the infant settlement.

If one desires a more intimate picture of what Peterborough looked like a little later, say in 1833, it is well given in the recollections of one of the pioneers:

"Well do I remember the evening I first landed in Peterborough. It was late in November in the year 1833. (This letter was written in 1868.) I remember standing that evening on the very ground where now stands the Commercial Bank Building (north-east corner of Water and Hunter streets). It was then in a state of nature, as was all that part of the town lying east of Water street, north of Hunter street west of Aylmer street and south of King street with the exception of here and there some small shanty. At that time property was worth very little; a park lot was not worth much over £15.

"The country parts were quite in keeping with the town (1833), scarcely any settlers and mostly a wilderness. A journey then to the front (Port Hope) took two days with a team. People at this time can scarcely realize the difficulties and hardships of those early settlers. True indeed the progress since then has been almost incredible, I often think of those early times, and yet with all their hardships I sometimes think they were pleasanter than the times are now. Everybody was sociable and friendly. People were too glad to see each other to ever start a quarrel."

The writer of the above who merely signed the initial "B" to his contribution related he had lived to see the turnpike road come, and then the macadam and finally a railroad which would take him in comfort to Port Hope in two hours. Of course the railroad will do much better than that today and people in cars will drive to Port Hope in not much more than half an hour and not break the speed laws. And in what we now call the good old days it used to take a full two days to go and come and the hours of travel were long each day.

CONFESSION

(By A. B. K.)

¶ I never could quite understand, why some days everything gets jammed, when I've no time to waste; on such a day I stir up dust, and always will my shoe string bust, before the thing's half laced.

¶ And when I shave on such a day, and knock my whiskers all away, I used both speed and vim; 'tis then I find I'm moving rash, and always open up a gash, and have to patch my chin.

¶ The stove won't draw on such a day, when I make haste to get away, nor will the kettle boil; my temper's spoiled before I start, with happy moments far apart, and I'm late for my toil.

¶ My collar button on that day, will take a roll and get away, and it's beneath the bed; and then I have to crawl in there, and using up more speed than care, most likely bump my head.

¶ And when I'm rushing to depart, I find the flivver will not start, the juice is dead alas; or else when I investigate, I start and chant my hymn of hate, because there is no gas.

¶ I don't like days that go like that, they leave me weary like and flat, they fill me up with hate; but I can't blame the country's laws, I'm honest and admit the cause—because I've slept too late.

SEEKING TO trace the route along which Asiatic tribes migrated to America thousands of years ago two University of New Mexico archaeologists have arrived in Alberta to continue their work. During the next year, Professor W. L. Bliss and his student assistant Alden Hayes will use the University of Alberta as a base for field work expeditions.

The first prominent archaeologist to map out a definite program of research on the problem, Professor Bliss hopes to determine the route by study of archaeological and linguistic indications that might have been left by the wanderers believed to have populated North and South America.

He believes the first nomadic tribes from Asia moved southeast across the Bering Straits and into North America from 8,000 to 11,000 years ago. Successive waves of immigration resulted in tribes pushing south and travelling east and west, Professor Bliss suggests.

They hope to determine the passage of these wanderers by a study of evidences of habitation that might have been left by them. Arrow heads cooking utensils, bones and other evidence of that kind are the clues upon which they may be able to determine the channel that fed North and South America with their first inhabitants. The two archaeologists believe that the tribes migrated along a sheltered corridor that paralleled the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains with impassible peaks on one side and towering glaciers on the other.

"The fact that early American Indians and natives of South America descended from Asiatic tribes is pretty well established in the world of science" Professor Bliss points out. Primitive villages and camps along the route of immigration in the United States have been discovered but no camps or definite evidences of primitive nomads have been located north of the international border.

A Sign of Better Times.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Harry Miller Lydenberg, director of the New York Public Library reading tastes make a reliable barometer of business conditions. Library use, he explains is always heaviest during years of business depression and the increased demand is largely for vocational reading—books which offer help in getting and holding jobs. This use, Dr. Lydenberg says has decreased in the last two years and on the other hand there has been an increased demand for books on the social sciences, travel and speculative philosophy.

Railway dining-car superintendents have been meeting at Washington recently to discuss high food prices and other rising costs which are now causing the roads to lose $10,000,000 annually on dining-car operation. Because each car travels six miles for every passenger served each meal costs an additional 42 cents, it is stated.

It is said that television at the present time is about 30 per cent. clearer than it was a year ago and receiving screens are almost twice as large. Cause of Old Age.

READILY ENOUGH scientists can reach out into space for intimate facts about spiral nebulae or can pry into the hearts of atoms to build biographies of neutrons. Yet when asked to explain the inexorable march toward old age that all living creatures must make they are tied into intellectual knots. Why do plants, mice and men lose regenerative powers? What indeed is old age?

Dr. G. W. Crile, of Cleveland fits senility and death into his picture of the electrical man. The human being, he feels, is a conglomerate mass of tiny electric batteries or cells. When the potential within these cells is high man is young. As the potential drops age creeps on and when it strikes zero death comes.

Two San Francisco biologists Drs Hackh and Westling have another explanation. In each 6,000 parts of usual tap water there is one part of heavy water — water containing a double-weight hydrogen atom. Tests have shown that this heavy water is not eliminated from the body as rapidly as other water and that it has an inhibiting effect on life forces. Hence the biologists believe accumulation of this material in the body gradually slows down all processes and accounts for age and death.

Now Dr. William de Berniere MacNider of the University of North Carolina comes forward with another explanation. He advances the theory based on the discovery made at Yale that uranium nitrate had a degenerative effect on kidney and liver tissue, that old age is caused by accumulated chemical poisons which alter body construction and demand a slower rate of living.

Pig Can Twist Its Tail In Any Style

Nothing Definite Arrived At By Investigation; Scientists Muffed Chance to Produce Uniformity

(Winnipeg Free Press)

THE TWIST in a pig's tail had not appealed as a matter of any seriousness till the recent issue of a learned brochure based on intensive exploration conducted by an agricultural experimental station in the United States.

That a pig has a twist in its tail may have been thought as self-evident as that a cow has not two ways of getting up, and curiosity as to how the pig twists its tail might have been felt to be as indifferent as it would be in wanting to astertain how many times a dog turns around before lying down.

Most folk ignorant of the fundamental structures of the food animals need not feel ashamed of their lack of elementary knowledge seemingly unknown to the agriculturally erudite. The subject had not been thoroughly approached till professors in porcine lore at the experimental station at Beltsville, Maryland, asked 200 pigs.

This study of 200 pig's tails was undertaken with scientific care. The pigs selected were neither of one breed nor from one sty, but were "representative." They were the kind of pigs to be met anywhere, and whose tails might twist anyway, either to the right or to the left, to starboard or to port.

The result was disappointing, in that it did not give an exact determinate. Ninety eight tails had a leftward spiral, but another ninety-eight tails showed a right-hand thread in their corkscrew. Upon the remaining four tails depended the answer to the riddle. But these tails twisted both ways, for their pigs were ambicaudalous.

The result cannot help dissatisfying other agricultural faculties on the continent. The demonstration may have been conducted with the delicacy and the care demanded, but it can be criticised as having been based unscientifically. In the words of the cardsharper, the deck was not rigged properly. Nobody could win, and nothing was settled.

If, by happy accident, only pigs with the twist likely to be favored by the leading exponents of the pig had been driven into the laboratory for the demonstration, then a defined twist could have been given to pigs' tails. A wide field for future discussion would have been provided, and many learned professors could have sat at round tables pondering on the correct twist to the tail of the pig before them.

As it is, a pig, so it appears, may twist his tail however he likes to twist it. This will not do. The obvious move will be to declare which is the right twist for a pig's tail, and pronounce that no pig is a right pig unless its tail has the, say, standard left twist.

The matter may have far-reaching consequences. Consumers may be misled into spurning the breakfast rasher or the noonday pork chop not sliced from a pig with the right twist to its tail.

His Work a Joy to All Canadians

C. W. Gordon Interpreted Spirit of Canada; A Great Preacher and a Man of Distinction

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

REV. DR. CHARLES W. GORDON, whose death last evening is reported from Winnipeg, spent his ministry in the West, but his literary works, the common heritage of all Canadians, have been as popular in this part of the Dominion as elsewhere, and Oxford people have felt additional interest in them because the author spent some years of his boyhood in West Zorra. While he was attending public school at Athol, in his native county of Glengarry, his father, Rev Donald Gordon, accepted a call to Harrington Presbyterian church. Charles attended the village school and later the high school in St. Marys. Matriculating there, he taught school for a short time in Perth county before going on to Knox College and Edinburgh.

Zorra days do not seem to have provided material for any of Dr. Gordon's books, so far as one can tell. "Black Rock," published in 1898, was the outcome of experiences at Banff, and "The Sky Pilot," a year later, was a story of life in railroad, mining and lumber camps and among the cowboys of Alberta. The author went to his native county for the setting of "The Man from Glengarry" and "Glengarry School Days." Millions read these and the score of novels which followed. In 1915 he proceeded overseas as chaplain of the 43rd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders of Canada, and in England was made senior chaplain of the 9th Brigade, going to France with that appointment. One post-war book, "The Sky Pilot in No Man's Land," dealt with life on the Western Front.

When he retired in 1924 he had been minister of St. Stephen's, Winnipeg, for 30 years. Always active in social work, he became deeply interested in labor matters, and served on the Manitoba Joint Council of Industry, first tribunal of the kind set up in Canada. Known and esteemed from coast to coast, both as minister and writer, he was Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly in 1921 and had the delicate task of presiding over church union deliberations.

Death has ended a career in many respects unique. Though his pastoral work may have been overshadowed at times by his fame as a novelist, Dr. Gordon was a great preacher and a platform speaker of distinction. The British government sent him on a tour of the United States and Canada in 1917, and thousands heard his patriotic speeches. From mission charges in the West he was called to a great city church, which he served with distinction, and to which he brought honor by his work overseas. To the native literature of the Dominion he made a virile contribution, and history will rank him as one of the great Canadians of his time.

STICK TO ISSUE.

(Lethbridge Herald)

PREMIER ABERHART is hard put to it to draw attention away from $25 a month.

He doesn't want people to cast their minds back to his $25 a month—or was it $75?—of two years ago. So he is endeavoring to create a new issue. Just now it's the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta.

Two months ago it was the banks of Alberta.

But in the preservation of Confederation, in the preservation of the Canadian Constitution, the Lieutenant-Governor plays his part and he has played it wholly within the rules laid down and accepted in every other Province in Canada.

Mr. Aberhart promised the people of Alberta $25 a month. He said nothing at all two years ago about hating the banks, about hating the newspapers or about hating the incumbent of the Lieutenant-Governorship. It was a simple promise he made to the "peepul" two years ago, and it was that promise on which he was elected. If he can't fulfil it why doesn't he tell the people he was elected under false pretenses—and then resign?

WHAT DIONNES NEED.

(Church of the Nazarene Publication)

SOME HAVE asked what ought to be done with the little Dionne quintuplets. The wisest thing, it seems to us, would be to furnish a home large enough and with enough help so that the five little girls could be put right back into the bosom of the Dionne family. They ought to know the heavy hand of a father's paddling. They ought to have to weather the nervous reactions of a tired, worried mother, to have their lovely little faces soundly slapped by an older sister, to have their dollies broken by the little brother. Cruel? No, we only want them to have the normal experiences of ordinary family life, in order that they may not have to go out into the world as hot-house posies, but as sturdy young plants able to "take it" as the young folks say now, in everyday life. They cannot always live like 'possums in a cage, behind a glass screen for the world to look at. We appreciate the miracle of their survival after such an untoward birth, but we crave for them a chance to be unspoiled, normal average.

A CHINESE BOMBER.

(Halifax Chronicle)

THE TALE of the Chinese bomber deserves to pass down in history, how at dusk when the Japanese bombers were returning home, he joined the four planes and travelled along with them, his Chinese markings getting no attention in the gloom. He switched on his lights when they switched their and circled the airdrome along with them.

One by one the Japanese bombers landed, and when the four of them were drawn up along with three others which were on the ground, down swoops the Chinese airman to within 500 feet and plants two bombs among them and seven perfectly good Japanese bombing planes were gone to the place where all good, or bad bombing planes go.

Then this neat little bit of work thoroughly done, off drones the Chinese airman to his own lines. A hazardous daring, which deserves to live.

ENOUGH

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

THE POST office at Enough, Mo., down in Iron county, southwest of Belgrade, is to be discontinued. The Washington County News prints the announcement at the top of its front page.

And well it may—the passing of Enough from the Postal Guide is news which should give pause to every Missourian who takes pride in his state. For if Enough comes off the official list today, who can say what inroads the uncertain future may not make into Missouri's picturesque place names?

Aid and Apex, Clever and Cooter, Hunnah and Ink, all may be secure today, but how will they be faring tomorrow?

What assurance is there that similar announcements may not strike Minimum and Novelty, Peculiar and Ponder, Racket and Rat, Rest and Surprise, Speed and Wisdom from the rolls? Or Blooming Rose or Cross Timbers or Birdeye or Beggardocia or Zebra or Rescue or Useful or many others which dot the countryside of Missouri?

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

IN THE BEGINNING God created the heaven and the earth. . . . And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. . . . And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. . . .

Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them. . . . But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.—Gen. 1: 1, 26, 27, 31; ii: 1, 6, 7.

To the Editor

IN SPAIN

Editor Examiner:

Sir: My last letter on Spain had no reflection on Italian citizens in Canada but if they indorse Mussolini's foreign policy then they too are open for criticism. How anyone could be gullible enough to believe Mussolini's pleas for peace to be sincere, in view of his actions is beyond my comprehension.

His drive against bachelors by taxation forced them to marry. A bonus for the fifth child encouraged large families. But before any of these marriages could possibly be eligible for this bonus he cries for more territory. Italy apparently was overcrowded so he attacks Ethopia for more space. These defenceless natives were slaves anyway so killing their master meant that they could work for him for nothing. His military machine having had a road test was ready for something bigger so he helps Franco drive the Reds out of Spain. The so-called Reds are the elected government of Spain, the same as Premier King and his Liberal party at Ottawa. The legal Spanish government didn't suit Mussolini so its extermination was urgently essential. The massacre of clergymen who opposed the policy of the new government was his first concern. But the clergy of the Basque province supported the government and Franco 'punished' them. These Basque clergy fought under Christ's banner for what they thought were Canadian principles and better living conditions in Spain but Mussolini thinks differently. If it is Mussolini's idea of justice to kill people to silence them then I'm sure glad to be a Canadian and see justice administered in a more sane way.

I remain,
JOHN MEEHAN.

INDIA SEEKING GREATER TRADE AMONG NATIONS

CALCUTTA, Nov. 2 (CP). — The Indian government, traditionally committed to a most-favored-nation trade policy, has launched upon a series of negotiations with representatives of countries anxious to share in the market of supplying India's 350 millions.

As a first step the government has made a move towards conclusion of an agreement with the United Kingdom, India's largest customer. Negotiations with other important trading countries, including Canada, will follow.

India's official representatives are now in London, supported by a group of merchant advisers. It is generally believed they will seek to effect an agreement based on the demand heard at Delhi last year—a pact leaving scope for deals with other countries, subject to India's policy of discriminating protection for her industries.

A most-favored-nation trade policy, it is argued, is most suitable to a great agricultural country such as India. With a large surplus of produce for export, she must sell to meet her commitments as a borrower of capital for the development of her economic resources.

An exception has been made in the past for British and other Empire imports, because the export market of which they are the counterpart, was most important.

The United Kingdom alone in 1936-37 took £45,750,000 worth of Indian exports out of a total for the British Empire of £68,250,000 and for all overseas countries of £147,900,000. The corresponding import figures were £36,00,000, £46,500,000 and £93,750,000.

If the Dominions and Colonies are counted in, the importance to India of the British markets is even greater. In the year April 1936 to March 1937, Canada shipped £540,000 worth of goods into India and took from India goods worth more than £1,500,000. This figures does not include the amounts earned by Canadian insurance companies in India.

Canada-India Trade

Canada's present exports to India are largely manufactures, like motor cars and trucks, rubber tires and tubes, electrical apparatus and foodstuffs.

India is certainly not self-sufficient in these manufactures. She would like to see her fishing industry better developed but this is unlikely to affect specialized Canadian exports.

On motor cars and trucks the United Kingdom at present has a 7½ per cent advantage in customs duty. On other important Canadian products the margin of preference is 10 per cent.

India exports to Canada mainly tea, jute and rice (of which the Dominion increased her purchases considerably in 1936-37) but also peanuts, raw wool, shellac, raw cotton, pepper and various oils.

India would like Canada to take vegetable oils and oilseeds, tea, more of her raw cotton, sugar, jute, hides and skins, and coffee, all important items on the Canadian import list in 1936.

In any negotiations India might also be expected to point to the change in her balance of trade with Canada during the first three months of this year.

Whereas in recent years Canada's imports from India were considerably in excess of the value of India's imports from Canada, the trade between the two countries in these three months almost balanced. Canada imported £292,500 worth of Indian goods against £340,000 exported to this country—nearly three times as much as in the corresponding quarter the previous year.

India in these three months bought more Canadian motor cars than in the corresponding period of 1936 (£68,000 against £22,500) and omnibuses, lorries, etc (£75,000 against £37,500).

Whether this approach to equality in the exchange of Indian and Canadian goods is to be permanent it is too early to say. That it is a sign of India's economic recovery seems clear as India is more prosperous than it has been for seven years.

The depression severely hit India with its vast majority of people dependent on agriculture. The price of produce grown on the land has risen, more industries are being started—the growth of sugar manufacturing has been phenomenal. Campaigns to make agricultural methods more efficient and so add to the Indian peasant's sources of income are in progress all over the country. The peasant has noticeably more to spend as the depression atmosphere is passing.

India was slower in recovering economically than many countries, but she now is enjoying better times and great prosperity appears to lie ahead.

Health Run Down Housework A Burden

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and miserable, but is it any wonder that when they are run down in health they become nervous and irritable, weak and worn-out, and the lightest household duties seem a drag and a burden?

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are a remedy that all nervous, tired-out, weary women should take to help them back to the blessing of good health, and when this is done their household duties will be a pleasure instead of a burden.

Mrs. A. K. McLean, Pleasantfield, N.S., writes:—"A short time ago I was in a badly run down and nervous condition. I got so that my housework became a burden to me. I started taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, and now I feel like a different person, and again am able to do all my own housework.

Hereafter I shall always recommend H. & N. Pills to my friends."

With The Boy Scouts

Our local association meeting is an item of history. No change was made in our president of commissioner. So once more we must put our shoulders to the wheel and help the old ship along.

The next thing we want to prepare for is the scout craft show.

The items put on in Toronto were knot boards, woodcraft, handicraft, model bridge building, model airplanes (solid), model flying airplanes, pencil sketches, pen and ink sketches, water colors, plastic art, pathfinders' maps, scout staves. Cub section: Bird houses, nature oddities, woodcraft, handicraft, weaving, Turk's-head lanyards, model airplanes (solid), model boats, pencil sketches, water colors, pen and ink, plastic art. Miscellaneous scout and art exhibits. So let us know your desires.

The spirit of Hallowe'en was prevalent among the packs of the city. Sacred Heart pack held a party, all dressed up. The District Cub leader and A.D.C. Grant were on hand.

At St. Paul's, our genial Commissioner Lew Grant was judge of the fancy dress Hallowe'en Cub party.

Although the troop at St. Andrew's is still disbanded, the Cub pack is going strong under Akela Mr. Ingham, and held a Hallowe'en party last Thursday.

At St. John, the Cub pack held a parents' night and Hallowe'en party. All uniforms were discarded. No one allowed unless in fancy dress. Miss Gertie Lemmings, who is convalescing from her recent operation, was on hand as special guest.

At St. George's Parish four of the Cubs were presented with their second stars, and are the proudest boys down south of the Exhibition grounds. They are Don Moscrop, Bab Moscrop, Jack White and Roy Tetterington. Good hunting, boys.

St. George's Cubs have also been presented with their Cub flag, and it is looked forward to a colorful parade the next time we are all out.

At the Sacred Heart troop, the boys halted their Hallowe'en party long enough to present Tom Richie with a Scout hunting knife, that he won by a written report on a week-end camp.

All Scouts are asked to be on hand at 7 p.m. sharp on Thursday night in full uniform to attend a going-up ceremony, when two Cubs will leave the pack for the troop. Cubs are to be on hand at 6.30 p.m. sharp.

The Sacred Heart Scouts are holding a paper collection, and anyone having papers are requested to phone 594-F. Your co-operation and help sincerely appreciated.

A crowd of sightseers and rescue workers is shown about 20-year-old Manuel Comacho, of Lowell, Mass., (shown by arrow) just after he had been buried for 12 hours, while rescue workers labored through the night to free him. Despite successive cave-ins, they managed to get the victim out alive but unconscious. He is recovering at St. Joseph's hospital, Lowell, as shown in the upper RIGHT.

CHARGE RUSTLERS FORGE SALE BILLS

DENVER, Nov. 3. — A new use of the age-old cattle branding system was discussed here in a meeting of more than 200 ranchers and peace officers assembled to launch a drive against modern motorized cattle rustling.

In a series of resolutions adopted at the meeting, one of the most important involved the creation of a "non-forgeable bill of sale," within which the replica of the brand be incorporated, to be drawn up by the State Brand Inspection Department.

Charges Bills Are Forged.

"Rustlers are forging bills of sale right along," Henry Bledsoe, Colorado Springs, Colo., cattleman, who sponsored the resolution, told the assemblage. "Some of the bills of sale used by legitimate stockmen are worthless as far as providing a description of the cattle is concerned.

"I saw a bill of sale recently for four head of cattle. It described the animals only as 'two branded and two unbranded cattle.'

"We can work out a bill of sale which cannot be forged by adapting our brand system to the bill of sale form and by requiring two witnesses to every document."

Urges Close Check.

The stockmen put additional teeth into their campaign against rustlers by adopting a resolution providing that stockmen, sheriffs, State patrolmen, and other officers co-operate to check and keep a record of all live stock being moved through their districts by truck.

The practice of dishonest truckers loading live beef into their vehicles in pastures during the night has increased materially in the vast ranch areas of Colorado, Wyoming, and New Mexico, it was disclosed. Killing and butchering of beeves on the range is on the wane, stockmen said, owing to the strict regulations of the Federal Government concerning the stamping and delivery of meat. Consequently, rustlers have taken advantage of the lack of State vigilance to transport live animals to convenient markets within State borders.

Bumper, License In Roaring Saguenay Only Clues To Tragedy Of 4 Dead

Ile Maligne, Que., Nov. 3 (CP)

AFTER a night-long search of the rushing Saguenay river which divides this Lake St. John county town, a diver from Chicoutimi today found a bumper and a license plate as the only trace of an automobile, believed to have plunged from a bridge here yesterday carrying Alexandre Gagnon, 34, and his wife and two children to their deaths.

The diver was brought 10 miles from Chicoutimi to Ile Maligne yesterday when a motorist discovered a wood railing at the entrance of the 300-foot bridge was smashed and the Gagnon family was reported missing.

Gagnon, a power company linesman, his 30-year-old wife and two sons, Robert, six, and Bertrand, eight, were believed to have lost their lives in the bridge accident.

Charles Gagnon, the linesman's brother, told police Alexandre and his family had left home yesterday for Il Maligne church to attend the Holy Mass of All Saints.

Handy Recipes When The Cook Is Stumped As To What To Have

The English Cook Book Calls Such Recipes "Made Dishes"

When my brain is clicking along at its usual tortoise-like rate I eventually open the "Casserole Cookery" file—because (1) with their usual crusty or cheesy top they always look so good when you triumphantly bear them to the table; (2) it is often toward the end of the week when rations, funds and ideas are low—and made dishes are notoriously cheap; (3) often as not it is Audrey's afternoon out and made dishes are 'maid' dishes you know—made in the morning by the maid to be baked and eaten when she's gone (very feeble humor, if any).

Lamb and Rice Casserole
(Tops for Flavor)

(Using either leftover cooked or fresh lamb). Two cups of raw lamb from the forequarter (10 cents per pound last week, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 3 cups cooked rice, 1 egg, ¼ cup breadcrumbs, ½ cup meat stock or water (1½ cups if raw lamb is used). Cube and mix the meat, seasonings, egg, crumbs and stock. Put a layer of rice in a buttered casserole then a layer of meat, alternating until all are used, pouring over excess stock at this point if raw lamb is used. Cover, and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes—raw lamb 1½ hours.

NOTE: If you wish to extend this dish for a large number add 2 cups of either raw celery or raw or cooked green beans, crumb crusts may be put on, and cover removed during last 10 minutes of baking. Tomato Sauce is a good accompaniment.

Ham Ring

Three cups ground cooked ham, 2 egg whites, 2 cups evaporated milk, speck of cayenne and mustard (2 cups cooked peas or spinach or Brussels Sprouts). Do not beat the whites, and combine all ingredients, to get the correct result you must use whole strength evaporated milk. Pour into buttered ring mould (if you do not have a proper one line your angel cake tin with heavy brown paper and butter that) and stand in larger dish containing warm water and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 35 minutes. Unmould on large round platter and fill centre with small green vegetables properly cooked and seasoned. Very good effect for very little money. Ham is the best with it, but the ground beef with a little ground raw pork added to it is almost as good.

Our best made dish using beef is:

Stuffed Steak Casserole Dinner

Cover large round steak (cut thin and weighing about 1¾ lbs.) with stuffing made as follows: 1½ cups bread crumbs, ¼ cup finely chopped celery, 1 very finely grated medium sized onion, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley. Add ½ teaspoon each salt and sage, and 1 teaspoon melted butter. Roll up steak, tie and place in well greased large casserole, cover with 1 can of tomatoes, sprinkle top with salt, place alternately halves of onions, and halves of potatoes all around the rolled up steak and cover, and bake at 350 degrees Fahr. for 3 hours, basting with the sauce frequenty. Flavor is unsurpassable.

I stood and watched a master butcher at the back of a large shop remove the brains from several calves' heads—and marvelled at his dexterity, also at the quantity he was filling up. Was there such a great sale for them? I asked him. He said "Sure" and that there were all kinds, rich and poor that thought they were as much of a delicacy as sweetbreads, and that prepared them the same ways as sweetbreads were prepared—so of course I bought some and substituted them for sweetbreads in the baked sweetbread dish we are fond of. It is one of the specialties my mother could depend on me making for her when I was an ambitious adolescent.

Emem's Sweetbread or Calves' Brains Ramequins

These can be baked of course in a large casserole but have more class if done in individual ramequins—I bought a new half dozen of earthen ones for 10 cents each last week—4 inches in diameter and 1¼ inches deep.

Clean and parboil sweetbreads or calves' brains, 1-lb. in boiling water to which add 2 tablespoons vinegar, for 10 minutes. Chill immediately by dipping in cold water. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, add 3 tablespoons flour, and pour on gradually 1 cup chicken stock (canned chicken soup is just as good). Reheat the sweetbreads in the sauce and add 1 cup heavy cream and 1½ teaspoons beef extract and 1½ cups partially cooked chopped celery. Season with salt, paprika and lemon juice. Fill the ramequin dishes, cover tops with buttered crumbs and bake until crumbs are brown, about 20 or 25 minutes. This of course is no common affairs, rather reserve it for when you wish to please some epicurean friend.

The following dish is included here because it calls for things we all have in our houses all the time.

Baked Rice and Eggs with Tomato Sauce

One-half cup raw rice, boiling salted water, 2 cups canned tomatoes, ½ to ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 small onion sliced, 3 or 4 whole cloves, 1 bay leaf, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 6 eggs (or as many as you have members in your family) ¾ cup buttered crumbs, 2 tablespoons grated strong cheese. Cook the rice in the boiling salted water until tender, drain, rinse in cold water and steam over hot water. Add the salt, onion, cloves and bay leaf to the tomatoes and simmer together for about 10 minutes. Strain and add the hot liquid gradually to the butter and flour which have been thoroughly blended. Stir and cook until thickened. Spread the rice in the bottom of a large casserole which has been well buttered, and make slight depressions in it, into which break the eggs carefully. Cover with the tomato sauce and sprinkle top with the crumbs mixed with the grated cheese. Bake slowly at 275 deg. Fahr. until eggs are set, about 20 minutes. Serve at once in the baking-dish.

Cheese Roast

Two cups (1-lb. can) of kidney or navy beans, homemade or canned, 1-lb. strong cheddar cheese, 1½ cups bread crumbs, salt, pepper and paprika to taste, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 finely chopped onion. Force the beans and cheese together through the meat chopper. Cook the onion in the butter adding a little water after sauteing it 2 minutes and cook for 5 minutes in all. Mix all ingredients except crumbs thoroughly and shape into long roll, and roll this in crumbs, making sure the loaf picks them all up. Lay on buttered pan and bake at 350 deg. Fahr., basting it occasionally with butter and boiling water. Serve with hot tomato sauce.

Tested Favorite Recipes
(By MARY MOORE.)

Both of these recipes were contributed by Mrs. McK. and we tried them last week-end and want to recommend them to you.

FIVE-MINUTE CHOCOLATE CAKE

Two squares Fry's chocolate, 5 tablespoons butter, 1 1-3 cups flour, 1¾ teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate, cream butter, and sugar and add chocolate to them. Sift flour, salt and baking powder at least 3 times. Beat eggs till light and add to first mixture, then the dry ingredients and milk a little at a time—beating between each addition. (I must add that I think the title is a little optimistic—it takes nearly 2 minutes to measure these ingredients even if you don't waste a movement—and another 2 to sift the dry ingredients—and who can beat eggs, melt chocolate, butter a pan, "Beat between additions" in 1 minute? I am not objecting to anything—merely making a plea for accuracy.)

LEMON SPONGE

A good dessert for the night when your fresh fruits are low and the oven is to be heated for another item in the meal.

One cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, yolks 2 eggs, whites 2 eggs; juice and rind 1 lemon, 1 cup milk. Cream sugar and butter, add flour and beat yolks, juice of lemon. Mix well, add milk and the stiffly beaten egg whites, fold in gently, set dish in a pan of warm water and bake ½ to ¾ hour or till firm in moderate oven. (Editor's note: We used 325 deg. Fahr. and baked the Sponge 50 minutes.)

TO KEEP FIT

LONDON—(CP). — Books issued with the national "Keep Fit" campaign stress the necessity for the recreational side, and recomend swimming, skipping and dancing as beneficial to both sexes.

Germany is trying to increase its trade with Costa Rica.

SMART YOUNG MODERNS LIKE THE SOFT WOOLENS

Soft wool dresses are favorites with young moderns. They go places and do things. You see them at luncheon in smart cafes, in the schoolroom, shopping, in offices, at club meetings and lectures.

Two are shown, the one at the left in black with plaid taffeta touches, simple and smart. The one at the right in beige with schoolgirl collar and stitched skirt. Both are appropriate for the impromptu dance after the big football game.

Tweed dresses often take the place of the suit in mild weather in London and vicinity. One society woman wore a small brown and white check in shirtwaist style, and completed her costume with brown accessories.

Contrast in Belts

Contrasting belts are used as the only trimming touch on some of the wool dresses, a royal blue woollen, for instance, having a wide red leather belt. Buttons were used extensively on this dress. Many dresses are seen with the front closing, buttoning down the entire front.

Multi-colored effects in sheer wools are also interesting to note. Usually these frocks are slim and tubiar. Skirts are no higher than 14½ inches from the floor in the latest models.

New woollens are being imported for the winter resort season, and they are lovely and original. Some of them are very sheer. One is so light that a yard only weighs four ounces. It is to be used for afternoon resort frocks, and the colors are smoky pastels and deeper shades, among them putty, bois de rose and duck's egg blue.

Swiss Flannels

There are also Swiss flannels preshrunk, and rich in color. These are for sports dresses, shirts and beach wear. The Swiss flannels have the effect of cashmere.

There are boucle tweeds for little jacket suits; horizontal stripes in knits from France, and multi-color stripes.

For the juniors lightweight woollens in pastel colors are highly regarded. They also are shown in novelty weaves. These frocks are good in checks with tucks and pleats. Slide fasteners and belts are the trimming features, the belts often contrasting with the dresses.

NEW YORK—(CP).—Paprika, pimento and rust are smart accent shades this fall. Some New York shops advocate them as chic accessory colors for black.

Dinners of The Week
(By MARY MOORE)

All These Meals Have Been Served, Eaten and Approved

Sunday.
(A replica of your last Sunday's dinner—see reason below.)
Beef Steak and Kidney Pot Pie
Brussels Sprouts with Cheese Sauce
Cottage Cheese Celery Hearts
Fresh Fruit from Centre Piece:
Pears, Pomegranates Imported Grapes, Unsalted Nuts
Coffee Milk for Children.

Reason—We let the youngsters eat with us on Sunday evenings—so have to have food they can eat—and also that can be prepared in the morning. It was a grand meal and cheap and easy. To make the pot pie order 1 lb. of pork or beef or veal kidney—they are all equally good. Cut them into cubes after trimming away fat and tough parts. Also order a flank steak weighing about a pound. Cut this into inch cubes and flour all the meat—then saute in cooking oil about (3 tablespoons) for about 8 minutes, stirring often—to brown somewhat. Then cover with boiling water—using about 1 quart in all and let gently simmer for 1½ hours at least. Make your lightest tea biscuits using 2 cups flour to make enough, pour meat and gravy in baking dish, place cut-out biscuits in ring around edge of dish on top of meat and gravy and bake at 450 degrees Fahr. until biscuits are done—about 10 minutes. There should be lots of gravy.

Monday (Vegetarian).
Celery Bouillon (Home-made)
Broccoli with Hollandaise
Baked Buttered Potato (butter before baking)
Tomatoes in Casserole with Crumb Crust
Buttered Carrots with Parsley
Butterscotch Meringue Pie Coffee.

Tuesday.
Broiled Beef Liver
Creamed Onions Fresh Rye Rolls
Celery Hearts
Peach Custard Coffee.

Wednesday.
Casserole of Hard-cooked Eggs and Potato Puff
Spinach with Cheese Sauce
Pumpkin Pie Cheese Coffee.

Thursday.
Newburg Smoked Beef (see note)
Mashed Potatoes Lettuce Salad
Caramel Blanc Mange Coffee.

Note.—To make Newburg Smoked Beef, pull ½ lb. smoked beef apart in fairly small pieces (procure the smoked beef from Jewish groceries or large meat department). Melt 2 tablespoons butter in heavy frying pan and add 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, and 2 tablespoons of finely chopped green pepper. Turn in the beef and cook stirring almost constantly until it begins to brown a little, then sprinkle over 2 tablespoons flour and when it is coated with the butter add 2 cups milk, stirring and stir until thick. Just before removing from heat add 2 tablespoons sherry if you can filch it from your husband's wine cabinet—mine hasn't one, so I use the non-alcoholic variety. This is grand and served on hot waffles is a sensation for a breakfast party.

Friday.
Finnan Haddie with Egg Cream Sauce
Cubed Boiled Potatoes with Parsley and Butter
Cauliflower with Grated Cheese
Grape (Imported) and Grapefruit Fruit Cup Cookies
Coffee.

Saturday.
Casserole of Cubed Squash with Molasses and Bacon
Creamed Mushrooms on Toast
Cabbage and Tomato Slaw
Deep Apple Pie Cheese Coffee.

Enquiry Column
Conducted by Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: As my wife cannot write in English I am writing for her to ask you for the following recipe. The recipe that we want is for cottage cheese. I remember that my mother used to make it but as it is impossible to get it from her would you please send it on to me? The only name I can remember it by is cottage cheese. Your cookery page is one dandy I can assure you and it is 100 per cent. practical. Thanking you in advance and wishing you every good luck for your page. Mr. and Mrs. P. K.

ANSWER: To be called practical is one of the nicest compliments you could pay me. I endeavour to be practical, and want the cookery page to be of real help from day to day to its readers.

Cottage Cheese

When whole or skim milk is sour and thick pour it in a shallow pan and set in warm place, not hot (about 100 deg. Fahr.) so it will become lukewarm—higher temperature makes coarse tough curds. When the curd separates from the whey pour all into a cheesecloth bag wrung out of cold water. Let drain overnight then remove the contents of the bag, and to serve add a little salt, pepper and cream. Melted butter may also be added, nuts, grated onion, grated green pepper also being variations. If the curds are too coarse mash them well.

Hoping this is what you want and that we can help again.

QUESTION: Would you be so kind as to forward me the recipe for Celery Relish which was printed in your columns two or three weeks ago? After getting my celery in on Saturday I find I have mislaid the recipe. The only thing I can remember is that it called for three or four cups of chopped celery. I want also to tell you how much we all enjoy your recipes. I think they are wonderful. Thanking you in advance.—Mrs. H. P.

ANSWER: Thank you for your pleasant letter.

Celery Radish

Three cups chopped celery (including some of the small tender leaves), 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, ½ cup vinegar. Mix all together and let stand overnight. (This will keep for some time without cooking). However it is better to bring to boiling point, boil for 8 minutes, and pour into sterile jars and seal.

Hoping this is the right recipe and that we can be of help in the future.

QUESTION: I can't tell you how I look forward to your most interesting page in the paper. Now I would like you to help me with a problem. I'd like to get a recipe for making plain white icing fr a wedding cake, that would not run. Thanking you so much.—Mrs. A. T.

ANSWER: Thank you for your encouraging letter.

Plain Ornamental Frosting No. 1

Two cups sugar, 1 cup water, whites 3 eggs, ¼ teaspoon tartaric acid (cream of tartar). Boil the sugar and water until syrup when dropped from tip of spoon forms a long thread. Pour syrup gradually on beaten whites of eggs, beating constantly; then add cream of tartar and continue beating. When stiff enough to spread, put a thin coating over cake. Beat remaing frosting until cold and stiff enough to keep shape after being forced through pastry tube. After first coating on cake has hardened cover with another thicker layer, and crease if desired at this time. If frosting is too stiff to spread smoothly, thin with a few drops of water. With pastry bag and tube the cake may be ornamented as desired.

Plain Ornamental Frosting No. 2

Whites three eggs, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, sifted confectioner's sugar. Put eggs in large cold bowl, add 2 tablespoons of the sugar, and beat three minutes using flat beater. Repeat until 1½ cups of the sugar are used. Add lemon juice gradually, as mixture thickens, drop by drop. Continue adding sugar by spoonfuls, and beating until frosting is stiff enough to spread. This may be determined by taking up some of mixture on back of spoon and with knife making a cut through it—if knife makes a clean cut and frosting remains parted it is ready to spread. Spread cake thinly with frosting; when this has hardened, put on thick layer, having mixture somewhat stiffer than first coating, and then crease for cutting if desired. To remaining frosting add enough more sugar that frosting may be kept in shape after forcing through pastry bag for ornamentation.

Hoping one of these will be suitable and that we can help again.

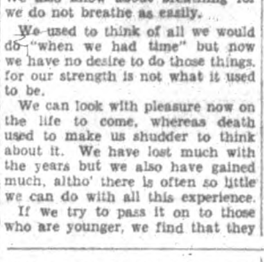
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

TRUST HIS JUDGMENT

IF YOUR partner makes an opening two bid, to show an immense hand, and you happen to hold the top honors in a single long suit, you can be positive that your side has practically all of the top honors. If you bid the suit once, as a positive response to the two bid, and then later rebid it, to indicate its length, you can tell that your partner will be positively sure that you have nothing else of note in your hand. If he then decides, in the late bidding, to place the contract into no trump, he is doing it with full knowledge of your holdings, and you should not worry about trying to take it back into your suit.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

After a pass by East, South started the bidding on this deal with 2-Hearts, North gave a positive response of 3-Clubs, South then bid 4-No Trumps, North rebid his clubs at 5 and South went to 6-No Trumps.

As can be seen, South would have no difficulty in fulfilling his contract, but his timid partner in the North felt that a rescue was in order at the level of 7-Clubs, his excuse being that the distribution of his hand was unsuited for no trump play. The contract was doomed from the start, as, with East in the lead, he played the heart A with the fervent hope that it would hold.

North was able to capture the remainder of the tricks, but was unable to avoid the abuse that was poured upon him by a furious partner who saw a chance for a marvelous score wantonly thrown away because his partner had so little confidence in him that he felt obliged to rescue him from a sure contract.

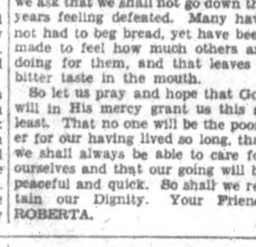
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

What is the correct defense against South's contract of 4-Hearts?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"The soul's dark cottage, battered and decay'd,
Lets in new light through chinks that time has made.
Stronger by weakness, wiser men become
As they draw near to their eternal home.
Leaving the old, both worlds at once they view,
That stand upon the threshold of the new."
—Waller.

Dear Friends:

When you grow older, as we all are doing every day, there is a desire that one could go gracefully and with dignity down the years. Most of life is behind us, the things we used to joy in, bring joy no longer, and sometimes life has hurt us so much we carry a fear of what it yet might do.

We are no longer able to face the world as we did in our youth. Then we had the long look that only youth can have, now our view is shortened. What we used to put so much value on, we do not care for at all now.

We tire more easily, we get to know more about our bones because of the ache that comes into them. We also know about breathing for we do not breathe as easily.

We used to think of all we would do "when we had time" but now we have no desire to do those things, for our strength is not what it used to be.

We can look with pleasure now on the life to come, whereas death used to make us shudder to think about it. We have lost much with the years but we also have gained much, altho' there is often so little we can do with all this experience.

If we try to pass it on to those who are younger, we find that they want to make their own mistakes and get their experience first hand, so we learn to keep things to ourselves.

Yet we feel we deserve something for all our work in the heat of the day, for all our striving and struggling. And we do deserve the reward of dignified old age and a cessation of so much that will bother us. We deserve independant old age, for what is worse than being dependant on others, and sometimes to be made feel we are a burden, and that if it weren't for us other people would be freer or have more.

One might say "then why didn't you use to it when you were younger? Why did you not lay by for old age?" And so many of us did just that, but this that was laid away had to be brought out or cashed in and got all used up before old age came upon us.

Yet we must remember that someone said in the bible, "I have been young and now am old, yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread."

But we do not know if we can be classed with the righteous or not. All we know is we did the best we could in the circumstances, and so we ask that we shall not go down the years feeling defeated. Many have not had to beg bread, yet have been made to feel how much others are doing for them, and that leaves a bitter taste in the mouth.

So let us pray and hope that God will in His mercy grant us this at least. That no one will be the poorer for our having lived so long, that we shall always be able to care for ourselves and that our going will be peaceful and quick. So shall we retain our Dignity. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Nerves Are an Asset If You Control Them

Are you high-strung? You're lucky. For if you can prevent nervous outbursts, you've a vivid charm that stolid people lack.

But woe if you repress "nerves." Irritability, sleeplessness, fatigue—even headaches, vertigo, nervous indigestion—overwhelm you, result in bitter breaks with family and friends.

Release your nervous energies naturally instead of bottling them up. Pour them into some interesting activity—swimming, dancing, hiking.

If nerves are really over-strained, the rest cure is the best cure. To get the full benefit of rest, learn how to relax, how to gradually let yourself go limp from ears to heels. Get as much real sunshine as possible during dark winter months.

A well-known physician tells you causes and cures for "nerves" in our 32-page booklet. Need of calcium and other minerals in the diet. Effects of coffee, tea, alcohol. A well-balanced diet.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of OVERCOMING "NERVES" AND EVERY-DAY HEALTH PROBLEMS to The Examiner's Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Deep Rich Colors

Royal purple and blue are very popular members of the color family since royalty has been so much in the news. In fact, all the deep, rich tones are being used this winter.

Deep purple tweed is cut on straight pencil lines in this distinguished but youthful town coat. There is a small Persian lamb collar and interestingly squared shoulders.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Thursday, November 4.

By mutual as well as lunar aspects, this day will be memorable for very important events, possibly following the stagnation, crystallization, frustration and disappointment of current events. This rather drastic activity will tend to place the fortunes on a stable basis. It will involve hard work, wise judgment and probably radical change, all justifiable.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of very important events, with old conditions and stagnations wiped away to make way for stable and dependable fortunes and sound achievements. But move cautiously, work industriously, confer with elders and beware of litigation.

A child born on this day may be deep, studious, dependable and industrious, but beset by urges for change, adventure and many hazardous experiences that may enlarge its prestige and probably bring it into the public eye.

DRIVER IS BURNED AS TRUCK BLAZES NEAR SUNDERLAND

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 3.—Milton Irwin, a local truck driver, is in the Ross Hospital, suffering from burns received when the truck caught fire south of Sunderland on Monday. Irwin was burned about the legs and hands when he fought the blaze. He was on his way to St. Thomas when the blaze broke out.

Proposes Licence Fee.

If Reeve Alex. Horn has his way, a license fee of $75 will be levied against games of chance in Lindsay. He introduced a bylaw at the council meeting Monday in connection with slot machines and other similar outfits, which he termed temptations to the youth of the town in that they promote the spirit of gambling. A bylaw imposing a fee of $75 for each machine was given its third reading.

At the next meeting of Lindsay Town Council, Alf. Laidley will introduce a motion calling for a vote on daylight saving at the forthcoming municipal election.

Sewage Disposal Plant.

Lindsay citizens will vote on a bylaw at the coming municipal election to erect a sewage disposal plant at an estimated cost of $30,000. The town has been dumping its sewage into the Scugog River—a navigable stream—and the Provincial Board of Health has been urging the municipality to erect a disposal plant and discontinue polluting the stream.

Pioneer Passes.

The death occurred at Little Britain on Monday of a pioneer resident of Mariposa Township, in the person of Catherine Thompson, widow of Joseph Jenkins. The deceased was in her eightieth year, and was born in the township. She was a member of the United Church.

MRS ROBERT BOYLE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 3.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Boyle of Lakefield whose death occurred on Sunday evening, October 24, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, was held from Belleghem's funeral parlours on Wednesday afternoon, October 27. Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Peterborough, who conducted the funeral service, was assisted by Rev. Williams, pastor of Millbrook Presbyterian church, and by Rev. Preston, minister at Keene Presbyterian church.

Pall bearers were Dr. A. W. Mackenzie and Mr. S. M. Simpson of Lakefield and Mr. Murray and Mr. Charles Rutherford of Lakevale.

A great many floral tributes were received, a large consignment coming from friends in Winnipeg where Mrs. Boyle made he home for some years.

Deceased, who before her marriage, was Sarah Mary McNeilly, was born near Omagh, County of Tyrone, Ireland, a daughter of Jeremiah McNeilly and Maria Hampton.

Miss McNeilly was married in Stewartston, Ireland, to Robert Boyle of Belfast, after which she and her husband resided in Belfast for a number of years before coming to Canada in March, 1907. Their first two years in Canada were spent at Kelowna, B. C., where Rev. Boyle was stationed. Later years were spent at various charges in the Western provinces, until about six years ago when Rev. and Mrs. Boyle moved to a new charge at Port Dover, Ont. During the forty years spent in Canada Rev. and Mrs. Boyle have resided, and Mr. Boyle has preached, in every province in Canada with the exception of the Maritimes.

About two and one-half years ago, June 1935, Rev. and Mrs. Boyle moved to Lakefield where Mr. Boyle took over the pastorate of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

During this time Mrs. Boyle, though confined to her home almost completely, through illness, became well-known and highly respected by members of other congregations as well as by the St. Andrew's congregation. She will be remembered long for her courageous outlook despite untold suffering and for her kindness and generosity to those in need. Mrs. Boyle was a true artist and derived great pleasure from all things beautiful.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Boyle is survived by one daughter, Mrs. H. Sharman of Winnipeg and a granddaughter, Maureen.

Interment was in Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough.

PORT HOPE RALLY REPORT IS READ

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 3. — Black and yellow decorations formed the appropriate setting for a Hallowe'en tea and program given under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Young People's Society on Monday evening. The crowd estimated at nearly one hundred and twenty-five spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening which was enlivened from time to time by community singing led by Charles Allan. The president, Mrs. Bruce Grills, was in charge of the program, of which an interesting feature was the report of the Young People's rally at Port Hope, given by Miss Violet Patrick, who stated that thirty-six had motored from the Campbellford branch to attend on Friday last.

Miss Patrick stated that the Rev. A. J. Preston, Moderator of the Presbytery, opened the meeting at eight o'clock with devotional exercises, after which Rev. J. W. Foote, B.A., B.D., of St. Paul's Church, Port Hope, welcomed the guests. The speaker for the evening was the Rev. H. M. Coulter, B.A., Th.D., the Assembly's Convenor for Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies, and his subject was "The Touch of Jesus," continued Miss Patrick. Mr. Coulter stated that our lives must be based on three things: Worship, service, and fellowship. "God is always reaching down. Do we reach up to Him as we should? Let us make no apologies for being a Christian. Let us be the servants God would have us and give all for Christ. We should enjoy the touch of Jesus and the fragrance of unity in worship, service and fellowship. The choice lies with us. We can either travel alone or with Jesus.'

Miss Patrick then reported that a district conference is being held in Port Hope from November 26 to November 28. The theme of the conference is to be "Teach Me Thy Way" and the theme song "Open My Eyes." Continuing, the speaker explained that Rev. B. Simpson Black, chairman of the Nominating Committee, had brought in a report showing that Cobourg had again won the Mason Trophy with 206 points out of a possible 220.

James Dutton then presented the banner to the Campbellford society, and it was received by the president, Mrs. Bruce Grills.

Rev. Mr. Duncan presented the cup to the Cobourg Society, and this was followed by the installation of officers, which resulted as follows:

Honorary president, James Dutton of Peterborough; President, Miss Marion Armstrong, Peterborough; secretary, Miss Violet Patrick, Campbellford; vice-president, Jas. Harnden, Brighton; treasurer, William Williams, Millbrook.

At the concusion of Miss Patrick's report, the evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

At 83 She Defies Rheumatism

After Suffering Acute Pain For Years

Rheumatism first attacked this old lady in 1931, and gradually spread from her arms to other parts of her body. Then she started to take Kruschen Salts, and now she sends the following letter in her own handwriting:

"I have suffered from rheumatism since 1931. At first, I felt acute pain in both arms. I could not sleep for pain. It grew worse, and gradually crept down to the tips of my fingers. Next it reached my knees and ankles, which made me quite helpless for a long period. A friend recommended me to take Kruschen Salts. I find they do me more good than any other medicine, liniment or ointment I ever used. This is my own writing, though I am in my 84th year."—(Mrs.) H.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are often caused by deposits of needle-pointed uric acid crystals in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts stimulate your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and assist them to get rid of the excess uric acid which is frequently the cause of your suffering.—Advt.

Court Of Revision Can Remit Taxes On Ground Of Poverty But Course Not Often Taken

Court Likely Hesitate To Remit If Property Was Clear Of All Encumbrances

Those axiomatic inevitables, death and taxes, half-brothers of the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, are not so absolute and rockribbed as folklore assumes.

The certainty of death is as fixed as the pole star, but the author of the old metaphor of gloom, must have been a "single taxer" or he may have been charged penalties for failing to hand his money over the municipal courier on the day it was due; at any rate his after-thought of taxes weakens the whole phrase because it turns out that taxes can be remitted.

The Court of Revision has granted a few appeals for remission of taxes on the ground of extreme poverty. A question was asked at Monday night's meeting of the council why some people could be relieved of taxes, and others were relieved of their property which passed into the hands of the city when the arrears of taxes exceeded its value, and the house or lot, as the case might be, was sold according to the provisions of the assessment act.

The statutes give the Court of Revision authority to remit taxes when an appellant pleads poverty, and enquires at the city hall indicate that decision in regard to such cases rests with the Court.

Asked To Wipe Out Taxes

W. J. Henry, assessor, recalled that some years ago some women in the south end urged him to wipe out the taxes on the house and property of an elderly widow who was struggling along in a spirit of independence, washing for neighbors and doing other domestic work. That was in the days before social services were estaoished by the provincial government.

"I explained to them that I had no authority to reduce taxes," Mr. Henry recalled. "Then I asked them if they thought the assessment was too high, and they agreed that it was not, so I advised them that the only way to get relief for the widow was through the Court of Revision who can deal with all cases of assessment and taxes according to the Assessment Act. I think they did so."

Opinion was expressed that even if there was no doubt of a property owner's inability to pay current taxes, the Court might hesitate to remit if the property was clear of encumbrance. Because of the value of the property it might be held that the taxes should be allowed to accumulate against it. In that event the Court cannot cancel taxes of previous years. They are dealing with taxes due in the present year and the assessment made in 1936 on which the taxes were levied.

Relief Officer Investigates

Circumstances which show beyond doubt that actual poverty exists may induce cancellation of taxes, and presumably this concession can be granted in the case of property that is free of mortgage and tax arrears. The local practice generally is to obtain information regarding applicants through the relief officer, and it seems the only answer that could be given to the aldermanic question Monday night about the limits of poverty cases is this—"It all depends on the Court of Revision." Action is within their discretion, although appeals from their judgments can be taken to the County Judge.

In other instances of property owners losing houses or lots by accumulation of taxes, circumstances vary. The owner may decide to abandon a vacant lot, and let it pass into the city's possession by the usual course of taxes piling up against it. Possibly there may be a few cases in which the Court of Revision might have granted assistance on the ground of poverty, but official intervention was not invoked.

HEALTH FACTS

We know that pressure upon nerves at the spine interferes with the functional activity of tissues supplied by these impinged nerves. If nerve fibres supplying the arm are constricted, the strength, sensation or movement of the arm will be impaired. If nerves supplying the stomach or liver are constricted these organs cannot work properly. This is true of any tissue of the body.

OUR MANIPULATIVE TREATMENTS

do release constriction from nerves and aid in restoring normal strength and function to weakened tissues. There are many different ailments because there are many nerve trunks and they may be affected in many different ways. The fundamental principles of spinal manipulation are applicable in practically all ailments and health is improved in a normal, natural way.

The Rambling REPORTERS

SHOULD BE REWARDED

While a number of girls in the Y.W.C.A. life-saving senior class earned awards of merit Tuesday evening, an unnamed boy deserved an award for valor. It seems there were 13 girls ready for a land drill in rescuing and 14 were required. Coach Gordon Minty of the Y.M.-C.A. swimmers offered Miss Littlefield, Y.W. swimming instructor, the services of one of his swimmers, the latter gamely agreeing to fill in. The offer was accepted and the lone male performed nobly in the drill, though his slim partner gave him a strenuous session in the resuscitation part of the exercise!—C.P.

TEN CONTESTANTS IN SPEAKING TEST

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 3.—A packed school room greeted the ten youthful contestants who vied with each other for the honour of representing their school at the Seymour township oratorical contest to be held one week hence. The performance took place on the evening of Friday, October 29. For the first time also, the audience had the pleasure of seeing the school lighted by the newly-installed Hydro power.

The entertainment included choruses entitled "October" and "The Fox" and a Shirley Temple chorus, composed of three hit songs of the little actress, "On the Good Ship Lollypop," "Animal Crackers in my Soup," and "Oh My Goodness."

The speeches were of high calibre and exceptionally well delivered by the contestants. Those taking part, and their subjects are as follows:

Leita Kelly, "From Sam Clemens to Mark Twain"; Kathleen Craighead "Princess Elizabeth"; Enid McCulloch, "Alexander Graham Bell"; Patricia Long, "King George VI"; Ruth Nicholas, "Queen Elizabeth"; Morley Bright, "The Canada of Tomorrow"; Vera Baker, "A Fishing trip"; Clinton Bright, "The Mounted Police"; Alice Steenburgh, "My Vacation"; Jack Long, "My Dog."

The program of speeches was interspersed with the various musical numbers, and a sing-song, in which the audience joined heartily.

One of the features of the program was a dialogue, entitled "The Land of Health," in which the following pupils took part: Bob Kelly, Carl Free, Lily Clark, Betty McCulloch, Jean Wood, Arlie Bright, Bert Kelly, June Steenburgh and Ronald Stanbury. This dialogue was directed by two Grade VIII pupils of the school, Fay Kelly and Ila Wood, who have both been previous winners of the Seymour township Oratorical contests.

Mr. A. A. Martin, inspector for the district, was present, and made a few remarks, complimenting the teacher, Mr. Everett Maycock, and the pupils on the excellent program He also remarked about new improvements around the school.

The judges' report was presented by Miss Clara Gregory, of Warkworth, and was as follows: 1, Patricia Long; 2, Kathleen Craighead; 3, Leita Kelly; 4, Jack Long; 5, Vera Baker; 6, Morley Bright.

Mr. Maycock then presented to each speaker of the evening a money prize. The money was supplied jointly by the Women's Institute and the School Trustee Board.

Mr. Ralph Rutherford acted very capably as chairman for the evening. The meeting ended with the National Anthem.

Six girls were awarded bronze medallions Tuesday evening at the senior life-saving class examinations held in the Y.W.C.A. pool, under direction of Miss C. Littlefield, swimming instructor. SEYMOUR WILL PAY PRIZE-LIST IN FULL

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 3.—The report of the chairman of the Finance committee of the Seymour Agricultural Society given at a recent meeting indicated that the total receipts for the Fall Fair amounted to $681.70, of which $692.55 were gate receipts and the balance was from concession rents and miscellaneous items. After the financial report of the Fair Board was given by the secretary, it was moved by W. J. Duncan and John Locke that the prize list be paid in full.

A motion was also put on the books requesting that the secretary write A. H. Martin, agricultural representative for Northumberland, expressing their appreciation for the help he gave during the past year, especially to the Foal and Calf Clubs and at the Fair. It was indicated that Morley Bennett would receive the Coronation Ribbon given by the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies for the best foal shown at the Foal Club in the Fair.

A motion to amend the rules and regulations of the fair for the year 1938 was carried, following which the President, A. D. Bennett and the Secretary, G. G. Stephens, were authorized to borrow necessary money to meet the expenses of the 1937 Fair.

COURT OF REVISION REMITS TAXES ON VACANCY CLAUSE

Remission of $615.70 taxes on Toronto Savings and Loan Company properties, due this year, have been granted by the Court of Revision for the reason of statutory vacancy in 1936. Most of these so-called tenements are flats on second and third floors above 437 George street, 134-6-8 Hunter street, 386-88-90-95 George Street, also 171 and 173½ Simcoe street, 338 and 344 Rubidge street and other properties which were declared to be in rentable condition. J. W. Stevenson represented the company.

Taxes may be remitted in such cases if a property has been continuously vacant for at least three months, that they were in rentable condition and efforts were made to rent them. All appeals heard by the Court of Revision refer to 1936, as this year's taxes are levied on last year's assessment.

W. W. Theobald was granted remission of $37.55 taxes on six apartments on Water street. He listed nine in his appeal but three of them were vacant less than three months.

Application for remission of the 1937 taxes on the Hutchinson estate property at 424 Sheridan street for the reason of vacancy was made by W. J. A. Fair, but was dismissed.

Reduction of $6.91 in the taxes of the Robert Simpson Company store on George street was granted because of an excess of $190 in their business assessment.

James Guiry asked for remission of taxes on stores at 390 and 392 Water street. He was granted reduction of $6.07 on the property at 390 Water street due to vacancy. The Court visited the other premises and granted remission of $10.24.

An appeal by Ozias de Leplante for remission of taxes because of vacancy of the house at 560 Homewood Avenue was dismissed because it was not vacant more than three months during 1936.

On the property at 490 Dickson street owned by the Charlotte Dickson Estate $96.46 taxes was remitted. J. P. Strickland, K.C., on behalf of the Estate said the house was vacant throughout 1936, that it was in good condition, and every effort was made to rent it.

On behalf of the Peterborough Workingmen's Building and Savings Society, John R. Corkery appealed for remission of taxes on 176 Lock street and adjoining lots because they were used for religious purposes. J. A. Fair, representing St. Paul's church, said that from July 1, 1937, to the end of the year the property has been or will be used by that church for religious purposes. The Court of Revision declared the property exempt from taxation.

Mrs. Lyda Telford was granted remission of $8.73 business tax because she had occupied 378a George street in 1936 only from April 1 to December 31.

The appeal of Cliff Towle for remission of business tax was considered. Mrs. Eva Towle testified that Mr. Towle occupied 105 Hunter street west for business from June 1 to September 30, and he carried on business at 392 Water street from October 1 to December 31 last year. The Court's judgment was that 1937 business tax of C. H. Towle in respect to 105 Hunter street be reduced by the sum of $20.76, and that he be held responsible for $5.26 in 1937 business tax at 392 Water street.

SUSPEND SENTENCE ON THREE YOUTHS

Four local youths pleaded guilty to joint charges of breaking and entering the premises of John Steinkrauss, 161 Hunter street west on the night of October 30, with intent to commit an indictable offence, when they appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning.

Three of the youths, eldest of whom was stated to be twenty-one years, were placed on probation for a 2-year period and were ordered to pay $14 costs each within the next 24 days.

Remanding the fourth member of the quartette, a lad of seventeen years, until Thursday, for the purpose of having his mother appear to stand as surety on a suspended sentence bond, the magistrate intimated he intended to deal similarly with him.

Two of the youths at first entered pleas of "not guilty" to the charges, but after the Bench decided to remand all of them at request of the Crown, they came back some minutes later and changed their pleas.

The eldest of the offenders told the court, "I am guilty of attempting to break in, but I did not enter the premises."

Another accused, aged 20 years, explained, "We tried to get in, but we did not get in."

"I did not enter the place, but was with the fellows who did enter it. I was not near the scene of the crime," a nineteen-year-old urged.

The magistrate said he took a serious view of the offences, but decided to give the accused youths a chance on account of their previous good characters. All but the youngest had not been in trouble before, it was stated.

DENTON MASSEY URGES BOYS TO BE SINCERE

Sincerity is the most important thing in the life of the young man, Denton Massey, M. P., popular leader of the York Bible Class in Toronto, told the Friday Night Supper Club last night. Looking to the Club creed which is headed: "It is not easy to apologize, to begin again ——," he declared it is the sincerity of apologies and the sincerity of new beginnings which counted.

Speaking of the man who would whitewash an insecure wall with unempered mortar to give it the appearance of stability, he said: "You see that sort of thing going on today." Unreliable manufacturers hide an inferior product with a superior package even though he lost out eventually when the sale of his product dropped off. Second hand car dealers dressed up old cars to give the appearance of quality necessary to deceive purchasers.

Does Not Gain

"That dealer is using whitewash and he doesn't get away with it long. Purchasers do not return to do more business and he finds himself in bankruptcy."

The well-known leader of young men spoke to one hundred young men gathered specially for the occasion of his appearance. He urged that they ask themselves how they have treated life, whether or not they have attempted to whitewash their characters.

"The man who whitewashes his character must know that there is One with an all-seeing eye Who takes all into account. The eye of this One Who is not to be fooled sees all. We must know the whitewash is not going to stand the test. It is not what we look like that counts. It is what we are."

He said it is impossible to teach a child not to lie. A father and mother might point out the nature of a lie and the consequences but the child had to teach himself. "No one can teach you to be sincere. You must wish to be sincere."

The Hypocrite

The speaker asked: "Who is there more damnable than a man who uses his membership in a church to further his own ends?" Turning to the matter of personality, he said personality is not something to learn in ten easy lessons at $5 per lesson. He warned that many a young man has gone down hill because his personality was such that things came too easily to him and he "thought he was something he wasn't."

Dangers to society, the maniac, the pervert and the criminal are locked up, he continued. Yet the hypocrite was the most dangerous man in the social realm, more dangerous than the maniac, the pervert or the criminal.

He blamed the lack of sincerity in individuals for the Spanish trouble and the Sino-Japanese war. Nations are but collections of individuals, he reminded.

Chris. Graham introduced Mr. Massey. Chairman Charles Shaw presided.

CAMPBELLFORD

VETERAN DRIVER RETIRES AT 75

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 3.—Retiring at the end of October at the age of seventy-five, George Osterhout who started with the Canadian National Express Company as driver thirty-seven years ago claims that he missed the morning train only four times during this period. Besides marking 37 years of active service the month of October is also important to "George", as he is known to all the merchants of town, for being the month of his seventy-fifth birthday. Born in Murray township he spent about sixteen years of his early youth employed in the milling industry at Meyersburg, Frankford and Peterborough.

The late W. H. Haynes was agent for the Canadian Express Company in the year 1900 when Mr. Osterhout was first hired as driver and since horse power was literally the only means of locomotion at that time he rose at five o'clock in order to hitch up to meet the six-thirty train. In those days with Campbellford at its best it was usually eight o'clock before he had completed his deliveries to the merchants, another record claimed by the seventy-five year old express driver is that he never lost a parcel in his years of service.

And speaking of cold weather, twenty-five years ago, back in 1912 he remembers only too well standing on the sation platform while a cold north wind whistled and the temperature stood at 32 degrees below zero and to add to this the snow was so deep it was necessary to shovel a track for the sleigh between the station and the main part of the town in more than one place. And today George appears to have the physical fitness of a man many years younger and expects still to enjoy many years of life.

FUN APLENTY BUT NO DAMAGE DONE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Nov. 3.—Practically all the rooms in the Continuation and Public Schools enjoyed a Hallowe'en frolic and program on Friday afternoon, games, peanut hunts and other contests, featuring the occasion, the service of candy, sandwiches, etc., climaxing the seasonable parties. Decorations of all the rooms were inkeeping with the annual advent of black cats, bats, witches, and so forth.

During the evening hours of Saturday the usual bands of young folk, wearing false faces or masks, and grotesque costumes, wandered about the village until a late hour, calling on the householders and merchants with the annual request: "Got any candy?" Most of the nocturnal visitors were provided with a good-sized bag in which to bestow the sweets thus gained, this saving up of the accumulation of goodies for later consumption probably averting illness from over indulgence, as practically all of the boys and girls had eaten in abundant measure at the school parties the previous afternoon.

Anything moveable in the way of sidewalks, lawn furniture, or machinery was found in unlikely situations on Sunday morning, remaining thus throughout the day, an old binder blocking the Armouries' doorway, and some strange 'decorations' finding lodgment on tlephone poles, and other unusual resting-places. Apparently, however, no actual damage was done to property the generally accepted pranks being a regular feature of the Hallowe'en celebration.

VICTORIA, Nov. 3 (CP) — Increase in the provincial gasoline tax was advocated yesterday in the British Columbia legislature by C. H. Tupper (Lib.-Similkameen), speaking in the throne speech debate. He urged the tax be raised five cents a gallon and the increase earmarked entirely for construction and upkeep of roads through the province. The tax now is seven cents a gallon.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR BEST COSTUMES

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 3.—The Central and North districts of the Young People's Union of Peterborough Presbytery held a highly successful Hallowe'en party in the Sunday School room of Lakefield United church on Friday evening, October 29, when about 120 young people from Selwyn, Fairview, Lakehurst, Wesley, Bethel, George St., Peterborough, Warsaw and Lakefield societies were entertained by the recreation committee of the Peterborough presbytery. The committee, of which Miss Esther Thornton is convenor, and Loretta McDougall, Robert Spence and Rev. G. F. Kelly are the other members, spared no trouble to make the evening a splendid success.

A play party with active games, was varied with seasonable novelties, such as fortune-telling, the fortunes being drawn from a large pumpkin by means of gaily colored ribbons.

The parade of merry-makers in costume caused the spectators lots of fun and kept the judges pretty well worried for a while, but prizes were eventually awarded as follows: Lady's fancy costume, Mrs. William Millage; lady's comic costume, Mrs. Dora MacMillan; gentlemen's fancy costume, Lloyd Parnell; gentlemen's comic costume, Bob Smith.

After the judging everyone joined in a grand march arranged by Rev. Kelly. Then Miss MacDougall, Mr. Spence and Mr. Kelly took turns leading group and singing games, and Mr. Spence presented a series of novel Hallowe'en stunts including a Hallowe'en play and the dramatization of nursery rhymes, which were popular with the audience.

A second series of group and singing games was followed by refreshments which were appropriate to the occasion, being doughnuts and coffee, and apples and candy.

Rev. Kelly led a peppy sing-song after lunch and the party closed with a worship service led by Mr. Kelly. Mrs. Kelly acted as pianist throughout the evening.

The hall was suitably decorated in orange and black, the prize for the best decorations in the presbytery going to the Norwood Society who held their party on Thursday, October 28.

PUPS HI-JACK CAT

ERSKINE, Alta.—(CP)—Puppies on the Baker farm, near here, have turned to the hi-jacking business. The farm cat has a large family of kittens. She goes hunting every day for mice. On her return, the pups are waiting, intercept her on a porch, steal the catch and scamper away. This has happened on many occasions.

TOBACCO MEN ASK TEN CENT INCREASE

SIMCOE, Ont., Nov. 3—(CP)—A deputation of Western Ontario tobacco growers were scheduled to meet the Ontario Flue-cured Tobacco Marketing Board here to-day to ask an increase of 10 cents a pound in the average minimum price of 24½ cents a pound set for the 1937 crop.

There delegation will represent 1,200 growers who at a meeting in Delhi last night decided to refuse to sell their crops to company buyers at the set price. The meeting, overflowing into the streets before the hall in which it was held, voted to demand a minimum price of 34½ cents.

Buyers for Canadian tobacco companies were scheduled to start bidding to-day for Norfolk County's crop. The market in Essex and other tobacco-growing counties is to be open November 10. Ontario's crop this year was estimated at 56,000,000 pounds, 32,000,000 pounds more than in 1936.

The Marketing Appraisal Committee of the board set the price for the 1937 crop at 24½c at an adjourned meeting here last Thursday. Under this scale, the crop was expected to yield growers between $14,000,000 and $17,000,000. In 1936, the average minimum price was 25 cents; the average price actually received was 29½ cents.

Growers attending the Delhi meeting voted to refuse bids from company buyers made on the basic scale of 24½ cents a pound. Speakers at the gathering, held under the auspices of independent growers, said the basic price was unfair and did not give a living wage to tobacco growers.

A five-man committee was appointed to interview the Marketing Board here to-day. It was in Simcoe the Board Appraisal Committee, sitting under the chairmanship of Professor Archibald Leitch of Ontario Agricultural College, set the average minimum price after extended discussions, adjourned a week before a decision was reached.

TWEED INQUEST CONTINUES NOV. 4

TWEED, Nov. 3.—The inquest into the death of the late Mrs. MacAvoy opened at the T. C. Thompson Funeral Home, Belleville, before Chief Coroner Dr. J. J. Robertson Tuesday morning, and following identification established by Wilfrid LaSage, Tweed, the body was released for burial at Tweed, and the inquest adjourned until Thursday, Nov. 4th at 7.45 p.m. in the police court rooms.

During the course of the preliminary investigation Dr. S. R. McCreary, who conducted a post mortem upon the deceased, testified that a fractured skull was the cause of the death. The investigation was conducted by County Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K.C.

The coroner's jury impanelled by Sergeant Arthur Harman consisted of W. H. Panter, foreman; H. Abbott, F. Gauthier, Thos. Jeffery, Chas. Cochrane, R. Arnott, Geo. Ketcheson, and H. S. Alderman.

Mrs. MacAvoy was walking across a bridge in Tweed on Saturday morning when she was struck by bicycle ridden by Vincent Prout, 17 year old Tweed delivery boy. The elderly lady was knocked down and when picked up was in an unconscious condition. She never regained consciousness, authorities revealed.

Upon orders from the office of the County Crown Attorney, H. C. Donnan, K.C., young Prout was placed under arrest by Chief Clare Hayes of Tweed on Monday evening on a charge of criminal negligence and was subsequently taken to Belleville and lodged in the Hastings County jail to await preliminary hearing.

A.A.U. Branches Hardest Hit Financially By Separation Of Three 'Paying' Sports

'Divorced' Bodies Brought More Money To Parent Body Than All Surviving Members

TORONTO, Nov. 3 (CP). — The three most important governing sports organizations in the country are on their own. They don't belong to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, which late this month at Montreal may be expected to do something about it—anyway about part of it.

The "big three" are the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, Canadian Amateur Basketball Association and the Canadian Lacrosse Association. What the somewhat empty A.A.U. will do towards luring back hockey, basketball and lacrosse is pretty indefinite.

But rapprochement of the A.A.U. with its former allies heads the problems delegates will encounter in discussions starting November 18. Indications are the union will make the first move towards realignment with the three bodies which brought more money to the A.A.U. than all its surviving affiliates.

Parent Body To Blame.

"The Amateur Athletic Union is at the crossroads of its career," J. M. Barclay, president of the Southwestern Ontario branch, said recently. Other officials have stated openly the parent body was "partly to blame" for the breaks.

Lacrosse, hockey and basketball left the fold when the last A.A.U. of C. convention at Regina refused to accept completely constitutional amendments which would permit amateurs to (1) accept money for time lost from work to play; (2) use their athletic ability to get jobs; (3) play against pros in exhibition games and would allow a pro in one sport to compete as an amateur in all others.

Broaching for the first time the union's reaction to the withdrawals, President Jack Hamilton of Regina in a recent letter to the Manitoba branch urged all officials to give "special consideration" to the problem.

Hope For Solution.

From opinions voiced to him, Hamilton said he found three distinct groups lined up for different solutions of the trouble. Speaking specifically of hockey, he said there were those who counselled continuation of negotiations with the C.A.H.A.; those who desire direct and immediate organization of hockey under "our own banner," and those who believe the present situation eventually will untangle itself and the two organizations will come together again.

Hamilton's letter did not mention the C.L.A. which announced its 'divorce' from the parent body shortly before the letter was read. At the same time the lacrosse body dropped the "amateur" from its names. Several amendments to the A.A.U. constitution pertaining to the definition of an amateur are down for discussion at the three-day convention.

Just how weak the union has been left without the three major bodies probably will be learned at the meeting when reports will be heard of the number of athletes still registered with the A.A.U. In 1936 more than 18,000 seniors and 20,000 juniors had union cards. Thousands of these were under the C.A.H.A. alone.

Branches Suffer.

Financially, A.A.U. branches suffer more than the Dominion body because of the withdrawals. Main revenue to the branches has been from amateur cards costing each athlete 25 cents, and the drop will be more pronounced than ever next year when lacrosse players get along without cards.

Left under the A.A.U. banner are 15 or so bodies, including the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Amateur Association of Oarsmen, while track and field, boxing and wrestling still are directly controlled by the A.A.U.

WINS CHARITY SHIELD.

MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 3.—(CP Cable). — Manchester City, English League champions, won the charity football shield here today, defeating Sunderland, English Cup-holder, 2-0.

Holds Out

NELS STEWART

As to how much is meant by "not much" rests, evidently, the outcome of Nels Stewart's holdout. He has failed to sign a new contract with the New York Americans, but Manager Mervin "Red" Dutton expects the veteran centreman to capitulate shortly, "as there is not much difference in his demands and our offer." Dutton is reported to have stated.

MILLBROOK GAMES END IN TIE COUNTS

MILLBROOK, Nov. 3.—The Garrison Badminton Club held a tournament in the Armouries on Monday night, the games' captains, Mrs. W. W. Kennedy and Grant Henry, having the event under their charge, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Players in the ladies' doubles were:

Mrs. J. E. Allen and Mrs. Kennedy vs. Betty Montgomery and Mrs. (Dr.) Wright, the former winning.

Margaret Simpson and Doris Bannister vs. Mrs. Ivan Gray and Mrs. Donald Tinney, the former winning.

Miss Anna Kells and Mrs. F. Stinson vs. Mrs. H. A. Kerr and Ada Attwooll, the former two winning.

Ruth Thorndyke and Muriel Smith vs. Mrs. Hobbs and Margaret Russell, the latter winning.

Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. R. A. Ford vs. Betty Montgomery and Vanita Ingram, the latter winning.

In the men's doubles the list includes:

Dr. J. W. Wright and J. E. Allen vs. Grant Henry and Ivan Gray, the latter winning.

Owen McCarthy and Dr. Stewart vs. Bob Cathcart and W. W. Kennedy, the former winning.

Henry Lancashire and Charles Ireton vs. H. D. Bigelow and H. A. Kerr, the former winning.

In the mixed doubles the players were:

Dr. Wright and Margaret Simpson vs. Grant Henry and Jane Tinney, the former winning.

J. E. Allen and Mrs. Kennedy vs. Ivan Gray and Mrs. Wright, the latter winning.

Owen McCarthy and Mrs. Allen vs. Bob Cathcart and Betty Montgomery, the latter winning.

Henry Lancashire and Doris Bannister vs. Mrs. Ivan Gray and H. D. Bigelow, the former winning.

Dr. Stewart and Anna Kells vs. Mr. Kerr and Ada Attwooll, the former winning.

Charles Ireton and Mrs. F. Stinson vs. H. Bigelow and Mrs. Kerr, the latter winning.

Leslie Hobbs and Mrs. Ford vs. Henry Raper and Vanita Ingram, the latter winning.

Points totalled showed the final result to be a tie—8 all. Following play, refreshments were served in the club-room upstairs, Misses Muriel Smith and Anna Kells being hostesses, with Mrs. Ford and Miss M. Simpson assisting with the service of the guests. The table was lovely with lace cloth, service of silver and centred with a silver bowl of hydrangeas; coffee was poured by the hostesses for the evening.

AMERKS MANAGER CONFIDENT TEAM FOR '37 SEASON

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—(CP).—First it was Murph Chamberlain of Toronto Maple Leafs who had to visit the dentist when he had two teeth knocked out—now it's Scotty Bowman of Detroit Red Wings. The husky Detroit defenceman had five molars removed yesterday when struck by a puck shot by Hec Kilrea in practice.

"Red (Manager Red Dutton) has got something this time,' says the New York Ranger boss, Lester Patrick, about New York Americans. The Dutton-led Amerk clan defeated Rangers three times, lost twice, and tied twice in an exhibition tour.

Sign that a holdout siege likely will end: Bob Gracie, when he left for Montreal to talk it over with Coach King Clancy of Maroons, had all his luggage with him. So it looks as if Maroons' most persistent holdout might come to terms.

Ah! There's deep, deep strategy in two N.H.L. camps. Both Toronto Maple Leafs and Rangers are going to hold "secret" practices to-day.

Here's what Lester Patrick says of his Rangers: "They're young and they still make mistakes, btu they should top last year's form." (And all Rangers did last year was gain the Stanley Cup final, losing there to Detroit Wings.)

The N.H.L. season starts to-morrow night with Leafs entertaining (though, maybe thats not the word for it) those Detroit Wings, and Chicago Hawks giving an at home for Amerks. It will mark Bill Stewart's league start as coach of Hawks.

An oddity: A combined team of Montreal Marcons and Canadiens lost 6-5 last night to an All-Star N.H.L. team— and not a Maroon scored a goal. Johnny Gagnon got two, and other Canadien scorers were Pit Lepine, Babe Siebert and Paul Haynes.

Canuck Coach Trains Britons For Hockey

LONDON, Nov. 3 (CP). — Sport fandom of Great Britain has been sold on hockey as played by imported Canadian athletes but it may not be long before those same spectators will be watching young Britons provide the speedy entertainment.

Percy Nicklin, former coach of Moncton Hawks, Allan Cup winners in 1933 and 1934, is conducting a hockey nursery at Harringay for boys under 14 years. More than 150 youngsters are taking instructions from Nicklin and his assistants who are members of Harringay's two teams—Racers and Greyhounds.

BUSES FOR TROLLEYS?

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 3.—(CP)—Question as to what system of transportation will replace Windsor's street cars remained undecided after a city council meeting last night. It was proposed a plebiscite be submitted to the people to allow them to settle the matter.

S. E. McGorman, chairman of the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railway Company's board of directors, said the plan to substitute trolley buses for street cars would not cost the city a cent. Cost of the new buses could be paid entirely out of earnings.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C' Bickle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

ANNUAL MEETING of the Peterborough Hockey Club is being held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. All those interested, officers, players and fans, are invited to attend. Main business will be the election of officers for the 1937-38 season, and this is an important item. Organization of the club teams, financing 'em and formation of good groupings depend largely on the officers in charge. There will no doubt be plenty of general discussion and possibly some dope on prospects for the Petes and Colts this winter. Also plans for a raffle to raise some dough, we imagine. The financial statement for last winter was presented at the spring meeting.

* * * * * *

A PRETTY promising pro rasslin' program has been lined up for the Brock on Friday p.m. by Promoter Bob Morley of Windsor. He has "The Great" Balbo in against Tuffy Cleete in the main bout; with Tony Bommarito wrestling Dick Merrill in the semi-final; and a prelim lined up between Jim Pappas and Bill Thornton. This is a one-fall affair while the other two are two-in-three falls. Balbo is an Italian flying tackle artist who is reported to fly through the air with the greatest of ease—to bring daring young rivals down on their knees!—A sort of high-powered dirigible.

* * * * * *

ANOTHER ITALIAN grappler is Tony Bommarito, called "The Italian Mat Gangster"—and a gent who does not care how he wins so long as he cops the duke. Added to the foreign element at this show is Jim Pappas, who hails from Greece, and who is said to be slippier than grease during his warring hours. We have seen a flock of mat villains around Peterborough, including the one and only Alex Kasaboski—who belongs to this same stable—and a much-hated lowlifer named Nazarino Poggi (remember him?); and it'll take a lot of mean mauling by the Messrs. Balbo, Bommarito and Pappas to eclipse their villainous records. But we look for a lively program by the grunt and groan gees, and it ought to draw a flock of customers.

* * * * * *

WE TOOK a look at the supports under the main grandstand at Riverside Park last Saturday—at the request of an official—and they are certainly wobbly. Pulling right apart and the stand is downright dangerous when filled with people. Not the west stand, which rugby fans use, but the main one which ball fans prefer. The city or someone should check on this matter before the building collapses and someone is seriously hurt.

* * * * * *

A GRID doubleheader is lined up for Riverside Park this Saturday afternoon when the Bowmanville senior and junior squads play the P.C.I. teams. They are C.O.S.S.A. scheduled contests and wind up the home schedules, for the Garnet and Gray gangs. Coach Bamforth's boys are sitting pretty and ought to add another victory to their string. But Coach Jackson's gallant junior P.C.I.-ers have a tougher task. Haven't they been having 'em all season? They lost a close one in Bowmanville but hope to even it up here. Since Lindsay has lost two tilts—same as P.C.I.—the locals st'll have a mathematical chance at group honors. Don't think they won't be trying to win this one, too. The school squads deserve a nice crowd Saturday.

* * * * * *

A BIT of bitterness creeps into the Lindsay Warder column as follows: "Lindsay and Peterborough have finally settled their old gridiron feud, with the Liftlock crew emerging victorious . . . . However the Petes will have to play a better brand of rugby than they displayed against the Bombers if they expect to cop the same championship the Rotarians won last fall."—What championship was that?—"Orfuns won the game but the victory was nothing to be proud of. Lindsay journeyed down determined to hand the high-riding Petes a battle royal; they went in and gave the best they had under the circumstances but bowed to the Petes—but it's no credit to the Orfuns. The latter won by 14 points but about 10 were deserved. It's true it was their fourth consecutive win but if they can't display a little better form in playoffs they'll not go very far. And the senior O.R.F.U. possibility is out of the question." Oh, well . . . .

* * * * * *

WORD FROM Belleville is to the effect that the Harty Arena in Kingston will be flooded this week, and invitations to join a pre-season puck loop there have been sent to Belleville and Trenton Fliers. Both teams hope to enter it shortly. Things are shaping up a little better in Belleville now for another good "B" intermediate squad, despite loss of such stalwarts as Ingram, Whitton, St. Louis and Barriage, etc. Murphy, Bentley, Jackson brothers, Watt and McCreary will be available again, along with a few newcomers—they hope—and Eddie Thomas will pilot the puckists once more. Once he locates a good second forward line, Thomas is all set with another pretty fair crew for the "B" classification. Trenton Fliers are still in the throes of rugby but are beginning to talk hockey again, and should ice another first-rate outfit.

* * * * * *

NORM BOWLER tells us that the local boxing club, the Riverview A.C., has moved headquarters uptown and equipment is being installed this week. Club training commences again next Monday night and will continue regularly. He reports a good list of local mitt-slingers and has hopes of having the first bouts in the Brock St. arena December 1st. No Trenton boxers are available for a time, but some smart scrappers from Toronto will be matched with the better Peterborough pugilists. More dope on this amateur ring club should be available soon.

* * * * * *

HITHER AND yawn: Fred Ingram, ex-Campbellford hockeyist, is getting married in Kirkland Lake on Nov. 11th—which is Armistice Day, of all things! . . . . No official word yet on the Orfuns-Fliers' first grid playdown game, likely next Sat'day . . . . Niagara Falls' paper says Speedy St. Louis will help Theroid both in hockey and as a baseball catcher, having caught for the Belleville team in the C.O.B.L. last summer; he was in Napanee last season . . . . Jim Good of Toronto and Carl Gamble of Oshawa, good pucksters, were in a car crash at Port Hope last eve, but escaped with minor injuries; auto was damaged to the extent of $350 . . . O.R.F.U. is checking up on Peterborough, Oshawa and Trenton as possibilities for a senior team for next autumn—but this town is out . . . . Charlie Gehringer of Detroit has finally been recognized as one of the great ball players, being voted the most valuable player for this year . . . . Look for a dandy Senior City Hockey League here this winter, with clubs clamoring to get in . . . . Up Rindsay way they're saying Mick Magee is out of all sports indefinitely since his grid injury . . . . We expect a lot of beef on the Colts' lineup this winter, but a lighter intermediate outfit . . . . Don't forget, folks, to do your Christmas hinting early.

Hockey Stars Hurt Port Hope Crackup

PORT HOPE, Nov. 3. — Two well-known hockey stars, Jimmy Good of Toronto and Carl Gamble of Oshawa received injuries here on Tuesday as a result of a motor crash which necessitated attention at the Port Hope General Hospital. Along with the driver, Irving Gould, of Atlantic City, and H. Teno of Windsor, they were proceeding to Montreal to witness last night's charity game for Howie Morenz.

Teno sustained a wrenched shoulder and Good got a cut over the eye. After attention they were able to proceed.

Gould told Provincial Motorcycle Constable H. R. McKellar that his car skidded on the wet pavement, careened into the ditch, overturned twice, cracked off a telephone pole, and came to rest nose on in the ditch. The sedan was damaged to the extent of $350.

Nova Scotian Rules 'Heavy' Ranks In Canadian Boxing Association

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.— (CP).— Terry (Tiger) Warrington of Liverpool, N.S., ruled both the light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions of Canadian boxing to-day after the claims of a flock of other good fighting men had been looked over.

Winner of 41 of his 42 fights, the 26-year-old Warrington has as his idol another great Nova Scotia negro, Sam Langford, who won 138 fights while losing 25. Warrington is the first champion ever to be declared in either of the two classes by the Canadian Boxing Federation.

He gained his ranking yesterday at the Federation's annual meeting here, a session largely devoted to ironing out of title bids. Frank Hogan of Montreal, president of the National Boxing Association of the United States, was elected Federation president for a third term. George Bird of St. Catharines is runner up for Warrington's championship.

Three Toronto fighters and two from Montreal are included among the six titlists—the other is the flyweight king, Aurelien Lamothe of Quebec. Irving Pease of Toronto rules the middleweights, Frank Genovese of Toronto the welterweights, Maxie Berger of Montreal, the lightweights, Frankie Martin of Montreal the featherweights and Baby Yack of Toronto the bantamweights.

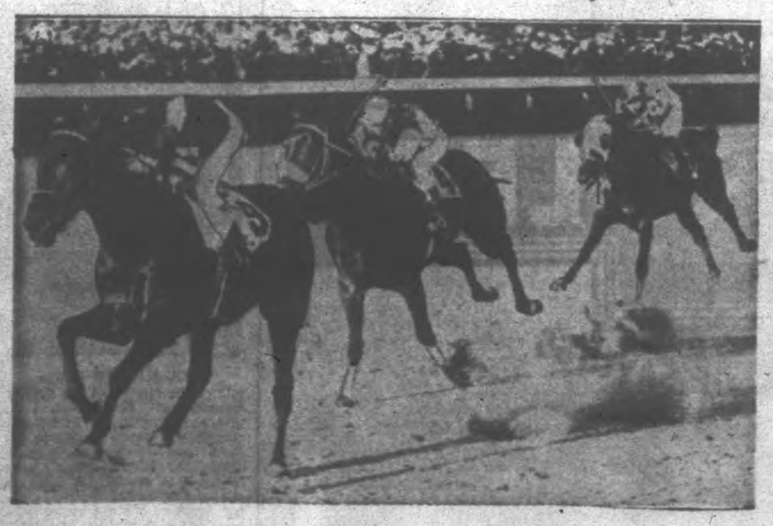
War Admiral's Latest Win Clinches Money Honors



Samuel D. Riddle's War Admiral, with Jockey Charley Kurtsinger in the saddle, is seen here winning the $15,000 Washington handicap at Laurel, Md., to clinch money-winning honors for the year. He is two lengths ahead of Heelfly. Burning Star is third. The race lost some of its interest when Seabiscuit, runner-up to War Admiral in greatness for the year, was scratched.

Hockey Fans Join In Tribute To Memory Of Howie Morenz, All-Stars Win Benefit 6-5

Montrealers Nearly Tie Score In Great Scoring Finish At Exhibition

MONTREAL, Nov. 3 (CP).—Professional hockey tensed today for a season that will develop new stars and make old ones new again, that will reject ambitious youngsters and turn a few more fading veterans to the discard.

And hockey will go on without Howie Morenz, flaming Howie who defied force and time and certain defeats in his dashes down the ice lanes.

The league and Montreal's army of fans paid tribute to the glamorous Morenz last night in a gesture game. Before 8,600 in the Forum's white light, a select National League force defeated a combination of Howie's old team, the Canadiens, and the club he delighted to play against, the Maroons.

The Stratford streak, who died at the height of a comeback last winter, would have liked to have been around for a game like last night's, for the finish was close, and Montreal was carrying all the play at the finish. The All-Stars, through an early advantage, pulled out a 6-5 victory.

Stage Great Finish.

Morenz would have looked good out there with barging Babe Siebert and Black Cat Johnny Gagnon as they led Montreal's final drive. It netted three goals in less than three minutes, and Montreal was still piling in on Normie Smith at the end.

Some of the players who jumped at chances to play for the aid of Morenz' widow and three children have passed their peaks. Two or three will put everything into one last big season this winter. They came up about the time Morenz came up and helped him build the N.H.L. to greatness.

The reverence in which Howie was held was noticeable everywhere as the stars gathered to pay tribute. In hotels and dressing-rooms they spoke of Morenz' spirit and hoped the game would be a success.

The game was successful, even though the Forum wasn't packed. From every N.H.L. city donations to the Morenz fund poured in, and many who couldn't attend bought seats anyway.

Buys Old Uniform.

A pleasing gesture was made by Joe Cattarinich, once part owner of the Canadiens. He bought Howie's old equipment at auction between periods for $500, then gave it to Howie Morenz Jr. Other admirers purchased mementoes to help swell the fund.

Little Howie drew the night's loudest applause. Garbed in the same colors as the Maroon-Canadien team, he skated about as the two sides practiced, posed for photographers, and took potshots at the goaltenders. Players who knew his father chattered about the close resemblance between the two and praised the youngster's hockey ability.

Eddie Shore of Boston, Marty Barry of Detroit, Charlie Conacher of Toronto and Cecil Dillon of New York Rangers led the All-Stars, and Siebert and Garnon were aided mostly by Pit Lepine of the Canadiens and Russ Blinco of the Maroons.

Gagnon was the only player on either team to score twice. In the second period, when Dillon got the only goal, Normie Smith of the world champion Detroit Red Wings, and Bill Beveridge of the Maroons staged a dazzling goal-tending exhibition.

Didrikson-Montague Make Great Golf Duo

COLUMBIA, S.C., Nov. 3 (AP).—Babe Didrikson, athlete extraordinary and golfer not without laurel, cast an appraising eye toward John Montague Tuesday and exclaimed:

"Golly, but we'd make a great golf team."

The Texas girl came here to visit Kathryn Hemphill, another golf star, and the name of Montague slipped into the conversation.

"I don't know how this mystery man of golf would stack up the professional top-notchers in tournament golf," she said. "Probably he couldn't keep up with them, but he has the shots. His short game is nothing short of brilliant. And he is a great showman, too."

"But not as good as you," piped up a reporter.

"Oh, no, of course not," said Babe.

ORILLIA JUNIORS CAPTURE HONORS FROM VANCOUVER

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—(CP)—Orillia baby Terriers held the Canadian junior lacrosse championship today, their stormy five-game series with Vancouver Bluebirds completed by a strong comeback after dropping two straight games.

Terriers won the fifth game of the best-of-five series 12-9 here last night which added to victories in the first two games gave them the title. Bluebirds won the third and fourth games, forcing the fifth match here on neutral territory after the four games at Orillia.

Goalie Ray Mortimer was the backbone of the Terrier team, warding off Blue bird shots as the Terriers ganged up on Herb Delmonico in the Vancouver nets to lead from the start. With the victory went the Minto Cup, formerly in competition for professional teams but idle since 1934 until the first of the east-west junior finals this year.

Top scoring Terrier was Mucker McWhinnie with six goals, three of them in the first period when Terriers outscored the Bluebirds 4-2. Orillia led 7-5 at half time and Bluebirds cut the lead to 9-8 at the three-quarter mark. The Orillia team outscored the coast players 3-1 in the last session to win by a handy margin.

(By the Canadian Press).

Newsy Lalonde, all-time great of Montreal Canadiens, went to Saskatoon of the Western Canada Hockey League in exchange for Aurel Joliat. It was 15 years ago today that the trade was announced. Near the end of his spectacular career, Newsy later returned to Canadiens as coach. Joliat became one of the game's most beloved figures.

Armstrong Wins Title On A K.O.

Six Orillia Lacrosse Players May Join Lacrosse League

Expect Sanction Will Be Received From Ontario Amateur Association

ORILLIA, Ont., Nov. 3 (CP)—Six members of Orillia's senior lacrosse team may play in a winter league in California this year if permission can be obtained from the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association, Norman Cooke, coach of the Junior Orillia team and former senior coach, said Tuesday.

Cooke said he had received a telegram from Frank Sweeney, former Canadian player, asking for six of the Terriers to play in a four-team league to be operated this winter in the Pan-Pacific Stadium at Hollywood.

He said Joe Cheevers, George Coles, Hugh Kelly, Harold Jordan, John McMahon and Bill McArthur would make the trip "providing the O.A.L.A. doesn't stand in the way."

The communication said the California clubs would guarantee return transportation, all expenses "and $100 a month living allowance to the players." The league opens Dec. 15, but there will be several pre-season games, he said.

"I don't anticipate any difficulty getting players," Cooke said. "There are a number of players who would be glad of the oportunity. The only difficulty is the permission from the O.A.L.A.

"The allowance might be considered pay and that would professionalize them. However, since the Canadian Lacrosse Association has dropped from the amateur union and will henceforth allow professionals to play, it is almost certain the O.A.L.A. will follow suit at their next convention and so I don't see what could stand in the way. I am taking it up with the O.A.L.A."

Orillia Terriers, eastern Canadian lacrosse champions this season, were defeated in the finals for the Dominion championship by a New Westminster, B.C., squad.

VETERAN PLAYERS RESIGN FROM GAME

SUDBURY, Nov. 3 (CP)—Time has taken a heavy toll among hockey stars of former years and the opening of the Nickel Belt Hockey League here November 15 will find several puck chasers hanging up their sticks and watching the game from the sidelines.

Top ranking among outstanding players who have probably played their last game of organized hockey are four former members of the Halifax Wolverines, Allan Cup champions of 1935.

They are Frank Graham, twice a member of a Dominion championship team; Ernie Mosher, Mickey McGlashen and Reg. Shields, the last three members of the Creighton Mine Club last season. Mosher and Graham have definitely retired and are in line for a refereeing job this year, while McGlashen and Shields are still working out with the Creighton Club.

GENEROUS WINNER

LONDON—(CP)—Publisher Walter Hutchinson—who often gives pound notes to backers who fail to bet on his horses—distributed pound notes to racegoers when his Broad Oaks won the Autumn Cup at Alexandra Park. Hutchinson paid £36 $173.25) for the horse.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

(By Bradley)

FRANKIE BOUCHER

Who can ever forget the masterly playing of Frankie Boucher, for years one of the pivotal players in Lester Patrick's New York Rangers.

Frank provided an example that is not often seen in sport, for not only was he one of the greatest players to finish across the hockey horizon, but he was also one of the cleanest.

To anyone who has viewed sport this indeed is a rarity, for the majority of the top-notchers strive so hard and play with such abandon, in order to preserve their premier ranking, and because of their zeal, they get involved in many arguments and fights.

But not so with Boucher. So superlative was his skill that he achieved recognition with apparently little effort.

Truly Boucher in his prime was an astonishing athlete. A gentlemanly player above all, but in spite of the disadvantages that this sometimes offers, one of the greatest centre players that hockey fans have been privileged to look on through the passage of the years.

Soccer 'Mother' Stands By Guns

LONDON, Nov. 3 (CP).—Advisability of women acting as football club officials will be considered by the English Football Association. Notice has been received that Mrs. Jane Howarth is acting as secretary of the Wrens Football Club, Blackpool, junior team affiliated with the F.A.

Mrs. Howarth is a real soccer "mother." She makes the team's football togs and washes them after every match. "I have had charge of the Wrens since my husband went to Portugal when he made me promise I would keep his lads together," she said, adding she had seen only one football match and that was in 1906.

SHORE BOLSTERS BOSTON'S HOPES STANLEY CUP RACE

BOSTON, Nov. 3 (C.P.). — The eight-year Stanley Cup famine that has plagued Boston Bruins will be ended this season, a supremely confident Art Ross said on Tuesday. The basis of the Rossian hopes are a rejuvenated Eddie Shore and "three smart boys" up from the Bruins' farm team.

Not since 1928, when the one and only Shore was at the height of his greatness, has the Hub won hockey's richest prize. Now that the big defenceman, out most of last season with an injured back, is hitting the comeback trail like the champion that he is, the Bruin manager doubts there is anything in the National League that can stop his machine.

Shore was in the best pre-season form of recent years when he reached the Boston training camp, and he threw his full weight into the workouts. He conditioned himself faithfully through the summer on his Alberta farm. A heavy schedule of golf improved his wind and legs.

Expect Recruits to Shine.

The recruits Ross expects to cut a big figure are Milt Schmidt, Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer, up from the Providence International-American League club. Coach Lionel Hitchman figures Dumart, a Kitchener flash, is the most improved player in the Boston squad. He predicts this "baby line" will be one of the league's highest-scoring units.

The power attack will feature Bill Cowley, Ray Getliffe, and Charlie Sands. Art Jackson, who spent most of last season with Syracuse Stars of the International-American League, likely will pivot Roy Goldsworthy and Alex Motter, much improved following a tonsilectomy last summer. This will leave the team's clever little captain, Cooney Weiland, for utility duty on any of the three lines. Red Beattie was weakened by off-season illness and is not expected to see much early action.

Classy Reserve Material.

In addition, Ross plucked four of the brightest amateur stars seen in Northern Ontario in recent years. They will be with Providence, but can be called up by the Bruins on twenty-four hours' notice. From the nickel belt came Johnny Shewchuck, a defenceman, and forwards Mel Hill and Red Hammill. From the gold belt Ross obtained Jack Crawford, former Toronto junior blocking star.

With the expected return of Shore to top form, the Hubtowners look powerful on defence. Eddie has taken Flash Hollett under his wing, and the former Toronto Maple Leaf husky looms as a potential star. Dit Clapper, converted from a forward, and Jarring Jack Portland will form the other bulwark in front of Goalie Tiny Thompson.

LUFTSPRING GETS TORONTO VICTORY

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—(CP).—Sammy Luftspring, a young Toronto welterweight who ranks third in that division in Canada, counted a technical knockout victory to-day over veteran Billy Townsend of Vancouver.

Luftspring, placed only behind Champion Frankie Genovese of Toronto and leading contender Sonny Jones of Vancouver by the Canadian Boxing Federation, ended his scheduled 10 round bout last night with Townsend here 2:15 minutes after the start of the ninth round. In rounds previous to this, Townsend hit the canvas three times for long counts.

Townsend, who holds down the No. 6 slot among contenders for Genovese's title, was only saved by the bell in the second round after being dropped for counts of nine and eight. He rallied in the succeeding rounds, making a great fight of it until the eighth when Luftspring toppled him again for an eight count.

Luftspring, a Jewish lad fighting professionally for less than two years, went to work from the start of the ninth and soon had the coast fighter on the floor to be awarded the decision by Referee Herschel Osborne.

KITCHENER RINK SAVED

KITCHENER, Nov. 3. —(CP)—Kitchener's hockey prospects for this season nearly went up in smoke Tuesday in a short but fierce blaze at the Auditorium. Two barrels of tar outside the building suddenly burst into flame and ignited the building.

Only the fact that it was close to the fire hall, and that the building was metal sheathed save it from destruction, firemen said. After ten minutes of work the firemen extinguished the blaze.

RETAINS GOLF TITLE

The women's crown went to Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, who scored a crushing 10 to 9 triumph over Mrs. Mary Carruthers, British resident of Mexico City.

HARD ON SWANSEA

SWANSEA, Wales—(CP).—Swansea University rugby club created a stir by deciding all students selected for the college team will not be allowed to play for other clubs. W. H. T. Davies and Haydn Tanner, Swansea's international half-backs, are among those affected.

Track Official Dies In California Home

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—(CP).—Harry Morrisey, veteran race track starter, has sent his last field of thoroughbreds rippling away from the barrier. He died this week at Redwood, Calif., aged 63.

Known on this continent wherever the sport of kings is known, Morrisey had officiated as starter on almost every major track in Canada and the United States. He was engaged by the Canadian Racing Association 17 years ago to replace Barret Dade, veteran of many seasons on Canadian tracks.

Morrisey's biggest assignment and the one he remembered best was the famed matching of Man O'War and Sir Barton in 1920 at Kenilworth track at Windsor, Ont., for a purse of $80,000.

Race followers said he was a "practical horseman.' He once operated a breeding farm in Kentucky. As starter for the I.C.R.A. he visited practically every track in Eastern Canada. Marshall Cassidy took over 14 years ago when Morrisey left here.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 3.—Grinning goblins and wicked-looking witches in the conventional black and orange colorings, formed an attractive background for the Hallowe'en tea and sale of cooking held on Friday afternoon, October 29, at the home of Miss Margaret Sanderson, Lakefield. The tea was sponsored by the Lakefield Branch of the Women's Institute and was widely patronized.

The tea table was centred with a bouquet of vividly-colored bittersweet and black candles, and the Hallowe'en spirit extended even to the refreshments which were in appropriate colorings, and in many cases boasted smug countenances skillfully fashioned by experts in the culinary arts.

Miss Margaret Sanderson and Mrs. H. J. Bullock received the guests; Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Ridpath and Mrs. Stanley Higgins poured tea; Mrs. J. Blakely and Mrs. G. Charlton presided over the home cooking booth while Mrs. C. Lake superintended the sale of home made candy.

The committee in charge of arrangements, including decorating, was composed of Mrs. W. E. Gillman, convenor, and Mesdames T. W. Chaplin, J. Blakely, S. E. White, Jack Murphy, J. J. McFadden, Geo. Charlton and C. Lake.

Mrs. Doris Shewen and Mrs. O. E. Kingdon caused a lot of merriment during the afternoon when they read the guests' fortunes from their tea-cups.

Card Party Held

A successful card party was held at the home of Mr. Jack Matthews, Regent street, Lakefield, on Friday evening, October 29, under the auspices of the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

Seven tables of cards were played, prizes being won as follows: Ladies' —Mrs. Shurety, Peterborough, Mrs. Parsons, Peterborough, Miss Grace Watson, Lakefield; gentlemen's— Mr. Jack Matthews, Lakefield, Mr. S. F. Harris, Peterborough, and Mr. Cummings, Peterborough.

At the conclusion of the party, Mr. W. H. Young, of Peterborough, extended thanks on behalf of the Society to Mr. and Mrs. J. Matthews for their kind hospitality.

The next party held by the society will take place on Friday, November 5, at the residence of Mrs. Shurety, on Water street. As this is the only means the Society has of raising money to supply prizes for the annual Horticultural Show held each year, the members are looking forward to a good turnout.

DEAD RECKONING

BRUCE HAMILTON

CHAPTER 27.

It started one morning early in November.

It had been a particularly trying morning. There were certain patients whom Tim had come to regard as his particular betes noires, and on this day he had been afflicted with no fewer than three of them.

There was Miss Simmons, a shrinking creature whose mind, never too strong, and always a ready victim to all forms of popular suggestion, was so wrought upon by the mere prospect of a visit to the dentist that by the time she was helped, half collapsing, into the chair, it was next to impossible to do anything with her.

In particular she had a terror of the drill, and her recoilings, groans, and agonized expressions when Tim was using it, even if he was nowhere near a nerve, held up his work and were a constant source of irritation. He would like to have shaken her, but his tradition of patience was strong. . . .

"Now try and stick it a little longer this time, Miss Simmons. It won't really hurt, and it'll be over all the sooner. . . ." The job which should have taken less than 20 minutes, lasted a full three-quarters of an hour.

She was followed by an equally liberal spendthrift of time. Grasswater, the stockbroker. Grasswater had no fear of the dentist's chair, indeed, he nearly always forgot where he was in his eagerness to hold forth on something or other he had read in the newspaper that morning. Instrument in hand, Tim was warded off by the huge index finger with which Grosswater rammed home the point of his harangue. At last he succeeded in shutting the man up by stuffing an excessive amount of cotton wadding into his mouth, but by the time he had finished with him he was nearly an hour behind schedule.

Then there was the Methodist pastor, Dr. Gorringe, for whom he had provided a plate of three upper teeth after a cycling accident a few months ago. Dr. Gorringe, a nervous and fidgety person, simply could not get used to his plate. Generally it was too loose, in which case he came to Tim to get it tightened. Then he would fiddle about with it until it was loose again, and he would be back in a week. Last time Tim had given him good measure in the hope of stopping the nonsense, and the minister's complaint now was that it was too tight; he had great difficulty in getting it out in the evenings and in the mornings.

Tim tinkered with it a bit "That's perfect, Mr. Kennedy," said Dr. Gorringe at last. "I'm sure it will be all right this time." He always said that.

Last came a normal patient, but a rather difficult case, requiring bridging and crowning, and likely to take a full hour. As it was already past his usual hour for lunch, Tim was not in the best of humor as he tackled the operation. He had hardly begun it before he realized he was out of the mixture he used as a mouth wash. He rang the bell for Adams, intending to send him round to the chemist, but there was no response, even when he went out into the hall and called. Eventually he telephoned the chemist (whose boy proved to be out) and made do with lysol. It was well after 2 when he finished, and as he had another appointment at half past 2 he lost his lunch, and had to be satisfied with a snack at the William and Mary.

When he got back Adams had also returned. "What happened to you, Adams?" he asked, quite amiably. "I wanted you just after 1, but you weren't about."

"I went to lunch," said Adams. "I didn't think you'd want me once you'd started with Mrs. Braithwaite."

"Well, you might have asked me." Tim went on into his surgery, a little puzzled. It was not at all like Adams to go off like that without a word. Perhaps, under the circumstances, being behind his time, he should have told Adams he could go.

But taking French leave was a different matter.

And there had been something disagreeable about the man's tone. Not definitely rude, but lacking in his usual rather servile respectfulness. Tim recalled he had not addressed him as "Sir"—and Adams was generally lavish with his "Sirs." No doubt he was out of sorts.

Tim forgot about it, but the incident was recalled to his mind a few days later. He was sitting in the living room after dinner one evening, playing solitaire, when he heard a sudden scuffle and a bump in the passage which led to the kitchen and domestic offices. It was followed by a burst of laughter—Adams' sniggering laugh and an affected whinny, which he recognized as coming from the housemaid. Then a slammed door, and silence. . . .

Tim went out into the corridor, feeling rather like a schoolmaster, but there was no further disturbance. This was a relief to him, for he had no idea how to cope with domestic insubordination. The wheels had always run too smoothly. . . . He wondered if he had, in the past, given sufficient credit to Esther's unstudied tact and friendliness as the principal factor in the pleasant relationship with the servants which had always obtained at The Wilderness.

There had never been any friction, he had never been called on to exercise his authority as master of the house, and now he hardly knew how to administer a rebuke without appearing to make too heavy weather of the matter. . . . Nevertheless, he recollected that he had once been Adams' superior officer, and failure to speak a word in season would be prejudicial to his dignity. . . .

When Adams brought him his usual bowl of chocolate about an hour later, he said, without looking up from his cards:

"Having a bit of a lark just now, weren't you, Adams?"

Adams put on a look of surprise. "Lark, sir? . . . Oh, yes, we were having some fun in the kitchen just now. You've no objection, sir, I suppose?"

"No objection at all, Adams." Tim spoke very smoothly. "Provided you keep it to the kitchen and don't make too much row. . . . But you were in the corridor, and you were making quite a lot of row weren't you?"

"Oh, that was only for a moment."

"That makes no difference. And if there'd been a visitor here it would have looked bad, wouldn't it?"

"It wouldn't have happened if there'd been a visitor here." Adams put down the tray. "Anything further tonight, sir?"

Tim was so unused to impertinence from Adams—or indeed from

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FOX FACE.

"Where are you, Bobbie?" asked the Fox as he shuffled to the door of his den. Outside it, waiting, stood Uncle Wiggily wearing the Hallowe'en false face of the Bob Cat. "Where are you, my charming little chum with the silly little tail?" sneered the Fox making fun of the Bob Cat.

"Here I am," said Uncle Wiggily, mewing like the Bad Chap he was pretending to be and holding back of him the false faces of the Wolf and Fox. "Here I am."

"It's so dark, coming out of my lighted den, I can't see very well," said the Fox. "I hope I don't fall."

"Oh, I hope so, too," said Uncle Wiggily pretending to be the Bob Cat.

"Because I might step on your silly little tail," laughed the Fox, who was a sort of joker himself.

No Lie.

"Well, my tail is rather short," said Uncle Wiggily. And he spoke the truth there, for, like all rabbits, he had a very little tail just as has the Bob Cat.

"Well, I'll try not to step on it," promised the Fox. "But where is Uncle Wiggily?" he asked as he peered out of the door. "I see you, Bobbie," he went on, looking straight at the false face but of course not knowing Uncle Wiggily behind it. "Where is that rabbit?" asked the Fox. "I'm hungry to nibble him."

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily is right here," said Mr. Longears himself, speaking from behind the false face.

"Good!" exclaimed the Fox, "Let's get busy and nibble! Good."

"Bad!" shouted Uncle Wiggily.

With that he stuck out one paw and tripped the Fox who fell so heavily on the stone doorstep he bumped his nose.

"Oh, me! Oh, my!" howled the Fox. "What happened?"

"Hollowe'en shouted Mr. Longears. "Before the Fox could get up, the rabbit pulled his firefly bottle lantern out of his pocket and flashed it on his own face from which he had taken the Bob Cat's false face.

Escapes.

"Look at me!" cried the rabbit. "Uncle Wiggily, as I live and breathe!" gasped the Fox holding one paw to his bumped nose and feeling for his handkerchief with the other. "Uncle Wiggily!"

"Yes! Uncle Wiggily having his Hallowe'en fun!" laughed Mr. Longears as he hopped away before the Fox could get up.

"But this isn't Hallowe'en!" snarled the Fox.

"It is for me! Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny.

Soon he was far away from the den of the Fox. Then he put on the false face of the Fox himself and hopped to the den of the Bob Cat. That Bad Chap was inside trying to go to sleep but he couldn't, he was so hungry.

Tapping on the window Uncle Wiggily put the Fox false face close to it and when the Bob Cat looked the rabbit said:

"Come on out and have some fun, Bobbie."

"Oh, hello, Foxie!" mewed the Bob Cat. "I didn't expect you. What kind of fun can we have?"

"Would you like to meet Uncle Wiggily?" asked the false-faced rabbit.

"Indeed I would!" eagerly mewed the Bob Cat as he jumped to the door outside of which stood Mr. Longears waiting.

And if the carving knife doesn't try to wash the face of the clock with the dishrag, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Wolf face.

Famed Scots Greys, Dragoons Will Keep Their Horses

Minister Forestalls Country-Wide Protest Over Mechanization By His Exception

LONDON, Nov. 3—(C PCable). — Soldiers of the famous regiment of the Royal Scots Greys will continue to ride their horses. War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha exploded rumors that the unit would be mechanized, in the House of Commons to-day as Scottish Conservative members and many others were prepared to launch a spirited attack if the minister's answer upheld the report.

"Changes imposed by modern developments in the army have been loyally accepted and I would regret it if the present agitation should suggest to others that this is not universally the case," Mr. Hore-Belisha told the house.

"It is the policy of the Army Council on military grounds to retain in the British army at least the equivalent of one brigade of cavalry horses. In addition to the Household Cavalry, the oldest regiments of cavalary of the line, namely the Royal Dragoons and the Royal Scots Greys, remain unaffected by the mechanization policy."

Scots Had Protest in Line.

This ended a controversy waged at length in the press. Scottish Members of Parliament met last night to plan their attack in the event mechanization were planned, but it was the War Minister who attacked the Scots for indicating they would not accept the Government's ruling if it were so to be.

To-days Times published a letter from W. F. Collins, Colonel of the Regiment through practically the whole of the Great War. It declared there was no lack of recruits for the Scots Greys but there probably would be if they were mechanized. He trusted "the Royal Scots Greys and their grey horses may be forever retained."

The Germans are supposed to have learned of the presence of the Scots Greys at Liege, Belgium, early in the Great War, when they recognised the Regiment's grey horses.

SIGHTED DREDGE VANISHES IN DARK

HALIFAX, Nov. 3. — (CP). — Search for the dredge Foundation Scarboro went on to-day off the eastern Nova Scotia coast. Sighted by a Lockport, N.S., fishing schooner yesterday, the drifting craft was temporarily lost again.

With four men aboard, the dredge broke away from the Halifax tug Banscot Saturday at the southern entrance to the Strait of Canso. Thirty-six hours later, as airplanes and vessels scrutinised the Atlantic, she was reported by the schooner Howard Donald in Latitude 44:52, Longitude 59:10, about 60 miles off the coast.

The Lockport vessel radioed the position and the Canadian government steamship Lady Laurier, nearest of the searchers, steamed toward the spot under forced draft. By the time she reached the location given in the schooner's message, the dredge had drifted on and darkness forced a halt to the search.

While officials said they were unable to interpret the Howard Donald's message definitely, it was believed she had taken off two of the men aboard the Foundation Scarboro.

ONE TOGA TO SWAP

MONTREAL, Nov. 3—(CP).—For swap—the mayoral ermine trimmed toga, somewhat moth-eaten, in exchange for shoes for poor children.

Ald. Henri Jarry suggested in Montreal Council caucus that the robe, bought years ago for the Mayor of that period, be sold and the proceeds used to buy shoes for children of unemployed.

Doubt was expressed any part of the once-beautiful toga was still presentable. Time and moths have done it no good but Ald. Jarry wants to get rid of it for whatever it will bring.

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

IF you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Attacked, Robbed

SASKATCHEWAN'S TORIES OPEN GUNS

SASKATOON, Nov. 3 (CP).—Firing the opening guns of what he termed "the campaign,' John G. Diefenbaker, K.C., leader of the Conservative party in Saskatchewan, made his first official pronouncement of policy last night at a meeting here.

He outlined the broad principles of the new program, based on public debt refunding and curtailed government expenses in place of increased taxation, criticized the Liberal Administration for "broken promises' and assured the electors of Saskatchewan "the proud record" of the last Conservative government would be carried on with every platform promise fulfilled when his party was returned to power.

When the large crowd was assembling to hear the party leader, men outside the building were hawking a communist publication and circulating without charge a Communist interpretation of the Conservative record.

The result was that Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, former Premier, while introducing the new leader to the audience, undertook to debate election issues raised by Communists.

Referring to the debt refunding, Mr. Diefenbaker said if bondholders would not accept lower rates of interest then it would be possible for the government to re-issue new bonds at the former interest rates and pass legislation placing a 100 per cent. tax on all interest over three per cent.

"It needs courage, Mr. Diefenbaker said, "but it can be done. It will effect a $2,000,000 saving for the people of Saskatchewan. It will wipe out deficits. There will be no further need of sales taxes.'

DOURO

Mr. Clare Leahy and his associate Jim Moore of Smith again brought honors to their county, their coach, Mr. Runions and themselves by placing second in the foal club in the inter-county championship at Guelph.

Mr. Joseph Sheehan qualified in scholastic and medical tests and was accepted under the Dominion scheme for youth training. He has gone to Haileybury where he will study mining engineering.

Mr. John Smith has returned from Kitchener after spending some weeks with his sister, Mrs. McKenty.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. T. Walsh of Hastings, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walsh.

Mrs. Patrick Crowley, son James and young grandson, Mr. Frank Walsh all of Keene and Mrs. Robert Barry of Vancouver, B.C. were Sunday guests at the home of Thomas Sheehan and other friends in Douro.

Mrs. R. Greer of Toronto was a Sunday guest at the homes of her brothers James, Michael and Frederick Walsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heffernan and family of Otonabee were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heffernan.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy attended the Kennedy—McMurray wedding in Peterborough.

Mr. Timothy Kennedy has sold his farm to Mr. John B. Condon.

NAZIS BEAT UP POLES

DANZIG, Nov. 3—(CP-Havas).—A group of uniformed Nazi storm-troopers invaded the village of Pieklo in the Danzig suburbs today and beat up a group of Polish residents, seriously injuring four of them.

The storm-troopers also sacked a number of homes of Polish residents and broke windows of Polish stores.

THROUGH RAILWAY RATES INCREASED

OTTAWA, Nov. 3—(CP). — The Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada to-day published an order that through rates and charges between the United States and Canada may be increased to the extent that they will conform with increases authorized recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission to United States carriers.

The Board said United States and Canadian carriers had made application to increase International freight rates and charges between points in Canada and points in the United States, also import and export rates between Canadian and United States ports and stations in Canada and the United States to the extent as set by the I. C. C.

In connection with the applications, the Board ordered:

"1. That the proportions of through rates and charges between the United States and Canada, in both directions, in effect on the date of this order, accruing within Canada, may be increased to the extent that the through rates and charges shall conform with the increases authorized by the said order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Other Increases.

"2. That the rates contained in freight tariffs applicable on import and export traffic moving through Canadian and United States ports to and from stations in Canada and the United States, when such import or export rates are constructed in relationship to those applicable within the United States, may likewise be increased to the extent authorized by the said order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"3. That the rates and charges increased under the provisions of sections 1 and 2 hereof, as well as the rates applying on traffic carried between points in the United States through Canada, may be published and filed to become effective five days after the filing thereof with the Board.

(The I.C.C. recently granted higher rates on a selected list of commodities, including coal and coke, lignite coal, iron and steel and related products, scrap iron and steel, iron ore, cement, lime, plaster, mortar, gypsum, petroleum and its products, lubricating oils and greases, asphalt, pitch and tar).

DEAD RECKONING

anyone—that he could hardly believe he was receiving it now. . . . He tried a little sarcasm.

"No, nothing more. . . . No offense, I hope, Adams?"

"Oh, no, sir. We understand each other."

Do we though? thought Tim, as he stripped the cards off the sequences and built up the packs of suits at the side. Hanged if I do, in this new mood of yours. It's as if a dog who's fawned on you for a dozen years were to suddenly turn round and bite you. . . . You'll have to mend you manners, my friend. Or you'll have to go.

He snapped on the last king, finished his chocolate, and went to bed, a little upset but not seriously concerned. For the next few days Adams' behavior was exemplary. But Tim had a curious feeling that it was only so on sufferance; that it only needed the slightest word of complaint, the least breath of criticism, to introduce a very different atmosphere.

At Cavan village the young people had a merry time on Saturday evening, as in fancy costumes, and wearing masks, they made the round of the houses, and received the customary treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hutchison, Port Perry and Mr. Harold Kincade, Bethany, were guests of Mrs. Keegan, on Sunday.

Scientists Study Development Of Dionne Quints

Climaxing a conference which had for its subject the physical and mental growth of the Dionne quintuplets, the group of noted scientists, psychologists and doctors studying the famous five, travelled to Callander, Ont., for a close-up study of the quints in their nursery home. One group in Callander for the occasion is shown at top and includes from LEFT to RIGHT: Dr. G. D. Stoddard, of the University of Iowa, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the quints physician; Judge Valin, of North Bay, one of the original guardians of the babies and Dr. W. E. Blatz, Toronto child psychologist. At the banquet which featured the evening session of the conference in Toronto are pictured Dr. J. W. MacArthur, of the University of Toronto and Prof. H. H. Newman, University of Chicago (LEFT to RIGHT in circle) as they compare notes, and Dr. C. M. Hincks, Toronto. The conference, which heard eight University of Toronto scientists report the result of exhaustive studies in the quints development, was the first held since their birth over three years ago.

TRAMP SHIPPERS GET ORGANIZED

LONDON, Nov. 3—(CP).—A revised scheme of voluntary freight co-operation without government assistance has been adopted by British tramp ship owners. It will become effective Jan. 1 providing owners of 90 per cent of the tonnage subscribe to it.

The scheme is the outcome of the government's request the industry should organize itself so as to ensure the system of freight co-operation brought about during the period of government subsidy to tramp shipping would continue when the subsidy ended this year.

The plan will apply to all British tramp ships of 2,500 tons gross register and upwards participating in the subsidy of 1936. Co-operation of ship owners in other countries will be secured in working the scheme. Regulations for prevention of excessive accumulation of tonnage; payment of rates of pay and observance of conditions not lower than those prescribed by the National Maritime Board agreements; and the insertion of stipulations binding time charterers are among the provisions of the scheme.

REAL SETTLERS

VICTORIA, Nov. 3 (CP)—Farmers from the drought areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan would make the finest type of settlers for British Columbia, Mrs. Paul Smith (Lib., Vancouver Burrard) told members of the Provincial Legislature yesterday. She believed farmers from the prairie drought areas were eager to come to the coast province and hoped some means would be found to bring them.

FIRE CAUSES PROBE

DUBLIN—(CP).—Following the fire at Kirkintilloch, Scotland, in which ten Irish laborers lost their lives, the Irish Free State government has appointed a committee to examine the whole problem of seasonal migration from the Free State to the United Kingdom.

A CAT RETRIEVER

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 3—(CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin, Barton township, were somewhat surprised when Tommy, their cat, stalked into the house at breakfast time with a fine cock pheasant in his mouth. But a bullet had killed the pheasant.

SETTLEMENT REELS AS JAPANESE BOMB AREAS ON BORDER

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3. — (AP).—Shanghai's International Settlement and French concession, refuge of thousands of foreigners, were shaken today by Japanese bombardment of Chinese positions only a short distance to the west.

Exploding bombs and shells shook buildings as far away as Shanghai's Bund, but no projectiles fell within the Settlement or Concession boundaries.

At St. John's University, in the Jessfield Park area west of the Settlement, a trench mortar shell crashed into the roof of a gymnasium used as a barracks by British troops. None was injured.

The tide of battle swept toward the Siccawei Catholic Mission Centre on the southwestern outskirts of the French concession. French authorities prepared defence positions circling the Mission and set up anti-aircraft guns.

The Japanese bombardment was designed to pulverize Chinese defences extending west from the International Settlement south of Soochow Creek. Despite Chinese assertions to the contrary, foreign observers reported that Japanese on the southern bank of the stream had expanded their front for approximately a mile on each side of Rubicon village.

Priests Carry On

At Siccawei Mission, 120 foreign priests of 10 nationalities and a number of French nuns carried on Siccawei observatory and mission activities and cared for 8,000 refugees.

A number of Chinese reinforcements today moved to front lines adjacent to the international settlement. Chinese apparently were bolstering their right wing to keep from being pushed back along the Shanghai-Hangchow railway, which Japanese subjected to continuous bombardment.

General Chang Fah-Kwei, commander of the "Ironsides Army" in south and central China, was said to be in command of all Chinese forces south of Soochow Creek.

The Chinese tore up large sections of the Shanghai-Hhangchow railway track, apparently in an effort to frustrate possible Japanese attempts to repair the Jessfield bridge and run armored trains into the new war zone west of the international settlement.

APPLES AND BLOSSOMS

DIDSBURY, Alta.—(CP).—Apples and blossoms on a tree at the same time was the oddity reported by Dan Dippel. His crabapple tree blossomed this fall as he was picking the apple crop.

Jailed For Begging 227 Jobless Freed

OTTAWA, Nov. 3—(CP). — Commutation of the sentences of 227 men convicted in Vancouver for begging on the streets, has been authorized by the Remission Branch of the Department of Justice, it was learned here to-day. The men, serving time in special detention camps, are to be released to-day.

Taken in wholesale arrests while engaged in mass beggining, the men constituted a problem for Vancouver and provincial jail authorities, and the Justice Department was asked by the Provincial Government to commute their sentences.

Bomb Mailed As Gift Severely Burns Hamilton Woman

Suspiciousness of Crown Witness in Stabbing Saves Life as She Cuts String at Arm's Length

HAMILTON, Nov. 4—(CP)—Every detective in Hamilton police department engaged today in an effort to trace the origin of a bomb that was mailed to Mrs. Maude Roberts, crown witness in a court case here, and burned her about the face and hands when she opened the parcel.

Police said the bomb, contained in a hardwood box, would have killed the woman had she not stood clear of it when cutting the heavy twine about the box. She was a crown witness in the hearing of Philip Durso, committed for trial on a charge of assaulting and wounding.

The parcel, according to post-office authorities, was delivered to her house yesterday morning but there was no one in when the messenger called. It was thrown back in the delivery truck and returned to headquarters and not delivered till afternoon.

Prior to opening the parcel, Mrs. Roberts had testified in police court she was in Durso's home when he and Sydney Lawrence, 45-year-old taxi driver, were arguing the night Lawrence was found dying on a street. Lawrence, brother of Sam Lawrence who formerly represented Hamilton east in the Ontario legislature, died in hospital.

Want Woman's Evidence

Magistrate H. A. Burbidge, committed Durso, 20, for trial after commenting: "A jury would like to hear the evidence of Maude Roberts."

She testified: "I thought there was going to be a fight (between Durso and Lawrence) and I decided to get out before the law arrived."

Police said as far as they knew the explosion victim has been threatened. She was suspicious, however, of the attractively-marked package, mailed from Toronto, and held it at arms length in the backyard of her home as she cut the cord.

A burst of flames followed the explosion as she opened the package. She was hurled to the ground stunned and her sight was impaired. Hospital authorities described her condition as "fair."

Police said the bomb, loaded with gunpowder fired by a spark from a dry cell battery and wire coil, was cleverly made and not the work of an amateur. Examination of the shattered box provided no finger-print clues, authorities said.

TAXICAB STOLEN AT POINT OF GUN DRIVER REPORTS

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—(CP)—William Mintern, 35, taxi driver, reported to police today he was forced last night by a gun at his side to drive his cab to suburban Woodridge where the gunman and a companion ejected him and drove off with his cab.

The cab company received a call from a downtown hotel. Mintern picked up two passengers and was directed to drive to North Toronto. On arrival at the destination, one of the men got out, saying he wanted a bottle of pop.

When the man returned he hopped in the front seat and pushed a revolver against Mintern's side and, the taxi driver reported, ordered: "Keep on going. One false move and I'll let you have it."

Mintern said that when passing a gasoline station near Woodbridge, one of the men said to him: "Take a good look at it, for you won't see it again." However, when they put him out of his cab they did not take $6 he had in his pocket.

Police said today a man was being brought from Kitchener for questioning in connection with the crime.

She Ended The War Italy Boasts

ROME, Nov. 4 (AP).—Italy made the observance today of the anniversary of her own Great War armistice the occasion for a dig at her former allies, Great Britain and France.

Newspapers generally emphasized that Italy's defeat of the Austro-Hungarian army at Vittorio Veneto preceded the armistice on the western front by a week.

"Vittorio Veneto," said the newspaper Il Popolo di Roma, "signified simply this: The end of the Great War with the crushing, absolute victory of the allied and associated powers.

"For this reason the French and English, who celebrate November 11, the anniversary of the armistice of Sedan, as the end of the war are seven days behind time."

Masses commemorating war dead were held throughout the nation.

DREDGE BREAKS FROM THIRD TOW

HALIFAX, Nov. 4 (CP). — The dredge Foundation Scarboro, which broke away from her tow off Canso, N.S., Saturday night, was adrift again today, after breaking loose from the motor vessel Florann during the night.

C. H. Hosterman of the Marine Branch, Department of Transport, ordered the Canadian Government steamer Lady Laurier to the spot as soon as it was learned the 103-ton Florann was not able to hold the big dredge in heavy seas.

The Lady Laurier spoke to the dredge and the Florann shortly but the captain of the Florann was reported to have refused to allow the government steamer to put a line aboard. Captain George Morgan and Crewman Daniel Morris are on the Florann, while two of the crew of the little motor-vessel are aboard the dredge.

Persistent reports here said the Florann had a full load of rum in her holds, and would, therefore, be unable to come inside the three-mile limit even if she were able to hold on to the recalcitrant dredge. But the Lunenburg motor-ship Ross Norman was speeding to the spot and it was believed likely she would take over for the Florann.

The Foundation Maritime tug Banscot, towing the Foundation Scarboro when she broke loose, was also hurrying to the position.

LABOR UNIONS BRAND BEDAUX AS ARCHENEMY

Criticize Duke Windsor For Accompanying Him

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — William Green said today the action of the Baltimore Federation of Labor last night criticizing the Duke of Windsor for coming to the United States with Charles E. Bedaux "fairly represented the attitude of American labor."

Bedaux, an industrial engineer, has installed an efficiency system in a number of American factories that labor men call "the stretch out."

"What I mean," Green added, "is that labor is opposed to the stretch out, not the former King."

"No comment," said John L. Lewis, busy getting ready for the A.F. of L.-Committee for Industrial Organization peace conference.

The resolution of the Baltimore Federation "warned" organized labor there not to be "taken in" by "slumming parties profession to help and to study labor."

It called Bedaux, who has been arranging the tour, an "archenemy of labor."

Seat of the Trouble.

Bedaux's own term for what labor calls the 'stretch out' is the 'B plan.' When Bedaux introduced it he and his assistants watched a normally productive worker and noted the time taken to do a particular job.

If it took an hour, normal speed for the operation was placed at 60 "B units"—60 minutes. Assuming pay for the work was 60 cents an hour, another worker who completed the job in 40 minutes would save 20 units and would be paid 80 cents an hour.

However, a worker who took 80 minutes still would receive the basic 60 cents. On this ground Bedaux claims his system does not tend to "speed up" labor output. Labor, on the other hand, has charged the system exerts pressure to work for additional pay and results in a speed-up.

No Change in Plans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP).—The Duke of Windsor will not change his designation of Charles E. Bedaux as his representative on his United States tour despite American Federation of Labor criticism of Bedaux, the latter indicated today.

Before it was disclosed he had talked with the Duke, Bedaux said the criticism of him was based on a misunderstanding of the effects of his system for measuring human energy, which he said was used in more than 1,000 factories. He denied it is the so-called "stretch out."

Archbishop Owen Is Bereaved

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (CP).—Trevor Randulph Owen, 90, father of Most Rev. D. T. Owen, Anglican Primate of all Canada, died at his home here yesterday.

Born in Wales, Mr. Owen was the son of the late Major H. M. A. Owen, Wepre Hall, Flintshire, and held a commission in the 11th Hussars. As a retired army officer, Mr. Owen came to Canada in 1862, and before coming to Toronto to make his home, resided first in Manitoba and later in Peterborough, Ont., for about ten years. He lived in Toronto for the past 34 years.

Seigniorial Rentes Day Rolls Round Again

Relic Of Feudal System Once Jolly Occasion May See Changes To Liberate Tenants

MONTREAL, Nov. 4. —(CP)— A relic of the feudal days, when the "habitant" of New France paid his "rentes" in pigs and pullets—that is, if he was short on cash, and frequently he was, history records — seigniorial rents come due next Thursday.

And how times have changed. For history also says there was a "good time to be had by all" when the "seigneur's" tenants gathered at the manor house to deposit their dues; the cackling of captive fowl and the clinking of wine-filled glasses lent music to the pleasant occasion. There always was good fellowship between the habitant and his seigneur, when they met to square their debts.

Seigniories—grants of land—once dotted the shores of the St. Lawrence from Montreal to Quebec, and were given by the king to favored subjects. The seigneur allowed the French-Canadian habitant to settle on the land and in return the tiller of the soil paid "rentes" to his landlord for use of the property. He paid in cash if he had enough of that, and in kind if he had not.

"Rentes" amounted in value to a few cents an "arpent," not much smaller than an acre, and there were lesser due, too, the farmer was obliged to pay. Another condition demanded service in time of war.

The dues were payable every November 11, Michaelmas Day, and the custom, like the Seigniories, has survived to this day, though in Montreal—whoch has 140 Seigniorial tenants—there's not much room for cultivation.

Proprietors of the Seigniories, which have been handed down from father to son when not taken over by the government, always have collected the dues, based on civic valuation of the property.

This may be the last year the present-day Seigneurs will collect the "rentes." Last year, intention was, by act of the legislature, that a syndicate redeem Seigniorial dues and permit liberation of tenants by paying capital and interest on their holdings up to November 11, 1936, directly to the syndicate, and due after that date to the city. The legislature, however, did not pass the enabling legislation then.

NINE-POWER GROUP OFFERING ITS AID ONLY IF WANTED

BRUSSELS, Nov. 4.—(AP).— The Brussels conference of 9 nations decided to empower a sub-committee to offer its aid to Japan and China in effecting peace between the two nations, and reliable implications were that Great Britain, the United States and Belgium would be on the committee.

Italy and France also probably would be represented.

The committee, in effect, has a double mandate—to offer its good offices for restoration of peace and to reply to Japan's refusal of an invitation to attend the conference here, called under provisions of the nine-power treaty which pledges respect for the territorial integrity of China.

The mandate given the committee stipulates that, in extending its offer of aid to Japan and China in seeking peace, it must make clear that this aid is offered if wanted—it will not be imposed.

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 4 (CP)—The $3,330,000 body manufacturing plant recently completed here by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., went into production this week. It is the largest industrial building built in Canada this year, and will provide employment for several hundred workers. The factory covers nearly 14 acres under one roof. It is 1,000 feet long and 571 feet wide. More than 1,000 men were working in construction of the plant at times.

BRITAIN OPENS NEGOTIATIONS WITH FRANCO

Would Name Agents To Protect Interests

LONDON, Nov. 4 (A.P.)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons to-day that the British Government and the Spanish insurgents were negotiating for appointment of commercial agents. This did not mean, he declared, de facto diplomatic recognition for General Franco.

"These agents will have no diplomatic status," the Premier said.

"There is no intention on the part of the British Government to make any variation in the attitude they consistently have adopted toward the contending parties in Spain, which is governed by the international (non-intervention) agreement to which we have subscribed."

"They are, however, bound to take account of their responsibility for protection of British nationals and British commercial interests throughout the whole of Spain, including those large areas in the north, west, and south-western parts of the country, as well as the Spanish zone in Morocco, of which General Franco's forces are now in effective occupation."

For the protection of British interests, Mr. Chamberlain said "His Majesty's Government entered upon negotiations for the appointment of agents by them and General Franco, respectively, for discussion of the questions affecting the British and Spanish nations and commercial interests."

The Premier said France had been fully informed of the negotiations.

5 STOCK SELLERS JAILED IN LONDON

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 4 (CP).—The Ontario Securities Commission, prompted by reports of alleged irregularities in stock transactions in Western Ontario, pushed forward its investigation today into the matter as five stock salesmen were held in custody.

Thomas Agnes, 59, H. R. McLennen, 47, and George Pierce, 43, were arrested here yesterday, while the other two, Frederick P. Armitage, 40, and Eric Chapman, were taken into custody in Toronto and brought to London last night.

Armitage, for whom bail was set at $30,000 yesterday in Toronto, faces 37 charges of fraud, theft and illegal transactions with the amount involved said to approach $60,000. Chapman, resident of Toronto but a former Londoner, was charged with dealing in securities without registrations as were Pierce and McLennen. Agnew was charged with theft of cash and securities valued at about $8,000 from two Kent County residents.

Armitage was arrested by police at his Toronto home Tuesday night, and application for his bail was made before Magistrate Robert J. Browne. Fraud charges against Armitage were laid in connection with alleged sale of stock in the Norhall Oil Company.

Saw Pair Enter Bush Then Heard Shot Neighbor States

Witness Tells of Seeing Man at Victim's Car And in His House, Barn—Tracks Led to Accused's

NAPANEE, Nov. 4. — (CP) — Frank Lloyd, friend and neighbor of Aubrey Sedore, for whose alleged murder Robert Woodman, 23, another neighbor, is on trial, today testified he last saw Sedore alive on January 27.

"He was carrying a gun and Woodman was with him," said Lloyd. "Later I heard a shot down in the swamp. I did not see them return."

On April 19, Lloyd said he saw smoke east of his place. He did not investigate until May 2 when with Joseph Reid he located the spot in a hemlock grove where the fire had been. Bones, which the crown alleges are Sedore's, were found here.

Freshly cut wood was all around the fire scene, said Lloyd. He saw Woodman taking wood from Sedore's house around the end of February.

No Work At Mine

Robert Woodman left his employment at the Rich Rock Gold Mine on April 19, 20 and 21 last because there was no work for him, J. R. Kingstone, engineer and mine paymaster testified.

Mr. Kingstone was examined on payments to Woodman. He said the payroll record indicated the "true state of a man's work at the mine." J. M. Simpson, defence counsel, showed witness a sketch and he agreed there were four entrances to the Sedore barnyard, all accessible by motor car.

Witness said he did not know whether Woodman would know on April 17 if he would work on the 19th.

Saw Someone At Car

Frank Lloyd said he saw Sedore's car, which had no top, on his property around the end of February. He continued:

"I was going up to see Sedore and I saw someone working around the car in an old shed. I told my son to go up and while I was unhooking my team, I saw a man walk from Sedore's barn to his house. My son told me I had better go so I went to Sedore's.

"When I got there, I noticed a path but the door was locked and I went to the barn and no one was around but some tools were lying on the running board of the car. A path led from the Sedore property to the home of Robert Woodman and I could trace the path because there was snow on the ground. Then I went home."

Witness said he next saw Sedore's car at Woodman's house a few days later. Witness said he had sold Sedore some vegetables and identified a bag as the one Sedore carried them in. Some beans in it were, he thought, the ones he sold Sedore.

Found Beans in Shack.

The beans were found in a shack south of where Woodman was then living but where he had lived before.

Witness said he saw smoke due east of his home on April 19 two or three times. On May 2 with Joseph Reid, he decided to hunt the spot where the fire was. They searched a hemlock grove and saw the tops of the trees scorched. Nearby was the spot where a fire had been.

"The area of the fire appeared about eight feet long and six feet wide, and the burnt area was partially covered by green hemlock boughs," he said. "Looking in a hole through the boughs we saw some charred bones."

"We didn't touch anything but went straight to tell Mrs. Beatty," he said. They did this because Sedore was missing. George Prentice, Clayton Benn, Mrs. Beatty, Reid and Lloyd went back and Prentice pulled out a piece of bone. Prentice telephoned police.

Witness said late in February or early in March he had discussed Sedore's disappearance with Woodman, who said Sedore had gone to Niagara Falls to see his sister, Blanche, "but I knew Blanche was in Plinton."

COURT RESERVES ITS JUDGMENT IN MILLAR WILL

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—(CP).— The Court of Canada to-day reserved judgment on the interpretation of the will of Charles Millar which had stirred hopes of wealth in the minds of mothers of some large Toronto families.

"We will have to consider this," said Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff after counsel for Millar's next of kin for his executors and for the mothers who hope to benefit from the unusual testament had presented their arguments.

Millar left the residue of his estate at various sums from $500,000 upwards to the mother who gave birth in Toronto to the largest number of children in the 10 years following his death.

The words "capricious and uncommon," used by the late Charles Millar to describe his will were adjectives which might well be coupled with others equally strong, I. F. Helmuth said as argument began on the interpretation.

Mr. Helmuth appeared for Millar's next-of-kin to appeal against a finding of the Court of Appeal of Ontario that this clause was valid. He argued it was invalid as against public policy. The effect of a judgment in his favor would leave the residue of the estate intestacy and result in its distribution among the next-of-kin.

The will referred to future children, not children already born, said Mr. Helmuth. By its plain meaning it included illegitimate as well as legitimate children. It was therefore an inducement to the birth of illegitimate children and placed a premium on immorality.

An Established Principle

It was an established principle of law the encouragement of immorality was contrary to public policy and the law would not give effect to bequests or agreements encouraging it, Helmuth said.

The Court of Appeal had decided the clause did not include illegitimate children because of a rule that where the word "children" was used in a will it meant legitimate children. All the cases in which this rule was applied, however, were cases of gifts to the children of particular persons. If a father left money to his son's children it was presumed to mean only legitimate children, Helmuth argued.

The Millar will was different. It was not a gift to children but a gift to a mother who had given birth to children. There was no authority for saying a mother's children had to be legitimate to enable her to qualify for the bequest.

Five From One Canadian Family Invade N.Y. Horse Show

Three Brothers, 2 Sisters Will Compete With Best Riders Of Five Countries

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (CP).—The Cleland family from Toronto is invading the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden en masse this year.

There are five Clelands here competing against the leading civilian riders from the United States and the picked army officers of four other countries.

The contingent includes three brothers and two sisters—all schooled in the way of horses by their father, W. C. Cleland.

Lieut. Marshal Cleland and Lieut. Douglas Cleland ride with the Canadian army forces and 23-year-old Doris and Helen, 18, compete in the women's and open classes. Calder, 15, will be here only on Saturday to compete in the junior championships.

Captain Stuart Bate, leader of the Canadian army team combined with Lieut. Marshal Cleland to tie the Belgians for second place honors in last night's international military jumping competition behind the United States team.

Dusts Rabbit Foot For Double Charm

Fort Erie, Nov. 4 (CP)

CARL Teal, veteran Reeve of Crystal Beach, dusted off his rabbit foot today to make two announcements.

1. He is heading a party of ten deer hunters to Maple Island on his annual expedition.

2. He will again run for Reeve of Crystal Beach in approaching municipal elections.

Reeve Teal always carries his rabbit foot with him on both annual occasions. In 1932 he disregarded the charm, failed to shoot a deer and was defeated at the polls.

Girls Abandon "Anti-Muggers" Club Beaten By Hand-Holding, Moonlight

Edmonton, Nov. 4 (CP)

AN "anti-muggers" club sounded like a good idea to the co-eds of the University of Alberta—they thought they had something there—but it's a flop.

Founded recently with 30 fair members from the women's residence at Pembina Hall, the club today was down to a mere five.

Their campaign was against mugging—plicking a little woo is the latest name for it—between college men and co-eds.

But they found "hand-holding, strolling in the moonlight and other forces of billing and cooing" were not easily vanquished. The remaining five are pledged to carry on, but it looks like a losing fight.

Boycott Milk To Cut Prices Toronto Citizens Urged

Controller Tells Delegation Of Housewives They Can Force Reduction

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (C.P.). — Suggestion of Controller Fred Hamilton that Toronto citizens should buy no more milk than absolutely necessary as a result of recent price increases was before the city's housewives to-day.

Increases of one cent a quart which placed the price of milk in Toronto district at 13 cents went into effect on Monday. Civic councils of Toronto and suburban Mimico have decided to protest the increases to the Ontario Milk Control Board.

Controller Hamilton told a delegation of Toronto housewives last night consumers could force the Milk Control Board to do away with the increase by agreeing to the virtual boycott he proposed.

"You have it in your power," he said, "to organize a city-wide organization of housewives ready to boycott commodities."

The Toronto Board of Control, following instructions of the City Council, asked the City Solicitor to work in co-operation with Dr. Gordon P. Jackson, and prepare a brief setting forth the case for the city consumers.

Expectations Of Life Of Dead Child Worth $7,500 To Father Jury Finds

Christchurch, N.Z., Nov. 4.

"THIS difficulty might have confounded Solomon himself," said the judge in court here when hearing a claim made by a father under the law reform act, 1936, for damages on the expectation of life of a child.

The case, first of its kind to be heard in the British Empire, concerned a three-year-old child killed by a motorist who admitted negligence.

The judge, in his remarks, added: "The contingencies militating against the future life of a young child are innumerable.

"I sympathize with the jury which is the first ever required to determine an answer to the question: 'Is life a boon?'"

The jury, after a two-hour retirement, awarded damages amounting to £1,500 ($7,500).

Long Narrow Blaze Lad Says Of Fire In Grove at Sedore's

Defence Charges Name Erased From Mine List; Only For One Day, Timekeeper Explains to Court.

NAPANEE, Nov. 4.—A "long narrow fire," burning with four-foot flames in a hemlock grove on the Sedore farm was discovered by Harold Lloyd, 14-year-old neighbor of Aubrey Sedore, murdered Kaladar Township woodsman, Lloyd testified yesterday afternoon during the trial of Robert Woodman, 23 - year - old youth, charged with the murder of Sedore.

Testimony of F. J. Honeyorn, timekeeper of the Richrock Gold Mines, where Woodman was employed since April 1, showed that Woodman did not report for work on Monday, April 19, the day of the fire, although he worked on April 17 and 20. J. M. Simpson, counsel for the accused, startled the court this afternoon when he charged that an entry opposite Woodman's name on the 19th of April in the time-keeper's book had been erased. The paysheet, compiled from the timebook at the end of each half-month, showed no entry for April 19.

Robert Woodman, who went on trial for his life Wednesday morning, before Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland, took a keen interest in the proceedings from his seat in the prisoner's box. By his side, but on the other side of the bar, sat his wife, Louise, and his father, Bert Woodman, an assayist at the Richrock Gold Mines. From time to time during court recesses, Woodman carried on a low conversation with his wife.

Explanation Given

Mr. Honeyborn explained on a question of C. P. Hope, K.C., Special Crown Prosecutor, that he was accustomed to making entries in the time-book on the day before, and that when Woodman failed to report to work on April 19, he had erased his entry for that date. He was not advised by anyone to erase the entry, he declared.

Harold Lloyd testified that he noticed smoke from the woods east of his house, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but did not go to investigate until after 5 o'clock, witness described the smoke as "black and grey" and rising from the fire in puffs.

He visited the fire with his younger brother, Ralph, to see if the line fence between the Sedore and Reed property was on fire, witness testified. He found the fire was sixty feet from the fence. He said he saw no one near the fire, and that it was about 9 feet long by 5 wide.

There were other brush piles in that grove where Sedore had been cutting wood, the witness testified, but he had never seen any of them burning, but the one he found. Some of the brush piled had been there a long time, he declared.

Blanche Sedore, a sister of the murdered woodsman, testified that she last saw her brother on the first or second of February, and declared that "Bobbie Woodman" was cutting wood with him in the grove.

Sedore, she declared, had kept

MINISTER SPEAKS ST. JOHN'S Y.P.U. AT CAMPBELLFORD

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 4.—Rev. Harold B. Neal began his series of addresses for the season at the regular Monday evening meeting of St. John's Y.P.U. when he spoke briefly, taking his subject from the book by Dr. Jesse Arnup, "The Church Faces A New World". His remarks were based around the town of Picton, N.S., and it is expected that he will next week talk on another of Canada's settlements.

During the business portion of the program it was planned to hold a missionary rally on November 15th for which it has been arranged to have as guest speakers two missionaries who have been in the mission fields of the East.

The second part "How do we come to know God," was given by Miss Evelyn Stotts. Take A Tip From Il Duce

When sanctions were invoked against Italy during the Ethiopian conquest, Il Duce induced his fellow countrymen and women to turn in their precious metal, watches, rings, etc., to finance his war. China is doing likewise today, and here you see a son of the "good earth" at Shanghai, exchanging his family heirlooms for Chinese liberty bonds to help his country's resistance to Japan.

Spraying Straw At Threshings Means Fewer Barn Fires

Adding 2 Pounds Of Water To 16 Already In Every 100 Pounds of Stalks Ends Menace

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 4 (C.P.). — By spraying straw as it is stored in the mow one of the main causes of barn fires could be overcome, according to Prof. W. C. Blackwood of the Ontario Agricultural College.

Majority of barn fires in Ontario are caused by straw improperly threshed, cured or stored, asserted the professor when speaking before the Western Ontario Women's Institute convention here last night.

In advocating the spray method, Prof. Blackwood said farmers invariably object to this procedure because it makes hay wet.

"Well, it is wet anyway," said the speaker. "In every 100 pounds of straw there is 12 to 16 pounds of water. And just two more pounds through the spray and the danger of fire is eliminated. There can be no mould until 30 pounds of water to 100 pounds of straw is reached."

The two pounds added by the spray is absorbed through the walls into the fibre of the stalk and a spark cannot ignite the fine dust particles and carry it up into the barn, he added.

NORWOOD CHURCH HAS ANNIVERSARY

NORWOOD, Nov 4.—On Sunday the Norwood Baptist Church held their anniversary services, morning and evening. The church was nicely decorated with flowering plants.

Rev. Dr. H. Stillwell of Toronto, who was a former missionary in India, gave two inspiring addresses on Sunday. Special music was given by the choir at both services.

On Monday evening the ladies of the church served a most delicious chicken dinner to a large crowd.

Following the dinner a program was given as follows:

Vocal solos by Donald Kennedy of Peterborough and Miss Hazel Elliott; guitar solos by Miss H. Ludbrooke of Peterborough; readings by Miss Olga Metcalfe and Mrs. MacIntosh.

The address of the evening was given by A. R. Kennedy of Peterborough.

On Monday evening Miss Stewart was hostess at Cessnock for the November meeting of the Presbyterian Y.W.A., with eighteen present. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. S. McMillan, opened with Hymn 438, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. Spencer took the Scripture reading; Mrs. Boswell gave a missionary reading; Miss Annie Ferguson read a part of the Glad Tidings: "Conditions from the Far East." The circle of prayer was taken by Miss R. Wildman and Mrs. J. Rogers, followed by a reading by Mrs. Galloher, after which the topic was taken by Mrs. P. W. Elliott.

The meeting closed by singing a hymn and repeating the Mizpah beendiction.

LIONS BOYS' BAND TO GIVE PROGRAM

From eight to nine Friday night in the Prince of Wales' School, the Lions Club Boys' Band will perform for the entertainment of their parents and friends their first real program, to demonstrate their ability at the ages of 9 to 13 years in learning to play band and orchestral instruments.

Practically from its organization the Lions Club had a vision of the value this form of education would be to the girl and boys as well as to the home and the community before and after leaving school.

Any parents interested in having their boys or girls join the band are welcome and invited to see Mr. Wiggins, the organizer.

Shot on Hallowe'en Lad Still in Coma

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Nov. 4 (CP)—Police declined today to discuss the Hallowe'en shooting of 16-year-old Neil Bell by an unnamed Cedarville farmer. The youth has been unconscious since a bullet struck him early Sunday.

His condition today was described as critical. A .22-calibre bullet was lodged near the right lung.

Cedarville residents said Bell was one of a group of boys that celebrated Hallowe'en Saturday night by breaking up a church party and otherwise causing a nuisance.

Early Sunday they entered a farmer's premises and awakened the farmer who gave chase, carrying a rifle which was believed to have discharged accidentally.

ONTARIO TO PROBE NEED OF INCREASE IN RELIEF GRANTS

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The Hepburn Government will investigate shortly the alleged inability of families on relief to meet household needs owing to the rise in the cost of living. It was reliably reported at Queen's Park yesterday following the appearance of a Provincial unemployed delegation which waited upon Attorney-General Gordon D. Conant, Minister of Labor M. M. McBride, and Hon. Paul Leduc.

With the approach of winter months when relief costs reach their peak, it is understood the Government will co-operate with the municipalities in providing a higher relief scale to meet the increased cost of food commodities. The Ottawa Government will also be approached, it is rumored, with a request that the relief grant to the Province be reviewed.

Yesterday's deputation, headed by the President of the Unemployed Federation, Harry Murphy, stressed the sharp increase in living costs since 1932 and 1933, and asked that single men be given the voucher; that a family on relief be allowed to earn a maximum of $10 without having it deducted from the voucher, and that the Government contribute to relief for single unemployed.

TOBACCO STRIKE TAKEN TO TORONTO

SIMCOE, Ont., Nov. 4 (CP)—Attention in the "strike" of 1,200 western Ontario tobacco growers seeking increased prices for their crops turned today to Toronto where a representative committee of 10 growers intended to put their case before Hon. P. M. Dewan, Provincial Minister of Agriculture.

An organizer representing the growers left here last night with the intention of interviewing the agriculture minister and having him meet the delegation. If a meeting is arranged, the growers will ask the minister to reconvene the Ontario flue-cured tobacco marketing board. The growers hope thereby to have the board reconsider the price set last week as an average minimum for this season's crop. The board set a price of 24½ cents, the growers ask 10 cents more.

One refusal to reconvene the board already has come from Prof. Archie Leitch, chairman of the board's appraisal committee, on a request from a five-man committee representing protesting growers. The request came after 1,200 growers met in Delhi Tuesday night and agreed unanimously not to sell their crops at the board's standard.

BRITISH OUTPOSTS WATCH BOMBS RIP BORDER PARK UP

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4—(AP).—Japanese forces trying to drive Chinese south of their Soochow Creek positions to-day bombarded the Jessfield Park area near British army outposts.

As Shanghai skies cleared Japanese planes bombed the right flank of the Chinese line extending westward from Shanghai.

The Japanese drive suffered a setback, a Chinese spokesman said, when Chinese artillery destroyed two of three bridges Japanese engineers had thrown over Soochow Creek. He added, however, severe fighting was in progress on the south bank below Rubicon village.

There were persistent reports Chinese were on the verge of withdrawing from the entire Shanghai Peninsula, but the reports were without confirmation.

Foreign observers said the first Japanese objective apparently was the Hungjao airdrome three miles southwest of Rubicon. They said the Japanese were making only slow progress.

Spirited fighting was under way on all fronts, but neither Chinese nor Japanese were able to achieve clear-cut gain toward major objectives. From first-hand observation and from communiques of the two factions, it appeared a temporary stalemate had developed.

Gains Prove Costly

On the Shanghai front, artillery and infantry fighting continued along the entire line from Jessfield Park west and north to Nanaziang. Japanese made small gains at heavy sacrifice but were unable to consolidate their advances on the south bank of Soochow Creek.

In North China, the tide of battle shifted back and forth along the Peiping Hankow railway with Chinese declaring their forces had launched an offensive which carried them northward across the Chang River, 17 miles north of Chanteh, in Northern Honan province. (Japanese at Peiping said the Chinese attack was repulsed.)

Despite deadlocked land battles, Japanese continued widespread aerial activities, 20 bombs were dropped at Sungkiang, southwest of Shanghai, with a heavy toll of lives and damage to a power plant and a girls' school. Three points along the Canton-Kowloon railway were raided: Fourteen Japanese planes bombarded Soochow, 50 miles west of Shanghai.

A Japanese spokesman announced negotiations for proposed neutralization of Nantao, Chinese section south of the French concession, were proceeding satisfactorily.

BLAZE DESTROYS MARMORA HOME

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 4.—Fire which broke out near the chimney totally demolished the residence of Joseph Peever in Marmora Township, about 7 a.m. on Wednesday.

The family, after being roused through the smell of smoke, with the help of neighbors tried hard to extinguish the blaze, and at one time thought it was subdued, but the flames burst out in another section of the house an dthrough a high wind, got beyond control. But a small part of the furniture was saved. The family is housed for the time being with John Terrion.

Great Britain is trying to decide what to do with its 4,500 level crossings.

Prices sagged from the start, but bounded back to previous closing levels in mid-session deals before taking the final plunge in the last hour.

MAKE BOYS AIR-MINDED

CAPE TOWN—(CP).—One thousand South African schoolboys are to be given free airplane flights as part of a scheme to promote air-mindedness financed by Sir Abe Bailey's gift to civil aviation.

Huge British 'Shadow' Industry Run By 2 War-Time Buddies

Shape Up Circle Of Factories Turning Out Air Force To Be Second To None

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(CP)—Eighteen years ago, Lieut.-Colonel H. A. P. Disney and Captain W. A. W. Hallam fought together as "buddies" in the Royal Air Force, were wounded at the same time and then lost trace of one another in the post-war readjustment.

Today this pair has been reunited, again in the service of their country. To them most of the credit has been given in organizing and directing the huge "shadow" industry through which Britain hopes to produce an air force second to none.

When Lt.-Col. Disney was appointed director of aircraft production by the Air Ministry, his first step was to search for Hallam.

"I found his name in the London directory and rang him up," Col. Disney said. "He left his job and now we have got things going perfectly."

And the statement had been amply confirmed by the latest report issued by the Air Ministry on "shadow" factory operations.

Since Earl Baldwin, then Prime Minister, announced the government's intention of erecting these factories, under a scheme formulated in the spring of 1936, great strides have been made. On bare fields of a year ago five large factories have risen.

An Emergency Idea.

The "shadow" factory idea was adopted following review of civil industry by the committee of Imperial defence. It found it was desirable to earmark the resources of a number of firms for particular types of production, naval, military, and air, to increase normal resources of supply as speedily as possible in time of emergency.

The scheme approved by the Air Ministry had a twofold purpose: 1—To provide part of the reserves of aircraft and aero-engines required under the expansion of the air force; 2—Give the motor firms assigned to the Ministry experience in production of aircraft and aero-engines which they will be able to utilize in time of emergency.

To achieve both objectives, new government factories have been erected as close as possible to the parent motor factories. Cost of erecting the plants and installation of new equipment, was borne by the government.

Much of the labor has come from the distressed areas. Workers who less than a year ago were lorry-drivers, coals miners, cotton spinners and laborers have reached the semi-skilled stage and are turning out parts requiring operation of the most delicate machinery.

"Our job is to see that airplanes, engines, guns, bombs, even flying belts for airmen are turned out in time," Col. Disney explained. "We have to work on the assumption that a war will start tomorrow and we must be ready for it."

Wives Plan Union To Control Prices

TORONTO, Nov. 4—(CP). — Formation of a Housewives' Union to keep food prices down to a "reasonable level," is planned. Board of Control was informed to-day by a deputation of East Toronto housewives protesting an increase in the price of milk.

Mrs. Bertha Lamb headed the deputation, said to represent all womens organizations in the East-end. The Board was told a boycott of commodities was possible in the face of rising prices. Mrs. Lamb urged the city take over the distribution of milk.

The deputation was informed the city will present a brief to the Provincial Government protesting the milk price increase authorized by the Milk Control Board of Ontario.

Great Drive To Mobilize Canada For Action On Peace

Meetings, Dinners, Broadcasts, Sermons, Study Groups Start Next Week

OTTAWA, Nov. 4 (CP)—Peace-minded Canadians will be mobilized in a concerted drive for "peace action" next week through a nation-wide series of meetings, dinners, radio broadcasts, sermons and study groups sponsored by the League of Nations Society in Canada and two dozen actively co-operating national organizations.

The week's program, part of a world-wide campaign for peace, will be featured by addresses by Viscount Cecil, world peace leader; Prime Minister Mackenzie King; Brig.-Gen. Alex. Ross, president of the Canadian Legion, and other leaders of Canadian thought.

Included in the program are international youth peace day, a national "peace action week" dinner at Ottawa, an exchange of church ministers between Canada and the United States, and a broadcast of speeches by peace leaders around the world.

The national program opens with a peace demonstration November 8 at Convocation Hall, Toronto, when Viscount Cecil of Chelmwood will speak on "The Way to Peace." Lieutenant-Governor Bruce of Ontario will preside at that meeting.

Revenue Minister Ilsley will address the national peace dinner here November 9, reporting for the Canadian delegation to the last assembly of the League of Nations. Senator Cairine Wilson will preside.

Youth Peace Day Nov. 10

International Youth Peace Day, Nov. 10, will see a brief afternoon broadcast by spokesmen for the Canadian Youth Congress, as the highlight of a series of youth meetings.

Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, will be marked by the national ceremony on Parliament Hill in the morning, when Prime Minister Mackenzie King will lay a wreath on the cenotaph in the presence of Lord Tweedsmuir and an audience representative of the nation and its capital.

The prime minister, General Ross and others will be heard that night in the Canadian Legion Remembrance Day broadcast.

On Sunday, Nov. 14, ministers of Canada and the United States will exchange pulpits, under the organization of the Canadian National Council of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches.

The same day peace leaders of the world will be heard in a round-the-world broadcast similar to that of Sept. 19 when spokesmen for the major powers were heard. That Sunday the CBC's series on the Canadian constitution is continued.

All the events will be carried over a nation-wide network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, with the possible exception of the world economic co-operation broadcast of Nov. 14. This, however, is likely to be arranged also.

In a brief poppy day program Friday evening, Nov. 5, Lord Tweedsmuir, Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Pensions and National Health, and Defence Minister Mackenzie will be heard.

ATTLEE IS RE-ELECTED

LONDON, Nov. 4—(CP Cable)—Clement Attlee was re-elected leader of the opposition at a meeting of the parliamentary Labor party in the House of Commons today. Arthur Greenwood was re-elected deputy leader and Sir Charles Edwards chief Labor whip.

A ballot will be taken later to reorganize Labor's front bench in the House, putting it on an elective basis rather than confining it to ex-ministers.

Had Many Boils On His Neck and Body

While the skin seems to be the cause of the irritating and painful boils the real trouble is rooted in the blood, and when you think you are rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your agony.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do does not, as a rule, get rid of them. What is most essential is to give the blood a thorough cleansing.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters the boils disappear, your misery is at an end, your health and strength renewed, and the skin clean and smooth.

Mr. Alfred A. Ferrier, Falkenburg, Ont., writes:—"Several years ago I suffered greatly from numerous boils on my neck and body, and had three blind ones on my knee.

Our druggist advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters, so I took two bottles, and in a short time I was completely rid of the boils."

REDUCE VARICOSE OR SWOLLEN VEINS

This Easy Way
Prove It At Small Cost

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers should get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at McDermid & Jury or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once with this healing oil. A small bottle will last a long time because it is very concentrated and a little goes a very long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced. So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance.

Church Mortgages

There was a picture in a Western Ontario paper the other day taken at the time the mortgage on a church building was being burned. Three men appeared in the print, the minister, the treasurer of the building fund and the treasurer of the trustees' board. A candle tip was being applied to the document which recorded and recognized the existence of the debt. The three gentlemen concerned looked unduly serious, whereas the burning of a mortgage on a church bulding ought to have been a moment of joy or exuberance or some such thing.

There are a good many church properties covered by mortgages; there are some of the larger churches now sparsely attended where it takes a good deal of the financial effort of the people to keep on paying interest and now and then a bit off the principal. They are so immersed in that occupation that they have little strength with which to enter other fields of useful and necessary work.

And perhaps one could not be much blamed if he were to pause a moment and wonder whether the Lord appreciates being worshipped in mortgage-ridden properties. And at the same time to recall that when the Master was on earth he had no pulpit.

How Would He Start?

John W. Freeborn, M.L.A., was speaking at a banquet given by the Women's Institute of Western Ontario, and he was certain the farmers are not getting fair treatment. A farmer himself, Mr. Freeborn said among other things:

"We are tired of the uncertainty of market prices; we are sick of being forced into the position of unwilling philanthropists to the rest of the population. The farmer is receiving only 22 per cent. of the national income though he is earning a much greater percentage of it. We have the most fertile land right here; we have everything that makes for successful agriculture; we have roads and we have markets, and yet the 1931 census showed that over half of our farmers are carrying heavy mortgages. The average income of the farmer today is $1,200 a year gross, and out of that he has to pay all his expenses. And when his income does not measure up to his expenses then the farmer has to cut down on his standard of living."

The only cure which Mr. Freeborn suggested was that agriculture should be treated the same as any other industry, and he apparently believes it should be possible to regulate the prices of all products. If Mr. Freeborn has a clear-cut idea of how that remedy could be applied then we wish he would develop his theory, and become sufficiently expansive to explain how prices of farm produce could be regulated. One finds it easy enough to agree with him in his diagnosis of farming conditions and it is not at all difficult to join with him in admitting that farmers in general are tired of the uncertainty of market prices. But the big question is how he would apply the cure. There are a good many farmers and a fair number of economists who would like to have that set forth in detail.

She Shook Her Head

Pretty and 24, a young lady from Crete arrived in New York with the intention of marrying a man from London, Ont. It was to be one of those "picture bride" affairs. But when the boat docked and the young lady had a good look at the man to whom she was to be joined the candor and bravery of her Grecian ancestors rose to the occasion and she shook her head. And shook it definitely. He was not what she wanted at all. The man in London has posted a bond of $500 for her entrance to this country, and so she was permitted to come along to London where she is at the moment housed at the Y.W.C.A. If the bond is withdrawn she will face possibility of deportation, and the Greek women of London are counting their possessions to see if they can raise $500 so she can remain.

Angelique Bicakis is the name of the lady who is 24 and who is said to be pretty. She had previously received a picture of the man she was to have married, but when she saw him she came to the conclusion that something had gone amiss. The man himself and his picture did not jibe as the saying goes. The lady from Crete has made a long trip to find out her error. Men can be such strange beggars. It may be a man going to have his picture taken to send away in order to win a bride may have managed to bring to his countenance much that should never have been registered there. Immediately after having the picture taken he would slide back into the shell from which he had for the occasion emerged, and the chances are he might never again be able to get that peculiar look of extreme innocence and protective power plastered across his phisog.

Of course it's none of our affair, but we hope Angelique manages to remain in this country. A girl with sufficient spirit to shake her pretty head in negation at the idea of marrying a man she did not want even though the shake of the head means deportation is not to be lightly tossed aside.

What The Mechanics Say

Captain George Eyston has driven his "Thunderbolt" at over 309 miles an hour on the salt flats of Utah. The Englishman has nine mechanics along with him and at present they are overhauling the big machine of 24 cylinders for its next test. They seem quite certain there is sufficient power in the engines to travel 350 miles an hour.

It is admitted there is one thing which seems to stand in the way of that speed being attained, and that is the tires. The mechanics recall that Sir Malcolm Campbell had tire trouble and Capt. Eyston is faced with the same thing. The higher the speed the faster a tire goes to pieces.

Looking for something practical as a result of these excessive speed contests, we believe there is something for the average car driver to think about. The mechanics who are now in Utah have not discovered anything new. They are merely repeating what engineers have been saying and proving for a long time—the faster you drive your car the sooner will life and safety have gone from your tires. If your driving range is around 45 miles an hour the tires are going to last for a long time.

The Boy Or His Money

In the court at Los Angeles it has been decided that Cecil L. Bartholomew and his wife Lillian have lost their fight for the custody of their son, Freddie Bartholomew, who has grown famous and wealthy by reason of his success in the movies. Miss Mylicent Bartholomew the aunt, has won charge of the lad and his affairs. It was charged by her counsel in court that the boy's father was chiefly interested in his son in order that he might obtain a larger share of the young actor's earnings which now amount to over $100,000 a year. And the father denied this and claimed the aunt was seeking to poison the mind of his son against the father. And so it went.

It may be very interesting and it is also very unlovely and unnatural. One cannot but wonder if there would have been much attention paid to the lad if he had been just an ordinary sort of chap, the son of parents who were rather hard up. Would the aunt then have been as keen to take out papers of adoption and then make certain there was an extra knot tied in the proceedings so nothing could slip? And would the parents have undertaken the long trip from England to San Francisco to fight the case?

It is hard to down the feeling that the large amount of money which this lad is able to earn has much—perhaps all—to do with the unusual interest which is being shown by parents and relatives in general.

How Do They "Write It Off"?

One report from Regina speaks of a scheme which has been planned by Hon. W. J. Estey, Minister in charge of debt adjustment, and we learn that $100,000,000 is involved "in writing down of mortgage indebtedness by the companies, adjustment of individual and municipal indebtedness and write-off of overdue taxes accumulated prior to Jan. 1, 1935."

There is not much difficulty in trying to understand that there are plenty of people in Saskatchewan who cannot pay taxes because they have nothing to pay, but when a plan is brought out to "wrote-off" debt to the extent of $100,000,000 it is not easy to understand. For instance the city of Peterborough has a certain amount of unpaid taxes, and so has every other city, but property is behind those unpaid taxes. If the taxes go unpaid the city takes over the property; it can collect rent to apply to taxes, and if it cannot get its tax money that way it can sell the property. If there is no purchaser then the city itself buys in the property, paying the amount of unpaid taxes as the purchase price, and the money for that comes out of the general fund, which fund is raised by general taxation. In that way the citizens who pay their own taxes actually pay as well the back taxes of those who have fallen into arrears. There is no writing-off process.

But they could do no such a thing in the 270 municipalities of Saskatchewan where the plan is going to be operative. There could be no sale of property for taxes because there would be no purchasers; there could be no buying by the municipalities because they would not have the money available to pay the taxes and take the property. Debt as a rule cannot be discharged by the simple process of writing it off. We admit that would be comfortable and easy. The real question is who is going to lose this $100,000,000 if it is discharged, or who is going to pay it? Debt of that sort is something which represents money which has been spent. In municipal financing taxes are collected to pay our community debts, wages, debentures, schools, and all such services. It is an actual obligation. We would like to see the details of that western plan because what they call "writing-off" the sum of $100,000,000 is not readily done.

A Court Of Instruction

Hallowe'en and its troubles and pranks becomes more serious than was once the case. We have just been reading where three young fellows from Biddulph township in the north and east corner of Middlesex county were out on that wild night tipping over little outbuildings such as they have in yards where all family conveniences are not housed under the one roof. The result is that the law has clamped down on them and they appeared in court in London, and London city is a fair distance removed from Biddulph. And in London they came before a magistrate who would look rather stern, but we cannot but wonder if in his younger days he did not go about on Hallowe'en himself. Likewise they were confronted by a Crown Attorney, an active chap who also may have had some practical experience in his time at the gentle art of disturbing these little outbuildings. It was the Crown who suggested the best way would be for the boys concerned to go into a huddle and see if they could not repair the damage which they had done.

This paper knows quite well that when a case is before court it should not be commented on; and we hasten to assure the magistrate and the Crown and the whole machinery of justice in Middlesex that we have no desire whatever to interfere with its free and smooth and entirely satisfactory operation. We are quite in favor of having the little building in question restored to its vertical position fully realizing the utter uselessness of such a structure while it remains lying prone upon the broad acres of Biddulph. But we cannot but wonder if the magistrate and the Crown might not offer helpful suggestion as to the actual technique best suited to repairing such damage. There must be one plan which is superior to all other plans, and if the offending lads from Biddulph were even briefly schooled in it their task of rehabilitation would be made easier.

Retailers of shoes are gathering for a meeting in Hamilton, and we learn the average size of a woman's shoe has increased in twenty years from 4½ to 6. Possibly the feet are about the same size, but the woman with a quart foot no longer goes in to ask for a pint shoe.

LEARNING

(By A. R. K.)

¶ My Cousin Archie ran a store, and people crowded to his door, and things came fast his way; for Archie was a goodly kind, with pleasing ways and cheerful mind, a well liked sort of jay.

¶ And Archie sold them prunes and fish, and any article they'd wish, the business seemed to grow; he sold them shoes and gloves and hats, and for their beds sold springs and slats, and sold them calico.

¶ They came to Archie's store each day, but lots of them would never pay, they'd charge each thing they took; and Cousin Archie worked at night, at trying to keep finances right, he put things in a book.

¶ And Archie's stock ran rather low, because his trade began to grow, the keenest store in town; then Archie found out soon enough, he could not go and charge his stuff, they wanted cash right down.

¶ So Archie had to change his ways, and few there were who sang his praise, they knocked him quite a lot; he put a sign up in his store, that he was charging things no more, they'd pay for what they bought.

¶ And that was seven years ago, since when why Archie made it go, although he lost some trade; and Archie got his knocks and blows, by handing out his goods to those—whose bills were never paid.

LIBEL HAS been defined as any malicious defamation expressed either in printing, writing, pictures or effigies. Recently in New York a supreme court judge ruled that Abraham Safir had published a libel against Sidney Ostro. Safir's offense consisted of writing Ostro a postcard to demand reimbursement for an alleged "rubber check."

Rev. Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pittsburg has been causing a mild sensation by his criticism of the fall fashions. He declared from his pulpit that the fashions were barbarous in their luxurious display and that they repudiated all the simplicity and efficiency which produced ordered life. "The last bulwark of sensible simplicity is tottering" said Dr. Clausen "When it goes the sexes will be involved in a wild rivalry of style and Christian ideals may be forgotten."

An Index of Success.

PROFESSOR Johnson O'Connor of the Human Engineering Laboratory of the Stevens Institute of Technology believes that the possession of an adequate vocabulary is a good index of success. Recently he has for many years been making a series of tests using 150 words in his equinzes of all kinds of folk and the results are interesting.

For example Professor O'Connor has found that more than 300 presidents, vice-presidents and treasurers of large and thriving companies have averaged 143 correct answers as to the meaning of these 150 words. Sixty college professors who were runners-up averaged 142 correct answers. Minor executives scored 135, college graduates 123, non-college foremen 123 and high school seniors 103.

Here is a sample of the O'Connor list—Glabrous. That word was tried on one thousand college graduates and only 21 per cent. gave the correct answer. As it is estimated that straight guessing would give a 20 per cent accuracy, the alumni would seem to have been pretty well stumped.

Oh, yes! glabrous means "Smooth; having a surface without hairs.

A new iron lung has been developed at the University of Lund, Sweden by Professor B. Sahlin for use by infantile paralysis victims. The portable apparatus will fit like breast armor over the chest of the patient, leaving the rest of the body free. It comes in three sizes adjustable to anyone from a 30-pound child to a 270-pound man. It is expected that commercial production will bring the cost of the machine down to about $250.

A New Type of Cruiser.

SHIPPING MEN are watching with interest a 110-foot motor cruiser of new design being built in England. A model, tested on a London park lake attained a speed of 28 knots. The completed cruiser is expected to get three times the distance on the same amount of fuel as the ordinary vessel. The shape of the hull reduces friction to a minimum and unlike the conventional ship, the stern doesn't dip as speed is increased. Naval architects think that the new design applied to an Atlantic liner could produce a speed of 40 knots—compared to the Normandie's record of 31.3.

The new Haven Railroad has taken city folk into the open spaces in ski, bicycle, folding boat and miniature—camera—fiend special trains. The festivities included music (of a sort), square dancing, shucking corn fortifying the inner man. The Kent citizens decided that city folks were not any different from themselves—they only lived in a bigger place.

On dighified stationery the operators write to a prospect offering to sign him up as an auto-insurance adjuster qualified to cover his locality for all United States insurance companies. In a second letter the victim is asked to remit $5 to cover the inclusion of his name in a list to be sent to all the companies. Payment of the fee winds up the deal since no responsible insurance company will use such independant operators.

It is said that St. James's Church in Piccadilly, London has just collected a $20,000 "bet" on the abdication of former King Edward. The church which planned to profit from bleachers erected on its property during the Coronation took out an insurance policy against the possibility that Edward might not be crowned. Actually the church suffered no loss since it made $27,000 on the bleachers during the coronation of King George. But because the policy named Edward, the church collected.

What Would You Do With $150,000

That Is the Question One Man Must Decide; Finds He Is Pestered With Agents and Salesmen

(Galt Reporter)

ANNOUNCEMENT of the winning of a number of awards of $150,000 each from the proceeds of tickets on an Old Country racing classic once more stimulates public speculation as to how the lucky winners will employ the money.

One case that has attracted attention is that of an unemployed engineer at Montreal. He had work until a month ago when the construction job on which he was engaged, was shut down for the winter. This man is 50 years of age, is married but has no children. Hitherto he has not had a great deal of material wealth. Now he is the potential owner of $150,000. He admits that he does not know exactly what he is going to do with it but he may be sure that many people will try to tell him what he ought to do. He is already besieged by agents who have something to sell. He will find that hordes of people claiming to have things that are worth enormous sums of money, according to their estimates, are willing to part with these treasures for money. He now has the thing that is envied by the great majority of his fellow-men and some of them are going to make a determined effort to get it away from him by hook or by crook. That is the dirty streak in human nature, which makes this world a rather unpleasant place.

However, the individual coming suddenly into the ownership of $150,000 has some avenues of safety open to him. He can go to a bank and deposit his check. Then he can consult a dependable investment house or trust company as to how he can employ his cash with reasonable safety. At the present time he is fortunate to find market prices of securities fairly depressed. There are many reasonably sound stocks and bonds which he can purchase now that will yield as high as 8 per cent. He should have no difficulty in obtaining an average of five per cent. That would mean an income of $7,500 a year with the capital intact. It is quite preferable to being dependent on a job of doubtful permanency.

Cheap Milk Places Can Be Dangerous

Farmers Have Lost in Dealing With Them; Cut-Price Trade Is Not Possible To-day

(Letter in Montreal Star)

SIR,—One of your correspondents signing himself "Unemployed," says that if a milk distributor pays an honest price to the farmers, fair wages to his employees and gives pure and healthy milk to his customers he should be rewarded and not fined for selling his product under the fixed price.

Granted: but that is a very big "if," such a big "if" as to beg the whole question. The milk business in Montreal and the production district is strewn with the wrecks of would-be dairy companies which thought they could do all the things "Unemployed" requires, cut prices and make a living, and found they couldn't. Out in the country there are scores and hundreds of farmers who trusted these cut-price concerns, gave them credit for supplies of milk and are still whistling for their money.

Nothing could be more erroneous than the popular conception of the Milk Commission as a body which determines the price at which milk in Montreal is sold. It does nothing of the kind. All it does is to see to it that the price of milk which has been determined by the producers and distributors in conference is maintained at the agreed price until such time as the two parties to the agreement again meet and alter or maintain prices. In other words it prevents cut-throat price slashing in a food product which is peculiarly susceptible to quick deterioration and contamination, which must therefore be most carefully safeguarded and quickly delivered from the moment it leaves the cow till it reaches the table. Fly-by-night concerns which get into business one day and get out the next should not be handling milk, whatever else they may do, for the sake of everybody concerned, including the farmer as well as the consumer.

I have no interest in the "milk business" in any form save that of the ultimate consumer. I want to see milk come down as much as does "Unemployed." But not down at any price.

Farmer Can Get Along If Others Starve

Farming a Way of Life as Well as Business; Has Had Much to Do With Building Character

(From the Vancouver Province)

LORD TWEEDSMUIR, the Governor General, went out to a plowing match recently, and hob-nobbed with the farmers in the muddy fields at Clarence Creek, down the river a few miles from Ottawa. Apparently His Excellency enjoyed the association, and the plowmen and ex-plowmen who gathered for the event enjoyed it too.

It is not on record that Lord Tweedsmuir took his place between the plow-stilts and attempted to turn a smooth and straight furrow. But he spoke straight words to the farmers and gave them some homely and pithy advice. He advised them to stay on the land.

"Don't imagine the only work worth doing is in the towns," he said. "There is far more important work to do in the country. We can't have a strong nation without a strong country-folk."

It should not have been necessary for His Excellency to come down from Ottawa to speak in this wise to Canadian farmers. And yet the remarks were timely. Canada was founded by just the sort of strong country-folk Lord Tweedsmuir found at Clarence Creek, but for a generation or more these country-folk have been leaving the farms to newcomers from overseas and have been crowding into the cities. As a consequence, Canada is more than half urban today.

Canada has to be an industrial country to provide a home market for the products of the farm. We can not have prosperous farmers without a home market, but it is important that a nice balance be maintained as between urban and rural population. Unfortunately, Canadians born on the farm are more and more turning towards the cities, often to their sorrow.

Farming, it can not be too often repeated, is a way of life as well as a business. The farmer who knows what he is about can get along where the townsman would starve, and the necessity of getting along gives rise to a resourcefulness and develops a strength of character which have high value when built into the national structure.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

AND THE Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed. . . . And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it. . . . And the Lord God said, it is not good that the man should be alone; I will make an help meet for him. . . . And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam and he slept; and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof; and the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. And Adam said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of Man.—Gen. ii, 8, 15, 18, 21-23.

QUAINT CUSTOMS.

(Guelph Mercury)

IN THE County of Waterloo is a religious sect whose members still cling to the quaint old beliefs that a man's word is as good as his contract, that one should not borrow more than he intends to repay, and that the simple things of life are the best.

Queer, these people are so far behind the times. They know not the joy of instalment purchases, double dealing, onerous debt. Their beliefs set them entirely apart.

Yet they live in peace and contentment, in fellowship and friendship with their neighbors, unworried by tomorrow's reckoning. And the hurrying, blase world might find the utopia it seeks in the life of these fortunate carefree farmers.

Modernized Version Of Bible Proves Real Sell-Out

Book Critics And Dean Of St. Paul's Express Favor Of New Work

LONDON, Nov. 4—(CP)—When it was announced the Bible was to be modernized there went up a great cry of dissension. Rectors cried "shame" and letters poured in to the editor denouncing any "tinkering with the greatest Book in the world."

But the new work—"The Bible as Literature"—has not only been published but its first edition has been sold out. Moreover, book critics of the British press reviewed it with considerable favor.

The Dean of St. Paul's publicly approved both the need of such a book and the manner in which this "popularization" was done. He intimated there should be no comparison of the new work with the Bible but said good would be served if the new work reached a broader reader field and in turn increased interest in the Bible itself.

Room For New Book.

A writer in the Evening Standard said: "The Bible is the most beautiful book in the world. Usually, it is presented to its reader as the most repulsive and unattractive. There was room for the 10 shillings ($2.50) Bible as literature which Ernest Sutherland Bates has edited and which Heinemanns publish.

"The type is exquisite, the pages are large, inviting to the eye, the disfiguring notes are gone, there are no chapter heads, no numbers to verses."

James Agate wrote in the Daily Express: "This edition treats the Bible for what it is. The arrangement is by time and subject-matter, prose is printed as prose, verse as verse, and so on, and the tiresome genealogies are omitted."

The Dean of St. Paul's, Very Rev. Walter Robert Matthews, wrote in the Sunday Times that Mr. Bates was not the first to attempt to rescue the Bible from its typographical fetters, but he thought he was the most successful.

"He has followed an intelligible plan," wrote the Dean. "He has arranged the books so as to give a continuous narrative from the creation to the exile; he has sought to emphasize the greatest of the prophets, and has thrown the less important into the background."

The New Testament is treated differently in the new work, the Gospel of St. Mark being used in full, but the remainder being used only partially.

Principal Finds Only Homework Kick Is By Teachers—Pupils Don't Do It

Sudbury, Nov. 4 (CP)

HOMEWORK "doesn't necessitate an awful lot" L. E. R. Stephens, principal of the Sudbury mining and technical school, said last night in answer to a question from a member of the school advisory committee.

"The students who don't need it, are the ones who do it," he said.

Asked if he had heard any complaints with regard to the amount of homework required from the pupils at the school, he replied:

"I haven't heard any, except from the teachers."

"What is their complaint," he was asked.

"That the pupils don't do it."

ANNIVERSARY OF PONTYPOOL UNITED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

PONTYPOOL, Nov. 4.—On Sunday evening a special anniversary service was held in the United church, Pontypool.

The interior of the church was well decorated, with flowers, which gave a very pleasing appearance to the church. Rev. E. Beech of Newtonville, was the special speaker and delivered a very fine sermon. Special music was provided by Orono male quartette.

On Monday evening the annual fowl supper was held in the basement of the church, with a good attendance from far and near, and an abundant amount of good things were served by attentive waiters.

When all had been served the crowd gathered in the body of the church for a short program consisting of home talent, as well as Miss Dorothy Hainer, elocutionist of Oshawa. Mr. Fred Bowins, ex-M.P., of Newcastle, was present and was called on for a short speech.

The home talent consisted of violin solos by Percy Mantle; recitation by Miss Annie Thompson; solo by Evelyn Mantle; solo by Rev. C. Ferguson, of Bethany.

Rev. W. F. Riding, pastor of the church who had acted as chairman for the evening, thanked all those who had taken part in the program, and all who had helped to make the evening a success.

The proceeds, which were very gratifying, will be used to carry on the church work. Much praise has been given to the ladies for the redecorating of the church and remodeling, of the basement, which has been done lately.

KEYS GIVEN 'VIC' COLLEGE LASSES

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (CP) — No longer will Victoria College co-eds climb up fire escapes and crawl through stealthily opened windows when they overstay late leave.

From now on, under new regulations issued at the college, girls who plan to be out late of an evening will be provided with keys—providing they are used with discretion. Too many failures too many late nights will mean cancellation of the privilege.

In other Toronto colleges, girls in residence must continue to be in by 10:30 each night except Saturday, with a fixed number of 11:30, 12:30 and 2:30 late leaves during the term.

Victoria's new ruling is believed to set a precedent in Canadian women's colleges. The Universities of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, for instance, set 11 p.m. as lock-up time.

104th Anniversary Celebrated By Centreville Presbyterians

Rev. J. W. Foote, B.D., Guest Preacher—Fowl Supper Follows Special Services

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CENTREVILLE, Nov. 4. — The 104th anniversary of Centreville Presbyterian Church was observed by special services on Sunday, October 31, at 11 and 7 o'clock. The interior of the church, as is the custom, was artistically decorated and looked attractive in an array of beautiful house plants, late summer flowers, and maple leaves entwined about the pillars, walls and gallery. At the morning and evening services the church was filled to capacity.

Rev. J. W. Foote, B.D., of St. Paul's Church, Port Hope, was the guest preacher and delivered two very inspirational and practical sermons. The morning text was taken from the prophecy of Isaiah, chapter 39, verse 8. In the evening his text was Deuteronomy, chapter 6, verse 6. He stressed the importance and necessity of making the best use of the great heritage given to us by God and our forefathers, who labored so heroically and faithfully to establish the Christian Church in Canada.

The music at each service was of a high-class and much appreciated. At the morning service Centreville choir led in singing and was ably assisted by Miss Orma Lacheur of Peterborough, who rendered a delightful solo. At the evening service 15 men of St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, led the large congregation in the service of praise. There were two special numbers by all the men and a solo by George Coleman, Jr. Their singing was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Adam B. Sands was the pianist.

Following the evening service the Peterborough choir was entertained by the Centreville choir at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Johnson. Rev. J. W. Foote was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Dodds for Sunday dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Foote were entertained at the manse after the evening service.

Fowl Supper Follows.

The special anniversary services were followed by an equally successful fowl supper in the Sunday School Hall on Tuesday night, when a very large gathering from Peterborough, Millbrook, and surrounding community partook of an excellent and sumptuous repast. As usual the tables were beautifully decorated and looked very attractive, covered with white linen, centered with a red creamer, floral decorations, and gleaming silver. The menu of roast goose and chicken, hot vegetables, salads, relishes, and cakes and pies in abundance were set before the guests. A corps of energetic and efficient workers willingly served the large crowds. Following the supper an interesting program was presented in the church, the pastor, Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., acting as the chairman.

Following the singing of "O Canada," Messrs Jack Smith and Bob Hendry of Peterborough, wearing the kilts, delighted the audience with their solos, duets, and humorous anecdotes. A pleasing feature was two readings by Miss Gwen Hutchison. They were much appreciated. J. J. Duffus, M.P., was called to the platform and delivered a very appropriate address. Singing the National Anthem brought to a close a very successful social gathering.

TRENT RIVER

Children's quarterly service was held Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. S. A. Kemp gave an interesting and helpful talk on the first part of Pilgrim's Progress, using a colored chart to illustrate the story, which will be finished at the next quarterly service.

A Sunday School workers' conference will be held Saturday, November 6th at Mark Street Church, Peterborough, for teachers and officers of the Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Leari Humphrey of Trenton were Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters.

Miss Helen Waters of Trenton was a Sunday visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton Waters and family.

Birth — At Campbellford on October 29th to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Scott, a daughter.

Hallowe'en passed off as usual, the little folk "dressed up" and made their usual calls.

Mr. Thomas Wight of Toronto spent the week-end at Cedar Isle.

Sunday guests with Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lean and family were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bowman and family of Scott's Guards, Sask.

Air Raid—As Rebel Bomber Saw It

A remarkable photo, made from one of the bombing aeroplanes taking part in the raid, showing the inferno of bursting bombs that ensued when a squadron of insurgent aeroplanes "strafed" a party of Loyalist troops in a thicket outside Madrid. Tiny figures in upper righthand corner (circle) are men running from the thicket to seek more secure shelter.

WOMEN ARE ELECTED

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4—(AP). — Two comely Western Pennsylvania widows, whose Republican husbands died while serving as county treasurers and were replaced by appointed Democrats, had their inning today.

Returns from yesterday's election showed Mrs. Ralph B. Brown, of Meadville, and Mrs. Neva S. Longridge, of Somerset, were elected to four year terms as treasurers of Crawford and Somerset counties respectively.

And in each case they defeated the men appointed by Governor George H. Earle to take their husband's positions.

REV. D. K. PERRIE IS GUEST SPEAKER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 4. — Rev. D. K. Perrie, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, was the guest speaker on Monday evening at the Young People's meeting of Trinity United Church. Rev. Mr. Perrie gave a most inspiring talk on the topic, "The God of the Hills and Valleys of Life." A reading from the study book on "Discipleship" was given by Miss Helen Collins, who read the first chapter on "Surrender."

The program was in charge of Miss Kate German, and included a reading "Old Farmer's Grudge," by Miss Frances Hoard; solo by Mrs. J. B. Scriver; and a reading by Miss Myri Seabrook. Miss Seabrook then conducted a very interesting apple contest.

On account of the Young People's rally being held in Mark Street United Church, Peterborough, next Monday evening, the regular meeting of the Y.P.S. will be withdrawn.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S.

Philip Ford, who with eleven others attended the Young People's rally in Port Hope on Friday evening, gave a splendid report of the meeting on Monday evening at St. Andrew's Y.P.S. Mrs. S. Whitred presided over the meeting, which was their devotional evening. Fred Hand had charge of the program, which included the topic on "The Benefit of Trial" by James Moore; duet, "The Stranger of Galilee," by Miss Lily Dodd and Mrs. Reta Johnston; reading by Miss Daisy Graham; and games by Philip Ford and Mrs. S. Whitred.

The members decided on having a shanty supper the latter part of the month.

Masquerade Party.

Black and orange colors of Hallowe'en decorated the basement of St. George's Church on Monday evening for a jolly masquerade party held by the members of the A.Y.P.A. when over fifty were present. The program included many games with refreshments served at the close. The members and friends were asked to come in costume, and many weird and fancy dress outfits were worn. Prize-winners were: Best ladies', Miss D. Plant as a gypsy; best boys', Master G. Lochardt, as a clown; best girls', Amy Sargeant as a great-grandmother. Honorable mention were accorded Cyril Blackbourne, Sr., who dressed as a headless man; Miss Sylvia Kirk and her brother Tommy looked attractive in their gipsy costumes.

Nazi Germany Described By Pastor of Knox Church.

"Nazi Germany As I Understand It," was the subject of an address by the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, pastor of Knox United Church, to the Young People's Union of that church. Having spent several years in Germany continuing his Theological studies, the speaker in his informative address was able to give the German side to this present day world problem.

Following his talk, Mr. Zufelt answered a number of questions on the subject, with J. Risbell, who is a native of Germany, resident several years in Peterborough, assisting the speaker.

The meeting was presided over by the vice-president, Miss Ruby Milburn, who was assisted during the Devotional Period by Miss Hasel Bradley. A very large number of young people were present.

Brocades For Formal Dining

Brocades are much in the limelight this season. It is because all fashion roads lead to luxury.

Brocades are colorful and richest richness and luxury. So when dining formally at a restaurant wear this red and gold silk brocade dress with the pencil-slim silhouette and high waistline. It has an in-front neckline that is important this season.

The all-over fringed dress is another luxury model and is as slim and alluring as can be. Then there is the gleaning sequin-studded gown which many couturiers are showing in various styles. Schiaparelli calls her version "sex appeal."

And the velvets—which are always tops in the winter season. And don't forget the soft woollens that are used both for formal dresses and coats.

There are also many new fabrics and damasks in metal-embroidered bemberg yarns. And for resort wear many evening prints on silk satin will be worn. White and eggshell grounds are being featured for these resort prints. Off-white grounds are also being shown, however, such as pale pink, delicate green, blue and lavender. Patterns shown are multi-color screen prints of flowers in fairly large sizes.

Novel Treatments

One of the most effective dresses seen this season is a white marquisette with a gold sequin basque bodice with narrow sequin shoulder straps. The skirt, of course, as you might guess, is voluminous.

Silk jersey is another favorite for formal gowns. A draped model by Muriel King in that fabric being shown in dark hunter green which has a wide skirt divided at one side of the front to show a mauve-pink satin sheath.

There are many novel treatments in various materials, also. One, a dress by Marcel Rochas, was of velvet with wide satin striped ribbon forming a draped halter decolletage and also used to make back fullness in the sheath skirt. This skirt was cut high with a curved line where it met the satin bodice.

Striped material is interestingly treated in another formal dress by the same designer. Wrap-around lines were used, molded tightly over bodice and hips, with a wide ribbon sash tied at the side with long streamers.

Formal fashions they are wearing at present in New York sponsor very low necklines, sometimes with invisible shoulder straps, and usually with very narrow ones. Slim bodiced, wide skirted frocks are most popular, although the slim outline with slit skirt is also important.

Fashion Service

An open-in-front home frock that you can slip into quick as a flash without mussing your hair. Only one button to fasten at the snug waistline. You're ready for breakfast or to start your morning chores. The generous wrap-over fronts have a beautifully slimming effect upon your figure. The tailored pocket is useful for odds and ends. Wine percale printed in white is smart as it is practical. If you like a trim, white bias binds around the neck and right down the front is effective. In warm flannel, it makes a very cosy, practical and inexpensive negligee.

Style No. 2021 is designed for sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48-inches bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material.

Refreshments followed a pleasant evening, with the Misses Marjorie Creighton and Dorothy Seabrooke assisting the hostesses in serving.

Those present were: Mesdames Silvestri, Saunders, Bell, Jr., R. Curtin, Cavanaugh, Hutchison, Hamilton, Conway, McDougal, J. Cullen, O'Deite, Scully, B. Cullen, H. Cullen, Griffen, Ellis, Exell, Creighton, Collins; and the Misses Mildred Creighton, Dorothy Seabrooke, Laura Bossley, Marcelle Lucano, Rhoda Cullen, Loretta Curtin, Mary Cullen, Marjorie Creighton, Ann Creighton, Joan and Noreen Nelson. LONDON — (CP). — An "Over 30 Association" has been organized to tackle the problem of the large number of older business women, without resources and unemployed.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, November 5.

Except for employment, which is fairly well aspected, this may be a day of particularly irksome and routine affairs, judging by the lunar operations. In such circumstances it may be well to "hew to the line" and reap what enjoyment there may be in rather intriguing personal adventures. These have an element of subtlety or secrecy, which, while adding zest to a dull day, may have its perils. Be wise with funds and indulgences.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year of rather mediocre or routine affairs; however, business and employment should prove stable. Domestic, affectional and social lives may offer compensations, albeit of an intriguing, hazardous and tempting nature. Be wise with extravagances and indulgences.

A child born on this day may be disposed to seek lighter and merrier avocations of life, with small inclination to exacting problems or hard work. Social pleasures and emotional indulgences may claim the attention of a seductive and graciously indulgent personality. However, it may be likeable and much sought for good fellowship.

JEWELRY GOES PLACES

NEW YORK—(CP).—This season sees the greatest vogue for costume jewels the fashion world has known in years. Victorian chests have been raided for inspiration in the design of baubles that range from cameo lockets to jewelled bugs, to go with latest dress creations.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

London Expects To Be Influenced From Balmoral

LONDON, Oct. 19 (CP)—Royalty's stay at Balmoral has had its influence on fashions, not only in tweeds but in entertainments.

As well as being a month of fashions and parties, October in London is the month for the reunion of women's clubs organizations. This more serious season got away to an impressive start with the Conference of the Women's Engineering Society of which Miss Amy Johnson—the flier—is past president. The office of president is now occupied by the handsome and smiling Mrs. C. H. Douglas, wife of Major Douglas, Social Credit leader.

Another meeting addressed by women speakers was the National Safety Congress. Miss Elizabeth Denby, woman housing expert who was awarded a research fellowship to study slum clearance and was the first woman to read a paper at the Royal Institute of British Architects, gave a much-quoted address which is to be printed.

Question Of Lipstick

Education of a different variety was recommended by a speaker at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon. "There should be a condition attached to the sale of lipstick, rouge and sun-tans that the user should pass an examination in their artistic application before purchase," he said. Sir Charles Higham, advertising authority and champion of beauty, disagreed. "The women of today make up their faces most charmingly. They use cosmetics marvellously well," he declared.

Ernest Brown, minister of labor, trying to find servants for England's basement kitchens has suggested dowries for girls who go in for kitchen careers. Mistresses are a bit doubtful. "What is the use of training a girl if she leaves you for a home of her own just as she is becoming useful?" they argue.

Still unsolved is the much-discussed problem of the scarcity of hospital nurses. While Sir Kingsley Wood, minister of health, has announced a national committee is to be appointed to carry out a comprehensive inquiry into the recruiting and training, the nurses in 24 London hospitals, including Guy's, Bart's and the Middlesex are in open revolt against what they declare to be intolerable living and working conditions. They have founded an Association of Nurses strongly supporting the charter adopted at the Trades Union Congress. Some people call it a Nurses' Union.

Baroness de Hueck of Toronto, who has been travelling in Spain, Portugal, France and Germany is on her way home for extensive lecture tour. Active in the organizing of "Friendship" houses, she will speak on conditions as he found them in counirles she visited.

The work of another Canadian, Joly de Lotbiniere of Montreal, British Broadcasting Corporation announcer and director of outside broadcasts, took him to Prague to describe the Masaryk funeral.

Brien Meredith of Ottawa and Montreal has also been travelling on the continent checking up data for a book on skiing in the Canadian Rockies, the Laurentians and in Switzerland, to be published in January.

Learn Tap Dancing For Year-round Fun

Reach an all-time high in popularity this winter. Teach yourself to tap dance.

Diagrams make learning easy. The slickest tap routines you see on stage or screen are made up of simple steps like those shown here.

FLAT TAP: Step on entire flat surface of foot. A Flat is often screeched into a stamp for emphasis.

PULL: Slide backward or sideward on the foot that bears your weight. If your weight is on left foot, flex left knee and extend right leg off floor. Then pull left foot backward or sideward by forcibly straightening left knee.

All party crowds fall for tap-dance entertainment. Our 32-page booklet shows you how to be a star performer. Basic steps explained and diagrammed. Easy practise routines. Full-length routines for entertaining—waltz, military, buck.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of TAP DANCING SIMPLIFIED to The Examiner's, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Stripes Are Used To Brighten Up A Dark Frock

Florence Rice

By Central Press

A striped blouse and lining for the rounded revers of the bolero of a black crepe dress give Florence Rice's frock a cheerful accent.

Long sleeves with broadened shoulders, and a pirate-like sash tied at the side front are other features of the dress. Smart pumps, gauntlet gloves and a pert bell boy hat are the accessories.

The jacket and skirt costumes using contrast are among the most delightful of the season's attire. Take a plaid skirt with a dash of green, and top it with a green suede jacket; or a brown skirt in solid color and a jacket in a deep rose or rust, trim and fitted almost like a uniform.

Neat little tailored dresses were never smarter than right now. Details are fascinating. New belts, new pockets and many of them— and buttons, like jewels are some. And if the dress you choose has none of these things, and is perfectly plain, we'll know you bought it or had it made on purpose because you wanted to use it as a background for some perfectly stunning costume jewelry.

WEDDINGS

Heffernan-Heffernan.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Church of the Immaculate Conception at half-past seven on Wednesday morning, when Elizabeth Heffernan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heffernan of Douro, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to John James Heffernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Heffernan of Otonabee. The Very Rev. Dean O'Sullivan performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride's charming gown was of midnight blue transparent velvet, made with a slight train, shirred bodice and leg-o'mutton sleeves. She wore a silver turban with blue nose-veil, silver slippers, and carried a bouquet of Calla lilies and maiden-hair fern.

Miss Teresa Heffernan attended as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of wine transparent velvet, a hat and gloves in similar shade, and silver slippers. Her flowers were pink carnations and maidenhair fern. Thomas Heffernan, brother of the groom was best man.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served to the bridal party in Hooper's Palm Rooms.

Early in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Heffernan left for a short motor trip, and when they return will reside on the groom's farm in Otonabee. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service, to the bridesmaid a brilliant bracelet, and to the best man a cigarette lighter.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

AN URGENT SWITCH

WHEN YOUR partner's lead against a suit bid shows that he has nothing more than medium sized or small cards in the suit he chose, he seldom wants that suit returned. His reason for picking that suit was probably because he did not want to lead from a single honor or tenace in some other suit. Consequently he wants that other suit led to him. If you happen to win the opening trick in these circumstances, you should ordinarily try to figure out the suit in which he has those honors, and return it to him.

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South decided on this deal that his best opening was one of 3-Hearts and North felt he had sufficient values to take the contract to 4-Hearts.

The deal arose in a duplicate tournament and all North-South players arrived at the same contract. At all but one table the contract was easily made. The club 3 was the opening lead, which East won with the club K. Hating to lead away from the spade holding and the diamond situation seeming hopeless, most Easts laid down the club A, even though they knew South held a singleton, reasoning that a ruff of that suit by South could do no harm. Once South gained the lead, he had little difficulty in making the contract, as the diamond suit provided a spot for two spade losers, so that five was made.

The player who defeated the contract in the East position, stopped to consider that if his side lost control the diamond suit might enable South to get rid of some losers. He therefore switched to the spade K, followed by the J and another, setting the contract one trick.

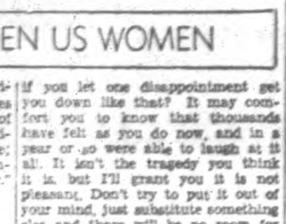
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

What is the correct defense against South's contract of 4-Spades?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

LET us awaken to the divine privilege of sharing the heartaches of our friends, of the meaning of good fellowship; of that independance of spirit that does not imitate; of courage and pride that can endure with dignity, and without fear."

—Author Unknown.

Dear Friends:

So many letters come to me of those in trouble. They are keeping a brave face to the world, but have given me the honor of accepting me as their friend and confidant, and I am deeply conscious of this honor, and appreciate it so much.

They do not want an article, yet maybe something I write may be of help to them without singling them out in any way. This will answer some of them.

"Sorrowful", do not give up. I am sure you are within sight of your goal. All that effort cannot go unrewarded. My thoughts and prayers are with you. Surely you can call me up without saying who you are. My number is in the 'phone book.

"Modern Youth" you may be well-versed, you may have read a lot and studied, but you lack experience. Your parents are right, and it is better to recognize it now, than pay for it all the rest of your life. I am in deep sympathy with youth of this generation, and will enlarge on it in an article, not just for you, but for many that are puzzled as you are. Tell me what you think of it.

"A.H.S." could you not find a way out? Why let your best years slip away without doing something about it. If you would be more explicit I could help you more, but I do not know what you would like in place of what you have. No one reads your letters but myself. Do write again.

"Letty". You are too young to get into that "don't care" attitude. How are you going to stand up to life if you let one disappointment get you down like that? It may comfort you to know that thousands have felt as you do now, and in a year or so were able to laugh at it all. It isn't the tragedy you think it is, but I'll grant you it is not pleasant. Don't try to put it out of your mind, just substitute something else and there will be no room for it. I am in sympathy with you.

Thank you, Mr. K. for your comments. Am glad you get pleasure from the things I write. Experience comes with the years, so figure it out for yourself. Do write again, and thank Mrs. K. also.

To Miss M. and L. Thank you but I rarely go visiting although it is nice of you to ask me. I am too busy, not as strong as I would like to be, and have not been out now for six days. Couldn't make the effort. But, do thank your friends for all they say, and accept same yourself for the invitation.

"Two Young Men". Now what a thing to ask a lady. Don't you know we do not like to tell our age unless we are very young or very old? Just believe I am old enough to be your mother, but not your grandmother. How's that? Am so pleased you let me know my stuff is worth reading. Praise from young men is praise indeed. Thank you and do write again.

And now I am nearly at the end of my list unless for one more, who signs herself "Bitter." My dear, it is so easy to let ourselves get like that. So many things come along to hurt and take the heart out of us. But you are not alone. Maybe if you got out and mingled with others more, you would find many cases like yours, and many much worse. It's poor comfort I know, but it isn't what you suffer that counts most, it's how you bear it. Let me know how you make out. And now, time's up. God be with you all.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA

Second Fowl Supper Required to Satisfy At Bridgenorth

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BRIDGENORTH, Nov. 4.—The fowl supper held by Bridgenorth United church last Wednesday night was a splendid success financially as there were six hundred and twenty five present to enjoy the splendid supper prepared by the ladies of the community. The suppere was held in the church shed, which had been thoroughly overhauled and wired for lighting for the occasion.

Two hundred and fifty were able to be served at one time, making a record, as supper was over at 7 p.m.

An Thursday night following a ten cent supper was served and over one hundred attended.

The church is much indebted to the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough, who gave the entertainment on Wednesday evening. It was very enjoyable and much appreciated by everyone attending.

ONTARIO TO PROBE NEED OF INCREASE IN RELIEF GRANTS

one family were forced to live in a chicken coop was made by Councillor James Wilson of Scarboro', who pleaded that something be done for those forced to live under such conditions. He declared that there was a school attended by 1,000 children and that the building did not contain one sewer. Men could be employed in doing work of this and other kinds, he argued.

Scale Revision Urged.

The scale of relief needed a thorough revision, in the opinion of Mr. Murphy. The scale as it stood today was unfair because relief recipients received less for their money than they did when the amounts were fixed in 1932 and 1933. The scale varied in different municipalities, he pointed out. It ran from 70 per cent. of the Campbell report to 35 per cent. above the minimum fixed by the report.

"The position of the unemployed on relief is very bad," he declared. "The vouchers were set in 1932. Since that time food costs have jumped 40 per cent.

"In Brantford we realized, to speak frankly, that the Campbell report was ridiculous, and we changed the schedule," remarked Mr. MacBride.

"I think we have a legitimate grievance," insisted Mr. Murphy. "When the cost of living shifts, the relief scale should shift also.

Up to Municipalities.

"It is not entirely a matter for the Government," observed Attorney-General Conant, who presided in the absence of Premier Hepburn. "The municipalities have the say as to the scale."

"They want a lead from the Government," replied Mr. Murphy. "Relief can't be based on any other standard than that of a healthy existence. Toronto has to pay more for hospitalization than it does for relief. If conditions continue as they are, you will lose in the long run. An investment of $15,000,000 in public works, such as slum clearance, would provide employment and and give men a decent return for their labor."

George Harris, secretary of the Federation, gave several concrete instances of what he claimed was the "lop-sided" system of relief scales. In the Toronto area the voucher was 22 per cent. above the Campbell report. In York Township it was 35 per cent. above the scale in the report. Yet it cost no more to live in the township than it did in the city, he claimed. In Penetang the scale was 50 per cent. higher than it was in the Township of Tiny.

Rising Costs Sighted.

"Yet the residents in the township have to come into Penetang to buy their food," he declared. "It is impossible to buy as much for a dollar to-day as it bought two years ago."

Deputy-Reeve Ewart Humphries of York Township spoke of the situation of families on relief when one of the families was a wage earner. A family should be allowed to earn up to $10 without having a deduction made from the voucher, he said.

Attorney-General Conant thanked the deputation for their views and commended the speakers for the "able and restrained manner" in which they presented their case. The points they had outlined were pertinent and constituted a real problem for all Governments, he said.

"The Government is simply a trustee of the taxpayers' money and local municipalities and the Province have to reconcile relief needs with the position of the taxpayer," said the Attorney-General. "While you are asking me for an extension of relief to-day, to-morrow we might have a deputation asking that taxes be reduced. The Government will take these matters into consideration and the best solution of which we are capable will be made in the interests of all the people."

10,000 Pass Bier Of Dick Sheppard

By I. Norman Smith
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Nov. 4—(CP Cable).—An extraordinary tribute was paid to Canon "Dick" Sheppard last night when 10,000 persons walked past his bier in St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church.

Fashionable society people in evening dress, returning from theatres and restaurants, mingled with down-and-outs who were saying a final good-bye to the famous preacher before entering St. Martin's crypt for the night.

Stella Beatty, mother of Sedore, followed Blanche on the stand, and declared that Sedore was known to have money always. "I have known him to carry as much as $400 or $500," she said. Becoming anxious about the absence of her son, Mrs. Beatty visited Sedore's home at Easter, and, after breaking into his house, made inquiries of the neighbors, including Mrs. Woodman, wife of the accused man. When last seen, Sedore was going north for Christmas trees, she declared.

Cross-questioned by Mr. Simpson, witness declared Sedore kept his money, on one occasion, buried in a sock under a stone near the barn. He made his money by hunting and trapping and "working out," his mother testified, and had been known to sell deer during the fall.

A prize was also given to June Stinson for the best pumpkin head. Miss McBride had the school tastefully decorated for the occasion, and a fine program of music, readings and games arranged. At the close refreshments of candy, doughnuts and apples were served. Pretty sunshine baskets of fruit, candy, toys, etc., were sent to two sick members of the school, and candy was also sent to other small children in the community who were not present.

2 Plots On Stalin Bared At Trial

MOSCOW, Nov. 4 (AP).—Two attempts to assassinate Joseph Stalin, in 1933 and 1935, when he was vacationing at Sochi on the Black Sea, were recounted today at the trial of 13 prominent politicians of Abkhazian Republic.

The Tiflis newspaper, "Dawn of the East," reporting details of the attempts, said that shots were fired in 1933 at a boat in which the general secretary of the Communist party was cruising in Pitsunda Bay. The second plot failed when gunmen arrived too late at a place selected for ambush.

The politicians on trial were accused of taking orders from a Trotskyist centre in Moscow.

SUSPENDS DECISIONS GORDON APPEALS

Not New Fixed Assessment But Extension Of Old One Claim Of Alderman Gordon

Respective Counsel Must Submit Written Arguments To Court Of Revision

The Court of Revision confirmed last night the assessment of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club's property on McDonnel Street reserved judgment on the appeal of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, whose mill is situated at George and Dalhousie Streets, and also suspended their decision on Alderman Gordon's appeals against the fixed assessments of the De Laval Company and Canadian Raybestos Company until written argument has been received from their respective counsel.

J. D. Fitzpatrick and J. T. Braund represented the Lawn Bowling Club. The land is assessed at $2,700, the Club building at $3,000, a total of $5,700; the permit issued by City Engineer Parsons in 1929 estimating the value of the building was $6,000; and in 1935 the Court of Revision reduced the assessment on the property by $1,800.

"We have spent about $25,000 on the property, including the lawns, club house and tennis courts," Mr. Fitzpatrick said, "and it would no doubt pay us to tear down the building and put up one sufficient for our actual needs. We are not allowed to rent the building or we would be liable for business tax, and we can use the lawns only five months in the year. The property was only a swamp when we took it over, and since then we have found it difficult to carry on under the assessment on which our taxes are levied. We have never had any expectation of gain. The Lawn Bowling Club is a community effort to provide recreation for a large number of men and women. We bring a great many people to the city every year who probably wouldn't come otherwise. The South African bowlers visited Peterborough last summer because we have the accomodation for them, and I think every one agreed that was an advertisement for the city."

Mr. Braund said the Lawn Bowling Club should be regarded as a public building. Similar clubs throughout this district are supported by municipalities. Toronto provides twenty-five bowling greens at no cost except five dollars a year to those who play the game.

After hearing other points in favor of the Bowling Club, John A. Harstone, chairman of the Court, announced that no further reduction in the assessment could be granted at present.

Milling Company Appeal

S. H. Fleming of St. Catharines was present in behalf of the Maple Leaf Milling Company. Their property is assessed at $32,700, of which $30,000 applies to the building and $2,700 to the land. Mr. Fleming said the land was owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

W. A. Brown, office manager of G. Whitaker and Co., Limited, was a witness for the appellants. Replying to Mr. Fleming's questions, he said G. Whitaker and Company had considered acquiring the Maple Leaf Mill to be used mainly as a wool warehouse, but had been deterred by carrying charges which were excessive in comparison with an other building that was obtainable. The Maple Leaf company replied in June offering to sell the property at a sacrifice because it was no longer to be used as a cereal mill. A serious impediment to the purchase, which was still under consideration, was the city's assessment of the property.

H. J. McCannan estimated that the central brick section of the plant was worth about $5,000. A great deal of work would have to be done to convert it to the purpose of Whitaker and Company. The entire mill was valued by J. K. Sheehy at $36,000 as it stands equipped for producing flour, although the machinery would have to be taken down and cleaned. Mr. Sheehy said it was not of much value except for a milling industry, and because of high wrecking costs it hadn't much scrap value.

J. R. Corkey, City Solicitor, pointed out that W. J. Henry, assessor, had assessed the property as a flour mill. "It would be time enough to bring evidence to show that the appellants are entitled to a reduction after the building was changed into a warehouse. Until that is done I don't think the Court should interfere with the assessment." Judgment was reserved.

The Gordon Appeals

In the role of a taxpayer, Alderman Gordon appealed against the De Laval Company's fixed assess-

Surviving are two sons, William of Otonabee and Edgar of British Columbia; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Sedgwick of this city and Mrs. Stanley Hurl of Buffalo, Alberta, and two brothers.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Sedgwick, 498 McDonnel Street, to Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. M. C. Parr officiating.

YOUTH REMANDED ON THEFT COUNT

A 16-year-old boy pleaded guilty at police court this morning to breaking into the office of J. J. Duffus and stealing a sum of money said to be in the neighborhood of $67.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., explained to the court that the boy had been an inmate of the St. John's Industrial School and had been out on parole from that institution when the theft was committed.

Magistrate Langley remanded the youthful prisoner for sentence to investigate the possibility of his being returned to the Industrial school where there was a chance of his learning a trade.

The boy said that he had been learning printing in the institution. "Why didn't they leave you there?" the magistrate wanted to know when he was informed that the lad had been paroled at the request of his relatives.

The court suggested that after learning his trade the youthful prisoner might come back to Peterborough and get a job with The Examiner.

"Peterborough is too slow for him", remarked Chief Newhall. "He used the money he stole in this case to go on a trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

SECOND TRUCK IS NEEDED BY CITY

Aldermen Wilson and Dutton were appointed by the Property Committee of the Council on Wednesday night to obtain information about the kind and cost of an additional motor truck for the collection of garbage next year. Motorization of this Department has been an experiment sufficiently successful to warrant its expansion, according to members of the Council. The first truck encountered difficulties because of its width in driving through lanes. It is now suggested that another one be bought, and assigned to the west side of the river. Two trucks would be sufficient for the collection of the garbage from the main section of the city, and for next year collection in Ashburnham could be done by contract until the Council was ready for further improvement. The committee may decide to continue in 1938 as at present, but their decision may depend upon the information Aldermen Dutton and Wilson submit.

DEAN O'SULLIVAN 40 YEARS A PRIEST

Rev. Dean F. J. O'Sullivan, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, quietly celebrated to-day the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. A graduate of St. Michael's College, Toronto, and the Grand Seminary of Montreal, Dean O'Sullivan was ordained by the late Bishop R. A. O'Connor in St. Mary's Church, Campbellford, forty years ago to-day. For the first ten years he was appointed in succession to St. Peter's Cathedral, and the parishes of Grafton and Lindsay. Dean O'Sullivan was parish priest at Port Hope for twenty-one years, and last July he completed nine years as pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The splendid new edifice was the result of his inspiration and undertaking, with the co-operation of his parishioners, even during the depression, and contributes a striking note of beauty and majesty to the impressive group of buildings that stand out on the city's eastern hill.

CLIFFORD RUSSELL BAGS BLACK BEAR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 4.—Clifford Russell, who lives four miles north of Bobcaygeon, on the Galway road, bagged a bear on his property on Monday. Bruin was quite young and had a beautiful black hide. Other bears have been seen in that locality, and hunters are out in search of them.

A new Ford truck, the property of L. Garlabore of Minden, was completely wrecked at the Portage bridge, about one mile and a half north of the village, this week. The truck got out of control and plunged into the railing, knocking out several cement posts. The occupants received a shaking up.

Carol Boice, a pupil of West Guilford (Haliburton) School, was rushed to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital, Haliburton, Tuesday, following an unfortunate accident. The little girl slipped while coming out of the school and broke her leg. She has been a victim of paralysis and has been obliged to wear a brace for some time.

GETS MONTH'S SENTENCE

Lila York, who pleaded guilty at a previous session to a charge of vagrancy was sentenced by Magistrate Langley in police court this morning to serve a month in the county jail.

Given A Month For One Kiss

The bluest of blue laws was called into play at Blackrack, Ireland, recently, when Miss Julia Clarke, of Glasgow, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment at Dundalk, for embracing and kissing a man in public, in that seaside village. In this picture Miss Clarke demonstrates on a reporter (lucky guy) exactly the pose she assumed during enactment of her "crime."

VICTIMS OF PROGRESS.

Twenty-eight employees of the C.P.R. at Smiths Falls have been thrown out of employment, the Havelock Standard says, by changes in power equipment which permits fast freights running through from Toronto to Montreal without changing engines.

BANK CLEARINGS.

An increase over the corresponding week one year ago was announced to-day by the Peterborough Clearing House in the total bank clearings. For the week ending this Thursday the clearings totalled $763,991, and for the same period one year ago $708,902.

OFFICIAL COMING.

A representative of the Department of Public Welfare will visit Peterborough next Tuesday to consult with members of the Children's Aid Society, The Examiner was informed to-day. It was expected that perhaps the Deputy-Minister will come.

MORE TOYS NEEDED.

The first few toys toward the objective of 2,000 have been completed ready for distribution at Christmas in the Fire Department toy repair shop. Production is not yet in full swing, but will get under ac capacity within the next few days. More contributions of toys are needed from the community.

SUPPLIED MUSICAL PROGRAM.

At the Friday Night Supper Club held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening at which Denton Massey, M.P., gave the address, the musical part of the program was given by Ruth Fisher and Anna McLeod — "None But the Lonely Heart" and "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler. They received much applause. Piano accompaniments were played by Miss Marguerite Rome.

FACES TWO CHARGES

Charged with drunken driving and criminal negligence, the charges arising out of a motor accident at Lakefield on October 20 in which Wm. Brown of Smith township was seriously injured, Brock Wright of Peterborough was remanded for a week when he appeared before Police Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning. Wright's lawyer T. J. Carley, K.C., was in the Appeal Court at Toronto today and the case was adjourned on that account.

TO PAVE MARKET.

Market proposals early in the year have all boiled down to paving the outdoor square with provision for draining it, and this work is not likely to be undertaken until next spring. The weather has become too cold and uncertain for laying concrete. Water lying along the sidewalks has made conditions unpleasant for farmers, and the improvement is regarded as an actual necessity. James Brown, market clerk, reported that a farmer recently suggested, ironically, that he bring a load of gravel and spread it where he usually sets up his display truck.

JAILED FOR ASSAULT

Earl Lowes who at first pleaded not guilty to the charge of assaulting George Reid changed his plea this morning and was sentenced by Magistrate Langley to ten days in jail. The accused told the court that he had struck Reid after he had told the elderly man to stay away from his wife and had been informed by Reid that he would do nothing of the kind. It was pointed out that Reid was very deaf and probably did not know what had been said to him.

DOUGHTY PARTY LEAVES

C.P.R. HUNTERS.

GOING WITH THE HUNTERS

Alderman McIntyre is going to forget the worries of garbage collection and all the other irritations that sometimes crop up in the path of the chairman of the city's property committee, and for a week or so is going to tramp the bush in search of deer.

READY FOR HERRING

"Judge" Baker's versatile sportsmen who learned their stuff up in the rough country on the east shore of Clear Lake are going to turn their attention temporarily from "coon" hunting to rounding up the little herrings that are reported to be due with the new November moon that appeared Wednesday evening.

UNIFORM FOR CLERK

Jim Brown, the market clerk, is likely to blossom forth in a special uniform one of these days. Alderman Wilson says the uniform is not only distinctive, identifying the clerk, but also invests him with a certain air of authority. Nothing was said at the Property Committee meeting Wednesday night about who was to pay for the uniform.

AN UNUSUAL SPIDER

David Lehman, employee of the porcelain department of the Canadian General Electric Company showed The Examiner today a very large and unusually marked insect of the spider family that had been found in a shipment of English clay received at the plant. None of The Examiner's nature lovers was able to put a name on the strange insect.

OFF FOR THE HUNT

One of the oldest of Peterborough's hunting parties, the Ketcheum Lake party is off this afternoon for its annual chase after venison. The police department's most famous deer-hunter Sergt. Wm. Wigg is also preparing for his expedition into the northern part of Peterborough county. The R.C.M.P. may always get their man but Sergt. Wigg just as inevitably gets his deer.

CASE IS DROPPED

A vagrancy charge against a young farm laborer was dropped by the Crown in police court this morning and dismissed by the magistrate. At the same time the accused was reminded that if he were found again wandering around back lanes in the business section at an early hour in the morning he was liable to get into trouble. "If I went into the lane back of the post office at 3 o'clock in the morning and the police did not arrest me I would think there was something wrong," Magistrate Langley remarked.

GETTING RINKS READY.

When the first cold snap of winter comes, the City Parks department will be ready to provide free skating for local children. Boards are now being hauled out and erected on the usual free rink sites.

ERECTING SNOW FENCES

The Department of Highways is getting ready for winter with erection of snow fences at strategic points along the highways. Last year, the workers recall, they put up the fences unnecessarily, the winter providing only two or three falls of snow sufficiently heavy to drift.

SANG AT LONDON

Leonard Cooper of Peterborough was a contestant at the Canadian Musical Festival in London. The awards in the class in which he entered were given as follows: Boys' solo, under 10 years—John Dunsmore, Stratford, 88; Leonard Cooper, of Peterborough, 82; Leslie Connop, Stratford, 81.

AMERICAN HUNTERS.

Several carloads of American huntsmen have passed through the city in the past couple of days, bound for deer hunting locations to the North. Cars noted bore Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York licenses. One hardy group apparently had no lodge in view, as their destination, as their car was piled high with tenting equipment. They made a stop at the "In and Out" store, likely for the purpose of obtaining insurance against chills.

GIVEN ONE YEAR FOR THEFT OF CAR

Leslie Prangle, alias Pringle, alias Stewart, who gave his age at 24 years and said that he had been in Canada for eight years, coming from England, pleaded guilty at police court this morning to stealing a motor car, the property of Donald Wood and to the theft at Crowe's Landing of an automatic pin game, the property of Max Rishor. To a third charge of breaking into the storehouse of W. J. Young in Smith township and committing theft, Prangle pleaded not guilty and as the Crown offered no evidence the case was dismissed.

On the charge of stealing the motor car Prangle was sentenced to one year definite and six months indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory and on the other count was given three months definite and three months indeterminate in the same institution.

W. F. Huycke, K.C., who appeared for the prisoner said that Prangle was not very bright and that in the case of the motor car he claimed that he had not taken part in the actual stealing of it. Apparently there had been some sort of a joy ride in which two girls were involved and the car had eventually been brought back to within three miles of the city.

Crown Attorney McElderry pointed out that there had been an attempt to disguise the stolen car by painting it another color.

In sentencing the prisoner Magistrate Langley told Prangle that, coming from a country whose citizens are law-abiding, he had succeeded in securing quite a record here in short time. A married man of 24 years, he had been running around with other girls and committing crimes and it was time for him to realize where he was drifting.

Shot Goes Through Car's Windshield

BROOKLIN, Nov. 4. — An arrest is expected shortly, Provincial Constable W. H. Clark stated to-day, of the person who shot at Gordon Harvey, mechanic, when he was driving to Whitby on Friday.

The shot, which went through the windshield and missed Harvey, was stated to have been fired by someone ambushed near the cemetery on Highway No. 12, two miles south of here.

No reason has been advanced for the action, as Harvey is not in the habit of carrying large sums of money, although it may have been thought that he was carrying the day's receipts of the garage to his home in Whitby for safe-keeping.

PLEADED GUILTY TO THEFT OF HOSE

"I cannot speak for all the citizens", remarked Magistrate Langley in police court this morning, "but I feel that Peterborough does not want you." He was addressing John Cameron, a transient who pleaded guilty to stealing four pairs of silk hose from Zellar's store.

"I guess I am guilty", Cameron said when the charge was read. "I was pretty drunk at the time."

"I don't want any guesswork", returned the court whereupon Cameron said "guilty".

"You have been before me before", Magistrate Langley remarked. "Stealing, wasn't it?" and the prisoner admitted that such was the case.

"Did you go away after you served your previous sentence?" the court asked and Cameron nodded.

"Then why did you come back here?" Magistrate Langley wanted to know, adding his remark about the prisoner not being wanted here. Cameron was remanded for sentence at the request of Crown Attorney McElderry as the police want to make some further investigations.

HAS RIBS BROKEN AS AUTOMOBILE AND ENGINE MEET

LINDSAY, Nov. 4.—Mrs. E. J. Woolard, Bobcaygeon, met with a serious accident on Tuesday afternoon when she was returning from a visit which she made in Fenelon Falls. The accident occurred about 5.20 p.m. when Mrs. Woolard, after passing a car at Fords hill, did not notice an engine on the road ahead of her, as her vision was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. The oncoming car passed when Mrs. Woolard saw the engine about twenty feet ahead. She applied her brakes and at the same time swerved to pass the engine. The rear fender struck the heavy engine, causing a partial wreckage of the car. Mrs. Woolard suffered three broken ribs and body bruises. The traction engine which was hit, was owned by Mr. Howard Hilyer.

THREE CAVAN BOYS ON DURHAM TEAM

Cavan Township is providing four of the five young men of the Durham County judging team that will compete at the Royal Winter Fair. They are Ernest Brackenridge, Harry Kennedy, Gordon Fallis, Stanford Brown, and the fifth is Ivison Tamblyn of Orono. The judging team consists of three young men. Ed. A. Summers, representative of the Department of Agriculture at Bowmanville, said he had not definitely selected the three boys who will enter the judging ring, but all five of them will likely make the trip, two as alternates.

Mr. Summers said he could not account for the Cavan preponderance in this year's team, but he remarked that the township had always been well represented, and the farmers of that section of the county took an active interest in rural affairs and especially in the projects of the Department's representatives.

Lakefield's All-Round Scholar

An all-round scholar and athlete is Mary Blewett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blewett of Lakefield, pupil in the Lakefield High school. In 1933 at the Lakefield Public school she received a medal for the best Fire Prevention essay submitted in competition. Another honor was accorded her when she won the Duff Trophy for highest marks at Entrance, receiving free the books for the first year.

Her athletic achievements won her the junior cup for track and field in 1934, 1935 and 1936. When she again was the high point winner in 1937, officials found rules forbade presentation of the cup a fourth time and gave her a medal. A medal given by the Legion for the running broad jump is also one of her possessions.

Campbell Unlikely To Have Opponent

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (CP)—Conservative circles here regard it as unlikely the party will oppose Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario Minister of Public Works, in the by-election called in Sault Ste. Marie constituency.

"While I have not discussed the matter with the Sault Ste. Marie riding association, I have no desire to obstruct Mr. Hepburn in the formation of his government," said Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, who will have no Liberal opposition in the forthcoming Dufferin-Simcoe federal by-election.

Working as usual on our 120th Birthday

One hundred and twenty years ago there were only seven of us working on the staff of the Bank—a cashier, an accountant, a paying teller, a second teller, a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper, and a porter—that was the entire staff. Today we are more than 6000, in more than 500 Branches, all working to render modern, experienced banking service.

Our Bank's career has been inseparably woven into the career of the nation and every part of it. Founded in 1817, the Bank at once became a financial pathfinder for Canada's pioneers. Through all the intervening, eventful, growing years of Canadian life, our Bank has kept strong and efficient—by pursuing a policy of safety for depositors and by keeping our services always abreast of modern conditions.

In times of expansion and depression, in the best and the worst of economic conditions; through peace and wars, panics and political upheavals, Canadians have learned to rely upon the unwavering safety and banking assistance of the Bank of Montreal. Older than the Dominion itself, yet young as the latest sound business enterprise of Canada, we are working as usual on our 120th Birthday.

NOT NEW FIXED ASSESSMENT IS GORDON'S CLAIM

ment on the ground that it was an extension of the preceding fixed assessment and not a new one. He quoted the phrase "extension of the present fixed assessment" from a letter by W. R. Breyfogle, general manager of the company, to the council on November 2, 1932. For that reason, Mr. Gordon contended, the bylaw which was passed by the council and endorsed by the ratepayers, was contrary to the Assessment Act and the Municipal Act.

W. J. Henry testified that the present assessment of the company is $15,000 on land and $121,000 on buildings, and that the fixed assessment is for $60,000 except for schools taxes which are levied on the total of $139,000.

Mr. Gordon quoted an authority which he submitted to the Court in support of his argument that the Court of Revision had jurisdiction in hearing and dealing with his twin appeals. He said it gave him the right to go to the Court of Revision with a question relating to a bonus bylaw.

To F. D. Kerr, K. C., who represented the Company, Mr. Gordon, as a witness establishing his position as a ratepayer, said he had voted against the De Laval bylaw which he said became effective on January 1, 1933.

"Since then you have known of the existence of the bylaw?" Mr. Kerr suggested.

"Yes, but not that the people were so badly hoodwinked," Mr. Gordon answered.

When Mr. Corkery began to support the present assessment, Mr. Gordon said "I don't think the city should be in this at all."

"I know that the De Laval Company is ably represented," Mr. Corkery replied, "but the validity of a city bylaw has been attacked, and I think it is expected of me to be here to uphold the bylaw."

"Not unless you are expressly instructed to do so," Alderman Gordon said. "It would be different if the company was not represented by counsel."

Mr. Corkery.—The assessor is here to uphold the assessment he made.

Mr. Gordon—He's here merely as a witness.

Mr. Corkery—He is always here in the Court of Revision. Surely Mr. Gordon does not argue that the city should not have its representatives here to support its assessment.

Mr. Gordon—I say Mr. Corkery does not need to appear.

After that minor incident, Mr. Harstone announced the Court was willing to reserve judgment until written arguments had been submitted by counsel, and the Court had an opportunity to consult the authorities that had been quoted.

The Raybestos Bylaw

The assessment of the Raybestos Company is $8,500 on land and $73,000 on buildings, a total of $81,500, and the fixed assessment is $25,000, except for school purposes. Mr. Gordon's appeal was on the same ground that the new bylaw in 1933 fixing the assessment was simply an extension of a previous one, although there had been a lapse of several years. J. F. Strickland, K.C., appeared for the company.

"Did you take any action against the bylaw?" Mr. Strickland asked.

"I opposed it, but I couldn't do anything else. There was only one newspaper then," Mr. Gordon replied.

"Are there two now?"

"Well, it is a little different now." "There were additions made to the plant in 1933," Mr. Strickland remarked, "You investigated the bylaw."

"I probably read it over."

"You read that the company brought in new processes and needed new buildings?"

"I don't think I was acquainted with all that."

Mr. Strickland suggested that Mr. Gordon was actually the solicitor for the Raybestos Company prior to 1933.

"I had been in a way," Mr. Gordon replied. "When they were buying the property from Mr. Lundy, the company sent Mr. Simpson here, and he said I might as well register the documents."

"You knew the bylaw was ratified by the ratepayers."

"The Examiner was supporting it," Mr. Gordon answered, "and there was nobody to defend the ratepayers at all."

To Mr. Harstone, Mr. Gordon said his contention was that when a company had received a bonus for ten years they were not entitled to an extension or continuation of that bonus.

In a brief statement Mr. Strickland said Mr. Gordon had neglected to avail himself of a civil action he could have brought in the courts, the procedure he must have been familiar with.

"That is the compete answer," Mr. Strickland said. "The courts are open to him. In this case the formalities were all correct. The bylaw was ratified by the ratepayers and confirmed by the city council."

Mr. Strickland said Mr. Gordon has his remedy to take action in court within a year if he had desired to do so.

"My contention is that Mr. Gordon is now trying to cloak this Court with jurisdiction you have not got," Mr. Strickland concluded. "The courts are open to Mr. Gordon if he wishes to pursue this argument further."

Judgement was reserved.

The matter of purchasing the Presbyterian Church sheds has been discussed for the past two years, and up to the present time no council has been willing to take the responsibility of the purchase and when the matter is finally voted on it will solve the problem of where the farmers of Seymour Township will leave their horses when they come to town.

AGREES SO WELL WITH ALL BABIES

CARNATION MILK has made a special reputation in the case of premature and other hard-to-raise babies. But it also is specially good for all bottle-fed babies. It is so easy to digest, so safe, and has an extra amount of "sunshine" vitamin D. These virtues are the results of the way Carnation treats rich, whole milk—evaporation, homogenization, irradiation, and sterilization.

Carnation is also extra good for cooking and creaming. Try it. Write for these Carnation books. "The Contented Baby" is free. The Carnation Cook Book with full-page, full colour illustrations is 10c. Address Carnation Company Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

VIRGINIA SINGERS SCORE AT HASTINGS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 4—A musical concert of very high class was given in the auditorium of Trinity United church, on Saturday evening by the Virginia Jubilee Singers. The group consisted of Mr. Albert Yarbrough, 1st tenor; Mr. Theodore Tate, 2nd tenor; Mr. Wm. Crose, baritone; Mr. Roma Russel, bass; Miss Ruth Powell, soprano; Miss D. Nelson, contralto; and Miss Esther Gaskin, pianist and manager.

The program opened with the singing of "Oh Canada", "Exultation", by Burley, "Plenty Room," "Ezekial saw the Wheel," "Livings", and "He had to run."

Miss Ruth Powell pleased her audience with her high soprano solo "Lo, hear the gentle lark," by Bishop, and her encore was "The Wind" by Spross.

"The Dance of the June Bugs" was played by Miss Gaskin as a piano solo.

Miss Nelson sang a contralto solo, "Calm as The Night" with "A Little bit O' Honey" and as an encore "Keep me from sinking down, Jubilee Jubilee."

Mr. Russell received hearty applause when he sang "When the bells of the lighthouse ring" with an encore "Big Bass Viol."

The male quartette sang "Little David Story of the Tack", with encore "Pie Sona, So high."

The second part of the program was given with the group in plantation costume. "Come Along, Chil'un melody, Dar' a Jubilee." A tenor solo, "Without a Song" by Mr. Tate, "Can't you hear me calling Caroline."

"Swanee River" was sung by Miss Powell, and "Poor Mona," "Calliope" "Wagon Wheels," "Oh Ned" "Break dem chains", by the male quartette.

They concluded with their theme song "In my Father's House."

ABITIBI BONDS VALID.

GALA NIGHT FOR WARSAW KIDDIES

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Nov. 4—Saturday evening was a gala night for the children in Warsaw. Practically every child was out in some kind of costume, and some parents joined in the fun. They thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Wherever they went there was a hand-out. Mrs. George Taylor had a lot of tiny pumpkins and bags of candies, and each child received one. Some scattered their donations on the floor; children seemed to enjoy the scramble.

The young men had the village looking as though there had been some upheaval. A gate had climbed into a tree; gates were off and strewn everywhere. Some few people removed their own gates and put them under lock and key. There was one objectionable prank, viz., the sign at George Weller's barber shop was removed (broken in so doing) and placed on the Cenotaph.

Masquerade Party.

The masquerade party at Mrs. Donald Davis' home on Friday evening in aid of St. Mark's Ladies' Guild was not largely attended. Those who did had a very happy time. The children were all in costume, and endeavored to play up to their clothes.

Vivian Jackson, Earl and Creswell Tighe were in costume, and did some clever stunts.

There was progressive euchre and lunch. The party broke up in good time.

There was no church service in St. Mark's Church, but will be next Sunday morning. Neither was there service in the Presbyterian Church on account of anniversary at another charge. The Baptists had their afternoon service.

The young people led the service of praise in the United Church. Their special numbers were: "Serve the King" and "Strong in the Faith." The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed.

Mr. Robert Tighe came home on Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Tighe and their two sons, Creswell and Earl, also her sister, Mrs. Christopher, started on their trip to Florida, Mrs. Christopher's home. Mr. Tighe accompanied them as far as Toronto.

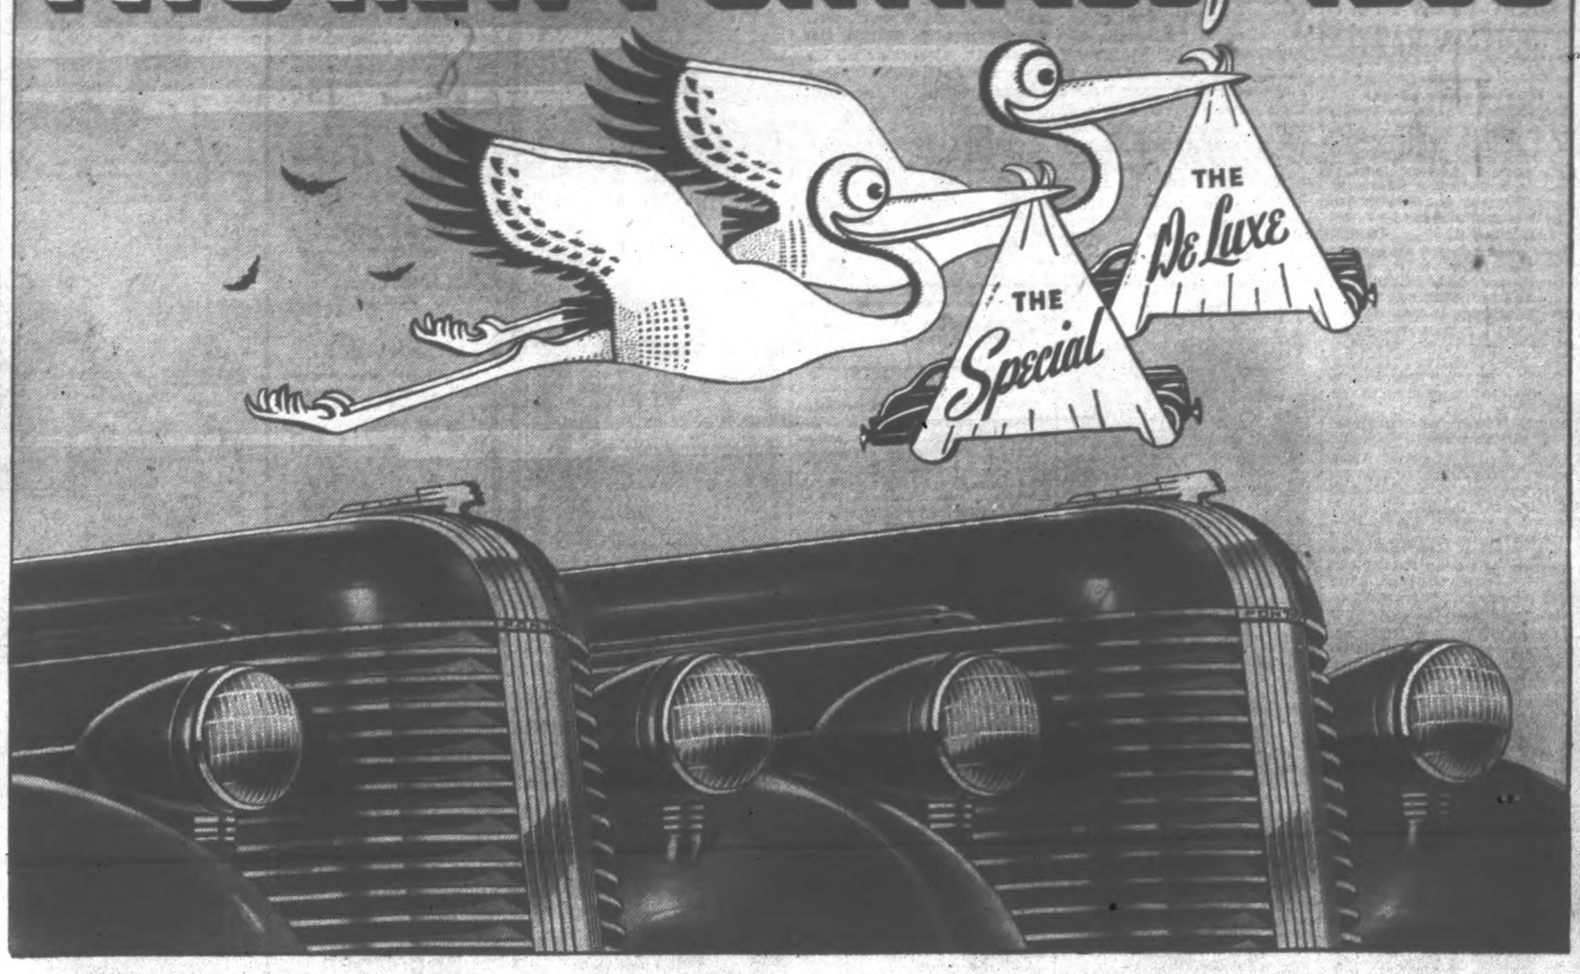
TWO NEW PONTIACS for 1938



BETTER LOOKING.. BETTER BUILT.. 1938's BEST BUY!

LAST YEAR, Pontiac startled Motoring Canada by announcing one of the finest Pontiacs ever built, at the lowest prices in history. Pontiac repeats for 1938. Heir to a famous fine car line are these two 1938 Pontiac models. A new, De Luxe Six . . . an All-Time High for Value! And a new, thrifty Special Six . . . priced at an All-Time Low!

Twin values to amaze Motoring Canada! Sheer beauty to take it by storm! The new, more striking "Silver Streak" styling of the new Pontiacs reflect character and distinction from bumper to cowl. Both cars are a symphony of flowing lines and sweeping contours . . . graceful, speedline silhouettes. Both give the silence, safety and riding comfort of new Unisteel Turret Top Bodies by Fisher. Both provide new handling ease . . . effortless power . . . lightning "getaway" . . . top performance . . . and matchless thrift! And a ride smoother than words can describe!

Exclusive to all Pontiac models is the new SAFETY SHIFT Gear Control that makes Pontiac a joy to drive. Shifting can be done with a flick of the fingers without removing a hand from the wheel. Never was a front seat more perfectly "built for three". There's no gear shift lever to "tangle" the legs of the middle passenger. Even the emergency brake is under the cowl. Floors are level and unobstructed, both front and rear.

See these great new Pontiacs! Take a ride and be convinced that for 1938 Pontiac again outvalues the field. Ownership can be conveniently arranged through the General Motors Instalment Plan that provides monthly payments to suit your purse.

Howie Jr., Holds Spotlight As Tribute Paid To Late Father

As a fitting tribute to the late Howie Morenz of the Montreal Canadiens, who died last spring from a sudden heart attack, a combined team of Montreal Maroons and Canadiens played a team of all-stars, selected from the six remaining N.H.L. teams. The proceeds will be presented to the wife and children of the late "Stratford Streak", who passed on at the height of a great comeback. During the game, the hockey equipment of Morenz, which is seen on the table in the (ABOVE) picture, was auctioned off, and purchased by a prominent Montreal sportsman for $500, then turned over to Howie, Jr., young son of the hockey immortal. "Babe" Siebert, star defenceman of the Canadiens, can be seen (LEFT), signing a cheque as Howie Morenz, Jr., watches the proceedings along with Tommy Gorman, of Maroons (extreme LEFT); "Cy" Wentworth, also of Maroons ,and Cecil Hart, Canadiens' manager. The young son of hockey's greatest star is seen again at (RIGHT) as he occupies a position on the Montreal bench during the game played at the Forum in Montreal.

LAKEFIELD SCHOOL TEAM TIES P.C.I. EXHIBITION BATTLE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 4. — Despite snow and sleet which fell in no half-hearted manner during a large part of the game, a fair-sized crowd of spectators turned out to witness the struggle between the Peterborough Collegiate Institute rugby team and the Lakefield High School gridders.

They witnessed nice clean rugby with the teams fairly evenly matched, and both sides fighting hard. The final score was 6-6, the points being made in the first half.

P.C.I. had a decided edge on the play in the first quarter, when Gillespie, the Collegiate half-back, carried the ball about eight yards to score the first touchdown of the game. The touch was converted by Maldaver, which point completed the Collegiate's scoring.

During the second quarter, Lakefield High showed marked superiority over their opponents. They forced the play down to their opponent's five-yard line from where Stew Lloyst carried the ball over the line for the villagers' only touchdown. Lloyst was able to convert his own touchdown and tie the score, which ended the counting.

Play Evenly Divided

Play during the last half was pretty evenly divided. L.H.S. resorted to kicking and to the forward pass ,and though they did some nice kicking, failed to gain yards in almost every case. Their chief strength proved to be in line plunging, with Quickley and S. L. Loyst excelling. Kendall and C. Birch formed the fluctus of Lakefield's attacking. Kendall, who is new to the game this year, putting on a beautiful display of tackling.

P.C.I., who found plunging somewhat ineffectual, resorted to end runs, and these coupled with Maldaver's trick plays, gained yards consistently for the visitors.

Neither team, however, was able to press their advantage to the point of scoring; though P.C.I. was within a few yards of the L.H.S. goal near the end of the fourth period; the home team was able to force their opponent down the field and avert the danger of a Peterborough score.

Two Lakefield players were injured during the game, and at least one P.C.I. player knocked out.

Jack Kirkwood of Peterborough acted as referee.

The teams were:

P.C.I.—Flying wing, MacPherson; snap, McMann; insides, Scott and Dwyer; Middles, Ainslie and Douglas; outsides, Freeman and Northcott; quarterback, Maldaver; halfback, Gillespie and Scriver; alternates, Gillespie and C. McWilliams.

L.H.S.—Flying wing, Julian, Morin; snap, Don. Smith; insides, Windsor, Kendall; middles, Ken. Morris and G. Stabler; outsides, C. Birch, G. Tanner; quarterback, F. Loyst; half-back, John Quigley, Stew. Loyst and Jack Morrison; alternates, Bob McCracken, Bob Brown, C. Abrams.

HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL
(Copyright, 1937)
Central Press Canadian

HOLLYWOOD.—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer held the first press preview of Garbo's "Conquest," now seven months in the making and reported to have cost well on to two million dollars.

Greta Garbo

Before the show Freddie Bartholomew stole the spotlight by arriving in his first pair of long pants. The photographers wanted him to take off his coat but he couldn't, because, at the last minute, his shirt-sleeves had proved too long and he had cut them off at the shoulder.

The picture itself. Everyone liked it. "Conquest" is colorful in its pageantry and moving in its love story. The hero, Napoleon, and the heroine, Countess Walewska, are consummately brought to life by Boyer and Garbo.

Thoughts on leaving the theatre. For the first time in her career, the Swedish star is overshadowed by another player. But Napoleon was hard to top. . . . No other actress could have come as near to it. . . . Garbo's artistry is superb. . . . Must be the despair of lesser stars. . . . She does look tired, though. . . . Marie Ouspenskaya won't be easy to forget as the aged countess whose wandering mind makes her live in the days of Poland's glory. . . . Next to Boyer and Garbo, she is most impressive. . . . Did the film have the emotional impact of "Camille"? . . . Don't believe it did . . . But a great picture.

Hiding in the back row at the preview was Hollywood's No. 1 Napoleon admirer, who has long considered doing the role himself—Charlie Chaplin. With him was Paulette Goddard. They were both loud in their praises of the film. Charlie asked us who directed it. We told him Clarence Brown and he lauded Brown especially.

He made one suggestion about cutting the picture. Here it is and M-G-M is welcome to it.

There is a wildly barbaric scene where the Cossacks raid the Polish castle of Garbo's husband. They ride their horses into the house and rip things to pieces. A troop of lancers drives them away. Their leader proves to be Garbo's brother whom she has not seen in years. The reunion is coy—with the brother chasing the shrieking Garbo around the room to pull her hair.

That shift in mood, says Charlie, was too abrupt. Should come out of the film.

We try to get the comedian to talk about his own picture, but he is evasive, as usual. So we ask about Paulette's plans.

"Whatever they are," says Charlie quickly, "they are identical with mine."

Did we fancy it, or did Paulette make a gesture of annoyance?

Anyway, it now appears she will play in Charlie's picture, when and if he ever gets around to making it.

Half Of Chicago Hawks' Team Born On Own Side Of Border

Coach Stewart Says Players Will Do Less Fiddling Around With Meaningless Passes

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (C.P.). — They laughed when Major Frederic McLaughlin announced his intention of giving Chicago an all-American club in the National Hockey League, but the Black Hawk owner is ready to ice a team that is half home-bred.

Seven of the players who will start the long campaign against New York Americans here to-night (Thursday) along with the coach who will direct them, were born on this side of the border.

Coach Bill Stewart, former hockey referee and a major league baseball umpire who will be receiving his baptismal fire as an N.H.L. club "whip-snapper," is a native New Englander. Burly Alex. Levinsky, born in Syracuse; Louis Trudel of Salem, Mass.; Mike Karakas, Aurora, Minn., and Doc Romnes, White Bear, Minn., are players who were with the Hawks last season when they finished in the cellar of the leagues United States section.

Three Newcomers.

Swelling the all-American ranks, Cully Dahlstrom of Minneapolis and Oscar Hansen, a North Dakotan, are up from the American Association, while the seventh player is Vic Heyliger of Concord, Mass. Hansen led the A.A. scorers last season with St. Louis Flyers, running up 69 points. Dahlstrom also had a "hot stick," bagging 48 points. Young Heyliger has just turned professional. He captained the University of Michigan team last winter.

The chunky, aggressive Stewart, succeeding Clem Loughlin, promises the fans "a real show." There will be less "fiddling around with meaningless passes than there has been in some Hawk games of the past," the new coach says.

"Though there will be much more shooting, I'm not going to lose sight of the value of formal manoeuvres. So far we have taken a few leaves from the Cook brothers and Frank Boucher in the days when they were clicking for New York Rangers. I think we have the kind of men who can also make those plays produce goals."

How They Line Up.

Drills indicate Stewart will have these combinations working when Hawks open against the Amerks: Goalkeeper Karakas; Earl Seibert and Marty Burke on one defence, Art Wiebe and Levinsky on the other; Paul Thompson, Romnes, and Mush March, first forward line; Johnny Gottselig, Trudel and Glenn Brydson, second line; and Pete Palangio, Dahlstrom, and Bill Kendall on the third unit. Hansen and Heyliger will be held in reserve.

Stewart expects March and Romnes, handicapped by injuries in 1936-37, to have great seasons. He also claims the Chicagoans will know the rules and won't have so many offsides called against them. Bill ought to know—he's been on the other side of the hockey fence for a long time.

Remember When—

Only the old-timers will remember when Bob Fitzsimmons won a 20-round decision over George Gardner for the light-heavyweight boxing championship of the world 34 years ago to-night at San Francisco. It was billed as the first battle for the title in that division, but actually Gardner won the crown with a 12-round knockout over Jack Root at Fort Erie, Ont., four months earlier.

IRISH DROPPING PITT FROM LIST

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Notre Dame battling Pittsburg on the gridiron has been one of the high spots of the football season for the past seven years, but it'll be no more after Saturday. The two schools are terminating football relations after Saturday's game in South Bend and there won't be a vacant spot on Notre Dame's schedule until 1942 and maybe not even then for Pitt.

The reasons why Pitt is being dropped from Notre Dame's schedule are vague. Notre Dame authorities say that readjustment of the schedule and signing of 3-year contracts with Georgia Tech beginning next year and Iowa beginning in 1939 failed to leave a spot for Pitt. Outside sources intimate that Pitt's policies have deviated too far from Notre Dame's the past few years.

One thing and another make this "swan song" game a grudge affair. Pitt has beaten Notre Dame four out of the five last years, but last year's game in which the Panthers cuffed the Irish around, 26 to 0, will not soon be forgotten by the South Bend boys.

All Coach Elmer Layden will have to tell his players before they go into action Saturday is, "Remember last year at Pitt."

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

BY J. C. PERDUE

TWO GOOD rugby games are billed for this Saturday afternoon in Riverside Park between Bowmanville junior and senior squads and the P.C.I. teams. Plenty of wide-open thrilling football should be served up, and we expect the junior joust to be the barest fought. Coach Jackson's local lads have an outside chance yet and they hope to reverse that close score by which they lost three weeks ago in the Rubbertown. Coach Bamforth's smart senior Garnet and Grays, unbeaten yet this year, expect to add another scalp to their belts, but look for a lively squabble first. We hope the rough stuff that marred the games between these teams in Bowmanville is curbed here day after tomorrow. The homesters that day bumped the P.C.I.-ers around plenty, we're told, but the Peterborough players didn't kick. They fought back all the way.

ORFUNS OPEN their intermediate "A" O.R.F.U. playdown series against Trenton Fliers at the airport this Saturday afternoon at 2.30 sharp. Return joust being here the following Saturday, points counting on the round. The local squad has heavy drills tonight and tomorrow and will take a full team to Trenton, leaving the "Y" at 11 bells Saturday morning. Reports are that the Aviators are pub-lenty potent and figure on just a-rollin' over the Petes in this serial. But there is an air of grim confidence about the Orfuns and we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see 'em knock off the Fliers right on the flying field. We'll know more about it Monday.

* * * * * *

PROSPECTS for a big crowd of fans at the pro rasslin' show here tomorrow night in the Brock St. arena are bright and a fine three-bout card is promised by Promoter Bob Morley of Windsor. He tells us his stable of grapplers have been drawing swelegant turnouts of cash customers all through Western Ontario on account of they turn on the heat every minute and keep the ladies and gents who view proceedings yanked to their feet with excitement frequently. Guess the matmen in this circuit don't pull their punches, according to report, and they'll shoot the works here so as to build up for return bouts. Lots of fun at some of these rassle shows.

* * * * * *

IN THE main bout, two in three falls with a 90-minute limit, "The Great" Balbo tangles with one Tuffy Cleete, reported so tough he is afraid to look at himself in a mirror—and therefore gets shaved in a barber shop! In the semi-final, also two out of three falls, Tony Bommarito—who hates himself and all the world—mixes with Dick Merrill, a mean mauler from the far west. The prelim is a one-fall affair betwixt Jim Pappas, a Grecian grappler, and Bill Thornton—once a noted U.S. collitch gridder. Not having seen these behemoths biting the ears off each other before, we won't go on record for 'em—but ye promoter says fans can't go wrong by seeing this big mat program.

OFFICERS WERE elected for the puck season last eve at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club, and plans made to raise some do-re-mi for needed equipment. A number of prominent citizens were named honorary officers, while the following active officers were elected: Prexy, Rollie Glover; first vice-president, Harley Weir; second, Charlie Cummer; secretary, Jim Dorris; treasurer, Ernie Wolff; executive is likely to be: Ott Cranfield, H. Kiefer, Ches Mowry, Pete King, Jim Gillespie, Bill Prindible, the officers suggesting these names. Frank Buckland—who is sick at present—will again coach the Petes and Colts. Shorty Burgess is manager of the Colts, and the Petes' pilot will be named later. Bert McLeod and Pick Hines were appointed honorary coaches. The names listed above should be a guarantee to players and fans here that the O.H.A. teams of Peterborough will be well taken care of. These are first-rate puck officials.

* * * * * *

THERE WAS a good turnout at the meeting, including many of the prospective players. Plans were made to run a draw and stage a dance on Armistice Night—more info on these matters again. A bit of talk on possible groupings, but nothing can be done yet. May enter the Colts in the S.P.A. series in Toronto if the entry will be accepted for a pre-seasonal round of competition. Also may get an exhibition tilt or two for the intermediates. Physical training commences in two weeks at the "Y" and will be two or three nights a week till there is ice. May be ice at the Brock in about a month from now. The Hockey Club will again sponsor the Junior City Hockey League, Bill Prindible looking after the minor loop, and efforts will be made to start it earlier this winter. And that's all for the present.

* * * * * *

AND TONIGHT in Toronto and Chicago, the big N.H.L. schedule commences. With the pro pucksters battling for months to eliminate a couple of teams. Detroit Red Wings, Stanley Cup holders, play the young Leafs in Toronto—game being broadcast over CKCL at nine bells. Chuck Conacher, by the way, is captain of the Torontos this season. The N'Yawk Amerks open in Chicago this p.m., and the Amerks come to Toronto on Saturday. A lot of new faces will be seen in the various club lineups this year and, no doubt, interest generally in this classy circuit will be easily as high as in other years. Maybe more so.

* * * * * *

SOME CREDIT should be shoved in the direction of the Blue Bombers of Lindsay. Though the ex-champs of the group only won one game—to start the season 'gainst Eastsides—they stuck in there and battled hard all the way. And came into the group on a frayed shoestring and with a skeleton squad. With players failing to turn out most of the season for practises. Furthermore, the players dug down in their own jeans to pay for meals on road trips—showing amateurism, unlike chivalry, is not yet dead—and ended the season with 10 simoleons to the good! A remarkable showing, though the club did get a break in having three tilts at home before being called upon to travel. Two service clubs supplied transportation. The Bombed Ones' only regret at the finish was their failure to trim the Orfuns at least once.

* * * * * *

DESE, DEM and dose: Prices for the rassle show here tomorrow eve are 75c, 40c and 25c—the latter for ladies and children . . . . Jim Dorris, new secretary for the local Hockey Club, was secretary for the Petes' ball club the past summer . . . . Straffordville took a 4-1 win over Sunderland yestiddy in the first of the final series for the O.B.A.A. intermediate "C" title . . . . Larry O'Connor, Cobourg's great hurdler, may not represent Canada at the B.E. Games in Australia next February; owing to his studies . . . . Oshawa junior gridders go to Lindsay Saturday, with P.C.I. playing there a week later . . . . What Church Cage Loop games are on Sat'day? . . . . Ches Mowry is tops in our book when it comes to running a draw for prizes . . . . Trenton Fliers want officials Sat'day from down Kingston way, but the locals insist on Toronto arbiters . . . . "Well," remarked Nero as he roamed while his fiddle burned, "it looks like a hot time ahead for someone!"—but Dan Whetung says no.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Hibbing, Minn. — Fred Lenhart, 177, Minneapolis, knocked out Johnny Erjavec, 173, Duluth, Minn., (3).

Clancy Likes Him

MEL CAREY

According to King Clancy, coach of Montreal Maroons, Mel Carey, who recently signed with Montreal Royals and who guarded the nets for Toronto Dominions last winter, is only a short step away from N.H.L. competition. Clancy is very keen on the former Toronto boy, and predicts that he wouldn't be surprised if Mel were wearing an N.H.L. uniform before long.

FROWNS ON U.S. PLAN

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4 (CP).—Jim McConaghy, first vice-president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, said Wednesday he was not in favor of a plan to send players from the Orillia, Ont., Terriers and the North Vancouver Indians to play in a Southern California League this winter.

McConaghy was referring to a recent proposal by Frank Sheeny, Hollywood promoter, that several players from other Canadian teams go to Southern California this winter and form the nucleus for a four-team league there.

The commissioner said he believed the Ontario Lacrosse Association would turn the proposition down.

HAMILTON HOLDS LEAD IN BATTLE PLAY-OFF BERTH

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—From a field that looked as even as any in years before the start, the jewel that is consistency has lifted Toronto Argonauts into a long lead in football's Big Four, unbeaten and untied, Hamilton Tigers, Montreal Indians and Ottawa Rough Riders are trailing and struggling for the second playoff spot.

Because the Argos already have reached the final, their doings in the last two weeks of the schedule will be important only as they eliminate or qualify other contenders. The Scullers visit the Indians this Saturday and are at home to the Tigers next week.

Hamilton, with two wins over the Indians and a defeat by each of the other clubs, holds the upper hand in the battle for the second and last playoff place. Montreal has beaten Ottawa, lost to Toronto once and to Hamilton twice. Ottawa has beaten Hamilton, lost to Montreal once and to Toronto twice.

A Determined Threat

On the basis of ground gaining, Montreal has the best record of the three. Because they were champions last year, the Riders must still be counted a determined threat. But the Tigers have a two-point lead in the standings and that— as they say in Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal and Ottawa—is where they pay off.

The complications possible in the last two weeks are a matter of higher mathematics. Hamilton can qualify by winning both its games, but otherwise there's a muddle of possibilities featured by a three-place tie which would evolve from Ottawa beating Hamilton and losing to Montreal, Hamilton losing to Ottawa and Toronto, and Montreal losing to Toronto and beating Ottawa. To get really involved, try inserting a couple of tie games into the picture.

RETIRES FROM HOCKEY

MONTREAL, Nov. 4 (CP).—Leo Gaudreault, former National Hockey Leaguer with Montreal Canadiens and minor league star with Providence Reds of the International-American loop and Minneapolis Millers of the American Association, announced Wednesday his retirement from hockey.

Under pressure of business, the slim 34-year-old French-Canadian said he was forced to decline an offer from Minneapolis for his services this season and will remain in Montreal.

Unexercised Option On Broadcast Of Series Cost Ford $100,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 4—(AP)—Henry Ford paid $100,000 for option rights to sponsor the broadcast of the last World Series, but declined to exercise his option, it was announced Wednesday.

Major league baseball, however, split up the motor magnate's $100,000. Ford, it became known, contracted for the option last summer, but at the last minute declined to exercise it.

The sum he paid, however, swelled the series receipts to $1,085,994. The players' pool, as a result, was increased from $417,205.97 to $459,629.35.

Bowmanville Here In Football Twin

A rugby doubleheader is billed for here this Saturday afternoon in Riverside Park. Bowmanville teams play the P.C.I. junior and senior squads in C.O.S.S.A. scheduled contests to wind up the home schedules for the Peterborough outfits. Coach Bamforth's senior Collegians expect to chalk up another victory over their Rubbertown rivals, but Coach Jackson's local juniors will find a tougher task in trying to subdue the Bowmanville second squad. They lost a close one away to this team earlier in the season and have hopes of pulling out a win this time over the same gang.

Both local school teams have been drilling hard and are in fine shape The coaches hope to field full lineups for these tussles. The P.C.I. seniors see safe with the group leadership while the local juniors still have an outside chance of copping their group title, being tied with Lindsay now but behind Bowmanville by a game. The C.O.S.S.A. contests always provide plenty of open, interesting rugby, and these games should be no exception. Another good crowd of grid rooters is expected to take in this twin bill on Saturday here.

DELANEY WINS BOUT

LONDON, Nov. 4 (CP Cable).—Al Delaney, Canadian heavyweight boxer, last night outpointed Norman Baines of Great Britain in a colorless ten-round scrap at Harringay Stadium before 7,000 fans.

Although giving away more than forty pounds, Delaney easily earned the decision over his opponent who is also known in fistic circles as Pat Barry.

National Hockey League Opens Tonight At Toronto–Chicago; Leafs' Defense Is Problem

Earliest Opening Date in Twenty Years Of Major Circuit Hockey

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (C.P.). — Crowding into football's time zone more than ever, professional hockey, the fastest game in the world and the most profitable in Canada, flashes on to the sports stage tonight for its 1937-38 season.

At Toronto and Chicago the National League will stage the earliest opening in its 20-year history as the world champion Detroit Red Wings meet Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Americans play Chicago Black Hawks. Last year the schedule started on November 5.

Over the next six days other teams will swing into the schedule gradually, Montreal Canadiens appearing last as they meet Black Hawks in Montreal next Tuesday. The 192-game schedule doesn't end until March 30, giving eager fans in seven cities almost five months of the sport.

In that time about 120 young men, most of them in their twenties, will be paid salaries ranging from $3,000 to $7,000 and perhaps more to settle the questions that are plaguing earnest fans.

Important Question.

The most important of these is whether Red Wings will capture their third straight world title, something that hasn't been done since Ottawa's famed silver seven won the Stanley Cup for the third straight time in 1905.

Some fans are certain there isn't anything in the league to prevent Detroit doing it, but it should be remembered that they finished last season's regular schedule only six points up on Boston Bruins, and that it took everything they had to beat Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers in the playoffs.

Another matter for speculation is whether King Clancy, newly-appointed coach of Montreal Maroons, can infuse his veteran players with enough of the Clancy drive to make them a potent Stanley Cup threat. Those who have seen the King crack the whip in training camp are betting he will.

The fans are wondering, too, whether Toronto Leafs' untried defence will stand up and whether Eddie Shore will return to his old form after a serious injury and lead Boston Bruins to their first cup vitory in 10 years.

The Toronto Defence.

It probably will be months before any of these questions is answered conclusively, but to-night's games may give some indication of what Toronto's defence is like, whether Red Dutton's collection of stars and castoffs are imbued with the famed Dutton "keep punching" philosophy and what Bill Stewart the referee-turned-coach, has been able to build at Chicago.

With brittle-boned Charlie Conacher all in one piece and Syl Apps an outstanding star in his second year, Leafs look great up front, but Clancy is not on the defence as he was at the start of last season, and Happy Day is gone to Americans.

Without Clancy's leadership and the steadying influence of the veteran Day, Toronto's defence cannot be as strong. Manager Conny Smythe is depending upon Red Horner, Jimmy Fowler, Red Hamilton, and Bob Davidson, a wingman he has converted for defence duty. Only Horner has more than a season of N.H.L. defence experience.

Wings Strong As Ever.

Detroit, on the other hand, doesn't seem to have a chink in its armor. Doug Young and Larry Aurie are back with the legs they broke last season in good shape, and every other unit in the machine that won the world title last spring is clicking nicely under the finished coaching of Jack Adams.

Even with the rebuilding Dutton has done Americans aren't impressive. In goal they have Earl Robertson, the youngster who made good as a substitute for Norm Smith of Detroit in the Stanley Cup games, and Day and Johnny Gallagher of Detroit have been purchased to bolster a weak defence.

Depend on Front Line.

But their main hope of survival lies, as it has for two years, in the line made up of Art Chapman, Lorne Carr, and Sweeney Schriner, the league's leading scorer for two seasons.

Stewart's leadership may make a great difference at Chicago, but his new material is untried. He must place his reliance on the line made up of Doc Romnes, Mush March, and Paul Thompson, and the defence play of Earl Seibert and Marty Burke. He has a steady second line in Louis Trudel, Johnny Gottselig, and Glen Brydson, but any games the rest of them win will be that much gravy.

Helen Wills Moody Turns Professional

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—(AP). — Helen Wills Moody, whose long-time reign as Queen of the World's Tennis Courts covered a period from 1923 to 1935, has agreed to accept a professional contract and make a country-wide tour this winter.

Final arrangements, The Associated Press learned to-day, hinge only on the question of obtaining a suitable opponent for the famous Californian.

The prospects are that Mrs. Moody will make her professional debut in Madison Square Garden early in January, and that her playing rival will be Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, the husky Polish girl who was runner-up to Anita Lizana of Chile for the United States singles title.

It is understood that Miss Lizana, as well as two American stars, Alice Marble and Helen Hull Jacobs, turned down professional offers during the quest of New York promoters for the party of the second part.

Watch Out For That Right, Mr. Apostoli

Freddie Steele, world's middleweight champion is seen here in an odd shot as he leads his left right into the camera's lens. Steele is training at Madame Bey's camp at Summit, N.J., for his title bout with Fred Apostoli on November 12. The bout will be held in New York.

O'CONNOR TO MISS AUSTRALIA GAMES

COBOURG, Nov. 4 (CP).—Judge L. V. O'Connor told the Rotary Club Wednesday his hurdling son, Larry O'Connor of University of Toronto, would not represent Canada next February in the British Empire Games at Sydney, Australia.

The Canadian 120-yard hurdles champion, in his fourth college year, felt the extended overseas trip would interfere too seriously with his studies, Judge O'Connor said.

Best hurdler ever developed in Canada, O'Connor placed fifth in his specialty at the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, and was counted on as a probable winner in Sydney. He set a new Canadian record of 14.3 seconds this summer.

No Place In Hockey For Wedding Bells

LONDON, Nov. 4—(CP).—Romance has no place in hockey, according to George Redding, the former Hamilton, Ont., player who is coaching Earl's Court Rangers in the National League. He has made each of his players sign a pledge not to get married during the hockey season.

Bobby Lee of Montreal, Earl's Court centre, who put off his wedding in Canada to sail for England, has had to cable his fiancee in Montreal not to come over. They were to have been married here soon.

Redding explains that he considers that players should concentrate during the hockey season on winning games to the exclusion of anything else. There is nothing like a bride, he thinks, to take a player's mind off hockey.

TOO MUCH SUGAR

Having grown too much sugar, plantation owners of Costa Rica have asked the Government to permit them to ship some of the sweet to other countries.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

(By Bradley.)

INFANT PRODIGIES.

It is no rarity in these days of specialization in sport to see some infant prodigy rise to the top like a shooting star, burst in a flame of unbelievable brilliance, then fade and die.

It is a sport truism that the youngsters who are so amazingly gifted in their youth seldom maintain their ability on reaching maturity. As a general rule, adolescence robs them of their agility and skill, and it is seldom regained when the youngster has reached man or womanhood.

Consequently it is a sport oddity when we see an especially gifted youngster reach maturity and still retain his or her effectiveness. Bobby Jones, considered by many to be the greatest golfer the world has known, was looked upon as a prodigy in his youth. He was an accomplished player when only nine years old, and entered his first tournament at only fourteen.

Jones was not alone in his remarkable feat for in widely separated instances we may note others who shone in their infancy continuing to star as an adult.

R. M. Glover President Of Local Hockey Club

Officers Elected And Plans Made At Annual Meeting Of Puck Organization

R. M. Glover was re-elected president of the Peterborough Hockey Club at the annual meeting held last night in the Chamber of Commerce. About 30 puck enthusiasts sat in at this session, which dealt mostly with appointing officers and making plans to raise finances before the playing season commences. A number of prospective players were on hand.

Honorary Officers named were: Alex Elliott, M.P.P., J. J. Duffus, M.P., Mayor G. A. Macdonald, C. A. Salmonsen, Gordon Matthews, Hugh Campbell, Vern Dawson and Chris Graham; other officers elected were: President, R. M. Glover; first vice-president, Harley Weir; second vice-president, C. S. Cummer; secretary, J. J. Dorris; treasurer, Ernie Wolff; honorary coaches, Bert McLeod and Pick Hines; coach, Frank Buckland; junior team manager, Bert Burgess; intermediate team manager to be named later. The officers will elect an executive, these names being submitted: Bill Prindible, Pete King, Jim Gillespie, H. A. Cranfield, Ches Mowry and H. Kiefer.

To Run Draw

It was decided to run a draw for good prizes, officers and players selling tickets and the draw to be made before Christmas. This was to enable the club to raise money for pre-seasonal expenses. An Armistice Night dance will also be staged by the Hockey Club at the Brock St. rink. The executive will work out further details regarding these matters, and further announcement will be made shortly.

There was some discussion re groupings but nothing can be done until the annual meeting of the O.H.A. A suggestion was made that, if possible, Peterborough might be included in an intermediate "A" group with Oshawa, Trenton Fliers and Kingston. The local juniors may be entered in the S.P.A. series, if it can be done. Some exhibition games will probably be lined up before the schedules commence. Indoor training will commence in about two weeks at the "Y" for prospective players, drills being three nights a week. The rink will be flooded as soon after Dec. 1st as suitable.

The Hockey Club will again sponsor the Junior City League, with Bill Prindible as chairman. Don Charlton of the Church League asked to have this league started early this winter so that Church League teams would not be held up in organizing. He was promised as much cooperation as possible. The meeting then adjourned.

U.S. Pros Advise Montague Remain 'Mystery' In Golf

Horton Smith And Others Say Mority Is Not Best In His Art

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Now that John Montague is looking for cameras in place of running away from them, what about his golf game? What do the professionals think of him? Taking all those fantastic yarns out of Hollywood at their face value, you would suspect that the money players would be running for cover. Didn't supposedly competent critics say that Montague could outdrive Jimmy Thomson and outputt Horton Smith? As a matter of fact, P. Hal Sims, quite a golfer in his own right, asserted that the erstwhile phantom of the fairways seldom putted, so perfect were his approaches.

But the professionals refuse to be stampeded. Indeed, those among them who know and like the charming fellow advise him to remain mysterious in golf while and if it is possible for him to further capitalize on the Montague myth.

"Wasn't it rather ridiculous—that Paul Runyan business some of the reporters fell for head over heels?" asks Horton Smith. "Has Montague proved his ability as a golfer? Not by my idea of a test. Has he beaten the topnotch pros? I've seen Montague play and I've seen better. He's good, all right. He has pretty good form—better than I expected—and power."

Not Even the Super-Trickshotter

"It was not the rave reviews of his trick shots—it was those about his golf game that got me. It's one thing to shoot hot rounds when they mean nothing. It's another thing when you're under pressure. Wait until you see what Montague can do against topnotchers when the chips are down before you go ga-ga about him. Montague, in my opinion, is not the super-golfer."

Montague isn't even the super-trickshooter, according to both Smith and Harry Cooper. Along that line, they contend that the squatty man so widely ballyhooed as the Goliath of Golf can't touch Joe Kirkwood. Montague is no stranger to many of the professionals. A few of them knew who he was all the time. Those who met him and didn't know his identity, respected the fact that his private career, if any, rightfully belonged to himself. They sensed that there was an unmentionable chapter or two in his past.

That is the most amazing thing about the fantastic Montague story—how the wild, and to put it mildly, sometimes careless young man from upper New York state could so successfully masquerade for seven years. The development of both himself and the fabulous tales built around him are explainable, although such stories could come only from Hollywood.

Can't Pose in Tournament

Montague virtually grew up on golf courses, and, in 1928, when he was 21, served briefly as a professional at Clayton, N.Y., and later at Thendara in the Adirondacks.

But in Hollywood nothing was said about Gene Sarazen playing Montague for 5, 5 and 5 last year and finishing the afternoon with $15 of the supposed Miracle Man's money. Olin Durta beat Montague on virtually every occasion. The pros wanted to back Wiffy Cox against Montague two or three years ago to the extent of $5,000 but the Wonder Boy reneged after demanding and being given a handicap.

Somehow these reports didn't get around. Hollywood had built its own star, and didn't intend to have him knocked down.

Montague turned in a fine job of posing for seven years, and maybe he can successfully continue to do so out there in the land of make-believe. He already clearly has demonstrated that all of the saps do not come from Syracuse. But the professionals advise him to stay in his own league—in golf. You can't pose in an open tournament.

"The Great" Balbo To Wrestle Here

Local mat fans will see one of the brightest stars of the light-heavyweight division and a potential challenger of Maurice LaChapelle, the champion, when they look at "The Great" Balbo, swarthy Italian, in the main event of the opening mat card in the Brock St. arena, Friday evening.

Balbo's rise to stardom was meteoric. He came to the States unheralded and unsung and a mediocre matman as the grapplers measure up on this side of the big pond although he had won many victories in his home country.

Without an effective method of attack he looked like just another wrestler. However, he proved to be a smart matman and started out to find a hold suited to his style. He tried several before he found one he could use and it was the flying tackle which he finally decided on.

He now has developed that hold to a point nearer perfection than any other light-heavy since this method of attack was brought to the mat from the gridiron. Without the background of having been a college footballer, Balbo soon mastered the battering ram attack and now hurls his foes high in the air with it as did the tacklers of the gridiron before the flying tackle was legislated against.

Balbo has now won over 50 matches with it and seems to be unstoppable. About the only thing that halts him is a missed tackle and a headlong plunge. He drives so hard that when he misses he usually lands in the front row seats. He has several scars to show for those he missed earlier but now seldom misses his man. He meets Tuffy Griffiths here.

PROPERTY:
The property, consisting of approximately 325 acres, is located three miles from Marmora, in Hastings County, Ontario. A complete steam-driven mine plant has been installed, together with all necessary buildings and equipment, with development progressing under the competent direction of an experienced mining engineer.
The Company is particularly fortunate in that its present incline shaft now being deepened to 150 feet extends on the main vein and it is anticipated that each day's development will produce worth while mining news.
It was only after extensive study of old reports by Professor E. J. Chapman of the Toronto University, R. P. Rothwell, M.E., and others, together with further present day extensive examination of the property, metallurgical and bulk sample tests of the ore that Ackerman Gold Mines was formed.
A bulk sample of three tons of ore that had been exposed to weathering was taken by Col. C. H. Ackerman to the Canadian Straub Co., Montreal. Tests made there returned a yield of more than $100 per ton of concentrates on a ratio of four to one.

DEAD RECKONING

BRUCE HAMILTON

CHAPTER 28.

Then a week-end intervened between Adam's queer actions. Tim spent it as he now often did, in London, and on Monday morning h. drove straight from town to his surgery. He did not exchange more than a dozen words with Adams during the day. Since Esther's death he had formed the habit of taking his lunch in the town, and as he had arranged to dine informally with Harold Arkwright at an early hour in the evening, he did not get back to The Wilderness at all until a little after half past 10.

As he crossed the gravel drive after putting away his car, he noticed that the light was burning in the billiard room. He hung up his overcoat and went along to investigate. Going through the little conservatory connecting the main building with the billiard room, he became aware of the click of the balls. It gave him a most curious feeling—as if he were an intruder in someone else's house.

He opened the door. As he had surmised, it was Adams. The shaded lights were concentrated on the green cloth, and Adams was about to make a stroke. He could not have failed to hear the noise made by Tim's entry, but he made no sign. He completed a cannon from hand, which left the balls bunched together against the top cushion, and only then looked up.

"Good evening, sir," he said. "Hope you don't mind me having a knock up?"

His voice was rather thick. Tim at once realized he had been drinking. Yet his manner was not disrespectful. But it was peculiar; it was as though he had been warned into a conditional geniality which he would maintain so long as nobody crossed him. He was smiling, but there was a watchful look in his eyes suggesting that for all his good fellowship, he was ready to take offence on the smallest provocation. Tim had encountered a good many drunks of this type in the army, and he knew how to handle them. It was certainly no time for recrimination, unless he was prepared for a scene.

"Glad to see you enjoying yourself, Adams," he said mildly.

"That's all right, then." Adams moved round to the top of the table, chalking his cue and frowning at the balls. "Trouble about this crop cannon, it's a gamble," he said. "You may find a dozen nurseries on, or you may run into a cover, like this here."

He raised the butt end of his cue. Now for some people it is genuinely possible to play a better game of billiards when slightly under the influence of liquor than when sober. The loss in exactitude is compensated for by the increase in confidence, which is more than half the battle. But the masse shot, the most difficult in the game, requiring the most delicate precision in execution, is not subject to this rule. Adams made a sad mess of it. The end of his cue skidded off his ball and came into violent contact with the baize. The cloth was not cut, but the cue tip came off.

"Blast!" said Adams. He dabbed at the cloth with his finger. "That's always liable to happen. . . . Look here, it's no fun playing by oneself. What d'you say to a couple of hundred up, sir? I'll give you a hundred."

Tim realized he had to play or have a row. Physically tired, he shirked an encounter with the man in his present condition. He would defer a consideration of the larger aspects of the situation until tomorrow.

"All right," he said. "Will you break?"

"O. K." replied Adams. He selected another cue, squinted down it at arm's length, and ran it half a dozen times through his fingers. "Pleasure to play on this table of yours," he added, with condescension. "It's old, but real class. Not that you couldn't do with a new set of cushions. But you can play real billiards on it, not like The Goose Quill. I've always said so."

"You know it of old, then?" said Tim.

"Lord yes. Must have played on it hundreds of times. When you were out to dinner, mostly. You didn't know that, did you?"

"I can't say I did."

"Always left it in apple pie order, though. Nothing for you to complain about. . . . Look here, Mr. Kennedy, we'd better have something on it. Quid about your mark? Or 10 bob?"

"I would prefer 10 bob." Tim's role of good-humored indulgence was becoming harder to sustain. "I don't claim to be in your class, you know."

"Well, I'm giving you a hundred." They played for about 10 minutes. Then, after making a break of 27, Adams reversed to the servant. "Can I get you a drink, sir?" he asked. "Thirsty game this."

"Not for me, thanks," said Tim. "But help yourself."

"Thanks, I will." There was a decanter and syphons in a small cupboard in the room. Adams helped himself to about four fingers, and splashed in a little soda. "Here goes!" he said.

It was Tim's turn. He shaped to make an easy in off the white to a top pocket. "Here, wait a minute," said Adams. "If you play that shot you'll only have the white left to play with. Take the red, left-hand side low down, not too hard, and you'll have a nice game on." Tim tried the shot recommended. His ball rocked in the pocket but did not fall.

"Hard cheese," said Adams. "Trouble is you got on too much. That's what's wrong with you inexperienced players. If a shot needs side, you always try to crowd on too much."

They played on. Adams continued to give advice, but Tim generally broke down when he took it. He began to realize that this was his opponent's intention. The advice was good for a player of a fair degree of skill, but it usually involved playing a hard shot for position in preference to an easy one for a certain score, and Tim was just not good enough. All the same, he did fairly well, pushing his score forward by little breaks of 10 or so, while Adams seemed to have lost touch and broke down at the simplest shots. When the score stood at 150-69 in Tim's favor, Adams grumbled. "Can't get going at all. . . . Look here, I like being up against it, what d'you say to doubling the stake?"

"All right," Tim replied complacently. It occurred to him that he had Adams where he wanted him; that last drink had clearly put him off his game, and it was a good opportunity to teach him a lesson. . . . He would return the sovereign the next morning, and in an atmosphere of magnanimity he would be able to administer a very necessary reproof.

But now an unpleasant change came over the game. Adams began to play his shots with a new certainty; he made a break of 10, and then one of 35. Directly the balls ran awkwardly he closed the game up with a safety shot. Tim

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S WOLF FACE.

"Oh, but I'm glad you came!" mewed the Bob Cat as he hurried to open the door after he thought he had seen his friend the Fox looking in at the window. "So very glad!"

"Yes?" spoke the Fox, false-faced Uncle Wiggily outside the door speaking as near like that Bad Chap as he could. "Yes?"

"Oh, yes!" purred the Bob Cat. "And I'm SO [illegible] How did you get Uncle Wiggily to come along with you?"

"Oh, that was no trouble," said Uncle Wiggily Fox. "He just hopped right along with me."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bob Cat.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, but the Bob Cat thought it was his friend the Fox.

"Well, I'll join you at the feast in just a moment," mewed the Bob Cat.

A Trick

No sooner had he opened the door than Uncle Wiggily, who had picked up a club in hopping through the woods, stuck the end of it in the soft and tender ribs of the Bob Cat and twisted it hard.

"Oh! Oh! Oh! Ha! Ha! Ha! Tee-hee! Tee-hee! Tee-hee!" laughed the Bob Cat. Sto-sto-sto-stop it, Fo-

B-4

This must be magic!"

Fo-Foxie! You're tickling me to-to spa-spa-spasms!"

"Am I? Well, maybe I am," said Uncle Wiggily still wearing the false face of the Fox and twisting the club in the Bob Cat's ribs. Then the Bad Chap laughed so hard he fell down.

"Happy Hallowe'en!" cried Uncle Wiggily as he hopped away and taking off the false face so the Bob Cat could see who he really was in the gleam of the firefly lantern.

"Oh, you fooled me! You fooled me!" mewed the Bob Cat who couldn't quickly get up because his legs were tangled. "This isn't Hallowe'en!"

"It's MY Hallowe'en!" laughed the rabbit as he scurried off through the woods, seeing his way by his bottle filled with Spring lightning bugs.

He hopped on a little farther, and put on the false face of the Wolf. He had three false faces his rabbit children had been playing with on the night they celebrated Hallowe'en which was Saturday.

"Now let me think how I can fool the Wolf," whispered Mr. Longears for there yet remained that Bad Chap to trick. "I have it!" laughed the rabbit. "I'll make him think he has come to call on himself."

Surprise.

Hopping softly to the den of the Wolf, Uncle Wiggily looked through a window into it wearing the Wolf's false face. The Bad Chap was sitting by the fire, wondering what he could have for supper besides air, when he heard a tapping on the window.

"Who is there?" he growled.

"You are!" said Uncle Wiggily, growing as much like a Wolf as he could. "You come to pay yourself a visit."

Seeing the firelight shining on the face of a Wolf looking in at him and not knowing it was Uncle Wiggily with a false face, the Wolf howled:

"Oh, woe is me! There I am outside and here I am inside! This must be magic! Oh, woe!" Then he jumped into bed and pulled the covers up over his head. And Uncle Wiggily laughing heartedly at his Hallowe'en fun, hopped to his hollow stump bungalow.

"Hallowe'en is passed, but I played some tricks at last," Mr. Longears hummed to himself.

And if the foot of the stairs doesn't try to put on a horse shoe and dance with the gold fish, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's pink nose.

HOG PRICE SLUMP BLAMED ON SLASH MADE BY BRITAIN

OTTAWA, Nov. 4 (CP)—Inability of Canada to maintain her bacon exports to Great Britain in recent months has been met in part by increased British quotas to foreign countries, with a resulting decline in the British price for Canada bacon of about $3.80 a hundredweight, the Department of Agriculture disclosed today.

Canadian bacon exports to Britain fell from 42,408 live hogs weekly in May and June to 21,513 weekly in September and 25,513 weekly for the first three weeks of October.

To meet this slump in Canadian exports, Britain increased her foreign bacon quotas by about 3,000 long hundredweight (112 pounds) weekly from Sept. 15 to Dec. 31.

Then from Sept. 30 to Oct. 22, the British price on Canadian bacon dropped about 17 shillings, from 98—100 shillings a hundredweight to 81—83 shillings, the department reported. This decline had a direct effect of reducing hog prices to producers in Canada. The department, however, feels further price declines are unlikely.

Seasonal reductions in both Canadian and British home supplies and declining consumptive demand in Britain due to high prices are held partially responsible for the British board of trade increasing foreign bacon quotas. (The Canadian quota, set by the 1932 agreement, remains at 280,000,000 pounds a year, which has not yet been reached.)

HIGHER SHIP RATE IN FORCE JAN. 1

MONTREAL, Nov. 4—(CP)—Advances in transatlantic freight rates within the jurisdiction of the Canadian freight conferences will go into effect on January 1, W. C. Sproule, secretary of the conferences, announced to-day.

A "general revision" of transocean freight rates is now under consideration by the conferences, Sproule said.

"Most of the changes will become effective on January 1, 1938, and will show advances in the present rates," he said.

They are necessary, he said, to "bring earnings in line with operating expenses, which have increased greatly during the last few years, and recently very sharply." For a number of years, he said, carriers in the Canadian service had suffered severe losses; and even with many full-cargo sailings now, earnings did not meet expenses and provide for replacements and "reasonable interest."

"In revising rates," the secretary said, "they are not attempting to take advantage of the present tramp situation and scarcity of space, but rather to make prudent adjustments consistent with the cost of maintaining services."

Specific commodity rates "unduly depressed" in the last few years would have to take greater increases than others.

World freight rates on sea have been increasing rapidly in the last six to eight months, Sproule said in explanation of the proposal. In many cases, tramps with no regular schedules had been chartered at rates "far in excess of regular liners."

CONSTABLE FRACTURES RIB

HAMILTON — Constable Irwin Shaver suffered a fractured rib early today when the top of a nine-foot fence he was attempting to scale gave way.

In company with Constable Harry Allan, he answered a radio call to investigate a report a man was seen entering an alley beside the Canadian Meter Company's premises. It was while he was attempting to scale the high fence at the rear that he suffered the injury to his left side.

Woman Flier Lands, Sets Record

Looking fit as the proverbial fiddle after her long flight, Miss Jean Batten, famous New Zealand aviatrix, is pictured in the cockpit of her aeroplane at Lympne, England, after she landed to complete a solo flight from Australia and set a new record of five days, 18 hours, 15 minutes. Miss Batten's new mark clipped more than 14 hours from the old, set last May by H. F. Broadbent.

DEAD RECKONING

realized he had been fooled. The knowledge made him angry, and roused all his pertinacity. He still held a substantial advantage and he would win in spite of everything.

He began to play with great care and deliberation, giving back safety for safety. After a little fencing of this kind Tim was surprised to see Adams pick up the balls and spot them. "Here, what are you up to?" he protested.

"I'm spotting 'em," said Adams with a grin. "That was the third consecutive miss, you should have played at a ball that time. . . . Go over and read the rules of you don't believe me."

Tim said nothing, but concentrated the more. A little later he fluked on all-round cannon, which left him well placed at the top of the table. He got to 17, and seemed good for some more, when a clatter caused him to miscue. Adams had dropped his cue. . . .

"Here, I'm real sorry," said Adams. "Can't count that; I put you off. Spot 'em and carry on." The generosity was more apparent than real. Tim had lost a good position, and was confronted with the long white loser from hand, a shot he never found easy at the best of times. He was upset, and missed badly. Thereupon Adams took charge, and ran out at 200-182 with an unfinished break of 40 odd.

Tim paid up with as good a grace as he could muster.

"Thanks," said Adams. "You didn't do so badly, but I guess I taught you a thing or two. One has to pay for experience, you know." His grin was familiar and definitely unpleasant.

"Well, I'm going to bed." Tim tried to regain a little authority, as though the whole affair had been a studied condescension. "Put on the cloth and close up, will you, Adams?"

Adams nodded.

"All right, you go to bed. Thanks for the game, we must have some more."

Tim went out without replying.

CADET DANCE IS COLORFUL AFFAIR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Nov. 0.—The Hallowe'en masquerade dance, under the auspices of the local Cadet Corps, and held in the Armouries on Friday evening, was largely attended, many from out of town being noted among the guests, the event proving a most enjoyable and successful occasion.

With decorations of the usual Hallowe'en type, and quite attractive, and with practically all the guests in costume, the party was a colorful affair, the judges for the costumes, Miss Jessie Andersbn, Messrs. Andrew Widdis and Norman Earle, having some difficulty in coming to a decision. The winners were finally announced as Miss Helen Collins, of Port Hope, for the best lady's comic costume; and Miss Betty Bullock, of Port Hope, for the best lady's fancy; Clifford Wood was given first place for the men's comic and the men's best fancy costume was won by a visitor from Port Hope who did not remove his mask, and whose name was not announced.

Music was provided by the Serenaders' Orchestra, three lighted pumpkin heads on the piano, being one of the decorative features. Lunch was served at midnight under the direction of Lieutenant B. B. Dawson, and with a number of the Cadets assisting. The proceeds will be used to augment the Cadets' rifle fund.

FRUIT, VEGETABLES TO BE INSPECTED

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—(CP). — For the protection of the consuming public, the Ontario Department of Agriculture is establishing a system of inspection of shipments of fruit and vegetables throughout the province, Hon. P. M. Dewan, minister of agriculture, announced today.

The first of a series of inspection points has been established at "Sunset Camp" near Gravenhurst where all shipments of fruit and vegetables moving into Northern Ontario by truck must be submitted for inspection. This move resulted from complaints about the quality of produce going into the North country, but the inspection system will soon be extended to cover the whole province.

There are some 111 Dominion fruit and vegetables inspectors in Ontario, but until now their authority only allowed them to inspection shipments leaving the province. Now, however, they have been appointed Ontario inspectors as well and may check on all produce intended for sale in the province. In giving them this authority the minister acted under the provisions of the Ontario Farm Products Grade and Sales Act. Other inspection points will be designated at an early date.

TRIAL RUMORS WILD MAN LOOSE NEAR FLINTON

China, Japan Request Hitler To Act As Umpire In War

High Nazis Hopeful of New Colony Attitude If Germany Steals March on Powers, Ends Strife

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Germany fully expected today to steal a march on the Brussels conference, which she declined to attend, and settle the Chinese-Japanese war herself.

Preliminary informal requests from both China and Japan for Chancellor Hitler to act as an umpire in their four-months-old conflict were regarded by Germany as so bona fide that Hitler, according to a source close to the chancellery, ordered diplomat Joachim von Ribbentrop to return post haste from Rome to undertake preliminary negotiations.

German sources conceded considerable time might yet elapse before an official announcement of Hitler's pivotal role could be made.

Snags May Spoil It.

They also admitted the fortunes of war might so turn that plans for mediation would have to be postponed. But they were fully convinced if anyone could settle the Far Eastern difficulties as an impartial outsider it was Germany. While making no secret of her friendship for Japan, the Reich at the same time has been careful to maintain good relations with China.

Moreover, China is indebted to Germany because of the German military experts who have aided her and because Germany has renounced all claims to extra-territoriality for her Nationals in China.

Before accepting the role of mediator, however, sources close to the Chancellery said Hitler wanted to make absolutely sure that his judgment would be accepted unquestioningly.

Discussing the projected action with several German publicists, this writer found high hope that the German colonial question would assume an entirely new aspect, favorable to Germany, as a result of the Chinese-Japanese bid to Hitler.

Reported Wednesday.

EMPIRE NATIONS ONLY CUSTOMERS CANADIAN SHELLS

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP).—Canada's exports of arms and ammunition are comparatively small, it was shown to-day in the first reports compiled under legislation providing for the licensing of such exports.

In the three months the licensing provisions have been operating, August, September and October, $178,181 worth of goods have been checked by the Department of National Revenue. Of this amount, however, $104,488 was made up of aircraft and parts of aircraft of a non-military type.

Aircraft of any kind may be used for military purposes but there was no shipments under the Department's classification of equipment, "adapted or intended for military or naval reconnaissance or for aerial combat by the use of machine guns or artillery or for carrying and dropping bombs."

Argentina was Canada's best customer for equipment subject to license and aircraft. All ammunition shipped went to countries of the British Empire.

The licensing requirements became effective July 31. In the three months' period Argentina bought goods valued at $86,436, the United Kingdom, $68,001; United States $17,546, and smaller shipments, totalling $6,197 were made to Australia, Newfoundland, Brazil and Mexico.

50 Permits Issued.

Exports were made under 50 permits issued by the Department. Amendments to the Customs Act made at the last session of Parliament prohibited the export of arms or munitions of war except under license and gave the Governor-in-Council power to prohibit the export of certain articles to certain destinations. Pursuant to the latter provision, shipments to Spain have been banned.

Leading items were: Aircraft (non-military) $89,376, of which $80,956 went to Argentina and $4,420 to the United States;

Ammunition, $73,194, all projectiles and small arms ammunition and all to Empire destinations, $67,921 to the United Kingdom, $4,411 to Australia and $867 to Newfoundland;

Aircraft propellers, fuselages, tail units, undercarriage units and wheels, $12,837 of which $6,432 went to the United States, $5,480 to Argentina, $550 to Brazil and $375 to Mexico;

Aircraft engines, $2,275, all to the United States.

Prospectors for oil last year drilled 74,000,000 feet of holes in American soil, sufficient to bore clear through the axis of the earth and halfway back again.

PROPOSE TORONTO HAVE OWN DAIRY

TORONTO, November 5—(CP).—Toronto housewives went on to-day with their plans to organize and combat increased milk prices, strengthened by promised support from the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council.

At a meeting last night, the council pledged itself to see that Mrs. Bertha Lambe, originator of the movement, was provided with a hall for an organization meeting next Monday night.

"We women who have husbands getting small salaries are faced with a difficult problem," she said, in an address to the Labor meeting. "Prices are going up; salaries stay as they were."

Milk was a necessity and not a luxury, she contended, and the price should remain cheap. She suggested the city should own its own milk supply.

"The organization I am forming is non-political. The only qualification anyone needs to join is to be a housewife."

The Ontario Milk Control Board approved a cent-a-quart increase in milk prices. The new prices of 13 cents a quart went into effect Monday.

Oil is being sought in the city of Roma, Australia.

GHOUL WARNING TELLS FAMILY TO QUIT TOWN

Streetsville In Fear; Children Are Guarded

STREETSVILLE, Ont., Nov. 5. — (CP).—Another note purporting to be from the Streetsville ghouls who stole a body from a grave here a few weeks ago sent Provincial and local police on the hunt for the ghouls with renewed zeal today.

Pinned to the door at the home of Mrs. A. J. Crawford last night was a note in an envelope. It told Mrs. Crawford to take her children from school and to leave the town or else ——. Mrs. Crawford said the rest of the note was undecipherable.

Town Constbale Roy Elderfield guarded three Crawford children on their way to school today. The eldest child, Mary, is ill at home. The Crawford family said several threatening notes were received by their daughter at High School, arising, they allege, from jealousies among the students.

Inspector G. McKay, criminal investigation department, Provincial Police, joined local police authorities today. Local police authorities said: "We think we're close to the end now."

"Ever since these notes have been passing, the whole town has lived in fear," said Mrs. Crawford. "You are afraid to go out on the streets at night, not knowing who might jump out at you from dark places."

Chops His Hand Off, May Use It Again

Brielle, N.J., Nov. 5 (AP)

Mills was chopping wood when the axe missed its target and struck the hand, lopping it all but off about the wrist.

That made a job for Dr. J. Bruce Henriksen. He wired the severed bones together, sewed back the flesh, and said unless infection set in Mills would be as handy as ever with his left.

Caretaker Gave Evidence Against Board Is Fired.

Sequel To Action To Recover Damages For Ops Township School Pupil

LINDSAY, Nov. 5 (Special to Examiner). — Harold Gilson, who was the plaintiff in an action against School Section No. 2, Ops Township, to recover damages because of an injury sustained by his daughter Shirley, who had the sight of one eye impaired when a piece of broken glass fell from a pane in the window of the library, expressed himself in no uncertain terms when he learned that a day or two following the trial, when he was awarded compensation and his daughter damages, that the young fifteen-year-old caretaker of the school, Hazel Robertson, had been dismissed from her job.

"Hazel was summoned by me as a witness and she could not, whether she wanted to or not, refrain from giving evidence in court. It was not her fault she was called into court. She gave her evidence truthfully. It is small business to dismiss her. As a matter of fact, her father was the caretaker, at $8.00 a month, and he gave the money to Hazel; who looked after the school. She was simply asked by the secretary to hand in the keys. I intend to go further and if necessary I will call a meeting of the ratepayers and the trustees to talk the matter over."

Gordon Byrnell, one of the trustees, stated: "Yes, we asked that the keys be handed in. We do not think Hazel should have given evidence against the school. It was time for a change—things had not been very well attended to in some cases."

Henry McCausland, secretary of S. S. No. 2: "The fact that the window pane was broken was not known to the trustees. It was never reported by the caretaker or inspector. Besides, Hazel gave very strong evidence against the School. I called and got the keys from her."

POLICE BUDGET LOW

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 5—(CP).—Windsor police will not only have to fight crime for the rest of 1937, but they will also have to struggle against a thinning budget. The grant for the year was $226,365, but only $3,870 is left to pay for gasoline, clothing and incidentals until the end of December.

No Cash, Ring, Liberty But He Gets Wed

Belleville, Nov. 5 (CP)

STEVEN Woods, sentenced to a month in jail for theft, to-day was back in jail a married man. He was given time out yesterday to get married.

Released temporarily, Woods realized he had no wedding ring. Police solved that. They loaned him one on A. Febear, Woods' friend, also charged with theft. Then Woods remembered he had no money to pay the minister. A friend righted this. After the ceremony Woods went back to jail.

Long, Cold Winter Indian Warns

ORILLIA, Ont., Nov. 5 (CP). — Other weather prophets may think otherwise, but aged David Simcoe, full-blooded Indian of the Rama reserve near here, stoutly maintained yesterday that a long, cold winter is in prospect.

Simcoe said the fox has a heavy coat of fur this fall, always, he argued, conclusion proof of a severe winter ahead. The muskrat has built his home in deep water, the squirrel has stored up a big supply of food. "Unless old mother Nature herself has been fooled," Simcoe added, "I think we will have a cold winter all right."

A widower aged 95 and a widow of 77 were married in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Tons Of Nephline Syenite And Sodalite Being Shipped Out Weekly

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 5. — Haliburton County, adjacent to Algonquin Park, noted for its timber wealth, and of late years a growing resort for tourists with its 500 named lakes and 500 unnamed lakes, is beginning to be a source of minerals. Oiybdenite, graphite, radium water have been prospected for and the district adjacent to the Village of Gooderham, in Glamorgan Township, is the first district in Canada to produce nepheline syenite, and, in addition, tons of sodalite every week.

Farmers have not abandoned the soil, but many have decreased their activity with the pitchfork and the plow to take up the pick and shovel and prospect on their own behalf. Mining prospectors have been visiting the country for years and many districts have been carefully combed.

J. A. Fraser, of Galt, Ont., has developed the nephline and sodalite business to a remarkable degree. Since July last he has been shipping to the United States 200 tons, or four cars, of sodalite weekly. For three or four years past he has been rock-drilling and using compressors, employing a dozen men.

It has been discovered that nephline syenite takes the place of feldspar, used extensively in the glass industry in the United States. It tends to make tougher glass. Nephline has never been used before in the manufacture of glass, according to Mr. Fraser. It is from 24 to 25 per cent. alumina, compared with the 18 to 20 per cent. in feldspar.

NEW TEETH AT 62

Ontario's Newest Gold Town Rises On Burned-Over Area

Streets Of Wendigo Wind From Lake To Mine—Boast One $2,000 Mansion

KENORA, Nov. 5.—The forest wilderness of the Northwest has given another new "gold" town to Ontario.

Within little more than a year has Wendigo grown up on ground swept clean in 1935 by a forest fire, which wiped out some of the buildings of the then infant mine.

Principal producer of the Kenora district, Wendigo Gold Mine supports a populace of about 150 persons, including 22 families, compared to none when the property entered the productive stage little more than a year ago.

Wendigo is the typical "bush" village, a gathering of tarpaper shacks and log cabins. The main street just happened. When the mine required firewood several years ago, a train found its way from the bush, along the lakeshore, then back for half a mile to the mine. The mud and tuns which marked it as a forest trail remain to serve as "the" street.

When the mine reached production the first home to go up was a $2,000 log mansion on the shore of the lake. It still remains the finest house in the village.

The growth has been so fast in recent months that the mine company is now preparing to survey a townsite. The first business, a gro-

Monster Octopus Grabs Woman

Fort Bragg, Cal., Nov. 5 (AP)

A STORY of several terrifying minutes in the clutches of a giant octopus was told to-day by Mrs. H. C. Graves. The animal grabbed her while she was gathering abalones here yesterday.

Seizing Mrs. Graves's ankle, the huge squid encircled her waist with another tentacle and pinned her left arm to her side.

Struggling frantically and calling for help, she was rescued by her companions, who beat the monster to death with their iron abalone bars.

Papa, Christmas Shopping In New York Finds It Job Buying For Quints

New York, Nov. 5 (AP)

OLIVA Dionne, the quintuplets' papa, was Christmas shopping for them and his other five children in New York today.

This business of getting five of each thing is getting tiresome, he decided, so he bought them different toys, like this:

Yvonne—Pink metal tea wagon;

Annette—Red cleaning set, including shovel, broom and mop;

Emilie — Red-topped washing machine with a wringer;

Cecile—Yellow and blue stove;

Marie—Laundry set, with iron, ironing board and clothespins.

For his other children, he got toy sewing machines, houses, telephones and an aquarium with glass fish.

He bought a high-crowned red velour hat, suede gloves and a suede bag for Mrs. Dionne.

Gas Fumes Ignite Lantern Destroying Otonabee Barn

Filling Tractor With Gasoline When Fire Suddenly Breaks Out

Explosion of fumes from gasoline Earl Petrie was pouring into the tank of a tractor flashed the fire that destroyed a big barn with its bulging contents of the seasons crops on the farm of Wesley Webster in the ninth concession of Otonabee shortly after eight o'clock Thursday night.

Mr. Webster said he could not immediately estimate the loss, which is partly covered by insurance, but other opinion suggested it might amount to $8,000.

Mr. Petrie had been plowing with a tractor, engaged for a few days by Mr. Webster, and after supper, it was said, he went out to a drive shed in which he had stored it for the night, intending to make it ready for an early start in the morning. In the comparatively small building in which Mr. Petrie was working, it is supposed the mixture of air and volatile gasoline vapor reached a consistency that was touched off by the flame from his lantern with explosive effect.

The building caught fire immediately. Mr. Petrie ran to the house and called Mr. Webster and Tom Fitzgerald who was also working for him, but from the outset their efforts were hopeless. The shed was to the west of the big barn, 100 by 35 feet, and separated from it by only ten or twelve feet. A strong wind from the west sweeping up the hill toward the house and barn quickly enveloped the shed in flames and flung them against the barn.

Mr. Webster's first concern was to save his cattle which were housed

Said Running About With Long Beard Milking Any Cows

Inspector Doubts One Man Handled Timbers In Sedore Funeral Fire—May Send Dog Out Again

NAPANEE, Ont., Nov. 5.—(CP)—A rumor a wild man with a heavy beard roams the area around Flinton entered evidence today, the third day of the trial of Robert Woodman, 23, miner, for the murder of Aubrey Sedore, a neighbor.

J. M. Simpson, defence counsel, asked Inspector Frank Gardner, Belleville, Provincial Police inspector: "Have you heard a report about a wild man roaming the north country?"

"Yes," was the answer. "I have a report before me now."

"When was this rumor current?"

"In October of this year."

"The rumor is this man has a heavy growth of beard and that he is running around milking all the cows in the neighborhood," suggested Mr. Simpson.

"The rumor persists," said Inspector Gardner.

Inspector Gardner said investigation had not substantiated the reports about the wild man. The Crown contends Sedore was slain sometime between February 8 and May 2 and his body burned.

Wife Stays Close By.

The 19-year-old wife of Robert Woodman, stayed by his side to-day as Woodman's trial went into its third day. The prisoner's father was also in the courtroom, taking copious notes.

Provincial Constable Fred Barrett, Napanee, who conducted the main police investigation finding the discovery of bones believed Sedore's, concluded his evidence-in-chief today and was cross-examined by J. M. Simpson, defence counsel.

Constable Barrett said he was present when pieces of bone and cloth were picked up at the fire scene.

"Did you find any tobacco in the house," asked Mr. Simpson.

"I would not say."

"You said Woodman was a non-smoker?"

"He told me so."

George Lloyd, Frank Lloyd, Monk Woods, William Sowers, Archie Lamb, Aubrey Benn, Wilfred Reneaud, Nellie Sedore, Roy Reid, and others assisted the police investigation, said the constable. They all lived in the immediate neighborhood.

"Sowers was willing to give information," asked counsel.

"I had to see him three or four times to get what I wanted from him."

Barrett said Sowers had shown him the place where Sedore hid his money. In the stair steps a tread could be removed and the step made a small box. Witness said he had not searched Sowers' place for rifles.

Sugestion of Romance.

"I hate to destroy any of the romance of this case so far," said Mr. Simpson.

"I fail to see any romance," said Mr. Justice McFarland. "Is has all been quite sordid up to now."

The Crown called Inspector Charles Gurnett, Criminal Investigation Department, Provincial Police. With Inspector Frank Gardenr and a dog they visited the fire scene in

ONUS ON CHILDREN IN CARING FOR AGED PROVINCES AGREE

OTTAWA, Nov. 5 (C.P.). — The Dominion-Provincial conference on old-age pensions was expected to conclude some time to-day. Called by Finance Minister Dunning to confer on regulations governing administration of old-age pensions, ministers and officials from all the provinces have been in session since Tuesday.

Placing upon children who are financially able to bear it a legal responsibility for support of their aged parents was unanimously agreed upon in principle at yesterday's session. The opinion was unanimously voiced that children who are in a position to do so should support their aged parents rather than have them burdens on the state and taxpayers.

It was agreed by delegates recommendations should be made to all provinces to ensure adequate Parents' Maintenance Acts should be passed and effectively enforced.

Discuss Procedure.

The conference has realt with administration practioces and procedure under the Old-Age Pension Act which now is operative in all provinces. Clauses dealing with age and nationality requirements, determination of income, calculation of pension awards, increases, reductions, and suspensions, were studied in respect to application in each province.

A part of yesterday's session was devoted to recent initiation of pensions for the blind which followed an amendment passed at the last session of Parliament. Blind persons in needy circumstances are given pensions at 40, and administration of this new group was discussed.

GIVES PAIR RIDE GETS BEATEN UP

PORT HOPE, Ont., Nov. 5 (CP)—Clarence Beatty, farmer in Elizabethville, 10 miles northeast from here, was recovering today from injuries suffered when he was beaten by two unknown men whom he had taken into his automobile.

Passing motorists frightened the assailants away, but Beatty was partially unconscious. His head was cut in several places by blows from a bottle, when he was picked up.

According to Beatty's story, the assailants told him their car had run out of gasoline and he was taking them to a service station when they attacked him.

A car, stolen in Oshawa, was found abandoned near the place where Beatty picked the men up.

WOMAN IS KILLED 4 HURT AT OSHAWA

OSHAWA, Nov. 5. —(CP)— Men worked with crowbars for more than two hours to extricate the body of Mrs. Gordon Smith, Oshawa, from the wreckage of an automobile and a truck near here last night. Four other occupants of the passenger car were seriously hurt.

When the automobile, driven by Gordon Smith, Oshawa, collided with the truck, Mrs. Smith was thrown through the windshield and crushed between the car and the truck. Smith was pinned in his car, and half an hour's labor was necessary to free him. He was rushed to hospital where examination disclosed head and internal injuries.

Mrs. Thomas Murphy, Oshawa, a passenger in the Smith car, suffered a fractured leg and head injuries, and her seven-year-old daughter, Bonnie, was also hurt. Shirley Smith, 9, daughter of the dead woman, received head injuries.

George Corse, Toronto, driver of the heavy tractor transport was shaken up.

Britons, Nazis Not Ready, Duce Bluffing On War, H. G. Wells Believes

Detroit, Nov. 5 (CP)

THERE will not be a world war before 1940, at least, because no country is prepared, H. G. Wells, famous British author, said on his arrival here today as part of a lecture tour.

"A world war at the present time is improbable," he said. "Of course there has been a relaxation of international courtesy — the shooting of ambassadors and that sort of thing," he added with a smile.

"Britain is re-arming at a great rate but even Britain will not be ready until 1939. Germany is not ready and it is highly probable Italy is bluffing."

He said he could not size up the character of the American people and thought they should "get serious and try to grasp what is going on in the world."

Premier W.L.M. King Lays Rumors Of An Early Vote

States Lieut.-Gov. Bruce's Term Not Extended But Will Stay Till He Resigns or Is Asked To

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—(CP)—No Dominion general election is likely until late in 1940, unless some unforeseen circumstances arise to change the minds of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his government.

Mr. Mackenzie King newspapermen after last night's cabinet session, last of this week, he had heard rumors were in circulation that an early election was to be expected and said: "Any person wishing to speculate on the next general election would be more likely to guess right if a date was selected well on to 1941."

He drew attention to the fact writs for the last election were returnable November 9, 1936 and that Parliament's statutory term was five years.

Whether the government will hold office for a full term as did the last one of Conservative Leader Bennett or go to the country earlier "will depend upon what will happen during the interim," the Prime Minister said.

In reply to a question, he said the term of office of Lieutenant Governor Bruce of Ontario had not been formally extended, but that in accordance with custom Dr. Bruce would remain in office until he resigned or was asked to resign. Mr. Bruce's nominal term of five years expired last month.

STEALS WOMEN'S CLOTHES, JAILED

BRANTFORD, Nov. 5. (CP)—Police here are investigating the strange case of James Williams, charged with breaking, entering and theft at Brown's Knitgoods, not 50 yards from the rear of the police station. Dressed in ladies' bloomers, petticoat and sweater, Williams was found during the night lying outside the Y.M.C.A.

Police charge he stole the apparel from Brown's and left his own suit, with his name on it, in the store. Williams, 23, was released Monday after serving a term for breaking and entering. The charge on which he was convicted was laid after he was found nude in a home he had broken into.

When Williams was picked up by Sergt. S. Cara and motorcycle officer Charles Kellas he had in his possession the petticoat, two pairs of bloomers, a lady's slip, a sweater coat, pair of scissors, a shirt, hosiery and a piece of woollen goods.

Hugh R. Brown, owner of the store, said Williams evidently had tried on several articles of women's apparel, tearing them all. He ripped a pair of lady's pajamas from top to bottom struggling to get into them.

William Clark, a night man at the Y.M.C.A. reported Williams' presence to police. Clark saw him lying on the ground, apparently injured. Police found he was not hurt except for a cut hand, received apparently when he smashed the window.

Williams will appear in court tomorrow.

Mother's Favorite For Coughs And Colds

It is hard to keep the children from taking cold. They get overheated, get their feet wet, and do a dozen things the mother cannot prevent.

Mothers should never neglect the children's coughs and colds, but on the first sign get a remedy that will give relief, and for this purpose we would highly recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It is so pleasant to the taste the youngsters take it without any fuss, and its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm and healing the bronchial tubes is such that the trouble is checked before anything serious may develop.

Mrs. J. Stahl, Soleque, B.C., writes:—"For some years I have been using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for myself and family of four children. I have used lots of other kinds of cough medicine, but I like 'Dr. Wood's' best, as it acts much more quickly than any of the others."

TOPS THAT BURNED SEDORE'S REMAINS CUT BY WOODMAN

NAPANEE, Nov. 5.—An alleged admission by Robert Woodman, on trial for the murder of Aubrey Sedore, Kaladar woodsman, that he had cut the wood for the fire in which the charred body of Sedore was found, was related in court yesterday by Police Constable A. Barrett.

Woodman had described the place where the fire was found, and admitted piling up hemlock tops and cutting down a forked hemlock tree, Barrett testified. Woodman was said to have declared he did not burn the "slash" because of the high wind.

The accused also admitted ownership of the axe which, the Crown charges, cut the wood for the fire that burned Sedore's body, it was testified.

The murder is alleged to have taken place on the Sedore farm, Kaladar Township, about the middle of April. Woodman was arrested early in May.

J. M. Simpson, counsel for Woodman, did not object to Barrett's evidence of the alleged admissions.

Axe Not Loaned.

Woodman declared he never loaned the axe to any one, the officer said. He identified it by the chunk out of the handle, Constable Barrett declared. Woodman told the constable that he purchased Sedore's car for $18.50 the latter part of January, but that he did not take possession until spring, because he had no place to keep the car. He admitted attempting to trade rifles for auto parts, and admitted taking a piece of buckskin from Sedore's attic by stuffing it under his coat while Sedore was in the house. The buckskin, Constable Barrett declared, was found under Woodman's bed in the home of Archibald Wood, Woodman's father-in-law.

Pieces of bones which when found held bits of "cooked" flesh, buckles, buttons, eyelets, slot-machine slugs, teeth, the deed of the Sedore property, pieces of charred wood, buckskin, a woodsman's axe, a bag of beans, loaves of stale bread, loaded rifle shells, a photograph, a note found near the fire, glass container, pieces of charred cloth and a piece of woollen sweater, all forming important links in the evidence, were entered by Mr. Hope as exhibits for the Crown.

Jury Sees Logs

Pieces of hemlock logs, some several feet in length, all showing striations across the butts where they had been cut with the axe alleged to be owned by Woodman, were shown to the jury by Constable Barrett, who pointed out that

VERY CLOSE CALL FOR SPOOK SCRIVER

HASTINGS, Nov. 5.—Lloyd Scriver, former Petes ball pitcher had a harrowing experience, while he and Paul Barry, both of this village were duck shooting on the Trent, three miles west of Hastings, Thursday morning. Scriver had shot at a flock of ducks, when the recoil from his shot gun, threw him overboard into 12 feet of cold water. Attired in a heavy mackinaw coat and hip rubber boots, he, by luck, found a submerged stone pile, where he stood for 15 minutes, up to his neck in water, while Barry came to the rescue. It might have proven quite serious, as he was surrounded by weed beds and the only possible outlet was by a boat. He was none the worse for his experience on Thursday night.

History Of World Murals A Gift

TORONTO, Nov. 5 (CP)—Cost of the murals depicting the history of the world, being painted for the Royal Ontario Museum of Palaeontology by G. A. Reid, is being defrayed out of a gift from the late Col. R. W. Leonard of St. Catharines, Ont., wealthy mining man.

Announcement was made today by Dr. J. B. O'Brian, chairman of the museum's board of trustees, revealing the funds for the murals are from the Reuben Wells Leonard bequest to the museum under the will of Col. Leonard, who left a large part of his fortune to educational and charitable organizations.

The murals will consist of 32 panels forming a wide decorative frieze around two galleries in the museum. They show the phases of the earth from the formation of the planet to the appearance of the cave-man.

BETTER TRADE DOMINION, U.S. A BRIGHT SPOT

Means Abundant Life, Exporters Are Told

CLEVELAND, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Exporters put their heads together today seeking ways to conquer twin terrors of international trade—war, and the dictatorship doctrine of self-sufficiency.

P. M. Haight of New York, secretary-treasurer of the International General Electric Co., led the discussion at the National Foreign Trade Council convention.

"Although American trade so far this year is comfortably ahead of last year," Haight told reporters, "it has shown a tendency in the last two or three months to slide down.

"The Far East situation has had some direct affect because of reduction of Chinese trade and Japanese restrictions—that and the Spanish situation have created uneasiness in the minds of international traders so that they are holding back to see what develops."

President Eugene P. Thomas of New York, former vice-president of U.S. Steel Corp., added "we are 100 per cent against economic self-sufficiency, and 100 per cent for Secretary of State Hull's trade bargaining program."

One Bright Spot

Improving trade relations between Canada and the United States promises to aid each toward a "truly abundant life," R. E. Thorne of Montreal said in a prepared address.

Mr. Thorne, chairman of the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, urged "more reasonable attitudes toward tariffs, quotas and nationalistic restraints." He dealt particularly with advances in trade co-operation between Canada and the United States, among nations of the British Commonwealth and between Great Britain and the United States.

Through the United States-Canadian agreement made operative nearly two years ago "there has developed something more than a trade courtship or a companionate commerce," Mr. Thorne said. "We have, after previous treaty divorces, settled down to a respectable marriage stability in our trading relations, which hold such rich promises for us both in our respective realms of a truly abundant life.

"We want to share with you and other international trading communities in a larger world trade, not by taking business away from you or the others, but by seeing the markets of the world expanding as is our own, through greater world-wide consuming capacity, improved living standards everywhere and the adoption of more reasonable attitudes."

GAS FUMES IGNITE LANTERN IN BARN

in the west end of the barn. He succeeded in releasing all of them, ten cows, one bull, and six calves, of the Shorthorn breed, and also his three horses. Six fat pigs that were ready for market were roasted in the fire. All the farm machinery except one or two pieces were lost with the season' harvest.

The three mows of the barn were stacked with hay, some of it from last year; the unthreshed grain from a one hundred acre farm, and also the grain that had been threshed on another hundred across the way and stored in the granary. Two silos were also reduced to ashes with their recently cut corn. One of them had been filled twice this season, and the other was full to the twenty-one foot level. Mr. Webster told the Examiner he had cut up with a sickle ten acres of corn that had been tangled up by the wind, and drew it to the silos, laborious manual work which farmers especially will understand and appreciate. Not even complete insurance could repay him for the work he had put into the ensilage he had prepared for winter fodder for his cows.

Approximately five hundred bushels of grain were destroyed, and both buildings and all their contents were only a little mound of ashes this morning, with the roasted carcasses of six hogs in one corner. The tractor was backed out of the blazing shed and saved.

The Webster farm is to the west of what is known as the Colonel Tom Johnston farm now occupied by Edward Heigh who was the first neighbor to respond. Some materials were carried away from the range of the fire, and a hen house was prevented from burning by a group of Peterborough firemen who drove down with their chemical engine.

IS RUNNING ABOUT WITH LONG BEARD

June. The dog was given the smell of a piece of burnt cloth and soon located, buried in the swamp's black ooze, a burned arm, minus a hand. Further digging located the torso.

"Did the dog on his own find this torso?"

"Yes."

Inspector Garnett said his deduction was the torso had been dragged from the fire. Little pieces of cloth and small bones were found along the path leading to it.

The Inspector said he had discussed the case with Frank Lloyd. He denied telling Lloyd what to say at the trial.

"Does this case appear to you to be a clumsy one," asked C. P. Hope, Crown Prosecutor, of the Inspector, who has had 17 years experience.

"I don't care to remark on that," was the answer.

"Would you say it was done in great haste?"

A Hasty Job

"Yes, at the time the torso was taken to the swamp."

The inspector said there had been a definite attempt to make identification of the body impossible. Some parts of it had been pounded into the ground and were only discovered by diligent search.

Inspector Frank Gardner, Belleville, Provincial Police, said Woodman was interviewed at Napanee in Constable Barrett's office on May 5. Woodman said he saw Sedore about February 28.

"We checked this story and the more we checked the more the evidence piled up against him," he said. The next interview was on May 11, and Woodman was asked if he had been to Sedore's shack since Sedore was reported missing. He denied it. He said he had stolen a buckskin from Sedore's shack.

Woodman had on May 11 identified his axe by a hole in the handle and said there was a nick in the blade. He also admitted writing Mrs. Egerton, asking her if she could sell a shot-gun and two rifles.

Woodman said he had last cut wood on the Sedore property when he had a couple of days off from the Rich Rock Mine where he was employed.

Inspector Gardner told of taking his Irish Setter to the fire scene and of finding the torso of a body.

"I know something of dogs and I can't understand how a dog followed a cold trail and wet," observed Mr. Justice McFarland.

Inspector Gardner corroborated Inspector Gurnett's evidence as to how the dog found the arm and later how the torso was located near the same spot.

"The stench was terrible as the flesh was cooked like veal," said Gardner.

Justice McFarland suggested Inspector Gardner's setter be used to find a missing exhibit, vital to the case.

Inspector Gardner told defence counsel it would be hard for one man to move some of the hemlocks used in the fire, even with the slash off.

COMING WINTER ONE OF DREAD IN DRY AREAS

Half Saskatchewan On Relief by Christmas

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 5 (C.P.).—The winter of 1937-38 will be the most terrible the drought-stricken areas of Southern Saskatchewan have yet seen, Clarence Stork, member of the Saskatchewan Legislature for Shaunavon said in an address here last night.

Mr. Stork asked support for the Saskatchewan Red Cross in its relief work in the barren areas—once known as the "Granary of the Empire."

There are 9,000,000 acres in Southern Saskatchewan that will not produce a crop, Mr. Stork said. Half the total Saskatchewan population of 960,000 will be receiving relief by Christmas, he predicted.

The drought area has been growing larger since 1929, and now extends into Alberta and Manitoba. Scientific knowledge had not been applied to the problem, Mr. Stork said. Much of the land was semi-arid before cultivation, and its residents are reaping the results of unscientific methods of settling land that was never suitable for growing wheat.

Large areas should be evacuated, the speaker said.

Mr. Stork's solution was modified system of irrigation which would make use of the Northern and Southern Saskatchewan Rivers.

The cost of such a system of irrigation would be $400,000,000, Mr. Stork estimated.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Export demand for Canadian wheat partially offset nervous trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day with final prices 1⅛ to 2⅝ cents lower, November, $1.13⅛, December, $1.08¼, and May $1.06⅛.

Opening advances of more than a cent were short-lived. Reports of general rainfall in the Argentine prompted weakness at Chicago with Winnipeg prices slumping more than two cents.

Export and mill buying however, along with fair recoveries at Chicago led to November future gaining about a cent near the close. December and May options continued under liquidation, generally fluctuating below yesterday's close.

TAMMANY'S TIGER FINDS SLIM SOLACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 — (CP). — Tammany Hall, its comeback hopes smashed by an avalanche of votes cast for Mayor La Guardia's "good government" and Thomas E. Dewey's promire of "no more racketeers," found solace today in aspirations held for 1938 and "years to come."

Following Tuesday's powerful municipal election victory for the mayor over Democrat Jeremiah T. Mahoney, and for the special rackets prosecutor, over Tammany-endorsed Harold W. Hastings for the district attorneyship of N.Y. county (Manhattan), there was a wide divergence of opinion but as for the immediate effects, there was little room for argument.

Mayor LaGuardia predicted the "doom forever" of New York city machine government, adding:

"Four years ago, a non-partisan non-political government in New York city was a sort of experiment, but we have demonstrated that it is possible and also desirable."

He was speaking of machine politics of Tammany Hall, defeated for the first time twice in a row by "Reform candidates," and which was staggered by the blow dealt by voters in spite of pleas for Mahoney by Postmaster General James A. Farley, Governor Herbert H. Lehman and other Democratic leaders.

Still Cheerful

Today, all Tammany had to say was to echo Christopher Sullivan, its leader:

"We face the future cheerfully and look forward to glorious victories in 1938 and the years to come."

An outgrowth of the election centred around the American Labor party.

That organization, one of LaGuardia's backers and which was heard from first two years ago when it supported President Roosevelt, had risen to new heights as a factor in New York city politics, and perhaps was making a bid for national recognition. After giving LaGuardia roughly 500,000 votes, it telegraphed the United States President that it still was a staunch adherent of the New Deal.

Who Won The War?

It was Italy that won the World War for the Allies. When Italy defeated the Austro-Hungarian army at Vittorio Veneto a week before the armistice on the Western front the war was won. Right at Vittorio Veneto. The press of Rome has said so and the press of Rome prints just what is in the minds of officialdom.

Now that is something the rest of the world has overlooked, or it may be we never heard of it.

We have heard some British folk who in a moment of mental exhilaration have claimed they won the war, and again we have heard some fair-minded people from that country who doubted that such was the case.

Often enough have we heard that United States won the war, and not on many occasions have we ever heard of people from that land denying such a claim.

Canadians who went through a good deal of the hell may have had the mistaken idea they had something to do with it. But now some 19 years after we are enlightened. Italy won the war. That should help to clear up matters particularly as there are a number of people who seem to believe and with good reason that no person won it.

A Direct Challenge

Mrs. Maude Roberts of Hamilton was due to appear as a Crown witness in a stabbing case. Before the hearing she received a carefully wrapped parcel sent to her through the mail from Toronto. Being somewhat suspicious she took it into the back yard and there cut the wrapping. When that was done the top of the box was released causing the immediate explosion of a bomb. Had she been bending over it she would have been killed. As it was she was burned and stunned.

It is not necessary to urge police to work on a case of that kind, because the police realize perhaps more accurately than others that the plot was a deliberate attempt to either kill, injure or intimidate a Crown witness. And that kind of business has no place in Canada. It is something which has been brought into this country from the outside. The bomb is not a Canadian idea, nor is the intimidation or elimination of a witness a Canadian idea.

A move of that kind is a larger one than the attack made on one woman. It is an attack upon our courts, upon the principle that a witness in this country can go about in safety and not be molested. If the whole system of justice ever received a direct challenge it was in the bomb sent from Toronto to Hamilton.

We Have Some Spirit Left

It does look as though we were not lacking people in Canada who are prepared to do something to better their own condition. James Boak, a young fellow of 20, landed at his uncle's farm near Goderich a few days ago, and as soon as he arrived he went out and started helping with the chores. There was a job waiting for him on that farm when he arrived on his bicycle from Saskatchewan, a distance of 2,000 miles. The reason why he is working on a Huron county farm is because there is little to eat at the western home. Young Boak had a little cash when he set out and his possessions were strapped on his back. Now and then he stopped to work along the way in order to secure money to buy meals. It took him four weeks actual wheeling to make the 2,000 miles, so we take it there must be a fair amount of grit and determination in this young Canadian.

Then there is the story of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart and six children, ranging in age from two to nine years. They had been on a farm near Watrous, Sask., for nine years and in eight of those years they secured no crop. They arrived in Winnipeg the other day on the way to take up a small farm not far from Montreal, and they were riding in a home-made trailer drawn by two horses. It had taken them 24 days to cover the distance between the farm and Winnipeg, and the head of the house hopes he may be able to trade the two horses for a used car to pull the trailer from Winnipeg to Montreal. Nor was the wife and mother full of woe or grief. The 24-day trip from the farm to Winnipeg with eight people in a horse-drawn home-made trailer had not bothered her nor was she asking for or expecting sympathy. She looked upon it as travelling and said that was something she'd always wanted to do. And she has 1357 miles to cover between Winnipeg and Montreal. So that is the way the J. W. Stewart family are dealing with their problem of how to make a living for mother and father and six children. Yes—we are inclined to think there is considerable of what might be called spirit and spunk and determination in our Canadian people.

Poppies On Saturday

On Saturday they will be selling Poppies on the streets of Peterborough and it is quite possible that on the same day the Examiner will be printing despatches telling of new and more bitter fighting in China and Spain. And that in turn means that in days to come people in other parts of the world will have more cause to care for and deal with those who came back from the front lines of 1937.

The selling of Poppies on the street is the one way the Legion has of securing funds. The funds are not needed or used for entertainment or any such thing. This season there have been several demands made on the available money and they have been for cases which in themselves reflect the times through which we have been passing. It was considered right enough to give some assistance to a returned man who was going off to try for a new place and a new chance on a piece of land. Then there were returned men who figured in eviction proceedings and funds were needed for a little help there. These have been in addition to the usual demands in assisting ex-service men.

It is all but a few days from 19 years since the war was officially declared ended in 1918, but it is continuing for a good many of those who took part in it. Today there is none of the war fever and none of the war-enlistment promises and yet there is a continuance of the war-made need. That has not ceased. That is why the selling of Poppies on Saturday is something which has in it not merely an appeal to sympathy and remembrance, but a degree of urgency and need. You will be lending a hand to a good many folk whom you do not know and whose need is seldom paraded in public.

Blessing Or A Curse?

There have been more pictures printed in the papers of the fighting in China than of any other conflict, and the reason is that the facilities for securing actual pictures have been so speeded up that it is possible to secure them within a short time after they are taken. There is one on the desk at the moment and it was taken just as three large bombs had been exploded in Chapei, the native quarter of Shanghai. In the picture there are shown rows and rows of houses placed more closely together than anything we know in our land, and these houses would all contain families—men, women and children of all ages. The entire district has since been reduced to ruins and people were killed when their houses were blown to pieces.

The bombs were not fired from guns at some distance, but dropped from planes which flew directly over the district. Nor were they dropped on a battlefield where men had gone forth to fight expecting to face all the dangers of modern warfare. They were dropped where people are huddled together in a native section of a great Chinese city.

And that brings us to the blunt question as to whether the discovery of the science of flying through the air has been a blessing or a curse. We have read a number of stories of sick people being taken from remote places in the north and west of our own country and transferred by plane to a hospital or some place where medical aid could be secured. Also where daring airmen had been engaged in working in fire and flood districts, and all such reports make it appear that the plane or the science of flying is actually a blessing to humanity.

But when the same science is turned to the deliberate murdering of men, women and children in their homes the thing does not look so bright. The same agency which can save life can also be turned to its destruction in a brutal and inhuman way. When we learned that it was possible to fly through the air at 200 miles an hour then we immediately came to the conclusions that such a discovery must be turned into channels of destruction. Of course we are a civilized people in the world of today and we rather like to think of ourselves as Christian nations. But are we?

Musical Centres

The Canadian Musical Festival, sponsored by the University of Western Ontario, has been taking place in London. In what should have been some of the most keenly contested classes there was but one entry. That was noticeable in the senior division.

In other classes the competition was keen, particularly piano and vocal. In a report in the London Free Press we found this:

"With the exception of two second-place awards Stratford child singers swept the junior vocal section."

And that did not come about by chance. The Examiner said a few days ago that any community can have a reputation as a musical centre if it was prepared to go out and earn such a reputation. That reputation which is accorded to Stratford has been earned because the training of the voice of the child has been so pronounced there for years that it has become either a habit or a tradition in the place.

It all grew out of Stratford's Musical Festival which continues to stand alone as the greatest of its kind in this section of the Dominion. F. G. Mann with his choir boys from St. John's church in Peterborough was early on the scene in the Stratford Festival, but he found it a long and an expensive trip especially when he had to remain several days with the boys. Then it was that Mr. Polley began a boys' voice choir of his own. He is not a professional musician, but a mechanic in the C. N. R. shops in Stratford, but as a lad he was a choir boy in a famous English cathedral and had been well trained himself. He seemed to understand just how to go about it and his Alpha choir of some 25 voices has been given the highest award ever scored at the Festival. As the voices break with advancing years there is room for others to enter. His choir has become somewhat of a local institution and it is directly the reason why there are so many children in Stratford who can sing well enough "to sweep the junior vocal section" in London. And they could probably do the same thing in any competition.

In the same way we believe the city of Kitchener can produce more and better flautists than any place its size in the Dominion. The flute has been highly developed in that city as well as other reed instruments. George Lethbridge with his London Male Choir of some 110 voices and T. C. Chattoe with the choir of the Metropolitan United Church have established London's claim to musical recognition and Brantford is known as a choral centre by reason of two remarkable organizations there.

Peterborough is making progress with its Orchestral Society which opens its season Friday evening, and the Male Voice Choir is also planning a busy season. Dorothy Allan Park's "Madrigal Singers" have a reputation which extends well beyond the boundaries of this city. This city can have a reputation as a musical centre just as well as other cities, but it will have to earn it by hard and intelligent work.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The main object of the Rowell Royal Commission is to study finances it is explained. In that regard it is not much different from you and I.

These are the days when you can tell an optimist by reason of the fact that he declines to wear a red sweater when he goes into the woods on a deer hunt.

Oxford County has a cow that has produced over 31,000 pounds of milk. There is an animal we imagine that would not be even remotely interested in the theory of the sit-down strike.

Toronto clergyman says a sense of humor was lacking in the recent Ontario election. He overlooks the fact that if politicians had a sense of humor they probably would decline to be politicians.

Franklin D. Roosevelt gave his occupation as a farmer when he voted the other day. The president was probably thinking of the success of Farmer Mitchell Hepburn in Ontario.

Premier Mackenzie King and Mr. Bennett have been made patrons of a Manitoba bachelors' club and come to think of it that is something both of them should know quite a bit about.

There is to be no Liberal opposition to the return of Hon. Earl Rowe in Dufferin-Simcoe, and that will make much easier sailing for the Conservative leader than he experienced on October 6.

There were 28,275 borrowers under the Home Improvement Loan plan in the first year of its operation so that we know that there are at least that many Canadian homes that are more comfortable than they were a year ago.

Belleville naturalists complain that wild life has almost completely deserted the northern part of Hastings county. Probably the animals have not got back after being stampeded by political orators earlier in the fall.

An aged man who begged for shelter at a Toronto police station was found to have a bank account of over $25,000. Just what use money is to an individual of that temperament is certainly not clear.

THE EXPERT

(By A. R. K.)

¶ Old Jacob's safe got locked one day, he fixed it when he went away, and turned the thing just right; he liked to have it locked just so, for things were safe within he'd know, and he could sleep at night.

¶ But next day he was out of luck, for Jacob's door was firmly stuck, he could not enter in; he twisted things both left and right, and yet the thing was fast and tight, and it held all his tin.

¶ So Jacob called some men in town, and asked them if they'd hurry down, to help him if they could; he told them how the thing should go, and they stood silent in a row, they'd help him like they should.

¶ They brought their tools and things along, and some of them were fairly strong, they knew not what to do; and one big man whose arm was strong, said how it wouldn't take so long, to cut the thing in two.

¶ But when they heard the night bell ring, they hadn't opened up the thing, for it was closed up yet; and they had twisted and they'd turned, they'd drilled a while and they had burned, and they had puffed and sweat.

¶ The expert came to town next day, he didn't have so much to say, his tools indeed were few; he listened as he spun the thing, then opened it with easy swing—for he knew what to do.

THE LEADER of the Arab terrorists who have been causing trouble in Palestine is Fawzi Bey al-Kaoukji who won his first fame as a youth just out of the Constantinople war College. For his 1915 feats against the British, Germany gave him the Iron Cross and Turkey the Order of the Mejidieh and made him a captain. After the world war France awarded him the Legion of Honor for spying in Syria; and then later for double-crossing and leading Druze rebels it sentenced him to death. Fawzi escaped by fast camel to Arabia where he served as a police official.

Incorrigible as ever, he joined a band of religious fanatics who revolted because the King had "swerved from the true paths of Islam" by using those inventions of the "infidel dogs," the telephone and radio. This brought a second death sentence and this time Fawzi fled to Iraq where he served four years as instructor in the military academy.

That was too dull however and in 1926 when Yemen flared up he joined this rebellion too. The revolt quickly relapsed and left Fawzi out on the end of a limb. He fled across the Red Sea, fought long enough with the Ethiopians to see that they had no chance and then crept back to Iraq.

In August of last year he arrived in the Nablus Hills, half way between Jerusalem and Nazareth with bombs and machine guns and sporadic Arabic sniping, looting and burning straightway developed into a regular guerilla war.

It is estimated that there are 127,000,000,000 tons of coal in the Shansi province of China, 60 per cent. of China's potential supply. This province one of the objectives in the Japanese campaign strategy has more inhabitants than the Dominion of Canada, over 12,000,000 altogether.

They Keep on Growing.

MENTALLY-ACTIVE human brains continue to grow in size up to the age of 55 or 60 years. The head itself enlarges very gradually until the changes of old age enter the picture. Because there is no growth of the front sinuses nor thickening of scalp or bones after 30 years in men and 25 in women the conclusion is that the head grows larger as the brain grows.

Mahogany now comes in a variety of finishes that range from the deep tones like those on time-mellowed antique pieces to the honey-colored and blonde shades so popular today. The best finishes on this wood at the present time not only rival the rich glowing patina of the fine old pieces but give the practical sort of service demanded by present-day living.

An improvement on the television image has been made in Germany by the development of a flat-screened cathode-ray tube, ground with the accuracy of an optical lens. Previous reception tubes had a convex reproduction surface resulting in a vague image. So the flat-faced vacuum tube was made strong enough to withstand outside pressure when evacuated. American glass four-tenths of an inch thick was used.

Australia has only two persons with incomes of $140,000 or more; only one-third of the population pay income taxes and the average yearly income among those who do pay is about $450.

Vacations With Pay.

APPROXIMATELY 500,000 wage-earning employees of the steel industry in United States were granted vacations with pay during the current year, according to reports received by the American Iron and Steel Institute from iron and steel companies employing over 90 per cent. of the industry's workers. The number who received holidays with pay last year was 190,000. The added payroll cost to the companies arising out of this vacation plan is estimated at $12,000,000 for 1937 and $7,000,000 last year.

It may not be generally known but it is a fact that wrought iron, the ferrous metal of antiquity, has been known since almost prehistoric times. Prior to 1500 B.C. the Egyptians made and used it and many iron tools and other articles of Egyptian manufacture have been found in recent years, still in excellent condition.

This ancient metal was the direct forerunner of steel and although steel has now supplanted it in many applications, wrought iron today is still manufactured as a high quality product.

Travelling hospitals to provide free medical services for settlers in sparsely-populated districts are planned by the government of Tasmania. It is proposed to provide trailer clinics which would be moved from place to place by automobiles. Doctors will visits every school in Tasmania and will co-operate with nurses and child welfare clinics throughout the state while dental services are to be improved.

An Australian Experiment.

AUSTRALIAN cattle breeders are watching with interest cross-breeding experiments now being conducted in North Queensland. By crossing the native Zebu with imported European cattle cattlemen hope an animal may be developed that will be less subject to tick infestation.

High Wages No Help to the Farmer

Simply Drives Up the High Cost of Living; Nor Will Borrowing Prove the Solution

(Letter in Globe and Mail)

TO THE EDITOR of The Globe and Mail: President Roosevelt, Canada's genuine good neighbor, in his most recent periodical fireside chat, pleaded for higher wages to enable workers to purchase more farm products and thereby increase the farmers' purchasing power.

It is indeed most gratifying to know that some statesmen holding high positions of trust, realize that a prosperous nation is dependent on a prosperous agriculture.

With all due respect to a great President, nevertheless a multi-billion-aire borrowing one, may I in all sincerity suggest that the often advanced theory that high wages for other vocational groups spells prosperity for the farmers is today utterly worn threadbare—has been weighed and found wanting.

Such a false theory, I claim, has contributed toward farmers' bankruptcy; vastly increased the cost of living for all, created acute unemployment, high taxation, mental stress and privation amidst plenty plus near nation-wrecking national debts.

Particularly during the war, salaries, wages and fees advanced by leaps and bounds. Many employed in shell factories who previously earned about $2 per day, got from $8 to $12, while their brothers under arms received $1.10 for enduring shell fire hazards and trench discomforts. Need we be surprised that economic tragedy followed in the wake of such gross unpatriotic inequality of pay?

Wages today average double or treble pre-war rates, while until recently form commodity prices—the farmers' total purchasing power—for many years, were the lowest in history.

Proud, greedy human nature is so endowed that it rebels at salary, wage or fee reduction, but on the other hand always demands higher remuneration for service rendered, irrespective of its effect on our social structure as a whole.

In our effort to correct the tragic economic dilemma that threatens to dissipate our future offsprings' birthright through colossal borrowings, we, in unison, cry for higher wages or fees to pay higher rents, higher taxes, higher housing costs, higher food costs etc.

The above enumerated higher costs in turn are created through ever higher salaries, wages or fees, and not by any means through higher farm commodity prices. Whereas, on a per capita basis farmers normally buy 500 per cent. more commodities that give labor to urban residents than any other vocation group, does not every industrial wage increase add to the cost of these commodities and, therefore, reduces rather than increases the farmers' buying power?

However unpopular the theory, does not the above brief analysis fully discount President Roosevelt's contention that higher wages in other fields of endeavor is the goal through which to add to the farmers' prosperity?

No Excuse For Hunter Firing in Haste

Already One Father Has Killed His Own Son; Suggests All Better Wear Bright Red Coats

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

THE HUNTING season is young yet, but there have been quite a number of shooting accidents. That is to say men have been wounded because of careless handling of guns, or someone has mistaken them for a deer and shot them. One of the saddest cases occurred near St. Nicholas, Quebec, where a youth of 18 was shot dead—by his father. Hunters have been charged with manslaughter in some instances, which is perfectly right because motorists are frequently charged in connection with fatalities. But whatever punishment may be imposed upon them none can be so terrible as the state of mind that haunts the hunter who has killed a friend or relative. It nearly always is a friend or relative who is shot because they are in the same party.

Hunters get separated during their wanderings and when they lose personal contacts they should make absolutely certain that the movement of a shadowy figure they see or the crackling of twigs or branches they hear is an animal of some kind and not a human being. There is no excuse for firing at what they do not know. It is no excuse to say they thought it was a deer or a bear. If they are not sure they should keep their rifles down, especially if they look around and do not see their companion or companions. Better "lose a deer" than kill a human being.

Perhaps it would be a wise plan if every hunter wore a scarlet coat.

How Taxes Grew On This One Property

In 1882 They Were $2.69; Now Amount to $25; People Demand Service and Must Pay

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

THERE WAS an interesting item in this newspaper yesterday from our Verona correspondent on the subject of taxes.

Noting that the tax bills for Portland Township have been distributed and that the taxes, except for the one mill reduction by reason of provincial subsidy to municipalities, are almost identical with last year, he observed that until this year there has been a steady increase for over a half century. In illustration of the way taxes have advanced he cited a tax bill of $25 this year on property on which the taxes were only $4.64 in 1903 and $2.69 in 1882. It is to be noted that the rise in 21 years from 1882 was about 72 per cent. as compared with 460 per cent. in the 34 years since 1903.

These figures afford a suggestive illustration of the way taxes have risen on village property and also on farms in the older parts of Ontario in half a century. Some additional figures for the years between 1903 and 1937 would add to the story. In the ten years before the war rural taxes made a gradual advance but in the post-war years the advance turned into a steep climb. The building of highways has been responsible for a large part of that sharper advance. Other contributing factors are larger expenditures for education and expenditures arising from social measures, such as old age pensions.

While many persons declaim against the increased taxation and will not admit that they receive benefits justifying their heavier tax burden, our correspondent takes a different view. "Many roads which fifty years ago were little better than a trail," he asserts, "have been turned into up-to-date highways, while any side road is much better than the best roads of that time." And the same marked improvements, in his opinion, are to be found in the schools and other public institutions.

These are things to be remembered by the people who sigh for the good old days of light taxes. While some of our tax burdens may be charged to extravagance and wasteful administration, for the most part they are due to the cost of services and public works that people themselves have demanded and many of which they would not be content to do without. Unfortunately for those who make their living on the land, there has been no rise in the prices of farm products, taken over a period of years, and in the earning power of farmers to balance the increased tax burden.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

NOW THE serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die. And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die: for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat. . . . And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden. And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou? And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.—Gen. iii, 1-6, 8-10.

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.—John iii, 19-21.

Bouquets of lovely little bronze baby 'mums were placed in the rooms, and the tea table was arranged with unique charm. As a centrepiece, large bronze chrysanthemums in a blue spode judg were reflected in an oval table mirror, and on either side "horns of plenty" in salt-glazed Minton were filled with purple grapes, over which English ivy twined. At either end brass candlesticks held lighted ivory tapers. During the first part of the afternoon tea was poured by Mrs. F. M. Somerville and Mrs. B. W. Harvey. Later Mrs. G. A. A musical program was much enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Radford was heard in several solos, for which she played her own accompaniment; Miss Anna McLeod played a violin solo, and Mrs. J. Brundige-Luffman.

TWEED, Nov. 5. — The manse of Easton's Corners, Ont., was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony recently, when Carmel Leta Luffman of Tweed was united in holy marriage with Cecil A. Brundige, son of Mrs. Albert Brundige of Ottawa, formerly of Carleton Place, and the late Mr. Brundige. Rev. E. J. Brownlee performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a pretty costume of navy blue sheer, with navy blue hat, a circular veil, and a shoulder knot of roses and lily of the valley.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Brundige left on a motor trip to the United States. The bride travelled in a smart brown taffeta dress with brown felt hat and a brown tweed coat. They will reside at 441 McLeod Street, Ottawa.

Letter From Labrador Acknowledges Bales.

The following appreciative letter received by the local secretary of the Grenfell Mission from Harrington Harbor Hospital, Canadian Labrador, will be of interest to many Peterborough people, who contributed towards the bales sent to Labrador last June:

Harrington Harbour, P.Q.,
July 22, 1937.

Dear Mrs. Langley:

Your splendid shipment of eight boxes arrived a short time ago, and I have wanted to write and thank you ever since.

The new clothing, pieces of materials, etc., are so grand, and such a treat, too, and the used clothing is most acceptable. We would also thank you for the silk stockings for Industrial Work—these will be appreciated by the Industrial worker, as we hope to do more work in this line.

It seems incredible that the summer is more than half over and winter will be with us again before we know it. Last winter was such a grand one—clear, cold, and lots of snow with very little sickness, although there was a good deal in the spring. We have been enjoying glorious weather for the past few days—clear and bright, with just enough wind to keep the bothersome flies away.

Again please accept our grateful thanks and appreciation for your continued interest and help in the work.

Yours sincerely,
L. N. Thompson,
Nurse in Charge,
Harrington Hospital.

Jeannette Scott Chapter I.O.D.E. Meets.

The Jeanette Scott Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held their second meeting of the season at the home of Miss Isabel Reid, Murray street.

A most interesting paper, the first in the series of Empire Study, was given by Mrs. Ken Kingston. The speaker selected Australia as the first study headed under two topics, The Physical and Historical Setting and British Colonization.

A new member, Miss Arleigh Comstock, was voted into the chapter.

It was decided that a donation would be sent to the Y.W.C.A. in aid of the campaign; and also donations to the I.O.D.E. Endowment Fund, the Pacey Scholarship and to the I.O.D.E. Bursery Fund. A very satisfactory report was given of the recent rummage sale held by the chapter. Arrangements were made for a tea and sale of homemade cooking to be held in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. on November 27.

Black Wool, Fox

KAREN MORLEY

Film actress, is wearing a one-piece dress of black wool with an attached bolero of the same material and a narrow black leather belt. The bolero is trimmed with wide revers of silver fox, and Miss Morley's hat is a skull cap of black suede with a fluted ornament at one side.

Business Girls' Frock Is Simple

(By Central Press).

WHAT IS considered perfect taste for the well-dressed young business woman to wear? A good deal of research has gone into that important question. Young men are allowed what they will—even if it runs to "loud" suits, ties and socks. But young women, it seems, are the cynosure of all the eyes that work in or enter the office, and they must be dressed attractively, but not too noticeably.

This model in bright green alpaca is said to be the correct thing—simple as to line and not too arresting. It is built on shirtwaist lines, with neat turned-over collar, trim belt, and two flap pockets. Gleaming gold studs down the front are the only bit of trimming, and the model is the world's fastest professional typist, Miss Remo Poulsen, of New York.

Woollens Popular.

Woollen dresses are receiving a good deal of attention at this season of the year. Woollens are great favorites and are chosen first in black, and then in various shades, blue among them. Simple styles such as this one, with a bit of trimming, such as bright colored belts, buttons or studs, are the rule for business, college or home wear. Royal blue woollen with red belt is a popular type.

For the junior misses, velveteen and corduroy frocks are making a big hit. The colors that are most often chosen are black, royal blue, wine and a deep, mossy green. Often there is a cap of the same material—a most attractive costume for gay young things in their teens.

Another current favorite with the young set is woollen dresses in pastel colors, sometimes with short sleeves, often with long ones.

Woman Curator Awarded Degree

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., Nov. 5 (AP)—Annie Jump Cannon, curator of the Harvard College Observatory, today was described as the "pilot" for astronomers the world over as she received an honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Mount Holyoke College.

The principal speaker at the 100th anniversary of Mount Holyoke, Dr. Cannon was described by President Roswell G. Ham as a "great explorer in the furthermost reaches of science, traveller to distant parts of the southern hemisphere" and a collector whose albums "contain the wonders of infinite space."

In her address on "Stars Over the Sea," Dr. Cannon told of a new development of internationalism in the scientific world, specially in the field of astronomy.

"The ancient science, formerly so isolated," she declared, "has now become, by means of 'Stars Over the Sea,' a world-wide co-operative profession."

A memorial to John Drinkwater has been unveiled in Leytonstone, England.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Saturday, November 6.

A very lively and prosperous day is forecast from the predominant planetary positions, although these good auspices have a menace of subtlety, treachery or other sinister manifestations. It might be well to be alert for such possible wiles in all manner of dealings.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and progressive year, with much of benefit, although business may unearth some menaces of craft, duplicity or secret enmity. Be wise with corporations, rings and secret societies.

A child born on this day may be lively, talented and fairly ambitious, although with strong leanings to a fashionable life, with much social or romantic activity, in which it may be a shining light.

See Improvement In Humanity Through Birth Control

Pre-Marital Health Examinations Are Advocated To 1,100 Women At Congress

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Nov. 5 (AP)—Belief the lot of humanity could be improved through birth control and pre-marital health examinations was expressed before the New Jersey congress of parents and teachers today by Dr. William G. Herrman of Asbury Park, president of the New Jersey Medical Society.

Dr. Hermann told the 1,100 women delegates from all sections of New Jersey that every child's heredity was defective because there were no perfect parents. He said that, since all children were born with physical weaknesses and susceptibility to disease, the public should take steps to do all humanly possible to offset these in-born deficiencies.

"This," Dr. Herrman said, "would include an effort on our part to see that parents do not bring into the world more children than they can take care of, physical examination prior to marriage, and a listing of family diseases."

Chile, Argentine Potato Mart

OTTAWA, Nov. 5 (CP).—A new market for Canadian seed potatoes has been opened in the Argentine and Chile by H. S. Arkell of Ottawa, during a special trade mission to South America, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, said today.

Mr. Arkell has not returned to Ottawa from his exploratory trade trip to Central and South America, but from preliminary reports he has made to the Agricultural Department, he seems to have met with considerable success on more than one line, including potatoes, the minister said.

This additional new market for potatoes comes of special value since this year the Maritimes, as well as Ontario, have had a fine crop.

The EXAMINER'S HOME SERVICE

Work Magic With All-year Slip Covers

"How on earth could I have been so blind? Why didn't I realize how shabby that old chair would look to the fastidious Mrs. Arnold?"

Luckily, Marjorie now knows the magic of easy-to-make slip covers. For an all-year cover she chooses old-gold repp with plum-colored cord whipped over seams. The cord matches her rug and gives a smart "decorator's touch."

You, too, can get that professional effect. Smooth material on your chair, pin in place every three inches and, allowing 1½ inches for seams, cut outside pins. Baste, fit again, and you are ready to stitch. Now whipcord firmly along seams as in diagram.

Our 32-page booklet helps you to choose and estimate material; to fit covers like a glove on all types of chairs, sofas and automobile seats. Step-by-step diagrams.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of HOW TO MAKE SLIP COVERS to The Examiner's, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MAKE HIM WASTE ONE

NOTHING can upset a declarer much more than to have a beautiful, cross-ruff destroyed by a defender's trump lead. This makes him put two trumps on one trick, whereas he otherwise would have been able to take two tricks with those same cards.

(Dealer: South. North-south vulnerable.)

One-Diamond was South's first bid on this deal, which West overcalled with 2-Hearts. North and East passed, South bid 1-Spade, West rebid his hearts, and, as East-West were not vulnerable, North decided to take the contract to 4-Spades.

West cashed the clubs K and A and continued with the 9 after East signaled him to do so. It was now up to declarer to win the remainder of the tricks, which he reasoned he could do by cross-ruffing diamonds and hearts, taking his two aces and eight trump tricks.

East made a mistake in returning a heart, after cashing the third club trick, and when he did he handed the contract to South on a silver platter, for the declarer cross-ruffed and made the contract.

With his holdings in diamonds and his partner's repeated bids of hearts, it should have been apparent to East just what line of play would be adopted by South. It is not difficult to see that a lead of a trump by East would have created quite a different situation and South would have been set one trick.

What is the correct bidding on this hand?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"What is your parentage?
Above my fortunes, yet my state is well:
I am a gentleman. I'll be sworn thou art;
Thy tongue, thy face, they limbs, actions and spirit,
Do give thee five-fold blazon."
Shakespeare.

Dear Friends:

Recently I met a gentleman. He likely classes himself as just a man, but all the attributes are there, visible for all to see. And part of the definition in the dictionary is this: "a well-bred and honorable man."

I would add to that, one who is kind and considerate, who has rare understanding, who "does unto others," and who raises one's faith in oneself. Who sympathizes, but does not offer pity, for pity to a proud person is a hard draught to swallow.

Money does not make a gentleman, neither does position. Fine clothes and large home with all kinds of luxuries may give some outward show, but the true thing must spring from the heart and core to be real. Manners alone are only a veneer, and a little scratch will show the poor wood underneath.

We need gentleman and gentlewomen. Who has not read of the knights of old rode forth to do battle for his lady, and wished the days of chivalry were with us now?

Yet every day men ride or walk forth to do battle for those they love. It may be a machine they battle with, or a pen or typewriter. They may not be as colorful as they were in olden times, their chariot may be a model T, but we still have knights with us if only we look aright.

Some, like Doctors use all the instruments of their calling to battle with disease and pain. With Dentists they rout the sources of agony, helping those who need it, and helping their own with their earnings. Oh yes, we still have knights and gentlemen.

Editors and Newspapermen do battle with the prejudices and wrongs that spring up in every form of government, for the power of the Press keep many on the road they should be on. In the parts of the world where dictators rule, the Press is muzzled because these dictators know how much the newspapers could enlighten the downtrodden people, and how short their reign would be then.

And so, when you are inclined to think the days of chivalry are gone forever, that there are no gentlemen left, (I'll talk of gentlewomen later) just look around and see how many are battling with the world for their lady fair.

They answer the call of the whistle, instead of marching to martial music. They punch a time-clock instead of carrying a garter or ribbon of their lady. No white charger for them, but the oil and grime, the hunting up news and advertisements, then writing those as attractively as possible, or keeping machinery going to supply the needs of the world, those are the things they do battle with.

If their deeds were written in song and story we would be amazed. Where there used to be one or two in a community who went out to conquer the world, now we have them in thousands.

Men WANT to look after their women, women WANT to be looked after, but changing conditions have forced women to look after themselves. No man has the earning power to take care of wife and family nowadays (or only a few) And all this train of thought followed because "Recently I met a gentleman." Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Births exceeded deaths by 98,000 in Germany in the first three months of 1937.

TOPS THAT BURNED SEDORE'S REMAINS CUT BY WOODMAN

the marks on the ends of the logs corresponded to the notches on the axe.

Provincial Constable Arthur Dymond, who was called to investigate the disappearance of Sedore on May 1, testified this afternoon that he had questioned Woodman about spending money in Northbrook and Flinton. Woodman, Constable Dymond declared, stated that he had sold ninety cords of wood, and declared he was working with Sedore on a share basis. He denied having any rifles belonging to the murdered man, and declared he had purchased Sedore's car at Christmas. Constable Dymond declared he learned Sedore had no intention of selling his car.

Constable Dymond, who was called when the fire was discovered on May 2, described it as "oblong shape, seven feet long and four feet wide." In the fire he found several pieces of bone, some teeth, and a man's pocket containing a knife, two slot-machine slugs and two matches. He also found an unburned piece of pocket twenty-five feet from the fire and a note forty feet from the fire, he declared.

CHINA, JAPAN REQUEST HITLER

invitations to Hitler, tendered partly through Oskar Trautmann, German Ambassador to China, and partly through Japanese channels, were said by a trustworthy source to have reached Hitler on Wednesday.

The Fuehrer then commissioned Von Ribbentrop, German Ambassador to London, to hurry to Rome to conclude an Italian-German-Japanese pact against the Communist International, it was said, and return to Berlin quickly to pave the way for the Chinese-Japanese mediation.

(The German Embassy in Rome said the three-cornered pact against Communism would be signed tomorrow at Rome.)

No Mediation?

TOKYO, Nov. 5—(AP)—A Japanese Foreign Office source said today Japan was "unable to accept any mediation whatsoever" in her conflict with China.

He made the statement when asked to comment on reports from Berlin that Chancellor Hitler was asked to act as mediator in the hostilities. Despite his assertion, it was learned Japanese and German diplomats recently had conferred.

"Japan does not recede from her original contention that peace is possible only through direct negotiations between Japan and China, and then only if China changes her attitude," the source said.

He added that there has been "considerable discussion' in government circles regarding a formal Japanese declaration of war against China.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing, or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Optimists Buy Autos

Some of the optomists brought cars in over frozen trails last winter just before the snow came, having heard the promise that a highway would be built this year from Kenora. Construction is proceeding, but will not be completed for some time yet, so the car-owners confine their evening's drive to a half-mile run from the village to the mine. More recently, however, two miles of the highway has been opened to add to the joys of bush motoring. Most of the traffic, however, still consists of horse-drawn wagons loaded with wood, for, next to mining, the town's No. 2 industry is wood-cutting.

In addition to fuel for the homes in the village, and the bunk-houses for single men, considerable wood is required in the steam-boilers that supply some of the power for mining operations, as Hydro power is not available.

A few families have taken advantage of the location of their houses along the shore of the lake to put in flowers and lawns—strangely unexpected in such a community. Rock gardens exist, naturally. One family has built a rustic bench and fences are being erected. Another has imported a flock of hens which help supply the camp with eggs, the only commodity which need not be fully imported.

Store Is Meeting-Place

The village store serves as a community meeting-place. Young and old, miner and prospector, wives and sweethearts and children meet there.

Wendigo is still growing. A new street is beginning to take shape with two houses already built on it. As yet, there are no modern conveniences. Electricity will likely be the first to come, but not immediately, as the mine power is limited until Hydro energy comes.

This mining camp, like most others, is essentially one of youth. The oldest persons can be described as no more than middle-aged, the exception being the popular "Hutch," 60-year-old prospector, who has been living with his wife for many years three miles back in the bush on a property which, "Hutch" is confident, will some day be a mine, turning out gold bricks just like Wendigo.

Sympathy Of Canadian People With The Chinese At Present Visitor To City Declares

China More Determined And United Than Ever M. Cheolin Of Shanghai Claims

"The sympathy of the Canadian people is with the Chinese people in the present conflict which Japan provoked," said M. Cheolin, editorial representative of the Shanghai China Press, largest English daily in the Orient, with a circulation of 200,000, in an interview with the Examiner at the Empress Hotel today.

"An incident at the Marco Polo bridge on the outskirts of Peiping on July 7th was the beginning of the hostilities. Your people probably remember that Japan had taken possession of Manchuria and set up the so-called independent state of Manchukuo. Japan has wanted to occupy our northern provinces of Charhar, Hopei, Suiyan, Chansi and Shantung. They moved their troops to the Great Wall of China and were carrying on their aggression from the north. Their troops were manoeuvring at the Marco Polo bridge on July 7, but instead of using blank cartridges that day, they fired with bullets at the native people and many were killed. Chinese people then realized that their humiliation by Japan could no longer be tolerated, and almost immediately our people by common consent decided to make a determined stand.

People Are United

China is more determined and united today than ever before in modern times, and we will not be content until Japan has withdrawn her forces from Chinese soil, and that includes Manchukuo which has never been recognized as an independent state.

We knew in Shanghai that Japan intended to come back after their attack in 1932. The signs were obvious in their neglect to rebuild in the districts, including Chapei, which they had destroyed and occupied. Although they began their attack from the north, they moved on Sanghai in an attempt to paralyze our transportation system into the northern provinces.

One of the most significant expressions in our day was the announcement of what were regarded as communist armies in under "war lords" in some of the provinces under the central command of General Chiang Kai-Shek. Of course they saw that it was another instance of the old lesson "united we stand, divided we fall", and that their own security depended upon concentrated military action. The Chinese people are ready to make every sacrifice to save their country from the Oriental hegemony Japan is planning on a broad scale. In so doing we feel we are contributing to the cause of humanity and world peace, and in that respect we feel that many of the nations will assist us at least by economic pressure.

Boycott Jap Goods

A virtual boycott of Japanese goods would be a most effective measure because as everybody knows Japan's foreign trade is vital to her economic and national life. We believe that Japan has eyes not only on the Orient but on the whole world, and that what she

FIRE CHIEF'S CAR IS IN COLLISION

An accident involving the Fire Chief's car, when the brigade was responding to a call for aid from Otonabee Township Thursday night, is the occasoin of a police warning to all motorists.

With screaming siren, the Fire Chief's car was proceeding south on George street around nine o'clock according to police report, when an old model touring car, allegedly driven by Harold Bennett, R.R. 6, Peterborough, attempted to make a left turn at Perry street just as the Chief's car was about to pass.

In the collision that resulted the old touring car was completely wrecked while the Chief's car was extensively damaged about the front of the vehicle. No personal injuries were sustained by the occupants of either automobile.

The impact forced both cars up on to the boulevard at the south-east corner of the intersection where they came to rest on striking a Hydro pole. The crash was heard within a wide radius of the scene of the accident, and was of such force that the starting crank of the touring car was said to have been embedded deeply in the pole.

Constable W. A. Clarke, who investigated reported, "The siren of the Chief's car was sounded continuously from the time the car left the fire hall.' He added the allegation that the tail light of the touring car was obliterated with mud, so that the light was not visible.

Inspector James F. Reid in calling attention to the fact there is a city by-law which requires all vehicular traffic to pull to the side of the road and halt on hearing the approach of fire fighting equipment, warns that the ordinance is to be strictly enforced by the police. Prosecutions, he said, would follow breaches of the by-law.

PRESENT JEWELS TO 6 ODDFELLOWS SEVEN INITIATED

An interesting event in Oddfellowship was marked at the Oddfellows' Hall here on Thursday evening, when Past Grands of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I.O.O.F., exemplified the initiatory degree and accepted seven new members into the Lodge. The candidates for initiation were: Walton G. Hillier, James Price, Jr., Wilmot B. Gordon, Elwood Montgomery, George R. Taylor, J. J. Hodgson and Robert Pulford.

Additional feature of the gathering which numbered 150 Oddfellows from Peterborough, Otonabee, Lakefield, Millbrook, Lindsay, Little Britain, Pontypool and Havelock, was presentation of 25-year jewels to six members of the Order in the persons of G. G. Hillier, P.G., Coleman Biewett, P.G., Recording Secretary James H. Price, P.G., J. A. Brumwell, the Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., and Peter Nicholls.

Absent through illness, Mr. Nicholls was presented with his jewel earlier in the evening by District Deputy Grand Master W. J. Constable, who was accompanied by James Valery, P.G., Herbert Frost, P.G., and Norman Nisbett, P.G.

Three of the recipients of jewels had the presentations made to them by their newly-initiated sons, while Deputy Grand Master Dr. George C. R. Hall of Little Britain, made the address that accompanied the presentations.

Sons Made Presentation.

Mr. Hillier received his jewel at the hands of his son, Walton G. Hillier; James H. Price had the honor bestowed by his son; James Jr., and Mr. Gordon accepted a long service decoration from his son, Wilmot.

At a banquet which followed the proceedings in the lodge rooms, His Worship Mayor George A. Macdonald, himself a member of Peterborough Lodge, presided as chairman. The toast to the Grand Lodge was proposed by F. Merrett, P.G., and was responded to by Dr. Hall, D.G.M. That to the veterans was proposed by Alex L. Elliott, M.P.P.-elect and was replied to by each of them in turn. J. H. Vallery, P.G., proposed the toast to the visitors and Alderman Robert S. Cotton and others from various lodges replied. W. J. Constable, D.D.G.M., proposed the toast to new members and Mr. Gordon, Jr., and the other candidates responded.

Included in the program of entertainment was a vocal solo by G. H. Cutmore and a recitation by William McLaren, P.G.

For sixty-three years a member of Peterborough Lodge, Thomas McFadden, P.G., had the distinction of being the oldest Oddfellow present. William F. Green, P.G., for 55 years a member, of Otonabee Lodge, ran him a close second.

SONGSTER BRIGADE HOLDS BANQUET

Members of the Salvation Army Songster Brigade and their friends, total more than 100 in number, sat down to their annual banquet at the Temple Thursday evening. Col. Ernest Simm of Toronto, commanding officers of the Army here 36 years ago, was guest of honor.

Col. Simms spoke of the past, present and future of the Songster Brigade. He recalled the early beginnings of the Brigade during his stay here, the Brigade boasting only about a dozen members. The local Salvation Army can take pride in the fact the organization has in the intervening years been built up to a membership of 55, he declared. He predicted a brilliant future for the Brigade.

Ben Smith, Songster leader for the past 12 years, paid tribute to the members of his organization for their discipline and will for service. Others present at the supper in addition to Adjutant Neil Warrander were Major Pearl Payton, in charge of the Salvation Army Hospital in Winnipeg; Adjutant W. Cooper of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Arthur Smith, wife of Brigadier Smith, a former commanding officer here.

LESS HORATIO ALGER

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (A.P.). — Two Columbia University teachers college professors said to-day that if American adolescents read less "Horatio Alger and pulp magazine literature" they would be less dissatisfied with life.

"Cheap movies" too—said Merle Curtis and Goodwin Watson, play havoc with adults.

"Many women, after seeing a screen hero, hate to go back to a prosaic husband; many husbands, after seeing a screen heroine, just can't see their prosaic wives."

AN EXPLANATION

The George Reid mentioned in the report of a police court case which appeared in Thursday's issue was not George Reid of 617 George street.

NO SITTING HERE.

While there was no sitting of magistrate's court here today, Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., had a busy session elsewhere. His Worship had cases for hearing at Campbellford and Hastings.

CANAL PARTLY DRAINED

The water gate at the high bridge above the Lift Lock has been drawn up and the canal stretch partially drained. It is understood the move has been made to facilitate the annual going-over the Lift Lock is to receive.

NEW GARAGES, NEW ROOFS.

A study of building permits issued at the City Engineer's office during the past month or so would indicate two things: That many residents acquired automobiles during this year and that the roof coverings of many homes have worn out. Since October 1, 15 permits for erection of garages, 25 permits for reshingling have been recorded.

GAS THIEVES ACTIVE.

Gasoline thieves are reported to be active in the west end of the city, and they are no respectors of persons. On three occasions this week, the police matron has attempted to start her car in the morning to find only that the tank had been syphoned of gasoline. A neighbor of hers was similarly victimised, it was learned.

ANOTHER OLD PICTURE

T. H. G. Denne has discovered another old picture that is to be added to his collection in the Public Library. It shows the famous old Perry mill at Nassau, the biggest lumber mill in this part of the country. Thirty-five teams were kept busy hauling the lumber from the mill to the railway here.

DEER PLENTIFUL

Frank Barrett was one of the army of hunters who took out a hunting license this week and he will do his hunting in the Apsley area. Deer are reported to be fairly plentiful in that section, in fact one man reports seeing four within a short distance of the Burleigh Falls-Apsley road.

SHOULD BE CAREFUL

A local sportsman remarked to The Examiner this morning that Peterborough parties hunting in the northern part of our own county should be careful about not trespassing on the game preserve territory. There is, he pointed out, a heavy fine for even carrying a gun in that section.

MONSTER TURNIP.

There is on display in the Examiner window a monster turnip of the Swede purple top sort, and it weighs exactly 19 pounds. It was grown on the farm of Reg Coburn on the Middle Line of Smith. Many others from the same field have gone between 16 and 17 pounds, but this one went a little faster than the others and reached the 19-pound mark.

TO RAISE ROOF

T. Ephgrave has been given a contract to raise the roof of the Paragon Hall. The cost is estimated at $750 by the owners, Coleman Brothers.

A son of the late Edward Martin and Mary Kelly, he was born at Red Rock, Pennsylvania. There passed away in Toronto on Wednesday evening, David McQuaig, for years a resident of Peterborough but who has resided in Toronto for the past 12 years. He is survived by his wife, who is a sister of the late Joseph Knox, and four daughters. The funeral is to be held on Saturday in Toronto at the funeral home on the corner of Parliament and Bloor Streets, at 3.30, with interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

MRS. M. McAVOY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Nov. 5—Funeral of the late Mrs. Alice McAvoy, who died as a result of injuries received when struck by a bicycle on the bridge in Tweed on Saturday, took place on Thursday morning, from her residence to St. Carthagh's Church. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives from the district and distant points to pay their last tribute of respect.

The late Mrs. McAvoy who passed away in Belleville General Hospital on Monday night, was seventy-one years of age, and was born in the township of Sheffield, near the village of Tamworth, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Byrne. Forty years ago she was married to Michael McAvoy who predeceased her three years ago. For many years she resided at Stoco, coming to this community to reside on the retirement of her husband after a successful career on the farm.

The late Mrs. McAvoy was a member of the St. Carthagh's Roman Catholic Church.

Mourning the loss are two brothers, Anthony Byrne, Newburg; and Sylvester Byrne, Tweed, and one sister, Mrs. Noll, Toronto.

His Grace Archbishop O'Brien of the diocese of Kingston, was in the sanctuary for the solemn requiem high mass, conducted on Thursday morning. Dean Rev. D. A. Cullinane, her pastor, assisted by several prominent members of the clergy conducted the mass. Among those present were: Rev. Fr. Noll, S. J. Montreal; Rev. Fr. Leo Byrne, Kingston, Rev. Fr. O'Donnell, Tweed; Rev. Fr. Meagher, Stoco; Rev. Fr. Kinlin, Flinton, and others.

L. J. PETTIT IS ELECTED HEAD OF KIWANIS CLUB

Unanimous choice of his fellow members, L. J. Pettit is to head the Kiwanis Club next year.

Other officers elected at today's luncheon meeting at Empress Hotel, were: W. A. Richardson and Fred Johnston, vice-presidents; Thomas Mark, treasurer; and Messrs. William English, Milt Hardill, Adjutant Neil Warrander, Dr. C. B. Waite, Archie B. Gates, Charles Saunders and Vern Morphet, as directors.

"There is a certain gratification in feeling one has the confidence of such a group of men as you," declared the president-elect in acknowledging the honor.

Member of the club for over eight years, Mr. Pettit is recognized by his fellow Kiwanians as one of the most active workers. He demonstrated his enthusiasm when as a new member he organized the musical festival sponsored by the club. Since then he has worked consistently in everything he has undertaken, whether it was on the Boys and Girls' Work Committee; the Jackson Park Health Camp; and in numerous other activities. This year he holds office as vice-president.

Retiring President Al. Sharpe in declaring the new officers as they were elected, paid a tribute to their past achievements and believed the work of the club for the next year would be in competent hands.

One Of Best In District

Secretary John A. McKone read a letter from Kiwanis International commending the local club on its good work during 1937 and extending wishes for continued success. The Peterborough Club has established the reputation as one of the best in the district.

One of the features of the meeting was the re-entry into club membership of Jacob Low, while it was announced that the Rev. P. J. Kelly, who was unavoidably absent, is to be made a member of Kiwanis at the next meeting.

A Chaplain with His Majesty's Force during the Great War, Father Kelly's entry into Kiwanis membership next week will be particularly appropriate, as on that occasion it is announced the club is to observe Remembrance Day.

Signalizing the near completion of another year of activity and outstanding progress, the club is shortly to observe past president's night. Arrangements for this event are in the hands of Harold R. Scott and Dr. J. J. Craig.

TWO MISSIONARIES GIVEN SEND OFF

Bound for Denmark and eventually Kenya, East Africa, where they will do seven years' mission service, Adjutant and Mrs. Wilford Yergenson and their two young children were given a rousing send-off by Salvation Army friends Thursday night. The family will sail today from Montreal.

Adjutant Yergenson, a native of Denmark, married Mrs. Yergenson, formerly Gertrude Leggott of this city, eight years ago and left Peterborough to spend their honeymoon at the Kenya Mission post. Returning now, they will visit Mr. Yergenson's parents in Denmark for two months before going to Africa.

At the C.N.R. station 150 Army friends and members of the Salvation Army Young People's band were present.

President-Elect

L. J. PETTIT

ROBERT M. FOWLER LEGAL SECRETARY TO HON. ROWELL

Appointment of Robert M. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bruce Fowler of this city, to the post of legal secretary to Chief Justice N. W. Rowell, chairman of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations, was announced today. Mr. Fowler is a member of the legal firm of McMaster, Montgomery, Fleury and Co. in Toronto.

The appointment represents another distinction in a long list of honors already gained in the young man's career. He graduated from the Peterborough Collegiate with honors and entered Toronto University on the Edward Blake scholarship. Specializing in mathematics, he won a number of scholarship honors in university and obtained the Governor-General's medal in English.

Going to Osgoode Hall following graduation, he was called to the bar in 1931. He went to the firm of McMaster, Montgomery, Fleury and Company to read law and was later taken into the firm. In connection with his service with the firm he took a case to the Privy Council in England this summer.

The appointment to the post with Chief Justice Rowell will not interrupt his connection with his legal firm which has granted him leave of absence during the existence of the commission.

ITALIAN ORGANIST TO GIVE RECITAL

Music lovers of the city will be particularly interested in an announcement late this afternoon that Signor Guiseppe Moschetti will give a half hour recital on the Northern Hanmond organ at the Peterborough Symphony Orchestra concert in the Collegiate Institute auditorium tonight. His program will include the Toccata and fugue in D minor by Bach and also one of his own compositions. Signor Moschetti recently came to Canada beginning a winter tour of the leading cities of this country and the United States. The organ was installed this afternoon by W. W. Edwards of Heinzman & Company, Toronto who will demonstrate its possibilities.

The Hammond organ originates lovely organ tones by electrical impulses instead of by wind pressure. It requires no pipes, no blowers, no reeds. The full tone range of this concert organ, includes diapasons, woodwinds, flutes, strings, reeds and scores of new tone colors besides.

The orchestra will be conducted by W. Harry Prevey.

The average man requires about 3,000 cubic feet of air an hour.

FOOD PRICES ARE COMPARED BY COMMITTEE

Definite Information Is Asked by Ald. Dutton

Citizens on relief will receive an increase of 5 per cent in the allowance for provisions as requested by a petition to the council by the Unemployed Workers' Association which was considered by the relief committee Thursday night. The food schedule is now 15 per cent in excess of the Campbell report instead of 10 per cent, and the change is to be put into effect as soon as possible.

H. Martin, secretary of the Association, read the petition at Monday night's meeting of the council, and by invitation met the committee Thursday night. Alderman Dutton presided.

"We are not here in a critical mood," Ald. Dutton said, "But statements in the petition reflect on the whole administration of relief in Peterborough. They are too general, and what we want is definite information to enable us to make our own investigations."

Mr. Martin said he had been selected as secretary to read the petition, and was not as well informed about conditions as were some of the members of the Association's executive. He undertook to report back to the Association for the purpose of having some members of its executive meet the relief committee and discuss actual cases."

"The petition says that the cost of living has advanced 35 to 40 per cent. Would you mind telling us where you got that information," Ald. Dutton asked.

"Some of our members called up butcher shops and other merchants and got prices from them," Mr. Martin said.

Food Prices Compared

"It is a fact that a report has been in circulation that the cost of living has gone up to the extent you say," Alderman Dutton continued, "but there is some doubt about them. At any rate we have to forward to the government every month a list of the prices of the articles that make up our list of provisions for which vouchers are given. I have a statement of those prices as on November 1 as compared with corresponding prices a year ago."

The comparative list was as follows:—

$4.41½ cents a year ago," Ald. Dutton said. "There is very little difference. The cost in fact is practically the same. Increases in rents, boots and shoes, clothing and other goods that can be incuded in the cost of living have advanced, but the increase is not so great when you examine the prices of food."

Alderman Glover stated that these other increases do not materially affect people on relief. "Rents are not raised in so far as they are concerned. "Neither are fuel, light and water, and clothing."

Houses and Rentals

Resuming his remarks, Alderman Dutton read "We can't get houses for the rent allowance." That is not the whole truth, and in regard to evictions, which have been comparatively few, other factors have entered into cases. We are not mentioning any names, but landlords have declared that they don't want certain people even if they get the entire rent they demand. As to several families living in tents, we have not been indifferent about that. It will be remembered that it was this committee which persuaded the government to increase the rent allowance to 150 per cent of the taxes, and then that allowance was further increased to 200 per cent of the taxes.

One of the families in tents moved to Lakefield today, and the other will be going in a day or two.

In regard to rents the policy of this committee has been that if some member of a family that is receiving relief is working and able to pay the rent we tell them to pay the full amoufft of the rent and we will make up the difference in other respects. The petition mentions beddings and other things of that nature, and that is a difficult problem. There is nothing allowed by the government for relief of that kind, and if it is provided the city has to pay the full amount of the expense."

Ald. Dutton said the committee did not reduce relief vouchers to heads of families who were able to earn occasional money. Those who recently helped load the cars of goods for the west were paid by the city at the rate of 40 cents an hour.

Refusal To Work

Mr. Martin said one of the men had complained that his allowance was cut one dollar because he had earned money loading the cars.

"I know who you mean," Relief Officer Metheral explained, naming the man, "and he was cut 50 cents a week because he refused to work for a farmer picking up potatoes at five cents a bag."

Referring to the complaint about lack of bedding in some homes Alderman Dutton said he did not want to give offence to worthy citizens who were on relief by speaking in a general way, but the fact was that some homes were so filthy that new bedding could not be recommended. In other homes that were cleanly kept, if the need was there we supplied it. How some people can live in the unclean conditions is almost beyond belief. It was felt that new bedding would be as bad as the old in a few months."

Ald. Dutton said the committee had no control over employment by factories, and all the industrial companies were on the same basis by reason of the fact that they are taxed for relief on the full amount of their assessments.

Co-operation Needed

"If some sensible men like yourself will come here and talk things over in a spirit of co-operation we might find something for them to do for example in trying to find out why some families don't keep their homes clean," Alderman Glover remarked.

It was stated that the families which create difficulty for the relief committee were exceptional, but usually only their own story reached the public. The committee did not wish to embarrass any person, it was said, but some cases might be improved by less considerate treatment.

Arrangements were made to confer with a deputation from the unemployed workers and discuss actual cases which Mr. Martin said were the basis of some of the complaints in the petition to the council.

Labor 'Condemns' Duke On Company

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5—(AP). — The Baltimore Federation of Labor last night unanimously adopted a resolution "condemning" the Duke of Windsor for coming to America with Charles Bedeaux, "arch enemy of labor," as his guide and expressing disfavor of the Duke's association with Chancellor Adolf Hitler in Germany.

The resolution "warned" organized labor in Baltimore not to be "taken in' by "slumming parties professing to help and to study labor."

Of the Duchess of Windsor, formerly of Baltimore, the resolution said that she, while a resident here, "in no way showed the slightest concern nor sympathy for the problems of labor or of the poor and needy."

BISHOP DESIRES CLEANUP OF STAGE

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP-Havas).—Rt. Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, Bishop of London, today emphatically urged a cleansing of the London stage so "young men and women from the provinces can find decent, healthy amusement" in the capital.

The Bishop, who spoke from the pulpit of St. James' Church in Piccadilly on behalf of the "Public Morality Council," said the fact the play, "White Oakes," by the Canadian author, Nazo de la Roche, ran for nearly two years "shows that the public does not really want sex plays."

"It is dishonorable for girls and extremely bad for young men to find pleasure in such productions," the Bishop said.

Turning to the screen, the Bishop said: "We do not say all cinemas are wrong. The pictures themselves are an addition to the happiness of the lives of millions of people. We are trying to see that the films shown children and young people are good ones and won't do them harm."

Sympathy Of Canadian People With Chinese At Present

can't get by other means she will try to take by force."

Mr. Cheolin left Shanghai early in July for the purpose of making an economic survey of Canada and sections of the United States. He has been moving easterly by easy stages, visiting the larger cities, and will go as far as Montreal, then to the eastern United States, returning west through Canada.

"I am spending several days in Peterborough because this is an important industrial city," he said. "We know some of your products such as Quaker Oats, Big Ben clocks and watches, Ovaltine, Mazo lamps made by the Canadian General Electric Company, but I don't think we have any of your Peterborough canoes."

"If Japan had left us alone for another ten years the world would hardly recognize China at the end of that time so rapid has been our progress even during the last five years. Our New Life movement, inspired by Madame Chiang, the talented wife of our great general, has really been a marvellous influence. Increased educational facilities, the radio, the press and also the motion picture theatres represent a combination of modernization factors that are being concentrated in a few years, and our advance in transportation and education, industry and sanitation is actually visible.

Aided By Missionaries.

May I also say that Christian missionaries have been another influential group in our country. At least half the members of the Nanking government are Christian gentlemen. We believe in China that Canada is heading to become a world power. We know you have great natural resources and all you need is more population. Chinese have a great respect for Canadians, and one of the reasons for my trip is to endeavor to stimulate trade relations and also to acquire definite knowledge of your industrial cities.

It seems to me sometimes that one of the great national romances you might call it, of our age is taking place in China in the awakening our people, especially our youth. Our new spirit of unity is likely to spread its effects not only in the defense of our country but in all phases of our national life. Time will tell."

Mr. Cheolin showed the reporter a book of photographs of Shanghai, pictures of his newspaper office, a splendid building, of the government leaders, of Chinese women, beautiful according to universal standards of charm, who are examples of the new youth and the younger matrons, women in medicine, and other professions, also in business; pictures of new industries including the manufacture of airplanes; motorbuses and new roads, new theatres and hotels employing "stream-lined' architectural designs.

"What we want now is peace and escape from Japanese influence,' Mr. Cheolin concluded, "and from all the signs our people have a new awareness of the destiny that is opening up for them as a nation. The Japanese have stirred their energies, and have shown what we can do and be, and that is our hope. We want to be friendly with the world, and that certainly includes Canada, because your country is really one of our neighbors even though an ocean does separate us."

Exiled Machado Venturing To United States For Operation

World Wanderer Since Forced To Leave His Native Cuba

MONTREAL, Nov. 5—(CP).—Gerardo Machado, a world wanderer since uprisings forced him to quit the presidency of Cuba and flee, is expected to leave Montreal soon to undergo a surgical operation in the United States.

When he will leave remained as a guarded a secret today as the life Machado has led since he came to Canada from Switzerland on a flight that began in 1933 during a Cuban army revolt.

A clerk of transportation services failed to reveal his plans but he was known to have obtained permission to enter the United States and his two daughters are believed to have flown to New York from Cuba to meet him.

The bespectacled, 54-year-old politician has lived privately in a downtown Montreal hotel. He is never "in" to those who ask and telephone calls are never put through to his suite.

A dramatic personality in the Army of Liberation that won Cuba Independence from Spain and set up a republic, Machado was made commander of the army after the election to the presidency of Gen. Jose Miguel Gomes in 1908. Made a cabinet minister, he resigned in a racial controversy but rejoined Gomes when the Liberal party was reunited.

President In 1925

Gomes turned over party leadership to him in 1920 and, with a well-oiled political machine, Machado rode into power over the Conservatives in the 1925 election. Opposition to his policies sprang up among his followers, to be climaxed in 1929 by his alliance with other parties to put through legislative plans.

Seven plots to kill the president were exposed and in 1933 open revolt broke out in the country. Machado was advised in 1933 by Sumner Welles, United States ambassador to take leave of absence and he left with a few aides for Nassau, in the Bahamas. Since then he has been successively in Montreal, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., New York City, Philadelphia, Germany, Switzerland and Montreal again.

DEPUTATION ASKS CHEAPER RATES FOR HYDRO POWER

On motion of Councillors Ball and Sheppard—That the veterans be given permission to hold a Tag Day on the date mentioned. Carried.

Want Cheaper Rates

F. C. Scott and H. D. Bigelow waited on Council in an effort to get reduced Hydro rates for the village.

After discussion, it was decided, on motion of Councillors Jeffrey and Sheppard, that the Clerk be instructed to write the Hydro Power Commission at Toronto asking them to send a representative to Millbrook at an early date, to discuss power and lighting costs, and to submit to this Council a statement of earnings and expenditures of the Millbrook plant covering the last six years.

On account of the large number of motor vehicles used in this vicinity by owners who do business in this centre, Therefore be it resolved that the clerk write the Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, requesting him to appoint an issuer of Motor Licenses in this village, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to C. G. Mercer, M.P.P., Elizabethville.

On Hallowe'en night a number of young men who ought to know better moved the fire-engine from the fire hall. The council wishes to point out to these young men that this was a very serious misdemeanor, and one that might have caused a great loss of property in case of fire. The Council hopes that these young men realize the gravity of their act, and should similar offence be committed in the future, a thorough investigation will be made and the culprits given the full extent of the law.

The following accounts were presented and on motion of Councillors Ball and Jeffrey, were ordered paid: Hydro, street lights, $72.30, halls, $9.58, total, $81.88; Telephone Co., account, $4.49; G. Modern Issues Face London Sessions On Emigration

Improved Social Standing In The Old Land Makes Problem

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP)—In the quiet of intensive study, the special committee created by the Empire Migration and Development conference, which recently held a three-days session in London, is face to face with the problem of settlement overseas.

The committee is non-political. Sir Patrick Hannon and G. O. Ammon, from opposing sides of the House of Commons, are members. Viscount Bledisloe, former governor-general of New Zealand, Lord Mansfield, Brig.-Gen. J. J. H. Nation, A. A. Somerville, M.P., chairman, sit at the committee table. Representatives from the dominions are to be invited. British labor organizations, women's movements, the municipalities are to be added.

The committee is faced with a double difficulty. In Great Britain, the old "empire spirit" has simmered down. It was the spirit which before the Great War sent young men by the hundred thousand to the dominions and the colonies to carve for themselves a new way in a new world.

The last 10 years have seen migration almost at a standstill. British Empire Settlement Acts, providing assistance for the would-be settler, have been so little utilized that every year there have been large balances of unexpended money on hand.

Social services have added another deterrent to migration. The British workman contributes to state unemployment insurance. When he loses his job, he is entitled by law to draw state unemployment insurance. He argues that if he emigrates, he loses all the contributions he has made to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Why therefore, he asks, should be sacrifice a reality for what, overseas, may prove only a shadow?

Want New Methods

The other difficulty which the committee has to face lies in the dominions. There, the opinion is widely held that resumption of migration would only mean adding to their own unemployed.

It is the so-called "lump of labor" theory. Members of the committee believe it to be a fallacy. They take the ground that resumed migration, by increasing demand in the dominions, would increase employment.

They argue that every emigrant from the United Kingdom, established overseas under a plan of financed settlement, requires a house, furniture, beds and bedding, cooking-stove and cooking implements, plates and crockery, farm implements and tools. All these items are made in the Dominions out of raw materials produced in the dominions. They all spell increased purchasing power in the dominions. And increased purchasing power in the dominions means a better market for British products.

Group settlement on the land is in mind. But it is not proposed to limit the settler to the land. To meet new conditions, it is felt, new methods must be devised. The old haphazard method of dumping the emigrant on the great open spaces can no longer apply. Development must go hand in hand with migration.

It is therefore proposed that the present committee shall be eventually replaced by a permanent body, independent of changes in government, empowered by Act of Parliament to examine and initiate development schemes.

These might include construction of harbors, river improvements, construction of canals, irrigation works, power plants, wireless stations, airdromes, telephonic and telegraphic systems and so forth. They would mean development of secondary industries in the dominions.

"The dominions," comments The Daily Express, "are rich in everything but men. This country is so rich in men that nearing the peak of prosperity 1,250,000 are unemployed. Man-power, brain-power, that greatest source of wealth is wasted. Now to use that wealth, emigration must be made to pay. The men who produce goods in the new lands must be able to sell them. They could be sold by giving the Empire a great share of our markets here."

"A fresh stream of migration," says The Liverpool Post "would benefit the dominions in many ways."

The Cardiff Western Mail declares: "It is vital to the maintenance of the Empire that its British elements and characteristics should be fostered and increased by every possible means. For if it becomes an Empire of wops its distinctive British sentiment will soon begin to disappear."

The Daily Telegraph observes that judged by whatever test, strategic, economic, social or political, it is clearly undesirable that so large a proportion of the population of the Empire should be concentrated in Great Britain. But The Telegraph adds that expectations on resumption of migration should be cautious. The capacity of the dominions to absorb population is often exaggerated.

The Yorkshire Post suggests that unfavorable impressions of conditions in the dominions be removed. "One such means," the paper adds, "is to cheapen the facilities for transmitting descriptive news and views from the dominions for circulation in the Home Country. Money is spent by our own government and by others in less profitable ways.

SNAKE DANCE PROTEST

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—(AP).—Three hundred college students demonstrated to-day in front of the British Embassy, performing a snake dance to express their protest against Great Britain's "attitude toward Japan."

The students presented a resolution to the British Consul declaring Japan was waging a holy war for permanent peace in the Far East which Great Britain had hindered "through her assistance to China."

ARMY OF HUNTERS INVADE LINDSAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 5—This town was invaded Thursday morning by the largest contingent of hunters in its history. The main street was lined on either sides with cars loaded down with camping equipment, etc., and the stores were stormed for supplies. Hunters from different points in the province as well as contingents from Ohio, New York and other states across the line, were seen in the groups. The number of hunters heading for the northland has reached a new peak, and other contingents leaving this week will swell the total. Reports from the north have it that deer will be plentiful this fall. It is pointed out by old hunters from the highlands that very few deer were destroyed last winter, and as quite a number of the animals were seen close to the settlements during the past few weeks, it is believed that this forecast is correct.

The announcement that the Lindsay Arsenal would resume operations at an early date has been followed by a large number of applications on the part of the unemployed for positions in the plant. It is understood that skilled men will be largely employed and that returned men will be given the preference.

Fiery Canadian Laborite's Career Ends In His Death

GLACE BAY, N.S., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Death has closed the aggressive career of James B. MacLachlan, fiery Labor leader whose challenging Scottish burr ever rang in war against capitalism and the employer. He was 69 years of age.

His flame had waned gradually since 1921. Convicted of sedition, branded a communist and atheist, expelled from the ranks of the United Mine Workers by John L. Lewis, he retired from active participation in labor politics to a dairy farm near here. There he died yesterday.

Advocate of sabotage— "warring from within,' he called it—first to urge a strike be made 100 per cent by withdrawal of maintenance men, yet he held the respect of thousands of men. He ran unsuccessfully for the Federal and Provincial Houses.

Once he told a U.M.W. meeting chance encounter with a former schoolmate, a girl driven into the streets of Glasgow, had enlisted him in his never-ending war against capitalism and for labor.

"As I gazed into the painted face of that poor girl, I swore to myself that I would never turn back in the Labor movement until I had helped end such things forever."

The stories that sprang up around his life and exploits are legend. A hard fighter and bitter opponent, with a flair for startling statements, MacLachlan was probably the most prolific source of news in Eastern Canada from his rise to power in 1918 until his banishment from orthodox labor ranks in Cape Breton five years later.

He was born in Ecclefechan, Scotland, in the same house as Thomas Carlyle, famous British historian. He came to Nova Scotia when a young man and almost immediately began his ascent to power almost equal to that of a dictator.

His problem was to sway his followers away from their individual hatreds and differences toward a common enemy. His pointed speeches always were dramatized with liberal denunciation of some individual held up as the personification of the alleged evils of the capitalistic system. He welcomed hecklers because he was able to silence them by his lightning thrusts and parries.

At one meeting in Glace Bay at which he presided in 1910, two men were fatally shot in a brawl that followed some speaker's words. When he returned from serving a penitentiary term for sedition, a crowd of 8,000 met him in Glace Bay and made his homecoming a triumphal tour. Wherever Jim MacLachlan was, there was drama.

His penitentiary term on a charge of seditious libel was drama itself. He was convicted in 1923 on the basis of a circular letter he had sent to union locals and sentenced to two years in prison after a trial in Halifax.

A 10-Year Battle.

After the disastrous defeat of the U.M.W. in 1909, he was hunted from pillar to post. Somehow, with a few faithful followers, he managed to keep the union alive until its recognition nearly 10 years later.

In the turbulent post-war years in the coal and steel industry of Cape Breton MacLachlan ruled almost supreme. His word among the men was law—but he stepped too far.

The industry was in the throes of almost constant serious strikes. Troops twice had been called out, and when steelworkers walked out after a dispute with their employers, MacLachlan ordered his miners out in sympathy. John L. Lewis immediately outlawed the strike and expelled him from the union. That ended his direct connection with the U.M.W., but until illness forced him into retirement he continued active in the labor movement.

Eyston Drives His Automobile 2,000 Miles In 12 Hour Test

Utah, Nov. 5—(AP).—Britain's un-Utah, Nov. 4—(AP).—Britain's uncrowned king of speed, Capt. George E. T. Eyston, calmly regarded three new records and observed to-day he would have to travel almost twice as fast Saturday to attain his chief objective.

"I hope to try for the top world speed record—the one-mile mark—in The Thunderbolt Saturday morning—or at the latest, Sunday," he said. "That car will have to go almost twice as fast as The Speed of The Winds."

In The Thunderbolt's sister-craft, Speed of The Winds, Eyston made a dawn-to-dark run of 2,000 miles yesterday to capture world records for 3,000 kilometers, 12 hours, and 2,000 miles.

But it's the mile record he covets. Sir Malcolm Campbell set that record—301.1292 m.p.h. over a measured mile here in 1935.

Captures 12 Records

Eyston shot his Thunderbolt over the mile last week at 309.6 m.p.h. before it broke down, unabel to complete the return journey required to make the record official.

Eyston's run in Speed of The Winds yesterday garnered 12 official records—three in the world unlimited class, three in international Class A and three each in American unlimited and Class A.

The new marks are 2,000 miles, 163.75 m.p.h.; 12 hours, 163.68 m.p.h.; 3,000 kilometres, 163.49 m.p.h. In an earlier intended 24-hour run October 14, halted by rain after 15½ hrs. Eyston set a record for 2,000 kilometres, 163.59 m.p.h.

Ab Jenkins, Salt Lake City, had established last September the three marks broken yesterday. They were 2,000 miles, 160.11; 12 hours, 160.17; 3,000 kilometres, 161.49 m.p.h.

Peterborough Peculiar City Nora Adams Tells Workers

No Active Warfare In Peterborough Between C.I.O. And A.F. of L.

The state of active warfare which exists between workers organized under the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. workers in the United States does extend to this city an announcement at a trade union rally in the Legion Hall last night indicated. Nora Adams, U.A.W.A. organizer from Oshawa, told an audience of 200 men and women the Peterborough branch of the Trades and Labour Congress, composed of A. F. of L. chartered unions, has pledged its support to C.I.O. in its activities here.

Among those on the platform in addition to Miss Adams were F. C. Marsh, here to organize workers of the C.G.E. into the Radio, Electrical and Machine Workers union; Archie Johnstone, Provincial representative of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Alliance; Thomas Tooms, former Labor member, and Osborne Smith of the Workers Educational Association.

Peculiar City

"Peterborough is a peculiar city," Miss Adams told the gathering. "Boys working for 14 cents an hour apologize for the wages. Men here are afraid to talk in their shops even to close friends for fear of being thrown out of work."

She said workers are afraid to be seen talking to her, fearing they will be identified as agitators by their employers and fired. Such workers should take a lesson from Windsor and Oshawa where absolute freedom in such matters exists, she said.

Mr. Tooms defended organization of labor on an international scale, pointing to the fact that industry itself was organized on such a scale and that, to match strength, labor must follow suit. He scored the suggestion that labor organizers are trouble makers.

Defends Organizers

"When an organizer comes to town he comes not as an agitator but as a mediator and peacemaker," the speaker claimed. He said that, with lengthy experience in labor disputes and being in a position to speak for his workers as a united body, the organizer generally facilitates labor disputes and hastens settlements.

Organizational Skit

An unusual feature of the program was presentation of a U. A. W. A. "organizational skit" by a small group of girls from the U. A. W. A. Oshawa local dramatic club. The skit was designed to demonstrate the purpose, and power of the union, staging the story of an unfortunate girl who worries over domestic troubles and is unjustly fired for minor inefficiencies at her work which result. Comrade workers organize themselves into a union to fight her case with the company and do so successfully.

EVERYBODY GROWS WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5 (CP)—Wheat is being grown in more countries than any other commercial cereal and it is no longer necessary for other countries to buy Canadian wheat, Dr. E. Cora Hind, agricultural editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, said last night in addressing delegates to the 31st annual meeting of United Grain Growers, Limited.

European countries are growing wheat even though it is uneconomic because they fear war and wish to become self-supporting, she said. She urged federal appointment of observers to watch agricultural developments in foreign countries.

Moscow, Russia, will make the subway its important means of transporation.

Mother of Five Who Was Always Tired

Now Awakes as Fresh as a Daisy

A mother of five has a lot to do. Especially a country mother. And this one was "always tired." But Kruschen ended all that—now she gets up feeling fresh, at five o'clock in the morning! She writes:

"I find Kruschen Salts the best thing money can buy for my health. I am the mother of five children, and before taking Kruschen, I was always feeling tired and run down. Now, I am glad to say that I get up feeling fresh—and I get up at five oclock in the morning. I do my housework, look after my children, and leave the house at 6.30 to start my daily work."—Mrs. B.

Tiredness and that run-down feeling can be traced to one root cause. That cause is internal sluggishness; failure to keep the inside free from poisonous, waste matter.

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of these impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system. —Advt.

Only Vicks gives you such proof. VapoRub is the direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upsets. Simply massage it on the throat, chest, and back (as illustrated).

Relief starts almost at once. You begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub starts working direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time, its medicated vapors—released by the warmth of the body—are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break local congestion.

Modern Issues Face London Sessions On Emigration

Improved Social Standing In The Old Land Makes Problem

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP)—In the quiet of intensive study, the special committee created by the Empire Migration and Development conference, which recently held a three-days session in London, is face to face with the problem of settlement overseas.

The committee is non-political. Sir Patrick Hannon and G. G. Ammon, from opposing sides of the House of Commons, are members. Viscount Bledisloe, former governor-general of New Zealand, Lord Mansfield, Brig.-Gen. J. J. H. Nation, A. A. Somerville, M.P., chairman, sit at the committee table. Representatives from the dominions are to be invited. British labor organizations, women's movements, the municipalities are to be added.

The committee is faced with a double difficulty. In Great Britain, the old "empire spirit" has simmered down. It was the spirit which before the Great War sent young men by the hundred thousand to the dominions and the colonies to carve for themselves a new way in a new world.

The last 10 years have seen migration almost at a standstill. British Empire Settlement Acts, providing assistance for the would-be settler, have been so little utilized that every year there have been large balances of unexpended money on hand.

Social services have added another deterrent to migration. The British workman contributes to state unemployment insurance. When he loses his job, he is entitled by law to draw state unemployment insurance. He argues that if he emigrates, he loses all the contributions he has made to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Why therefore, he asks, should be sacrifice a reality for what, overseas, may prove only a shadow?

Want New Methods

The other difficulty which the committee has to face lies in the dominions. There, the opinion is widely held that resumption of migration would only mean adding to their own unemployed.

It is the so-called "lump of labor" theory. Members of the committee believe it to be a fallacy. They take the ground that resumed migration, by increasing demand in the dominions, would increase employment.

They argue that every emigrant from the United Kingdom, established overseas under a plan of financed settlement, requires a house, furniture, beds and bedding, cooking-stove and cooking implements, plates and crockery, farm implements and tools. All these items are made in the Dominions out of raw materials produced in the dominions. They all spell increased purchasing power in the dominions. And increased purchasing power in the dominions means a better market for British products.

Group settlement on the land is in mind. But it is not proposed to limit the settler to the land. To meet new conditions, it is felt, new methods must be devised. The old haphazard method of dumping the emigrant on the great open spaces can no longer apply. Development must go hand in hand with migration.

It is therefore proposed that the present committee shall be eventually replaced by a permanent body, independent of changes in government, empowered by Act of Parliament to examine and initiate development schemes.

These might include construction of harbors, river improvements, construction of canals, irrigation works, power plants, wireless stations, airdromes, telephonic and telegraphic systems and so forth. They would mean development of secondary industries in the dominions.

"The dominions," comments The Daily Express, "are rich in everything but men. This country is so rich in men that nearing the peak of prosperity 1,250,000 are unemployed. Man-power, brain-power, that greatest source of wealth is wasted. Now to use that wealth, emigration must be made to pay. The men who produce goods in the new lands must be able to sell them. They could be sold by giving the Empire a great share of our markets here."

"A fresh stream of migration," says The Liverpool Post "would benefit the dominions in many ways."

The Cardiff Western Mail declares: "It is vital to the maintenance of the Empire that its British elements and characteristics should be fostered and increased by every possible means. For if it becomes an Empire of wops its distinctive British sentiment will soon begin to disappear."

The Daily Telegraph observes that judged by whatever test, strategic, economic, social or political, it is clearly undesirable that so large a proportion of the population of the Empire should be concentrated in Great Britain. But The Telegraph adds that expectations on resumption of migration should be cautious. The capacity of the dominions to absorb population is often exaggerated.

The Yorkshire Post suggests that unfavorable impressions of conditions in the dominions be removed. "One such means," the paper adds, "is to cheapen the facilities for transmitting descriptive news and views from the dominions for circulation in the Home Country. Money is spent by our own government and by others in less profitable ways.

SNAKE DANCE PROTEST

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—(AP).—Three hundred college students demonstrated to-day in front of the British Embassy, performing a snake dance to express their protest against Great Britain's "attitude toward Japan."

The students presented a resolution to the British Consul declaring Japan was waging a holy war for permanent peace in the Far East which Great Britain had hindered "through her assistance to China."

ARMY OF HUNTERS INVADE LINDSAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, Nov. 5—This town was invaded Thursday morning by the largest contingent of hunters in its history. The main street was lined on either sides with cars loaded down with camping equipment, etc., and the stores were stormed for supplies. Hunters from different points in the province as well as contingents from Ohio, New York and other states across the line, were seen in the groups. The number of hunters heading for the northland has reached a new peak, and other contingents leaving this week will swell the total. Reports from the north have it that deer will be plentiful this fall. It is pointed out by old hunters from the highlands that very few deer were destroyed last winter, and as quite a number of the animals were seen close to the settlements during the past few weeks, it is believed that this forecast is correct.

The announcement that the Lindsay Arsenal would resume operations at an early date has been followed by a large number of applications on the part of the unemployed for positions in the plant. It is understood that skilled men will be largely employed and that returned men will be given the preference.

Aged Women Gets Direction

Obviously worried by the warfare and destruction going on about her, this aged Chinese refugee is shown as she asked directions of a Chinese settlement police officer. The photograph was snapped in front of the British Consulate General near Garden Bridge, Shanghai.

Fiery Canadian Laborite's Career Ends In His Death

GLACE BAY, N.S., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Death has closed the aggressive career of James B. MacLachlan, fiery Labor leader whose challenging Scottish burr ever rang in war against capitalism and the employer. He was 63 years of age.

His flame had waned gradually since 1921. Convicted of sedition, branded a communist and atheist, expelled from the ranks of the United Mine Workers by John L. Lewis, he retired from active participation in labor politics to a dairy farm near here. There he died yesterday.

Advocate of sabotage— "warring from within,' he called it—first to urge a strike be made 100 per cent by withdrawal of maintenance men, yet he held the respect of thousands of men. He ran unsuccessfully for the Federal and Provincial Houses.

Once he told a U.M.W. meeting chance encounter with a former schoolmate, a girl driven into the streets of Glasgow, had enlisted him in his never-ending war against capitalism and for labor.

"As I gazed into the painted face of that poor girl, I swore to myself that I would never turn back in the Labor movement until I had helped end such things forever."

The stories that sprang up around his life and exploits are legend. A hard fighter and bitter opponent, with a flair for startling statements, MacLachlan was probably the most prolific source of news in Eastern Canada from his rise to power in 1918 until his banishment from orthodox labor ranks in Cape Breton five years later.

Only Vicks give you such proof.

VapoRub is the direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no risk of stomach upsets. Simply massage it on the throat, chest, and back (as illustrated).

Relief starts almost at once. You begin to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub starts working direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time, its medicated vapors—released by the warmth of the body—are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break local congestion.

Bengals Need Scullers' Help To Clinch Play-Off Berth

Easy Victory Likely For Imps Over Panthers—Varsity Out For Glory

TORONTO, Nov. 5 (CP) — The questions to be answered on the east's football books this week centre around the Interprovincial Union where the fight for a second playoff berth is as scrambled as eggs on a breakfast plate. Barring upsets, a portion of the unscrambling should be accomplished tomorrow.

With two weeks to play, Toronto Argonauts have captured one Big Four playoff spot. That is the only sure thing about the Union's standing for Ottawa, Montreal and Hamilton all are within two points of each other for the coveted second place. A ready solution to the pile-up would be victories for Argos in Montreal and Tigers at home.

There is a growing conviction that University of Toronto Blues are the College Union's outstanding team. So no one expects McGill Redmen to do anything to upset that belief at Toronto while the Western Mustangs and Queen's settle their differences at Kingston.

An Easy Win For Imps

Sarnia Imperials have a return date at home with Hamilton Panthers—which is nice for Imperials. Last week they whipped the inexperienced Panthers 24-6 and they should find it at least as easy to roll up that margin again for their seventh straight Ontario Union championship.

Because they are scheduled to meet in the last game of the regular league season, Ottawa or Montreal eventually must fall by the Big Four wayside. But to bring that forthcoming clash into the crucial stage, they also must win tomorrow. Both face the toughest assignments.

Argonauts stack their unbeaten, untied team—the only one in the east—against an Indian tribe which has gained more yardage through the air and on the ground in three of their four contests. Only in the first Argo-Indian clash were Johnny Ferraro's met outrushed along the line.

Repeatedly they have stormed within 16 yards of the goalline only to have bids for touchdowns turned back when singles might have won. From the Indian camp comes word Ferraro may sacrifice his daring tactics for the more conservative take-a-point game—if Indians get close enough.

Memories of a 7-5 pastings from McGill on a last-play touchdown still rankle University of Toronto's footballers, tied with Western for the leadership of the Union. Though snapback Doug Turner will not play because of a broken wrist, Toronto's line and fleet running halves should prove too much for the Redmen, victors but once in four starts.

Hopes For Tricolor

Another Queen's team with little attacking power but with a great defence will try for their third straight against Mustangs, who have shown signs of faltering after a great start. Claude Moore will be back pitching passes for Western after a two-game layoff, and should help considerably.

Punter Johnny Munro and placement-kicker Bernie Thornton, who have scored all Tri-Color points this season, will lead Teddy Reeve's charges in a game they must win to challenge for the title.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

(By Bradley)

LUCK

There is no disputing the fact that luck is one of the major contributing factors in sports. Oftentimes it is the deciding factor that fixes the final result. While luck is present in all sports, there are few that will argue the point that it plays a greater part in football than in any other sport.

Just 10 seconds of luck—a fumbled ball—an unruly gust of wind that would deflect the ball from its usual course, or a "dirty bounce" can undo the work of 59 minutes of superior football.

The major part that fickle fortune can play in the fall pastime is more emphasized when we realize that five and perhaps six points can hinge on the length of a fingernail when a straining receiver leaps to catch a forward pass.

And this last minute "pass and pray" system where the losing team can take to the air and throw passes with abandon till they click, and perhaps score, is just another of the phases of the game where dame fortune can smile on apparent losers, and in the space of a few seconds, make them triumph.

When we take these facts into consideration we must admit that luck does play a larger part in football than other sports.

THREE MAT BOUTS AT RINK TONIGHT

To-night's Mat Bouts. — "The Great" Balbo, Italy, vs. Joe Meichs, Brantford, 2 in 3 falls. Tony Bommarito, Italy, vs. Dick Merrill, Washington, 2 to 3 falls. Jim Pappas, Greece, vs. Bill Thornton, California, one fall.

Peterborough tonight will have its return into big time wrestling under the promotion of Bob Mosley who will stage a mat card in the Brock St. arena.

"The Great" Balbo, Italian sensation, is billed to meet Tuffy Cleete in the main event and the latter appears to have about the biggest job of his mat career confronting him.

Balbo is rated the hardest flying tackler ever to challenge in the light-heavy class. He has developed this battering ram attack to a point of perfection where it is hard to stop.

Unless Cleete uncorks an antidote for these tackles he is very likely to find himself hurtling through the air into someone's lap in the third or fourth row seats or prone on the mat for a fall. If he can trump up a defense for it he may be able to beat the swarthy son of Mussolini.

Both boys rely on cleancut wrestling and although the bout should prove one of the hardest fought of the season it also is likely to be one of the cleanest. It will be decided best two in three falls.

Another Italian of an entirely different type will figure in the semi-final. His name is Tony Bommarito, who is known as the "Italian mat gangster" because of his rough ring tactics. He meets Dick Merrill a fast and clean wrestling youngster from Washington, D.C. This one also is two in three falls.

The opening bout at 8.30 will see Jim Pappas, a Greek, pitted against the former California footballer, Bill Thornton.

Two P.C.I. Squads Play Here Saturday

Bowmanville senior and junior grid teams will play the two P.C.I squads here tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon in Riverside Park. They will wind up the C.O.S.S.A. schedules in Peterborough, though the local junior gang have one more tussle to play in Lindsay. Coach Wm. Jackson's juniors will have a hard fight on their hands but they hope to pull out a win over their Rubbertown rivals. They were nosed out by the latter in a tight tilt three weeks ago in Bowmanville but expect to reverse the score this time, and thereby keep in the running for group honors. They are tied now with Lindsay and one game back of Bowmanville. A loss will eliminate them.

Coach H. Bamforth's senior Garnet and Gray outfit ought to add another victory to their string, since they won handily from Bowmanville before and are in good shape for tomorrow's contest. It is uncertain if Al or Gee Clark will be ready for this fixture, owing to injuries, but Kelly is expected back in the lineup and the team should be strong enough to cop the nod. These teams play wide-open, exciting rugby all the time, and the two games here tomorrow afternoon ought to provide plenty of interest for the many followers of the P.C.I. squads.

LONDON LEADER DIES

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 5.—(CP).—Funeral of Frederick Henry Beltz, one-time all-around athlete, will be held here to-morrow with burial in Mount Pleasant cemetery. Mr. Beltz died in hospital last night at the age of 66.

During his younger days he played football, hockey, lacrosse and tennis and was instrumental in promoting cycling and road racing in this district. He was a member of the Y.M.C.A. Imperials lacrosse team that won fame in that branch of sport in the "eighties."

HURT IN TRAINING

OLDHAM, England—(CP). — T. Rees, fullback of Oldham Rugby League team, suffered a compound fracture of the bottom jaw when training recently. He is expected to be out of the game six or seven weeks.

Prep Grid Star Has Amazing Record

Bill de Correvont shouldn't have much trouble arranging for his college education. The 18-year-old Austin High school star of Chicago, Ill., is the brightest football and general athletic star ever produced in the history of Chicago's prep school competition and skilled observers are acclaiming him as the greatest in the United States. In his four years of football de Correvont has made a touchdown every game from his first freshman contest. In one game he made nine touchdowns out of the 10 times he carried the ball, and more than half the runs he has made have been 50 yards or more. Now in his senior prep year, Bill de Correvont looks better than ever on the gridiron, and college offers make him the most sought-after prep player in the country. He is seen here demonstrating his football ability.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd C'uckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

OUR THREE rugby teams swing into action tomorrow, the P.C.I. junior and senior squads playing Bowmanville here in C.O.S.S.A. scheduled tilts, and the Orfuns meeting the Trenton Fliers at the Airport in an O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" playdown number. Two of these games are quite important and all three should be interesting. The junior P.C.I.-ers have an outside chance yet at group honors but need the win here tomorrow over their Rubbertown rivals to retain that slim chance. A loss will sink 'em like McGinty's body—to the bottom of the sea, and a victory will make it a three-way tie for the top rung between Lindsay, Bowmanville and P.C.I. The senior school fixture should see the unbeaten Bamforth boys knock off Bowmanville again, though it may be a closer contest than we imagine. At anyrate, both these grid jousts here will be lively and worth seeing. They ought to draw a big crowd of football fans.

ORFUNS FACE a tough task when they clash with the Airmen on the latter's taking-off field. The Fliers are reported to be big and bruising, playing straight rugby—which means plunge, punt and punch 'em. They are unbeaten so far this year, having rubbed out Kingston and Belleville. But the Turnbull team is unbeaten, too, having erased Lindsay and Cobourg handily. And the Orfuns never back up from rough going. They sort of figure they can trim the Trenton team right at the Airport and will be in there fighting from whistle to whistle. Coach Bill Turnbull and some of his players scouted the Fliers in their last game and the locals claim they didn't see anything to scare 'em very badly. But they do expect a swell-egant scrap. Return tilt will be here the following Saturday, points counting on the round.

* * * * * * *

EN PASSANT, as we Frenchmen say, we might check the Lindsay Warder writer on a point. He seems to think the local O.R.F.U.-ers are going into playdowns for the first time. Not so, pal, not so. Four years ago, the Petes rubbed out Belleville and then played Toronto, later losing in finals to St. Thomas. Oshawa won this group next year, and then Lindsay—with the locals again on top in this year of grace. And 'way back in the hoss-and-buggy days, Peterborough entered O.R.F.U. playdowns so often it became monotonous. Yeah, we have a far better grid record than Lindsay. But we liked his return poem—ours was about the "muddy Scugog"—as follows: "For once those Petes' Orfuns have found a winning way, but it takes two Lindsay gridders to show them how to play!"

* * * * * * *

CHURCH BASKETBALL League games tomorrow e'en in the "Y" are: George St. vs. St. John's Bantams at 6.00, St. Paul's vs. St. John's Juveniles at 6.45, and St. Andrew's vs. St. Paul's Juniors at 7.30. A couple of the expected entries in this loop failed to materialize, so now it looks like maybe a 10-team league. There'll be only three in the juvenile division, anyway, with maybe four in the junior and bantam groups. Schedules will be run in halves, the winners of each half to playoff. If a team wins both ends, there will be no playoff, of course. E. West was given permission by the executive to play with St. Andrew's Juniors. St. Paul's, twice junior champs, are sure of being on time in their affiliation with the Ontario church cage association, getting an intermediate "B" rating. St. Andrew's may also decide to enter the Ontario church junior playdowns.

A FLOCK of folks will wend their way tonight to the Brock St. arena to see the return of the professional rasslin' gentry. A big three-bout card is being staged there under a Windsor promoter and fun and excitement is promised to all. When these mat mastodons—who rival Grecian sculptor models for beautiful framework—tangle, and mangle, on the canvas-covered ring floor, the ladies and gents really put their vocal cords to work. Oodles of action, tricks that would put five Philadelphia lawyers to shame, and merriment of the merriest—yeah, you get 'em all at the pro grapple bouts. If these mat maulers are as good as we're told by the promoter, tonight's show at the Brock will be well worth taking a gander at. Thrills and spills and some midriff guffaws.

* * * * * * *

THE CARD features "The Great" Balbo vs. Tuffy Cleete in the main eeeevent of the eeeevening, and the former is said to be the toughest exponent of the flying tackle since Gus Sonnenburg. Tuffy had better be very, very tuff indeed, what? In the semi-final —also two out of three falls—Tony Bommarito will attempt to emulate Mussolini in Ethiopia by cleaning up Dick Merrill, if the latter is willing to do a Sclassie! The prelim is between Jim Pappas and Bill Thornton—when Greek meets gridder!

* * * * * * *

MARMORA HIGH School grid squad meets Albert College in Belleville tomorrow in the first game of the interscholastic playdowns. Winner in this serial will go in against the P.C.I. Seniors. It is expected that the Albert Collitch crew will clean up on Marmora—though one should never bet one's shirt on such things—and that the Quinte and local gangs will stage a dandy duel in the second round of the C.O.S.S.A. playdowns. Incidentally, the Belleville Panthers, though out of O.R.F.U. competition for this year, are making plans already. They expect to hold their pretty fair crew together for several years yet, to bring in some footballers and to take the cream of the school grads. McKee of Lindsay and some other "well-known Central Ontario grid star" will be living in Belleville soon, they claim.

* * * * * * *

ANNUAL MEETING of the Senior City Hockey League will be held next Tuesday p.m. at eight bells in Duffus', and all those interested are invited to attend. Officers will be elected at this time, prospective entries canvassed and an outlineof the 1937-38 seasonal plans made. A big year is expected by the Blood and Thunder League moguls and they're not waiting till ice forms on car radiators to get organized, Clubs wanting in should get lined up soon.

GRAB-BAG: The P.C.I. juniors have had less points scored against 'em this year so far than any team in the group . . . . Don Weese has been named timekeeper at the pro rassle show here this eve . . . . St. Andrew's rugbyists took an 11-0 win over the lighter Lakefield team yesterday in Aurora . . . . Gus Ryder of Toronto and Les Shields of Belleville are the officials at the Fliers-Orfuns' tussle tomorrow . . . . Toronto Eastsides play Dundas and Cobourg meets Kingston in O.R.F.U. playdown tilts on the morrow, too . . . . Bob Armstrong and Bob Elliott are arbiters for this latter combat . . . . And now the N.H.L.-ers have pried off the lid, so it looks like winter is with us again . . . . Not as much interest in the Church Cage Loop this semester as in other years . . . . There is a feeling among writers in Central Ontario that the Lakeshore group plays better rugby than that Trenton-Belleville-Kingston sector . . . . Ought to get some dope on new pucksts here shortly . . . . No time to rhyme, so—in the purest of Parisian French—oh reservoir!

JACK McAULIFFE, FORMER CHAMPION PASSES SUDDENLY

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (CP)—The Great Referee counted "10 and out" today over old Jack McAuliffe, one of the toughest sons Ireland ever sent to the boxing wars.

The man who retired from the ring undefeated after lording it over all the lightweights for 14 years before the turn of the century died yesterday of a throat ailment at his suburban home in Forest Hills. He was 71.

McAuliffe succeeded to the 135-pound throne in 1886 when the then-ruling Jim Mitchell refused his challenge. He fought 10 corking battles as champion, including a 74-round draw with Jem Carney of England, and a 60-round deadlock with Billy Myer. He gave up the crown in 1896, with never a black mark on his illustrious record.

54 Fights In 3 Decades

In all, his career as an unbeaten ringman dated from 1884 to 1914, when he fought an exhibition. He had 54 fights in those three decades.

A memorable example of McAuliffe's courage came in 1889 when he fought the draw with Myer. The champion broke an arm during the furious mixing, but refused to quit until the referee called the bout after 64 rounds. He revealed he had gone on despite the paralyzing pain from the fracture so as to save the money of those who had backed him. That fight, staged in North Judson, Ind., was for $2,500—a beggar's purse compared to those he would draw in the present day.

He squared matters with Myer three years later when he butchered him for 15 rounds, then knocked him colder than the Blarney Stone.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

Lionel Conacher, perhaps Canada's greatest all-round athlete, was bought by Montreal Maroons from New York Americans in a straight cash deal seven years ago today. Rugby and hockey player, boxer and wrestler, the "Big Train" retired this year and started his political career in the 1937 Ontario general election.

BOB GRACIE SIGNS

Word received from Montreal states that Bob Gracie of North Bay, Maroons' holdout forward, had signed his 1937-38 contract at terms mutually satisfactory to himself and Manager King Clancy.

Sent To Minors

WALLY KILREA

When a coach of a hockey team has to start sending good players to the minors, that team must have an exceptional array of stars on its line-up. That is exactly what is the matter with the Detroit Red Wings. Manager Jack Adams has had to ship Wally Kilrea to the minors for the simple reason he is over-loaded with good hockey ivory. What some N.H.L. managers wouldn't give to be able to grab a few of these such "cast-offs."

LACROSSE BOARD APPROVES RULING ON U.S. 'TRAVEL'

TORONTO, Nov. 5 (CP)—Sixty per cent of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association's net profits in 1937 will go to provincial associations, according to announcement at the O.A.L.A. meeting last night. Mike Kelley, president of the C.A.L.A., said half of the 60 per cent would be divided between the two provinces who competed for the Dominion senior championship, British Columbia and Ontario. The other half would be split among the four other provincial bodies, he said.

Approve Restrictions

Restrictions on Canadian players who leave to play in the United States were made in a motion sponsored by Fred Waghorne of Toronto. It was unanimously passed by the executive. It was an amended resolution advanced by Dan Miller, St. Catharines. The amended motion provided that any player living in Canada and working in Canada may not play in the United States but any player who obtains a job in that country may apply to his club for a transfer, such transfer to be endorsed by the O.A.L.A.

The resolution also provided that all Canadian lacrosse teams which leave to play in the United States obtain a guarantee of at least $300 expenses from the inviting club.

No Developing Country

It was aproved after Mike Kelley said the United States was no more able "to develop lacrosse players than they could hockey players."

The executive ruling on Waghorne's motion followed a recent suggestion from Frank Sweeney, Hollywood's promoter, that players from Canadian teams go to southern California and form the nucleus of a four-team league there this winter.

Toronto Leafs And Redwings Battle To 2-All Deadlock

Freak Detroit Goal Squares The Count Late In Third Period

TORONTO, Nov. 5 — A freak goal by Marty Barry, Detroit centre ace, enabled the Red Wings to gain a 2-all tie with Maple Leafs in the N.H.L. opener played before 10,000 fans here last night.

Just fourteen seconds remained to complete full time when Barry took Larry Aurie's pass at centre and flipped a long, lazy shot at Broda. The puck bounced crazily over the Toronto goaler's stick, much to the amazement of all in attendance.

It was the second goal of the night for Barry, who matched Toronto counters by Nick Metz and Jimmy Fowler. It was a closely contested game, only three penalties being meted out.

Both Cautious at Start.

The Leafs enjoyed an edge for the first five minutes, though the rivals elected to play a more or less cautious brand of hockey. Herbie Lewis got in close on Broda, who saved and then fell to smother Aurie's thrust at the rebound. Drillon was in clear on Apps's relay but missed the corner by inches.

Reg. Hamilton drew the game's first penalty for dumping Goodfellow. Hamilton returned before the Wings could muster a dangerous-looking attack.

The crowd was thrilled as Boll almost clicked twice on Conacher's passes. The Buzzer slammed the puck right over the cage on each occasion.

Up With Rangers

BOB KIRK

Since several veterans with the New York Rangers have given up the winter sport, either to become coaches or retire from the game, Lester Patrick has been forced to bring in new players. Among the several youngsters he has brought up from the minors is Bob Kirk, who was with the Rangers' farm club last season.

CUBAN DISQUALIFIED

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(AP).—Cuban Kid Tunero of Havana, was disqualified for hitting low three times in the tenth round of his bout with Josef Besselman of Germany last night before a crowd of 8,000.

The bout was one of an elimination series being staged by the International Boxing Union for the world middleweight championship.

AMERICANS ADD SMITH TO CLUB

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (C.P.). — Reginald (Hooley)) Smith, a veteran of the National Hockey League wars, comes out for his 14th season in the big time in a new livery—the star-spangled attire of New York Americans.

The management of the New York club made known last night they had acquired the Hooligan from Boston where he played one season after reaching the heights of hockey greatness with Montreal Maroons.

Marvin (Red) Dutton, manager of the Americans, announced acquisition of the big defence and centre-ice man before his team defeated Blackhawks 3-0 in the league opener.

Dutton expressed belief Smith's presence would make them an even more formidable crew. He gave out no terms of the deal whereby he obtained the 32-year-old Hooligan.

N.H.L. All-Stars

(By the Canadian Press).

Marty Barry, Detroit, who scored both his team's goals in the third period to gain a 2-2 tie with Toronto.

Murph Chamberlain, Toronto, who contributed an assist and played good all-around hockey in his first league game as a professional.

Earl Robertson, Americans, who shut out Chicago as his team took a 3-0 victory, resuming where he left off with Detroit's champions last winter.

Sweeney Schriner, Americans, who scored twice to start his drive for a third straight N.H.L. scoring title.

AMERKS BLANK CHIHAWKS 3-0 INITIAL GAME

TORONTO, Nov. 5 (CP). — The first head has been sliced open, the first leg cracked up and the National League is off to another season of the reformed rioting they call hockey, with New York Americans snapping up all the honors in the first evening of jousting.

Red Dutton's hard-fighting New Yorkers scored a 3-0 win over Chicago Black Hawks, their companion cellar dream last season, while the world champion Detroit Red Wings were saving themselves from a beating at Toronto with Marty Barry's last-minute goal. His long dribbling shot gave them a 2-2 tie with Maple Leafs.

Barry and Sweeny Schriner of Americans' last year's scoring champion, shone in the first skirmishing, both bagging a pair of goals to resume the battle for point leadership they staged last season. Schriner ended up then with two points more than the Detroiter.

Mike Karkas Injured.

The first head broken open belongs to Mike Karkas, the Chicago net-minder, who also holds the distinction of being the only Lithuanian in the league. On a goal-mouth play in the first period at Chicago someone's skate ripped open Karkas' forehead, and five stitches were needed before he could continue.

The first leg of a dozen or more that will be put out of business during the season is attached to Gordon Pettinger of Detroit Red Wings. Heavily checked by Reg Hamilton of Leafs, Pettinger suffered an injury that will keep him out of the game for some time. It will not be known until later today whether the bone is broken.

After the way their defence worked at Chicago and considering they signed Hooley Smith last night, New York Americans may yet demand consideration as playoff possibilities. Smith, turned out by Boston when he failed to sign, may be used on either defence or up in front, and his acquisition provides Amerks with strength they badly need.

Amerks Lead Attack.

But against Hawks they seemed to have plenty to spare on the attack. Schriner scored in the first period on Art Chapman's pass and again in the third with Joe Jerwa's help. Johnny Gallagher, their new defenceman from Detroit, scored their third goal.

Hawks, playing for the first time under the direction of Bill Stewart, the league's former chief referee, presented a ragged defence and their attack could do little with Dutton's rearguard.

LAKEFIELD FIRSTS LOSE SCHOOL GAME

AURORA, Nov. 5. — St. Andrew's second team wore down a lighter but scrappy Lakefield first team and scored an 11 to 0 victory here on Thursday. The initial touchdown came late in the first quarter when Davison carried the ball through a gaping hole made by the heavier St. Andrew's line, Knight failed to convert. Another point was added in the second when Reid kicked for a rouge.

Lakefield came back in the third session and made first downs on two successive occasions, but failed to score. In the last period St. Andrew's secured their second touchdown on a Reid to Gordon forward pass which was completed over the goal line. The plunging of Ankenman and kicking by Reid were the highlights of the game. The Saints team was well handled by McCormick, the former Ashbury player. McLean and Simpson were outstanding for the visitors.

Lakefield— Simpson, Morley, Rose, McCrimmon, McLean, McLaren, Langmuir, Pease I., Pease II., Foster, Crickmore, Prewer. Alternates: McGinnis, Carson, Roberts.

St. Andrew's — Reid, Archibald, Boniell, Gordon, McCormick, Ankenman, Senior, Angus, Grass, Wadds, Davison, Knight. Alternate: Sisman.

Officials — Macdonald and Macintosh.

KITCHENER STAYS PUT

KITCHENER, Nov. 5.— (CP).— Management of the Kitchener Green Shirts announced Wednesday the club would remain in the intermediate "A" series of the Ontario Hockey Association rather than seek a senior berth. This fact was communicated to Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the O.H.A.

But to get back to Garbo. Hollywood wisecrackers are having a field day with her reported romance with Stokowski. As someone said, if they get married, which will get the most publicity—his hands or her feet?

Film colony is amused, too, at the ease with which Jim Simmons, local reporter, did the supposedly impossible and got an interview with Garbo. Simmons, a lanky, red-headed chap, new on the Hollywood beat, was told not to come back to the office until he talked to Garbo.

None was more amazed than his city editor when, three hours later, the Hollywood tyro came back with the interview.

DEAD RECKONING

BRUCE HAMILTON

CHAPTER 29.

Of course Adams was drunk when he inveigled Tim into the billiard game, and that was all there was to it. He had always known Adams rank more than was good for him. It was simply that the tragedy at The Wilderness had unsettled the man, and he had taken his foot off the brake. Perhaps he had been genuinely devoted to Esther; it was possible, he had always treated her with the greatest possible respect...

Well, Tim had been indulgent to a point most employers would consider fantastic: he would now have to be pulled up sharply, if necessary dismissed. . . .

Tim discovered an unaccountable reluctance to call Adams over the coals. Why was that? He was not afraid of the man. There was no conceivable reason for him to be. Yet tonight he had behaved as though he were afraid. He had almost fawned on him, taken his veiled insults without even a protest. The fellow would be thinking he was indispensable. Well, he wasn't, not by a long chalk, and the fact would have to be made pretty plain. Tomorrow. . . .

Tim turned over, and presently fell into a fitful sleep.

The trouble about putting off things till tomorrow is that it becomes a habit. The next day Adams was his normal self—willing, alert, almost slavishly respectful. But not cowed; he gave no sign of repentance for his impertinence. The thing might just have not happened. Tim, wondering whether excess of alcohol had not produced a lacuna in the man's mind, so that he honestly had no recollection of the evening before, kept putting off the moment for speaking to him.

In his heart he knew such a theory was untenable—Adams had been far from being as drunk as all that, but the hypothesis served as an excuse, coinciding with his own inner desire. He kept telling himself that Adams was extremely useful, his loss would be a real one; he was a sensitive man in a very curious state of mind, and must be given every chance of pulling himself round by the help of his own good sense.

So three or four days went by until it became clearly too late to say anything. Everything seemed to be back to normal, and Tim had reason to hope that the situation was righting itself. The only incident in the least disturbing was on the Wednesday morning, when Adams came up in the surgery before the first patient had arrived, and asked leave to take the afternoon off. The request was neither unprecendented nor unreasonable, but there was a quality of assurance in the way of asking that Tim did not altogether like.

"Yes, I suppose you can, Adams," said Tim easily. "Anything special on?" He felt he owed it to himself to ask the question.

"I'd like to see the cup-tie replay, sir," Adams replied fairly enough. "It's only a qualifying round, but our boys have never got so far."

"Yes, of course, I remember. All right."

"Thanks." Adams' acknowledgment was perfunctory. There was something unsettled about his manner. It seemed to oscillate uncertainly between the toadying that was habitual to him, and the familiarity which he had recently permitted himself.

He went to the football match and afterwards gave Tim a lively account of it, midway between the two styles.

"It was pitiful, sir," he said. "The backs made no attempt to cover each other: when one was beat, both were beat. And as for Crocker, at center half, I don't know what he thought he was doing. Charging all over the field, leaving a huge gap down the middle, and his only idea of helping the forwards to push the ball out to the wings, which was just what their boys wanted. Poor Vernon at inside left, the only man with any idea of ball control or how to make an opening, never got a look in. It was a riot. I don't know how they managed to draw on Saturday. Think yourself lucky you didn't go, sir, it'd have made you sick."

On Friday night Tim decided to go to the cinema. He left his car as usual at Bentwich's garage, but on returning for it at about 10 o'clock he was told that a fault in the ignition, which he had asked to have put right, was giving more trouble than expected. "If you'll give me another half-hour, sir," said the mechanic, "I think I can straighten it out."

Tim felt disinclined to hang around; it was a clear starry night, and he decided to walk home. He gave instructions for the car to be run up to The Wilderness by half past 8 the next morning, and set off.

The air was cool and bracing, and he enjoyed the walk. As he turned off the high road into the steep lane, narrow and winding, which led down to The Wilderness, he got out his electric torch. For the lane was in a cutting, trees and bushes overhung, and on all nights except when there was a bright moon, it was very dark.

He was within a quarter of a mile of The Wilderness, at the steepest part of the lane, when he was startled by a sudden commotion behind him. A flying figure on a bicycle dashed past him at terrific speed, missing him by inches as he jumped to the side. By the light of his torch Tim recognized Adams, who half turned his head to look at him with an ugly grin, as he crouched round the next bend.

There was something extraordinarily malicious about that grin. Tim reached home shaken and white with rage. The Wilderness was shut up apart from the front door, which had been left unchained and unbolted for him. Adams had gone to bed. For the moment Tim toyed with the idea of seeking him out at once, while his wrath was still fierce upon him. But such a course was against all his instincts.

"But tomorrow," he said to himself as he undressed. "Tomorrow, without fail."

"I want a word with you, Adams," said Tim, as he entered the surgery next morning. "Not now, though, there's not time. Come in here at half past 12, or whenever I've got rid of Mrs. Marchant."

"O. K., sir, I'll be along," Adams replied breezily. "Matter of fact, I wanted to speak to you too."

Tim felt relieved at having committed himself, and at having procured a brief respite. He had found it necessary to fight down a strong disinclination to bring himself to the point. That devilish grin, seen dimly at the limit of the range of his electric torch, seemed in the morning light a thing fancied, a picture twisted out of shape in the distorted mirror of his own imagination, already overcharged with suspicion in this particular direction.

It was only the recollection of

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PINK NOSE.

Once upon a time when Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods looking for an adventure, all of a sudden the wind blew and down upon him fell many leaves from the trees that had not yet lost their beautiful Autumn decorations.

"Ah, how beautiful the leaves are in Autumn," said Mr. Longears as he picked up some that were colored red, yellow, brown and purple. "And I do declare!" he laughed as a leaf fell and tickled his left ear, "here is a pink one, just the color of my twinkling nose. Ha! Ha!"

Uncle Wiggily looked at the pink leaf, a sort of light red in tint, you know, and he was thinking how wonderful was Nature to make these colors when, all of a sudden, the rabbit gentleman heard a noise in the bushes.

"Ah, ha!" he whispered. "Very likely it is the Bob Cat, Fox or Wolf coming to get me because of the Hallowe'en tricks I played on them. But they shan't get me!"

No Danger.

Uncle Wiggily was just going to hop away when he saw, coming out

"I thought I saw Uncle Wiggily here" from back of a bush the Lady Mouse Teacher from the Hollow Tree School.

"Oh, Miss Mouse, how glad I am to see you instead of one of the Bad Chaps!" said the rabbit.

"I am glad to see you!" squeaked Miss Mouse, that being her way of talking. "I heard you and I thought you were a Bad Chap."

Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Miss Mouse.

"But what are you doing here in the woods, Miss Mouse?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I am gathering some of the beautifully colored Autumn leaves to take home to decorate my room," said Miss Mouse. "Aren't they wonderful? Such colors."

"Even pink, like my nose," laughed Mr. Longears.

"True enough," squeaked Miss Mouse.

"I shall help you gather the Autumn leaves," offered the rabbit.

Miss Mouse thanked him kindly and they were gathering the beautiful leaves when, all of a sudden, off in the distance they saw the Fox coming toward them.

"Oh, my goodness!" squeaked Miss Mouse.

"Have no fear," said Uncle Wiggily. "We can hide under a pile of leaves until he goes away."

Just in Time.

So Mr. Longears and Miss Mouse snuggled down beneath two piles of Autumn leaves. Nearer and nearer came the Fox. Then Miss Mouse, peeking out from her pile of leaves whispered:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, your pink nose is sticking out as plain as anything! I'm sure the Fox will see it and get you."

"Oh, dear!" whispered the rabbit gentleman. "What shall I do? If I make a move to cover my nose the Fox will see me an bite."

Just then, down off a tree fell a pink leaf, covering Uncle Wiggily's pink, twinkling nose with exactly that color. Along came slinking the Fox. He looked at the piles of leaves and said:

"I thought I saw Uncle Wiggily here. I thought sure I saw his pink nose. But now I see it is only a pink Autumn leaf. Bah! I'm fooled again but I'll catch that rabbit yet!"

Then the Fox ran away. Out of their piles of leaves jumped Miss Mouse and Uncle Wiggily and all was peace and happiness.

And if the sausage doesn't roll itself up in the pancake and pretend it's a hot dog, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the rattler.

ARCHBISHOP OWEN IS GUEST SPEAKER AT WARKWORTH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, Nov. 5.—Owing to inclement weather the attendance was not as large as expected for the beautiful and impressive dedicatory service held in St. John's Anglican Church on Tuesday afternoon when the Most Reverend Archbishop D. T. Owen of Toronto was the guest speaker for this special service. He was assisted by the Rural Dean of Peterborough and Rev. T. Floyd.

The service opened with the beautiful hymn "We Love Thy Place Oh God." Before the dedicatory service by request His Grace gave a very interesting address on the Coronation service describing his view of the Coronation from a seat in Westminster Abbey, the magnificence of which was almost indescribable as well as the solemnity of it all. His Grace also gave a brief talk on the Oxford and Edinburgh conferences he attended.

Following this address the beautiful gifts including an oak font, communion chalice, paten, altar book stand, burse and veil, presented by Mr. Harry Walker of Belleville and a former member of St. John's in memory of his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker were dedicated to the service of God.

The closing hymn and benediction brought this memorable service to a close.

HASTINGS WOMEN PLANNING COURSE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 5.—The November meeting of the Hastings Women's Institute was held in the council chambers on Tuesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. C. Baker, presiding.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. O. Phillips, showed that the Institute was in good financial standing and the total profit from the dinner served at the teachers' convention amounted to $25.

The secretary, Mrs. J. A. Brown, who had attended the Belleville Area convention, received application papers in regards to a short course set by the department, which must be filled in by Saturday. Any girl between 18 and 30 is eligible for taking the course which lasts for four weeks. The subject, time and place for the short course will be set by the department. For particulars, information may be received from the secretary or president.

Mrs. Kerr kindly offered to complete the piecing of the quilts and Mrs. G. Sine offered her home for the quilting. It is expected the two quilts of good wool material will be completed for some needy families at Christmas.

Mrs. C. Baker invited the members to her home for the December meeting which will be of a Christmas nature.

Following the meeting a delightful luncheon was served by Mrs. G. Kerr and Mrs. G. Sine.

BILIOUS ATTACK After Every Meal

Those sick headaches you suffer from are very likely due to stomach disorder. Very likely your case is like that of Mr. H. W. H. of Didcot, who became so bad from biliousness and sick headaches that he used to experience an attack after every meal. Not till he tried Maclean Brand Stomach Powder did he find anything to give him relief —but that relief was quick and sure. "The first bottle gave me such speedy relief that I continued the treatment," he writes. "I could soon eat without fear of any trouble."

In our files is letter after letter telling similar stories—of relief from the sufferings of disordered stomachs brought on over a long period of time—but usually right away. If you are bothered with sick headaches and bilious attacks, give this hospital remedy a trial. Be sure you look for the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean," on both bottle and carton. None other is genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. In powder or tablets, 75c, at druggists. 117

Death A Mystery

A post-mortem on the body of Chester Crosley (ABOVE), 36-year-old negro convict found dead in his cell at Frontenac county jail, Kingston, has failed to reveal the cause of death. Crosley, convicted of murdering a guard at Kingston penitentiary, was found dead when a guard took him a meal at noontime.

REV. J. N. BLODGETT VISITS ROSENEATH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Nov. 5.—Rev. J. N. Blodgett, Wycliffe College, Toronto, preached in his home church, when he occupied the pulpit of St. James Anglican church, Roseneath, on Sunday afternoon.

The subject of Mr. Blodgett's address, was thanksgiving, and he used the prayer of general thanksgiving to draw on for the many things we have to be thankful for, and the following passage from Psalm 100: "Go ye into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with joy," as his text.

The speaker dwelt briefly on the marvel of the human body, and at length on the endowment of man. Endowments coming from God, that enable him to develop nature's resources, to cultivate the arts, to achieve the highest and best, if he will. He spoke of man's great privilege in being allowed to choose his own way. In conclusion Mr. Blodgett said, "We of the British nation have special reason to be greatful to God for his goodness to us. For Christianity is the ladder whereby our nation has climbed to greatness. Can we afford to throw away the ladder? We need more emphasis on Christ's imitation, and the most effective witness is the witness of the lives of those who profess to call themselves Christians."

Before beginning his address, Mr. Blodgett spoke of the great pleasure it gave him to visit his home church once more.

While the offering was gathered, Mr. Blodgett's sister, Mrs. A. Nill, sang "Building for Eternity."

SWINGING GATES INJURE TWO MEN

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 5. — Although they were two miles apart, Bert Lemoire and Dan Dunlay of Hastings were victims of almost identical accidents during the high wind of the past few days.

Lemoire, an employee of the Breithaupt Leather Co., while riding a bicycle into the company's plant on Wednesday morning, was struck by one of large entrance gates. He received painful but not serious injuries, when he was hit on the face and thrown face forward on the gravel. His injuries being confined to a bruised shoulder and several deep scratches on his face necessitating medical attention.

Dan Dunlay, while passing through the gate at his farm, east of Hastings, received a bruised and badly skinned nose when the wind blew the gate striking him full on the face. His injuries were not serious, however.

his anger, an unwonted emotion which must have had a solid occasion, which prevented him from taking the easy line of dismissing the whole thing as a fantasy. But at the least, he argued, Adams had by gross recklessness come within an inch of running him down, and the time was ripe for a settlement.

He was aloof with his patients this morning. He was finished with the last of them by a quarter to 1. It being Saturday, he had avoided engagements which would keep him back late, though as it happened he had the day before received a message from Alma postponing their usual meeting to Sunday.

"I'd like to talk to you now, sir, if you're sure you're quite ready," said Adams with suspicious oiliness, as he came into the surgery after seeing Mrs. Marchant out.

RADIOS CLASH

BRANTFORD, Ont., Nov. 5. — (CP).—Brantford police short wave radio interferes with the operation of the Toronto police system, Police Chief Harry Stanley was told yesterday by Inspector Donald of the Canadian Radio Commission. The Inspector said the trouble would have to be ironed out right away.

Toronto calls are received clearly here, being sent out on a lower frequency than the local system. The Brantford radio, however, frequently drowns out the Toronto system.

BUSINESS MEN OF PORT PERRY HONOR CONANT

Gov't Hopes to Make Early Start on Road

(By a Staff Reporter).

PORT PERRY, Nov. 6.—The Honorable Gordon D. Conant, K.C., M.L.A.-elect for Ontario Riding, was last night guest of honor at a banquet tendered by Port Perry Business Men's Association and South Ontario Liberal Association, in recognition of his Cabinet appointment as Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario.

Responding to the toast to "The Attorney-General," proposed by Samuel Jeffrey, ex-Reeve of Port Perry, and an old personal friend, the Honorable Mr. Conant assured the large gathering, which included a number from Peterborough, Oshawa and Cartwright, that the government was undertaking a survey of the Port Perry-Bethany-Peterborough road recently taken into the Provincial highway system.

Plans Being Prepared.

Plans, he said, would be submitted to the various municipalities concerned so that work on the highway might be started with the least possible delay.

The announcement which brings to closer realization a new and important link in the Central Ontario highway system for which Peterborough and Port Perry have jointly struggled for over ten years, was greeted with obvious enthusiasm.

As organizer for the Central Ontario Highway Association, W. M. Bowes paid a tribute to the honored guest for "his leadership at a time when we needed it most." It was the Honorable Mr. Conant, the speaker stated, who drafted the final proposal for presentation to the government. He also acknowledged the "willing co-operation" of Alexander L. Elliott, M.L.A.-elect for Peterborough, and C. G. Mercer, M.L.A.-elect, Durham, who, he stated, had endorsed the proposals, and he declared, "We look to these three men to champion the cause of Central and Eastern Ontario in the Legislature."

Made Honorary Members.

"In view of the splendid work of the Honorable Mr. Conant and the two other members-elect," Mr. Bowes asked them to accept from Alderman James Dutton, president of the Central Ontario Highways Association, tokens of membership in the Association.

Others present from Peterborough in addition to Mr. Elliott and Alderman Dutton, included His Worship Mayor George A. Macdonald, Alderman James Juby, T. J. Carley, K.C., and Fred J. Overend, president Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

In his opening remarks as toastmaster, J. E. Jackson spoke of the occasion as a memorable one, and stated, "Port Perry is proud to have the honor of entertaining the Honorable Mr. Conant and also Mr. Elliott and Mr. Mercer.

After A. J. Carnegie had proposed a toast to "The King" and it had been duly honored, Reeve W. M. Letcher, Warden of Ontario County, voiced a hearty welcome to the visiting guests.

The name of Reeve Creighton Devitt of Cartwright was coupled with that of Mayor Macdonald in responding to the toast of welcome to the guests.

Other Toasts.

Other toasts included "The Council Halls of Ontario," proposed by S. Farmer, editor of "Port Perry Star," and replied to by Mr. Carley

Jap Push Threatens To Encircle Whole Of Shanghai

Gain 18 Miles Battling for Every Inch of It; China Shies at Jap Peace Till Powers Try

SHANGHAI, Nov. 6.—(AP)—China's main defences west of Shanghai were put in serious jeopardy, foreign military experts said today, by the landing of a formidable Japanese force on the north shore of Hangchow bay.

Japanese said large army units, aimed at encircling Shanghai and its environs, came ashore from the bay, the largest on the Chinese coast and about 30 miles south of Shanghai at its nearest point.

A Japanese army spokesman said the new unit, "fighting every inch of the way" for about 18 miles, tonight had reached the south bank of the Whangpoo river about 26 hours after coming ashore. He did not disclose its exact location.

Chinese sources asserted only about 1,000 Japanese had landed in the Hangchow Bay area under the protective barrage of 20 warships. They said the Chinese were closing in rapidly in a counter-drive to prevent the landing of reinforcements.

The Japanese reports of a swift drive north were believed to indicate a possibility decisive clash was impending in the vicinity of Shanghai.

Japanese warships bombarded coastal points along Hangchow bay as a prelude to the landing.

While Japanese planes bombarded Chinese defence lines and concentration points, marines landed from boats in the shallow surf despite fog and an adverse tide, Japanese said. The Japanese veiled the size of their force and its specific objectives in utmost secrecy.

8,000 On Transports

Foreign observers said, however, that three transports carrying an estimated 8,000 troops carried out the operation. They said two Japanese divisions, recently withdrawn from the North China front, sailed southward from Tientsin about a week ago.

THREE-CAR CRASH IS FATAL TO ONE INJURES 3 BADLY

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 6 (CP)—Three men were in serious condition in hospital here today, suffering undetermined injuries received in a collision of three automobiles near Alberton, 20 miles west of Hamilton, that brought death to Blair Sheffield of Brantford.

The accident, in which three other men escaped with a shaking up, occurred one mile east of the Wentworth County village last night. Sheffield was a passenger in a car driven by Barry North, Brantford, which, police said, apparently sideswiped another machine and crashed head-on into a third.

The other two injured men were Bob Milne and Bert Hubbard, both of Hamilton. William and Lloyd Halloway and William Brooks, all of Brantford, riding in the car which was first struck by North's machine, were not hurt. Their automobile received only minor damage.

As police reconstructed the accident, North's car, proceeding west toward Brantford, struck the machine driven by William Halloway, bound east to Hamilton, caromed and struck the Milne car. North's automobile continued along the highway for a short distance, went into the ditch and overturned.

It was believed the Milne machine was proceeding eastward. After the crash it stopped on the highway facing west. Both it and the North machine were wrecked.

The injured men were taken immediately to hospital here. District Coroner Dr. A. L. Speers said an inquest would be held at a date yet to be determined.

FEAR EXTINCTION

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 6 (CP)—A petition signed by 1,814 aborigines urging steps be taken to prevent extinction of their race and seeking representation in parliament has been forwarded to the King by Prime Minister Lyons.

Australian aboriginines total about 60,000. Confined mainly to north and north-west they have been described as "chocolate brown," are below the average English height and wear long beards.

CORNING, N.Y., Nov. 6.—(AP).—An electric light bulb 14 feet high, designed as a memorial to the man who invented the incandescent lamp, has been completed after six months of work. The light will be installed as a beacon atop the Alva Edison Memorial Tower at Menlo Park, N.J.

ARAB ASSASSINS BEING HUNTED OUT

JERUSALEM, Nov. 6.—(CP-Havas).—One Arab was killed and another seriously wounded to-day in fighting which developed as police continued a search for the Arabs who yesterday killed to privates of the Black Watch in Jerusalem.

The soldiers, Thomas Hutchinson of Edinburgh and Albert Milton, of Fife, were shot in the back by Arabs ambushed behind boulders lining the busy road separating the old city from the new Jewish quarters. They were off duty at the time.

On a tip from a Jewish eye-witness, police traced the slayers to the nearby village of Siloe, which was immediately surrounded by British troops.

Iron gates recently installed in the wall around Jerusalem were closed and locked. Officials view these killings as the most serious incident in Palestine since Sept. 26, when Lewis Andrews, district commissioner for Galilee, and his bodyguard, were slain at Nazareth as they left the Anglican church.

Traveller, Woman Car Victims

Hamilton, Nov. 6. (CP)

NORLEY MERRITT, 46, Stoney Creek commercial traveller, was killed last night and Mrs. Ellen Smith, Hamilton, slightly injured, while walking along Barton street highway when struck by a car said to have been driven by John Smith, Hamilton.

Mr. Merritt while making a call on Hamilton Beach offered to drive Mrs. Smith home. His auto ran out of gas just east of the city and they decided to walk to the car line.

Meeting Of Party's Provincial Council Called For Tonight To Decide

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (CP)—Herbert Orloff, provincial secretary of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, said last night a meeting of the provincial council will be held tonight to discuss the political situation in Ontario.

It was not likely, Mr. Orloff said, that the C.C.F. would nominate a candidate to oppose Hon. Earl Rowe, provincial Conservative leader, in the federal by-election in Dufferin-Simcoe Nov. 15.

The C.C.F., he added, is "more liable to contest the by-election in Sault Ste. Marie than in Dufferin-Simcoe." A decision will be reached at tonight's meeting.

(A by-election in Sault Ste. Marie is necessary because of the resignation of R. M. McMakin, Liberal. Hon. Colin Campbell, provincial Minister of Public Works, will be the Liberal candidate. He was defeated in the Oct. 6 election in Addington and subsequently was named to a cabinet position.)

Seek Some Fun Each Day to Stay Young Advises Oldest Chorus Girl

New York, Nov. 6 (CP)

THE world's oldest chorus girl at 73, Mrs. Maria Savage yesterday celebrated the 50th anniversary of her debut with the advice "look for something funny every day" if you want to stay young even when you grow old.

Still wearing the gold medallion given her by Enrico Caruso, "Mother Savage" said she is a chorus girl and proud of it, but "not the kind of chorus girl who kicks a shapely leg at the baldheaded row."

Mrs. Savage is an opera chorus girl who is always in the background while the stars take the bows and the glory but she is as well known at the Metropolitan Opera House as the brightest star that ever sang.

At the Metropolitan on the wall of her living room hangs a photograph of Lawrence Tibbett inscribed: "To Mother Savage, with affection remembrances of 10 years of association with her."

Looking forward to a long winter of singing and action, Mrs. Savage thinks she may have sung in 15,000 opera performances but she never tires of any opera.

Deanna Signs Contract

Deanna Durbin, former Winnipeg, Man. girl and whose parents were once residents of Peterborough who has had her salary increased from $300 a week to $1,250 a week, with full approval of the Los Angeles superior court. The contract which was approved by the court also calls for a $10,000 bonus for each picture she completes and provides for a scale of increases which will bring the 14-year-old actress a total of $2,750 a week at the end of seven years. The youthful star is shown BELOW with her mother as they were snapped at a Los Angeles night club, a rare treat for Deanna who is continuing her schooling plus radio programs and picture making.

Five-Year Residence Rule Over For Pensions?

Believed Shelved As Harmonious Conference Winds Up With No Announcement

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Home to their governments provincial representatives today took new regulations in old-age pensions administration and amendments to those already existing, as they returned from a four-day Dominion-provincial old-age pensions conference in which harmonious co-operation was the keynote.

Representatives of every province and the Dominion government ended the pensions conclave yesterday and Finance Minister Dunning issued a statement in which he said: "In all my experience I have never been present at a conference which approached its task and carried on its deliberations with such a spirit of co-operation and such a constructive attitude."

Details of changes in old-age pensions administration were not disclosed and will not be till they have been approved by the nine provincial governments. Some changes appeared likely to observers, however.

Because all provinces have placed themselves within framework of the old age pensions act it was believed likely the regulation requiring applicants to have five years residence in the province to which they apply will be abolished.

Maintenance Acts

The conferees agreed unanimously that all those financially able should bear a proper share in maintaining their aged parents and that all provinces be urged to enact and enforce adequate parents maintenance acts to ensure such procedure.

It was expected other changes would deal with residence in Canada of applicants, naturalization, income assessment, pensions changes and calculation of pension awards.

"Great thing for Canada," in Mr. Dunning's view was the fact "a conference of this sort, representing nine provincial governments and the Dominion government, has been able to reach a unanimous decision in all the problems placed before it.

"Its value," he said, "is to be measured not only by its contribution to more efficient and more economical administration of this special legislation, but in what it augurs for successful co-operation in other prblems of government."

DREDGE IN PORT

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 6.—(CP). — The sea-battered dredge Foundation Scarboro was towed into this Cape Breton port early today by the Canadian Government steamship Lady Laurier, ending almost a week of will-o'-the-wisp freedom and a hectic chapter in the life of the runaway craft.

Oshawa Poisoners Kill Kiddies Pets

Oshawa Nov. 6

"WE cannot understand the motive for any one choosing to poison dogs particularly children's pets," stated Chief Owen D. Friend, whose men, along with Humane Inspector J. Orr, are investigating the recent outbreak of dog poisoning in town.

The owners of the poisoned dogs are themselves at a loss to understand the situation. In every instance the dogs involved are of a mild-natured type and given to playing with children. One anxious mother, whose son's pet was lost, expressed herself as being afraid that young children might come in contact with the poison in whatever form it is being spread.

PRESS IN BRITAIN UPHOLDS WINDSOR IN DELAYING TRIP

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP)—Decision by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to abandon their visit to the United States today received wide attention in the British press. Devoting its entire first page to the story, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express (Independent) said editorially:

"Whatever this man does is going to be criticized anyway. The Duke is being called a Fascist. The Chicago Tribune is suggesting that the Duke is planning a 'come-back' by his interests in housing and working conditions.

"Such a prospect is not within the bounds of possibility. The abdication settlement is final and irrevocable, and is recognized as such by all parties, including the British people."

After outlining the criticism from labor organizations in the United States, the News Chronicle (Liberal) said: "In such an atmosphere, the Duke's study of social conditions could not have made much progress. He has boldly and wisely abandoned a tour that would have given great offence."

"There is a hasty tendency in American labor," the Sheffield Telegraph (Conservative) said, "to attribute to the Duke an unfavorable attitude toward the working class. We in England know him far too well to believe that. American labor has grievously misjudged him, but he is right in delaying his visit until the error has been removed."

"It is quite plain," said the Bir-

WOODMAN JURY WILL VISIT SCENE OF SEDORE MURDER

NAPANEE, Ont., Nov. 6.—(CP).—The Assize Court jury with Robert Woodman for the murder of Aubrey Sedore was expected to visit the scene of the slaying near Flinton, 60 miles north of Napanee, to-day as the trial of the 22-year-old mine worker stood adjourned for the week-end. It will resume Monday.

Kenneth Ham, Crown Attorney, and J. M. Simpson, defence counsel, will accompany the jurors to Sedore's backwoods farm four miles from Flinton. Woodman is charged with murdering his neighbor and burning the body in a fire on Sedore's property some time between last Feb. 2 and May 2.

The week-end adjournment was announced yesterday by Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland after Mr. Simpson announced he would cross-examine at length William Sowers, one of the Crown's chief witnesses in the trial which opened Tuesday.

Sowers identified himself as a general handy man who knew Sedore a little better than anyone in the neighborhood."

Saw Sedore Last, Jan. 11.

Sowers said he last saw the slain 29-year-old farmer January 11 when he towed an automobile to Sedore's home. Articles belonging to Sedore were found in Woodman's possession when he was arrested shortly after the body was found early in May.

Sowers was the last witness of the day. Earlier, Dr. E. R. Frankish, medico-legal expert of the Ontario Attorney-General's Department, had testified that marks of burned pieces of wood found above the charred remains which had been buried in a swamp were the same as those made

6 More Years To Make Britain Invulnerable To Air Raids

Experts Base Belief On Secret Developments In Land Defence And Speed Of Rearming

LONDON, Nov. 6 (C.P.-Havas). — Great Britain's vast rearmament program has developed at such a pace officials in charge of it believe the United Kingdom in five or six years will be invulnerable to attack from the air.

This conviction, based on secret developments in land defence, stands out as the most salient fact in the current stage of the program, which has so far cost £228,000,000 ($1,431,360,000).

The period of preparation has passed, and the United Kingdom's huge industrial system has been turned full blast to production of the engines of attack and defence.

Production has not followed precisely the course originally mapped out, since some phases have been retarded and others are ahead of schedule. A glance at results of the last two years leaves no doubt, however, that the effort expended by Sir Thomas Inskip, Defence Co-ordination Minister, is being amply rewarded.

Planes to Come Fast.

Five large factories are producing military aircraft, but experiments are continuing and wholesale production will be delayed for another eight or nine months, before it is hoped to turn out a steady flow of pursuit planes and bombers.

'All Misconception,' Hopes Public Opinion Changes

70 Trunks Sent to Cherbourg, Called Back to Paris; Windsor and Duchess Wonder Where Next to Go

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Members of the Duke of Windsor's suite disclosed today the Duke was studying the possibility of making a postponed tour of the United States early next year. They said the project was "definitely not cancelled."

They described the former king as hopeful public opinion in United States would 'change' within a few months, opening the way for the trip, to have started today but postponed because of "grave misconceptions" of his motives.

Nearly 70 trunks, it was learned, sent to Cherbourg for the voyage were reloaded today and shipped back to Paris.

The Duke and Duchess were busily engaged, an associate said, in discussing what next to do, where next to go—now their tour was delayed.

They and their party remained in the seclusion of the royal suite all morning. Even Inspector David Storier, the Duke's bodyguard, who usually strolls through the hotel lobby, was not seen. Crowds of curious gathered at both entrances of the hotel.

Their plans for the immediate future might be the subject of a press conference scheduled for this afternoon.

The conference was set for noon but later delayed for two hours after the Duke's equerry, Lieut. Dudley Forwood, returned from a visit to the British embassy.

Hotel attendants reported "not the slightest" sign of an imminent departure since the Duke's postponement statement was distributed last night, less than 15 hours before he and the Duchess had planned to start for America.

Reluctant Decision

The statement said the Duke made the postponement with "great reluctance" and was motivated by "grave misconceptions which have arisen and misstatements which have appeared" about the motives and purpose of the tour.

British sources said the decision probably was based on two factors:

1.—The Duke desired not to create any possible strain on British-American relations and felt that any trouble over his visit would offend Britain generally.

2.—The Duke considered that in view of a critical resolution by the

ITALY JOINS NAZIS, JAP PACT AGAINST COMMUNIST BOGEY

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP)—Italy joined Japan and Germany today in an accord against Communism which their protocol declared "continues to place the civilized world" in the "constant" danger of war.

The protocol stipulated that Italy be considered an original signatory of the nearly year-old German-Japanese pact against the Communist International.

The protocol was a short document, giving in 150-word introductory statement the reasons of the three powers for the agreement.

The introduction said only by close collaboration of "all states interested in maintaining peace" could the war danger be removed.

It paid a separate tribute to Italy which "has combatted this danger with inflexible determination and has eliminated international Communism from its territory."

Italy had decided, the introduction said, to associate herself with Germany and Japan "who on their part are animated by the same will to defend themselves against the Communist International."

Four brief articles were appended after the introductory statement, setting forth these clauses:

1. Italy enters the anti-comintern agreement of Nov. 11, 1936.

2. Italy will be considered as a signatory of the original accord.

3. The protocol is made an integral part of the previous accord and its supplementary protocol.

4. The protocol is done in triplicate in Rome.

CROSSES SEA 480 TIMES

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP).—After a career of 41 years at sea, during which time he crosse dthe Atlantic 480 times and covered more than 1,500,000 miles, Thomas P. Whitehill, chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare, has retired. He called it "quits" when the vessel returned to Southampton from her recent Mediterarnean cruise.

FAMILY TROUBLES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 6 (A.P.).—Three generations of the Myers family were in a hospital here today.

The day after Mrs. Charles Myers, Jr., gave birth to a daughter there, the child's grandfather and great-grandmother were admitted with broken legs suffered in an auto accident and a fall.

POWERS AGREE ON NOTE TO JAPS

BRUSSELS, Nov. 6 (CP).—At a further long meeting today the nine-power conference agreed to the text of their invitation to Japan. It will be handed to the Japanese Ambassador at Brussels and transmitted to the Belgian Ambassador at Tokyo this afternoon.

The conference meets again Tuesday. Over the weekend delegates will continue conversations and discuss creation of a steering committee which will prepare a program of work.

The communication was framed as a reply to declarations made by Japan when she formally declined to attend the Brussels talks. The conference was called under the nine-power treaty to protect China. Japan is a signatory of the pact.

The conference went ahead with the new overture today in the face of a declaration by Saburo Kurusu, Japanese Ambassador to Belgium, that it was "highly doubtful that Japan will accept mediation from the nine-power conference."

A statement from the Chinese delegation said there was "not a single word of truth" in reports from Berlin that Chancellor Hitler might act as mediator independent of the Brussels talks.

"It is quite obvious the report has been circulated with the ulterior motive of confusing the opinion of delegates to the nine-power conference and impeding its work," the statement said.

Germans Have Taste For Quebec Eels

Quebec, Nov. 6 (CP)

THE eels of the Lower St. Lawrence marshland should be able to wiggle their way into more foreign markets, in the opinion of Trade Minister Joseph Bilodeau. The Minister said yesterday a number of German merchants were prepared to accept shipments of eels but German laws would make it necessary for French-Canadian fishermen to accept their payments in returns of German merchandise. "And this," said the Minister, "is where the Dominion Government can come into the proposition."

Car Uproots Tree, Wrecks A Verandah Then Itself – Driver Hurts Arm

Stratford, Nov. 6 (CP)

ROSS Kemp and Dalton Dunseith, both of St. Mary's were taken to hospital today suffering injuries received when a car in which they were riding went on a rampage over the lawn of an Ontario street home, uprooted a fair-sized tree, knocked down a verandah and then rolled over in a twisted wreckage.

Kemp, driver, suffered an arm injury and Dunseith, a St. Mary's butcher, received head injuries.

Police said a man and a woman were also in the car but fled from the scene after extricating themselves from the twisted mass. Their identity was not known. It was believed one was injured.

BUSINESS MEN OF PORT PERRY HONOR CONANT

and Councillor R. M. Holtby; "Our Highways," proposed by County Engineer D. J. Keane and W. H. Harris, and replied to by Alderman Dutton and Mr. Bowes; and "The Province of Ontario," proposed by M. A. Gerrow, past president of the Business Men's Association and responded to by Mr. Elliott and Mr. Mercer.

Rising to the toast in his honor, the Honorable Mr. Conant paid tribute to "my estimable friend Samuel Jeffrey," who had proposed the toast and remarked, "While the shadows may be lengthening for him we all hope for Mr. Jeffrey the setting of the sun may be delayed."

He thanked all who had worked and schemed to make the banquet in his honor such a success, and asserted that while the congratulations he had received on all hands since the election might have tended to make some men develop a little conceit, it had only had the effect on himself of making him more aware of his great responsibilities. "It is my chief concern that I might be able to justify the good wishes thus expressed," he said.

A Confession.

The honored guest asserted it was great to come back to one's own environment and to meet people one knew were real and tried old friends. "I was never brought up to be a politician," he confessed. "I was brought up in the country and roamed the woods and fields and have always enjoyed that contact with nature and with homey things of life."

He remarked on the number of his Conservative friends who were present at the function, and expressed a belief, "that is as it should be." It was nice to know that in a country such as Canada, people of all political leanings could join hands for the common welfare. "The minute we cease to do that," he warned, "we are on a par with the Latin-Americans and that is not civilization in its highest form."

The Honorable Mr. Conant continued to outline his duties and responsibilities as Attorney-General, and believed it was next in importance to the position of treasurer.

Placing the office of treasurer first in importance, he declared, "next comes that of Attorney-General, and I say that because it is primarily and principally concerned with the administration of justice."

Maintain High Level.

Stressing the importance of maintaining law and order, he asserted "As soon as forces of disorder arise the State must begin to crumble and it is therefore important that the administration of justice is held at its highest level."

"My determination while I hold office is to maintain the Attorney-General's Department on a basis calculated to ensure justice with equality for all and a maximum of efficiency," he promised.

As Attorney-General, the Honorable Mr. Conant said he has under his control a staff of 250 in the Parliament Buildings; a further 1,500 throughout the Province; 44 Crown Attorneys and 6 assistant Crown Attorneys and a force of 400 Provincial Police.

Advocating a return of the party system of government, the speaker remarked, "We must be jealous of our institutions; that is not a mere play on words. It is significant. Our institutions have been threatened recently and will be threatened again, but we must maintain a democratic form of government."

A Business Proposition.

The Honorable Mr. Conant believed the real problem of government was a business proposition, and as in other businesses, was a matter of balancing receipts and disbursements. One of the vital questions, he said, was the need of reduced taxation, while at the same time maintain essential services, and he declared it was to this problem that the whole government was directing its undivided attention.

Paying tribute to Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn as a "genius," he was confident "he will succeed in giving the province services in larger measure and will succeed also in reducing the burden of taxation."

SIX MORE YEARS TO MAKE BRITAIN

The cardinal difficulty in litary airplane production is that machines which are modern when they first roll out on the runway are obsolete in one or two years. Rearmament program officials have sought to get around this difficulty by a special office of aeronautical studies.

Military engineers enlisted in the work of the defence program are believed to have made important discoveries regarding land defence against air attack. On these discoveries, about which no details are available, rest the conviction that Britain can make itself impregnable to enemy sky armadas by 1942 or 1943.

The most clearly-marked progress has been made in rebuilding the Navy. Already 150 new warships are under construction. Thirty, including six cruisers, will be launched this year.

MEMORIAL WREATH

HASTINGS, Nov. 6.—A large memorial wreath, presented by the Ontario government will be placed on the monument at the town hall on Remembrance Day, Thursday, November 11, it was learned Thursday night from Reeve Fairman. Services will be held on that day, as usual, but no plans have been made, as yet, to proclaim a public holiday in the village on that date.

Germany's new sports stadium in Nuremberg will hold 400,000 spectators.

MISCONCEPTION, HOPES OPINIONS WILL BE CHANGED

Federation of Labor in Baltimore—the Duchess' home town—that the time was not ripe for a visit.

The statement added that "the Duke emphatically repeats that there is no shadow of justification for any suggestion he is allied with any industrial system or that he is for or against any particular political or racial doctrine. . . ."

(The Baltimore Labor organization on Wednesday adopted a resolution "warning" organized Labor not to be "taken in" by "slumming parties professing to help and to study Labor." It criticized the Duke's recent visit to Germany.

(The resolution also attacked Charles E. Bedaux, an industrial engineer and friend of the Windsors, who was to have been their guide on a 27-day tour to study industrial conditions and housing. The Federation called Bedaux an "arch-enemy" of Labor because of his industrial work system known to Labor as the "stretch-out.")

French Press Quiet

Most of the French press refrained from commenting immediately on the postponement. Labor newspapers made the Duke's announcement a small item on inside pages. Only the Rightist organs, Le Jour and Le Figard, carried editorials.

"It is certain that the Duke strongly resents the hostility of which he is the object," said Le Jour, "particularly so because of the warm receptions he received in the United States when he went there as the Prince of Wales."

Le Figaro said: "The couple's trip through Germany produced the saddest effects. Their arrival at New York on a ship flying the Nazi flag after their travels in the Nazi Reich would seem, to say the least, a regrettable manifestation."

Regretted in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Society-minded residents of the United States capital resigned themselves to-day to a fall season that will not be enlivened by the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Although few social appearances were on the schedule, matrons and debutantes had been exchanging tips on how to address the former king and his wife. The State Department's protocol officers had been busy with arrangements.

A tea at the White House and a formal dinner at the British Embassy Nov. 12 had been on the program.

State Department officials were silent on the change in plans, as were the British Embasy and the White House.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said he did not believe it was advisable for him to comment. Green previously had said he concurred in a Baltimore Federation resolution criticizing the Duke's choice of Charles Bedaux, efficiency engineer, as his guide for the American tour.

The author of the resolution, Joseph P. McCurdy, expressed surprise at the postponement and uttered a forceful "no" when asked if he objected to the visit of the couple. McCurdy had called Bedaux an "arch enemy of labor."

Japanese asserted about 20,000 Chinese were defeated by the newly landed units despite a strong defensive system.

Government officials at Nanking, meanwhile, declared that China would consider no direct peace negotions with Japan until every possibility of international intervention had been exhausted and every collective effort had failed to achieve peace.

They conceded, however, that China might consider an unconditional truce if it were guaranteed by a third power or group of powers and held Chinese sovereignty and territorial integrity inviolable.

(Delegates to the Brussels conference, seeking a formula for peace in the far east under the nine-power treaty, were deadlocked over the wording of a peace note to Japan.)

Collections Higher Campbellford Taxes

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 6.— According to a statement given by the tax collector, J. C. Birmingham, it was indicated that in the year 1937 the town had collected to date an additional $236.09 in taxes with a saving by the new rate of prepayment discount of $331.35. The statement showed further that the amount collected up to Nov. 1, 1937, was $50,442.09, while in 1936 for the same period only $49,539.27 was collected. The discounts to Nov. 1st, 1936 were $1,008.15 while for 1937 they amounted to only $966.80, which meant a saving of over $330.00.

on wood cut by police with an axe identified as Woodman's.

Dr. Frankish also said he had examined a pair of trousers owned by the accused, and had found no bloodstains on them. He testified charred bones found by police were those of a fully-matured young man. The remains were found buried in a swamp to which a dog, given a piece of burned cloth to smell, had led police.

Testimony concerning a rumor that a heavily-bearded wild man roams the Flinton area was put into the record when Police Inspector Gardner said in answer to a question from defence counsel that such a rumor was current last month and that it persisted. Investigation had not substantiated the reports, he said.

ALBERTA MINERS ABANDON STRIKE

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Nov. 6 (C.P.). —Six hundred striking employee of four Drumheller Valley coal mines voted at a mass meeting last night to return to work on Monday pending negotiations to be conducted under chairmanship of F. E. Harrison of Vancouver, Dominion Fair Wage officer.

The miners endorsed an agreement made by their strike committee with operators of the Newcastle, Midland, Brilliant, and A.B.C. Mines in this district 75 miles north-east of Calgary. The operators agreed to open negotiations on Monday providing the miners return to work that day.

Main grievance of the strikers was the wage for "needle boom" timbering, a system of temporary reinforcement until installation of permanent timbers.

Miners demanded the regular timbering pay of 85 cents for this type of work. Operators offered 42½ cents, a scale they claimed the miners had accepted a verbal agreement.

FEWER APPLYING TO BE MOUNTIES

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP) — Approaching return of normal times is seen as a probable reason for a falling off in application for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In his annual report, just issued, the commissioner, Sir James MacBrien, says applicants during the year ended March 31, 1937, numbered 1,817, a decrease of approximately 47 per cent from the previous 12-month period.

Only 67 of the number who applied were taken on the force on account of a reduction in establishment.

"To all intents and purposes recruiting was at a standstill," the report states, "and of the 67 men engaged 16 were for duty with the marine section, 46 as special constables and two returned to the force after leaving. In addition three special constables were engaged as regular members of the force.

"The wastage during the year (retirements and deaths) was 211 and taking the 67 engagements into account the final result was a net decrease of 144.

The small number of enlistments simplified training work during the year but a number of refresher courses were given.

NEW 'LIT' MEMBER

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 6. — A new member has been elected to the Campbellford High School Literary Society executive. Since he was elected to two offices at the annual elections held a week ago, Charles Jeffs resigned from his position as Form representative, and on Friday morning a by-election was held in Fourth Form and Allan Kelly became the new form representative.

HUNDREDS JAILED GUY FAWKES NIGHT

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable). — Hundreds of arrests, fires and injuries marked the traditional Guy Fawkes celebration last night throughout the British Isles, resulting in a collective headache for the police and fire brigades.

Throughout the night bonfires roared and the sleep of the more peaceful citizens was interrupted by the din of exploding fireworks.

A group of Canadian players with the Brighton hockey team will have reason to remember the celebration. Their pranks of setting off firecrackers in traffic-tied thoroughfares did not agree with the sense of humor of the authorities and two of their number were bundled off to jail.

A crowd gathered around the police station, shouting and demanding their release. The Canadians, whose names were not given out, were detained until midnight when they were let off with a reprimand.

"We were just out for a bit of fun and certainly did not intend to cause any trouble," one of the merrymakers said.

Seventy arrests were made at Lewes, Sussex, where 6,000 persons participated in 40 processions and six 30-foot bonfires were set ablaze.

A young woman and five undergraduates were detained at Cambridge but there were only two arrests at Oxford, where the celebration was the quietest since the Great War.

The annual celebration of the gunpowder plot dates from 1605, when Guy Fawkes stored powder kegs in the cellars of the House of Parliament, planning to touch it off as King James I. was reading the Speech from the Throne. The plot was discovered, however, and Fawkes was executed.

PRESS IN BRITAIN UPHOLDS WINDSOR IN DELAYING TRIP

mingham Gazette (Liberal), "that a very dangerous position may gather around the slightest public indiscretion on his part. Yet the Duke is a stubborn man, and may not rest content under this rebuff."

"The Duke has acted with dignity and wisdom," said the Northern Whig of Belfast (Conservative).

"We believe the Duke has taken the right decision," the Leeds Mercury (Conservative) said.

Lieut. Dudley Forwood, the Duke's equerry, refused to confirm a report that the Duke telephoned King George before the postponement.

"A call to the King is in the realm of His Royal Highness' private affairs and it stands to reason such news must lack official confirmation," he said.

A press conference scheduled for this afternoon was not held. A member of the Duke's suite declared the Windsors "haven't the slightest idea what they are going to do next."

One of the Main Reasons

PARIS, Nov. 6—(AP).—A member of the Duke of Windsor's suite said to-day a feeling within the Duke's entourage that United States officials took a "lukewarm attitude" toward his proposed American tour was one of the reasons for the decision to "postpone" it.

Close advisers of the Duke were said to have felt there was a "lack of enthusiasm" on the part of Washington officials. This, coupled with American Labor leaders' criticism, was considered to make it advisable to call off the journey.

A spokesman for the United States Embassy said Ambassador William C. Bullitt already had called on the Duke and Duchess to say goodbye before the postponement decision was made known.

The Duke, it was said, sent a letter to the Department of the Interior at Washington, asking "suggestions" for his itinerary. The reply, which mentioned several public works projects, was said to have been considered by the Duke's advisers as "perfunctory."

GORDON B. CONANT WILL REPRESENT PREMIER HEPBURN

(By A Staff Reporter)

PORT PERRY, Nov. 6.—The Honorable Gordon D. Conant, K.C., M.L.A.-elect for Ontario Riding and Attorney General of the Province of Ontario is to speak over a British Empire radio "hook-up" from New York City on Armistice Day, he announced at a dinner given here in his honor last night.

The Attorney-General who will be deputizing for the Honorable Mitchell F. Hepburn, is to have the honor of being heard on the air in a program which will include such world-wide notabilities as His Majesty King George VI, Sir Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, and President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

Declaring he regarded the opportunity of speaking on the occasion as a great opportunity and privilege, the Attorney General characterized the radio program as a "significant event" which he believed would go down in history.

"Never in the entire history of the world," he said, "has there been a time when co-ordination of English-speaking peoples was more necessary. It is the only force that can deal wit hthe menacing situation in Europe and the Orient," he believed.

The Honorable Mr. Conant said he had no doubt in view of the present trend of events in world affairs that the broadcast on the occasion of Armistice anniversary was designed to encourage co-ordination among the English-speaking peoples of the world and he stated, "I welcome the opportunity to go to New York City and participate in that broadcast. It will I believe be an historic event."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6 (C.P.). — Despite good overseas buying, wheat futures continued their slump since the first of November to close 1¼ to 2⅝ cents lower on Winnipeg Grain Exchange, after establishing seasonal low prices for November and May futures.

Wheat cracked down around seven cents since Monday in nervous dealings. Prices jumped about a 3¼-cent range yesterday, but plunged to bottom levels on reports of rains in Argentina and unsettled security markets at the close.

Canadian wheat bought for export was estimated at 500,000 bushels. The overseas business reflected in cash wheat dealings where No. 1 and No. 2 Northern advanced 2 and 1 cents, respectively, selling at a premium of 22 and 17 cents above November future.

Durum wheat was in demand with exporters making the bulk of purchases, transactions for No. 1 Durum were reported with prices two cents higher.

At the end of a quiet session in coarse grain trading, futures were slightly lower except for rye, which fell 4⅜ to 4⅛ cents on light liquidation.

BROCKVILLE FIRE DESTROYS THEATRE

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Nov. 6. (CP) —Fire of unknown origin early today gutted the new theatre, long established local playhouse that has been "dark" for years. Roof of the structure collapsed before the blaze was brought under control. Loss was estimated between $35,000 and $50,000.

Smelling smoke as she passed the theatre on her way home from work, Mrs. William Alberry summoned her husband and they investigated. They found the interior of the building filled with smoke.

Fire-fighting equipment fought strenuously to have the building and was successful inchecking the progress of the blaze in the newer stage portion. The auditorium and two galleries were gutted and the roof collapsed. The theatre was converted from the former town hall in 1910-1911 and was well known by road companies until one night stands went out of favor. It had one of the largest stages in Canada and was owned by the municipal corporation who leased it a number of years ago to J. M. Dobbie, and F. I. Ritchie of Brockville. The theatre was last used during the provincial election campaign when Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader spoke.

John Hartley, chief of the fire department and president of the Dominion Fire Chiefs Association, was overcome by smoke while directing the efforts of the brigade and was removed to hospital for treatment.

OLIVA GETS A THRILL

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (CP).—The father of Canada's famous quintuplets, Oliva Dionne, today was full of talk of his first airplane ride.

"It's the biggest thrill of my life—since the birth of the Quints," he said, his eyes atwinkle, as he stepped from a newspaper plane yesterday after viewing Manhattan's skyscrapers from an elevation of 4,000 feet. "If it weren't for Elaire and the children back in Ontario I would like to have gone on, right across the Atlantic."

FALLS TWENTY FEET WHEN POLE BREAKS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Nov. 6.—Henry Gray met with an unfortunate accident on Thursday afternoon, that might have had very serious consequences. While working with the Bell Telephone Company on the Zion line, replacing old poles with new ones, one of the former at the top of which Henry was working removing the wires, broke off at the bottom, apparently having become rotten, giving him a bad fall from an elevation of probably twenty feet.

Dr. H. A. Turner was summoned and took the injured man at once to Peterborough for an X-ray examination, which revealed no bones broken, but a severe shaking up and bad bruises, as the outcome of the accident. The patient is in bed at his own home, and is not likely to be about again for some time.

School is Closed

Mr. George Gray, who teaches at Plainville, is home for a ten-day holiday, owing to a case of infantile paralysis having developed in one of the younger pupils of his school. The child is a son of Mrs. R. Meggs, and the case apparently a mild one, but a Toronto physician, who was called in consultation, urged the closing of the school for the time mentioned.

Biblical Thoughts For The Shut-Ins

By Rev. E. R. James Toronto

WHAT IS GOD LIKE?

Rejoice with me for I have found my sheep, which was lost. St. Luke 15.6.

"What is God like?" is the natural question of your child. It has been the natural question of men all down the ages. "God created man in His own image" therefore man has struggled with the problem and has created, or thought, of God as being in his own image. He has thought of God as being cruel, fierce, merciless and immoral. For man desired to be cruel, fierce, merciless and immoral, and hoped his god would have the same desires. What he longed to be himself that he imagined God was.

Then in the fulness of time God became man. He revealed Himself through Jesus Christ. "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father is our Lord's own statement and claim.

In this beautiful parable of the lost sheep the Lord reveals to us what God is like.

It is deeply interesting to remember the occasion. "There drew near unto Him all the publicans and sinners for to hear Him." He attracted the outcasts of the people. On the fringe of that crowd, keeping well apart from them, stand the doctors of the law and the Pharisees, the religious leaders of His day. Do you hear them murmur with bitterness: "This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them". The expression implies He loves to have it so. His heart of compassion went out to the common people, "who heard Him gladly". What an ideal for the preacher, priest, and missionary.

The Lord does not speak primarily to the learned. He addresses Himself to the everyday man and in language they can understand. "What man of you having a hundred sheep?" His parables are both simple and sublime. He is speaking to people who understand the business of keeping sheep. The doctors of scholarship have in every age marvelled at the depths of His simple teaching.

What does the shepherd think about? If he is a good shepherd his heart is in his business. He thinks about his sheep. Have you ever read anything more biting that the Master's word picture of the man who is only thinking about his pay, his money, his wages. "The hireling fleeth because he is a hireling and careth not for the sheep".

The good shepherd thinks about his sheep. One sheep has gone astray; has wandered away. A silly, foolish sheep. It is ignorant of the dangers. It may be devoured by wild beasts or fall down a precipice. It is only one, lonely, lost sheep. For the time being in the mind of the shepherd there is only one sheep. That is the marvel of the story—of God's care for the individual.

The individual is important in God's sight. A truth which the world is only slowly learning. The shepherd does not say: "I will mark off the sheep as lost. I have still ninety and nine. The little one does not matter". Such a thought does not enter the mind of the shepherd. He thinks too much of that individual sheep.

His thought is put into action. He leaves the ninety and nine in the comparative safety of the wilderness and searches for the lost sheep. How natural, how true. His hearers nod their approval as the Master looks into their faces. Every shepherd worthy of the name would have done the same. They picture his searching of the possible places of that wild country. He calls, because in the east the sheep know his voice. "My sheep hear my voice". Finally, he finds the sheep. Tenderly he lays it upon his shoulders and brings it home and replaces it among the flock.

Is that all? Have you ever lost anything and then found it? What was your re-action, your natural thought?

He must rejoice, but not alone. He calls his friends and neighbours together to rejoice with him. "I have found my sheep which was lost" is his refrain. This is what God is like. There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth". The Lord opens the Father's heart of compassion in this word picture.

This is what God is like. He thinks about His sheep. He loves them individually. Each one is precious. He seeks the individual till He finds it. If, like sheep, he is silly and foolish and has wandered away in ignorance rather than self will.

"I obtained mercy because I did it ignorantly in unbelief, and the grace of Our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus."

1 Timothy, 1; 13.

National Message

By the Late Rev. W. Pascoe Goard, LL.D., F.R.G.S., F.R.E.S.)

There are many voices which are raised in tones of authority which claim to give direction to the Christian Church of to-day as to the correct interpretation of Israel Truth in the Bible. Before listening to these voices one should be assured of the qualifications of the persons who are raising them to speak on this vital matter.

Let us take a few tests which they who pose as authorities on Israel Truth must be able to sustain.

Do they know the various terms used in the Bible to set forth Israel Truth, and do they correctly define them? Let us make a glossary of a few of the pivotal terms used:

The Children of Israel,

Jacob—The House of Jacob,

Israel—All Israel—House of Israel,

Judah—the House of Judah,

Jews—the Nation of the Jews, The House of David,

Ephraim—The House of Joseph—Israel.

Israel in the Isles—the Isles—and people from far.

Each of these terms and phrases have definite meanings. What are they?

The Children of Israel, unless limited by the context, refers to all the tribes of Israel.

Jacob, the House of Jacob, unless limited by the context, as it often is, means all the people of Israel on the human plane—unregenerate.

Israel, all Israel, the House of Israel, are terms used to denote the Northern Kingdom of the ten tribes. There is no tribe of Judah in that division until the final re-union. Let every student and teacher take note of this often-disregarded fact. There is no excuse for calling or confusing the House of Israel with the House of Judah.

Judah, the House of Judah, was the first kingdom to separate. They followed and crowned David, revolting from Israel and the House of Saul upon the latter's death. This was the beginning of the Kingdom of Judah. Eleven tribes followed the House of Saul for seven years; then Israel was re-united under David and Solomon. Under Rehoboam and Jeroboam there was a further separation, ten tribes broke away and formed the House of Israel. One tribe of the original eleven was lent to Judah that David might have a light before him in Jerusalem. This was the Tribe of Benjamin. Therefore, Judah means the Tribe of Judah; but the House of Judah includes the Tribe of Benjamin.

The Jews, the nation of the Jews, is used to indicate the nation, few in number, weak in strength, and, except for a few desperate years of the Maccabean period, always subject to a foreign power, which was set up by the handful of Jews who returned from captivity in Babylon. It endured until A.D. 70. It never had the House of David reigning over it.

The Golden Text

And let then peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.—Col. 3:15

Special Services Be Held Sunday

The annual service of the Women's Missionary Society will be held in St. Andrew's Church on next Sunday morning, when Rev. E. W. Young will give the address. The president of the local society, Miss Fanny Dixon will lead the service and Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, Miss Zoe Stayzer, and Mrs. Ford Turner will take part in the service. The Willing Workers' Mission Band led by Miss Bella King will sing. There are several branches of the organization in the church, the Afternoon Auxiliary, The Elizabeth Bell Auxiliary, The Mission Circle, the C.G.I.T., the Mission Band—the members of these groups will attend at 10.30 a.m. and occupy seats in the front of the church.

An Armistice Day service will be held at night, when Mr. Young will speak on A. A. Milne's book "Peace With Honour." Mr. Milne is an English essayist, and novelist of the first rank. His book has been described as the most devastating attack upon war that has ever been made. Mr. Young will face two questions that are before the public mind today, 'Is pacifism the solution?' "Is re-arment the only answer?" All students of these world issues are heartily invited to attend.

Leads In Song

Standing on a chair in a commanding pose, General Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army, is pictured BELOW as she led singing during a meeting at Winnipeg, Man. With the general is George L. Carpenter, Salvation Army Commissioner for Canada. Eight thousand persons flocked to the meeting to hear Miss Booth speak on "The World's Greatest Romance."

Burleigh Students Sing At Service

(Examiner Correspondence,)

APSLEY, Nov. 6.—Twelve pupils from S. S. No. 2, Burleigh, with their teacher, Miss Legon, took part in the service at St. George's church on Sunday evening, and by their singing of the hymns and anthem in two parts (triple an dalto) demonstrated the progress that has been made in vocal training since the school adopted the system of the teaching of music in rural schools two years ago under the tuition of the supervisor, Mrs. George Kilborn. The harmony and expression, together with clear enunciation, were very pleasing. The children were provided with refreshments at the rectory after the service, when the Rev. T. C. McMulkin expressed his appreciation of their visit in a short address.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

Seeing that the material world is but the downward extension, as it were, of the spiritual, and realizing that this lower world is governed by fixed natural laws, it is surprising that more of us do not realize that this higher spiritual world is likewise governed by law. Few indeed are those who seek to enquire into the nature of these laws, and yet, our inner being is governed entirely by them just as our physical being is governed by the laws of the natural world. The value of any religion is exactly proportionate to the greater or lesser extent that it sets forth these laws of the spirit, and helps its people to live in harmony with them. It is idle to suppose, as many do, that one can violate any law, natural or spiritual, and not suffer the consequence. Although we are primarily spiritual beings yet it is as much a sacred duty to govern our bodies in accordance with the laws of nature and so preserve our bodily health, as it is to order our inner selves according to the laws of the spirit and so retain our spiritual health. One kind of law is as much a law of God as the other, and it is of no avail to plead ignorance. There is no clear line of demarcation between matter and spirit, and there is likewise no clear line of separation between the laws governing either. The two worlds or rather, the two states of being are really one, the apparent separation being entirely due to the fact that the sensory organs of the body respond only to a limited range of impressions. There are colors we cannot see, sounds we cannot hear, and it requires a long and arduous training before we can even dimly, as through a glass darkly, sense that which is above the sensual world. The spiritual world is in us, and all about us, but it is useless to seek it without until we have found it within. The Master was very emphatic on that point, and it is perhaps unfortunate that His word has been largely ignored in that the gorgeous oriental imagery of the sacred writings has been taken as literal fact. The difficulty is, of course, that no words can possibly convey the faintest idea of the super-sensual world and one is driven to fall back on earthly terms to express that which is inexpressible. But it is an interior state of being for there is that within man which is before time or space, all that can be said is that it is. When our mortal consciousness is stilled and not distracted by outer things, then, and then only, can we enter the Holy of Holies, lift the veil of the temple, and commune with our God in spirit and in truth. The Kingdom of Heaven is within us, and there also is our Father.

Branch Notes

ST. JOHN'S BRANCH

A combined educational and business meeting was held by St. John's A.Y.P.A. on Wednesday evening, when Lieut.-Col. J. A. Dowart, gave a vivid account of his trip to the coronation from a military standpoint. A vote of appreciation was moved to the speaker by Fred Ford and seconded by Hilda Phillips.

During the business meeting Gordon Clegg was elected as official delegate representing St. John's at the provincial conference to be held in St. Catharines, November 25th to 28th. Jack Marshall and Gordon Clegg were elected to act on the committee of the district local council.

The annual district banquet will be held at Bethany on November 17, at seven o'clock. Iris Williams group is in charge of the transportation to Bethany.

The district amateur night will be held in St. John's Parish Hall next Wednesday evening, at which St. John's A.Y.P.A. will be taking part.

ST. JOHN'S, LAKEFIELD

The first regular meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A., Lakefield, was held in the Parish Hall on Monday, with a good attendance.

Rev. W. J. Creighton opened the meeting with prayer, after which the election of officers was held, which resulted as follows:

Hon. president, Rev. W. J. Creighton; president; Patricia Earnshaw; vice president, Harry Baldwin; secretary, John Creighton; treasurer, Grace Watson; publicity secretary, Mrs. G. Hutt; pianist, Elizabeth Twist; dramatic committee, Mrs. W. Chappell, and Mrs. J. Earnshaw; property committee, Jack Hampton and George Hutt.

Rev. Mr. Creighton conducted the closing exercises and the rest of the evening was spent in games and contests. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee.

The first euchre party of St. John's A.Y.P.A., Lakefield, was held on Thursday night in the Parish Hall. Nine tables of euchre were played, prizes being won by Miss Odelle Watson and E. Devitt. The consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jack Charlton and O. Cowdy. E. Devitt was the winner of the special prize for the most lone hands during the evening. Refreshments were served at the end of the games.

WESTWOOD

The A.Y.P.A. of St. Michael's Church, Westwood, made their monthly meeting a Hallowe'en party and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, which they had beautifully decorated. The house and the lovely appropriate costumes made the scene well worth seeing.

The meeting began with Miss Edith Bray presiding. Rev. Mr. Lemon read the scripture and led in prayer. Miss Dorothy Price and Tom MacQuigg joined the branch. The meeting was handed over to the program convenor. There were many games and contests played and many lovely prizes. Eating apples, which were tied to strings, and picking apples off the floor with spoons was enjoyed, while a cat contest and also a vegetable contest all brought great laughter and fun. There were many comical but very well represented costumes. The people marched around and were judged by the Rev. Mr. Lemon and William Thompson. Joyce Godfrey, aged 7 years, won the prize for having the best costume. She represented "Night," and wore a black dress with silver stars and golden moons, and was lovely.

CHRISTIAN CHARACTER — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Colossians 3:1-17

From his prison in Rome Paul wrote to the Christians at Colosse, saying, "Seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God."

Rebuking covetousness, which he called idolotry, he urged, "Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, and let the word of Christ dwell in you richly."

The Colossian Christians were to "put on . . . a heart of compassion, kindness, lowliness, meekness, long suffering, and above all these things put on love . . ."

"Christ is all and in all." Only in him can there be "peace on earth, good will, towards men".

A Sensible Announcement

Prime Minister Mackenzie King says there is not likely to be a general election in Canada until late in 1940 unless something unforseen forces the government to go to the people. Mr. King said he believed the people wanted his government to remain in power. With that belief there may be a difference of opinion in some quarters, but with his general statement that he had no intention of going to the country until his five-year term was expired there will be general agreement. It seems a sensible position to take. And it should put an end to a good deal of loose talking and writing about another election being sprung on the people when no person wanted it.

We believe as a rule we have too many elections in Ontario. From the year 1902 we have had eleven of them; eleven in thirty-five years, and that is an average of one ever 3/2-11 years. We have had to pay for two or perhaps three elections in there which we did not need. The idea of allowing political leaders of the day to go to the people when it was considered politically advisable to do so has been worked for more than it is worth and the people in general have had to pay in this way for the building of the fortunes of political parties. It is good news that there is not going to be a Dominion election before the proper time comes to hold it.

Paying Taxes To Bowl

Representatives of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club failed to draw in close to the kitty when they appeared before the Court of Revision in an effort to have assessment reduced. There was a good and fair representation made of all facts bearing on the case, but in the end the court shook its official head.

The facts seem to be that when the Bowling Club took over its present property it was a seedy and poor looking spot; a bit of an eyesore to all who passed by. Today it is a place of beauty and by night a place of light and activity for at least five months of the year. The members do not make money out of bowling; they are providing facilities for healthful outdoor activity. Working together they can provide a place to bowl while working alone there are few men in the community who would or could afford to provide such a place on their own resources.

It may be quite all right for the assessor and the tax collector to take notice of such premises being brought into existence; that is why they are in office, but there remains the larger question of this city and other cities spending public money to encourage outdoor sports by arranging for and managing skating areas, toboggan slides, civic golf courses and so on. There appears to be close enough association in the general idea of encouraging good clean sport for a large number of people who if they had to depend on their own resources would be barred from participation. In some cases cities arrange such matters and pay for it; in this case the bowlers did their own financing. We think it is safe and right enough to follow the idea that the hand of the assessor should bear lightly on places where people are doing something for the benefit of the community, where there is no revenue produced, and where a large number of people are encouraged to participate in healthful outdoor exercise.

It Looks Irregular

A peculiar case is reported from Ops township in Victoria. A pupil attending S. S. No. 2 met with an accident which impaired her eyesight. It was due to broken glass coming from a window. The father of the pupil brought action and was awarded damages and costs.

One of the witnesses at the hearing was the girl who acted as janitor of the school. She was summoned by the gentleman who was bringing action for damages. Shortly after the hearing was concluded it is said she was told to turn in the keys of the school and her services as caretaker were dispensed with, and one report has it that this action was taken because it was thought she "had given evidence against the school."

The girl who was called to give evidence would have little choice in the matter. Once in court she would have to tell the truth no matter if it were favorable or unfavorable to the school or the trustees, or herself. We believe it is a poor course and a rather dangerous one to try and punish a witness, and if that has been done then the matter can hardly be allowed to rest there. It comes in about the same classification as seeking to intimidate a witness before a trial and that is not countenanced in this country.

How Much Do We Know?

The editor of the Chatham News was annoyed by reason of an interview given out by Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans, leader of the KuKlux Klan in United States. The Wizard had said that Canada was "a frozen, barren country full of potential enemies of United States."

The Chatham paper was not disposed to waste much time about this country being filled with potential enemies of United States, but there was a good deal of heat stirred by calling our land "a frozen and barren place." The Chatham editor pulled his chair square up to the pine table and let the Wizard have it in the eye and on the end of the nose. He was not guarding the name of all Canada but was concerned with Essex, Kent and Lambton. His own bailiwick was not going to be maligned by any Imperial Wizard without Bill Angus taking a poke at him. He referred to his "colossal ignorance," and expressed the hope that in his declining years he might attain a little wisdom.

A good many of our papers have felt called upon to do the same thing. We are quite certain such views have now and then appeared in these columns. But there are times when we are moved to wonder if we know a great deal more about United States than the folk in that country know about us. For example, are there many of our people who without a geography, could name the states of the union which border on Canada? Could we, for example, name the capitals of even ten states.

Not many weeks ago we were listening to a conversation. There were five in the group and one of the number had recently returned after a rather long trip in the western part of United States. The traveller had occasion to mention the name Alhambra in California as one place where he had stayed, and one gentleman frankly admitted he had never heard of it. He said he used to live in Toronto and there was a street in the west end of the city by that name. And yet Alhambra, California, is a city equal in size to Peterborough. Quite likely people in Peterborough would be somewhat annoyed if they found people in California who had never heard of our fine city.

The traveller was also making some reference to a hotel where he stayed in Little Rock, Arkansas, and it was a fact that two in the group had never heard of Little Rock, but it is a city of about 85,000. He also had occasion to mention something which had interested him when he was in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and that left the group a little shaky, and the truth was no one was sure whether there was a cedar tree or some rapids there, although it is a place of at least 60,000 people.

We admit in a general way Canadian people young or old may have a more comprehensive knowledge of United States than the folk to the south possess regarding Canada. We admit without argument that we get hot and flustered when our country is referred to as being frozen and barren. But at best the fact remains that there is a great deal about United States which we do not know.

Worth Considering

The feeling seems to be general among members of the Canadian Legion that Remembrance Day on the 11th of November should be observed as a full-time statutory holiday. They do not approve of business being closed for part of the day and then resumed. They hold that things should slow down to a stop for the day.

We have heard the point argued in a number of places, and there is much to be said both ways. One can appreciate the sentiment which says it should be a full-time holiday, feeling that by such a degree of observance greater respect and standing and recognition was being extended to Remembrance Day and all for which it stands.

Against that is the claim that by such a method it would become "just another holiday." People would regard it as such and would take occasion to be out of the city as quickly as possible and therefore not available to participate in the memorial services of the day. One sure way to rob an occasion of its full significance is to allow the day set apart for its observance to get into that "just another holiday" class.

When A Barn Burns

Fire at times comes when it is least expected, and a barn fire at this late season of the year is something rather unusual. The time for electrical storms has gone and threshing is fairly well done. And yet Wesley Websted of the Ninth Concession of Otonabee lost his barn and all the harvest that was in them and two silos as well.

And the filling of the silos had meant something on that farm because the corn had gone down and was badly tangled. Ten acres of it had to be cut by hand and if folk in the city do not understand what that means then the people in the country will. It is a slow work and hard work, and yet it was done before being taken to the cutter and blown into the silos. And now it is all gone.

Three mows were full; there was threshing yet to be done from one farm of 100 acres and there was the grain from another farm of equal size and the flames spared none of it. On nearly all farm buildings there is insurance, but Mr. Webster will not have enough to cover his loss. Far from it. And he faces a season when his stock will depend entirely on feeding from the barn. The big problem is—there is no barn and no feed.

We have known the experience of other farmers who faced somewhat similar catastrophe. Getting things in order again was not easy, but it had been done. We learned too that a farmer never fully realizes at the time just how much he has lost when his barn and contents burn. He may have been using the building for a good many years and he has all the time been adding to his equipment. Many of the additions may have been rather small purchases but there were in all many of them, and they all represented something which was needed. When all these are removed by fire the farmer is placed in a position of having to work with all his equipment, large or small, having been taken away from him. We do not know whether Mr. Webster will be helped by sympathy, but a good deal of it will be extended to him as he views a pile of ashes which once represented barns and crops, and filled silos.

The Other Examiner

There was a pleasing function in Barrie the other day when George W. James, publisher and editor of the Bowmanville Statesman, and president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, presented to the Barrie Examiner the W. E. Mason Trophy, which means that the Barrie Examiner has been weighed, judged and inspected and pronounced the best weekly newspaper in the Dominion. And in reaching that high standing the Examiner of Barrie would have to meet in competition a good many formidable contestants because there are a good many weekly newspaper publishers who are turning out highly creditable publications.

The trophy awarded to the Barrie newspaper is the gift of W. E. Mason of the Sudbury Star. The Barrie paper won the former trophy so many times in succession that Mr. Mason decided to place it there for keeps, and now the new trophy, the second one, is forming the same habit as the first one. Us Examiners in the newspaper field, few in number, must stick together, so the Peterborough Examiner finds it pleasant indeed to forward congratulations to the Examiner of Barrie.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Montreal police force may be increased to 2,000 within two years. The authorities must be figuring on suppressing a lot of public meetings.

British statesmen are still speaking of friendship with Italy. The truth seems to be that Italy, far from acting like a friend is behaving more like a relative these days.

We notice where triplets have been born to a family named Murphy living a few miles out of New York. So we suppose it's another case of where the folk are thankful for small Murphies.

According to a newspaper article Canadian picture fans laugh when Mussolini's face appears on the screen. Apparently they feel they are far enough out of the castor oil belt to be able to chuckle in safety.

Writer of a letter in a Toronto paper says that all sideroads should be clearly marked. The suggestion is a good one except for the fact that most folk nowadays drive so fast they would probably fail to see the signs.

Frank Russo, 39, sentenced to life at Sing Sing, made the boast he would take his own life, and the judge said the prison would be a sweeter place if he did. So the next move appears to be up to Mr. Russo.

George Bernard Shaw predicts the collapse of civilization as a consequence of another great war and that has been said so often that it does not seem to fit in with the usual conception of the famous author.

Mayor LaGuardia is expected to have a majority of at least 400,000 in New York city so that when his Democratic opponent concedes the election there does not seem to be any danger that he has made a mistake.

CHANGED

(By A. R. K.)

¶ When I was young and went to school, I tried to learn each known rule, the teacher said I should; for if I mastered tables then, I'd travel with successful men, and get along quite good.

¶ My Uncle Eben told me too, that was the proper thing to do, that's how I would succeed; if I went forth equipped that way, I'd never face a lazy day, I would advance with speed.

¶ And so I worked my tables hard, and put down figures by the yard, I could subtract with ease; and I could multiply and add, and do division not half bad, I got there by degrees.

¶ No person needs my knowledge now, to buy a pig or sell a cow, my living's rather lean; for they just punch some keys today, and get their answer right away, it's all done by machine.

¶ And if there's interest I must pay, they figure it some simple way, it's all worked out with care; a man don't have to add and frown, for he just runs his fingers down, and gets the answer there.

¶ I guess the teacher's word was true, and Uncle Eben meant well too, and I was fairly taught; since I lived on Concession Ten, I have to learn each now and then—that things have changed a lot.

IT IS SURPRISING to learn that the great steel industry finds it necessary to pause in its manufacturing processes to kill a tiny germ. Sterilized steel, says the American Iron and Steel Institute is now a regular product of the industry, the demand for germ-proof nails and tacks having been created by carpenters, laiters and others who like to use their mouths as supply boxes when working with tacks or nails.

Although almost any type of nail can be sterilized, lathing nails are one of the most usual types to undergo this treatment. Others are plaster-board nails, metal-lath staples and tacks.

The initial step in the sterilizing process is to tumble the nails in a revolving sawdust-filled drum which cleans and polishes them and removes any adhering oil. After tumbling, the nails are transferred to another drum which is simultaneously rotated and heated until the nails reach a temperature of 300 to 600 degrees Fahrenheit, sufficient to destroy all bacteria. The heat produces a thin film of oxide which has a distinctive blue color. When the desired color is attained the nails are cooled and packed in kegs lined with sterilized paper. Sterilized nails are said to have a strong sales appeal, not only because of their germ-free qualities but because of their attractive color.

Gas, tar, oils and chemicals valued at more than $133,000,000 were produced by the steel industry in 1936 as by-products incidental to the production of coke for use as fuel for the industry's blast furnaces. Some of the by-products were sold while others were used by the producers.

Wants No Boycott.

AN ENGLISH publication says that that there will be no general British boycott of Japanese goods for a very excellent reason—Australia does not want one, and will not agree to one. Australia supplies Japan with 95 per cent. of her purchases of wool and a considerable quantity of wheat and wants no breakdown of the recently patched-up trade agreement with Tokio.

The British governments has already spent close on £10,000,000 in protecting British lives in China and Spain. And on top of that are the losses in Shanghai so far estimated by the local authorities as £600,000,000.

✧ ✧ ✧

It is said of King Farouk of Egypt that he has much of the Duke of Windsor's flair for creating popularity. In a mosque where he went quietly to worship the other day subservient priests trundled out a brand new carpet for His Majesty's august knees. Waving them aside, Farouk borrowed a poor Moslem's threadbare prayer-mat, remarking "All are equal before Allah." Such actions have resulted in demonstrations of enthusiasm whenever the King leaves his palace or takes his fiancee Farida for a drive in his long black limousine.

War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha of Great Britain was in bed with a bad cold recently and while he was absent his cabinet colleagues indulged in a long discussion over the question of a uniform for him. It was remarked that if the First Lord of the Admiralty is required to turn out at official functions in gold-braid why not full-dress for the Secretary of State for War?

While George V always had a big staff of servants with him whenever he went visiting it is worthy of note that when the present King took his Yorkshire trip recently he took with him to Harewood House only Jerome his valet and a footman, while Queen Elizabeth was attended only by her favored maid Catherine Maclean who was in the service of the Strathmores during the Queen's childhood.

Dangerous But Profitable.

ONE SLEEK Greek has been doing very nicely out of the Spanish war. He went to an Italian firm, with a big sum in cash, ostensibly to buy supplies for General Franco and duly received delivery in a Greek port. In fact, the money for this purchase had come from Valencia which had also paid in advance the freight of a Greek steamer to carry the goods to Spain under the British flag. Before the boat set sail however, the enterprising merchant made contact with one of Franco's agents and sold him the route to be followed. When a Nationalist cruiser appeared at exactly the right moment and sent the freighter to the bottom he also collected the insurance. Dangerous work, maybe; but it yielded about $300,000 profit without the outlay of a cent.

There is no doubt that Britain is taking its medicine. A report by Sir Kingsley Wood, the British Minister of Health leaves no doubt of that fact, for it shows that in twelve years the number of prescriptions issued in England and Wales increased from 43,000,000 to 66,000,000 and the cost rose from £1,734,000 to £2,240,000. Out of all proportion to the growth in the insured population, the increase is said to be due to the bottle habit and the British Medical Association is now co-operating with the Minister of Health with a view to checking the nation's medical thirst.

The clerk of a Kentucky county was surprised recently when a minister returned a marriage license marked "void." He was more surprised when he read the minister's notation which explained that the groom led the bride to the alter and then, just before the ceremony was ready to begin said "I've got cold feet."

According to Lord Horder, the King's physician Britain of the near future will be comparatively free of noisy streets and offices or ostentatious flower—bedecked graves. "I am certain said he recently" that in 50 years it will be considered wrong to bury a body or make a noise."

Better Times Ahead For Our Farmers

Many Went Deep In Debt For Equipment; Has a Right to Expect Government Assistance

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

PROSPERITY for farmers is returning, says Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario's new Minister of Agriculture, but he hopes the basic sound thinking of farmers will not desert them and lead them to the over-expansion or over-buying that proved such a blow to many people in agriculture, business and all other walks of life before the recent depression period.

"In the boom years," he points out, "many people burdened themselves with high-priced land, expensive equipment, and paid top prices for stock and buildings. Plunging into debt can be just as disastrous in farming as in any other business, and I feel that this factor in farm economics cannot be too strongly emphasized. Many farmers went into debt during boom times and have been faced with the problem of meeting heavy indebtedness from the sale of their commodities at low prices in a depression period. These people are now paying a heavy penalty for their over-optimism, and people in every kind of business will back me up when I say that the time to buy—no matter what your business—is when prices are low. We, as business men and farmers, should put ourselves in a position, through the study of business trends, to take advantage of lower prices when they do come.

"Periods of boom and depression do occur and with an increasing frequency. The trend today in prices is upward but we must realize and prepare for the inevitable and recurring decline."

Agriculture, equally with labor, industry and business, he points out, has a right to expect government assistance in overcoming its problems, and his repartment, Mr. Dewan added by way of assurance, will do its utmost to co-operate with farmers in arriving at a solution to difficulties which arise by reason of factors beyond their control.

"Undoubtedly the farmer can and will enjoy the fruits of better times before another depression strikes us, if he takes every advantage of opportunities to improve his lot, and if he receives—as I think he is entitled to receive—the proper assistance from the Department of Agriculture in the way of guidance, leadership and co-operation.

"A large part of self-help on the farmers' side can be achieved by a proper study and application of the principles of soil fertility and well-timed production of livestock. Crop production and stock raising are very closely related, as we all know, but they must be co-ordinated for the best results. Linked up with proper methods of production comes the problem of marketing, and the farmer, having improved his immediate problems of production, can justifiably look to the governmental authorities for aid in broadening and improving his market possibilities."

CLOSING SERVICE STATIONS

Editor Examiner:

Sir: As we are living in the speed age when motoring and pleasure seems to give leadership to life and the advent of the motor has created the necessity of service stations by the hundreds, which from competition or seemly necessity have been kept open for service seven days each week.

These conditions are creating a twofold evil, a forgetful attitude toward a Divine command, and also an overdraft on the physical reserves of those who are employed as service station operators. Mr. J. L. Gillespie's decision to close his service station every Sunday at noon is worthy of commendation, and we would congratulate him on his announcement in the public press to that effect. Many reforms in the past have sprung from the actions of one or more individuals, and we do hope that all other service stations in this city will do likewise, and that it may extend to every station in the Province of Ontario. Let us feel it is our duty to develope in all our people a sense of their obligations, and an intense concern for the welfare of the whole community. I feel assured that motorists would very soon adjust themselves to this change, and as Mr. Gillespie states that those that serve will have some physical rest which is an absolute necessity and Sabbath observance as far as possible is to the very best interest of all people.

Driver's Ear Faster Than Eye Answering Safety Warning

700 Tests Show Horn Gets Brake On Faster Than Red Light

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 6—(AP).—The ear of an automobile driver is quicker than his eye in responding to a safety warning.

An auto horn, or a policeman's whistle, puts the driver's foot on the brake faster than the sight of a red light.

These findings in safe driving were announced to-day at Indiana University. They were the first tests to compare a driver's reaction time to sound and sight. They were made by Dr. Frank R. Elliott and Professor C. M. Louttit of the Psychology Department.

Seven hundred drivers were tested. Each one sat in the driver's seat, with one foot pressing the accelerator half way to the floor. The time required to lift his foot to the brake and press the pedal all the way down was taken.

The signal to put on the brake was either a red light directly in front, or an automobile horn. The signals were given with the car standing still. All groups, whether men or women, young or old, responded more quickly to the horn than to the light.

The average advantage of the ear over the eye was one-hundredth of a second. The fastest braking time for the red light was three-tenths of a second; the quickest for the horn a little more than two-fifths of a second.

Men were a little faster than women in responding to either light or horn.

$130.40 REALIZED AT FOWL SUPPER

(Examiner Correspondent.)

MILLBROOK, Nov. 6.—Mrs. P. I. Bentley, president of the Woman's Association of St. Andrew's church was in the chair for the November meeting held on Wednesday at 3 p.m., at the home of Miss Pearl Burnham, Main street, with twenty-five members and visitors in attendance. The "I AM's" of Christ were read alternately for the devotional period.

The visiting committee reported no illness among the membership at present, and the treasurer, Mrs. J. McKnight, reported total receipts from the fowl supper as $223.80; expenses $93.40; balance on hand $130.40; also that the taxes on the Parsonage had been paid.

The president voiced her personal thanks to the many willing workers who had assisted in making the fowl supper a success, and also reported that those who had attended the recent Presbyterial gathering of W. A. representatives in George George Street Church, Peterborough, besides her self, as Mrs. Sisco, Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, and Mrs. J. McKnight.

To Hold Convention

As a result of this meeting it is likely that a Presbyterial organization will be formed, and to this end a convention will be held in Peterborough either November 17 or 19, when a constitution will be drawn up, and officers elected. The officers appointed at the initial meeting, who will arrange for the convention, included president, Mrs. (Rev.) E. W. Rowland, Peterborough; vice-presidents, Mrs. Wand, Peterborough and Mrs. (Rev.) Tanner, of Lakefield; secretary, Mrs. P. I. Bentley, Millbrook, correspondence secretary, Mrs. Taylor, Peterborough and treasurer, Mrs. (Rev.) E. M. Cook, Frazerville. An executive committee was also appointed representative, as far as possible, of the various Associations in the Presbytery. On motion, it was decided to pay the tax levied as membership fee on the various Associations, fifty cents for a small society, and five cents per member for the larger ones, having been mentioned.

On motion, it was decided to collect the papers and magazines, which members were asked to save last spring, during this month in order to add to the society's funds before the year closes. These may be left at Bentley's store for weighing and parcelling. It was also decided to hold a hot supper in the Waverley Club Rooms on Saturday, November 20, the president appointing the several heads of tables before the meeting closed. A solo by Miss Rogers, of Toronto, with Miss May Duncan accompanying, and a practice of the W. A. Theme Song, with prayer by the leader closed the meeting.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Henderson, served homemade candy during the social hour at the close and the usual votes of thanks were passed before the guests dispersed.

Next week Miss Gardiner will continue her theme in relation to the second coming of our Lord.

SAILING SCHOONER TIED BY MOUNTIES

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Nov. 6.—(CP).—A stately three-masted schooner, the 140-foot J. T. Wing, was tied up today at this Lake Erie port near Windsor for what the owners said was misunderstanding of Canadian shipping laws but they expected an early solution of the trouble.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police who boarded the schooner here last night while she unloaded cedar posts declined to disclose reason for halting the vessel.

Grant Piggott of Windsor, manager of the J. T. Wing and Company of Detroit, her owners, said: "The Wing is temporarily tied up because of misinformation on coastal regulations. We hope to have the difficulty cleared up tomorrow."

Piggott said he understood the schooner, believed the only one of its type on the Great Lakes, violated Canadian shipping laws by carrying cargo from one Canadian port to another while being of United States registration.

The J. T. Wing, captained by George A. Fisher of Detroit and carrying a crew of eight, has been sailing the upper lakes, chiefly carrying cargoes of lumber.

Civilian Flying Vanishes In Italy

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP)—Civilian flying as it is known in Canada has practically been gobbled up by the military machine in Italy.

Air ministry records indicate Premier Mussolini's emphasis on military training is bringing virtually 100 per cent of the country's air-minded youths into the military service.

Whereas 400 young pilots won their wings in 1935, 800 received their "first line" ratings in 1936. In addition there were 1,400 students seeking their first "brevets," or licences, to fly solo pending further training.

Latest figures on Italian military aviation reveal the nation could count on 10,000 first line pilots in emergency. Many are on the military reserve list, and of these, hundreds are flying mail and passengers in military machines over 22,000 miles of commercial air lines.

General Giuseppe Valle, undersecretary for air, has set in motion recruiting machinery scheduled to give the nation 7,670 officers and 12,647 non-commissioned officers to the air arm by 1941.

Baby Chicks Air Travellers

Commercial aeroplanes have gone into the poultry business and it seems to be a thriving business by the look of the large cartons being carried off an aeroplane at Miami, Fla., as shown ABOVE. The poultry in this instance are baby chicks and are shipped via the airlines from Florida to all Central and South American points with some reservations, the reservations being that the chicks must not be over 12 hours old. This has brought about a change in hatching by chicken farmers and now they are regulating the hatching, not on the basis of orders, but on the "aeroplane space available."

R.C.M.P. STRENGTH DROPS 144 IN YEAR

OTTAWA, Nov. 6—(CP).—Bulk of the work of registering revolvers and pistols owned by private individuals in Canada is about completed, Sir James MacBrien, Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, said to-day in the annual report of the force for the year ended March 31, 1937.

The report covers all phases of the force's activities during the year. Registration of small firearms was started a year or two ago, and at March 31 last 160,653 weapons were registered against 85,607 the previous year.

"It seems the next logical step is to inaugurate a permit system for individual purchases," the report said. "A renewal of the registration every five years would be advantageous.

"As a result of the registration numerous inquiries have been received regarding the owners of small arms found in possession of persons arrested by the various police forces throughout the Dominion. We have also had many requests concerning the registration of weapons which have been stolen."

144 Fewer Mounties.

On the date of the report of the Force numbered 92 officers, 2,130 non-commissioned officers and constables, 131 special constables, and 220 members of the Marine Section, a total of 2,573 of all ranks. This represented a decrease of 144 from the previous year.

The motor equipment of the force increased and the sleigh dogs also increased, but the horses owned by the Force decreased. There were fewer cruisers and patrol boats than the previous year, but the report said it was hoped to acquire some new watercraft.

Two years ago a mounted section of the Force was established and horsemanship was dropped as a compulsory subject in the training of the Force generally. The number of horses on strength on March 31 was 209, a decrease of 32 in the year.

Crime showed a slight increase during the year under review, according to the number of cases dealt with. The total was 60,237, compared with 59,255 the previous year.

RENEW CONTRACT FOR POWER USERS IN WEST SEYMOUR

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 6.—The renewal of the contract with Seymour West for a term of ten years was approved at the Water and Light Commission meeting held on Thursday. J. O. Benor, chairman of the commission, who presided, reported that the old rate which was according to floor space had been changed for the rural consumers to a flat rate of $1.33 per month with the pre-payment discount of 25 per cent. making the charge equivalent to that established by the Hydro. A delegation from Seymour township, including Deputy Reeve John Innes and Marcus Curle, attended the meeting.

P. C. Denyes, manager of the Commission, stated that three of the new light standards for the west side of the river were already on hand, and that nine more were on order. It is expected that twelve of the new standards will be installed before Christmas in various parts of the town where provision has already been made for them. Members present at the meeting included the Mayor; J. O. Benor; C. H. Davidson, commissioner; and P. C. Denyes.

Lot Of Frills Are Out Of Place In Rooms Of Any Modern Home

Dressing Up a Room Nowadays Frequently Means Dressing It Down

Dressing up a room in this day of simple lines frequently means dressing it down. Except for the house that harks back to the Victorian era, a lot of frills are out of place in a room that is to be what the name implies—a living room.

The walls of a living room had been finished in a rough plaster and had panels of narrow moulding. An ornate mantel with a fancy mirror occupied one wall. The electric light fixtures were highly ornamental.

First of all, in the rejuvenation of the room, the panels were removed. The walls were finished in an off-white shade and there were no light brackets or other ornamentations to detract from the few pictures which the hostess decided to hang.

A plain mantel was substituted for the more ornate one. An unframed mirror was hung over it. White venetian blinds were hung at the windows and took the place of glass curtains.

With this background the housewife combined modern furniture and some pieces which had been in the family for generations. The room depended on these furnishings for colour, the background being without a trace of it.

Persian scatter rugs lent brilliance to a grey carpet. Modern versions of Victorian chairs were covered in plum and gold damask and a sofa was upholstered in chartreuse satin. Lamps were white. Cigarette boxes and other accessories were Chinese.

An Oriental vase and a bowl of white flowers were the only mantel decorations. The reflections of the room in the mirror, added to the impression of spaciousness.

The room, although its furnishings were formal, gave an appearance of a livable apartment, thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the family.

Funds for redecorating and modernizing the home are now available under the generous terms of the Home Improvement Plan.

Front Door Foretells Interior Decoration

Houses are sometimes judged by the appearance of the front door. If the door is cracked and the paint peeling, one does not expect to find anything better beyond it. But if the door is well kept, the visitor expects to find the whole house in good order. If the door is the regular type, with a large plain or leaded window, it can either be painted a solid color or grained. A more modern, solid wood door with a very small window can be scraped and stained. A knocker adds materially to the appearance of this type of door.

Then, of course, the doors inside the house should be painted or stained from time to time to keep them in a good state of preservation. Light woodwork is very much in fashion now.

A swinging door between the kitchen and dining-room is a great convenience and helps to keep the aroma of cooking from going through the rest of the rooms.

An attractive open doorway between the living and dining rooms of a summer home was of field stone and timber. The stone took the place of woodwork on either side of the entrance, while a beam formed the top of the arch.

Homes may be modernized and redecorated under the generous terms of the Home Improvement Plan at a very low rate of interest.

Breakfast Room In Upstairs Hall

Sunday morning breakfast is a charming meal and deserves special consideration. It might be a special treat to the family to have the meal served in an unusual way. A large upstairs hall could be made in to a most interesting breakfast room for this purpose.

A sunny window seat might have a small table placed in front of it, convenient to electric outlets for toasters or percolators. Bright walls and cheery furniture can change a dark hall into a gathering place for the family.

Funds to be used for redecoration may be obtained from any Canadian bank under the Dominion Government sponsored Home Improvement Plan.

Bookcases An Asset Home Decorations

Bookcases are an asset to any home. If you have a particularly long or wide hall, a built-in bookcase will relieve the plainness of an ungroken wall.

On either side of a fireplace or set into a solid wall, bookcases add dignity to any living room. Very often they give a room the appearance of being much larger or deeper.

Another convenient place for them in a very small room is under a window. A window that has wide sills is particularly adaptable for this type of modernization.

Funds for such work are now available at a very low rate of interest under the Dominion Government's Home Improvement Plan.

Canadian Economist Stresses Need Of Improvement Plan

Emphasizes Work To Be Done In Strong Plea For Continuation Of System

Emphasizing a great deal of work still to be done, a strong plea for the continuation of a central organization under the Home Improvement Plan beyond the end of this year was made by W. W. Goforth, noted economist and Manager of the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, addressing the Kiwanis Club of Montreal. The highest credit, said Mr. Goforth, was due to the members of provincial and local committees and their leader, Arthur B. Purvis, for the solid success achieved by the Home Improvement Plan during the first year of its operation.

Summing up the results of the H.I.P., Mr. Goforth estimated that the first year's operation had brought $50,000,000 of new business to the hard-pressed building trades; had returned 35,000 unemployed men and women to the ranks of active labour besides materially benefitting some 75,000 more of under-employed workers. Some 100,000 Canadian homes had been repaired and renovated, many of which might have lapsed into such a state of disrepair as to be untenantable. Municipalities had benefitted from the restoration of many properties which might otherwise have been unable to meet their assessed taxes. Further, Mr. Goforth remarked, the Home Improvement Plan indirectly aided the construction of new homes under the Dominion Housing Act as the result of focussing public attention on improved housing.

Helped by Businessmen

All this, the speaker pointed out had been accomplished, aside from a small but efficient government staff, by the voluntary efforts of the Canadian business community, even to the financing of administration and advertising by private and corporate contributions. "Surely," he asked, "this is a satisfactory answer to those who desire the advent of socialism and who believe that no public enterprise can properly be handled except by the State." The accomplishment was all the more creditable in the face of such difficulties encountered as rising raw material prices; unequal support from "advantaged industrial groups"; an unavoidable proportion of inexperience leadership and more than a fair share of misinformed public and private criticism.

Discussing the effect of the H.I.P. on Canadian business standards, Mr. Goforth contended that labour was appreciative of the more regular employment brought to it by the Plan and had co-operated closely with employers in carrying out wage adjustments. Competitor relationships improved inevitably as a result of the general co-operation to promote business while the contribution of the sound financing scheme of the Plan towards the difficult problem of unsound credits had aided better customer relations.

Co-operative Venture

"The Home Improvement Plan," concluded Mr. Goforth, "is a great co-operative venture which has been carried out almost wholly by private business. There are still several hundred thousand more Canadian homes that need renovation and still a large shortage of dwelling units. It would seem to be a most unwise measure of economy to have its useful and inexpensive machinery cease functioning at the end of this year with the provision, by private industry if necessary, of similar machinery to act as a central clearing house and organization. I trust that the government of Canada or the Canadian business community or both will provide for the completion of Mr. Purvis' program, for it is one which serves a direct social need and has proved the great co-operative potentialities of private business enterprise."

Proper Lighting In Linen Closet

Did you ever try to get out fresh linen for a bed in a hurry and have to rummage around in the semi-dark trying to find the right size—while unexpected guests wring their hands over the trouble they are causing? Or did you ever have the embarrassing experience of grabbing a towel in a hurry and realizing all too late that it was the one you were saving for an emergency—the torn one?

If your linen closet is properly lighted, such unhappy experience will be avoided. A light in the closet, or a panel light on the wall right outside the door is a boon to closet rummagers.

Funds for the rewiring of your home may be obtained under the terms of the Home Improvement Plan.

HASTINGS DRIVER BAILED FOR TRIAL NEGLIGENCE COUNT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 6. — Sydney Blackbourne, charged with criminal negligence, as a result of an accident on June 12, in which Grace Logan was struck by a car, driven by the accused, causing a fractured spine, was bailed for trial at the next court of General Sessions of the Peace, by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., Friday afternoon.

The accident took place at the corner of Bridge and Front Streets about 11 o'clock on the morning of June 12, as Miss Logan had attempted to cross the intersection diagonally.

At the preliminary hearing, W. B. Gordon of Peterborough acted for the defence, and Col. Boggs of Cobourg took charge of the prosecution. Miss Logan was unable to be present, due to almost complete paralysis of her left leg.

Mrs. W. B. Moore, the only eye-witness of the accident, testified she saw Miss Logan coming down the street, previous to the accident, as she sat in a car in front of a drug store. As Miss Logan was crossing the intersection, the accused backed his car, which had been parked on the south side of Front Street, near the corner, and struck Miss Logan, a few feet south of the lines on the street designated for pedestrian thoroughfare. She also stated that Blackbourne sounded his horn, as the car began to move. Under cross-questioning, the witness said Miss Logan never turned her head as she attempted to cross the intersection.

Not Unconscious.

William West, county constable, testified that he did not see the accident, but had helped to pick the injured woman up and remove her to the curb. He had also marked the spot with a cross where they picked her up.

Under cross-question, he said she was between the two rear wheels and under the car, with one arm pinned. When she was removed, but was not unconscious.

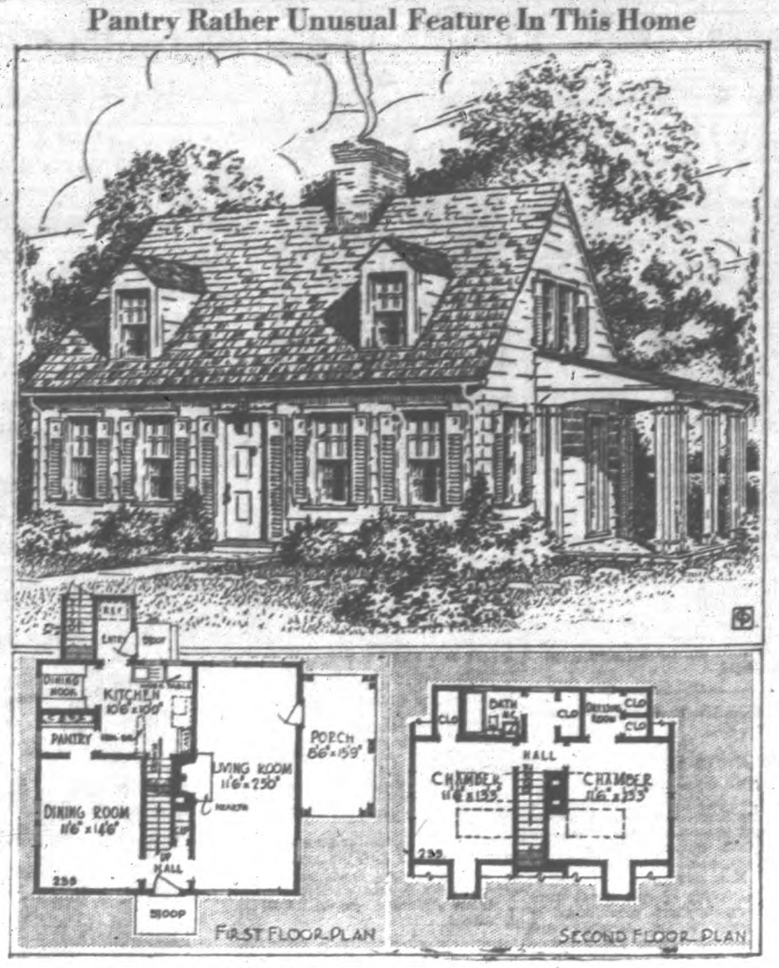
Thomas Kirk gave evidence as to the location on the street of the cross which Mr. West had made.

Dr. Campbell said that he had attended Miss Logan at the scene of the accident, and had her removed to her home, and that he has been attending her since her return from the hospital. He stated that she had a fairly complete paralysis of the left leg and that compression or destruction of part of the cord on the side of the injury, would cause this. The doctor was then instructed to visit Miss Logan and ascertain if she was in condition to permit questioning at her home.

Court was then adjourned till 2 o'clock that afternoon at her home.

The accused was called before His Worship but did not give any statement. Counsel for the defence submitted that there was not sufficient evidence against the accused to warrant going up for trial, but he Magistrate said the fact that the accused never looked to see if his path was clear after he got in the car would be sufficient.

Pantry Rather Unusual Feature In This Home



Exterior view and floor plans of five-room colonial house with side porch.

By Central Press

This home-like little frame house of five rooms is built in the Cape Cod tradition. The attractive entrance has a lantern over its portal, and there is a pleasant side porch.

The large living room with its fireplace will attract the would-be home owner. The porch opening off this room makes an outdoor summer living room. Notice the chimney located in the center of the house—a feature of colorful houses to conserve the heat.

The kitchen has a dining nook and a pantry—the latter rather unusual for the modern house. It might, if the owner wished, be turned into the dining nook, enlarging that enough so that the dining room, then might be used as a library, for the dining nook would be almost large enough for all meals to be taken in it. The kitchen is carefully planned for convenience in working.

Two large bedrooms, bath, closets and a dressing room occupy the second floor.

The size of the main building is 30 feet by 26; size over all, 39 feet by 38 feet 6 inches; cubage of house, 19,000 cubic feet; porch, 960, total cubage, 19,950 cubic feet.

Modern Suburb Will Relieve Michigan City Home Problem

Homestead Project To House 119 Families—Pay $22.50 To $27.50 Rentals

IRONWOOD, Mich., Nov. 7. — With the Ironwood Homestead project about completed, the Federal Government is checking over the records of applicants preparatory to selecting 119 families to make their homes on it.

The buildings are about ready for occupancy. A social center with auditorium and gymnasium remains to be constructed. Some of the houses need a few interior finishing touches. The grounds are being improved and the streets graded preparatory.

The homes in this suburban homestead project are modern from cellar to attic. The houses are two, three and four-bedroom structures. The apartment houses have been built to accommodate three and four families. Four central gardens, each within walking distance of the houses, have been arranged. The community centre, 55 by 142, will be centrally located. A public school for the children is located in North Ironwood.

In planning the project to relieve the housing shortage here and provide work for unemployed, the government originally intended to place each family's garden spot at the rear of the house. After the land was purchased, however, it was found that the best home building sites were not the best gardening spots. The sub-soil was underlaid with rock. So the government grouped the houses village-like on the rock foundations and established four central gardens on nearby tillable soil. To lay the sewer and water lines, it was necessary for workmen to cut trenches through rocks.

The government will select tenants who will make desirable neighbors. They will be permitted to occupy the homes for one year, at $22.50 to $27.50 a month. If both parties are satisfied, the sales will be effected and the first year's rentals will apply on the purchase price. Federal officials said no sale will be approved where the monthly payments are found to be burdensome upon the prospective purchaser, but the buyers will have 40 years in which to pay for the houses.

Cabinet Is Handy In The Bathroom

If you need extra room in the bathroom and have a small space which may be utilized, you can build a cabinet which is divided in three sections. A Home Improvement Plan modernization loan, obtainable from any Canadian bank may be used for this purpose.

The centre section, which is backed with a mirror, has a ledge that may be used as a dressing table. Side cabinets have glass shelves on which bath bottles, talcum and other accessories may be set out. Below the shelves are drawers for linen supplies.

Indirect lighting from the back of the cornice will eliminate annoying shadows on the mirror.

Oil Burners Are Designed To Provide More Heat

Heat Is Sustained Longer When Gasses Pass Around Jacket Heater

There is no "if" about winter coming in this country and when it does, Spring is still a long way off. The length and severity of our Canadian winter makes satisfactory heating a necessity. Modern heating equipment is so perfected in design as to ensure healthful heating comfort in any weather, points out the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating.

A significant improvement to provide sustained heat has been made in the design of oil combustion boilers. After the gasses from the burning oil rise to the top of the fire-box they are conducted downward through the flue passes into two horizontal completely water-jacketed passes at the bottom. And there is no escape from the gases while still hot, all the heat is absorbed by the water jackets. The heat is thus sustained longer, the steam dies down more gradually and the water requires less reheating when the oil burner starts up again.

In some types of oil burning boilers, there is a built-in indirect water heating system which heats the domestic water supply. In this type, the one fire heats both the house, and water for the family use. The installation of one of the new lacquered jacketed boilers, whether for oil burning, or any other type of fuel, ensures the home owner of dependable economical heating service, according to the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating.

The December meeting on the theme, "Christmas on our Mission Fields," will be in charge of Eleanor Gray, Muriel Fallen and Jeanette Macmorran. After the unmasking, refreshments were served by Mrs. Stanbury and her efficient committee.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in the usual black and orange of Hallowe'en tradition, making a suitable setting for the gay costumed party.

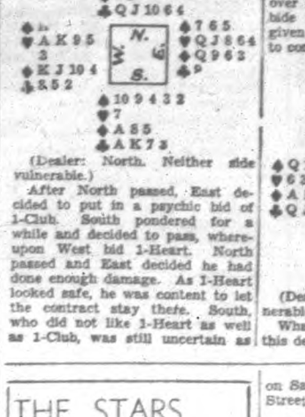
COVER BOTH CHANCES

SOME PLAYERS are easy prey for the psychic bidder. They let him get away with murder because they are unable to bid their own holdings so as to take care of both the possibility of the adverse bidding being sound and its being phoney. They are particularly befuddled if they happen to hold good cards in the suit named by the trickster.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

After North passed, East decided to put in a psychic bid of 1-Club. South pondered for a while and decided to pass, whereupon West bid 1-Heart. North passed and East decided he had done enough damage. As 1-Heart looked safe, he was content to let the contract stay there. South, who did not like 1-Heart as well as 1-Club, was still uncertain as to just what course to pursue, so passed.

West made 4-Hearts and argued that if his partner had allowed the bidding to take its natural course the game would have been bid.

East then pointed out that he did not agree with his partner, and that they should be content with what they had accomplished, for then North-South might have reached 4-Spades, which they should have had no difficulty in making.

South was the guilty party, as over the club bid he should have bid 1-Spade, which would have given North some encouragement to continue the bidding.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Sunday, November 7.

Sunday's horoscope, although holding testimony of active and worthy adventures in mystical, occult, cultural or literary pursuits, in other directions holds a menace of sinister, subtle and frustrating circumstances, with sudden disruptions, problems and other adverse situations. These should be met with calmness and discretion rather than tumult and impetuosity.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a rather lively year and in many ways, a progressive and satisfactory one. Nevertheless, there are frustrations, anxieties and sudden dilemmas to be handled with discretion and deliberation.

A child born on this day may have talent and energy, but may be easily discouraged, depressed and difficult. It may be restless and changeable if not properly directed.

For Monday, November 8.

Monday's astrological forecast is a most progressive and prosperous one, with auguries of sudden, high-powered and probably sensational developments. Abrupt and startling visitations or strenuous activities in the launching of new projects or in introducing innovations in employment are in order, but all lead to high satisfactions, exciting adventures and profitable conclusions.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a memorable year, with the sudden precipitation of events which will have an outstanding influence in fashioning the future fortunes. Many exciting and decisive activities are devoted to launching new and perhaps startling projects or to novel improvements in employment.

A child born on this day may have many unusual creative talents with heightened energies and faculties that may bring it success in employment or conspicuous places in the development of new, original and spectacular inventions or projects. Adventure, travel and romance mark its career.

Splendid Cough Remedy Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient remedy, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Canadian Town Badly Planned People No Longer Citizens

Main Street Became Barrier To Orderly Town Planning Art Club Is Told

"We have ceased to be citizens and have become merely inhabitants," said Professor Arthur, in speaking on "The Canadian Town," before the Lyceum Club and Women's Art Association, on Friday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. Green Room.

This, the second of a series of University Extension Lectures, delivered by Prof Arthur, of the School of Architecture, of the University of Toronto, was illustrated with exceptionally fine views of both Canadian and European types of two-planning.

In the absence of Mrs. F. E. Hooper, the president, through illness, Mrs. F. M. Somerville presided, and introduced the speaker in gracious words of welcome.

In making the announcement of activities of the association for the near future, Mrs. Somerville said that Professor Arthur would give his third lecture of the series here on December 3, when his subject would be "Domestic Architecture of Ontario." She also announced a meeting of the Art Study Club to be held on November 9, the Literary Study Club, November 12, and on the 19th and 20th an exhibition and sale of work by the Guild of Arts and Crafts.

Badly Planned

"The Canadian town is not something of which we can be very proud," said the speaker in opening his informative address, and continued by enumerating his reasons for this statement: 1st, The Canadian town is badly planned; and 2, It has no coherence in its architecture; but, he added, some towns are "beautiful naturally, in spite of the blunders of mankind. Every town has its "Main Street" which, at first, had a decent and respectable type of architecture, but to-day, it has become a barrier to orderly planning. Now, rugged individualism vies and clashes with the neighbor, until all sense of unity has disappeared.

Demonstrating his meaning by contrast, the lecturer showed a group of slides depicting unity in plan, first in an English town where the houses were all Georgian in style. Another view showed a very beautiful eighteenth century German town, where uniformity had been pursued almost to the point of monotony. Both, the English Paris, were cited as examples of perfect town-planning.

Become a Speedway

Main Street is no longer a place for leisurely shopping or social intercourse, but it has become a speedway. It is now a conglomeration of buildings at right angles for residential purposes.

Nearly every Canadian town is haunted by the bogey of isolation and seeks to have the main highway pass through its centre. Yet, in Germany, there are 4,500 miles of highway without a single town on it.

With the speed of modern travel, many tourists do not stop at the towns through which they pass, but there are various things that might make a town attractive to them, such as beauty of street, or modern building. An antique setting may also have its charm to the tourist trade which has become the second greatest industry in Canada.

On the other hand, most entrances to Canadian towns have been ruined by "hot-dog stands," bill-boards and so on, to accommodate the tourist. Professor Arthur deplored the Western entrance to Toronto, with its midway, and all its accompanying impressions. In contrast, he referred to the Roman entrance which reflected the dignity and beauty of their cities.

Emphasizing the importance of town planning the lecturer pointed out that the "checker-board" scheme used in Toronto has become a model for most Canadian towns. This plan was used only when time was precious and imagination had failed, and it is at its worst where there are hills and ravines. These should be a town's natural asset and town, known as the architect's dream, and the Rue de Rivoli in should have roads skirting them rather than at right angles.

Every town should make adequate provision for its civic buildings, which may have dignity if properly placed, nor are parks waste space for they might be termed the 'lungs' of the town.

People were once proud to live in a town, but with the rise of industry in the 19th century, the suburbia was created, being part city and part country. This is far from the ideal mode—we should conceive of a town as definite, fixed in population and area with a second town built to care for the surplus.

There followed a few examples of town plans including New Delhi,

LIPSTICK EVIDENCE.

Instead of sending to the laundry a white handkerchief with strange lipstick on it, a young man thoughtlessly drew it from his pocket in the presence of the young lady whose time he monopolizes. She noticed the color, different from hers, whether that has anything to do with the case, and commented about it. Somehow the youth talked himself out of the situation, vaguely blaming two friends.

FOR MOTHERS AND WIVES.

For mothers and wives of men who died in the war, tickets will be available at the Canadian Legion until Tuesday for the Remembrance Day assembly in the Capitol Theatre. This is a special accommodation for them. The speakers next Thursday will be Mayor Macdonald and the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Defence. The Legion parade will march off at 10 a.m. to the Cenotaph and City's Memorial, where the speakers will be Rev. (Captain) Geo. S. Easton and Rev. (Captain) P. J. Kelly.

GET A DAY AT KEMPTVILLE.

Peterborough County's junior farmer judging teams leave for the Kemptville Agricultural School on Sunday. They will spent all Monday there for a final brushing up on live stock and seed judging, and then go to Ottawa for the big competition on Tuesday and Wednesday. A win this year will be the third in succession and will bring the Ottawa Judging Trophy here permanently. The teams will be composed of Harold Donaldson, Gordon Stalker, Jim Moore, and Jim Hunter. Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions is accompanying them to supervise.

REMEMBRANCE DAY PARADE.

The South-end industrial end of the Remembrance Day parade on November 11 has been arranged. The Returned Men's Association of the Canadian General Electric Company will fall in at 9.30 a.m. at the gatehouse and move off at 9.35 a.m. The route of march will be to circle round the main office, then north on Rubidge St. to Charlotte St. to George St. to Murray St., where they will join up with the main parade of the Canadian Legion. The C.G.E contingent will be officered by R. E. Layfield, officer commanding, B. Ottewell, adjutant, and S. Calladine, sergeant-major, and E. G. Hardie marshal. There will be about 200 veterans, and in addition a band composed of veterans with a few junior members.

The veterans at the DeLaval Company will fall in at that factory and will join with the C.G.E. parade at the corner of Park and Rubidge Streets. The DeLaval veterans will be in command of G. H. Cutmore and some 50 or 60 veterans will be in the parade.

FRIDAY NIGHT CLUB.

At their usual weekly meeting the Friday Night Supper Club elected officers for the coming year. After the usual hearty meal, a piano duet was given by Martin B. Chenhall and Charles Shaw. The usual two songs were sung with much force and plenty of volume by the club. The serious business of electing officers for the coming year was then started, scrutineers were Pete Gordon, Toby Westbye, and Jack Gray. For the position of vice-chairman, Grant Gillespie succeeds Jack Richardson. Max Comstock was elected for the position of secretary-treasurer, and committee chairmen are: Carl Banks, Bob Maybee, Jack Coupet, Cliff Vincent, and Jack McKone. During the counting of the ballots other business was discussed, various things being talked over, among them being a week-end trip to Toronto to attend Denton Massey's services. The financial statement for the past year was distributed among the members, which proved to be satisfactory, thanks to the club auditors, Carl Banks and Jack McKone. Chairman Charles Shaw closed the meeting with the club reading the Creed.

with its interesting pattern, showing unexpected vistas of fine buildings. One of the most remarkable plans in the world was that prepared by Sir Christopher Wren for London after the great fire.

Why, then, has the town proper become so abhorrent. In the first place street architecture is no longer worthy of the name. We have some uniformity but not unity. (For example, he declared, Avenue Road, Toronto, "a history of architecture" with every house a different type). Then again, street signs nullify each other and make street architecture impossible. We also continue to tolerate hydro poles, while an aroused public opinoin would enforce underground wiring such as they have in Europe.

"What we need to improve the Canadian town," said Prof. Arthur, in closing, "is to develop the idea of a "house-proud" woman to include a street, and finally, a town proud citizen."

At the conclusion of Professor Arthurs enlightening address, the sincere appreciation of the Association was voiced by Mrs. Somerville, who said that the members and friends might have the pleasure of meeting him while they enjoyed a cup of tea in the library.

The lace covered table, with its attractive centre of low white pottery, bowls holding rose baby 'mums, was presided over by Mesdames J. H. Seels and B. V. Moore, assisted in the service of refreshments by several of the ladies.

Toronto Girl Regains Father Last Seen 17 Years Ago

Divorce Court Separates Paths But Two Meet In Peterborough

Seventeen years ago a small home was broken up in a United States city.

The droning pronouncement of a Divorce Court judge permitted a man and wife to go their separate ways.

A kindly family adopted the third member of the riven family—a four-year-old girl.

Passing of the years did not cause the child to forget her father. She set up a home for herself in Toronto, where her young husband is working. All the time, however, she retained her determination to see, once again, the father she barely remembered.

While still in her 'teens she instituted a search for him. She had no knowledge of where he had gone following the divorce. A professional detective would have been baffled by the lack of clues, but this determined young lady refused to be discouraged.

Even the fact that her father's name is "Brown"—and there are hundreds of thousands of that name on this continent—was not enough to cause her to lose heart. In recent years she has visited city after city in Ontario, tracing down meagre leads to failure at their end.

Finally her search turned to the eastern section. A policeman at Belleville is named Brown. He is not the man she was seeking, but through him she learned of Orval Brown, a miner living near the head of Stoney Lake.

Yesterday, in a Peterborough home, the miner and the girl met, to end the separation of 17 years between father and daughter.

FOUR DWELLINGS BEING ERECTED

Partly the result of the increasingly serious housing shortage in Peterborough and also the result of better times is an activity in house building unusual for late Fall here at the present time. Since November 1, permits for construction of four dwellings have been issued.

On Reid street, between London and Dublin, George Rutherford is building for himself a $2,000 bungalow. P. Latchford is building an $1,800 bungalow on Aylmer street north, the owner to be Philip Johnston. For himself Mr. Latchford is to construct a bungalow at 213 Prince street, cost estimated at $2,200. A one-story home for Andrew Jackson is to be put up at a cost of $3,500 on Aylmer street north.

T. A. Brown Company has charge of a contract for refinishing the attic in the home of James Heffernan, 640 Reid street, at a cost of $1,200.

WM. PERKINS BULL TO ADDRESS CLUB

William Perkins Bull, K.C., of Toronto, noted financier, philanthropist and historian, is to address the Friday Night Supper Club in this city on November 12, it was announced to-day. He will discuss "the vicissitudes, amusing and otherwise of an historian's working day."

Mr. Perkins won public attention first as a barrister practising in Toronto and later in finance and commerce in Canada and Britain. His name became widely known through the Empire in pre-war days. He entered his career as a historical writer by doing a brief history of his native county, Peel, for his own amusement, and extending his writings to the entire Perkins Bull Historical Series, seven or eight volumes of which have already appeared.

F. D. Kerr, K.C., will introduce Mr. Bull to his local audience.

Meat Prices Are Lower On Market

The tendency toward lower prices in meats was reflected on the Farmers' Market to-day when prices eased off. As compared with prices of 15 and 17 cents a pound for pork quarters several weeks ago, the quarters could be bought as low as 11 and 13 cents this morning. Some farmers asked 13 and 15 cents for their meat.

Butter was 28 to 30 cents a pound and eggs ranged between 35 and 42 cents a dozen. Chickens were 15 to 22 cents, turkeys 28 cents, and ducks 25 cents a pound. Potatoes sold unchanged at 75 cents a bag.

First Concert Of Season Is Presented By Orchestra

Electric Organ Also Heard At Philharmonic Orchestra's Concert

In their first concert of the season Peterboro's philharmonic orchestra delighted an audience that almost filled the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute Friday night. Their program rekindled the splendid impressions they made a year ago, won fresh appreciation of their fine effort to develop and establish orchestral art in this city and encourage the hope that they will advance immediately and substantially during the approaching winter.

The program opened with the overture to Weber's "Oberon," followed by the Coriolanus overture by Beethoven, Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette," the andante cantabile movement from the string quartette, opus 11 by Tschaikowsky, selections from Victor Herbert's comic opera "Sweethearts" and "Pomp and Circumstance" by Sir Edward Elgar.

The conductor, W. Harry Prevey, and his associates deserve unstinted commendation for the progress they have already accomplished, and if Peterborough could provide as many more musicians, bringing the instrumental strength to fifty or sixty, the improvement of the orchestra would be greatly accelerated. The essential phantasy of the Oberon overture was evoked with flowing and graceful movement that embodied the refinement and airiness and elfin gaiety of the opera. The strings were exceptionally persuasive with a light and merry sweep, but occasionall asserviveness somewhere in the brasses tended at times to detract from the poetic illusion. The Coriolanus overture was probably the orchestra's outstanding number. Its melodic theme first sung by the strings was taken up by the reeds and brass in succession with smoothness and precision, and the account of the Tschaikowsky andate was deeply sympathetic and satisfying. The other numbers rounded out a very entertaining program, and a novelty of a solo part in "Pomp and Circumstance," the melody of the familiar "Land of Hope and Glory" played on a Northern Hammond organ by William McMullen.

A demonstration of this new type of organ, employing electrical impulses instead of the ancient wind pipes, provided an interesting interlude. Signor Guiseppe Moschetti, who recently came to Canada from Florence, Italy, played the toccata and fugue in D minor by Bach, followed by DeBussy, Martini and a composition of his own. It is understood that he has played this type of organ only since his arrival in Canada, and possibly he has not acquired the confidence in its possibilities which his obvious musicianship suggested of hat his Bach would probably have been from the old standard instruments. For the most part it was an exceptionally delicate tone, almost gossamer, as compared with the vigor recalled from other recitals on wind organs. Having heard Signor Moschetti about a month ago playing a piano that has seen too much service, it may be remarked that the audience last night received only a hint of his ability. The Northern Hammond organ is still new to him, even as it was an entire novelty to most of the audience, and while his work bore the stamp of the sound artist it was manifestly reserved by the unusual circumstances. The pianissimos of his Debussy number seemed to be a notable feature of the new organ so finely drawn were they.

After the concert W. Edwards of Heintzman and Company gave a more practical demonstration of the organ, explaining its mechanism, its range of couplers, synonmous with color in the various instruments that are controlled from the keyboard of two manuals, its volume, and also what might be called its stunt possibilities, illustrated by a realistic imitation of the striking of the bell of "Big Ben" in London. It is designed not only for churches but also for theatres and homes, with a beauty of tone that explained the acceptance of this organ as a new instrument of which a great many are already in use.

Telephone Pole Is Snapped By Car

When he swerved to avoid colliding with an unidentified car which did not stop, Sherman Kellett, 149 Hart Avenue, on Friday night crashed his automobile into a telephone pole at the south-west corner of Park and King Streets. The pole was snapped off four feet from the base and a mail box attached to the pole was broken. While the driver of the car escaped injury, the vehicle was badly damaged. The right rear wheel was torn off and the right side of the body was crumpled. City police investigated and reported the accident to postal and telephone officials.

Microphotography Space Saver In Newspaper File Rooms

Tiny Films Good For 500 Years Will Preserve Papers Page By Page

TORONTO, Nov. 6—(CP). — Instead of keeping weighty, bulk files of their old paper, newspaper offices may soon take a photographic record that can be stored away in little space, using apparatus on display at the National Book Fair here.

Known as microphotography, the process was described by Chairman Hugh Eayrs as the fair opened under auspices of the association of Canadian bookmen last night. He said Toronto public library already has a photographic record on tiny 35m. film of 197 books of historic interest and suggested further use of the apparatus.

Within four years Toronto library will have a facsimile of every book printed in English up to 1550, while Toronto's own great collection of Canadiana will be made available to libraries the world over. Eayrs predicted the process would revolutionize reference library operation.

Tiny photographic records might be made of newspapers, page by page, the film stored away in small, ticketed boxes. While newsprint breaks down within 75 years, microfilm might be preserved at least 500 years. Projection machines readily reproduce the pages and editors won't have to worry about their files being clipped.

THAMES ESTUARY 'RAID' BEATEN OFF

LONDON, Nov. 6—(CP Havas). — Attacking 'enemy' planes were beaten back from the Thames estuary early today in manoeuvres designed to test military defences against air raids.

"Air attacks present no very real danger when the civilian populace are well organized," Admiral Sir Edward Evans, who directed the defence operations, said later. "On the other hand, if they are not trained, the danger can be terrible."

Screeching sirens first sounded the alarm, with the "enemy" squadron driving toward the Thames from Marston. The villages of Gravesend, Chatham, Tilbury and Gillingham were completely "black out" within 12 minutes, with volunteer crews standing by for emergency rescue duty.

Powerful searchlights stabbed through the night, helping the judges to decide the "raid" had failed to reach its goal. Ground tactics were followed as though the attackers' "bombs" had found their mark, however. Several condemned cottages were set afire, with other rescue workers swinging into action in zones designated as having been "gassed."

The mock raid was judged a complete success, as having shown the adequacy of both active and passive defence measures.

FOUR VILLAGES FALL

SHANGHAI, Nov. 6 — (AP). — Japanese troops, in a surprise attack, to-day drove Chinese defenders from four villages on the south bank of Soochow Creek.

The action, the first decisive engagement in the Shanghai fighting since Chinese troops evacuated Chapei last week, enabled the Japanese to move 3,000 men across the creek on a line two miles west of Rubicon Village.

John Milminster, who died in New Zealand at 101, never smoked or drank.

USING MORE IMPLEMENTS

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today Canada's September imports of farm implements and machinery was worth $1,738,849, a large increase over the $800,532 worth in September, 1936. During the first six months of the present fiscal year imports were valued at $10,799,275 against $6,081,169 in the same period the previous fiscal year.

RUM CRAFT MAKES DEAL ON SALVAGE GIVES UP DREDGE

HALIFAX, Nov. 7—(CP). — The recalcitrant dredge foundation Scarboro was in tow for the third time within a week today, as the Canadian government steamer Lady Laurier battled heavy seas in an attempt to get her to Scaterl, N.S.

Meanwhile, the tugs foundation Franklin and Bansurf were running toward Canso, N.S., under forced draft. From there they were expected to set out to find the Lady Laurier and relieve her of the tow. The two wireless-equipped tugs will have an easier time than did the Banscot, which tried a needle-in-the-haystack search for the dredge without benefit of wireless guidance after the Foundation Scarboro broke away from her Saturday night.

The Lady Laurier arrived alongside the dredge and the lean-hulled motor-ship Florann early yesterday, but it was not until late in the afternoon that she got hawsers aboard the drifting dredge—not until legal representatives of the Foundation Maritime Company, owners of the dredge, and representatives of the owners of the Florann had reached a temporary agreement over salvage charges.

Claim Is Recognized

Claim of the captain of the Florann—reported to be a rum-runner with a full cargo of illicit liquor—was that, with two of his men aboard the dredge, and two of the dredge's crew aboard the Florann salvage rules gave him the right to make every effort to save the dredge unassisted. The Lady Laurier recognized the claim and awaited permission to put a line aboard the Foundation Scarboro.

Captain of the Florann had hoped to hold his tow until relieved by the Lunenburg motorship Ross Norman. Since Tuesday the Royal Canadian Mounted Police cutter Macdonald had been standing by the dredge and the Florann, presumably to make sure the motorship did not venture inside the three-mile limit if she was a rum-runner.

The Florann gave up her prize after it was decided the exact amount of salvage to be paid to her would be decided later, with access to an appeal to admiralty court in case of a deadlock.

LONDON HONORS BALDWIN

LONDON, Nov. 6—(CP Cable)—In stately pomp and pageantry, the City of London today paid tribute to Earl Baldwin for his many years of public service to the Empire.

The former Prime Minister was presented with a gold caskes, containing an address, illuminated on parchment.

Richly robed in gold and black, the Lord Mayor, Sir George Broadbridge, recalled Lord Baldwin's "eminent service to the country and Empire."

MAYOR-ELECT HOLLING

FRANCO, LOYALISTS ASKED TO APPROVE VOLUNTEER PLAN

LONDON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Great Britain sent notes to the Spanish Government and to the insurgent regime to-day, asking approval of a new non-intervention committee plan for withdrawing foreign soldiers from the Civil War.

Telegrams were sent to the British Charge d'Affaires at Valencia for Spanish Government authorities, and to the British Ambassador at Hendaye for delivery to General Franco.

Apparently marking the first genuine progress after months of wrangling and deadlock, the impending move seemed to find the non-intervention delegates rather apathetic.

Some were encouraged but pointed to many difficulties to be overcome before the thousands of foreign soldiers on both sides could be cleared out. Others held the view it was "a case of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen," meaning the non-intervention Powers were still far from agreement on the full scope of the British neutrality plan. Soviet Russian, while accepting the British resolution detailing the withdrawal scheme, yesterday reserved her stand on the granting of belligerent rights.

While waiting for the Salamanca and Valencia regimes in Spain to reply to the Foreign Office inquiry, the nine-nation non-intervention sub-committee will work to set up machinery for the evacuation.

BOOK FAIR BRINGS CANADIAN WRITERS BEFORE THE PUBLIC

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (CP)—The Association of Canadian Bookmen, termed by Dr. Pelham Edgar in his presidential address "a combination of merchants, authors, librarians and readers," opened to the public today its second national book fair at which the authors of the year's "best sellers" were on parade.

The fair was officially opened last night by Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor Herbert A. Bruce at a banquet attended by outstanding Canadian, United States and British authors and poets, dignitaries of church and state and prominent civic officials. A private preview followed. The public was admitted today.

"We have more American books than the English, more English books than the Americans and more Canadian books than either," said Dr. Edgar. "It would be difficult to discover another body of men and women devoting such unnumbered hours to the service of an idea. We feel the idea to be well worth any sacrifice we make. If it fails we have nothing to be ashamed of. If it succeeds, we shall have our reward."

Some Of The Big Names

Through the fair's doorway, the covers of a 10-foot-high book, will pass during the eight-day showing of some of the big names in literature. The exhibits include in addition to the year's best books rare manuscripts, sketches and first editions. Three-hundred publishers are represented.

Morley Callaghan, Canadian author, was scheduled to address the fair today on "This Freedom." Prof. C. B. Sissons of Toronto, who wrote the biography "Egerton Ryerson," will speak tonight on "The Rebellion in Upper Canada."

Among noted authors in attendance are Victoria's Nellie McClung, author of "More Leaves from Lantern Lane." She said she expects "to be around almost all the week." Also on hand is Kathleen Strange of Winnipeg. Her "Modern Pioneer," a story of life on a Western farm, won for her a $1,000 authors' prize in 1936.

Others scheduled to address the Fair include: Carl Crow, who wrote "400 Million Customers"; Sheleon Cheney, author of "A History of Art"; Gregory Clark, author of "So What?" Rev. Fraser Smith, who penned "Life's Waking Part"; Bertram Brooker, "Think of The Earth", and Elizabeth Foreman Lewis, "China Quest."

Vast As Life Itself

"Books are as vast as life itself," said Dr. Bruce, in declaring the Fair officially open. "Books are a part of all our lives, even the lives of those who only read the daily newspapers. If an epidemic of book worms, real worms, I mean, swept this world, destroying printed books at one stroke, the primeval dark days would be upon us again."

Prof. J. F. MacDonald, University of Toronto said Canada's literary future lay in her prose rather than her poetry. For her prose was better than her poetry, which was noted, he said, for its "prettiness" rather than its "power." It would be for its power rather than its prettiness that Canada would gain distinction in prose.

Many now writing poetry should confine themselves to prose, said Prof. MacDonald. "There is no excuse for any one writing poetry if he possibly can keep from writing it," he added. "Some unfortunately cannot, but they would be well advised, once having written it, to refrain from inflicting it on a long-suffering public."

B.C. PLANS CONTROL STOCK PROMOTION

VICTORIA, Nov. 6—(CP)—British Columbia Legislature members were concerned today with study of measures for control over stock promotion and security trading, the Liberal government's new trade and industry bill and possibilities of training young men in practical mining.

Amendments to the Securities Act are designed to maintain public confidence in the investment market, Attorney-General Gordon Wisher said yesterday in announcing the legislation had been drafted.

An important amendment would force companies to advise the securities branch of financial set-up changes or developments such as failure to strike expected ore bodies.

Other provisions would prevent canvassing of residents; provide a maximum penalty of $25,000 fine and six months imprisonment for fraudulent practice; prevent advertising for investments of capital by promises of establishing a working company; require investment counsel to register as brokers and assume full responsibility.

Published information of mining company promotion would be required to name the person giving the information; brokerages houses would be required to submit to government audit or examination at any time.

Lad 4, Lost Overnight While After Cows Found Fast Asleep On Log

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 6 FAST asleep on a log, four-year-old Jackie Hagen was found by searchers today after he was lost in the bush of Rankin location, east of this city, since yesterday afternoon.

The boy had gone with his father and mother to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sproule, settlers on the location. He became lost while following his uncle when he went into the bush to search for his cows.

The lad was none the worse for his experience, but red swollen eyes showed he had cried himself to sleep. It was a mild night and his warm clothing saved him from suffering from exposure.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD
For New Pep and Energy

So Bad With Nerves Would Lie Down and Cry

It is generally admitted that nerve troubles are more frequent than formerly and growing more so every day.

Wherever there are people whose health is poor, and their nerves shattered, they will find in Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills a tonic that will help to restore the deranged centres, and bring the nervous system back to its old time condition.

Mrs. K. M. Harvey, Bramber, N.S., writes:—"I got so bad with my nerves I would lie down on the bed and cry. Most of the time it just seemed I could not help it and would not know what I was crying for. I used to feel as if I would go crazy I was so bad.

I tried several different medicines, but received no relief. I then took Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, four boxes of them, and started to feel better after the first few doses. Now I feel better in every way."

BALL SCOUT'S JOB IS NO SOFT POST BUSY YEAR ROUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—To the average baseball fan, a major league scout is a mysterious individual who goes gum-shoeing around the country, taking in an occasional ball game, an unlimited expense account and loafing at full pay through the winter.

Let Paul Kritchell give you the McCoy on a scout's job. Paul should know for he has been scouting for the Yanks for the last 18 years.

"To begin with," says Paul, "no one scout can say he discovered a ball player. You can bet that at least two, and perhaps more scouts have passed on a player's ability. This is particularly true if the youngster is a high-priced minor leaguer. You don't suppose that a major league club is going to hand over maybe $50,000 on one man's say so, do you?

"I can't say that I ever discovered anybody but I've had a hand in putting the okay on many a star. Fellows like Lou (Columbia) Gehrig, Red (Dartmouth) Rolfe, Russ (Penn State) Van Atta, Buddy (Manhattan) Hassett, Johnny (Fordham) Murphy, Bill (Duke) Werber, Johnny (Yale) Broaca, and George (N.Y.U.) Davis.

"I've also had a hand in commending minor leaguers like Tony Lazzeri, Leo Durocher, Mark Koenig and scores of others.

Collegians Cost Little

"Most of the collegians cost us absolutely nothing and we never had a high priced minor leaguer who was an absolute failure. Probably the biggest disappointment we ever had was Dusty Cooke.

"In the course of the summer we comb the country. And let me assure you. No outstanding player in the country escapes notice. I don't care how small the town he plays in, if he has any class we are sure to hear about him. Why, say, I've been in hundreds of towns you won't find on any railroad map looking for players.

"One of the thousands we see and hear about every year probably not more than 50 are found to be worth a trial even with a class D minor league club. But those we do pick always have enough class to stick.

"Nowadays we pick up about as many collegians as we do sand lotters and they develop about equally well. Tony Lazzeri was a sand lotter; Lou Gehrig a collegian.

Works During Winter

"Strangely enough a scout puts in his longest hours, does his hardest work and makes most of his deals in the winter time. It's an all the year round job.

"It was in an off-season deal that I got Kemp Wicker, the Yankee left hander who was such a good winner for us this year. Kemp cost us exactly two cigars and a couple of drinks!

"Wicker was with Charleroi in the Middle Atlantic league when the club blew up. We had a club in that league at Cumberland, Elmer Daley, president of the league wanted to put Wicker somewhere on our list.

"So I said: 'Why not be a good fellow and just hand him to us?' Well, we discussed the matter over a couple of drinks and cigars and finally he agreed and that's the way we got Wicker."

Seabiscuit Regains Money 'Win' Title

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6 (AP).—Seabiscuit, C. S. Howard's big bay colt, captured the Golden Crown of the United States turf for 1937 Friday by winning the $10,000 Riggs Handicap at Pimlico in record time.

The triumph, cheered by 11,000 spectators, sent Seabiscuit's earnings for the year to $167,142, outshining War Admiral's $165,500 in their duel of dollars. The rivalry was confined to the cash registers, a heralded race between the two champions failing to develop.

Seabiscuit raced the 1 3-16 miles in 1:57 2-5, three-fifths of a second faster than the track record shared by Gallant Knight and Dark Hope. The 4-year-old handicap king, top-weighted under 130 pounds, paid $2.80, $2.30 and $2.80 to his mutuel backers.

Sets Air Record

Frank W. Fuller (ABOVE), San Francisco speed flier, who set a new three-nation 1,208-mile record when he flew from Vancouver, B.C. to Agua Caliente, Mexico, in four hours and 54 minutes. Former record was held by Earl Ortman, of Los Angeles, which he set in 1935. Fuller flew a low-wing monoplane which had a top speed of more than 300 miles an hour.

Maple Leafs And Red Wings Play To 2-2 Tie In N.H.L. Opener

Before a crowd of close to 10,000 enthusiastic hockey fans, the Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings, opened the 1937-38 edition of the National Hockey League season in Toronto. The Leafs had the edge, as far as goals went, on the Stanley Cup holders until the last few seconds of the game when Marty Barry, star pivot man of the Aurie-Barry-Lewis line, scored on a fluke shot from outside the Leafs' blue line. The action photo here shows the end of a Toronto rush with the Red Wings clearing the puck out of their defence zone. The players in the picture are Gordon Drillon, No. 12, of Toronto; Marty Barry, No. 7; Doug Young, No. 2; Bucko McDonald, No. 3 and Johnny Sorrell, No. 10, all Red Wing players. Normie Smith, Detroit goalie, can be seen lying on the ice far out from his net. The game ended in a 2-2 tie after overtime.

CLANCY PROMISES WIDE-OPEN HOCKEY TO MONTREAL FANS

MONTREAL, Nov. 6 — (CP). — Three of hockey's most discussed clubs will march to the National League front during the week-end for their first tests under fire in the new season. It's the last week-end for a long time in which no team will be called on to play twice.

Because they are revivified forces, Montreal Maroons, Boston Bruins and New York Rangers have provoked hot debate among those who would predict the league's finish before the start. Maroons have a new coach, King Clancy, and Bruins and Rangers are bolstered by ambitious youngsters.

After the two nights' skirmishings, the schedule will swing along faster and next week-end Montreal Canadiens, Chicago, Detroit and Boston all will play both at home and on the road; the Canadiens, entertaining Chicago Tuesday, will be the last to open their season.

Bruins After Revenge

Boston will go after revenge from the start at Montreal to-night, for the Maroons knocked them from the first-round of playoffs last Spring. But Clancy has promised wide-open hockey and lots of blue-line bumping as the Bruins open Montreal's season for the third straight year.

The night's other game pits Red Dutton's rebuilt New York Americans against Maple Leafs at Toronto. To-morrow Rangers will begin their battling the hard way, taking on the Red Wings at Detroit, where Jack Adams' great team beat them for the world title in the Spring.

Either Amerks or the Leafs will be leading the Canadian section after to-morrow's encounters, for Dutton's punchers whipped Chicago as the season began Thursday and Toronto earned a point by drawing with Detroit. Red Wings have a chance to knock the rest of the United States division pack away from their heels by beating Rangers.

Bears' New Boss

Johnny Neun was once the star of the Boston Braves during his major league career. And one of the better first suckers of the American league. Johnny moves into the manager's berth of the Newark Bears, left vacant by Oscar Vitt when appointed pilot of Cleveland Indians recently. Johnny, who is pictured here in a Boston uniform, once made an unassisted triple play while with the Detroit Tigers in 1927.

IMPERIALS LIKELY TO ANNEX SEVENTH O.R.F.U GROUP TITLE

SARNIA, Ont., Nov. 6 (CP)—A lot of people will think they're watching the best football player in eastern Canada today when Hugh J. (Bummer) Stirling puts foot to ball and stars Sarnia Imperials on another leg—and an easy one—of their gridiron title race.

When Stirling and the Imperials are through this afternoon they will almost certainly have beaten Hamilton Panthers and won the Ontario Rugby Football Union championship for the seventh straight time. The Panthers, young and inexperienced and so far this season without a victory, probably won't have much to say about it.

Stirling, unless he breaks a limb, will do the talking with his right foot, his right arm and the 215-pound armoured body that smashes through winglines opposing Sarnia. If he does these things as he has for years, the crowd will be justified in thinking it's watching the ranking back in these parts.

The Bummer, a rangy young fellow weighing 176 pounds when he came here nine years ago from St. Thomas, celebrated his 30th birthday the other day without looking back over the record. It doesn't interest him particularly. At the moment his sole interest lies in helping Imperials win the Canadian championship for the third time in four years.

Impressive Record

In nine seasons of championship play Stirling has punted 127 single points, kicked 10 field goals and converted 32 touchdowns. He has crossed opposing goal lines himself for 19 touchdowns.

He punts higher and farther than any other Canadian back. A kick that soars 60 yards and rolls another 20 is not uncommon when the kicker is Stirling. He is a deadly accurate place-kicker but did little of it for years because Sarnia's quarterback, Alex Hayes, was a drop-kick expert. At 210 pounds the Bummer is a better plunger than an end runner, a better forward passer than receiver. Just to keep his hand in he ran back Ottawa's opening kickoff 50 yards last December in the eastern final at Toronto. In other words, he's everything a football player should be.

When Ottawa threatened to snatch away Sarnia's hard-won triumph in that game, Stirling twice laced 65-yard punts out of his end zone. That's the kind of kicker he is under pressure.

Best On Forwards

Sarnia's forward pass attack is reputed to be the best in the east and Stirling does a major part of the throwing. The Bummer and ponderous Ormond Beach, with a supporting cast including Arnie McWatters and Bernie Morcx, form perhaps the best plunging corps in the sector.

He's 30, the Bummer, and the end isn't in sight. He doesn't talk of retiring. Barring injuries, and he hasn't been badly hurt since 1932, he will go on "for a few seasons yet, I guess."

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

FOR THE past several years we have been selecting an all-star Central Ontario grid team. A mythical squad of players picked from the O.R.F.U. intermediate clubs of this section...Two or three of the stars of each team. And our choices generally met with the approval of clubs and sports writers of this neck of the timber. Alas, we can make no such selection this semester, and it pains us more than it does you—oh, much more! And why can't we? Well, on account of we didn't see the fourth team in our group in action this autumn. We saw plenty of the Orfuns, also gave the Cobourg crew a gander, and watched Lindsay Blue Bombers in two tilts. But Toronto Eastsides didn't play here at all, both their games being postponed—for infantile paralysis and for rain!—here and never being run off later.

* * * * * * *

IT IS quite possible that the Eastsides, who had a win each over Lindsay and Cobourg, would have supplied a player or two to our mythical lineup. Maybe three or four. So it would be simply screwy to try to make an all-star selection from three clubs and leave out one team. Thus, we must muff this grand opportunity of giving credit to the better rugbyists, and also of maybe starting a few sizzling arguments. It is doggone unfair, and we feel quite strongly on the matter. But most definitely.

* * * * * * *

IN FACT, we believe in naming a few of the outstanding footballers in this group, regardless. You can't possibly overlook Graham Meikle of the Galloping Ghosts. He'd rate a spot in any all-star intermediate rugby backfield. On his kicking alone. Jacobs of the same club would pretty nearly earn an all-star rating, too. And the Ghosts had one or two others about as good. As for the Blue Bombers, we wouldn't leave Wakelin or Campbell off. Nor Mike Loucks or Don Crowe of the Orfuns. Sure, that means too many backfielders, but what can one do? We like Marsh at flying wing, Hendren at snap and Archibald at quarter—all locals, yessir. And there are a few darned good local linemen left that might be mentioned as well. But you can't pick a whole team from one outfit in the group—even if that squad did win the group title. So maybe it is just as well we aren't faced with the tough task of picking an all-Central Ontario team this year. Strictly speaking, it wouldn't be representative of Central Ontario, since both the Trenton Fliers and Belleville Panthers come into this class.

* * * * * * *

QUITE A bunch of the Orfuns deserve credit—quite apart from any mention for a mythical all-star squad. Pulkinghorn plays a fine game in the line. So does Spencely. Joe Begley has been going good lately. Kearns has turned in two or three bangup performances. Mick Magee was out early with a serious injury. Chaps like Sloan, Cameron, McIntyre and others, are in there game after game sloughing their opponents and opening holes for the local backfielders—and getting little general credit. As Grantland Rice put it: "It seems to be the way of life, no matter what you do—someone has to knock 'em down, to let the hero through!" And what coach is the pick of this group? Yeah, that's right, Bill Turnbull of the Orfuns. No argument.

* * * * * * *

IN LINE with our recent remarks regarding a swell guy, Walter Gerow of Napanee—most popular pilot in the C.O.B.L.—the Quinte columnist comes to bat with a few points concerning Walter. He says the latter has the doubtful distinction of being the only player ever fined in the Central League. It happened 'way back about 1920 in Lindsay, when Walt was playing first for the Nationals, and that club was handing Manager Tony Backgeorge's Greybirds a pasting. But let Ken Colling tell it:

* * * * * * *

"THE NATS were far in the lead in the latter innings when, with a runner on first, Walt Gerow stepped to the plate and laid down a perfect bunt attempting to advance the runner. But instead of running to first as would be expected, Walter lit out for third base. The Lindsay pitcher fielded the ball and, seeing Gerow streaking for third, became excited and threw to third base instead of first. The base-runner continued to second safely but, at this point, Umpire Alex Kay stepped into the picture and called Gerow out for buffoonery, and tacked a five-dollar fine on Walter for good measure! The fine was subsequently paid by the club." Walter was always in there thinking.

A FAIRISH sort of crowd saw the merry matmen commit mayhem at the Brock St. arena last gloaming in a return of the pro rasslers. A pretty fair three-bout card was staged, that main event being a pip. It had the fans and fannettes working their tonsils overtime and nearly everyone in the place came to his or her feet when the huskies took their bout right over the ropes and continued it on the floor, with ye referee somewhere in the middle of it! "The Great" Balbo and Tuffy Cleete staged a dandy show in this one, with the former being a bit tuffer than Tuffy to win out. Tony Bommarito was right nasty in the semi-final and finally earned a draw with the popular Dick Merrill. In the prelim—staged last, owing to car trouble by the guys scheduled to mix it, Bucky Harris won from Nick Barnes in right rapid time.

* * * * * * *

ON THE whole, it was a pretty fair show. As an indication of the interest, no one left the arena after the main melee was over—everyone sticking to the end to see the prelims doing their belated stuff. Promoter Bob Morley explained why this prelim was changed around, and promised to put on another mat program here within a couple of weeks. And the rasslin' fans gave him a big hand. The crowd was nothing to rave about—maybe 200 or a bit over—but they made plenty of noise in spots. And the usual grappling wisecracks. As one gee hopped on his rival, someone yodelled: "Buck Benny rides again!" And once, as the maulers mixed in silence, a foghorn-voiced fan roared: "All quiet on the Western Front!" and so on. Yeah, it's a great game, this pro rasslin', and if you don't get a thrill out of the hero and the villain meeting in deadly combat, you get a lot of chuckles out of the trickery used by the grapplers.

PRO GOLF STARS CHASE $175,000 TO CLOSE SEASON

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—With their pockets bulging from prize money doled out lavishly in the best "pay-off" summer season ever enjoyed in American professional golf history, the mercenaries of the mashie and niblic army are sharpening their weapons for a campaign in the palm-tree circuit that is expected to shove the total winnings for 1937 to upwards of $175,000.

Led by Ralph Guldahl, United States open and defending champion, the fairway troops will unlimber their siege guns at Miami in the winter classic sponsored by Col. Henry L. Doherty, president of the Florida Year-Round club—the annual Miami Biltmore $10,000 open tournament which will be fought this year on Dec. 10-13.

On the basis of the scores in the summer loop, Harry Cooper—Canadian open winner—will be among the leaders of the opposition when the firing begins in Miami, with the front line trenches also occupied by Byron Nelson, who copped the Belmont open title; Sam Snead, the new sensation of 1937, and Denny Shute, P.G.A. champion and host pro.

After the Miami engagement, the fortunes of war will take the crack shots through California, Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and back to Florida, where the international four-ball championship is on the calendar for March. The winter campaign will close with the Masters' open at Augusta and the Pinehurst annual north and south battle.

While golf's widely-scattered forces are mobilizing for the major engagement at Miami, the eastern division will meet in a preliminary skirmish on Nov. 16 at Pinehurst. The books show a four-day schedule at the North Carolina links, with a 4-ball combat and the 36-hole mid-south open.

According to Fred Corcoran, the Professional Golfers' association tournament bureau manager, the prize money loot in the winter campaign is expected to total upwards of $90,000. The tentative schedule shows there is $8,000 waiting to be divided up in the Los Angeles open, Jan. 7-10; $3,000 in the Pasadena open, Jan. 21-23; a similar amount at the open in Oakland, Jan. 28-30; another $3,000 on Feb. 4-6 in the Sacramento open; $5,000 in the San Francisco match-play open, Feb. 11-13, and $3,000 offered by Bing Crosby in Hollywood Feb. 19-20.

On their way back from the Pacific coast campaign, the warriors of the green will pick up some more cash in tournaments to be staged in Houston, New Orleans, Thomasville, Ga., and Hollywood, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville and Belleair, Fla., assuring a tournament worth $3,000 or more every week-end from the Miami Biltmore classic in December to mid-April.

Remember When—

(By the Canadian Press).

Happy Jack Chesbro, one of baseball's top-rating spitball pitchers, died at Conway, Mass., six years ago today. He led National League twirlers in 1901 and 1902 while with Pittsburg, and in 1904 with New York Yankees hung up an all-time record for games won with 41.

RICHARDSON TO BIRDS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6 (AP).—General Manager Jack Ogden, of Baltimore Orioles of the International League, announced yesterday the purchase of Nolen Richardson, veteran Newark shortstop, and acquisition of Infielder Eugene (Huck) Geary from Buffalo Bisons.

Ogden sold Outfielder Woodley Abernathy to the Bisons for cash and Geary. Richardson has a lifetime batting average of .281 and is a timely hitter.

LIGHT PROGRAM AT INTERCOUNTY LEAGUE MEETING

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 6 (CP).—When Intercounty Baseball Association officials and team representatives gather at Hespeler next Wednesday afternoon for the 20th annual meeting, the agenda will be the lightest in years, Secretary Stan. Shantz announced Friday.

One proposed amendment to the intercounty constitution and another to that of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association will be considered in addition to a pair of resolutions. By way of contrast, 16 proposed constitutional amendments were considered at last year's annual.

If the meeting votes favorably on the question, the intercounty will suggest that in future O.B.A.A. playdowns, net receipts be divided on a 75-25 basis in favor of the home club, instead of the present 50-50 split.

The Intercounty Association will recommend that the 1938 executive do all in its power to discontinue the growing practice of clubs seeking lower classification after having failed to win playoff positions in the series in which they competed during the schedule.

Another resolution will ask that the 1938 executive lighten the duties of the president and secretary.

Rabbit McVeigh And Reg Noble Try For Posts On N.H.L. Referee Staff

The "Rabbit," Charles McVeigh, is back in the National Hockey League, but this time he won't be indulging in those jerky antics that used to delight fans around the circuit.

McVeigh, formerly with New York Americans, didn't play at all last year, but now, along with three other former N.H.L. stars, he will be tested for the staff of those seldom-cheered, often-jeered referees.

Also getting tryouts are Reg Noble, one-time Montreal Maroon and Detroit Red Wing; Sylvio Mantha, who starred or years with Montreal Canadiens and Bert McCaffery, a former Toronto player. Two other arbiters will get a chance at big-time officiating. They are Norm Lamport of Toronto, an Ontario Hockey Association official, and Archie McTeer of Calgary.

Since the Rabbit, born in Kenora, Ont., left the N.H.L. there hasn't been anyone with that peculiar, jumping style of skating that was his. The fans used to like it as he scuttled up the ice with deft, choppy strokes.

The group of N.H.L. referees at present includes Odie Cleghorn, once a defence ace with Canadiens; Babe Dye, reputed to have had the fastest shot in hockey; Mickey Ion, Clarence Campbell, a Rhodes scholar and lawyer from Edmonton; Ag Smith and Eusebe Daigneault. Bill Stewart, referee-in-chief last year, quit to become manager of Chicago Black Hawks.

Two Men And Girl Athletes Nominated For Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (C.P.). — Two men and a woman already have been nominated for the 1937 award of the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy, dedicated a year ago to memory of the late sports editor of the Toronto Daily Star for annual award to Canada's outstanding athlete.

Secretary to the committee of judges, Miss Alexandrine Gibb said to-day names already submitted were those of Mrs. John Rogers of Winnipeg, Canadian women's open golf champion; Sylvanus Apps, great young centre of Toronto's National League hockey team; and Larry O'Connor, University of Toronto hurdler.

Amateurs and professionals, men and women, are eligible for the award, made first in 1936 to Dr. Phil Edwards, Olympic middle-distance runner. Miss Gibb said nominations could be made by organizations or individuals. Announcement of the award will be made on January 10.

Judges are P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee; Elwood Hughes, T. H. C. Alison, Oscar Pearson, and Charles Ring. The trophy was presented by Mr. Ring.

Dress Pattern Sets Style

A woman's dress pattern sets the style for the hockey uniforms to be worn by the newly formed Cleveland Barons this year. Mrs. Roy Hooker is seen here wearing the dress which caught the eye of owner Al Sutphin. She was wearing the dress in a hotel ballroom and the black background with a white shoulder yoke extending down into the sleeves impressed Sutphin so much that he decided to copy the pattern for the club's new uniforms. Andy Cunningham is also wearing the new jersey, but he is not one of the chasing Cunninghams. He is a pencil pusher, head of the Barons' publicity department.

INQUEST IS HELD INTO TWEED DEATH

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 6—Investigating the death of Mrs. Alice McAvoy, of Tweed, a coroner's jury Thursday night brought in a verdict that Mrs. McAvoy came to her death on November 1 from injuries received when struck by a bicycle ridden by Vincent Prout, on Oct. 30, on a bridge in the village of Tweed.

It is alleged Mrs. McAvoy was walking west on the bridge and Prout was riding his bicycle east on the pedestrian part of the bridge, when the accident occurred. Mrs. McAvoy was unconcious when Prout reached her and did not regain conciousness.

Testifying at the inquest, Dr. J. F. Doyle, of Tweed, said Mrs. McAvoy was about 70 years of age. "On the morning of the accident, Vincent Prout came into my office and informed me that he had hit a lady on the bridge. The lady was unconscious and had indication of a fractured skull."

Chief of Police J. C. Hayes, testified Vincent Prout was "one of the best boys in town." "He is the serious type, a good student, who used his earnings from delivering milk and groceries to aid in the upkeep of his home, as his father is dead," said Chief Hayes.

Coroner Dr. J. J. Robertson presided. B. C. Donnan, crown attorney, examined the witnesses.

Professional Wrestling Returns With Lively Program

Main Bout Yanks Excited Fans From Seats As Balbo And Cleete Mix It Up

Professional wrestling returned to Peterborough last night with a lively three-out card staged in the Brock St. arena. A crowd of over 200 fans roared approval at an exciting main event, which saw "The Great" Balbo continue his winning string with a victory over Tuffy Cleete. The semi-final was a good one, also, with Tony Bommarito and Dick Merill battling to a draw. The prelim—which had to be switched and was put on last owing to the regular wrestlers having car trouble—ended with Bucky Harris defeating Nick Barnes.

The show was staged by Promoter Bob Morley of Windsor, who also did the announcing. Whitey Hogan was referee, and Don Weese the timekeeper. The promoter, explaining why the preliminary was put on last, added that he hoped to stage another grapple card here within two weeks. He got a big hand from the crowd. The fans thoroughly enjoyed the main bout of the night.

Tony the Villain

The bout between Dick Merrill, 182 pounds, and Tony Bommarito, scaling 160, was put on first. Tony was the villain of the piece and was warned often by the referee for illegal tactics. He roughed up his rival and, when Merrill appeared to have the advantage, would hie for cover outside the ropes to the jeers of the crowd. The leglock, wristlock, scissors and toeholds were among the more common torturing holds employed in this rough match. Merrill took the first fall in 35 minutes with a mean toe-hold, Tony conceding the fall finally. They mixed it hard after the rest period, Tony blinding his opponent with a handful of sawdust but getting the same dose back shortly. Merrill mauled him around but Tony evened it up with a fall in 55 minutes with a crotch-hold and body slam. They resumed and went to the limit in lively fashion, the bout ending with the Italian being tangled up in a rip in the canvas. He had to be ordered out of the ring repeatedly, after the bout was declared a draw.

Main Bout Good

The main bout, staged second, was between "The Great" Balbo, weighing 188, and Tuffy Cleete, at 186. It was a dandy scrap all the way with rough tactics and good wrestling mixed up to keep the place in an uproar. Balbo won the first fall fast, knocking over his sparring mate in four minutes with two hard flying tackles off the ropes. It was much tougher in the next round, with Tuffy getting real tough and gouging, kicking and twisting limbs to keep the Italian in trouble throughout. He was warned a dozen times. The highlight came midway through the heat when both wrestlers were outside the ring on the floor mixing furiously with the referee in the middle of it and the fans swarming around. Tuffy looked groggy as they came back and "The Great" on kicked him on the chin and pinned his shoulders to the mat in 35 minutes. He got a big hand from the fans.

Two Toronto welters filled in for the absent prelim grapplers, and this bout was staged last. Bucky Harris, going 152 pounds, defeated Nick Barnes, 147, in 10 minutes. They were very fast and started off with straight wrestling, but later opened up with some rough, exciting work. Nick pulled a "Howard Cantontwine" by hanging his opponent in the ropes, but the latter took the only fall for the bout with a hard body slam that held Barnes helpless on the floor.

Inside Sportin' Dope

BY A. WISE CRACKER

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well Mac, the pro hockey season has got under way with two games played Thurs. nite. These early fixtures don't give no chance to do much speculating on the teams for the outfits start the long grind not yet in condition and play themselves into shape as they goes along. The Leaves and Red Wings staged theirselves a tie game in Toronto and at that the Toronto gang had to be a bit unlucky to fail to grab two points out of the opener for they was leading with 14 seconds to go and then Turk Broda had a attack of amnesia or something and let a long lazy shot from the stick of Mister Marty Barry bounce by him to tie the score.

The Amerks Cop One

Meanwhile up in Chicago Mister keep-punching Red Dutton's Amerks was licking the Black Hawks 3 to 0 and you can imagine Mister Bill Stewart the new Chicago pilot felt like Mister Bill Terry after the Yanks got through with the Giants last month. Incidentally Mac, them Amerks has landed Mister Hooley Smith and the cagey Toronto boy aint going to weaken them none. He can fill in either on the attack or back on the defence and do a pretty hefty job either place. The Dutton Gang with a sharpshooting line like the Schriner, Chapman and Carr trio, a sensational young goalie in Mister Earl Robertson who showed last year he had what it takes and a hard-hitting defence aint going to be no pushovers for nobody this campaign.

Schriner's The Lad

I was glad to see Mister Schriner open out the season by scoring 2 smart goals in Chicago. He's been the League's top scorer for two seasons and starts right off as if he intended to make it 3 in a row. If he does manage to keep out in front for a season or 2 more mebbe some of them Toronto sportwriters will give him a little credit. The 1st year they said he had been handed his points by the New York scorers and when he came back with another big season last year and finally copped the title with a brilliant windup scoring display the Leaf propaganda sheets didn't exactly rave over the feat. Now he's in again

The Football Doings

In the football arena Mac, they aint a great deal to gossip about in this particular issue. The big game of the season so far as our Orfuns is concerned takes place in Trenton this Sat. when the gang clashes with the Flyers in the 1st battle of the playoffs. The aviation aces is said to be tough but our own lads aint exactly charlotte russes theirselves and them Air Force birds will know they been in a battle before the final whistle sounds. Here last Sat. the Orfuns made a good job of trimming Lindsay in spite of a lotta fumbles I don't wan to do any of that Monday morning quarterback stuff but the thought struck me last Sat. that here with our Mister Don Crowe outbooting the opposition by plenty we wasn't making enough use of his educated toe.

Kicking Heeps

When you got a hoofer that can outkick the enemy by 15 to 20 yards and the other birds' safety men aint catching the long ones like Joe DiMaggio it always seemed to be that the simplest strategy was the best. Why waste time and strength on plunges and end runs and trick plays when all you gotta do is snap that old pigskin back to the lad with the husky boot and let him do his stuff. No team even went broke cashing in on singles and besides that they is always the chance of a fumble to be converted into a major score.

Well I aint calling the plays so what's the use. Anyway that series with the Flyers ought to be a wow and so too ought the clash between the senior P. C. I. and Albert Collitch of Belleville which is looming up for next week.

And now let's scram; they's enough hay down for the nonce.

Sportifully Yours,
A Wise Cracker.

GREETINGS BY NOSE

Traffic in the Strand of London was halted when two Aborigines from New Zealand greeted each other by touching noses.

An All-American – At Work And Play

Sid Luckman, triple threat backfielder of Columbia University, is considered by many football experts as a sure thing for inclusion in this season's all-American team. Sid doesn't believe in having all work and no play or vice versa. He splits his time in two, so to speak, between the gridiron and his studies. He is seen here after booting the pigskin down the field, and also at his studies. Incidentally, Coach Lou Little of the team, claims Sid is a born passer, but Luckman confesses that he gets more fun out of running with the ball than he does passing it, although he admits he gets a "big kick" in completing a pass.

Disaster Looms For American Leaders On College Gridiron

No Soft Touches For U.S. Best Teams As They Go Into Battle Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(CP).—Today's football festivities offer striking opportunities for the Collegiate underdogs to chew larg chunks out of the title hopes of pacesetting favorites of the United States gridiron.

It's the spot, in other words, where over-confidence or any letdown from the effects of a hard championship drive may lead to disaster for some of the top- ranking teams.

All but three of the current "top 10" on the national ranking list encounter opponents who have either been subjected to rough treatment already or are going nowhere in particular.

Pitt at Notre Dame.

The exceptions comprize Pittsburg's unbeaten Panthers, who collide with Notre Dame's fighting Irish before a capacity 56,000 at South Bend; Fordham, which entertains another rugged rival in Purdue, and Ohio State, challenged by Indiana's hustling Hoosiers.

Lets it be implied the others are in relative "soft spots," take the case of California, so far the nation's No. 1 team by something approaching the acclamation of sports experts. The Golden Bears figure to beat Washington handily, but the Huskies are in a typically fine underdog spot. They are out of the conference and Rose Bowl race that they dominated last year, so they can shoot the works.

Opponents of such other undefeated top-notchers as Alabama, Baylor, Nebraska, Yale and Dartmouth also can let themselves go, without feeling either restrained or self-conscious.

At South Bend, Ind., it's the same Notre Dame team that was tied in October by Illinois and beaten by Carnegie, but the Fighting Irish have been acting like eleven other fellow lately. With both pointing for this one, it should be close enough to offset "Panther power," and the experts give Pittsburg the nod.

Canadian Army Team Holds New York Cup

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(CP).—By the slim margin of a single point, the Canadian army team to-day held the challenge trophy of the three-day international military low-score jumping competition of the National Horse Show in progress at Madison Square Garden.

The Canadians — Lieutenants Douglas and Marshal Cleland and the 54-year-old Col. R. S. Timmis, all of Toronto—turned back the determined bid of the United States army and, by their one-point margin kept the trophy in competition.

The Americans won the trophy, presented by President Arturo Allesandri of Chile, in 1934 and 1936 and victory this year would have given them permanent possession.

The Dominion riders, starting last nights session of the competition, were three points down to the United States horsemen, but when the last jump had been cleared they were charged with only 27 faults while Uncle Sams riders checked in with 28.

CARDIFF, Wales—(CP).—It is expected Lord Aberdare will become the first president of Welsh Squash Racquets Ltd., formed here with Maurice Turnbull, Glamorgan cricket captain, as secretary.

May Coach Team

GEORGE HAINSWORTH

Latest reports from the hockey centres are to the effect that veteran George Hainsworth of Kitchener may coach his home town's new entry into the Senior "A" hockey series of the O.H.A. this year. George hung up his pads last season after playing with Montreal Canadiens for many years and finally with Toronto Maple Leafs as custodian of the net.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

(By Bradley)

EBBIE GOODFELLOW

There would seem to be a trend today, more toward specialization in sport. There was a time not so long ago when athletes were more versatile than they are today.

However, the day when men have the ability to conduct themselves with success in more than one phase of sports is not past.

Take the case of Ebbie Goodfellow, sturdy defenceman of the Detroit Red Wings, and considered by many to be the greatest rearguardsman in hockey today. Goodfellow first achieved a reputation as a forward with the Detroiters, and at one time was the high scorer in the National Hockey league in this department.

But despite his obvious success at this post, Manager Jack Adams shifted him back to the defence where he has exhibited his versatility by the record he has established as one of the game's greatest defencemen.

His 600th Game

MURRAY MURDOCH

With the conclusion of two exhibition games played in Saskatoon, Sask., Murray Murdoch, "Iron Man" of the New York Rangers, completed his great accomplishment of playing in 600 consecutive games. Murdoch, who will probably hang up his skates this season, has played in more consecutive games than any other player in the National Hockey league.

NEW YACHTING RULES PRAISED BY ARCHITECT

HALIFAX, Nov. 6 (C.P.). — New rules governing the size of Genoa jibs, precluding the use of quadrilateral jibs, and establishing a minimum beam for yachts under 35 tons, adopted at the International Yacht Racing Union meetings in London "are much more generous than I expected," commented W. J. Roue, internationally-known yacht architect who designed the International Fishermen's racing champion Bluenose.

The terminology of the new rules leaves the landlubber somewhat "at sea," but Mr. Roue says the initiated would find them concisely expressed.

Hereafter in yachts of five, six, and eight-meter classes the clew of the biggest jib will not be allowed to extend more than half of the yacht's racing measurement abaft the fore side of the mast measured head to wind. The maximum width of the foot of spinnakers will not be allowed to exceed 1.4 rating. The ruling continues: "No jib will have a foot yard or more than one sheet, or other device, extending it to other than a triangular shape. All spinnakers shall have the luff and leech of equal length."

In future the minimum beam of yachts will be as follows; Six meter class, six feet; eight meter, eight feet; ten meter, nine feet nine inches, 12 meter, 11 feet eight inches. This beam will be taken at one-third of the rule midship freeboard above the water line and at the point of the greatest beam on that line.

The Olympic Monotype class was made an International Class and was named as suitable for use in the Olympic yacht races proposed for Japan in 1940.

A rating rule suitable for cruising yachts and ocean-racing yachts throughout the world will be formulated by an international committee.

These limitations were imposed, Mr. Roue said, to prevent too radical year-to-year changes in designs of the smaller yachts and keep them more uniform for racing purposes.

In the past the tendency among yacht designers has been to design boats with greater over-all length, less beam, and greater sail area until extremes were reached, he stated. Owners of newly-built boats found their yachts outclassed a year or two later; an irritating and costly situation, said Mr. Roue, who estimated the average life of racing yachts to be at least 10 years.

The minimum beam imposed under the new regulations, he thought, would allow more scope for accommodations below deck, making a boat more readily adaptable for cruising purposes after her racing career had ended.

SEVEN CANDIDATES FROM CAPITOL CITY FOR CRAIG TROPHY

TORONTO, Nov. 6—(CP).—From Toronto, which supplied seven candidates, or Ottawa, which has the only other nominee, will come the successor to Betty Taylor of Hamilton or Ontario's outstanding girl athlete of 1937 and holder, therefore, of the Norman Craig Memorial Trophy.

Toronto nominees are Helen Hannah, Jeannette Dolson, Dorothy Smerdon, Eula Fortune, Mrs. Roxy Atkins, Thelma Golden and Hilda Ince. Hope the honor would go to Ottawa rested with young Mary Haydon, Ontario junior high jump champion, who set a new Canadian junior record of 5 feet, ¼ inch.

All nominees except Miss Golden are well known in the realm of track and field. Miss Golden's nomination came because she is considered the outstanding girl softball pitcher in Ontario to-day. Mrs. Atkins is a previous holder of the trophy, winning it in 1934.

Decision as to who will succeed Miss Taylor, who gained the trophy because of her hurdling feats, will be announced November 14 at the annual meeting of the Ontario Branch of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada.

WINNIPEGER TOPS ENGLISH SCORERS

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP).—Albert Lemay, the fleet left winger from Winnipeg, who plays for Wembley Lions, hardly waited for the English hockey season to start before he shot into point-scoring leadership.

In four games of London Cup play, which precedes the regular National League games, Lemay scored three goals and four assists. Lions' centre, Alex Archer of Winnipeg, and Al Rogers of Montreal, with Brighton Tigers, each picked up three goals and three assists to tie for second place.

Jack Keating of Kitchener, Ont., who plays for Harringay Greyhounds, and Archie Creighton of Winnipeg, starry left winger with Harringay Racers, each scored four goals in the first four games.

The bad men of the early going so ably were Cliff Mundrell of Ottawa, with Earl's Court Rangers, and Sonny Rost of Winnipeg, Wembley Lions centre. Rost got 12 days' suspension and Maundrell 10 days for rough play.

FOR TOUGHER GOLF

LONDON—(CP).—The executive committee of the English Golf Union has decided that the limit of handicaps of players competing in the English amateur championship should be reduced from five to three.

Night Club Opened In City With Floor Show And All

Gala Occasion Of Opening Night Was Essentially a Dress Affair

Peterborough's first honest-to-goodness night club opened for business last night and received an enthusiastic reception from the city's younger set.

First venture of its kind in Peterborough, the Elite Grill presented all that the big city nightery affords the youthful lovers of music and the light fantastic. Dancing in a smartly finished club room over the Elite Cafe, a floor show and general revelry were the order of the evening. The gala occasion of opening night, it was essentially a dress affair.

Beautiful Hall

The club room was the product of many weeks work by a corps of interior decoration craftsmen. Extending half the depth of the building it afforded ample dancing space. The dancing floor was lined with tables smartly done in red and white check covers. To the rear a space was devoted exclusively to table accommodation and a service bar.

Of particular note were the acoustics of the room and the lighting effects. An ingenious distribution of soft wall boarding assured most effective sounding of all orchestral effects. Principal lighting scheme in use during the evening was indirect, the light diffused from artist ceiling shelves. Soft center lights were available for fuller illumination.

Andy Rutter

Andy Rutter, already well known to the Peterborough public through his association with the Brock Street Summer Gardens, was the master of ceremonies as manager of the new club. The band was that of Nicol Stout of widespread local popularity.

Little Lenore Gordon opened the floor show with a song "Moon Got in My Eyes" and followed with a tap dance. Blond Helen Mack won an encore with "What Can I Tell My Heart" and came back to the microphone with "Can't Stop Loving You."

Full Card

A dance to "Sophisticated Lady" by an able team, Monteneau and Harvey, won heavy applause but the team scored its outstanding reception with a "Dagger Song" number. Doris Monteneau clicked with an acrobatic solo and a tap solo, imitating perfectly Eleanor Powell.

Don Song Ping, Chinese acrobatic rider and juggler, proved possibly the feature of the card.

Coaching Offer

IVAN "CHING" JOHNSON

Latest reports concerning "Ching" Johnson, former New York Ranger defenceman, are that he may become a hockey coach. He is scheduled to journey to Stratford, Ont., soon, where he intends to condition himself, then travel west to Minneapolis, where he will likely accept a player-coaching job which has been offered him there. He is a former Winnipeg, Man., product, whom many N.H.L. forwards greatly feared when going in on the Rangers' goal when "Ching" was in his prime.

HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL
Central Press Canadian
Copyright, 1937

HOLLYWOOD—In their newfound bliss, the John Barrymores will motor to Miami on a delayed honeymoon and, from there, fly to Havana for a three weeks' stay in the land of the daiquiri, the rhumba and the tango. Journey south will be made via Detroit, where the couple will pick up a specially built limousine, John's gift to Elaine. It will be the ritziest job in Hollywood. Seven has an airconditioning unit.

Kidnapping is still the terror of the film families. The Phil Regans were almost crazy the other night when their two sons, Joseph (13) and Phillip (10) hadn't returned after being gone all day. Police already were on the job when the kids finally showed up. They had made 50 cents each caddying at Lakeside Golf club.

Director Reeves "Breezy" Eason, who came out with a money horse in the recent sweepstake drawing, has been buying tickets for 15 years without previous success. Oddly enough, he purchased the lucky one while directing the picture, "Bergeant Murphy", which is the story of a real horse that won the Grand National at Aintree nine years ago.

Hear that Katharine Hepburn's smile was something to see when she looked up the other day and saw the set crowded with visitors. It was a rib by Nate Sloit, assistant on the picture. He had brought all the girls over from the Ginger Rogers set nearby.

La Hepburn had the good grace to laugh.

But, then, didn't Garbo talk to a reporter the other day?

Tough luck for Simone Simon. They say her face is allergic to makeup. Anyway, the close shots of the star in "Love and Hisses" are being grouped as much as possible, so she won't have to wear full makeup all the time. In the long shots she'll get by with a thin coating.

Chatter . . . . Looks as if Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone will get away for two months as soon as she finishes "Mannequin." Two weeks at Lake Placid are on the itinerary, Broadway also will see a lot of the pair . . . Joe Sherman, recently divorced by Mary Doran, has been dining at Travaglini's with the pretty widow of Ralph Ince . . . Joe Penner now has 16 dogs. He can't pass a pooch shop without buying a new one. . . . . Nan Macy Brill and Harry Seekin, the orchestra director, are no longer a twosome. Is he going to marry that New York model? . . . . War clouds in Europe have scared Shirley Ross' parents out of their trip across the water. They'll motor-tour the west in a new car, the gift of Shirley. . . Lots of wires went out of Hollywood to the Ed Hatricks, whose daughter, Ruth, was married to Gregory C. Braddy. . . . . Frank Borzage had a fit of nerves over the party given at the Hawaiian Paradise in honor of his twentieth anniversary as a film director. . . . . And here's an item that makes Madge Evans the most cautious girl in Hollywood. The film star took out an insurance policy with Lloyd's covering her greenhouse and garden from damage over Hallowe'en.

HOLLYWOOD—Next to meeting her new bosses at Twentieth Century-Fox, Ethel Merman's biggest thrill on her current trip to the coast was when a messenger boy handed her an envelope containing a note and a $10 bill.

The cash was repayment of a loan made in 1933 to a chorus girl who was rehearsing for "George White's Scandals", a show in which Ethel was one of the stars.

That chorus girl, who remembered the incident after Ethel had forgotten, was Alice Faye.

Dr. Frank Nolan, popular Hollywood medico, called the other day to say that he and Ena Gregory were heading downtown at 4 p.m. to apply for a marriage license. They plan to use it, he said, around the first of the year.

If they do, it will be the first time in three trips to the bureau that Nolan actually has used the license. He took out one with Eleanor Hunt, but they eloped to Las Vegas. Then he took out another with Mae Clarke, but nothing ever came of it.

At the dinner honoring Eddie Cantor on his 25th anniversary in show business, the comedian received messages from all over the world. George Jessel presented him with a box of dirt, accompanied by the following wire:

"Dear Eddie: You were brought up on this 'good earth'. It was dug from the lot on which your old home, 47 Henry St., stood. Affectionately."

And then the signatures of many of Cantor's boyhood pals on New York's east side.

If you happened to be in Letland, Denmark, you'd never recognize the names of some of your favorite movie stars. The theatres use phonetic spelling in Danish... Which changes Wallace Beery into Uoless Birija, Norman Shearer into Norma Sirere, John Crawford into Dzoana Krauforde and William Powell into Uiljams Pauels.

New York's Harlem will see a two-theatre premiere (lights, fanfare and all) of "Bargain With Bullets," a feature length picture with an all-Negro cast. Picture was made here by Harry M. Popkin at a cost of around $30,000. In Los Angeles it more than doubled the normal business of the Lincoln theatre on Central Ave. Booked already in Washington and Boston, it promises to bring Producer Popkin a nice profit. Anyway, he has followed it with another feature with Louise Beavers, "Life Goes On", and plans a series of 12.

Pictures are not an arty venture like King Vidor's "Hallelujah" but are intended to receive their principal support from Negro audiences.

Has any other Hollywood actress besides Gloria Dickson made a television test? Her image was transmitted two floors in the Rockefeller building for the benefit of her fiance, Perc Westmore, head of the Warner makeup department.

He protested her face looked fuller than normal, and was amazed when they thinned it down. According to Westmore, television operators have control of the contours of the face.

He says the camera before which the subject stands looks like a huge box set on a motorcycle. The cameraman uses two long levers, like handlebars, to do his focussing.

Child Soloist

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seeney of Havelock, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter Myrtle to Mr. Edward Reid, son of Mrs. Reid and the late Mr. Robert Reid of Windsor; the marriage to take place December 4, in Trinity United Church, Toronto.

DIED

SPENCELEY, Mrs. Al. W.—At the residence, 36 Monaghan Road, November 5, following a lengthy illness, Mabel Esther Clark, wife of Al. W. Spenceley, in her 49th year. Funeral Monday, November 8, at 2 p.m., from D. Belleghem and Sons, to Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS. — In loving memory of Sergeant Thomas, who passed away a year ago to-day, November 6.

—Fondly missed by Wife and Family.

MAHOOD. — In loving memory of our dear Mother, Harriet Eliza Mahood, who passed away five years ago to-morrow, November 7, 1932.

What is home without your Mother?
What are all the joys we meet?
When there is no one to welcome
The coming of our feet.
You were very kind and patient,
Through the years you struggled on,
and those dear hands now resting,
Made a home that now is gone.
To those who have no Mother:
Cherish her with care,
There will never be another
To fill her vacant chair.

—Sadly missed and always remembered, by daughter Mabel, and sons Wilmot and Bert.

SPROAT—In loving memory of Margaret Jane Sproat, who passed away November 6, 1934.

Three years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.

—Ever remembered by her Husband and Family.

TINDLE.—In loving memory of my dear Husband, Thomas Tindle, who passed away November 7, 1935.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly, tender, fond, and true;
There is not a day, dear husband,
That I do not think of you.

—Inserted by his loving Wife.

THOMAS. — In loving memory of Sergeant Arthur Thomas, who passed away a year ago to-day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Doig.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sickler of 247 Princess street sincerely thank the attending doctor, the nurses of Nicholls Hospital, Rev. Canon Paterson of All Saints' Church, and their many friends who were so kind and thoughtful during Mrs. Sickler's illness.

LEASE RENEWED TOWN HOSPITAL

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 6. — Dr. E. A. Stuart was granted a renewal of his lease to operate the Campbellford Hospital for a further term of five years at a special meeting called by the Mayor to consider the matter on Friday. On being asked if he wished to exercise his option of buying the property Dr. Stuart stated he believed the town would derive a greater benefit from the Hospital under the present system whereby the town had two free beds in the institution. Questioning the town treasurer, F. W. Wood replied that according to the figures for the past two years the town had effected a considerable saving by this plan. It was Deputy-Reeve C. H. Calver who made the motion that a by-law be prepared authorizing the renewal of the contract embodying the same terms as the former one and for a period of five years.

An invitation from the Campbellford Branch of the Legion requesting that the Council participate in the Armistice Day services received the endorsation of the members. There followed an informal discussion of the rebate requested by N. A. McColl in his capacity of trustee for the bondholders of the Weston Shoe Company during which a memo from the town solicitor giving his ruling on the matter of a rebate of taxes.

Members present at the meeting included the Mayor, Deputy-Reeve Calver, and Councillors Locke, Kelly and MacColl.

Following the Lodge session, adjournment was made to the dining hall where supper was served, the members of Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, having the refreshments in their charge.

A "CHESS" VICTORY

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP).—Chess players of the House of Commons have scored a decisive "mate" against their collective parliamentarian opposition.

When changes in the recreation quarters of the House were planned, it was porposed to move their rooms elsewhere. The Commons chess players, a resolute and influential body, thought otherwise. They insisted their new room should be near the dining room and smoking room. And so it is. In fact accommodation of the dining room was reduced to make possible the demands of the insistent chess players.

LINDSAY

THREE ARRESTED EAST OPS FRACAS

LINDSAY, Nov. 6. — There were founds of revelry at East Ops Amusement Hall on Thursday night. A dance was in progress when a fight broke out, and it required the presence of Traffic Officer Kennedy to restore order. Three young men, said to be from the vicinity of Omemee, were responsible for the fracas, and it is understood the trio piled into a young man named Williams. The fight was a lively one while it lasted, and dihe trio who were responsible for the outbreak will have to answer for their conduct at a session of the Police Court.

Andrew O'Leary, who is no stranger in the local Police Court, was found lying on the street near the brewery warehouse on Thursday night by Constable Hodgson. When he was landed safely in the cells it was found that he was suffering from a laceration in the head and a badly swollen eye. The man had been imbibing too much wine and on Friday morning was given ten days, in default of payment of a fine.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Governors of the Ross Memorial Hospital last night a loss of $3,434.25 was reported for the past fiscal year. The sum of $6,350.25 was written off for indigents. The hospital care for patients unable to pay their accounts was very serious during the year.

J. W. McMillan, a Lindsay contractor, has been awarded the general contract for the new $12,000 Post Office at Bobcaygeon. It is understood the work will proceed at once.

Andrew Trimble, a former resident of Manilla, Mariposa Township, but now of Cleveland Ohio, because of his close resemblance to the late Will Rogers, has been selected as his double in famous pictures. Mr. Trimble was the actor who impersonated the late Will Rogers in the film, "The Great Ziegfield."

VIOLIN LOVES

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6 (A.P.). — Two loves has Yehudi Menuhin. Both are violins—one a 200-year-old Stradivarius, the other a modern copy.

Menuhin, 20-year-old artist, played the copy in a concert here last night. It was made by Emile Francais of Paris, who followed Stradivarius' technique so closely he even took the instrument to dry in the sunshine of Cremona, Italy, where Stradivarius worked.

The copy, which took three years to make, bears 18 coats of varnish.

CHAPTER 30.

Tim, seated at the chair before the desk, was fiddling nervously with his engagement book when Adams announced he'd like to talk with him. "Ah, yes," he replied. "Just a moment."

Presently he swiveled round. By attacking from a sitting position he felt hopeful of strengthening his rather uncertain tenure of authority. But Adams was not going to have any orderly room atmosphere. He went to the mantelpiece, and leaned one elbow on it in a comfortable attitude. Plainly the interview was going to be difficult.

"Well, Adams," he started. "From the way you're behaving it's not quite clear whether you're here for me to speak to you or for you to speak to me."

"Don't see that it makes much difference," Adams replied easily. "Looks as if we've both got something to say to each other. Only question is, which one is going to start?"

"Well, I think I will if you don't mind." Indulgence flavored with sarcasm was the line Tim was attempting.

"Shoot, then," invited Adams.

"Are you aware that you came very close to killing me last night?"

"Killing you. Why, Mr. Kennedy, I value your life far too highly."

A cold chill went down Tim's back. Bue he proceeded evenly.

"Well, in that case you have a queer way of showing it. . . . You almost ran me down in Box lane."

"Windy, eh? You weren't in any danger."

"As far as I could see from your expression as you passed you were inclined to treat the matter as a joke."

"Well, a miss is as good as a mile. We were in the war together, and we both know that."

This was impossible. . . . Tim took a sudden leap forward.

"Look here, Adams, what the devil's the matter with you?"

"Nothing, thanks. I'm fine."

"Do you realize that for the last week or so you've been treating me with the most extraordinary insolence? It's a marvel I've borne with you so long. You've been with me a good time, and we've got on pretty well together. I've never had any reason to complain. And I think you'll admit I've been a pretty good employer. I haven't been oppressive or exacting. But lately you seem to have forgotten I am your employer at all. I'd be very sorry to lose you, Adams, but you've got to understand this sort of thing can't go on. Either you mend your manners or we part company."

"Oh, I think we'll manage to string along together for a bit yet."

"That's for me to decide. . . . I don't know if you've any explanation to offer. I know you've been drinking a good deal. But perhaps you've some excuse. Have you any personal or domestic trouble?"

Adams grinned. "I've never been married."

"I know that. And you won't get yourself anywhere by taking that tone. If you'd any sense you'd see I'm trying to find an excuse for you. . . . It has occurred to me you might have been badly upset by my wife's death. . . ."

Adams answered slowly. "Well, she was a good mistress, poor lady. . . . Perhaps in a way I have been upset by her death. . . . In fact, in a manner of speaking I might almost say it's altered my whole life."

There was a deadly silence. Tim drummed on the arm of his chair with his fingers.

"There was something you wanted to say to me," he said at last, abruptly. "I'll postpone my decision till I've heard what it is."

Adams replied promptly. "That's quite simple. I want you to double my wages."

"On what grounds?"

"On the grounds that I'm more useful to you now. Since Mrs. Kennedy died, I mean. In fact, I might say you're dependent on me."

Tim did not answer at once. He turned round in his chair, and reached out to a recess in the bureau, taking a check book from it. He got out his fountain pen, filled in a check, detached it. Then he swiveled round again.

"That's a month's wages. . . . You won't be able to cash it till Monday, and if you haven't any ready money, I'll add a pound to see you through till then. I want you to go back to The Wilderness now, pack up your things, and get out. I shan't be back till 4 o'clock. If you're still there then, I shall stop the check."

Adams took the check. "I think I'll take the pound too, sir," he said, politely.

Tim handed him a treasury note. "Thanks," said Adams. He stowed the money carefully in his hip pocket. He stood quite still for a moment, and then went to the door. "That'll do as an advance," he said, his hand on the door knob. "So long, see you at 4 o'clock."

"Wait!" The exclamation came out a sharp falsetto. "You don't seem to understand. You're dismissed."

Adams came slowly back into the room. He leered at Tim. "Dismissed, my foot," he said, a new roughness in his voice. "You're a bloody fool, Kennedy. I thought you'd got more sense than to try any nonsense like that. . . . I've treid to let you down lightly, not too sudden like. I thought you had brains enough to have tumbled long before this. Understand now, you can't bluff me. I want that raise. And if you behave yourself reasonably, maybe I'll be satisfied with it. And then again maybe, I won't. It depends on you. And then again it depends on me. Get that straight right away, and understand I don't want any more of that 'dismissed' stuff."

Tim rallied all his forces.

"Now this is very interesting," he said. "If your words mean anything at all, they mean blackmail. . . . I don't know much about these matters, but I've always understood that blackmailers gave their victims a bit of an idea of what it's all about before they put on the screw. Leaving aside for the moment the hypothesis that you've gone completely insane, I'd be very glad to know why you think I'm likely to give you this raise. I'd really be infinitely obliged if you'll tell me, before I give you in charge."

Adams looked at him with something like admiration. "That's education, that was," he said at last. "Fair treat. You've got more guts than I gave you credit for. . . . It must be fine to be able to talk like that."

"I'm still waiting, you know."

"All right.' If you want to go through with the farce, it's a fair

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RATTLER

"Uncle Wig, are you going to be very busy today?" asked Baby Bunty, the orphan rabbit of Mr. Longears.

"Not especially so, my child," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose and laughing as he thought of how he had fooled the Fox with a pink leaf the day before.

"Then may I come with you?" asked Bunty.

"How did you know I was going anywhere?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh, you are always going places," laughed Bunty. "You are always looking for surprises and adventures and I would like to come with you."

"But what about school, Bunty?"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the orphan rabbit, "This is Saturday and there is no school."

"True enough—I had forgotten," said Uncle Wiggily. "Well, hop along, my little chickabiddy!"

Hear a Noise.

Soon Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty were hopping up hill and down dale, over the fields and through the woods on their way to find an adventure. Now and then Uncle Wiggily would stop and show Bunty some of the beautiful Autumn leaves which had remained on the trees in all their lovely tints later than usual in Woodland near the Orange Ice lived.

"The rattlesnake might get me!"

All of a sudden there was a rustling in the dried grass of a field across which the rabbits were hopping.

"Oh, wow!" screamed Baby Bunty.

"Don't be afraid," said a tiny voice. "I am only a little field mouse making my nest warm for the coming Winter."

Bunty and Uncle Wiggily saw the cute little creature gathering the dried, warm grass to line her nest. They waved their paws to her and hopped along.

Soon they came to a field where a farmer had raised corn. The corn was cut now, only the dried stubble remaining. In the field were also dried vines from which had been picked the pumpkins to make into Thanksgiving pies. Some had been used for Hallowe'en Jack o'Lantens.

While Bunty and Uncle Wiggily were in this field, all of a sudden they heard another rustling sound.

"Another field mouse, I suppose," said Bunty.

"No!" whispered Uncle Wiggily, pulling Bunty close to him back of a pile of corn stalks, "that is no harmless field mouse. It is the Bob Cat!"

Sniffs and Snoops.

"Oh! Oh!" murmured the orphan rabbit. "What shall we do?"

"Hide first. Maybe the Bob Cat will go away,' whispered the rabbit gentleman. But the Bad Chap didn't go away. He was sniffing around and snooping around. Very likely he smelled the rabbits.

"He isn't going!" whispered Bunty.

"I know how to make him go," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll shake a rattler at him. He will think it is a rattlesnake and he is much afraid of them."

"Where will you get the rattler to shake?" asked Bunty.

"Here is one, this gourd filled with dried seeds," said the rabbit. "Here is a gourd vine. A gourd is like a small pumpkin but with a thinner shell. Watch me!"

Uncle Wiggily picked from a vine a dried gourd. As he shook it the seeds inside rattled just like a dangerous snake that has rattles on its tail. The Bob Cat pricked up his ears and mewed:

"I'm not going to sniff any longer for Uncle Wiggily. The rattlesnake might get me!" So away he ran. Bunty and Mr. Longears were saved. They laughed: Ha! Ha! Ha!"

And if the coffee grinder will play a tune for the tea biscuit, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's pumpkin seeds.

Polarized Light Bares Makeup Of Human Nerves And Cells

Reveal Latter Are Sheathed in Bits Of Protein Laid On Like Leaves

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6—(AP).—Hitherto unknown architectural parts of the structure of cells and nerves of the human body, discovered by polarized light, were reported to the symposium on biophysics here today by Professor Francis O. Schmitt of Washington University.

One discovery is "shingles" that form the outer coating of cells. The cells can be seen with the aid of a microscope, but the nature of their surface covering has been a mystery.

Polarized light, Professor Schmitt said, shows the cells are sheathed in bits of protein, laid on like leaves. Between these protein "shingles," like putty filling cracks, are thin layers of lipoid, or fat. This lipoid "filler" is made of molecules which stand on end, at right angles to the protein leaves, that is, like nails driven into the edges of shingles.

Learning more about the nature of these cell "shingles" is one of the present important studies of biology, because they are the membranes through which man's food and oxygen have to pass to keep him alive.

It has also been discovered with polarized light, Professor Schmitt said, that nerves make use of these same protein-fat membranes. They cover the nerves like wrapping paper around a rolled-up magazine.

The interior of the nerve is a watery core. The protein-fat wrappers are rolled several layers deep around the inner nerve core to form a sheath like heavy asbestos around a heating pipe.

Polarized light is rays which vibrate in only one direction. This kind of light, passing through living tissue, is bent back and forth. The bending enables biologists to deduce the shape and qualities of the structure causing the bending.

FANCY TITLES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP).—The trend in Negro names in the deep south and west is toward more ornamental titles, says Professor N. N. Puckett of Western Reserve University and cites such examples as:

Biozola, Euphrasia, Neversene, Diphtheria, Depression, W.P.A., Green Berry, St. Elmo Shivers and Brownie Brown.

TOURIST REGISTRATION

VICTORIA, Nov. 6—(CP).—Attorney-General Gordon Wismer introduced a bill in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday which would require registration of guests at auto camps or hotels in unorganized territory throughout the province.

A motorist would be required to register the trade name of his car, registration number and identify numbers on license plates. Persons refusing to register would be refused accommodation.

The bill provides penalties up to to $25 for violations.

SPECIAL COURSES FOR FARM YOUTHS

TORONTO, November 6—(CP).—Three months' courses in agriculture and home economics for nine counties were announced to-day by R. C. Duncan, Director of Agricultural Representatives, Ontario Department of Agriculture. These courses for farm boys and girls will run from November 23 to February 25, with Christmas vacation from December 18 to January 3 inclusive.

Courses are being held at Walkerton in Bruce County; Milton, in Halton; Grimsby, Lincoln; Alliston, Craig, Middlesex; Bolton, Peel; Stratford, Perth; Norwich, Oxford; Roseville, Waterloo; Lynden, Wentworth.

Courses lasting one month starting November 23, will be held in the counties of Glengarry, Hastings, Renfrew, North and South Simcoe; Grey, Prescott and Russell. Similar courses are scheduled later for other counties.

There will be two resident instructors for each course in agriculture. They will be assisted by the district agricultural representative and Ontario government specialists. The Women's Institute Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture will supply one resident instructor for the home economics course for girls, in addition to special speakers from time to time.

Japan will send four whalers and 26 catcher boats to the Antarctic shortly.

LEAGUE A SUCCESS WHERE TEST FAIR SAYS CHELWOOD

QUEBEC, Nov. 6—(CP).—Indications Viscount Cecil of Chelwood would make pleas for co-operation on behalf of the League of Nations in his secheduled addresses at Toronto and Boston were seen today in his first utterances in this country.

Arriving here in the liner Empress of Britain last night, the president of the League of Nations Union said the League was successful wherever given a fair trial, and spoke of opportunities for furthering peace endeavors by formation of organizations like the International Peace Campaign.

Viscount Cecil, who will address the League of Nations Society in Canada at Toronto November 8 and an annual meeting of church organizations at Boston on the subject of peace, would not hazard a prediction on the outcome of the nine-power conference at Brussels, other than to say it depended "on the attitude of England and America."

The noted peace advocate said Great Britain and the United States can bring enough pressure on Japan to stop the war in China. Turning to the Spanish war, he found public opinion in Great Britain "hardening in favor of the Loyalist government."

"FISHERMAN" RETURNS

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 6—(AP).—The "fisherman" is working here again.

Last winter police received numerous reports purses had disappeared while parties were in progress. Often a window was found open, a fishing pole outside. Then the robberies stopped.

But today, a party guest reported the loss of a purse. Police found an open window—and on the grass a fishing pole.

FANCY DOG POUND

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 6—(CP).—The Windsor dog-catcher may soon be out of a job. When stray dogs of the district get to know about the luxurious quarters provided for them by the Essex County Humane Society they will probably go to them of their own accord. The new kennels, situated in an old winery, are air-conditioned, and provide ample room for each dog.

Destroy "Hide Away"

A Shanghai house suspected of harboring a Chinese sniper was in process of demolition when this photograph was snapped. A bomb had just exploded and part of a wall is seen toppling while a squad of Japanese bayoneteers stand by to "take care of" any survivors.

DEAD RECKONING

enough question. I'll sit down if you don't mind."

He pulled a small chair up to the fire and tilted it back, securing his feet under the rail of the fender.

"I know you killed your wife," he said. "I know you planned it a long time before. I know how you did it, and I've a pretty good idea why."

"Well, that's fair enough, anyway." Tim got up suddenly, and stood over Adams in a threatening attitude. "Look here, Adams. My wife has been dead only six weeks. I can hardly bear to think of it. When I hear you make a suggestion like that, I feel—well, I advise you to be careful."

Adams' eyes met his insolently and unwaveringly.

"Stow it, Kennedy," he said contemptuously. "You can't put the wind up me. And you've got the wrong angle. I don't want a confession from you. You can deny it till you're blue in the face for all I care, so long as you do what I tell you. Only cut out the theatricals, they don't go down with me."

Tim sat down. His mind worked rapidly. No proof. . . . The circumstances simply did not admit of proof. . . . It was Adams who was bluffing. Would it not be psychologically right for an innocent man to cut him short at this point? Yes, but then he wasn't an innocent man. Adams must be working on something stronger than conjecture. Some reason, however weak and inconclusive.

(To Be Continued)

SISTER WINS FIGHT FOR GREEN ESTATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP).—Battle over the will of Col. Edward H. R. Green, eccentric son of an eccentric mother, was settled today with his sister the victor, but it only accentuated the contest of five states for taxes on the vast estate.

Surrogate Harry E. Owen of Essex County, N.Y., awarded the bulk of the $40,000,000 to $60,000,000 estate to Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, who in turn agreed to pay $500,000 to the Colonel's widow, Mrs. Bell Harlow Green.

Mrs. Green contested the will on the grounds a pre-nuptial agreement she made with her husband signing away her rights to his estate for an $18,000 annuity was obtained fraudulently, and that she was entitled to one-third the estate.

In his decision Surrogate Owen virtually wiped out any tax claim New York might have on the fortune. He ruled that Green was not a resident of the state when he died at Lake Placid, N.Y., June 3, 1936, but he did not attempt to establish Green's residence.

This served to emphasize court fights that have been in progress not only in New York but in Texas, Vermont, Massachusetts and Florida to determine the legal residence of the man whose hobbies were many, whose tongue was often caustic.

The will, made in 1908, named Green's mother—Hetty Green, who rolled up millions in railroading and determined to keep it in the family regardless of any wife or husband whom members might marry—, as beneficiary with his sister, a resident of New Bedford, Mass., as alternate.

Ibn Saud Planning Rule All Arabs

PARIS, Nov. 6—(CP-Havas)—The Rome correspondent of the Rightist newspaper Le Figaro today reported that King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia was planning to proclaim himself monarch of all the Arabs, with his rule extending from Bagdad, Iraq, to Morocco.

If dispatches widely displayed in the Italian press are true, the correspondent said, Arabia already is in open revolt against Great Britain, in preparation for a general Islamic movement against the "British oppressors."

"For the last few days the Italian press has given wide display to a series of reports from the near east," the correspondent wrote. "Dispatches from Jerusalem, Cairo, and Alexandria unanimously assert that troops of the Hedjas (under King Ibn Saud's rule) are advancing toward the frontiers of Transjordania, the only Arab country whose government thus far has remained friendly toward Great Britain.

DUKE DISREGARDS LABOR PROTESTS

PARIS, Nov. 6—(AP).—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor to-day disregarded an American Labor protest against "slumming parties professing to help and to study labor," and proceeded with plans to sail in the liner Bremen tomorrow for a United States tour. A representative of the Duke said no change of arrangements had been made or was contemplated.

(The Baltimore Federation of Labor Wednesday "condemned" the Duke for planning to tour the United States with Charles E. Bedaux as his guide, terming Bedaux an "arch-enemy of Labor." The resolution contained the "slumming party" reference.

(Bedaux, an industrial engineer, is inventor of a work system which Labor men call the "stretch-out." Last night in New York Bedaux said he had telephoned the Duke, offering to withdraw as guide, but that the Duke had "positively and definitely waved aside" the suggestion.

(The Duke and Duchess were married at Bedaux' French chateau.)

The Duke and Duchess were invited to a luncheon to-day at the British Embassy in Paris—the second occasion upon which the Duke has been entertained by a British diplomatic official since the December abdication. He was entertained at Vienna by the British minister before his wedding.

The Duke and Duchess were expected to travel to Cherbourg tomorrow in a special coach or a special compartment to board the Bremen. Plans for their final evening in Paris were not announced.

Last night they were honor guests at a farewell dinner given by United States Ambassador William Bullitt. When the guests had dined, they adjourned to the music room where Stell Andersen, concert pianist, played Chopin and Mozart.

BRITAIN TO EXTEND ITS FILM QUOTA PLAN TEN YEARS

LONDON, Nov. 5—(CP Cable).—The House of Commons last night gave second reading without division to the cinematograph bill introduced by the government to extend for 10 years the quota system for Britain movie films that would have lapsed next March 31.

Terms of the bill were not made public as yet but it was authoritatively stated they adhered "most closely" to the White Paper issued last July 30.

The White Paper forecast legislation that would test films both on quality and cost before they could become part of the quota, or proportion of British films that must form part of the year's showing in British theatres. It forecast an eventual increase in the quota from the present 20 per cent. to 25 per cent. of showings but a decrease next year while the industry adjusts itself to the new law.

Moving second reading, Oliver Stanley, president of the Board of Trade, said the importance of the bill could not be exaggerated.

On Our Defence.

"We are on our defence as Westerners and as Democrats," he said. "The decadence of the West is just as much the talk of the bazaars of the East as the decay of democracy is the stock leader of newspapers of dictators.

"I do not want our defences to be made in Hollywood."

Mr. Stanley added that any film portraying an exotic and eccentric minority as the national element weakened British defences.

Tom Williams, Labor, said that under terms of the bill, films made in Canada which could satisfy American producers then could be sent to the United Kingdom to fill the quota.

G. Le M. Mander, Liberal, and Major J. Milner, Labor, both urged special provisions to deal with films from the Dominions, suggesting that any quota regulations should be reciprocal.

Mr. Sanley reviewed opportunities of producers in the United Kingdom as compared with those in the United States. In 1934 the United Kingdom had 4,300 motion picture houses, the United States 14,500; the British theatres 3,872,000 seats, the United States houses more than 10,000,000; British net receipts were £35,500,000 ($175,725,000), and the United States net receipts £140,000,000.

These figures represented the immense advantage the American producer had as against the British producer, he said. Great Britain must establish reasonable protection for British films, both as to quality and quantity.

I WAS NEVER SO EMBARRASSED

-FOR I KNEW THAT ACID-INDIGESTION WAS DISTRESSING TO ME AND OFFENSIVE TO OTHERS

BUT NOW—I JUST ALKALIZE THE EASY PHILLIPS' WAY

The quick way to alkalize is this: Take two teaspoons of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia 30 minutes after eating and drinking. Or, when among others—take two Phillips' Tablets that come in a small flat tin you carry in purse or vest pocket.—You do it unnoticed.

Relief is almost immediate. "Gas," nausea, acid breath and other offensive symptoms leave.—That "stuffed" feeling and pains from "acid indigestion" cease to annoy. You feel great.

This is the way, we believe, more doctors use than any other when alkalizing upset stomach.

"NERVOUS HEADACHES" RELIEVED TWO WAYS WITH "ASPIRIN"

Insist on "Aspirin" and simply do this—

All people who suffer occasionally from headaches ought to know this way to quick relief.

At the first sign of such pain, take two "Aspirin" tablets with a half glass of water. Sometimes if the pain is more severe, another dose is necessary later, according to directions.

If headaches keep coming back we advise you to see your own physician. He will look for the cause in order to correct it.

● "Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

THE REASON "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST

Drop an "Aspirin" tablet into a tumbler of water.

By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.

This speed of disintegration enables "Aspirin" tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pains a few minutes after taking.

DEAD DOG NEAR SEDORE'S BONES ADDS MYSTERY

BUSINESS INDEX UP TEN PER CENT OVER LAST YEAR

Car Loadings Increase; Building Soars 39%

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—(CP). —The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported to-day a "marked improvement" in Canadian economic conditions in the first nine months of 1937 was indicated by trend of major factors.

The index of the physical volume of business averaged 121.8, a gain of 10.8 per cent. over the standing in the same period of 1936.

The business index is based on 46 factors relating to trend in mineral production, manufacturing, construction, electric power and distribution. The factors are individually adjusted for seasonal tendencies and expressed as a percentage of the monthly average for the base year 1926.

Construction industry was active, amount of new contracts awarded was $178,000,000 compared with $128,000,000.

Building permits at $43,000,000 compared with $31,000,000 showed an increase of 39 per cent.

More Power Used.

Production of electric power was at a much higher level in the first part of 1937, the demand for power showing an important increase over the same period of 1936. Total output reached a new high point at 20.3 billion kilowatt hours as against 18.5 billion, a gain of nearly 10 per cent.

Car loadings showed appreciable increase. The total was 1,900,000 cars compared with 1,800,000, a gain of 7.2 per cent. Gross operating revenue of the Canadian National Railways on Canadian lines gained 8.8 per cent at $120,500,000 compared with 110,700,000. The gross revenue from railway operations of the Canadian Pacific Railway at $105,200,000 as against nearly $100,000,000, showed a gain of 5.2 per cent.

GARDENER'S BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

A spectacular blaze whose reflection could be seen throughout Peterborough city, completely destroyed a barn belonging to W. R. Arnott, market gardener, a mile south of the city on Saturday night.

Of undetermined origin, the blaze started at a time when no one was in the structure. Mr. Arnott was about 100 feet away when a neighbor shouted the alarm. The fire spread so rapidly that when one horse had been removed, efforts at further salvage was given up. The basement of the barn was filled with vegetables for sale during the winter, and the upper part contained some hay. Only $100 insurance was carried.

Mr. Arnott's loss is the second of its kind in three days in Otonabee Township. The barn and crops of W. Webster were destroyed last Thursday night.

2 SLAIN, 17 HURT HOLY LAND FRACAS

JERUSALEM, Nov. 8 (CP-Havas). —New clashes between British police and Arab terrorists, including an affray at the village of Silwan, in which two Arabs were slain and 17 wounded, increased tension in the Holy Land today.

The clash at Silwan, near Jerusalem, occurred last night as British troops centred their search for the terrorists who killed two Black Watch privates Friday in the village and its environs.

Curfew was imposed on the village after the British authorities had arrested three Arabs suspected of complicity in the slaying of the two soldiers, Thomas Hutchinson and Albert Milton.

The government also offered a $4,900 reward for information which might lead to the arrest of the murderers, and sentries patrolling military zones, including airfields and barracks, were ordered to shoot trespassers on sight.

Second Grave Raid One By Experts Spreads New Fear

Footprints Are Only Clues Left Around Grave; Mailboxes of Victim's Kin Watched for Notes

WOODBRIDGE, Ont., Nov. 8.—(CP)—Guards patrolled cemeteries within a radius of 20 miles of this suburban Toronto village today as posses of police and residents renewed at daybreak an intensive search for the body of 70-year-old William Thomson, stolen from its grave in Woodbridge graveyard.

Provincial constables kept close watch upon rural mail boxes and at the homes of Thomson's relatives in the hope of unearthing a clue to the perpetrators. It was thought the ghouls, as in the case of the stealing of Hayden Pope's body in Streetsville three weeks ago, might send threatening notes to those who knew the dead man.

The only clue in the Macabre mystery, plaster casts of footprints found near the despoiled grave were being studied by authorities. The prints were those of a man weighing apparently more than 300 pounds and wearing a size 12 shoe and of a man of average build.

Stolen Last Thursday?

The 125-pound body of Thomson, buried last Sept. 25, was believed to have been stolen Thursday night. The robbery was discovered Saturday by Kenneth Stevenson when the cemetery superintendent visited the grave. Men who "certainly knew their business" took the body, Stevenson said.

Police believed the crime was linked with the Streetsville case when the wasted, 60-pound body of Pope, 20, was lifted from its two-day-old grave. The "Streetsville ghouls" never have been found and since the robbery Oct. 12 several threatening notes have been sent to newspapers, relatives and friends of the dead youth.

A ransom note demanding $100 for the return of Pope's body was left in the casket but this had not been paid when his corpse was found in a ditch two days later seven miles from Streetsville which is not far dis-

NO REGIMENTATION OF ANY BUSINESS IS CONANT SLOGAN

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—(CP)—The Ontario government has set its face against the regimentation of business by law, Attorney General Gordon Conant told the Toronto Canadian Club in an address to-day in the United States there had been such an attempt.

"I suggest to you that the results achieved have, in many cases, been actually harmful—at the very best, the benefits have been almost microscopic as compared with the impairment of busines sand industry," he said, referring to activities of "regulatory bodies" set up in the United States.

Ontario legislation such as the Industrial Standards Act, the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Minimum Wage Act and acts pertaining to certain classes of corporations were "protective in their purpose."

"These acts are designed for the mutual benefit of all the three partners in business, capital, management and labor," he said. "They do not regulate the functions and policies of management of business. They exist for the protection of both capital and labor, and of the investing public."

Too Many Drains.

Reduction of Governmental expenditure and taxation to the irreducible minimums should be the goal ahead of Canadian legislators, said Mr. Conant. There were too many governmental bodies, all adding to the overhead. A dictatorship was the more economical method of government, but the British peoples would have none of this.

The democracies of the western world were confronting the problem of reducing governmental costs. In Canada particularly with 10 governments, offering largely overlapping services, the finding of a solution or means of readjustment was a matter of "stern, dire, emergent necessity."

The cost of government in Canada, including services to the public, had been estimated at more than $1,000,000,000 a year. Public debts totalled $5,800,000,000, approximately $533 a head. The governmental structure was sufficient for a nation of 50,000,000. The solution to this problem, created by "the over-optimism of our forefathers," was in the reduction of expenditure.

Canada, he said, might carry on spending more than she raised, living on resources actual and potential, but eventually if she continued to do so she would "meet the fate of all institutions which neglect

HALIBURTON MAN BURNS TO DEATH

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 8 (CP). — Harry Austin, 65, well-known resident of Haliburton, was burned to death yesterday at a cottage on the shore of Drag Lake, nine miles from Haliburton.

Austin, along with two other Haliburton residents, David Davidson and Ferdinand Sipe, were occupying the cottage belonging to Dr. L. H. Carrol of Haliburton, situated near the shore of Drag Lake.

Two cars were destroyed in the blaze, which demolished the cottage. It was believed a coal oil can from which Austin was pouring on a newly-lighted fire, became ignited and exploded.

Davidson and Sipe, sleeping in a nearby bedroom, rushed to Austin's assistance. Unsuccessful efforts were made to tear the burning clothing from his back.

Films Fail To Show Woman In Temple

Colombo, Ceylon, Nov. 8

A NATIVE woman who cannot be photographed has been found in an ancient temple deep in the jungles of Ceylon.

Four men who visited the temple to take photographs came upon a native woman in a state of "religious ecstasy." Never having witnessed a similar incident before, they exposed several feet of film in broad daylight, using three cameras. In all of them the woman was prominently in view. The films, when developed, show no trace of the woman.

Feels Good For 20 Years Yet Aberhart Replies To Claim "His Goose Is Cooked"

CALGARY, Nov. 8 (CP).—Premier Aberhart said last night Divine guidance is needed in the solution of Alberta's problems.

"Our problems must be solved by God. We can't hope for political parties to solve them," the Premier said in speaking at the Prophetic Bible Institute for the second time in the day.

In the afternoon he commented on prediction of D. M. Duggan, Alberta Conservative leader, in a speech at Medicine Hat October 22 that "within 30 days Social Credit will be buried in this province."

"In 14 days and 20 more hours they are going to cook my goose," said the Premier. "If they do then I will call on you again for your support and you will have to decide."

"No one in the old line parties knows what tomorrow will bring, much less a month from tomorrow," he said.

"If, perchance, my day of usefulness is extended—I feel able for 20 years yet—then I hope to see happiness and contentment from sea to sea all over Canada, the awakening of a great people, a new day, a new era."

3,500 Dairy Farmers First To Suffer If Toronto Homes Boycott Milk

Toronto, Nov. 8 (CP)

THE 3,500 dairy farmers who supply Toronto with milk will be the first to suffer if housewives in this city put into effect a threatened boycott in protest of a recent increase in the price of milk from 12 to 13 cents a quart, according to E. H. Clarke, secretary of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association.

In a statement issued last night, Mr. Clark said the price increase was made at the request of the milk producers themselves in order to pay for their greatly increased cost of production." He added that "even with the increase they will still be supplying milk to Toronto below cost of production."

Mrs. Bertha Lamb, a leader of organized Toronto housewives, announced at the same time the organization meeting of the "Toronto Housewives' Union" would be held in the Labor Temple tonight. At the meeting, she said, she will suggest that housewives reduce the amount of milk they buy until they get a reduced price.

February Seen New Date For Duke's Trip to U.S.

Expected To Return To Vienna —May Spend Winter With Rothschilds

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP).—A source close to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said today the couple had decided tentatively upon February as a possible new date for their postponed trip to the United States.

The Duke and Duchess believe that by that time "the criticism will have subsided," making the tour possible, one of their associates said. Postponement of the tour was announced Friday night. At that time the Duke said there had been "grave misconceptions" over his motives.

The couple expected to remain in Paris, at least until Armistice Day, when the Duke may participate, in memorial observances "in a completely unofficial capacity," their associates said. Despitches from Austria were that the Duke and Duchess might return to Vienna or to the Enzesfeld Castle of Baron Eugene de Rothschild for a short stay or to spend the winter.

Circles close to the former king said his plans for the immediate future still are indefinite. "Any departure in the night or any sudden move is out of the question," one of their associates asserted.

It was disclosed yesterday that the Duke had sent a message to President Roosevelt regretting he would be unable to make his scheduled call at the White House.

In the shipment was a Shetland pony taken to the West six years ago by a farmer for a Christmas present for his children. Shortage of feed is forcing the stock off the farms.

FOUR ARE INJURED TWO SERIOUSLY NEAR GREENBANK

LINDSAY, Nov. 8. — Returning home from the O.B.A.A. final ball game at Sunderland on Saturday, four Straffordville residents were critically injured when their car crashed through a wire fence and came to rest in a swamp near Greenbank.

The car was driven by Erba Johnston, who turned off the road to avoid a truck which suddenly appeared over the brow of a hill. Crashing through a fence the car smashed down several small trees before coming to rest.

Thomas Soper, owner of the car, sustained a broken back and internal injuries. Mrs. Erbe Johnston received a dislocated hip, broken leg and head lacerations, and the driver and Mrs. Soper sustained lacerations and bruises.

All four were removed to the Port Perry Hospital, where they were attended by Dr. C. Peterson. The doctor stated that Mr. Soper and Mrs. Johnston are in a serious condition but may recover.

MOTHER BEHIND MILK BOYCOTT IS SENT THREAT

Note Aimed at Baby; Rally Will Go Ahead

TORONTO, Nov. 8 (C.P.).—Mrs. Bertha Lamb, 23-year-old leader of an organized effort to boycott Toronto milk dealers for raising the price of milk, said to-day the life of her 11-months-old child was threatened in a letter delivered to her to-day.

The East-end woman, who has called a meeting to-night of housewives to protest 13-cents-a-squart milk, declared she was not fightened by the threatening letter which read:

"We realize you are under the impression that by holding the meeting on Monday night that you are doing the people of Toronto a favor —but let me warn you (and you won't be warned again, either) if you go ahead with your plan for a milk boycott you will be very sorry.

"In other words, just mind your own business. Remember, Mrs. Lamb, you have a very nice child—don't jeopardize its future."

The note was signed "M.A.O.T."

Mrs. Lamb said she expected to address hundreds of housewives tonight on the milk question. "That meeting is going to be held to-night unless they bomb us out," she declared.

Increase in the price of milk from 12 to 13 cents a quart on November 1 brought Mrs. Lamb into the limelight as a vigorous protestant of the raise.

FIVE DROWNINGS 3 OF THEM KIDDIES TOP WEEKEND TOLL

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—(CP).—Ontario to-day counted a week-end more like mid-July with five of the death toll of six, but the list read deaths due to drowning. A traffic accident accounted for the other fatality.

Two of the five drownings were in municipal reservoirs—at Bothwell and St. Thomas. An infant drowned in the water of a cooling tank 10 feet from a farm house near London.

Bobby Armes, 12-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Armes, R.R. 2, Glanworth, drowned Saturday in about two feet of water in the farm cooling tank used for chilling cans of milk.

Peter Johnson, 7, drowned Saturday in village reservoir at Bothwell, near Chatham, while attempting to recover his hat which had blown into the water.

Body of Corbett Doxtater, 42-year-old Indian, was found in the civic reservoir at St. Thomas early Sunday. Two persons found the body of Thomas McQuay, 65, in Kingston harbor Sunday.

Charles Brehmer, 65, Detroit, a former grocer, drowned in the Detroit River, near Amherstburg.

Thomas Honaghan, 29, died Saturday night while being taken to hospital after his car capsized when it rolled down a bank near Coe Hill, 60 miles north of Peterborough.

Alton Church Pastor To 'Boot' All Bootleggers Out

Starts Campaign After Being Warned To "Lay Off" Them Or Die An Orphan

ALTON, Ont., Nov. 8 (C.P.). — If any bootlegger is a member of Alton Baptist Church "he is going out on the end of my toe," promises Rev. John Hunter, doughty 31-year-old pastor of the church who now is engaged in a campaign to clean out bootleggers from his Peel County district 40 miles north-west of Toronto.

Opening his campaign last nigh he charged that Alton bootleggers had told him to "lay off" them or he would die an orphan. He also said that in a visit to a bootlegger in the village he had been told that "a member of my church was also a bootlegger, and that a wife of another bootlegger belonged to the United Church."

In his sermon, the text of which was "The Christian's Attitude Toward Drink," Mr. Hunter said: "A man who doesn't drink has a clear head. He doesn't get up in the morning with a big head following a night's carousing and then begin to look for another drink to clear his head."

"I know a boy in Alton 16 years of age who has started to drink," Mr. Hunter continued. "I have seen him staggering on the streets of this town. If you ask a man in Alton what kind of a drinker he is, he will reply moderate, but one moderate drinker is worse than half a dozen drun...rds as far as the example it sets."

The Baptist minister announced on Saturday he would begin his anti-bootlegger campaign after visits he said he had made to known illicit liquor establishments in the district. With his wife and two children, Mr. Hunter moved to Alton four months ago.

Biting Negro Ends Fictional Career Of Ace Brooklyn Detective

New York, Nov. 8. (AP)

DEATH, which Arthur (Frenchy) Demarrais, ace Brooklyn detective, dodged in a dozen thrilling exploits rivaling the fictional feats of a Philo Vance, caught up with him last night.

Demarrais, 41, a daring sleuth who made many of his most notable captures attired in white tie and tails, was called by Mrs. Virginia Lundy, Negro, to oust John Brown, 37, an unwelcome mentor.

Brown surrendered after striking Demarrais a glancing blow on the neck with a lead pipe. On the way to the station, however, the powerful Negro suddenly attacked the detective and bit and beat him savagely.

Although he had been bitten deeply in the face and neck and lost part of his nose and ear, Demarrais shot Brown twice, wounding him seriously. The detective was taken to a hospital where he lapsed into a coma and died.

Flinton Wood Dealer Thinks It His, Warned by Accused

Claims Woodman Told Him to Keep Hound Home; Saw Prisoner Taking Sedore's Wood, Car

NAPANEE, Ont., Nov. 8.—(CP)—A Supreme Court jury trying Robert Woodman for the murder of his bush farm neighbor, Aubrey Sedore, today heard Wilfrid Freeborn, Flinton wood-dealer, say he thought he owned a dead dog found near the spot where Sedore's charred remains were discovered last May 2.

Freeborn testified Woodman had told him to keep his dog tied because it was killing Woodman's rabbits. The witness said he had missed his hound, and that the body of a dog was found between 50 and 90 feet from the scene of the brush fire in which, the crown claims, Sedore's body was burned.

Other witnesses who testified today in the reopening of Woodman's trial after a week-end recess were Wilfred Freeborn, who cut wood on Sedore's property, Mrs. Arabella Wood, Flinton house-wife, and Stanley Yanch, Flinton store-keeper. All said the last time they saw Sedore was early in February.

Knife Like Sedores

A knife given police by Woodman's wife after Sedore's death and said by Sowers to resemble one owned by the dead man occupied the attention of the defence counsel at the opening of the cross-examination.

"You don't swear that the knife produced was Sedore's knife," Sowers was asked.

"No, but it was one exactly like the one purchased in Toronto the night before Christmas."

"Did you swear at the inquest that it was Sedore's knife?"

"I don't remember, but I know he had a knife with the letters 'I.X.L.' on the blade."

Mr. Simpson produced a new knife and Sowers said it was like the knife Sedore had bought in Toronto. The new knife was placed on exhibit.

Sowers said he was first questioned about the knife shortly after the

FOUL PLAY HINTED IN INDIAN DEATH, HUNT MAN, WOMAN

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Nov. 8 (CP) —Employees of the waterworks department stood guard today about the St. Thomas reservoir as police pressed an investigation into the death of Corbett Doxtator, 42-year-old Indian from the Muncey Reserve, near London.

Doxtator's body was found in the reservoir Sunday, five feet from the Indian's dilapidated automobile which rested in eight feet of water. All persons including newspapermen were barred from approaching the reservoir while police maintained silence on the case.

It was understood two persons, one described as an Indian woman and the other as a "foreigner" were sought by police for questioning. There were no marks of violence upon the body, found with the arms folded across the chest, but officials declined to say whether death was due to drowning.

Sees Top Of Car

Edward Ball, pumping station engineer, first saw the top of the car protruding above the water when he reported for work. It was believed to have left the scenic driveway encircling the reservoir and rolled down a slope into the water just before midnight Saturday night.

It was at that hour that Charles Kettlewell, another waterworks employee, reported seeing an automobile in the vicinity. When taken from the water, the car, an old model, was said to have been undamaged except for the windshield, of which the top half was missing. The doors were said to have been closed.

Doxtator was with his brother, James Doxtator, until 10 p.m. Saturday. The two were in a billiard parlor until that time. James said Sunday he had learned his brother was seen later in the company of an Indian woman and a "foreigner."

Port Hope Lad 5 Badly Burned

PORT HOPE, Nov. 9.—(CP).—Everett McMurray, five, was admitted to hospital to-day suffering severe burns after two hardware clerks had saved him from probable death. The boy's clothing, believed wetted by gasoline when he played around a nearby garage, was set flaming by a bonfire.

William Lowe and Cecil Smith rushed to the child's aid when they heard his screams and with their coats smothered the fire. Dr. R. P. Vivian said had they been a minute later the boy certainly would have lost his life.

JAPS BOMB TRAIN, 200 CASUALTIES

NANKING, Nov. 8 (CP-Havas)— More than 200 persons were killed or wounded today by a Japanese aerial attack on the "Blue Express," passenger train of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.

The attack occurred near Hsuchow, in Kiangsu province which lies to the immediate north of Shanghai.

Formerly making the run between Shanghai and Peiping, the "Blue Express" has been operating irregularly on that section of the Shanghai-Nanking and Tientsin-Pukow Railways still under Chinese control, making its northern terminus at Tsinan, the capital of Shantung province.

Six Japanese planes destroyed seven coaches of the south-bound express.

The railways ministry declared the train carried no troops.

8 DOCTORS AT SIDE OF QUEEN MARIE

BUCHAREST, Nov. 8 (AP)—Illness of dowager Queen Marie dampened enthusiasm today for what otherwise would have been a joyous occasion, the celebration of Prince Mihai's name day.

The 61-year-old queen suffered a recurrence of internal hemorrhage which she had experienced last March. Pending a consultation of eight specialists summoned to her bedside in Zotroseni Castle, there was no official report on the seriousness of her condition.

Plans for a parade in honor of Prince Mihai were not changed, King Carol cancelled a hunting excursion and the queen's daughter, Queen Marie of Yugoslavia, was summoned to the castle.

YOUNG AVIATOR AND GIRL FRIEND CRASH VICTMS

Plunge Unnoticed At Quebec Airport

QUEBEC, Nov. 7.—(CP)—An inquest will be held today into the deaths of Miss Delia Parent, 24, and J. A. G. Vallerand, 32, killed when the biplane Vallerand was piloting crashed on the landing field at Quebec airport.

No one saw the plane hurtle to earth yesterday but motorists who had watched it a few minutes before said it must have fallen from a height of 400 or 500 feet.

Vallerand, son of J. Achille Vallerand of Quebec Agriculture Department, took up aviation as a hobby six years ago and held a pilot's license. He had several hundred flying hours to his credit.

HEAD OF NURSES UPHOLDS U.S. BAN

TORONTO, Nov. 8 (CP)—Placing of a ban against job-seeking Canadian nurses entering the United States is not unfair, Miss Jean Gunn, superintendent of nurses at Toronto General Hospital and first vice-president of the International Council of Nurses, said last night.

At New York Immigration Commissioner James Houghteling said immediate steps would be taken to prevent further entry of Canadian nurses into the U.S. The National Nurses' Association there recently protested their entry to take jobs.

The number of Canadian nurses going to the United States from Ontario had decreased considerably in recent months, Miss Gunn commented. She believed the ban would make little difference, adding that the American nurses apparently were seeking work for their own graduates.

"Besides, some Canadian nurses might go over there without the assurance of work and the United States would have them on their hands," she said.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Thompson of Edmonton, and Mrs. Sabison of Toronto.

FIND TRACES, INCAS IN PENNSYLVANIA

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP)—G. S. Fisher, chief of the Pennsylvania historical survey of the state historical commission said today he had uncovered evidence that ancient Inca Indians once roamed Pennsylvania and said the discovery would undoubtedly cause revision of history text books.

Fisher described the discovery as a symbolical effigy of a "thunderbird" 'or spread eagle, carved in clay, and bits of pottery known to be solely the handiwork of the Incas.

Only the Incas, he said, worshipped the "thunderbird." The sacred symbol, measuring 14 feet from wing tip to wing tip and six feet in length, was discovered on the farm of William Metzger in Union township, Washington county.

Fisher said that, although it was probably the work of an artisan of 3,000 years ago, it was in a good state of preservation.

The bits of pottery were distinguisable as Inca work by their quill-like incising, a peculiarity of that tribe, declared Fisher.

"The evidence that the Incas were once here is indisputable," he said, adding, "whence they came and where they went remains to be learned."

Wreckers Get Montreal Kirk With 115-Year History

Used To Rent Basement To Pork-Packer Back In "Lean Days"

MONTREAL, Nov. 8—(CP)— The American Presbyterian Church here which once housed a pork-packing shop and again served as a sounding board for one of William Jenning Bryan's famed speeches on peace nears the end of its 100-year history.

As workmen start wrecking the building, yellowed pages recall the church's beginning on a blustery December day in 1822. From a conference table emerged the "American Presbyterian Society" and plans for a new church. A small building was erected in succeeding months.

In lean days the basement was rented out to a pork-packer and words of worship mingled with the chatter of workers below stairs. In 1850 with a return to better times, the basement was given an airing and turned into a Sunday school. Ten years later the congregation moved into the building now being demolished. In 1934 the end began with amalgation of the congregation with that of Erskine Church and a move to new quarters as the Erskine and American United Church. A badminton court was put in the old building and it re-echoed to modern dance tunes once a month. But now it's in the wreckers' hands.

FLOOD CONTROL, REFORESTATION ACTION PUSHED

TORONTO, November 8—(CP).—Switching a searchlight on flood control and reforestation, the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at their 26th annual meeting here Friday will discuss means of preventing floods like those that ravaged Western Ontario last Spring.

A resolution of Toronto Board of Trade calls for appointment by the Ontario Government of a board of qualified engineers and "other competent persons" to make complete survey of the situation. Last April millions of dollars damage was done and thousands were forced from their homes when the Thames, Grand and other Western Ontario rivers broke their bounds.

The Toronto resolution suggests inquiry into:

1.—The areas of waste and submarginal land not suited to agriculture and available for reforestation.

2.—The preservation of swamps and other upland water areas as permanent sources of water supply.

3.—Factors affecting soil erosion.

4—Stream pollution.

5—Water supply for agricultural, industrial and domestic uses.

6—Assessment of swamp land and forest areas.

7—Generally, all factors affecting stream flow and ground water levels and the conservation thereof.

Want Early Action

The government is urged to take early remedial measures not only in the interests of the saving of life, damage to property and interference with water supplies, but also in the interests of public health. The inquiry board would hear all interested parties and suggest remedial measures.

A second resolution from Belleville Chamber of Commerce will deal with reforestation, citing that "the forest resources of the province have been depleted, and especially in white pine, white and black ash, white, red and black oak, rock elm, hickory and all the more valuable timbers almost to the point of exhaustion."

It urges upon the government "a more comprehensive policy" in regard to reforestation.

The meeting will hear W. H. Porter, managing editor of The Farmers' Advocate of London, speak on flood control and conservation. Mr. Porter is a leader in reforestation movements.

Russell T. Kelley is president and T. Marshall secretary-treasurer of the organization which will bring together delegates from many parts of Ontario.

this vital principle and terminate in chaos and bankruptcy."

First to Balance Budget.

Ontario was the first senior government in Canada to balance its budget, he said. The government was determined to continue the practices and principles which produced the 1937 budget surplus. It was to be hoped other governments would follow.

On the question of government in business Mr. Conant said: "It is my firm conviction that the less government interferes with business, the better it is for business and the better it is for the government." He listed the various regulatory bodies set up by the United States Federal Government in recent years.

"All were efforts to mould business in accordance with the desires of the government and to restrict business operations," he said.

Modern developments in economics, finance and transportation made necessary some governmental concern with the conduct of business. There must be some modification of the old maxim, 'Competition is the life of trade.' He listed various Ontario statutes.

"These acts are designed for the mutual benefit of all there partners in business, capital, management and labor," he said. They were designed to give labor a fair share of the profits of industry and thus preserve industrial peace.

FLINTON WOODMAN THOUGHT DOG HIS

charred bones of a human being were found in the remains of a bush fire that occurred on Sedore's properly early last May.

The witness said he was not shown the knife Mrs. Woodman had given police before he identified it.

Cut Trees Together

Sowers said he and Sedore had cut Christmas trees together last winter. They began the cutting shortly after the hunting season and Sedore lived with him most of the time during that period, although he went home quite often.

"Did Sedore ever tell you he was going home to hide his money?"

"No, but he borrowed my car twice during the summer to go home.

"What knowledge did you have of Sedore having money?"

"Only the once, when he gave me $22 from a jar hidden by the gate."

"Did you know where Sedore had his money hidden?"

"Only the one place."

Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland assured the witness of protection by the court as the defence counsel questioned him regarding the Christmas tree cutting. He did not know how much money Sedore made from the enterprise.

Sowers said he did not think it was any of his business when asked by the lawyer as to why he did not inquire into Sedore's disappearance, since he was a good friend of the man. The witness had last seen Sedore on February 11 or 12. Sedore's remains were found May 2.

Trees Netted $100.

Crown Prosecutor C. P. Hope, K.C., re-examined Sowers after a recess. Sowers said he cleared $100 from the sale of Christmas trees. The first enquiries he made about Sedore's disappearance was when he asked Constable Mont. Wood if he had seen the man. Sedore had left his traps at Sowers' house. Sowers said he had asked Woodman at the same time if he had seen Sedore and the accused replied "No."

Mrs. Arabella Wood of Flinton, three miles from the neighboring bush farms of Sedore and Woodman, said the last time she saw Sedore was between February 8 and 13 when he walked past her house carrying two loaves of bread.

"What was so extraordinary of a man passing carrying bread?" Mr. Justice McFarland asked.

She said her husband had remarked at the time:

"That's all that fellow eats, bread, potatoes and beans."

Threatened by Sister.

She testified Woodman was not well off financially. "We often helped him," she said. Once she had gone to the Woodman home. The accused was pacing up and down the house. His sister said then she testified: "Sit down or I'll knock you down."

The last day Andrew Lloyd of Flinton saw Sedore was February 11. He told the court he remembered the date because he had been cutting wood on Sedore's lot and was not paid for it.

Sales of Canadian wheat for export were estimated at 390,000 bushels.

could not pay farmers more for raw milk without passing the increase on the consumer. It was the farmer's representatives who asked the price revision resulting in the retail price being increased one cent, to 13 cents a quart.

The statement said: "It is worthy of note that none of the larger dairies, which have been under criticism as making excessive profits, accrued sufficient income from their fluid milk operations to pay dividends in 1936."

Twenty-two dairies who supplied 77 per cent of the milk sold retail in Toronto had a net income of $70,994 on sales of $7,267,027 the Milk Board said. This was 11-100ths of a cent a quart.

Lost In Dummer Swamp 'Coon Hunters Had To Spend Night In The Open

PENETRATING some of the wild bush country in Dummer Township near the shores of Stoney Lake over the week-end, Reg. Doubt and Bill Garner, were forced to remain out all night when they got lost in a swamp while out after raccoons. The pair —both Examiner employees were strangely silent about their hunting trip on their return to the office Monday morning. As a matter of fact they tactfully refrained from discussing the subject and studiously sought to turn conversation into other channels at the mere mention of hunting.

The former particularly, had good reason for wishing his weekend exploits off the record. During a period of over eight years as telegraph editor he has built up quite a reputation as a hunter of bears and other wild life, but has yet to produce evidence of his alleged prowess in this regard. Reports trickling in from the north country indicate that the hunt was jinxed from the start. Reg and his hunting friend, to say nothing of two Kentucky hounds they had with them,

REV. WM. STOCKS GUEST-SPEAKER AT W.I. MEETING

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Nov. 8.—Rev. Wm. Stocks, rector of St. James' Anglican church, Roseneath, and St. George's church, Hastings, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Stocks' subject was "Peace and International Relationship."

Mr. Stocks spoke of the great need for peace and the problem of peace in its relation to the world. "Peace," he said, "is not stagnation, it means harmony in service. Harmony in service in community work, and all social and religious activities. Economic problem, social injustices and social wrongs figure largely in peace problems. Manufacture of armaments remains at a high level and continues to menace the peace of the world.

At the Cross Road

"Civilization is at the cross roads, we are told, with very little sense of security in peace."

Mr. Stocks then mentioned and recommended H. G. Wells' "Things to Come"; "Zero Hour" by Froud; "Cavalcade" by Noel Coward, and a work by the Japanese write, Kagawa, as books to read and study in presenting the horrors of future wars.

Continuing, the speaker said, "There are three views of war: pacificsm, a portion of people believing war is always wrong; the second view where war may be justifiable to protect the weak from oppression and right wrongs to the innocent, and the third view where politicians must be obeyed in declaring war."

Speaking of solutions Mr. Stocks touched on the ancient Roman civilization and culture. "The Roman walls," he said, "are gone, but their roads remain; walls divide, but roads unite. There is needed broad-minded leadership of the nations. The highway of heroism, of faith, and true liberty, sympathy, tolerance forgiveness, is needed if the world is to recover and go forward to a realization of God's purpose in the work of righteousness and peace. As a Remembrance Day dedication, pledge yourselves to the Master's way of sacrifice and love, that peace and righetousness may abide in home, community and nation."

Mr. Stocks, on request, favored the gathering with a piano instrumental. He was accorded a hearty vote of appreciation by the society.

The meeting was held in the town hall with Mrs. Kennard as hostess and the president, Mrs. B. Thackeray presiding.

Mrs. L. Turner, Mrs. C. W. Varcoe and Miss Jessie Smith sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say." There was a lucky chair prize won by Mrs. Robert Mouncey, and a door prize won by Mrs. W. Smith. Mrs. M. Radley arranged a contest. The roll call was "Thoughts on Peace."

The singing of the National Anthem closed the meeting and the hostess, assisted by Misses Ruby Blodgett, Jessie Smith and Jean George served refreshments. There were forty-five present.

Mrs. J. W. Pacey will be hostess for the December meeting, and Mrs. S. Waller and Mrs. Edgar Carew are a program committee.

Making "Whoopee" At The Zoo

The two-dollar name for this animal is for scientists only, but to ordinary mortals the little fellow in the black and white ensemble is a panda—a giant panda, at that, and the only one in captivity. He's shown making a little "whoopee" at the Brookfield zoo in Chicago where he lives after being brought as a young panda from the mountains of remote Tibet. No, he didn't get that black eye from the swinging apple.

BUILDER SPEEDS NEW POST OFFICE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Nov. 8.—The work on the new Havelock Post Office is well under way, with the frame house removed from the site at the corner of Oak and Ottawa Streets, and the excavation work in progress.

The amount of the contract price for the new building, awarded to the T. A. Brown Company of Peterborough, was $9,460. Contractor Brown expects to rush the handsome new structure to completion as rapidly as possible, and its erection on that prominent site will be a decided asset to the village.

NEW LAW CRIMPS PETTY SMUGGLING

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—(CP).—Petty smuggling has practically disappeared since the change in the customs law permitting Canadian residents to return from the United States with personal effects to the value of $100 free of duty, it was stated in the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for the last fiscal year.

The commercial smuggler, however, reamins a problem for law-enforcement agencies, although the Mounties who handle all Canada's customs preventive and coastal patrol work are satisfied they cut down activities of liquor smugglers.

Their operations in stopping the movement of illicit alcohol across the border are considered in home degree responsible for an increase in illicit distilling of liquor in Canada.

Big dealers in illicit alcohol, finding it impossible to get enough supplies across the border to satisfy their bootlegger customers, took to making it in Canada.

The Agony Of Eczema

Eczema, or salt rheum, is one of the most torturing of itching skin diseases. The principal cause is bad blood, aided by inactive skin and inflammation. It manifests itself in small, round pimples or blisters which later on break and form crusts or scales, and the intense burning, itching and smarting are almost unbearable.

To eradicate eczema from the system it is necessary to give the blood a thorough cleansing, and for this purpose we would highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Joseph R. Berger, Millbank, Ont., writes:—"Several months ago I was troubled with eczema on my hands. I could not help with the milking my hands were so sore and itching, and could hardly put them in water.

After I had taken two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I found my hands were healing very quickly. I have never found a remedy to compare with B.B.B. for purifying the blood."

"If you would make friends, be friendly. Forget your own interests. Think of other people's interests.
"You can make more friends in two months by showing that you are interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to force other people to become interested in you."

"People are not interested in you—or in me. They are interested in themselves—first, last and all the time.
"When you see a group photograph that you are in, whose face do you look for first?"

"Ask yourself this question:—
"Why should people be interested in me unless I am first interested in them?
"If you merely try to impress people and get people interested in you, you will never have many true, sincere friends. Friends, real friends, are not made that way."

"But you can win the attention and time and cooperation of even the busiest, most sought after people by becoming genuinely interested in them.
"So if you want to make friends, put yourself out to do things for other people."

Right Thing To Do

The Assize Court jury trying Robert Woodman at Napanee for the murder of Aubrey Sedore announced its intention of visiting the scene of the tragedy near Flinton, 60 miles north of Napanee. It was stated the Crown prosecutor and defence counsel would accompany the jurors.

Whenever it is possible to do so, especially in a case where the life of a man is at stake or where a term of imprisonment may be the outcome, we believe the jurors should be taken to the scene of the case evidence of which they are going to hear. The reasons for it are so obvious that it is hardly necessary to refer to them. Witnesses in telling their stories will refer to certain places, fields, buildings or woods or roads, and after the jurors have gone over the ground they can follow this evidence with a great deal more clarity. We believe such a journey for a jury is time well spent.

Possibly He Means Well

Ald. McFarland of Hamilton has a plan and he took the thing down to council meeting to see what the others thought about it, and we learn the Board of Health has approved of the idea and principle involved but has stopped there for the moment.

Ald. McFarland wants to have an inspector from the Department of Health visit each home where the folk are going to move out and give the premises a looking over to see if everything is nice and clean. He gives a number of good reasons for his plan but toward the end says he believes in this way it would prevent vermin from being toted about from one place to another. Although he does not say so we take it that Mr. McFarland has special reference to such things as bed bugs, cockroaches and the like.

In a number of ways it is likely a swell enough idea, but also a dangerous one if Mr. McFarland considers keeping on being an alderman. When a family wants to move it will not be much of a compliment to have a man with a peak cap and a searchlight come and go romping through the premises to see whether there are bed bugs and cockroaches being left behind. The people in such a home will never again place a mark on the ballot paper for the man McFarland. They will be nursing the idea that he had a feeling in the back of his head that the family was made up of bed bug and cockroach citizens and they will hold it against him. We are no more in favor of bed bugs and cockroaches than any one else, but this man in Hamilton with his new scheme is just going out of his way to get himself defeated at the next election. Apart from that we have a suspicion that a good many people will feel there are sufficient inspectors on the path now without naming any to the Bed Bug and Cockroach department.

Telling Him To Stay Away

The Duke of Windsor has called off his proposed visit to United States. Possibly his wife will be disappointed because it would have been her first chance to visit the old home town along with her illustrious husband. There may be several reasons for cancelling the trip, but undoubtedly the deciding factor was the voice of American Labor which was outspokenly opposed to what it called his proposed "slum-visitation" under the guidance of Charles E. Bedaux. Bedaux has been a friend of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor for some time, but he is not popular with organized Labor because he is an efficiency engineer who put into operation what is called the "stretch-out" or "speed-up" system. So Labor in United States did not take kindly to a tour of inspection into improved housing conditions under the auspices of Mr. Bedaux. The likelihood is that American Labor had no objection to a visit from the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, but they did object to his guide and host.

The decision to abandon the trip was wise enough under the circumstances. For this reason: It would not be possible to guarantee that there would not be some sort of an unpleasant demonstration on account of the Bedaux sponsorship of the tour planned for the Windsors, and were such a thing to take place it would call for some fine diplomacy to have rubbed out the consequences. The Duke has no official standing on such a trip, but it is hard to get away from the fact that he was a former British monarch and is a brother of the present king.

Being served with what was nothing less than a plain rebuff by American Labor is a new experience for the Duke of Windsor. A more diplomatic method of telling the Duke that Labor did not like the company he was keeping could have been found. One cannot envy the Duke the position in which he finds himself, wandering as a man without a place of permanent abode from one place to another. We believe most folk in this country will feel sorry for him, but he created the present position and he will have to find his own solution.

Made-In-Peterborough Music

The Peterborough Philharmonic Society produced some made-in-Peterborough music in their first orchestral concert of the season which is well worth mentioning. When Harry Prevey, the conductor, arrived in this city less than two years ago there was no Philharmonic Society in existence. The talent was here but it was not developed as an orchestral unit. He had to start and find it and bring it together, and to use a common enough phrase that is starting from scratch. Now he has thirty musicians playing under his instruction. It may be that with the start of the boys' band idea in this city there will be more players to draw from in time to come. Mr. Prevey could do with a greater reed section, and he probably knows that, but again it may have come as a surprise to some to find a bassoon and a harp, both of them rare enough instruments.

There were selections played by the Philharmonic Society orchestra which had in them the full beauty and spirit of orchestration where the theme and its support moves quietly about without becoming blatant. When Mr. Prevey has already attained the point where his orchestra will do that for him he has indeed accomplished much and it means he will accomplish more. The Examiner believes citizens in general would entirely approve of Mr. Prevey being told plainly and sincerely that Peterborough heartily approves of all that he has accomplished since coming to the city. When arriving here he would have the option of going about attending to his own affairs or seeking to find a field where he could develop his own love of orchestration. He selected the latter and better course. So to you, Mr. Harry Prevey—a hearty thank you!

Front Page News

In these days when there is much confusion and a certain degree of unrest it is well to learn of at least one case where things appear to be going just about as they should.

True it is necessary to go quite a distance away from home to find an illustration, but from Milan, Mo., comes word regarding J. L. Shepherd who is the postmaster of the place and a reputable man indeed.

Mr. Shepherd is 62 years of age and he felt the need of new teeth. That is easy to understand as most folk have felt the same thing before that age. Mr. Shepherd went to the dentist to see about getting fitted for plates, so that would seem to indicate that Mr. Shepherd had previously shed his molars collectively or at intervals. And it would also indicate that he had been reduced to the stage where he would have to gum his victuals.

But the dentist instead of proceeding with the making of the plates did a little bit of exploration or excavation and found that the postmaster at 62 years of age was actually sprouting a new set of teeth top and bottom. So all he will need now is a bone ring or the handle of the spoonholder to bite his new teeth through and perhaps an occasional teething powder when he becomes fretful. After which he will have his upper and lower jaws filled with teeth firm in their own moorings.

It is well that news of that sort should be given broad notice. It shows that things are not so bad as people might otherwise think. Mr. Mussolini and Mr. Hitler and all other front-pagers make way for one day and allow Mr. Shepherd, the postmaster of Milan, Mo., to have his fling in print.

Toronto's Milk Price

The housewives in Toronto are talking of arranging a boycott against the dairies regarding the new price set for milk, 13 cents per quart having been approved by the Milk Board. There is talk also of organizing a municipal dairy. Reports indicate that drivers from a good many plants have already received word to cut the ordinary supply in two, while in some few places it has been decided to discontinue the use of milk entirely until the price comes down.

We learn the price paid to the producer in the Toronto area is approximately 5¼ cents per quart, leaving the distributor's share at 7¾ cents, and there are a number who say the "spread" is too great.

We doubt whether the operation of a municipal dairy would help matters, because as a rule it has not been shown that municipal management is any more effective than that of a private concern. The business of distributing milk in a city the size of Toronto is at best an intricate and somewhat complicated business. It is far removed from the stage where a man kept a cow and daily took some of the milk to neighbors living a short distance off. That close contact between producer and distributor does not exist. If the consumer in Toronto were able to take his pail or pitcher or bottle over to the man who kept the cow and carry away some milk he would probably get it at a much lower price than he is now paying. But he is not living that way. People in Toronto will have no idea where their supply of milk is produced. It is being taken in there from points a long way out and every last pint of it has to be moved by truck or train in order to take it to Toronto. Then it has to be pasteurized and bottled and delivered and we learn it costs 2½ cents to deliver a quart of milk. When the last financial statement of one of the dairy companies was presented there was reference to the amount which the government was taking in taxation and sales tax. Taxation was so heavy that it amounted to much more than the amount available for the shareholders who had their money invested in the business. The largest company in United States according to its statement for 1936 had made profit of one-ninth of a cent per quart on sale of 781,000,000 quarts of milk.

The increasing of the price of milk is not desirable because it is on an article which should be more generally used, but it is well to have a good deal of information before coming to the conclusion that the men in the dairy business have started off to make a killing at the expense of the consumer. It should be possible with all the machinery for fact finding in existence to show definitely just what comes in between the producer and consumer. The cost of each operation would be known and the amount of taxation would also be on record. With all these figures available it would be possible to judge intelligently and also to find whether our method of doing business is not in itself a factor in driving up the costs of living on a commodity which hits a number of families which are unable to bear increasing costs.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Northern Ontario town reports blueberry and strawberry bushes in blossom and dandelions in bloom. Are you listening, California?

During the last month we learn the price of food has dropped 1.1 per cent. News like that is enough to make one feel reckless with the week's pay.

Manitoba will sell motor licenses on the instalment. Soon we expect to find some province offering a bonus for folk to take the things out.

McMaster University made Lord Tweedsmuir Doctor of Letters at a special convocation. Canadians seem to be showing their regard for the Governor-General by degrees.

Three men in Pittsburg had $30,000, but it was counterfeit and the police arrested them. All of which makes us glad that if the funds are low they are in honest money.

British Minister of Labor Brown says it is bad policy to talk "slump" for depressions are caused that way. Something to that same effect could also be said about wars.

Spectacular lighting effects are promised for the National Motor Show in Toronto and they will have to be all of that if those new markers are to be read.

"We offer our co-operation to all but we accept dictation from none," says Anthony Eden and the British Foreign Secretary thereby showed that he at least can turn a neat phrase.

Northern Ontario is to be placed on an equal basis with the rest of the province in the matter of good roads. From the cost of some of those already built in that part of Ontario we had an idea the North has been getting more than its share.

There are five acres of potatoes left in the ground at Stratford civic gardens and people seem to be too busy to take them up. The Examiner had a letter from Beverley Sutton in Saskatchewan several weeks ago. On his father's farm there was planted to grain 441 acres and two large gardens. The entire harvest for 1937 amounted to one bag of potatoes. If Beverley could get to Stratford we dare say the boy would be glad to do the digging if he could send the spuds home.

¶ John Thomas prides himself I know, on putting up a fair front show, when he goes here and there; and he is faultless in his clothes, he likewise has a Grecian nose, he graces each affair.

¶ And ladies envy much his wife, for she must lead a happy life, her husband is a gem; and now and then I know they sigh, that's when John Thomas passes by, he's not like other men.

¶ He is so cultured in his ways so apt with any word of praise, such company is he; he is so pleasant and so smooth, just cut to fit the finest groove, like husbands ought to be.

¶ But when John Thomas is at home, he spend long hours as though alone, he's sulky in his ways; and for the wife who mends his socks, and fills with pickles all the crocks, he has no word of praise.

¶ He hollers at the children too, and tells them sharp what they should do, he'll some times pull an ear; and lots of times they seem afraid, for any little miss they've made, and seem to shake with fear.

¶ But when John Thomas sniffs the air, of some well figured out affair, he is a rose full-blown; but when he's home he's not the same, he'd give most folk an ache and pain—he'll holler and he'll groan.

ONE OF THE most important by-products of the manufacture of coke is tar and it is officially estimated that the steel industry in the United States last year recovered more than 420,000,000 gallons valued in excess of $18,000,000. Some of the tar was used as open-hearth fuel and the rest sold for further refining. Only a small quantity of tar is refined by steel company plants. The derivatives include drugs, flavoring extracts, dyes and lubrication greases.

Nearly 127,700,000 gallons of crude light oils such as benzol, toluol and naptha, valued at more than $14,400,000 were also by-products of the steel industry last year. Among the derivatives of these crude light oils, most of which are produced outside the industry are solvents, dyes, saccharin, perfumes, explosives and insecticides.

Almost $10,000,000 worth of ammonium sulphate, a valuable agricultural fertilizer and ammonia liquor, from which are made refrigerating gas, household ammonia and various chemicals were produced during the year.

Also a by-product of the manufacture of coke for the blast furnaces are the "screenings," coke dust or particles too small for blast furnace use. Almost $5,460,000 worth of screenings were produced last year, some of which was used by the industry as fuel for steam-generating boilers and the rest sold to other industrial plants.

The Royal Doctor.

VISCOUNT DAWSON of Penn, K. C. B., G. C. V. O., M.D., B. Sc., F. R. C. P. is the head of 53 famous physicians, surgeons, oculists and dentists who constitute the medical households of the British Royal Family. These men—no woman holds a royal appointment—are available at all times if any member of the family is ill. They are paid a retaining fee and when serious illness necessitates their constant presence they are given an extra honorarium.

Second to Lord Dawson is Lord Horder who was physician to the Duke of Windsor as Prince of Wales. Next comes Sir John Weir, second physician to Queen Mary.

The most modern appointment to the medical household is osteopath Sir Morten Smart the King's manipulative surgeon who was appointed by Edward when King. To Sir Morten King George goes regularly for treatment when suffering from rheumatic pains or aches.

The hardest worked of the entire group is Sir Stanley Hewett, surgeon apothecary to the King. Every day he drives to Buckingham Palace from his home in Cleveland Row, just behind St. James's Palace and examines any member of the Royal staff from high state official to footman and kitchen boys who are not feeling up to it. Sir Stanley is one of the eleven men, headed by Lord Dawson, who saved the life of King George in 1928.

The King and Queen Mary are the only members of the Royal family empowered to appoint physicians and surgeons. The Duke of Windsor also had that privilege when he was monarch and also as Prince of Wales. At Sandringham, Windsor and Balmoral special surgeon apothecaries act in the same way as does Sir Stanley Hewett in London.

Composite Aircraft.

ON THE MUDDY Medway, outside the long low sheds of Short Brothers, citizens of Rochester Eng recently saw linked together for the first time the Mayo composite aircraft which enthusiasts hope will bring India and New York within a day's non-stop flight. The invention of Major R. H. Mayo technical general manager of Imperial Airways, the composite aircraft consists of two machines, the 18-ton flying boat Maia on which is perched the four-engined seaplane Mercury.

Unable to leave the ground under its own power when fully loaded the sleek little mailplane Mercury will be lifted by its mother-ship Maia to some 5,000 feet in the air. When sufficient speed is attained the two ships will separate, Maia returning to its base and Mercury proceeding on its journey, eventually landing on its own pontoons. Cruising at considerably more than 170 miles per hour the ship will carry fuel for 3,500 miles.

The Maia has already been tested but tests with the two crafts linked together, making in effect an eight-engined plane will not begin for some time. The locking and releasing device by which the pilot will separate the upper plane when the composite is flying at 100 miles per hour has been thoroughly workshop-tested and will not again be moved or adjusted until the final test is made next spring.

According to St. John's Nfld fishermen shore fishing in that neighborhood is not what it used to be. Whereas crews a few years ago used to sail home with 300 to 400 quintals of codfish they find it difficult now to catch 40 quintals. The earthquake of 1929 and the subsequent tidal wave is one reason advanced for the change. Another theory broached by fishermen is the absence of whale along the coast in late years. It is believed that whales searching for food used to drive the codfish close to shore, making a plentiful catch for the fishermen.

They have stiff speed laws in Jamaica. Nowhere on the island can motorists drive over 25 miles an hour and escape a fine while in Kingston the limit is fifteen miles an hour.

Robbery Trial Will Win a Fortune

Peculiar Way in Which They Do Things in U.S. Carried From Court a Hero; Now for the Money

(Woodstock Sentinal-Review)

THE EXPECTED has happened in the case of mysterious John Montague, reputed miracle-worker in the realm of golf. He was acquitted on a seven-year-old charge of robbery with violence, by a jury at Elizabethtown, N. Y., and as he was carried out on the shoulders of wildly enthusiastic admirers, it was announced that he is already signed up on a contract whereby he will cash in on the immense publicity which he has been given from coast to coast since he was arrested in California and brought east to face the criminal charge.

It is estimated that Montague, or Laverne Moore, which is this remarkable gentleman's real name, will earn a million dollars through the notoriety which has marked his career of late. The contract covers all his potential activities as golf player, movie actor, radio speaker and writer. The holder of the contract is Everett Crosby, brother of Bing Crosby the crooner. It will continue for seven years.

Montague's life in California seems to have brought him into contract with certain movie actors and from them it was learned that he could do the most fantastic things in golf. If these yarns are true, then Montague or Moore is the outstanding freak in the history of golf.

But it is the robbery trial which is the intriguing thing at the moment. Anyone could have known that Montague would have been acquitted. The robbery charge was completely overshadowed by the ballyhoo in his favor which was carried on from the beginning. In fact, it would seem that the arrest and extradition was just the beginning of the remarkable build-up for commercial exploitation that is now revealed in this contract. That is the way they do things on the "other side." It may be satisfactory to a majority of the people there but we ought to be thankful that it would not "go over" in this country. It is the proof that ballyhoo is reaching heights in the United States undreamed of by even its most optimistic worshippers.

Bow and Arrow For Hunting Wolves

Large Size Affair Can Inflict Damage; Draw and Release Are Hard on the Fingers

(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

HARD ON THE heels of the news last week that one of the Algoma wolf hunters was armed only with a bow and arrow came a request from a Toronto newspaper for more particulars. The item stirred up a lot of interest.

The six foot bow and cloth yard shaft (28inches) is no mean arm. It was the most deadly primitive weapon that ever existed, and it may yet figure effectively in Algoma hunting. The club's bowman has demonstrated that he can sink the broad hunting point steel head arrow two inches into a tree at 90 yards. The "pull" necessary is 45 pounds, and he can hit an eight-inch target four times out of five at 30 yards. An arrow at that distance would go right through a wolf—or a man—or be effective at 100 yards.

Mr. George Phillips, our chief forester, is credited with being our most expert bowman.

It is interesting to learn also that the Indian arrow heads dug up so plentifully all over Ontario were carefully "chipped" to a design which made them hard to withdraw. The art has not been lost as the white man has taken it over and you can buy flints that are made on the same plan. The cutting edges have a sawlike arrangement purposely cut to rip. Hickory bows stand the weather better than those of ash or cedar, but those made of lemon wood coat most—from $20 and up.

Two Michigan counties will only allow hunters to use the bow and arrow. The expert use of these demands constant practice, and so is not likely to replace the shotgun and rifle in Algoma wolf hunts. They usually carry a pair of pliers to pull arrows out of trees. Sometimes they are not able to draw them. The "string" is made of a special kind of thread, and is said to have a very high tensile strength. But the draw and release are hard on the fingers.

It is recorded that in 1615 Samuel de Champlain, who went with a Huron war party from Ontario into what is now New York State, was wounded in the knee, and injured so severely that in the retreat he had to be carried on the back of an Indian for several days. He also had an Iroquois arrow through an ear.

Might Better Be Locked Up to Stay

Prisoner Now Dead Had Followed Life of Crime; First Offense When a Lad of 12 Years

(Ottawa Journal)

A NEGRO murderer awaiting execution was found dead in his cell in the county jail at Kingston the other day. His record of crime was 27 years long, started in 1910 when he was twelve years old.

This career opened with a sentence for theft and closed with a sentence for murder—the logical development, perhaps. Theft was followed by shopbreaking, housebreaking, assult, arson, the killing of a guard at Kingston penitentiary. Two brief trips to the United States seem to have been strictly professional, and each was followed by arrest, sentence, deportation to Ontario. There are fifteen or sixteen charges in this man's official record, and it must be presumed that he was not caught every time he committed a crime. His numerous jail terms were but intervals between his burglaries.

There could be provision in the law under which a proved incorrigible criminal can be put in penitentiary for the remainder of his life. If his record over a period of years shows that he goes on from crime to crime, that obviously he has declared war on society and that so long as he is at large he is a public menace, his right to liberty should lapse. It must have been clear to the authorities for years that there was not the faintest hope of reforming this man who died a convicted murderer. As it is clear to them in many cases, and the folly of turning such a man loose on the community after a year or two in jail, knowing well that he will return instantly to his lawless course, is apparent.

RADIO BEDTIME STORIES.

(Kitchener Record)

IT IS GRATIFYING to note that vigorous protests are being voiced across the line against the hair-raising type of bedtime stories.

George H. Payne, member of the Federal Communications Commission at Washington, declares that radio programs are overdue for reform in the matter of the fare they offer children. He objects particularly to the blood-curdling tales of gangsters, detectives and straight-shooters.

"I have had many communications condemning them," says Mr. Payne. "I had a man in here the other day who said, 'My child had a nightmare thinking he was being kidnapped and tortured after he had listened to one of those programs'."

Most parents on both sides of the border will probably agree with Mr. Payne whole-heartedly. After all, one does not need to be an expert psychologist to realize that nerve-wracking, fear-creating thrillers can be an over-stimulating emotional diet for a youngster.

JAIL WAS CROWDED.

(Walkerton Herald-Times)

WE HAVE heard of those who builded better than they knew, but the parties responsible for the erection of the Bruce County bastile 70 years ago underestimated the number of inmates that the county cooler would be called upon to accommodate in the year of Our Lord 1937, and so last week Governor Victor Bell, who escaped from a German prison camp during the World War because the accommodation was poor, found matters anything but to his liking when he was confronted with 25 candidates and only 24 cells in which to put them. The odd one was a lady and although her husband was in the klink at the time, the jailer put the pair in separate cells and doubled up two bachelors. In this he was following the legal rather than the moral code, which stipulates "What God has joined let no man put asunder."

Even the domestic fowl of Western Ontario have independent ideas if The Fergus News-Record is to be believed. It says:

Mrs. Alf. Morden, of Eramosa, owns a goose that is either very much behind or far in advance of the regular laying season. On Saturday night a nest was found containing nine eggs, and by yesterday the number had increased to 11. It will be interesting to learn, a few weeks hence, just what success Mrs. Goose has had in her enterprise.

BREAK YOUR MATCH.

(Detroit News)

THE SETTING of forest fires by campers can often be traced to a failure to put out their matches. We have in mind the curt command, "Break your match," with which our forests are posted.

"What good can it do to break a match?" asks the puzzled camper. Of course, anyone whom curiosity or a spirit of dumb obedience impels to follow the injuction will quickly fathom is hidden logic. Starting to break the match stick as soon as the flame dies, he will find that the head, though no longer glowing, is too hot to hold. Since the stick can't be broken without a hold on the head, he waits a moment. And when the head is finally cool enough to grasp for the breaking act, it is also cool enough to have been robbed of its menace to inflammable herbage and forest floors.

A Bible Message For To-day . . . .

(From the Authorized Version)

AND THE LORD GOD said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever: therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken. So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.—Gen. iii, 22-24.

Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. Ye have ploughed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies.—Hos. x. 12, 13.

The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great mercy. . . . The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down. . . . The Lord is nigh unto them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them. . . . My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.—Ps. cxlv. 8, 14, 19, 21.

To the Editor

THE WINE SHOP

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Great credit is due Alderman G. N. Gordon for his courageous and commendable stand before our City Council in moving that the Ontario Government be requested to have the wine shop in Peterborough closed stating "that said wine shop was placed here unrequested and unwanted." It is pleasing to note that while Alderman Gordon's suggestion was unanimously passed by our City Council, it was left for Alderman Gordon to make the move, and we commend him for his courageous step in the interest of a cleaner and safe City.

We need men like Alderman Gordon in our civic government who are unafraid to attack anything when it becomes a menace to society.

SCIENTISTS, HUH!

(Buffalo Courier-Express)

TWO HUNDRED psychologists, biologists and educators went to take a look at those Dionne girls. For half an hour, the learned 200 watched from behind a wire and glass screen around the quintuplets' playground while the five little girls "rode their velocipedes furiously, sang off key, swept the walk with small brooms" and did other things oblivious of the scientific eyes watching them.

And what was the scientists' verdict? Several said "Aren't they cute?" One said "Better than a five-ring circus" and another "Adorable!"

True, the scientists pulled themselves together long enough to go into a huddle out of which came this description of the famous five drawn up by a Toronto psychologist:

Yvonne—The most motherly.
Andette—The most aggressive.
Emilie—The most independent.
Cecile—The most unpredictable.
Marie—The most sympathetic.

But Allan R. Dafoe, M. D., the quintuplets' country doctor, produced a briefer and more pointed analysis when he remarked: "I would just say 'smart kids'."

And then the 200 wise men went away. Scientists, huh?

Talk On 'Deer Hunt' Pleases Seymour Contest Audience

James Umphrey Wins First Place Honors And Coveted Fraser Cup

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 8.—Winning over a field of ten other entries James Umphrey, the ten-year-old son of the S.S. No. 10, Trent River, school teacher, was awarded the Fraser Cup for first place in the Public and Separate Schools Oratorical Contest of Seymour Township held on Friday evening. Speaking in the High School auditorium which was well filled, the entries all gave speeches of a high calibre, which received the favorable comments of the judges. Harold B. Wood, the chairman, called on Robert Bateson, secretary of the Northumberland Ratepayers' Association to present the Fraser Cup to the first prize winner while John Curry, reeve of Seymour Township, presented the Township Cup to Jerene Brown, S.S. No. 10, whose subject, "Little Red Riding Hood" won for her second place. The Seymour West Women's Institute Cup was presented to Patricia Long who spoke on "George the Good", for third place, by Mrs. James Waters.

An interesting musical program was also provided under the skillful direction of A. Hazel, supervisor of music in the rural schools. The numbers included a violin solo by Earl Nelson; chorus by the English Line school; vocal solo by Jerene Brown; piano solo, Jim Umphrey, chorus by Connelly's School. Others who took part in the oratorical contest were Ruth Waters, Kathleen Craighead, Wilson Jones, Lawrence McConnell, Isabella Varco, Bruce Elmhirst, Marjorie Wallace and Grant McMillen.

It was the effective treatment which the ten-year-old winner gave to his subject, "Deer Hunting," as well as his fine delivery and enunciation which won for him the Fraser Cup. The fact that his speech contained a deal of humor which is usually sadly lacking in this type of address made him not only entertaining but indeed interesting.

"Have you ever in all your experience seen or heard tell of a hunter younger than I am going out on the watch?" he began. "Well, let me tell you that I have become an old and seasoned hunter having accompanied my dad (who by the way is not so good) on three occasions to hunt the noble red deer.

"When I was eight years old I went for the first time and although I had a very good time I did not see a deer running and of course if you do not see them it is very hard to shoot them. I meant business, as I had a twenty-two calibre rifle along with me. However the weather was cold and snow began to fall so our success was limited to nothing. My dad was on another watch and he says that he saw four deer and fired on them, but you know how it is with these green hunters—they always have a story to tell about the big one that got away.

"On our way out from the hunting camp that night we overtook a party of neighbors who had been fortunate enough to shoot a nice buck, quite close to the road, just a few minutes before we arrived.

"The next week-end we went back again and as Remembrance Day came on Monday we remained in camp from Saturday morning until Monday night and this time we covered a great deal more territory. In the morning our party had no luck but in the afternoon one of the mighty nimrods from our party fell asleep on a log with his back to a tree and was only awakened by a crashing through the bush. Much to his surprise and perhaps alarm, he saw a fine buck headed straight toward him. He had only time to throw up his rifle and fire two shots before the deer fell almost at his feet. On examining the deer we found one bullet hole and when questioning the hunter about the second bullet he naively explained that it went in the same hole as the first. The next day being Sunday and raining we spent most of the day in camp although my dad did go out for a walk in the bush and got lost although he wouldn't admit it. He was like the Indian who said, 'Indian not lost—wigwam lost.' However he managed to get back to camp by supper time as he usually does.

"Last year we returned to our happy hunting ground and one of our party reported to us that a bear had been eating at a deer which had been hung up in the big hardwood a few days before so it was decided to take the team and go out after it.

"Finally we arrived where the deer was hanging up and helped to cut it down and get it loaded. We had gone about a quarter of a mile when a deer which had been lying down jumped up and dad fired and it was the same old story—the deer got away. Up until that time that was the best view I had of a deer running and I was very much thrilled. About an hour later we came upon another deer which also got away though hit hard. We trailed it through the wood until nearly dark.

"Such have been my experiences as a deer hunter," concluded the youthful speaker, "and had it not been for the generosity of some of my dad's friends neither he nor some of the rest of us would have enjoyed the choice venison steaks that we have had during the past three seasons. We hope to go back this year and when you see me don't forget to ask 'Did you get the big one'?"

HASTINGS VILLAGE RELIEF ACCOUNTS SLIGHTLY HIGHER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 8.—The regular monthly meeting of the village council took place in the council chambers with all members present, on Friday night, with Reeve Fairman in the chair.

Correspondence was read from the files as follows: Campbellford Public School, per C. S. Haig, regarding splendid co-operation given at the time of the teachers' convention held here; election board, re expenses for past election; Mary Lynch, re broken windows on her property.

Fire Chief Fred Dodd reported that an old barn on Front street had been torn down, as part of his clean-up campaign and requested that the council attend to one remaining which should be demolished.

$116 Spent on Road Work

Reeve Fairman reported that $116.62 had been spent on Homewood avenue road surface and that it was taking care of some relief recipients who were willing to work. He also cited that the lots for sale near the old Radiator building could be sold more readily when this work was completed.

Frank Gilbert interviewed the council regarding the purchase of a lot or two west of Hill's restaurant and on the south side of Front. He stated that he did not want to spend over $100 each. The council have been holding these at $150. Stating that he had motored from Hamilton in order to interview the council, Mr. Gilbert said he had in mind putting up a building for a sports' store, 5c to $1 store and possibly a restaurant. The council decided to look over the properties, as their seemed to be some misunderstanding regarding the exact location of the lots.

Relief accounts for the past month totalled $84.85, which was slightly higher than last month. It was moved by C. Lynch, seconded by L. E. Kelly that the relief accounts be checked by the reeve and treasurer and if found in order to be paid in the regular way.

H. Dodd, chairman of the property committee, was given permission to spent $5 for repairs to the town scales recently leased to C. H. Gillespie.

By-law No. 781, confirming the appointment of tax collector R. W. Montgomery at $60 per year plus $7 for postage, was given three readings, signed, sealed and the corporate seal attached.

Temporary Constable

In the absence of W. Wellman, the council appointed James Calberry as village constable until such time that Mr. Wellman returns to the village.

The Norwood fire account was discussed, as the council had not as yet received any remuneration, although Reeve Fairman said he believed it had been passed at the Norwood session.

The Badminton Club were granted permission for the use of the town hall at $7.50 per month as per previous agreement, on a motion of H. Dodd, seconded by C. Lynch.

It was decided not to proclaim Thursday, November 11, a holiday but Hastings merchants will be requested to close their places of business during the services to be held at the monument at the town hall on that date.

Getting Anti-Racket War Started

Thomas Dewey, former special prosecutor for the metropolis, had waged a winning fight against rackets before his election. Now both he and the mayor will continue the fight if pre-election promises mean anything.

FUR COATS HAVE FRESH NEW LOOK THIS SEASON

Slender Fitted Lines, the Smaller Collars and Shorter Sleeves Are Some Variations That Mark New Models.

Courtesy Stein & Blaine
Seated, fitted mink coat; standing, fitted and full-skirted caracul model.

By LISBETH

Is there really more variety in fur coats this year than for some seasons past, or do I imagine it?

Perhaps the styling known as "chunky" accounts for the new look of many fur wraps, or maybe the tuxedo fronts have something to do with it. Coat collars, too, have a new look, and so do sleeves, particularly the bracelet length.

Again, new lengths probably account for a fresher appearance of the fur models. And the hats to match the coats are something else again. They may be wholly of fur or merely trimmed with it.

The two coats pictured are both full length models, but they have a decided 1937-38 look. The one at the right is a fitted black caracul with full skirt, rolled collar decorated with a large bow, and medium sleeves. It is worn with a little matching hat.

Fitted Mink

A luxurious fitted mink coat is shown left. It has the shorter sleeve, smaller collar, and the hat which is worn with it is trimmed with the mink.

Skunk is a well liked pelt this year, both in jackets and full-length coats. A seven-eighths model in that fur has the chunky lines I mentioned before in this article, and is collarless except for a velvet scarf which ties in a bow in front.

The casual looking model in finger-tip length and with the popular tuxedo collar usually has quite full sleeves, which contributes not a little to its comfortable, nonchalant air.

Squared shoulders, small rolled collar and three-quarters length distinguish a Persian lamb coat which has been very popular, according to reports.

W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Attend Special Service.

On Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Church, the Women's Missionary Society attended in large numbers for a special service. The different organizations, including the Afternoon Auxiliary, the Elizabeth Bell Auxiliary, the Mission Circle, C.G.I.T., and the Mission Band, were all well represented.

The service was led by Miss Fannie Dixon, who was assisted by Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, who led in prayer, and Miss Jean Johnston, who read the Scripture lesson. A lovely solo was sung by Mrs. Ford Turner.

The pastor, the Rev. E. W. Young, in his address, traced the history of the Women's Missionary Society from the three original branches from which it came, showing also the work of the Society at home and abroad at the present time.

A delightful feature of the service was the singing of a hymn by twenty-five children of the Mission Band, led by Miss Bella King. The attending members of the different organizations, one hundred and twenty in all, occupied seats in the centre of the church.

George Chandler Addresses Choir.

Forty-five members of All Saints' choir held a pleasant social evening at the close of the regular weekly practice, when a most interesting account was given by their choirmaster, George Chandler, of his trip with Mrs. Chandler to England during the past summer.

Introduced by the president, F. C. Roberts, the speaker described the voyage in detail from the departure from Peterborough to the last night on board ship, when the large dining-room on the Empress of Britain was brilliantly decorated with hundreds of toy balloons. At Tunbridge Wells, Mr. Chandler's home town in the Old Land, a great welcome was given the travellers by relatives. A number of well-known cathedrals were visited, including Norwich, where the speaker sang as a choir boy.

Mrs. F. C. Roberts and the Misses Edna Ford (Social convenor) and Winnie Lord (assistant) served delightful refreshments. The singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" closed the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. J. K. Hughes Hostess to I.O.D.E. Chapter.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. J. K. Hughes of Weller Street.

The Nine-Power-Pact now meeting in Brussels was discussed by Miss M. Bailey, for the Current Events topic. Miss Bailey's paper dealing with a subject so much before the public at the present time, held the interested attention of her audience from beginning to end.

An instructive paper on South Africa was given by Miss M. Hicks in the Empire Study period.

During the business meeting a report read from the relief committee showed that shoes and rubbers had been supplied to several needy school children. A donation has been forwarded by the Chapter to the Y.W.C.A. in support of their campaign. It was voted that two prizes be offered again this year to students obtaining the highest standing in Canadian history in the vocational and academic courses of the Collegiate Institute. A wreath will be placed by the Chapter on the Cenotaph during the memorial service on Armistice Day. On Saturday, December 4, the members of the Chapter intend holding their annual Christmas tea at the Y.W.C.A. Interesting additions to the tea will be a novelty booth and a home-made cooking booth. The draw will then be made for the tufted candlewick bedspread on which tickets are being sold at present.

Mrs. T. J. Carley was welcomed into the membership of the Chapter. Refreshments were served by Miss Rose Mulholland and her group.

Mrs. S. Connell Will Head W.M.S.

OMEMEE, Nov. 8.—The November meeting of the W.M.S. of Trinity United church was held at the parsonage Thursday with twenty-four members and five visitors present. Mrs. H. Deyell, leader of Group IV. was in the chair.

The theme for the meeting was "Peace". Mrs. MacTavish gave a reading and prayer for peace followed. Mrs. H. Lang then very ably gave a paper on the second chapter of the Study Book 'The New Church faces a New World."

A responsive reading lead by Mrs. MacTavish was given by Mrs. A. Stinson, Miss Race, Mrs. Vaughen and Mrs. H. Deyell.

Mrs. E. Cornell sang 'The Recessional" which was much enjoyed. Mrs. Forsythe read a short poem on "Peace." This concluded the devotional part of the meeting.

Mrs. Connell presided for the business part. Miss Race spoke on the missionary monthly, urging all W.M.S. members to take it. A letter of appreciation of sympathy was read by the secretary from Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Bradburn. After the roll call Mrs. Lamb read a letter from Mrs. Teir uring the society to greater effort in the work.

The offering was then taken, $2.15. The executive of the society had met the previous evening and nominated the officers for 1938. This list was read by the secretary, as follows:

Moved by Mrs. T. A. McConnell, and seconded by Mrs. Morecombe, that these be the officers for the next year. Carried.

Mrs. Lamb was authorized to buy new envelopes for next year. It was suggested by Mrs. Vaughan that W.M.S. members pay fees for members of the mission band who could not pay.

Try something NEW for your RHEUMATISM

The old saying: "Times change and we with Time" applies to your Rheumatic pains in a way. What grandma found effective might be quite useless to you.

There is now available in Canada a rheumatic remedy that has had an outstanding record of success in Britain, where its popularity has been rapid and well deserved.

There's only one way to account for it. Fynnon Salt is the modern expression of the old "spa" treatment that was so good for those who could afford it. Fynnon Salt combines Sodium, Potassium, Lithium in its composition. One glass of Fynnon Salt is as beneficial as three glasses of mineral Spa Water. Being so rich in the very ingredients that are known to drive Rheumatic pains out of the system, it is making firm friends with tortured Rheumatic sufferers everywhere. You can turn confidently to Fynnon Salt. Take the daily dose for a week as a duty. After that, you'll take it as a pleasure — as an insurance against any return of the pains that have harried you for too long. Get a large 75c package of Fynnon Salt from your druggist. If you have any difficulty getting supplies, write: Laurentian Agencies, St. Gabriel Street, Montreal. 3

Ivanhoe Women Guests at Madoc

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MADOC, Nov. 8.—On Tuesday Madoc Women's Institute entertained members of Ivanhoe Institute and Mrs. W. C. Sills, district president.

The meeting opened with the Institute Ode, Mrs. L. McCarey presiding. A cheery sing-song was conducted by Mrs. W. Hulin with Mrs. Charles Whytock as accompanist. Mrs. McCarey welcomed Mrs. Sills and the visitors of Ivanhoe branch, and reply was made by Mrs. Sills. Mrs. Sills spoke of her enjoyment in visiting the various branches and hoped to meet all again in Institute work. Mrs. Fleming of Ivanhoe gave a reading, "Through My Kitchen Window."

Mrs. T. L. Nickle, president of Madoc Branch, then introduced Mrs. Clarence Hayes of Georgetown as the honored guest speaker and spoke of the pleasure of all in having Ivanhoe members with us.

Mrs. Hayes, department speaker, spoke very eloquently on parliamentary procedure, of its origin and background in Canada and U.S.A. and mentioned that many differences occur, so that it is well to avoid any argument with our U.S. friends.

Mrs. Hayes spoke on motions, how made and how dealt with, discussions and nominations and elections, dealing lastly with the duties of a presiding chairman. All enjoyed this very instructive talk and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker. The Ivanhoe members also expressed their pleasure and thanks for the hospitality of the Madoc members.

The National Anthem was followed by a social half-hour while the hostess served tea, sandwiches and cake.

Tell Clever Fortunes to Entertain Your Friends

Painful silences? Wallflower evenings? You don't have them if you know even one of the ways to tell fortunes.

And fortunes aren't hard! One of the most interesting ways—card fortunes—you can learn in no time by practising on yourself.

First you pick your name card. If you're a girl with brown eyes and brown hair, for instance, you're a queen of clubs. Next you shuffle, cut, and deal into three piles. If the card which turned up in the cut appears in the pile with your name card your wish comes true. The nine of hearts is specially favorable to a wish; the two of hearts hints a proposal; the six of diamonds, a gift. Each card has its meaning.

You can even see fortunes in your log fire. Put salt on the blaze and watch for shapes in the flames and embers. If you see a flying bird you'll have good luck.

Our 32-page booklet shows you how to tell fortunes easily—tea leaves, horoscopes, dreams, cards, dominoes—and have grand fun at bazaars, parties.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of FUN WITH FORTUNE-TELLING to The Examiner's, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

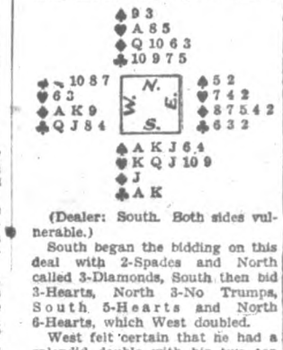
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BEWARE OF SHORTAGE!

BEWARE of two-suiters! Don't double the holder of one unless you are prepared to find a very freakish distribution, which will cause some of your high cards to be worthless. Be particularly careful if the bidder of the two suits has made some kind of a very strong bid. The chances are that his power consists of great length and solidity in those two suits, coupled with extreme shortage elsewhere.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South began the bidding on this deal with 2-Spades and North called 3-Diamonds, South then bid 3-Hearts, North 3-No Trumps, South 5-Hearts and North 6-Hearts, which West doubled.

West felt certain that he had a splendid double with his two top honors in diamonds, what he considered a sure trick in spades and a possible trick in clubs. It developed, however, that North had only two spades, so that the dummy was able to ruff two losing spades, setting up the fifth one, so that, much to West's chagrin, the contract was made by South with the loss of only one trick in diamonds.

Had West given due reflection to South's bidding, he would have been aware of the fact that the declarer held at least five hearts, which showed he also held at least five spades, having called that suit first, and therefore only three cards were held in the minors.

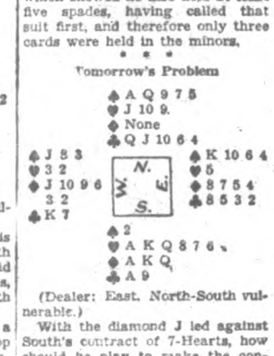
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

With the diamond J led against South's contract of 7-Hearts, how should he play to make the contract?

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Failure is only postponed success so long as courage "coaches" ambition. No one wave can batter down the rocks; It's the eternal pounding away of the surf, that changes the shore line. The habit of persistence is the habit of Victory."

Herbert Kaufman.

Dear Friends:

This is written for a middle-aged woman who is sadly discouraged, (Mrs. "B. I.") and according to her letter the surf has been pounding away at the shore-line of her life, until she is about ready to give up.

Now I know all about discouragement, it is with me every day. But why should I or you, Mrs. B.I. let our shore-line be changed against our will? If it is the will of God, bow your head as I have bowed mine, and been thankful that I did, for I have always found Him just and fair, giving me better than He took away.

But, if it is other people who are doing this to you, fight all you can. You have as much right to your life as anyone else has, as much right to a measure of success, of recognition of your work, so use these failures to wave in the face of the enemy, to show you will succeed yet in spite of all they do to hold you back. There is a core at the back of you, which no one can reach unless you let them, but once you let anyone reach you that far, you are finished and done for. From your letter, I am sure no one has reached that core yet.

So take fresh hold of your courage, not forgetting that many times success is just a little bit away just about the time you feel like giving up. "The darkest hour is just before dawn" has often been said, but it is true never-the-less.

Don't think you can feel as fresh and courageous as you did when you were younger. None of use do, for the years have been pounding away at us, the troubles have tired us, the disappointments have weakened us mentally and physically.

But—look back for a little while. Did any of these things get you down to stay down? Of course they didn't. You tried this and you tried that, and eventually emerged the victor.

And so I am confident you will emerge the victor again. This is just a dark mood that has come upon you, and you will have lost some of it in the writing to me, and knowing I fully understand and sympathise will restore your courage in full, give you your second wind, as it were, so that you will forge right ahead to victory. But don't forget that as soon as you ARE the victor, you will find some other problem waiting you. You say, "I wish I could relax, Roberta, I wish I could feel secure now that I am getting older." But you will never be able to relax until you draw your last breath.

And for security I have searched for it all my life and have yet to find it. As a psychologist I have studied those who came to me for advice, rich and poor, clever and ignorant, using their ability and not using it, young and old, and never yet have I found one who felt secure in all things.

I have come to the conclusion that we are not meant to feel very secure in this life, for this is not all there is to it. We start in the kindergarten which is birth, we progress through the different grades of youth and manhood, we try for honors as we head towards middle age, and we graduate at death.

Either we get the diploma of "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," or we hear those awful words, "Begone from Me, I never knew you." So, fight all you can despite all these discouragements, and I hope my words will be a light so that you can see more clearly the way you are going. Thank you for all the nice things you say of me. Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Agnes Says Duke's Decision Wise.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8.—(CP).—Miss Agnes Macphail, Member of the Canadian House of Commons, believes the Duke of Windsor was wise in postponing his visit to the United States.

"In the face of labor criticism it was wise that the Duke did not make his labor survey here," she told a forum of the Nebraska Society of Colonial Dames of America here last night. "It is unfortunate, however, that he was accused of not being really interested in labor. He has been interested in the workingman for years.'

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLLE

For Tuesday, November 9.

Judging by the lunar transits of this day, there are excellent prospects for increasing the possessions, solidifying the fortunes and reaching high goals while attaining some sort of conspicuous place in the public eye. This may all be achieved through the support of large corporations, diplomatic or political circles, secret societies or other strategic measures. Aim high, cultivating powerful personages. The private life should have pleasant reactions.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of splendid opportunities for doing productive work. Increased finances, position, prestige and public recognition are in store, wit the co-operation of powerful, possibly secret organizations. Home affairs should flourish.

A child born on this day may be splendidly endowed for high places, with enterprise, shrewdness, boldness and personal prestige attracting the support of influential persons or bodies.

Paralysis Wave Is On The Wane

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—(CP).—Dr. B. T. McGhie, Ontario Deputy Health Minister, said to-day he believed the infantile paralysis epidemic has been definitely arrested. Only 18 cases were reported last week, lowest since the disease reached epidemic proportions in June.

There were 2,486 cases reported from Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, the first case coming with the first week of the year. Dr. McGhie said no conclusions had been reached by the Department on the merits of the use of nasal sprays and other preventive measures.

"Some cases are still developing," he said. "Until we know all the facts we won't reach any conclusions."

STERLING JUMP GIVES STRENGTH TO SENIOR GOLDS

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—(CP).—Recent weakness of the United States dollar in European currencies is making the London quotation for bar gold look bigger on this side of the Atlantic and is stirring up enthusiasm for Canadian gold stocks.

Although the London price for bar gold dropped a half penny a fine ounce yesterday to 148 shillings, 6 pence, the New York equivalent in dollars was raised about 2 cents by reason of an advance of nearly two cents in the sterling quotation.

Dollar weakness and sterling strength put a New York value of $3.10 an ounce on gold yesterday, the highest equivalent in two years or more and the effect on the gold share market was like a shot in the arm.

On the Toronto market the senior golds led in the action. Dome showed a gain of $2.75 for the week, Lake Shore $2.50, McIntyre 3.10, Buffalo-Ankerite $1.10 and Hollinger 75 cents.

Other golds up 30 to 70 cents included OBrien, Wright Hargreaves, Pickle Crow, Central Patricia, Sylvanite, and Siscoe. Many of the juniors footed along with the leaders.

Copper Skids.

While the golds were putting on a small boom, a price of 11 cents for copper was announced in the United States, a straight cut of a half cent. This put the base metal stocks on the skids.

Electrolytic copper was quoted in London yesterday at £44 a long ton compared with £54 a month ago and £80 in the second week of March last when the current trend began. The decline therefore is 45 per cent in eight months. Lead is off £2-16 a ton to £16-5 in the month and more than 50 per cent in eight months while zinc shows a loss since March of 60 per cent.

The declines will cut into the earnings of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting and Noranda and, to a less extent in Nickel's earnings. Consolidated Smelters shows a loss of $5.50 for the week, while Nickel is down $4.50, Hudson Bay $3.25 and Noranda $1.50.

Industrial shares registered a three point decline.

HASTINGS SUPPER IS WELL ATTENDED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Nov. 8—As a climax to the 74th anniversary of Trinity United Church, the fowl supper which is yearly looked forward to with pleasure, was held on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Association, when almost three hundred were present.

The banquet tables were tastefully arranged and centred with vases of flowers. A staff of supply of good ants and a bountiful suply of good things assured the success of the supper hour after which the large gathering adjourned to the auditorium of the church where a real treat was in store for thiem.

Acting as chairman, the Rev. F. W. Newell, pastor of the church, welcomed the audience and introduced the numbers in the varied and interesting program. During the evening, Cunningham's 12-piece orchestra from Peterborough played delightful music between the numbers.

Rev. L. W. and Mrs. Scott of Roseneath were among those who contributed towards the program, the former gave a reading while Mrs. Scott rendered several pleasing solos.

Rev. Ferguson of Keene was also present and brought greetings and complimented the ladies who catered so efficiently. His daughter, Miss Dorothy Ferguson in her most charming manner sang that lovely favorite, "The Little Old Lady." Miss Bryce delighted the hearers with her solo, also as she in company with Miss D. Ferguson rendered a pleasing piano duet.

Much credit is due those who arranged the splendid program and to the ladies and all who contributed to the success of the evening. A second supper the following evening added to the proceeds of the annual affair.

W.M.S. Rally

The W.M.S. sectional rally for the district will be held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, Nov. 10th, commencing at 2 p.m. when representatives will be present from Warkworth, Campbellford, Norwood, Havelock, Westwood and Hastings. As the Hastings Society will be responsible for entertaining the ladies, a special meeting was held on Thursday afternoon to make all arrangements. Mrs. Brown was appointed to read the scripture and one musical number will be given by the local society.

Miss Frances Metcalfe is visiting friends in Campbellford.

POSSES SENT OUT AFTER GHOUL RAID

tant from here. Buoyed by the hope Thomson's body had similarly been discarded, farmers in this district today were searching all bypaths and ditches.

Cut Hole In Fence

The ghouls who took the body of Thomson apparently cut a hole in the cemetery's wire fence to carry the body away. The casket was left in the grave and the body aparently lifted by a rope, Stevenson said he believed only experts could have reached into the grave and unscrewed the lid of the casket.

No fingerprints were found on the discarded casket, placed in the vault of the cemetery chapel after the crime was discovered. No prints were found on the coffin of Pope which was lifted partly out of the grave and left to one side. A piece of rope was found beside the despoiled Streetsville grave but nothing was left by those who took Thomson's body.

Motive for the robbery puzzled police. Though well-to-do, Thomson disliked ornaments and no jewelry had been on the body when it was buried. The man had no known enemies who would have taken the body. He was the descendant of a pioneer Scottish family which settled in Woodbridge more than 100 years ago.

40 PLANES BOMB REBEL ZARAGOZA

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 8—(AP)—Forty fast warplanes were reported Saturday to have struck at Zaragoza, the heart of the insurgent offensive in Northeastern Spain.

Government reports said bombs caused terrific explosions and fires and had crashed into a large munitions depot at Zaragoza, headquarters of the insurgent fordes now strategically placed to advance into Government Spain.

In yesterday's aerial combat insurgents raided supply stations at Barbastro, a key government defence position, east of the insurgent headquarters, and the Catalan village of San Felix de Guixolos.

Extent of the damage in Zaragoza was not made known. A government communique said the planes bombed "military objectives" and returned safely. The insurgent communique said defending planes engaged the attackers over Zaragoza and downed one of them.

WHEAT FUTURES SKID EIGHT CENTS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 8—(CP)—General bearish sentiment depressed wheat futures on the Winnipeg grain exchange last week and prices slumped more than eight cents.

All positions touched new seasonal lows with values Friday 7¼ to 8½ cents down for the week, November at $1.13¼, December $1.08¼ and May $1.06¼.

Considerable pressure was evidenced in December and May and mills offered support on occasions but speculative interest was at low ebb. Export business was estimated at 1,500,000 bushels.

Bearish influences included large wheat shipments from Russia which reached 2,600,000 bushels for the week, bringing total clearances for the season to 20,752,000 bushels.

Another major factor in the decline was the slump in security and commodity markets and the situation in the United States where a large exportable wheat surplus is moving out of the country slower than expected.

Competition Is Responsible For Mess The World Is In George Street Forum Told

Co-operative Movement In Britain, Denmark And Sweden Described

Co-operation as it is exemplified in the co-operative movement in Great Britain, Denmark and Sweden, was suggested by Professor S. B. McCready as one of the possible remedies for the economic and social ills besetting the world, when as guest speaker he addressed the first of a series of winter meetings under auspices of George Street Men's Forum on Sunday afternoon.

Charles H. Elliott, president introduced Professor McCready to the gathering and welcomed all present at the outset of a second season of activity. Announcements respecting forthcoming meetings of the Forum were made by Secretary Allan Brown.

Speaking of war, disease and poverty as the three major evils hindering the progress of the world, Professor McCready thought if the co-operative scheme of things could replace them the world would be a better place. Changes in the educational system would be necessary to bring such a thing to realization, because such a change to co-operatylsm must have a proper education-al foundation, he said.

Changing Conditions

The Professor believed the world was going through a renaissance comparable to the French revolution or the transforming that was effected during Elizabethan times. All kinds of expealments were being tried and different views being expounded and the peoples of English speaking countries were trying to prove that through democracy better things might be attained than through Fascism, Nazism and Communism.

Competition, the speaker contended, was largely responsible for the mess in which the world found itself, and to get around to the co-operative idea there had to be a change in thinking and in the general outlook. Declaring that co-operation was the idea in the minds of a lot of people at the present time as a way out of trouble and chaos, Professor McCready asserted the co-operative movement was spreading so rapidly that today there are 140 countries represented in a co-operative Alliance.

He sketched the beginning of the co-operative movement and told the romantic story of how it was founded there ninety-three years ago among a group of twenty-eight weavers at Rochdale near Manchester.

Sound Principles

The fundamental principles on which it was founded he said, were: "One man one vote. No voting by proxy. A fair return equivalent to ordinary interest paid on capital, and all surplus profits paid back to those who created them, in proportion as they bought."

The co-operative movement had grown to such proportions in Great Britain, the speaker declared, that in 1935 there were 8,000,000 members and 1,300 societies, doing an annual business amounting to a hundred millions of dollars. Employing 301,-000 people, the speaker said, the co-operative societies provided for every human need. He believed the co-operative socities had been a great factor in raising the general standard of living in Britain and in spreading culture.

In Denmark, he stated, the co-operative movement was largely a rural one whereas in Britain it was chiefly confined to the towns and cities. Through co-operation and a close application to agricultural science, Professor McCready explained, Denmark had captured the British market in bacon, butter and eggs.

50-Years in Advance

"This co-operative movement," he said with reference to Denmark, "is the result largely of the right kind of education. Denmark has decidedly better rural schools than we have, while agriculture in Canada today is where Denmark was fifty years ago." The whole basis of production in Denmark, he said, was based on co-operation and there was not a new idea in agricultural science that was not put into immediate practice by the Danish people.

He touched briefly on the co-operative movement in Sweden and compared them to the Danes as a people with a lot of good common sense, with a fine rural school system and huge electric power projects. He said there was closest of co-operation between the government and private capital in the operation of Sweden's gold mines, tobacco factories, distilleries and so on.

While he had intended to touch on some aspects of the co-operative movement in Nova Scotia, where 102 small co-operatives have been organized, the speaker did not leave himself the time to deal with the subject.

Following a question period the speaker was tendered the hearty thanks of the group by Mr. Elliott.

With the first rays of the morning sun shining through the stained glass windows of St. John's Church, Tom Hooper renewed his Scout's promise and was invested into the 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Rover Crew. All present stayed and participated in Holy Communion, thus bringing to a close a splendid spiritual service in the path of good scouting:

A poor man served by thee shall make thee rich;
A rich man helped by thee shall make thee strong;
Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense
Of service which thou renderest.

GOOD HUNTING

"I was cutting wood a few weeks ago near the end of White Lake," one man said this morning "and I saw seven or eight deer in that neighborhood while I was there."

HEAD END COLLISION.

A motor car stated to be owned by James McMartin and driven by Miss A. Young, soaned on Highway 7, east of the city, late on Sunday afternoon. LIKES THEM BIG.

A hunter from Delhi, Ont. was in town on Saturday taking out a deer-hunting license. "We have lots up in our own neighborhood," he confided to the issuer of licenses, "but they are small animals. I know the deer down this way are bigger and I am hopeful of getting hold of a big one to take back with me."

LOST EQUIPMENT

The story is told of a Peterborough hunter on his way north the other day having his equipment stolen from him. It appears that a trailer broke down and was left on the side of the road until, repairs could be arranged. When the party got back to the trailer some marauder had carried off the store and equipment.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Douglas Morrison, 594 Aylmer street was driving his car north on Rubidge street Sunday night when he was involved in collision with another car driven by Orville Rowland, Fraserville which was proceeding east on Sherbrooke street. Morrison's car turned over as a result of the impact and the left rear wheel was wrenched off in addition to damages to the body of the vehicle. The front bumper and right springs of the Rowland car were smashed.

THE WORD CENOTAPH.

It might not be generally known that Cenotaph is an English word made up of two Greek words meaning "empty tomb," and that is exactly what a Cenotaph is. It is a monument erected in honor of some dead person or persons buried elsewhere. On Thursday of this week special Remembrance Day services at Cenotaphs throughout the world will do honor to the noble army of war dead who lie on a foreign field.

FIRST-AID COURSES.

Several city groups are taking first-aid courses under sponsorship of St. John Ambulance Association. An Industrial Accident Prevention group taking weekly lectures and practical work has been made up from volunteers from many different factories of the city. Another group has been made up solely from the C.G.E. Under the Corps Instructor, H. A. Craig, a group of Collegiate Cadets are taking the course, and a fourth group is from the ranks of the Prince of Wales Rangers. The Cadets and Rangers will be examined by officers appointed by Military District No. 3; the other groups by doctors appointed by the St. John Ambulance Association.

DOUBLY PENALIZED.

Fate frowned severely on an employee of the big plant in the south end who broke the factory rule of No Smoking in the lavatory, as inexorable as Medic law. He retired to that personal department on the heels of the attendant who had been sloshing and cleaning up with a liberal application of coal oil or gasoline. Thoughtlessly he dropped the lighted match in behind him, and instantly he rose up with the resulting flame from the gas fumes like the man who sat on a red hot stove. Not only was he painfully burned, but according to the story he was fired by the foreman who heard about the infraction of the lavatory regulation.

GUEST SOLOIST AT MURRAY STREET.

There was a large attendance at the monthly Communion service at Murray Street Baptist Church on Sunday morning. Austin S. Douglas, formerly bass-baritone soloist in the Yorkminster Baptist Church quartette, Toronto, was guest soloist. In the morning he sang "For He Shall Give His Angels Charge Over Thee" and "Come Ye Disconsolate." In the evening Mr. Douglas sang "The Good Shepherd" and "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy." All the numbers given by the singer were acceptable and appreciated. Possessed of a well-finished voice, resonant and clear and always under admirable control, Mr. Douglas added perfect diction, making his message in song particularly welcome. The choir in the morning sang "Great Is the Lord," and in the evening, "Trust In Him," the choir gallery being filled to capacity at both services.

TRAFFIC AT A FIRE.

It looked for a while late on Saturday afternoon as though it would be necessary to call a traffic expert to straighten out the lines of cars which had pulled up near the premises of W. T. Arnott, south of Dummer's Corners, attracted by the bright light of his burning barn. For a hundred yards or more cars were parked along the east side of the road, as near the ditch as safety would allow. Then cars kept on coming from both north and south and that made three cars abreast on a road which is none too wide for two. A few of the more daring drivers took to the ditch and made their way out but that was too much for the average driver. Finally when the blaze was pretty well over some person suggested getting drivers of the cars parked on the east side of the road to pull out in the order in which they had been parked, and then the situation was easy enough. For a time it looked as though some of the car owners were due to spend the evening there waiting for the mix-up to get cleared away.

ADAM AND FALLEN MAN

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday. The Golden Text was, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." Selections from the Bible included the following from Genesis 1:27, 2:1, "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. Thus the heavens and the earth were finished; and all the host of them." Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook included the following: "With a single command, Mind had made man, both male and female. How then could a material organization become the basis of man? How could the non-intelligent become the medium of Mind, and error be the enunciator of Truth? Matter is not the reflection of Spirit, yet God is reflected in all His creation. Is this addition to His creation real or unreal? Is it the truth, or is it a lie concerning man and God? It must be a lie, for God presently curses the ground."

MARMORA LEGION ATTENDS CHURCH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Nov. 8.—Members of Marmora Branch No. 237, Canadian Legion, and also of the Ladies' Auxiliary paraded to St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday evening, where divine service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth. After the singing of the Doxology the entire congregation stood with bowed heads as Comrade G. Brooks sounded the Last Post and Reveille. This was followed by the National Anthem, after which the service proceeded in its usual order.

The soloists for the evening were George Woodhouse, who rendered "Sunset and Evening Star" and Miss Flora Sanderson, who sang "Abide with Me."

The sermon was based upon St. Paul's words to the Ephesians, "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord." The preacher pointed out that as in the time of St. Paul we are still living in evil times and have the wiles of the devil to contend with. Our security is to put on the whole armour of God, and having done all, to stand.

Following the service the parade, which was in charge of Comrade T. Cousins, president of the Branch, returned to the Memorial Hall, where, as at the church, members were reminded of the service that is to be held at 10.30 a.m. on Remembrance

GERTRUDE POGUE ALLOWED TO STAY AT ADDIS ABABA

Gertrude Pogue, native of the Omemee district who remained in Ethiopia in the service of the Sudan Interior Mission throughout the Italo-Ethiopian war, is one of the few Canadian and American missionaries who have been allowed to remain in the country. The young woman is now located at the mission headquarters in Addis Ababa, it was learned today.

Marion Pogue, sister of the missionary employed in this city, states letters reveal she is well and happy. No word of the Italian administration or of the increasing restrictions on all but Italian Roman Catholic missionaries is contained in letters which have the appearance of having been opened and censored, she said.

Other members of the Sudan Interior Mission who have visited Canada since the war revealed that the Italians forced the Mission to close its posts in the Ethiopian interior. Activities are restricted to Addis Ababa and its immediate district where Italians can supervise, it is understood.

YOUTHS ARE HELD BREAK-IN COUNT

Two local youths were arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning charged with breaking and entering the Fitzpatrick and Geraghty store at Aylmer and Hunter streets with intent to commit theft.

Arthur Moore, 17, who entered a plea of guilty was remanded for sentence until Monday next, while the other youth was likewise remanded with a plea of not guilty.

The store was entered early Sunday morning, according to J. D. Fitzpatrick, but a check-up did not reveal that anything had been stolen. (It is probable the culprit was scared away while at work, the management of the store believed. Entry to the premises was gained by breaking open the lock of the front door.

Stated by the Chief of Police to have been "very violent when arrested," David Peters was fined $10 and $4.50 costs with the option of ten days on pleading guilty to an intoxication charge. A similar penalty was awarded to Louis Younis.

James McCliggott and Archie McBride both pleaded not guilty to joint charges of supplying liquor to a minor contrary to Section 83 of the Liquor Control Act of Ontario. At their own request the pair obtained adjournments until Monday next.

Scarlet Fever In Two Schools

Outbreaks of scarlet fever are reported at King Edward and Queen Mary public schools.

The M.O.H. told The Examiner the patients had been isolated at their respective homes and that contacts had been quarantined, to prevent possibility of any further spread of the outbreak. He emphasized there was no cause of alarm.

Fliers Get 5-1 Lead Over Local Gridders

Orfuns Drop First Of O.R.F.U. Playdown Series In Poor Display Of Rugby

Trenton Fliers took a 5-1 lead over the local Orfuns Saturday at the Airport in the first game of the O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" playdowns. Return match will be in Peterborough next Saturday, and the Aviators will bring a four-point lead in this two-game series. A good-sized crowd saw the fixture on the Trenton gridiron.

Orfuns looked bad in this fixture. They fumbled frequently and were weak in the line, playing their worst game of the season. The Airmen turned in a good straight brand of rugby. They only moved the yard-sticks twice and never tried a forward pass nor unorthodox play. They depended on a firm line, good tackling and a first-rate kicker. The booting between Crowe and Gibson was about even in the first half—depending on a strong wind which hampered the booters in alternate quarters—but Gibson outkicked Crowe in the last half. Trenton frequently kicked on the first down.

Gibson is Good

Gibson was outstanding for the winners, with Higgerty, Lecompte and Davis also good. The whole team was steady but not too outstanding. Just good straight gridders. For the losers, Kearns, Crowe and Mitchell were best most of the way. The local line looked weak at times, near the centre, and rival players barged through too often. Orfuns tried kick plays fairly often and five times attempted forward passes, but none of them clicked. They were within kicking distance several times but failed to capitalize on their chances. They had some costly fumbles and did not show the deadly tackling of their opponents over the whole route. The third frame was the big one for Coach Turnbull's team, but the gang held their own for most part—in spite of their bad showing and five times advanced on yards. It was 1-1 in the first heat and 4-1 at halftime, Fliers adding one in the fourth quarter.

Crowe fumbled on the kickoff and Higgerty got the ball on the visitors' 20-yard line. Gibson promptly kicking to deadline. Mitchell bucked for seven and Orfuns got yards. It was up an down, straight rugby, with a bunch of fumbles for a time. Loucks got eight around end and Orfuns gained yards again. Later, Kearns skirted right end for 45 yards to Trenton's 30-yard strip, and Crowe hoofed it to deadline to end the quarter at 1-1.

Fliers Get Three

Play was about even for a time in the second, the locals having several incompleted forward heaves. A short Peterborough kick gave Trenton the pigskin 35 yards out and Gibson kicked to deadline. The same thing almost happened again with Crowe kicking into the wind, but the latter ran the Fliers' boot out. Gibson got seven on a fake kick and end run at midfield but had to kick. On a short local boot, the Aviators got it again on the 35-yard line and Gibson again hoofed it to the deadline. An Orfun forward pass was incomplete. Begley bucked for six but dropped the ball and Davis flopped on it at the visitors' 40-yard chalk. Gibson kicked it over and Bradley tore in to rouge Loucks as the frame finished.

Orfuns more than held their own in the third and play was mostly in the Fliers' area. Loucks ran back a kick 20 yards and Mitchell bucked for five. Loucks tore off 25 around end to Trenton's 25-yard strip, but the kick was off to the side and run out. Crowe ran back a boot—as Gibson kept kicking on the first down—to their 40-yard mark but again Orfuns' kick was short. A local forward was incomplete, and Loucks' fumble gave them the ball on their own 40. Crowe ran back a kick 35 yards to their 45-yard line and Mitchell and Pulkinghorn ripped off good plunges but they finally had to kick. Lecompte bucked eight yards but they lost it and Pulkinghorn got six in the centre, the pigskin being in Orfuns' possession on their 30-yard line at the whistle.

Final Point

Kearns got five on an end run and Begley four on a plunge but penalties interfered with the locals' march. Both sides suffered for penalties in this heat through over-anxiousness and a bit of rough play. Higgerly ran back a kick 15 yards and Drake and Lecompte moved the sticks on plunges. Mitchell later got through for five but they were forced to hoof it down the gridiron. Higgerty and Davis plunged again to give Fliers yards for the second time, but the local line stiffened to hold them after that. On Crowe's kick, Smith got the ball in Peterborough's 40-yard line and Gibson booted to deadline for the last point on a nice corner boot. Crowe got yards around end and later Loucks ran back a boot 15 yards to his own 30. On the old Statue of Liberty play, Kearns ripped off eight around end to bring the ball nearer centre as the final whistle blew.

In the second quarter Payne was rouged by Cameron of Whitby for a single. Only one point was scored in the third quarter when Lucas kicked over the deadline. In the final quarter Clarke, Whitby, scored a touchdown which was converted by Barton, and Murray countered with a touchdown converted by Lucas.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

ORFUNS TOOK a 5-1 licking at the Trenton Airport on Saturday at the hands of the Fliers. It was the first game of the two-game O.R.F.U. intermediate "A" playdown series, return joust being here next Saturday. With points counting on the round. The winner advances in Ontario grid playdowns and the losers can break training anytime. Quite a gang of fans from Trenton and Belleville collected on the windswept flying field which the Airmen use for a rugby gridiron, and they saw a fair game. The Fliers are a little heavier than the locals but not as fast. Not as tricky either but much steadier, at least on Saturday. They play nothing but straight rugby—no nonsense about trick stuff or forward passing or anything like that. Nossuh, they have a good line, a dandy kicker and some nice tacklers. They just buck, pull a few end runs and kick. And kick and kick and kick. Quite often on the first down. In Gibson they have a nifty hoofer and they use him often.

* * * * * * *

THE LOCAL rugbyists on the other hand mix up their plays more. The Orfuns tried a bunch of forward passes and quite a few fake plays. But not many of 'em worked, none of the forwards at all. And our kicking fell down in the second half. In fact, the locals looked pretty terrible in this tilt. The line was weak and the whole gang fumbled badly and frequently. Like their hands were smeared with butter. They played poor football but still held the highly-rated Fliers to a 5-1 score, which shows what the Fliers are.

* * * * * * *

YEAH, THE Orfuns can beat the Airmen here next Saturday. They should win by two touchdowns. Or we'll quit predicting—and we've had a good season so far in crystal-ball gazing. Coach Bill Turnbull was highly disgusted after the tussle. He told us: "That outfit is no better than Lindsay. They haven't a thing but some straight football tactics and a good kicker. We should mop up on them at home if the gang will snap out of it. Our boys looked like they were at a practise session today." The players, too, agreed that they had played their worst game of the season.

* * * * * * *

DON'T GET us wrong—we're not saying the Trenton team is lousy. Those Fliers are no sissies. They are rugged and full of fight. And they stick to straight football, being quite satisfied with a point at a time instead of a touchdown. But the Orfuns, if they get back into their proper stride—as they were twice against Cobourg—will beat 'em any day in the week. The Liftlockers should have held them at least even right on the Fliers' own field. If our line gets some starch in it, our kickers boot 'em right in the clutches, and the whole bunch take a grip on the pigskin when it comes their way—well, it's a crash for the Airmen here next Saturday.

* * * * * * *

NOT TOO many of the locals rate a mention in this melee. Crowe did some nice booting in the first half and pulled off several good runs. Loucks and Kearns tramped for a lot of yardage, too. Mitchell plunged through the rival line for four and five yards every time he had the ball under his arm. Gibson gets the four-star rating for the winners, while Lecompte, Higgerty and Davis also looked good. The latter looks to stand—if you're an Orfun player—eight or nine feet high! Yessir, that game is over and the boys are quite willing to forget it. All but that four-point lead. But four points isn't much. We can recall when four-point-four wasn't much, too! Or are you a Prohibitionist? Anyway, we'll bet a few farthings on the Orfuns to win here and knock the Fliers into a terrific tailspin Saturday.

OVER AT Riverside on Saturday, the senior P.C.I.-ers wound up their C.O.S.S.A. schedule with a 19-0 smirk over Bowmanville High. They were slow getting started, scoring but two points in the first half, but they went to town with a bewildering attack the last session to rack up three neat touchdowns. Coach Bamforth's boys have a flock of fine, tricky open plays and when they click on 'em they look like champs. Diplock, Leether, Creighton, Thornton, Kelly and Curtin, all turned in nice showings. And the rest went well, too. The crew pulled one nifty cross-field forward heave off an extension that was a honey of richest flavor. Their group games are over now and they will wait for the Belleville-Marmora winner to enter playdowns.

* * * * * * *

OUR P.C.I. juniors were definitely eliminated here day before yesterday when Bowmanville took an 8-2 nod to keep their lead in this group. Coach Jackson's junior gang put up a nice battle but the visitors had a bit of an edge over most of the route. Lindsay lads were taking a 21-0 triumph at home over Oshawa the same day to stay in second place, a game back of Bowmanville. And this is the way it is likely to finish in this Lakeshore junior group, since Bowmanville should beat Oshawa next weekend and Lindsay lick the locals.

* * * * * * *

COBOURG GALLOPING Ghosts upheld the honor of this O.R.F.U. group on Saturday at home when they copped a 14-6 win over Kingston Garrisons. It was the first of their intermediate "B" playdowns, and the Rapid Wraiths ought to just about hold their margin and advance in playdowns. Meikle's fine hoofing again was a big factor plus touchdowns by Edwards and Jacobs. They had a 13-0 lead at halftime, but the husky Limestone City lads finished up stronger. This is the team that Ted Reeve, after looking 'em over one day in Kingston, said wasn't much behind senior O.R.F.U.-ers in calibre. Like the Fliers, the Garrisons play a hard-hitting straight brand of football. While Orfuns lost to Trenton, it still looks to us like play in this grouping is a little ahead of that in the Quinte sector. We'll know more about it next week.

BRONKS UPSET BLUE BOMBERS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 8 (CP)—Bronks of the foothills turned toward the football peaks today as they carried home to Calgary a three-point lead in the Western Canada championship playoff with Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Defeated 13-10 before 6,000 home fans Saturday, Bombers enter Bronks' Calgary corral for the deciding game of the total-point series Thursday, Armistice Day. Odds slightly in Winnipegs' favor before the playoff swung sharply for a Calgary victory after their clean-cut Saturday triumph.

Western Interprovincial Union officials announced if Bronks win the title and withdraw from the national final because of ineligible players Winnipeg and Regina Roughriders probably will meet here Nov. 20 in a sudden-death game for the right to represent the West against eastern champions.

Canadian rugby union rules under which at least six Calgary players are ineligible because of import regulations would prevail in the Winnipeg-Regina game. All Roughriders are believed eligible and all but two or three Bombers. Other Western leagues did not enter the playoffs.

St. John's Juveniles Cop 28-7 Cage Win

St. John's Juveniles took a 28-7 win over St. Paul's on Saturday night in a Church Basketball League contest at the "Y" Gym. It was a close session in the rest of the route. It was 7-4 at the half-way mark, the aggressive Presbyterians holding down the other team for a time. Dyer and Craig got their shooting eyes in the last stanza and ran up the count, the sustained sniping attack getting the St. Paul's crew down. The teams:

St. Paul's — Dundas, Fraser, Taylor, Dunford, Hall and Ferguson.

St. John's — Marshall, Moore, Amos, Forsythe, Dyer, Castle, and Craig.

Referee—O. Weir. Scorer — D. Charlton.

INDIANS UPSET TORONTO ARGOS FOR TRIPLE TIE

TORONTO, November 8—(CP)—Thunder of the fiercest round of fighting on the East's football front rolled back to-day, leaving situations abounding in possibilities in the Big Four and Intercollegiate Unions. Only Sarnia Imperilas survived with ease a card that toppled the section's one unbeaten, untied squad.

The hitherto perfect Toronto Argonauts fell under the razzle-dazzle of Montreal Indians by 11-2 and before dusk settled ove rthe football fields Saturday, Ottawa Rough Riders wounded Hamilton Tigers 14-4 to create a three-way tie for second place behind the front-running Scullers.

There was nothing quite so upsetting in the College League. But a 12-6 victory for Queen's over Western at Kingston was not altogether expected and no one figured the luckless McGill Redmen to hold University of Toronto to a 7-6 score. These results left the questions of the playoff to be answered by the next—and final—league games.

Imperials Carry On.

Bringing a little calm to the semi-shocked observers, Sarnia's mighty Imperials rolled to their seventh successive Ontario Union title on a 34-6 pasting of Hamilton Panthers. The Imperial machine will await other league victories before continuing defence of the Eastern championship.

Four thousand Montreal supporters, as amazed as Argos must have been, saw John Ferraro's men whip the ball around with the daring of those who must do or die. The spark that has threatened to ignite Indians into a great club finally caught. The air was filled with Montreal laterals and forwards, combining to perfection with powerful ground work.

Kicked into a two-point lead by Bob Isbister in the early play, Argos appeared well away to their fifth straight victory. But Indians clicked suddenly, threw back the vaunted Argo running attack and found their passes falling into the right places. Two long runs by Chappie O'Connor — both from laterals—paved the way for the tying singles and a third-down offside left Tommy Burns in position to boot a field goal by the first half's end.

Burns kicked another before the game finished as Indians forsook the all-or-nothing policies which lost them at least two of three games. Functioning smoothly in all departments, they worked Abe Eliowitz down the field far enough for three more singles.

This was the most complete going-over Argos took since the start of the season. It was taken in a bitterly-fought clash with both lines charging hard; the linesmen fighting verbally across the scrimmage fronts and no mercy asked or given.

A strong front wall and the fleetness of a dynamite-charged backfield brought Ottawa, 1936 Big Four champions, back into content. In the first period when Hawley Welch delighted the home-town fans by booting Tigers into a 4-0 lead.

Twice in the second quarter Riders struck savagely. Gaining possession after a short Welch kick to his 25, Ottawa scored on four plays, three by Dave Sprague, who crashed over for the touchdown. A long forward soon after saw Stan O'Neill crossing the goal-line.

There were other points from place-kicking Tiny Herman but they were unneeded to back up a defence which was all powerful and once threw back a Tiger drive from the Ottawa five-yard line. It was the strongest Rider display since they defeated Tigers in the second game of the season at Ottawa.

Tigers Must Win Next.

Tigers must win at Toronto next week against Argos to reach the playoffs, a stage assured Argos and the winner of the coming crucial Indian-Rider game at Ottawa.

McGill outplayed the leading Toronto Blues for three quarters, then weakened under a forward-passing barrage which left Cam Gray in the right spot for his tying, and second, field goal from placement. As the game waned Gray hoofed the winning single to drop the Redmen from all championship consideration.

The Western Mustangs built up a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a touchdown by Cal Ewener and a single, but Queen's got one in the second from another fumble and slowly pushed the Mustangs backwards in the last half. The winning points were kicked by Bernie Thornton on a placement field goal.

The college standings were left with Toronto on top by a single point over Western, who had a point edge over Queen's. A victory for Toronto at Kingston next week would retain their championship without necessity of a playoff.

Hugh (Bummer) Stirling paced Imperials to their expected easy triumph over Panthers. The Bummer scored a touchdown and nine single points as his mates marched at will over the winless Hamilton club. Big Orm Beach got two other major scores.

ODD ITEMS FROM A SPORT SCRAP BOOK

By Bradley

CECIL DILLON

There is a peculiar inexplicable something that lies dormant in the being of some athletes throughout a season of play, that springs to life when the team or the individual enters a crucial game. These players that rise to the heights in the important tests, although performing with mediocrity through the scheduled season, is one of sport's many mysteries.

For want of a better name they have been referred to as "money players," for when the chips are down, they can generally be relied upon to come through with the goods, and their superlative efforts in times of stress are a revelation indeed.

Such a player is Cecil Dillon, clever forward of the New York Rangers. He is invaluable to his team in playoffs or crucial games. This ability to come through in the pinches enabled him to establish a modern play-off record in 1933 by scoring eight goals, and two assists.

Little wonder that the opposing goal-keepers in the N.H.L. cross their fingers at the sight of Dillon bearing down on them.

EASY FOR LINDSAY.

LINDSAY, Nov. 8. — Lindsay C.I. junior gridders stepped up a notch in their quest for C.O.S.S.A. honors when they blanked the Oshawa Collegiate team 21 to 0 here on Saturday. The visitors were no match for the locals and the Lindsay squad scored almost at will. Ferguson was the star of the game with two touchdowns to his credit, while Warrian gained one major score.

Mount Royal Arena Sold For Factory

Montreal, Nov. 8 (CP)

FOR years the home of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League and the rink where Howie Morenz made his Montreal debut, the Mount Royal Arena has been sold and will be converted into a factory.

The building housed the Canadiens until construction of the Forum. Its loss to hockey will leave Montreal with a shortage of rinks, for the Arena was used regularly for amateur games.

P.C.I. Seniors Unbeaten In Football Schedule

Local Gridders Defeat Bowmanville 19-0 On Saturday Afternoon

Shorn of a number of their regulars, Coach Bamforth's P.C.I. senior squad triumphantly completed their group schedule Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park by defeating the Bowmanville High School 19 to 0, and earning an unbeaten record in the interscholastic race.

The garnet and gray gridders were not very convincing in the first half of the battle when, in spite of the fact that they dominated the play, they could not get their scoring technique working and had to be satisfied with two singles for their half hour's effort. It was a different story in the last half however or P.C.I. got their plays clicking and went to town in a big way, mixing forward passes, trick plays and straight football in a bewildering manner to cross Bowmanville's goal stripe on three different occasions.

Bowmanville had nothing in their offensive repertoire to match the effectiveness of the P.C.I. tactics but the youngsters from the Rubbertown put up a stout defence and although never in danger of scoring themselves stayed in there battling until the final whistle.

For P.C.I., Don Diplock, lightweight half, really carried the mail, showing a world of speed and elusiveness while Creighton, Thornton and Leether were three other fleet-footed backs who were hard to stop everytime they started to go places. Kelly and Curtin hit the line hard when called upon to plunge and the former tossed some very effective forward passes while Curtin looked after the kicking duties nicely. There were no weaklings anywhere along the P.C.I. line, Grant Clark only played the last quarter.

For Bowmanville, Spencer, the quarterback, who did the kicking for his team, McIlveen and Little looked the best, although the whole team gave everything they had and put up a creditable fight against a twelve that had beaten them 24 to 0 on their own grounds.

Slow Getting Started

P.C.I. had a distinct edge all through the first quarter but when they got into a scoring range seemed to lose their effectiveness. The only score of the session came after seven minutes play when Curtin, standing on Bowmanville's 35-yard line, lifted a punt to the deadline for a single. A beautiful run back of one of Spencer's kick started by Thornton who passed shortly to Diplock when tackled put P.C.I. in a scoring position near the end of the quarter and they were still threatening when the period ended. However after trying a number of plays, winding up with an onside kick, they had to be satisfied with another single when Curtin kicked over the Bowmanville line.

Right off the reel in the third period P.C.I. pulled off a picture play. In possession at their own 30-yard line they started a fast extension to their left, out of which the ball was whipped back to Kelly who tossed a long forward pass cross field to Jerry Creighton who leaped into the air and grabbed the oval at Bowmanville's 50-yard line and hot-footed it down the field for a touchdown. It was a masterpiece of football strategy, smartly planned and perfectly executed and represented an advance of exactly 80 yards. Thornton converted neatly from placement to make the score 8 to 0.

P.C.I. On Their Way

P.C.I. were on their way then and soon after when a Bowmanville fumble of one of Curtin's punts gave the garnet and gray possession on the visitors' 30-yard line. They carried the ball over on a series of smart plays, culminating with a dash round Bowmanville's right end by Diplock for a touchdown. Thornton's attempt at converting from placement failed.

Early in the third period a long forward pass by Kelly to Ross Thornton enabled the latter to get away for a total gain of 45 yards, and Bowmanville were back on the defensive again. They got out of trouble when a P.C.I. onside kick play went sour but Spencer's attempt to punt out of danger was weak and gave P.C.I. a chance to start another march. Jerry Creighton went round Bowmanville's left end in brilliant style to carry the ball to the visitors' four-yard line from which Les Ascott smashed through for a touchdown. An attempt by Kelly to convert with a forward pass failed when the toss was batted down. Just before the end of the game Curtin hoisted a long punt over the Bowmanville line for a rouge to make the final score 19 to 0.

The teams, and officials:

Bowmanville H.S.: Flying wing, Bathgate; halves, Gibbs, McIlveen, Little; quarter, Spencer; snap, Tighe; inside wings, Colwell Nickerson; middle wings, Swindles, Stevenson; outside wings, Van Dusen, Ames; alternates, Rowe, Kimball.

Four New Chi-Hawks Make Their N.H.L. Debut

Manager Bill Stewart, former N.H.L. referee and major league baseball umpire, led the Chicago Black Hawks into the opening game of the National Hockey League against the rebuilt New York Americans. Half the Black Hawk players, including Manager Stewart, are American-born puck-chasers. One of the new features of the Chicago team this year is the three unknown youngsters which have been brought into the line-up. The three new faces with the team are: Vic Heyliger of Concord, Mass., who has just turned professional; Cully Dahlstrom of Minneapolis ,and Oscar Hansen of North Dakota, both of the American Association last year. Straffordville Wins 'C' Baseball Title

SUNDERLAND, Nov. 8.—Straffordville won the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association intermediate "C" championship here on Saturday by blanking Sunderland 1 to 0 in the final play-off game. The team from Western Ontario took the series in two straight.

Saturday's defeat was a heartbreaking one for Pitcher Tamblyn of the home team. He allowed only two hits, while Bill Partington, the visitors' 40-year-old righthander, was giving up seven safeties. However, one of the two hits was turned into a run in the 8th inning when the base-runner romped home from third on a passed ball.

RANGERS BEAT HAUGHTY WINGS 3-0 AT DETROIT

TORONTO, Nov. 8 (CP). — Two years of playing second fiddle to hockey's world champions has done something to New York Rangers and Boston Bruins. As a new National League season begins they have amassed power and determination that may tear down the dominance of Detroit's haughty Red Wings.

Mindful of the beating they took from the Red Wings in Stanley Cup finals last spring, Lester Patrick's young Rangers bounded into Detroit with fine impudence last night and whipped the champions 3-0. That startling result came on the heels of Boston's show of strength in defeating the Maroons 4-2 at Montreal Saturday.

The developments left the two winners tied for first place in the United States division after their first starts, a point ahead of Red Wings who gained a tie in the opener at Toronto Thursday.

The weekend's other game, bringing Maple Leafs a 6-3 victory over New York Americans at Toronto on Saturday, placed the Leafs squarely in first place in the Canadian section. Their support was heightened in that Amerks are their closest rivals.

Through a first-game victory, but the divisional champion Montreal Canadiens will not start season play until tomorrow, when they meet Chicago at Montreal.

Weekend's Big Scorers.

Two youngsters whose stars began a rapid ascent last season were the weekend's big scorers. Blond Ray Getliffe got Bruins' first three goals against Maroons and Gordon Drillon hung up three of Leafs' first four scores in quelling Americans.

Rangers' achievement, on the other hand, was one of all-around might. Two of the three forward lines got goals and the other was contributed by Butch Keeling, the old pinch-hitter who is being used as a spare forward.

Leser Patrick's fleet force had an edge in skating and passing. Late in the third period both Joe Cooper and Ott Heller were penalized for holding, but Goalie Dave Kerr did a two-minute stretch of miracle making while Detroit tried to take advantage of the edge in man-power.

Keeling got the goal that was good enough to win less than a minute before the end of the first period with Lynn Patrick and Mac Colville assisting. Then, as Red Wings tried to bear down in the final chapter, Rangers more than kept pace and Cecil Dillon tallied with the aid of Phil Watson, and Alex. Shibicky ended the scoring on a relay from Neil and Mac Colville.

Boston threw an up-and-coming young forward line from Kitchener, Ont., at the Maroons and Eddie Shore, his back injury entirely healed, looked like the Shore of old on Bruins' bruising defence. But Getliffe dashed in from left wing through the Maroon defence post Lionel Conacher used to occupy to steal most of the opening-night show.

Tommy Cook, released by Chicago for breaking training rules last season, lived up to all Coach King Clancy had promised as he scored Montreal's first goal in three minutes of play. Before the end of the period Getliffe had sent his club ahead 2-1, however, and he clicked again in the second before Jimmy Ward counted for Maroons.

Maroons a Powerful Team.

Boston's "baby line" of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart and Bobby Bauer broke away with Flash Hollett in the last period and Schmidt finished the dash with the final goal. The defeat partly spoiled Clancy's inaugural as Coach, but he iced an aggressive, relentless team that gave Montrealers the best opener in years.

Ten thousand fans watched Gordon Drillon lead his forward line, whose other members are Harvey Jackson and Syl Apps, in Toronto's sparkling victory. Drillon's two goals were augmented by Jackson's two and Apps and Jackson got assists.

Ottawa University Drubbed By Cadets

KINGSTON, Nov. 8 (CP)—Royal Military College remained in the running for their intermediate Intercollegiate Rugby group honors by defeating University of Ottawa 26 to 6 here Saturday.

Only in the last quarter did the Capital City players threaten and at that time Cadets held a 26 to 0 advantage. Held fairly well in check in the first two quarters, the Soldiers opened up in the third and ran their 6 to 0 halftime lead to 18 to 0 by the end of the third quarter.

California Bears And Baylor Biggest Upsets In U.S. Rugby

Alabama Preserves Unbeaten Record In South With 9-6 Win Over Tulane

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—A series of football form reversals this week-end startled onlokers from coast to coast and left it clear today that the outcome of the campaign for major United States collegiate objectives remains much in doubt.

California and Baylor, rated the nation's No. 1 and No. 4 teams last week, were the chief victims of the latest upheaval. The poor showing of these two previously untied-unbeaten teams by underdogs featured a day of close calls among the other favorites, fresh upsets in the Big Ten, and striking intersectional conquests for such eastern powerhouses as Pittsburgh and Fordham, twin contenders for Rose Bowl bids.

California's Golden Bears were held to a scoreless tie by Washington's Huskies, the Pacific Coast Conference's 1936 champions and Rose Bowl choice.

California remains the favorite for the next Rose Bowl assignment, but the Bears now aproach their annual "big game" with Stanford, two weeks hence, minus the label of a "super team." Stanford served notice of its intentions, meantime, by outpointing Southern California 7-6.

Baylor's abrupt downfall, after cutting a wide swath through the Southwest Conference, was achieved by the margin of a last period field goal, 9-6, by the University of Texas. The outcome gave another come-back team, Rice Institute, the opportunity to take over conference leadership by overthrowing Arkansas, 1936 champions, 26-20.

The South's only major team with an unblemished slate, Alabama, preserved its record by squeezing out a 9-6 decision over Tulane.

Unbeaten Nebraska staged a belated 80-yard touchdown drive to tie Kansas 13-13 and remain in the Big Six race. Pittsburgh wasn't impressive for three periods against Notre Dame. In fact the Panthers trailed by six points until the last period drive that produced three touchdowns and a 21-6 victory.

LAKEFIELD W.I. PLANS TAG DAY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 8. — The Lakefield branch of the Women's Institute will hold a tag day soon, proceeds to be devoted to the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough, the members of the Institute decided when they held their regular monthly meeting in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 3, at 2.30 p.m. Although the date is not yet definitely decided upon, the tag day will not be until Saturday, Nov. 20 or later.

Twenty-two members and four visitors attended the meeting held on Wednesday. The president, Mrs. H. J. Bullock, occupied the chair.

During the business session, which preceded the program, the government grant usually received by the Institute branch was discussed. The members decided not to accept the grant this year, but to leave it to be devoted to other purposes.

It was decided that the rug-making class, originally planned for November, should be postponed until March to avoid its conflicting with the Institute convention to be held in Toronto on Nov. 17, 18 and 19. Mrs. T. W. Chaplin was appointed to represent the local branch at this convention.

The meetings of the Institute will be held at 2.00 p.m. instead of at the usual hour of 2.30, for the next six months, the Institute decided.

Dr. A. T. Barr and John Edgar of Peterborough, addresed the meeting, regarding the holding of a tag day in aid of the Children's Aid Society. It was decided to hold a tag day and the following committee was appointed to arrange the details: Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. Clarence Foster, Mrs. Hutt and Mrs. Chas. Stenner.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. W. J. Charlton, who presented a health play on "Tuberculosis" which was well received and much enjoyed. Misses M. Sanderson, V. Elliott, R.N., and E. Blakely portrayed the different characters in the play. Between acts, Mrs. Charlton entertained the audience with a recitation. At the conclusion of the program, a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Charlton for the helpful program presented.

The singing of "God Save the King" brought the meeting to a close.

The Girls Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 3, at 2.30 p.m.

After the busines meeting the minutes and the roll call, which was responded to by exhibiting a quilt block, the girls joined the senior branch meeting and enjoyed the skit on "Health" presented by the ladies. A good representation of the junior branch members attended.

Lifelike Statue

The "statue" of Will Rogers on which make-up artist, Jack Pierce, is putting the finishing touches at Hollywood, is a remarkable likeness of the late beloved comedian. It looks so lifelike because it actually is alive, being A. H. Trimble made up to represent a statue of Rogers in a new film.

HARCOURT GUIDE IS KILLED HUNTING

LINDSAY, Nov. 8 (CP). — John Dillman, 30, Harcourt, Haliburton County, shot by a stray bullet from a high-powered rifle while guiding a party of United States deer hunters in the flat lands near Harcourt, died Saturday en route to hospital here.

Dillman was wounded Friday afternoon, according to word received here by Coroner Dr. J. T. Speck, Haliburton, and Provincial Constable Taylor of Minden, who left for the place eighty miles north where the shooting occurred.

Much time was lost getting Dillman from the bush to the car in which he was placed to bring him to Lindsay. He had to be carried as there are no roads out of the flat lands.

AIR-CONDITIONED BEDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—Inventors—who already have air-conditioned just about everything else—finally have got around it, the bed.

A patent has been issued to Michael Batick of Cold Spring, N.Y., for a sort of pipe full of tiny holes to go across the bottom of the bed, on the same level with the sleener. Attached to one end of the pipe is a tube leading to a pump.

The pump sends air into the tube, through the pipe, and from the holes onto the sleeper.

JUNIOR GRIDDERS SUFFER 8-2 LOSS TO END SCHEDULE

Dewey and Crombie, husky backfield aces for Bowmanville Collegiate paced that team to a neat 8 to 2 victory here Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park over the P.C.V.S. Juniors who now fade from rugby competition for the year.

The visitors flashed a rough and rugged style of play that battered holes in the P.C.I. front line, and then switched to a dazzling aerial attack that saw four out of seven forwards completed in the first half. On numerous occasions both references reprimanded the visitors for roughing it up, particularly in the last half when the locals showed signs of having regained that vital spark that indicated victory which they muffed and their drives for major scores fizzled away into rouge plays and single points.

McIlveen rouged Scriver for the first Bowmanville point after a long punt by Depew and before the half ended Crombie smacked through gaps for 15 yards on straight bucks then crashed over the line for five points. A forward pass, Mason to McIlveen added the convert point and a total of seven. They got the other single late in the second when Depew downed McPherson behind the Touchline following a steady march down the field.

P.C.I. made their best bid in the third quarter when Bowmanville was penalized for rough stuff and forced to kick from their own ten yard line. McPherson ran it back to their thirty, then a forward, Moldaver to Scriver gained ten. Gillespie and Dwyer pushed the ball up to the visitor's one yard line on two successive bucks but a drive for a major score failed and P.C.I. attempted a placement wich failed, Scriver downing Mason for a rouge. McPherson added the other P.C.I. point on a kick to deadline.

The teams:—

Bowmanville—Flying wing, Colville; quarter, Mason; snap, James; halves, Depew, Fagan and Crombie; insides, Casborne and Crawford; middles, Morden and Rickard; outsides, McIlveen and Wiseman; alternates, C. Gorman, J. Gorman, Hoar, Elliott, White, Graham, Cole, Brown.

Peterborough Juniors — Flying wing, Scriver; quarter, Moldaver; snap, McMahon; halves, Ferguson, Elliott and McPherson; insides, Dwyer and Turner; middles, Scott and Ainslie; outsides, Northcott and Freeman; alternates, Gillespie, Douglas, Millen.

Referee—Jack Kirkwood.

NAZIS WAR-BOUND TO AVENGE LAST

BOSTON, Nov. 8, — (CP). — Emil Ludwig, famous biographer and commentator, told a standing-room-only gathering here Friday Germans do not want colonies or oil wells; they want war in order to avenge what they consider the crime the world committed when it well on them in 1914.

"That is what they have been told," declared the exiled German, "and since it comes from their rulers, they believe it."

In his opinion, the United States held the key to the European puzzle, and this nation, which Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain called "the most powerful country in the world," could ensure peace.

"If your President Roosevelt could say to Hitler: 'We stay here, but if you make one false move we come over,' there would be no war."

But the American people were like an ostrich with its head in the sand. "President Roosevelt was about to throw the weight of America behind a world peace move in his Chicago speech—but," and here Mr. Ludwig gave a typical Ludwigian shrug of the shoulders—"he couldn't say it, because the great majority of the United States people do not understand the time of Monroe is over; that American is involved in Europe whether it wants to be or not."

CHAPTER 31.

Tim spoke calmly after carefully analyzing the situation when Adams dropped the bombshell declaring he knew Tim had killed his wife.

"I said I'd hear you out, Adams, and I will. What started this abominable idea in your mind?"

"You mean my reason for knowing?"

"I mean — provided you're not crazy, which I believe you are — you must imagine you have grounds for a slander which, quite apart from any question of blackmail, may let you in for a long term of penal servitude."

"Don't be a fool," Adams retorted. "I've told you it's no use trying to bluff me. I know what you did. You talked a lot of stuff about nightmares, to prepare the ground. I dare say your wife did have nightmares—they probably gave you the idea—but all that stuff about jumping out of bed and banging herself about, I don't mind betting that was mostly lies. Anyway, you put across the idea, had everybody lined up to believe your story. But you couldn't work it in your usual bedroom—too near the ground. So you messed around with the chimney, loosened a brick or two, brought some soot down, and made a perfectly good excuse to move up to the top room, where you had things as you wanted 'em.

"Then you only had to pick a day. It wasn't such a bad idea picking her birthday, you had an excuse for encouraging her to guzzle, and it helped to make the whole business seem more likely. . . . All you had to do was to wait till she was asleep, pick her up quietly, and pitch her out of the window. The 40-foot drop and the concrete below would do the rest. That's how you worked it."

Something like relief stole over Tim. If this was all, he could face it out. It amounted to no more than inspired guessing. No proof. . . . He reminded himself once more of the impossibility of proof.

"Allow me to remind you you haven't answered my question."

"What question?"

"How do you propose to get anyone to believe this farrago of yours?"

"Ah, now you're talking."

"My friend, I'm going to do something more than talk. . . . It appears you have concocted this insane story without a shred or suggestion of evidence to back it up."

"Well, I wouldn't quite say that. . . You see there were one or two things you didn't tell the coroner, and it wasn't my place to do his work for him. . . . Your electric torch, for instance. . . ."

"What about my electric torch?"

"You had it with you when I found you. Why didn't you mention that at the inquest?"

"Why should I mention it? It was of no importance."

"No, perhaps not, but then why make such a secret of it? You said, 'Adams had a torch, and we looked at the body'—as though you hadn't had a light before."

"I can't remember exactly what I said, but I certainly had no intention of making a secret of it. . . . In any case I don't see your point. I needed a light; why shouldn't I take my torch?"

"No reason why not, only why your big one—the one you only use for the car and outdoors? Why not the pocket one you always keep in the bedroom?"

"It was out of order—the battery had run down. . . . You see, I'm answering your questions. I am anxious to give you all the rope you want."

"I shouldn't start talking about rope. . . . And your pocket torch was in perfect order. I tried it myself next morning."

"So you say."

"Quite, so I say. . . . I'll tell you why you used the big torch, took the trouble to bring it up from outside. You wanted a weapon—a heavy weapon. Something that wouldn't seem suspicious if it came out you were carrying it. Something you could hit a blow hard enough to kill a person with, if the job wasn't properly done already. . . ."

"An ingenious conjecture." Tim's smile was almost serene. This sort of thing could not hurt him. . . . "You must have spent a lot of time thinking up your case."

"Yes, I have. I've got it all worked out pretty well."

"May I ask if that is all?"

"Well, not quite. . . . Do you know what was the first thing I noticed, after I'd looked at the body? A cigaret end, about half an inch, lying on the ground and still burning. I asked myself how did it get there?"

"I don't know. I expect you dropped it yourself."

"Well, I didn't. I woke up when I heard you do your yell. I hadn't been smoking a cigaret. . . . Anyway, I picked it up. It was one of yours, a Bulgar. . . . As I said, I asked myself how it got there. You were supposed to have been asleep up to two or three minutes before. Not time to smoke a whole cigaret, even supposing it made sense, that you should light a cigaret before strolling down to see whether your wife was alive or dead. . . . There was only one answer. You'd been awake all the while. And that meant it was murder. You'd been waiting in the dark, and you smoked a cigaret to steady your nerves, just before. . . . And when you were ready you got up, pitched the fag out of the window, and set to work. . . . You shouldn't have pitched the fag out of the window, too. . . . It was a mistake."

"You know, that's clever." Tim moistened his lips. "I'd never have given you credit for so much imagination. . . . But you're too simple, Adams, for all that. Do you really expect me to pay you hush money on the strength of a tissue of lies for which you can't produce an iota of evidence?"

"Well, there again, you see, that isn't quite all."

Tim had the sensation of being played with. . . . He recalled the scene in the billiard room a few days ago. The man took pleasure in inflicting mental torment.

"If you've anything further to say, say it at once. I'm getting tired of this rigmarole."

"I shan't keep you much longer. I've only one more thing to mention. I'd hoped I wouldn't have to, as it's going to be painful. You see you made another slip, and one you can't laugh off. You made it last July, when you tried to poison your wife with medinal."

Tim's face went gray. He could not speak. Adams' eyes never left him.

"I never quite understood why you didn't go through with it. . . . But you were wise—it was a rotten scheme, damn rotten. It was a pity you ever touched it—it put me on the lookout, so to speak. . . . Do you want to know how I got on to it?"

Tim forced himself to speak. "It

BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PUMPKIN SEEDS.

"Look, Unkie Wig! Look!"

Mr. Longears didn't need to be told it was his little orphan rabbit friend calling to him. He could tell by the way she used two words, "Unkie Wig." No one but Bunty called the bunny gentleman that. And Bunty was only allowed to use just those two words of "baby talk."

"Look, Unkie Wig! Look!" called Bunty again.

"Yes, my dear," said Mr. Longears, "what is it?"

"See the big gourds," said Bunty. "Wouldn't they make fine rattlers, Unkie Wig?"

Mr. Longears looked where Bunty pointed. She and the rabbit gentleman were out in a field seeking an adventure. It had been a corn field but now the corn was cut and all that remained were some shocks or piles of stalks and some stubble or the short ends of corn stalks sticking up out of the ground.

Both Wrong.

"Where do you see any gourds, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears. He remembered the fun he had had shaking a gourd, filled with dry seeds, at one of the Bad Chaps, making him believe it was a rattlesnake.

"There are gourds, big ones."

"Is anything the matter?"

said Bunty pointing at some round, yellow objects in what had been a field of corn.

"Those aren't gourds, they're footballs!" shouted a voice and along came hopping Buster, one of the boy rabbits.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "You are both wrong. Those are pumpkins."

"So they are," said Bunty. "I couldn't see them well at first."

"Well, they look a little like some footballs," said Buster. "Don't they, Daddy?"

"A little," admitted Mr. Longears. "But what are you doing out of school, Buster?"

"The Lady Mouse Teacher sent me out," replied the rabbit boy.

"Were you bad?" asked Bunty anxiously. She hadn't gone to school that day because she wasn't feeling well so Uncle Wiggily took her for an adventure hop, thinking it would cure her so she could go to school next day.

"No, I wasn't bad," said Buster. "The Lady Mouse Teacher sent me to find you, Daddy?"

"Find me?" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "Is anything the matter at the school?"

In Demand.

"Oh, no," said Buster, trying to twinkle his pink nose as nearly like his father's as he could. "But Mr. Twistytail, your fat gentleman pig friend, wants to see you, Daddy. He telephoned to the bungalow but when you weren't there he telephoned to school. For you go there quite a lot, Daddy."

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, "I do. Well, what next?"

"Miss Mouse said you weren't there," went on Buster, "so she said I might try to find you and she sent me out of school for that."

"Oh, then it's all right," said Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder why Twisty wants me? Must be something important. Well, I'll hop over and see him pretty soon. But first I must get some pumpkin seeds."

"Pumpkin seeds?" asked Baby Bunty. "What for, Unkie Wig?"

"To eat," said Mr. Longears.

"Eat pumpkin seeds!" exclaimed Buster. "You're teasing, Daddy!"

"No," said Uncle Wiggily, "I am not, Buster, bring me a pumpkin, Bunty, find me a flat stone. I'll show you how to eat pumpkin seeds."

Wonderingly the rabbit children did as they were told. And if the furnace will wake the snow shovel from its long Summer sleep, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's pumpkin treat.

Franco Cancels Order, Free British Ships

London, Nov. 8 (AP)

INFORMED sources said today General Francisco Franco, leader of insurgent Spain, indignant at the strong British protest over the sinking of the British freighter Jean Weems, had withdrawn orders for the release of five British ships the insurgents have captured and still hold.

The Jean Weems was sunk October 30 off the eastern coast of Spain by airplanes believed to belong to the Spanish insurgents. Great Britain protested Nov. 1.

MARLBANK WOMAN INJURED BY AUTO DRIVER ARRESTED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Nov. 8.—While crossing the street in Marlbank, Mrs. Richard Taylor was knocked down and severely injured when struck by a motor car, said to have been driven by Robert Thompson, Marlbank. Mrs. Taylor sustained a slight concussion, a broken shoulder and laceration of the head and face.

Chief Constable Clare Hayes of Tweed investigated, and reported the brakes of Thompson's car to be inadequate under the highway traffic regulations. Mrs. Taylor was removed to her home, where medical attention was received and the fracture reduced. Later, she was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Mrs. Taylor was in the act of crossing the main street in Marlbank when struck by the motor vehicle. Chief Hayes conferred with Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K.C., relative to pending charges that will be preferred against Thompson. Thompson was subsequently taken into custody, Constable Hayes following an investigation.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the home and contents of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Arden. The loss will be heavy as no insurance was carried by the occupants.

Sneak thieves were active along the fifth concession of the Township of Thurlow this week, when two residences were burglarized. At the home of E. B. Horton robbers entered the family garage by night and stole a 100-pound bag of white sugar and five pounds of honey. Mr. Horton's garage is attached to the family residence, and used partially as a store room. On the same concession the drive shed of John Reynolds was entered the same evening, and a bushel of hickory nuts and a grain scoop were stolen. Both robberies took place sometime early Wednesday morning. Provincial Constables Smith and Starke investigated but were informed that no unnecessary noises or disturbances had been heard in connection with the robberies.

At the local police court held in the Township Hall on Thursday afternoon, before Magistrate Lloyd, two cases were disposed of. Alfred Fobear, farm-hand, of the Township of Elzevir, who was arrested on Tuesday and lodged in the county jail on three charges, appeared before Magistrate Lloyd, and as he was only sixteen years of age, was given two years' suspended sentence. He will have to report to the Chief of Police every month.

Stephen Wood, Actinolite, appeared before Magistrate Lloyd, charged with stealing a buffalo robe valued at $20 from a parked automobile in Tweed on October 25. Wood had a previous record, having been convicted of stealing in 1935 and of keeping illicit liquor in 1937, and was recently given parole. He was given two months in the county jail.

MILLION IN CARS PLACED ON DISPLAY AT MOTOR SHOW

TORONTO, Nov. 8—(CP)—Garnished with mannequin parades, a girl ballet troupe, night club entertainers, a marionette drama and a variety of mechanical displays, the National Motor Show opened here Saturday with a million dollars worth of goods on exhibit.

The show's one-week stand in the automotive building on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds was formally opened by Lieutenant-Governor Herbert Bruce of Ontario.

Parked at various angles on the main floor of the huge structure, mounted on revolving stages with indirect lighting, or on circular platforms surrounded by flower gardens, the many-hued highly-polished automobiles were being inspected by opening day crowds. The show moves to Montreal for the week starting Nov. 20.

A few of the leading manufacturers instituted radical changes in design, and as one automotive expert expressed it the new slants make the cars "look as if they're going places even when they're standing still."

One maker has completely redesigned his models, with the body lines and radiator, "leaning into the wind."

Generally, however, the manufacturers have concentrated on refinement and development of previous designs, with further attention to comfort, increased passenger space, economy of operation and safety. Best engineering brains have been busy under the hood also, stepping up the power of motors without increasing oil and gas consumption.

A generous use of rubber mountings eliminates engine sound and vibration. Generators and batteries pack more power this year to take care of addition electrical equipment. Prices also in most instances, are from five to 10 per cent. higher, although some makers advanced their prices before introduction of the new models. Content of Canadian materials is generally higher.

DEAD RECKONING

would be interesting," he said, with a ghastly attempt at a smile.

"It was pure carelessness on your part. I was turning out the pockets of your Norfolk coat, before giving it a brushup. I noticed there was a tear in the lining, and I fished a paper out. Only one little sheet of paper, but it told me quite a lot. There was writing on it, your handwriting. I've got a copy of it here. Shall I read it to you? . . . Silence gives consent—'My dearest Tim, I am afraid this is going to be a terrible shock to you. But I think you will understand why I've decided to take the rest of the medinal. Perhaps it's more than I need, but I want to be sure. I can't—'"

"Stop!" Tim struggled for speech. "Forgery," he said, barely articulate.

"Are you prepared to take a chance? Shall I take the original round to the police station? There are such people as handwriting experts, you know."

"I've only to call up the police myself," said Tim in a strained voice. "You'll get 10 years for forgery and blackmail."

"Just call 'em up and see."

"How would you account for not having come forward with your letter before?"

"Only just found it, of course. . . . And remembered the other things afterwards."

"Where is—what you claim to be the original?"

"Somewhere where you can't get it."

"Listen, Adams. You can't get away with this. But you can make things awkward for me, in my position. . . . I'll give you £50—£50—if you'll hand over your forged letter and get out for good."

"Not good enough. And why should you want to buy it off me, if it's a forgery? I can easily forge another."

Northumberland Holstein Club Stages Enjoyable Banquet

Secretary Of Association Is Guest Speaker At Campbellford Function

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 8.—One hundred and twenty-five guests gathered around three large banquet tables in the basement of St. John's United Church on Wednesday evening to attend the second annual banquet of the Northumberland Holstein Club.

George Clemons, Brantford, secretary of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association was the guest speaker. Supplementing his address with still and motion pictures of his recent trip to Europe the audience was able to see besides many scenes of both rural and urban life in natural color, but also that part of Europe of particular interest to Holstein breeders—Holland, the land where the breed originated.

A feature of the evening was when T. W. Sirrett, Brighton, president of the Northumberland Holstein Club called on H. N. Carr, M.L.A. Northumberland, who presented the John Eckart prize, to Alex Hume and Son who were awarded the highest number of points for two classes entered in the Campbellford Fall Fair. Mr. Alex Hume who replied following the presentation stated the prize had been awarded to the eligible entry with the highest number of points and in their case had been for two Ayrshire classes and two Clysdale classes.

Cows Very Scarce

R. M. Holtby, field man for the Ontario Holstein Breeders Association east of Toronto stated he had never known cows to be as scarce as they are now. Urging the farmers to take advantage of the R.O.P. tests which cost only five dollars per year per herd he expressed the opinion that there might well be many 25,000 pounds cows in Northumberland. He also spoke of blood testing and the rigid regulations which were being enforced in the United States "which is one of our chief export markets."

"It is usually people who have never tried it who don't believe in it," said the speaker. "Recently the state of Pennsylvania has made a ruling that a herd must be one hundred per cent free and tested thirty days before crossing the line. It has almost come to the time when you can't sell to a next door neighbor unless your animals are blood tested."

Later in his remarks regarding the physical qualities of the cows, Mr Holtby asserted that the attachment of udder was actually of greater importance than the test placing in determining values. "When the udder doesn't move with the cow there is something wrong—it is because the udder is not constructed properly."

During the banquet Charles Allan gave several piano selections, while other numbers on the program included a recitation by Mrs. Lorne Evans, Norham; a piano solo and later a mouth organ and piano solo by Jack Cassan, county champion for 1936; the Misses Evelyn and Helen Barnum gave two lovely vocal duets, accompanied by Charles Allan, and were heartily applauded.

The honor of introducing the speaker was given to A. H. Martin, district agricultural representative, who, after a brief introduction in which he explained the office of secretary had been in the Clemons family for three generations. He then extended a hearty welcome to both Mr. and Mrs. Clemons, who had recently returned from a European trip which carried them 5,500 miles and in eight countries, and included the North-west coast of France, the Mediterranean, the Alps, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, England and Scotland.

An Interesting Address.

Mr. Clemons' address dealt particularly with Holsteins in other countries, but his supplementary pictures included various other aspects of his wanderings through Europe. Giving several of what might be termed personal views, the speaker declared that to follow the old saying "when in Rome do as the Romans do" was the best advice to any European traveller. "In order to thoroughly enjoy yourself, it is necessary to go with an open mind and not try to make Canadians of the French or the Swiss. The fact that European hotels never have any soap, that German beds are all equipped with feather ticks, and that the French insist each bed must have a bolster, were but three of the idiosyncrasies of Continental hotels.

Referring to the French, "whose national dish must be veal," Mr. Clemons stated that so often did it appear on the menu that "the impression that the French never let calf grow up" was given.

Other aspects of his trip included attendance at the International Rotary Convention at Nice, where with the aid of beautiful natural color moving pictures the battle of the flowers was described. The scene then shifted to Holland, the land of dykes, where high taxes and equally high rentals would make the Canadian farmer shudder. Rents run at about $22.00 per acre, and the average large farm is about 85 acres, which would mean the annual rental would be $1,870.00 per year—and this with milk bringing $1.13 per hundred. Taxes are $6.50 per acre.

"Their cattle are different from ours," concluded the speaker. "Although a uniform animal, they are plump, smaller, shorter in the neck and blocky—and as for well-attached udders they are not up to us."

Following a few remarks from Fred Hubbs, Bloomfield, vice-president of the Canadian Holstein Association, Lindsay Anderson, secretary of the Northumberland Holstein Club, who was largely responsible for the success of the banquet, expressed on behalf of the club appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Clemons for paying this visit and contributing so excellently to the evening's enjoyment.
